Tigers Even World Series Games at Two Each

That reminds me...

All doubts as to the reality of a bank for Eastland are practically eliminated from advices received from all those who are in authority to give the final word for its opening. While no actual permit has been granted up to this writing it is expected that by the early part of this week the dividends will be turned over to the committee and the Eastland National bank will open its doors not later than Monday Oct. 22. The organization of the Eastland National bank has been completed and all necessary applications and papers pertaining thereto have been forwarded to Washington. Officers and directors include W. C. Campbell, president; Albert Taylor, vice president and cashier; other directors are J. A. Beard, Milburn McCarty, Grady Pipkin, Walter Murray, and G. W. Fisher. Other active employees are Guy Parker, assistant cashier; Russell Hill, assistant cashier, and Miss Lahoma Hatheox, bookkeeper.

Although the time since the first efforts to get a bank for Eastland has been apparently long drawn out, it can well be considered that anything worth while takes the necessary time and a little longer than just something that is haphazard. To the depositors' committee consisting of J. A. Beard, F. L. Parker, and Jesse Williams goes the credit for concentrating on this one important subject for over eight months. They have been faithful, diligent and unselfish in their endeavors night and day. They are more than grateful for the assistance rendered by the members of the Rotary club, the Lions club, the Chamber of Commerce and all others who did their bit in hastening the work of the project.

Majority of the Eastland National bank became a reality by the wonderful co-operation of the following individuals, industries and professional and business firms who were depositors and signed the powers of attorney. Here is over

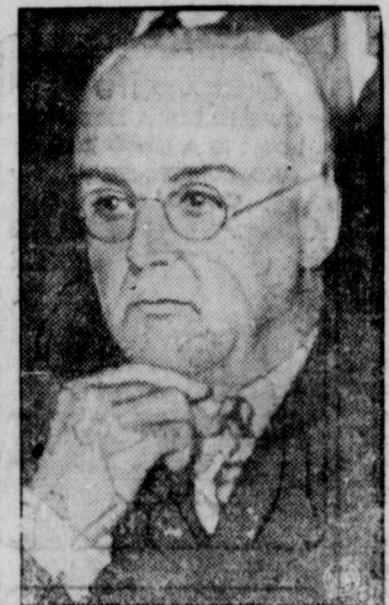

Texas Centennial Coins Are Minted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, today notified the American Legion Texas Centennial committee, of Austin, that 5,000 special Texas independence centennial 50-cent pieces had been coined by the Philadelphia mint. The new coins carry a standing eagle on the Lone Star of Texas on one side. The other side are pictures of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston.

THREE HURT IN ACCIDENT ON A FREIGHT TRAIN

Two men were injured, one critically, in an accident on a Texas Pacific freight train Friday night a few miles east of Ranger. Joe Horton of Tyler sustained a crushed leg, which was amputated at the West Texas Clinic and hospital, where it was said that his condition was critical. Leonard Dougherty of Fort Worth, received a broken leg, but not seriously injured, while Earl Todd of Fort Worth received bruises about the back. He was given treatment and was released from the hospital. The three men were transients riding a freight train at the time of the accident. They were in a car loaded with pipe, riding between the ends of the pipe and the end of the car. The front trucks of the car ahead jumped the track and the engine applied the brakes. The pipe shifted, crushing the men against the end of the car, according to reports of the agent. The car trucks were quickly put back on the tracks and the three men taken to Ranger on the same train on which the accident occurred, only about half an hour being lost on the train's schedule.

Steel on Trial in Labor War

The face of Ernest T. Weir, above, board chairman of the Weirton Steel Company, at Weirton, W. Va., reflects the gravity of the trial he is attending at Wilmington, Del., where the federal government is seeking a permanent injunction against participation of the company in elections of its employees for collective bargaining representatives. To Weir's victory will mean a vindication of the company shop as against outside unions, while to the government the trial holds the fate of the important labor section, 7-A, of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

BOYS SAVES GRANDMOTHER FROM FLAMES

FORT WORTH, Oct. 6.—The alert-minded bravery of Billy Miller, 12, today saved his bed-ridden grandmother, Mrs. Kate Gardner, 92, from burning to death in a fire which destroyed his parents' home. Billy was alone with his grandmother, while his mother was driving his father, W. B. Miller, down town. The youth said he had been playing with a shotgun and put it in a closet. He heard it explode, setting fire to the house. He raced for the garden hose and tried to quell the flames. Unable to do so he called the fire department and then went to the rescue of his grandmother, suffering with a heart ailment. The youth succeeded in getting her from the bed and into a hall near an outside door when aid arrived.

Meeting Called to Discuss the Brazos Conservation Plan

FORT WORTH, Oct. 6.—President James D. Hamlin, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, today called a meeting of counties in the Brazos river watershed for next Friday at Seymour to discuss provisions of a proposed bill creating a conservation district. Hamlin said the chamber probably would support the measure. The bill will probably be re-introduced at a proposed special session of the legislature, if called, or at the regular session.

Man Is Held In Death of a Girl

WACO, Oct. 6.—Emile Deshotel, 40, was in jail today facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with the death of 14-year-old Adelaide German, whose body was found floating in the Bosque river last Saturday. Sheriff W. B. Mobley arrested Deshotel in Shreveport yesterday. Deshotel was quoted with the girl and two women when Adelaide got into deep water and could not get out and the others left, pledging secrecy.

MAVS DEFEAT OLNEY 14-12 FRIDAY NIGHT

Eastland Mavericks battling the Olney Cubs Friday night in Olney before a crowd of approximately 1,000 in the last two minutes of play made a touchdown, kicked goal to win by a score of 14 to 12 from Olney. The winning run was made in the way of a pass from Tully to Horton who raced 35 yards to the five-yard line, on the third play Garrison plunged through the line for the important score. Tully kicked goal. Eastland's first score was made in the second quarter when Tully threw a 50-yard pass to Garrison who fleet-footed across the goal. Tully converted. The score at the half stood 7 to 6 in Eastland's favor. Squad members report Blannard Spearman's aggregation a plucky little team who hit the weight average bell way lower than Eastland. Mavericks who saw time in the game were Sam Butler, Bill Bagley, Aubrey Brawner, Rerald Tully, John Hart, Capt. John Garrison, Horace Horton, Bob Sikes, Jack Trantham, Cordell Upton, Troy Taylor, D. C. Frost and Jack Trantham.

Shooting Club to Have Deer Target For Affair Today

American Legion members of Eastland have installed a running deer at the Eastland Gun Club's shooting site two miles southwest of Eastland for that club's last shoot of the season which begins at 1:30, Jim Horton, member of the club announced Saturday. Breckenridge and Ranger shooters are expected to be in attendance. Four prizes will be awarded in each of the skeet, pistol, 22rifle and hi-power rifle events. A system has been worked out whereby less proficient shooters will have the opportunity to win prizes along with those who take away high honors at every shoot. The running deer installation is a sheet iron target that slides along a long cable. The outstanding attraction will be an unusual drawing card for deer hunters as practice will be afforded for the season which opens in five weeks, members of the club state. The announcement from the club state entrance to the shooting events is free, with each shooter furnishing his own ammunition. Ample parking space awaits spectators and visitors who are welcome, the club announces.

Scranton Quarterly Conference Oct. 11

The quarterly conference of the Scranton charge will be held Thursday, Oct. 11, with an all-day meeting at the church during which dinner will be served on the grounds. It was announced by Dr. O. E. Sensabaugh, presiding elder. There will be preaching services at 11 in the morning with the quarterly conference beginning at 1:30 in the afternoon. The Rev. Frank L. Turner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Cisco will speak on "Methodism's Contribution to the Moral and Religious Forces of Our Country."

TO FORM AUXILIARY Formation of a ladies auxiliary to the Eastland Fireman's Association will be undertaken Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, Mrs. A. W. Hennessee has announced. Those interested in the move have been requested to attend, it has been announced.

ANOTHER LOCAL WARD MAN IS PROMOTED

T. H. Chaffin, who has been with the Montgomery Ward store, Ranger, for only a short time, received notice yesterday of his promotion to district merchandising checker in the southern region. Mr. and Mrs. Chaffin have made many friends during their short stay in Ranger, and are leaving tonight for their new home in Fort Worth.

Slayer of Mate To Die in Chair

Blunders ruined the "perfect crime" that Mrs. Gertrude Puhse, 42, Granite City, Ill., above, and her lover, Thomas Lehne, planned in slaying the woman's husband, so they will die in the electric chair at Menard, Ill., prison, Oct. 12. Mrs. Puhse is the first woman sentenced to electrocution since Illinois adopted that penalty.

PRESIDENT TO BE ON PROGRAM FOR BANKERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Some bankers may get a spanking when the President addresses the American Bankers association. Association president, Francis Law, probably doesn't expect that. "He hasn't got it in for the bankers and the bankers haven't got it in for him," Law said after Mr. Roosevelt accepted a speaking invitation. But something about bankers—perhaps only a few—is troubling the White House more than a little. The presence of an irritant was emphasized in Mr. Roosevelt's week-end fireside chat when he implied that American Bankers had not aided the administration as London bankers have aided the British government.

City-County Officials Attend Sixth Annual Firemen Banquet Held At The City Hall Friday

The fight fighters' sixth annual banquet, held Friday night, arranged in compliment to the membership was opened by D. L. Kinnaid, city mayor, and toastmaster, with benediction spoken by Judge B. W. Patterson. Toast to the department, to loyalty of the firemen, and to the work of the firefighters, were given respectively to Judge Clyde L. Garrett, H. C. Davis of Chamber of Commerce, and Fred Michael, assistant fire chief. An address on co-operation by Judge Patterson, featured the program. The toasts were closed with a "thank you" to the boys, for their loyalty by Fire Chief Hennessee. Miss Jessie Ruth Barnett in two readings and the Misses Helen and Edith Rosenquest with Jackie Bellew in a tap dance, with an encore in an acrobatic number by the Rosenquest girls, topped off the program which had an accompaniment of a four-piece orchestra, playing all evening, directed by Desmond Daniels. The immense crowd was seated about two long and several smaller tables decorated with red flowers, red candles, and several toy fire trucks. A bountiful plate was served of barbecued chicken and beef, creamed potatoes, combination salad, condiments, ice cream, cake, coffee, and punch with after dinner smokes for the men. The banquet was served in the station room of the city hall, and dancing followed in the wide hallways afterwards. Jep Little called the crowd down with a novelty dance, an unexpected feature. Mrs. Fred Michael's registration desk showed present, Messrs. and

County Exhibits Sent To Dallas

Eastland county agricultural exhibits, which have always rated high, left for the state fair Friday for the fair grounds at Dallas in charge of J. M. Baird, Cisco vocational teacher, and M. O. Hood, vocational teacher at Rising Star. Exhibits of the county have taken first, second and third at former state fairs. Though lack of rains handicapped the growing of exceptional agricultural products, those exhibited during the county fair were judged unusual. T. B. Woods of A. & M. college, College Station, judge of agricultural and community exhibits at the county fair, said "the exhibits were exceptionally good for the year."

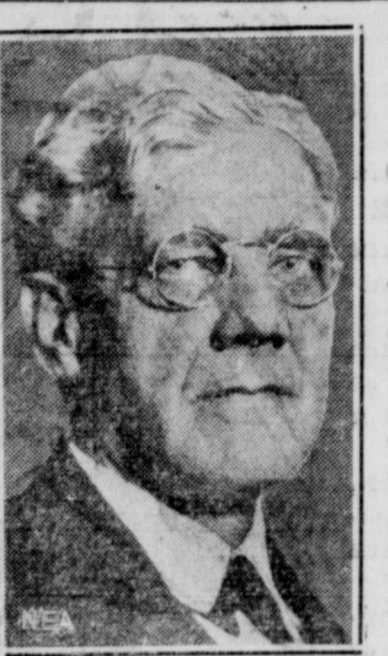

Bread Bonds Sold To Garrett and Co.

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—The first $1,000,000 of the new series of $6,000,000 Texas relief bonds, apparently were brought today by Garrett & Co., Dallas, and associates, on a bid of $1,000,110 and 3 1/2 per cent interest. Eight bids were received.

Relief Work Is at Near Stand Still

Sewing rooms last week filled with a buried atmosphere and the hum of swing machines were Saturday quiet in all rooms in the county, and relief projects in the county were shut down due to the cut in Eastland county's money allotment for October.

At the Eastland county general relief office Saturday, an administrative official said that the whole relief work in the county was cut to the bone with no projects going and only relief disbursements were being made to those on the direct relief rolls, and those very few. The mattress factory, started last Monday at Eastland was shut down in the latter part of last week. Case workers, the officials said, were going over their books and investigating each and every client so that those unworthy or relief would be removed. Since the federal government has recently allotted money to Texas, the official said, the office expected word of some nature in the early future.

Mussolini Speaks On New Civilization

MILAN, Italy, Oct. 6.—Mussolini told a cheering crowd of 100,000 today "That this depression is the passage from one civilization to another." "It will give the necessary discipline to a productive system," the premier shouted as he stood alone in a 30-foot high tribune in Cathedral Square. "We are convinced Fascism will be the type of civilization for the next century." He also announced a Franco-Italian agreement—considered one of the most significant accords in years, would be signed in October.

New Jersey May Indict Hauptmann

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—New Jersey officials prepared to seek indictments for Bruno Hauptmann while the suspect visited today with his wife. Mrs. Anna Hauptmann was permitted to see the prisoner for the first time in recent days when he was taken to the office of Samuel Foley, Bronx county district attorney. The New Jersey case, charging him with murder of the Lindbergh baby, appeared almost complete and an indictment will be sought next Monday.

Annual Methodist Rally To Be Held Today Announced

Officers and teachers will be elected at the annual rally day of the Methodist church today, Rev. E. R. Stanford, pastor of the church, announces. All classes will observe the day by gathering in the church auditorium after Sunday school classes at 10:30, the pastor states. Communion will be taken after election of teachers and officers.

State Fair Opened At Dallas Saturday

DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Texans today greeted their 48th annual state fair what was expected to be the largest attendance in history. From all corners of the state came exhibits to the fair telling the story of Texas and the variety of its products. A total of $80,000 is being offered in premiums for winning exhibits.

Aged Man's Funeral Held On Friday

Funeral services for S. E. Sadler, 81, who died at his Rising Star home Thursday after a week's illness, were held at Rising Star Friday with burial at Sabanno. Survivors include his wife, four sons, three daughters, one stepson and three step-daughters.

Woman Convicted In Murder Trial

DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Dessie Wilson, 34, was found guilty by a district court jury today of murdering without malice in the shooting of Vestus Tolbert, 42, of Greenville, and was sentenced to five years. The sentence was the maximum for murder without malice.

WHITE HOUSE PARTY CRITIC

Overriding their own presiding officer, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson (shown) of Philadelphia, delegates to the New Jersey annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church telegraphed to President Roosevelt an apology for being "quoted as involved in criticism of yourself and your family" in connection with a holiday social function at the White House. The conference overwhelmingly defeated a proposal to censure President and Mrs. Roosevelt for an alleged "hilarious Christmas beer-drinking party," even though Bishop Richardson had expressed his belief in the story.

FIVE PITCHERS TAKE MOUND IN 10 TO 4 GAME

Auker Keeps Cardinals In Check To Keep Tigers In Pennant Race. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—The Detroit Tigers evaded the current World series today at two games each for the Tigers and Cardinals, when they battled their way to a 10 to 4 victory over their National league opponents. Five pitchers faced the Tigers without being able to stem the tide of base hits and runs, while Auker won the route for Detroit. The play-by-play of the game: First Inning Tigers—White fled out to Orsatti. Cochrane grounded out, Frisch to Collins. Gehringer got a Texas leaguer over second base. Goslin fled out to Rothrock. Cards—Martin walked, Rothrock hit into a double play, Auker an Rogell to Greenberg. Frisch fled out to Goslin. Second Inning Tigers—Rogell fanned on called strikes. Greenberg singled over Durocher. Owen fled out to Frisch. Fox popped out to Durocher. Cards—Medwick got a looping single over short. Collins doubled against the right field screen, Medwick going to third. Delancey walked, filling the bases. Orsatti fled out to Goslin, Medwick scoring after the catch. Durocher fled out to Fox in right field. Carleton grounded to Rogell and Delancey was forced at second. Score, Cards 1, Tigers 0. Third Inning Tigers—Auker fled out to Orsatti against the center field

RIOT SPREADS OVER SPAIN IN NEW REVOLT

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 6.—The Spanish left wing strike revolt spread today in the face of strong counter attacks by the government of Premier Lerroux. Late today, the ministry of war said the situation in the Asturias mining region was grave, with rebels in possession of many towns after heavy fighting. The revolt was gaining headway in the northern areas, but fighting—piling up a toll of around 140 estimated dead—was reported from isolated districts in other sections. In Madrid suburbs, guards clashed with rebels, resulting in many casualties. In Barcelona, civilians armed with rifles patrolled the streets to frustrate a purported plan of extremists to declare a republic. The cabinet, which the Socialists, Communists, Anarchists and various extremist factions are combating, sent reserve troops and naval forces into action against the rebels. The premier said he would declare martial law throughout Spain if necessary.

Edwards Given Death Sentence In Murder Trial

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 6. A jury of miners today condemned Robert A. Edwards to death for murdering one sweetheart so he would be free to marry another. The verdict completed the parallel between the tragedy of Harvey's Lake where Freda McKeown, expectant mother of Edward's child, was blackjacked to death and the Dreiser novel, "An American Tragedy." The jury of conservative, middle-aged men, deliberated through most of the night, Edwards turned white when the final words were read—guilty, death.

Austin Prodigy Has a Birthday

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Martin Etlinger, the 9-year-old prodigy who has mastered college courses today celebrated his birthday by going to the church. The birthday came yesterday, but Martin, who plans to enter the University of Texas at the age of 10, went to school. Only in school can he be prevented from reading too many books and learning to fast. For birthday gifts he received a few books—described by his parents—Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Etlinger, as readable, and a subscription to a science magazine. But Martin was not going to spend all his time with his books and mathematics. He is going to ride horses and play games. His father said so. And his father, now professor of mathematics at the University of Texas, has a background of experience from which to decide.

FERGUSON TO KNOW MONDAY ABOUT SESSION

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, advisor to Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, today announced a definite decision whether there will be a special session of the legislature, will be reached Monday. If called, it will be in time to avoid complications over election of new legislators on Nov. 6, Ferguson said. It will not be called, he said, unless enough members show a willingness to pass at least some of the five proposals to be given the session. Drouth and other relief funds to be advanced in Texas by the federal government are only temporary aids and do not eliminate need for relief legislation, he pointed out. It was indicated that proponents of added relief funds, tax penalty remission, Colorado and Brazos river projects and a Centennial appropriation will have to combine forces of the session to accomplish anything. To date the governor has heard from only 35 or 40 members of the special session. All but two favored the session.

Deans Are Guarded By St. Louis Police

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 6.—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean and his brother Paul were placed under guard after Dizzy accepted an invitation to go riding with two strangers. Sam Bredon, president of the Cardinals, ordered police details to protect his pitchers after giving Dizzy a lecture. "Shucks," Dizzy said, "Nobody's going to kidnap me. Even if they did that wouldn't keep Detroit from losing the series unless they took Paul, too."

MOST TRAFFIC MISHAPS RESULTS FROM HASTE

There is nothing on which people disagree much more widely than on the question, What causes automobile accidents?

Everyone has his own pet theory; and usually—human nature being what it is—we are inclined to blame those particular faults of which we know we ourselves are never guilty.

But there isn't such a great deal of room for argument, after all. A lot of painstaking work has been done in tabulation and analysis of fatal traffic accidents, and the things which cause tragedies are pretty clear.

Statisticians of the Travelers Insurance Company recently drew up a table covering fatal traffic accidents for 1933, as officially reported by the various states.

They found that in more than 32 per cent of the fatal accidents in which drivers were found to be at fault, a driver had been exceeding the speed limit. In 13 per cent of the cases, a driver had been on the wrong side of the road. In an equal number of cases, a driver had taken the right of way when he was not entitled to it.

In upwards of 5 per cent, a driver had been guilty of "cutting in," passing a standing street car, passing on a curve or a hill, or passing on the wrong side. In nearly 19 per cent, a driver had driven completely off the roadway. In nearly 9 per cent the cause could be listed only as reckless driving.

Now the thing to notice, as the insurance company statisticians point out, is that all these causes, lumped together, are practically synonymous for "heedless, needless haste."

They are the sort of offenses that are committed when a driver is in such a big hurry that he fails to tend to his knitting.

And if you total those percentages, you'll find that they account for approximately 90 per cent of all fatal accidents in which any blame attaches to the driver.

It is often, and truly, said that the intoxicated driver is as dangerous as a maniac with a gun. Yet these figures show that fewer than 5 per cent of the fatal accidents can be laid to drunken driving.

The overwhelming majority—90 per cent—is caused by simple, everyday haste.

The drunken driver, dangerous as he is, isn't in it as a public menace with the driver who is in too big a hurry.

FURTHER WORK RELIEF

Gov. Ferguson will call the legislature back, probably next week to act upon a group of measures chiefly designed as public improvement and work-creating programs.

The Port Arthur bridge construction bill deserves a place on the list. Gov. Ferguson submitted it to the recent session. It was one of the many measures failing to get consideration then.

The state now has authority to build toll highway bridges, where no other kind can be financed. It does not have authority to contract with the public works administration to apply tolls to a repayment of a loan for such construction. That alone was the purpose of the Port Arthur bill.

The measure would enable the state highway commission, as requested by the commissioners' court of Jefferson county, to borrow about $2,000,000 for the construction of a high bridge over the Neches ship channel, as part of the interstate highway, through Orange to Galveston.

A large share of the cost would go to creating jobs, in a county whose unemployment and relief situation is acute. The measure was especially urged before legislative committees by Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, senator-elect, as one to provide work for men who want jobs and not the dole.

Governor Ferguson has pointed out if the legislature will set in motion a large-scale development and work program, it could be justified then in turning to the issue of appropriating $5,000,000 for a Texas Centennial. Her statement fits well for the Port Arthur bridge project as for many other worthy ones in Texas.

GAME A HILL COUNTRY BUSINESS

Deer, turkey and fish, the game resources of the Texas Hill Country, rank with livestock and agriculture in cash returns. Thousands of sportsmen go to the section each year and either lease hunting rights by the year, or pay $4 per day for the privilege of hunting.

One of the by-products of the Buchanan dam project, whose completion awaits an act of the legislature to create the state agency to have it in charge, has been pointed out by Cong. J. P. Buchanan. Mr. Buchanan, who as chairman of the national house appropriations committee holds the purse strings, has committed himself to developing a federal game breeding area and a federal fish hatchery in the upper reaches of the Colorado river above Lake Buchanan as soon as the lake comes into being.

The plan means much to the sportsmen of Texas: It means more to citizens of the Upper Colorado country in attracting thousands of people yearly, and in assuring greater financial returns from the leasing of hunting rights.

Construction and operation of this hatchery and game sanctuary will create considerable employment for Texans, all to be paid for by the federal government.

No real citizen takes a real interest in his home city until he does something for it.

CONNECTED WRONG PIPE
ST. LOUIS. — Bill Hrdlicka, transfer man, is very accommodating. He struggled an hour or so to connect a gas stove for a woman customer, and accepted only her thanks. Well pleased, he returned to his office to meditate on the good turn, only to have the woman telephone to inform him he had connected the gas stove to the water pipe.

Session Is Not Warranted Says Senator Collie

Senator W. B. Collie of Eastland, Saturday released the following relative to the talked of session: To the People of the 24th Senatorial District: I have received some communications from over the state asking me to advise the governor to call another session of the legislature for the purpose of considering among other things, these subjects: the appropriation of $5,000,000 for the centennial; remission of taxes and interest on delinquent taxes; additional relief funds; Colorado river authority, and the Colorado river projects. I am always glad to have expressions of the people on any proposed legislation and shall indeed appreciate hearing from them concerning the new session, as well as their views particularly on the subjects in the event a session is called. The messages I have received have not been sufficient to warrant me to request another session. Personally, I have a predilection against it, because all of these subjects were considered at the last session and the result is well known. I know of no change in sentiment among the members favorable to the bills that were passed, and the chance of favorable action is not sufficient to warrant the expense incident to a session.

The most important proposal at this time is the remission of taxes and interest on delinquent taxes, and other relief measures. But these were debated after many hours of debate. I am quite active in sponsoring the remission bill. Having been appointed on the conference committee to consider the bill, it was upon my motion that the bill was reported favorably and the report signed by three members of the house and three of the senate. Objection was made to a section which eliminated the optional feature which had applied to cities and other local political subdivisions. In the consideration of the bill in the committee there was not the speaker who admitted that the bill would grant the remission if were left optional with them. For this reason I opposed leaving optional with them. Believing that taxpayers should have some relief and not penalized in these depressing times, I wanted the provisions of the bill to apply to all delinquent real estate taxpayers, many of whom have taxes encumbering their property so heavily here remains, only small equities to themselves. Something must be done to permit these people to work out their debts and reclaim their property.

Many thousands of people had made application to the Home Owners Loan corporation and the Federal Farm Loan corporation or loans to save their property from threatened foreclosure. The applications were filed before July 1, when the penalties and interest charges were applied. Now, these loans are seriously jeopardized because these governmental agencies invariably reduce, rather than increase, the amount applied for and they require that all taxes be paid. It ought to be known that the only persons to speak in opposition to the bill in our committee were city attorneys and collectors and others drawing salaries from public source. Those in need of relief were, of course, unable to be heard because of the expense in coming to Austin; whereas, if they were allowed their expenses out of public money. No one came from this district but letters, telegrams and calls were sent me in opposition to the bill. These came from officials of cities and towns. "As state senator, I felt that in view of the government being compelled to take care of the destitute and needy on relief rolls, many thousands of whom enjoy the privileges of government and share none of its burdens, it is unjust to penalize the taxpayer who is bearing the burden and sharing less in the privileges of government. Many thousands who own real estate are equally as burdened as those who do not own it; and should we add a penalty upon him at this time because of his inability to pay his tax bill in full? "I again solicit the expressions of the people upon all of these subjects. The governor has requested me to transmit these views to her. As a member of the senate, I shall be governed by the will of the people of this district on all subjects upon which I have the means of knowing what their will is, and upon all others I shall do what by judgment tells me will best serve and advance their interests. I try faithfully to give thoughtful and careful consideration to all matters of public interest and to express my own views and vote according to the dictates of my conscience. (Signed) "WILBOURNE B. COLLIE."

Durocher scored the tying run on the play. Rothrock flied out to Goslin. Frisch forced Martin at second. Score, Tigers 4, Cards 1.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY CHILES MORDEN reports for The Blade, telephone newspaper a report of the death of EDWARD SHILLING, private detective, believed to have been killed by "CINCINNATI BEAR LAMPSON, gangster. The same night on impostor pretending to be FRANK B. CATHAY of Riverview, wealthy and prominent, is brought to police headquarters on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. With him is a girl who says she is MARY BRIGGS, hitch-hiker. Both are released. Morden telephones the facts to his newspaper. Next day the real Cathay calls on DICK BLEEKER, city editor of The Blade. Cathay claims his reputation has been injured, and demands damages and a retraction. Kenney and Morden decide to put the matter before DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, was in the late forties. He was thin of frame, salt low of complexion. "Looks serious," he said. "It is," Dick Kenney assured him. "Sit down and wait until I finish these letters," Bleeker snapped. Bleeker shoved his pen across the last of the letters, jabbed a button and a tall, gaunt young woman strode into the room. She cast an appraising glance at the two men who occupied chairs, picked up the letters and departed. As the door closed Dan Bleeker turned to the two men. "All right," he said, "what is it?" "That Frank B. Cathay story we ran last night," Kenney said. "What's the matter with it?" asked Bleeker. "The man who was arrested wasn't Cathay at all." "Dan Bleeker gulped. He whirled about in his swivel chair, stared at the men with black-eyed, aggressive rages, jumped to his feet. "Haven't you been in the newspaper game long enough to know that you can't run a story like that without being absolutely sure of your grounds?" he demanded. "DICK KENNEY'S voice was anxious. "It was just one of those things that couldn't be helped," he said. "It came in at the last minute. The man gave the name of John Smith. The police checked back on where he'd rented the roadster and found that he'd given the name of Frank B. Cathay of Riverview. They confronted him with that statement and he admitted his identity. He produced cards, all sorts of identification." Dan Bleeker snorted contemptuously. "Cards!" he said. "My God! You couldn't get a $20 check cashed on the strength of that identification. Yet you go ahead and plunge the newspaper into a libel suit on identification that hasn't got anything more to it than that!" "No, wait a minute," Dick Kenney told him. "We did a lot more than look at the cards. We telephoned to Riverview and talked with Mrs. Cathay. She admitted her husband was in the city. And Tom Carsons down at the detective bureau didn't release the man until he had given proof of his identity. There were signatures on the cards. Carsons had him duplicate those signatures." "That all your story?" asked Bleeker.

"I want you," Bleeker said, "to go to Riverview. Find out all you can about Frank B. Cathay." Kenney nodded. "It's a damned poor way to verify the man's identity," Dan Bleeker said. "We were just going to press," the city editor reminded him. "Wait a minute," Bleeker interrupted. "There's something fishy about this." "Of course there's something fishy about it," Morden said. BLEEKER raised black, smoky eyes and regarded the young man for a full second before saying, "Shut up!" He dropped his chin to his hands, stared at the floor for a few minutes, then looked up at the city editor. "How did you find out the man wasn't Cathay?" he asked. "Frank B. Cathay, himself, came to see me." "What did he want?" "Plenty." "How much?" "He didn't say. He wants a retraction, and he wants damages." "Oh he does, does he?" said Bleeker grimly. "He seems to have us on the spot," Kenney said. "He's a prominent man in Riverview. He's running for the city council." "He wants a substantial check so he can have a facsimile published in The Riverview Daily Press, which is his backer in the political campaign." "Wants to what?" yelled Bleeker. "That's what he said," Kenney remarked. "He wanted to have a facsimile of the check published so he can convince the local citizens that atonement had been made for a great wrong." "What?" Bleeker whirled toward Morden. "You're the one that got us into this, huh?" he asked. "I reported the case when it first came in. It was a John Smith case then. I was instructed to get a human interest article and—" "And you're the one that got us into it, huh?" "Yes sir." Bleeker sighed. "That's a lot better, my boy," he said. "When I ask you a direct question, give me a direct answer. The alibi can come later. If you'd kept beating around the bush I'd have fired you." "I was covering the thing from a human interest angle," said Morden, "when they started checking up on the man's identity. Then they found out the car he was driving was a rent car; that when he rented the car he had given the name of Frank B. Cathay of Riverview, had shown his driver's license and exhibited his lodge and club cards by way of reference." "How did he get those cards?" "Cathay says his pocket was picked." "Did you ask him what he was doing in town?" "He said he was here on business." "Did he tell you the nature of the business?" "No." "Tell you where he was stopping?" "No. I asked him and he refused to answer." DAN BLEEKER fastened his glittering black eyes on Morden. "Ever work for a newspaper on a libel suit, Morden?" he asked. Morden shook his head. "Know how it's done?" asked Bleeker. "I have an idea," Morden said. "All right," Bleeker told him. "Go into the morgue, dig out everything you can find on Frank B. Cathay of Riverview. If he's been

Something to Write Home About! UTILITY Steam Cooker FREE! Appetizing Foods prepared in less time, with less work and less fuel expense! The New WATERLESS WAY While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water. Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water. About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire. However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off the excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teeth-building minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking. Look! HERE'S HOW YOU GET ONE OF THESE COOKERS... FREE! JOAN CRAWFORD, CLARK GABLE GIVE AUDIENCE SOMETHING TO CHEER ABOUT

With "Chained" the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture playing at the Lyric Theatre Monday, Joan Crawford and Clark Gable win new laurels for their already glistening crowns.

For "Chained" is an excellent picture, expertly mounted, directed and acted.

Clarence Brown, who gave us "Sadie McKee," Joan's last, is also responsible for the splendid direction and pace of the new picture.

As Diane, modern Manhattan miss, Joan Crawford brings a new and vivid characterization to the screen. Clark Gable holds up his end with more than sufficient skill and charm as Mike, likable young rancher in South America.

The supporting cast is equally fine, with Otto Kruger as Mr. Field, the "other man" in the case; Stuart Erwin in the role of Johnnie, wife-cracking friend; Una O'Connor as the sympathetic companion, and Marjorie Gatenben in the role of Mrs. Field.

But excellent as all other phases of the production are, chief honors go to the co-stars who, brilliantly cast, turn in performances that compare well with the finest screen characterizations of the year.

George Folsey outdoes himself with the photography, and the same thing can well be said of the striking Adrian gowns, which are much in prominence.

The story was written especially for the screen by Edgar Selwyn and was adapted by John Lee Mahin.

THRILLING MYSTERY DRAMA IS COMING TO LYRIC THEATRE SUNDAY

"The Dragon Murder Case," the latest of the murder mystery dramas from the pen of the peerless author, S. S. Van Dine, to be dramatized for the screen opens at the Lyric theatre Sunday.

The picture is said to be the most bizarre as well as the most baffling of all the novels of the famous author, involving as it does a series of mysterious crimes apparently committed by some prehistoric monster.

It is not until Philo Vance, in the person of Warren William, comes to the scene that the strange murders are finally solved and the slayer brought to justice. William is a new Philo Vance, though the parts of Sergt. Heath and District Attorney Markham are again carried by Eugene Pallette and Robert McWade, respectively. Etienne Girardot also will be seen again in the person of the quaint and querulous Dr. Doremus.

Margaret Lindsay has the leading feminine role, the fiancée of the first man murdered, and suspected of the crime because she is in love with another of her guests, a man played by Lyle Talbot, who also comes under the scrutiny of the police.

Six other persons are also suspected, including Robert Barrat, owner of the estate, his mother who advances the dragon theory, a part played by Helen Lowell, Dorothy Tree, George E. Stone, William Davidson, guests and Arthur Aylesworth who plays the role of the butler.

Mass on Sunday will be at 8 a. m. by Rev. M. Collins. Sunday will be the Twentieth Sunday after Pentecost. The Epistle read is taken from St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians V. 15-21; the Gospel is from St. John IV. 46-53. In this gospel there is an account of how Christ cured a boy in Capernaum at the request of the boy's father, who evidently believed in Christ as being honest and truthful. The miracle converted the father and the whole household. This miracle is recorded for all who may wish to be converted.
