Snake Bite Not So Fatal Doctor Finds in Survey

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Snakes in the United States kill only about 10 per cent of the persons they bite, says Dr. John A. Stanfield, Fort Worth, in a recent issue of the magazine, Sports Afield.

In the first place there are only four varieties of poisonous snakes in the United States, he said; the rattler, copperhead, cotton-mouth moccasin and coral snake.

The greater percentage of those persons dying of snake bite succumb because of inadequate or delayed treatment, he continued.

With adequate treatment probably not more than two per cent would die.

That many snake bites do not prove fatal, he said, is due to diminished venom when the snake is feeding, miscalculation of striking distance, interposition of clothing, bites in fatty areas where there are few blood vessels, and bites in areas having little connective tissue, such as toes and fingers.

AS TO OPPOSITION

The Lower Colorado River Authority bill, as it neared a vote, had in its favor:

President Roosevelt asked it, as part of his national policy.

$1,320,000 of the $4,500,000 allotment for Buchanan dam will be an outright grant, if the public authority is set up, if not, all the amount will be a loan to be repaid.

Public works administration, through Henry T. Hunt, chief counsel, carefully redrafted, recommended and urged the bill.

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson submitted the public policy legislation.

James V. Alford publicly supported the proposal.

Tom F. Hunter supported and urged enactment of the law.

Walter C. Woodward in his campaign supported the program, and as senator has helped perfect the bill.

William McCraw actively championed the bill.

Cong. J. P. Buchanan, who secured the loan, has warmly urged the legislature to pass the measure, improve the Colorado, conserve the flood waters, and bring Texas into the President's national power and water program.

Cong. J. J. Mansfield came to Austin to champion the measure.

U. S. Sen. Tom Connally is a warm supporter of the measure, and helped get the loan to give it meaning.

The Colorado Valley Area, 300 citizens representing all the people of all the area involved, have urged the legislature to regain to public hands control of the Colorado and its resources.

Every county judge, mayor and legislator of the entire area champions the measure.

The opposition: None, we hope.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Security is something which the individual wants and of all things, is the most elastic. It is a trait of human nature to want to feel secure.

The average man who has a home, some life insurance and perhaps a job, and has invested his life savings in stocks or bonds, the interest or dividends which he counts on to make life easier in his declining years, wants to feel secure against the ordinary economic shocks.

But when he sees the increase in taxes, the growing cost of living, the decline in value of his investment, he feels he is not quite so secure as he once thought.

"OUT OUR WAY" — By Williams

City Dads Mourned When Oil Was Struck In Water Well, But Later Rejoiced In a Paying Industry

DALLAS, Tex. — Seventy-five years since oil was found at Titusville in Pennsylvania where oilmen met last month to celebrate the industry's Diamond Jubilee. Thirty-seven years later while drilling a water well oil was struck at Corsicana, Texas. The city dads were disappointed when their well was spoiled, for the drillers of the Southwest's first producing oil well did not dream that some day petroleum would supplant cotton as Texas' most valuable product.

Another thirty-seven years, all in the life of a middle-aged man, and that first showing of oil at Corsicana has spread out to change the destiny of a Nation. Oil is King—the Southwest leads, and in recognition of this fact the oil capital of the world moves to Texas in November for the fifteenth annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute. Five thousand oilmen from every corner of North America will gather in Dallas November 12-15. They will disperse to all parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico to visit and inspect the cities and oil fields which they know by reputation.

Today the Southwest is the greatest oil producing region in the world, giving annually over 500,000,000 barrels of its stored treasure to the people scattered over the globe. The oil alone is valued at over $400,000,000 each year, and when production costs, refining, transportation, and marketing are added to the list, the value of the states increases several times. Populations depend upon the industry for their livelihoods, for in Texas alone it is estimated that over a half million people are directly supported by it. An annual payroll in the Southwest of over $400,000,000 keeps these people with a sustained buying power. No industry, no person is untouched by the benefits.

As a taxpayer the industry stands alone as the greatest contributor to public welfare. In the Southwest something like $125,000,000 are paid each year by the industry to the local and state governments. This money has gone to build schools, roads, public buildings, and in every way contribute to the development of the region. The development of the Southwest has gone hand in hand with the industry, without whose benefits a decade might have been lost.

The oil industry claims no special place in the sun, oil leaders say. The only recognition it wants is that given to any large business that develops within a given territory. It has contributed its share toward progress as has other industries, and it asks only to be understood. When it is realized that the interest of the industry and the public is a common one the steps toward future progress become ones of mutual confidence and mutual helpfulness.

BURGLARS PLASTERED

AURILAC, France. — Thirsty burglars broke into the Chateau de Voailhae and stole some of the wine reserve of Colonel de La Roque, leader of the Croix de Feu, who is on vacation. The two invaders emptied a barrel of wine and carried off 15 bottles, in addition to a quantity of food. One of them was a workman and the other a plasterer. When arrested both were plastered.

WHEN YOU'RE TOO TIRED TO GO ON...

Get a LIFT with a Camel!

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

ANY TOBACCO MAN WILL TELL YOU:

"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

In light of the recent scientific confirmation of the "energizing effect" in Camels, note what Miss Engelhard, champion woman mountain climber, says:

"Mountain climbing is great sport, but don't try it unless you have plenty of energy. Many times up there above the timber line, within a short climb of the goal, I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. A Camel lifts me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on to the mountain top!"

People in every walk of life have found that Camels increase their energy. Perhaps you have observed this among your own circle of friends.

You'll like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more, so go ahead! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your nerves

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

THE cleverest mother I know has worked out a fine plan to get enough noontime nourishment and vitamins into her youngest child, who is one of those reluctant eaters that cause parents so much worry. What she does is serve a carefully-prepared vegetable soup made with meat or chicken stock and different vegetables every day.

Then to add both food element and interest, she accompanies the soup with croutons, those little brown crunchy squares of buttered toast that children love.

There are several ways to make croutons. Some cooks dip the neat cubes of bread in melted butter and brown them in the oven. Others drop the cubes into deep hot fat and fry to a golden brown in sixty seconds.

Choice of Bread Is Important
The bread chosen for croutons is really more important than the method. It should be stale but not too dry and crumbling. A fine, close-grained texture is essential. Cut in slices about 1-2 inch thick, remove crusts and cut each slice into cubes with a sharp knife. The cubes are dried until they are crisp through. After this they may be toasted or fried in deep fat.

Croutons may be properly served in two ways: passed to each person immediately after his soup is served before him, or if the soup is placed by the head of the family at the table, English fashion, he may drop one or two table-spoons of croutons into each plate as he serves it.

Croutons, unlike crackers, are supposed to go into the soup and form a part of it. Consequently they are eaten with the soup from the soup plate and never with the fingers.

Toast sticks are what their name implies, sticks of toast. The bread for these is, cut in strips about 1-2 inch thick and 1-2 inch wide and 3 inches long. It is then toasted in a hot oven and served unbuttered, like crackers. Each person helps himself and butter his stick or not as he prefers. Toast sticks are not broken into the soup.

SHOOTING THE MAVERICK

BY S. M. D.

"Eastland Supplies Surprise Dynamite In Oil Belt Opening," seems to be the current opinion of sports writers scattered through the Oil Belt.

The Mavericks have received a big play from the writers for their victory from the last year's West Texas champs. Of the six games played Friday afternoon and that night, Eastland's engagement seems to take upper ranking.

A football victory—small to some towns—but to Eastland an occasion to the citizens which warranted unprecedented praise, pride and expression of both surprise and "knew they had it in 'em."

Derald Tully, golfer of no little ability, who plays an end position on the Mavericks must have felt the urge of two forces pulling him Friday. The San Angelo golf tourney was in full swing and usually they are his meat. Softball, too, is included in Tully's sport repertoire. Many a team in the Oil Belt last summer have been allowed few hits by his pitching.

Eastland's first conference game is with Breckenridge on Oct. 12. Breck beat Mineral Wells 20-6 Friday. The game coming up will test Eastland's mettle.

Breck has played two games, winning both. A Magness is on the line-up; there are more experienced men on the Buckaroo list than the Mavericks have. That doesn't indicate anything to Mavericks, a team which Friday played with their eyes wide open and incidentally were plenty fast.

CUT WIRE; ELECTROCUTED

By United Press
SPENCERVILLE, O.—Daniel O. Kennedy, 50, of Monticello, O., near here, climbed high in the trees of his lawn, took shears with him, set about to prune branches. Concealed in the leaves was a high tension wire. Kennedy trimmed it; unknowingly, was electrocuted.

THE TELEGRAM TO SELL 2,500 CHILDREN TOM MIX CIRCUS TICKETS AT 10 CENTS EACH

Thoughtful of the difficulties of some parents in providing the wherewithal for amusements in these times and realizing the dearthness for the kiddies of going through the summer without the usual trip to a big circus, the Eastland Telegram is going to make it possible for 2,500 youngsters to see Tom Mix Wild West and Sam B. Dill's big three-ring circus which is coming to Eastland Saturday, Sept. 29, for 10 cents.

There's no catch to this offer—no subscription gags or other complications. We have bought 2,500 regular 25-cent children's general admission tickets to the afternoon performance of the big show, which we are going to sell to the youngsters of Eastland for a dime. The difference is on us. It's our gift to the kiddies.

FOOLS THE DOCTORS

Tom Mix, film star to appear with Sam B. Dill's circus in Eastland Saturday, Sept. 29, has been told eleven times he would die, yet today is very much alive.
