AL MYERS' TRIAL MAY GO TO JURY TONIGHT

that reminds me...
When details are sought out in the trials they are summed up in totals are sometimes agreeable and gratifying. Instance a little reconitering shows the fact that Eastland has a payroll amounting to more than a million dollars a year. That is not to be sneered at and the charges hands in cash. It means that this should and should go through the channels of local cash registers. Merits can well give this serious thought and do everything in their power to see that it is spent locally. Naturally people go where they find what they want.

Columbo Death Tragedy to Pal

Grief-stricken accidental slayer of Russ Columbo, his lifelong friend, Lansing V. Brown, photographer is shown here in his Los Angeles home after the tragedy, which occurred while Brown was showing an old dueling pistol to the film star. A spark from a match discharged the pistol, the bullet entering Columbo's head.

PRESENT RELIEF SET-UP MAY BE ABOLISHED NOW

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—The Texas house of representatives today voted to abolish the present relief administration set up in the state and to place relief administration in the hands of a state board of control.
The vote was 112 to 33. Before adopting the board of control as a relief administrative body, the house successfully voted down other proposals, some of which would have permitted a say to the outgoing governor, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, and some a say to the incoming governor, James V. Allred.
The board of control is given power under the bill to select relief administrators. If the senate accepts the house plan, the house will have additional $6,000,000 relief funds, only half of which may be used for doles. Half must be used in relief work with a wage scale of not more than 15 cents per hour.

The Consolidated have been granted a hearing by the railroad commission on the application for a permit Sept. 15 at Cisco.
In Cisco Thursday it was said that the plant would be located either in Cisco or Eastland territory, in event of granting the application, the exact location not having been determined.

ALEXANDER RUSSELL DIES AT HIS HOME

Death came to Alexander Russell, 82, last night at 6:30 o'clock, at the family home on Cypress street, Ranger, bringing to an end a useful life and terminating an illness of several months' standing. Surrounded by his companion of more than 55 years and several of his children, the spirit of this remarkable man went out to its Maker.
The body was taken to the Killingsworth, Cox & Co. funeral home, resting there until 11:30 this morning, when it was placed on the Sunshine Special and accompanied by the widow and a son, Robert Russell of Ranger and Mineral Wells started its final earthly journey to Parkersburg, W. Va., where the remains will be interred in the old family burial plot. During the evening and morning many friends of the deceased and of his family called to pay their respects to the dead and to offer condolence and sympathy to the bereaved family.
Mr. Russell was born June 9, 1852, in Scotland, and came to this country with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert and Elizabeth Gilchrist Russell, when he was just seven years old.
He was married Aug. 6, 1879, to Miss Margaret Ann Lambing, at Parker City, Pa., and on Aug. 6 of this year the couple celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, which preceded just one day Mrs. Russell's seventy-fifth birthday.
His immediate survivors are his wife, and five sons and five daughters, the sons being C. A. J. J., and R. W. Russell of Ranger, Neil M. of Parkersburg, W. Va., Kenneth C. of St. Mary's, W. Va., the daughters are Elizabeth Sarah, wife of J. J. Brockmyer of McDonald, Pa.; Pearl K., wife of Fulton Holden, Lowell, O.; Ruth Helen, wife of Rev. Ben F. Donnelley, Wheeling, W. Va.; Nellie Mae, wife of Olin S. Hixon, St. Mary's, W. Va.; and Audrey E., wife of Wayne E. McCarrier, Galveston, Texas. Two other daughters died in infancy. Other survivors include 30 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.
The decedent was a member of the Episcopal church, and always was active in church work. Since coming to Ranger in 1925 he had identified himself with his church and carried on as long as the church was active, helping to support it and in every way living up to his religious convictions and his life-time training. He was a Mason and a past master of St. Mary's Masonic lodge.
Mr. and Mrs. Russell came to Ranger because several members of their family were already established here, and during the years that have intervened since their coming, Mr. Russell was active in business, having owned and operated a machine shop, quitting work just a few months ago on account of illness. He was a man who kept abreast of the times. He had an interesting and colorful past, but he did not live in the past as many older folks do, but kept in touch with the times, was conversant on every subject, and until the time of his last illness was active physically and mentally. He was a fine husband, father and grandfather, a good citizen in every way, and led a long and useful life.

China's War Hero in U. S. A.

"China's only hope is to resist and resist," General Tsai Ting Kai, commander of the famous 19th Route Army that held the Japanese in check at Shanghai, asserted on his arrival in New York, adding that he would join forces with any faction ready to dedicate itself to driving Japanese troops out of his native land.

Breckenridge Oil Boomers to Have Reunion

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 7.—Memories of boom days in Breckenridge when $3.50 oil gushed over derricks tops will be revived here October 26 when the hundreds of oil operators and workers who lived here during those stirring days but now have drifted to other places will be invited to return for a homecoming.
A joint luncheon of the Breckenridge high school athletic council and the school board representatives Thursday noon endorsed the project which had previously been proposed by the Lions Club.
Jake Sandfer, Jr., presented the matter to the council, proposing that October 26, the date of the Cisco-Breckenridge football game and the day following the dates for the big event.
Tentative plans call for a band contest for all West Texas, a rodeo and possibly a softball game as additional features.

MYERS TAKES WITNESS CHAIR IN OWN BEHALF

YOUTH SAYS HE ASK GIRL TO MARRY HIM—TELLS OF VISITS TO DOCTOR.
NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 7.—Young Neal Myers came unshaken through the state cross-examination as he defended himself here today before a jury trying him for murder in the death of his campus sweetheart, Marion Mills.
Only when the 21-year-old University of Oklahoma student told how the girl died in his arms after efforts to prevent motherhood, did he sob or lose control of himself. He had to stop as he told of his ill-fated romance.
Before court adjourns tonight the case may be in the hands of the jurors with his freedom or his life at stake.
Many in the courtroom wept as Myers told of the girl's death in the home of Mrs. Hazel Brown, near the school campus, on July 10.
His sentences came slowly and brokenly at times.
"How often did you see her?" asked Attorney James Rinehart of El Reno, the youth's home.
"We saw each other every day and wrote letters and notes to each other."
"When did you receive your first intimation that she was pregnant?" the attorney asked.
"In March, 1934."
"Was anything done?"
"I asked her to marry me. She said that she wanted to finish school, as her folks didn't want her to marry before she graduated."
Myers said that when further worry came in June he went to see Dr. Emanuel at Chickasha and took the girl with him.
Myers testified that in July he and Marion again visited the doctor.
"Did you ever want an abortion to be performed on Marion Mills?"
"No, sir."
"What did you say on your way back?"
"I suggested we go to Oklahoma City and get married. She said 'no.'" She said something about quinine. She said she thought she would buy some."

New Teacher for Cisco Near Death

CISCO, Texas, Sept. 7.—En route to Cisco Thursday morning to begin his duties as teacher of commercial subjects in Cisco high school, E. C. Pennington, formerly of Garland, was near death in a Dallas hospital after an automobile accident about 10 o'clock near that city. He was believed to have sustained a fracture of the skull when a car ran into his machine from the rear and turned it over in a ditch, Miss Clara Pennington, his sister, said in a telephone call to Supt. R. N. Cluck of the Cisco schools.
He was taken to Baylor hospital where physicians, unable to make an X-ray examination at the time because of his condition, held little hope for his recovery, Miss Pennington said.
Even if he recovers, Supt. Cluck was informed, it was doubtful that he could begin his work here for several weeks.
It was not said whether or not his family was with him at the time.
Mr. Pennington, about 35 years of age, had been teaching for the past few years at Garland, Texas. He was employed by the Cisco school board about a month ago.

Tree Connects The Old and New

LIONS, Neb.—Pioneer days of Nebraska's history are linked with today by one of nature's landmarks—a huge elm tree, now hollow, which appears to be as old as the hills in its vicinity.
Year after year it has escaped the ax, first of the homemakers of early days, and later the cutting process that precedes the modern lumber-making device, the buzz-saw.
The tree measures 22 feet, four inches in circumference at the base. It stands nearly 75 feet high. It branches out into five divisions about 12 feet up the trunk. Each division is as large as a fair sized tree trunk, with the sub-branches fully green and alive.
A storm some years ago tore away part of the trunk wall and the tree stands, split into two parts.
Many tales are told of the important part the tree played as a hiding place for valuable documents, weapons and lover's notes. Two of the earliest settlers here relate the story of finding a wallet and revolver of strange make in its hollow trunk. The wallet was of leather, containing papers that no one could decipher. How they came here has remained a mystery to this day.
Many years ago camp meetings were held near the tree, and the spot is referred to often as the old "camp meeting place."

"BABY, TAKE A BOW" PRESENTS NEW STARLET

"Baby, Take a Bow," coming to the Lyric on Sunday, introduces five-year-old Shirley Temple in her first title role. After her overnight success in "Stand Up and Cheer!" Little Shirley has become one of the outstanding personalities on the screen. She has an important part in the picture and is responsible for much of the comedy.

James Dunn and Claire Trevor, who have been teamed in three pictures, are together again in "Baby, Take a Bow," as Shirley's parents.

It's a sparkling comedy-drama that gets under way in the first few scenes and maintains a rapid tempo to the exciting finish. The story deals with the struggle for happiness and success of a young man just out of prison, a girl who marries him because she believes in him, and the result of their union, an adorable baby girl who is the pride and joy of their hearts.

Into the picture enters an escaped convict and the theft of some valuable pearls from the home of the boy's employer. Suspicion and the persecution by a self-styled detective cloud the happiness of the little family. The drama becomes tense as the criminal, passing the little flat, gives the baby the pearls to avoid being caught with the stolen property in his possession by pursuing officers.

The denouement grows more exciting as the criminal returns and takes the jewels and the baby, to cover his escape.

After an exciting sequence of events, the gems are recovered, the culprit captured and Shirley is the heroine of the hour, with a goodly reward in prospect and the removal of all suspicion from her daddy.

A great deal of comedy and human interest has been injected into the scenes showing the camaraderie and affection between daddy and baby and the episode of the child's birthday party affords Shirley another opportunity to show her talents as a singing and dancing entertainer. Keen romantic interest is maintained also by James Dunn and Claire Trevor.

Apple Growing Near Eastland Proves Opportunity Example

New Mexico, California or Colorado from a nearby standpoint have nothing on the Eastland community when it comes to cultivating apples. Within a radius of 15 miles in any direction of Eastland the trees are loaded to the ground and most all varieties are represented. The fruit this year is smaller than usual due to the long dry spell, but nevertheless promising for an unusual crop. From information gathered it takes about four years before a tree will begin to bear. A visit to the farm of G. W. Fisher, four miles north of Eastland in the Morton Valley community is an eye-opener as to what can really be done and expected from the result of planting apple trees. Mr. Fisher stated that he had two trees that were fruiting for the first time. They were loaded. All trees are in good healthy and hardy condition. His orchard also is represented by practically all varieties of peaches and other fruit.

This section has been for several years known to have possibilities for fruit growing. The soil and usually the climate is well adapted. The main thing involved is to have a ready market when the season opens. This is a job of course for the citizenship with the leadership of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations to solve. There are wonderful opportunities in this field. People who live in this community can well spare the time to visit the different fruit orchards in this section and study the methods used in cultivation. Every grower will be glad to show people what has and can be done.

Roberts Lost With Razing of "Main"

By United Press

AUSTIN, Tex.—When "Old Main" building, for nearly 5 years an ivy-covered sentinel of the University of Texas tumbled down to make way for a new structure, "Governor" Roberts felt "plumb lost."

Son of the former Gov. O. M. Roberts of Texas, the 73-year-old man was "head watchman" of Old Main. He had watched his father turn the first spadeful of dirt in the construction of the old building. Then it was not "Old Main," but the entire university, "Governor" Roberts will be retained as watchman in the new structure.

After all, Al Capone has little right to kick on being sent to California. No real estate salesman will try to sell him a worn-out orange grove.

Interest Growing For Courts

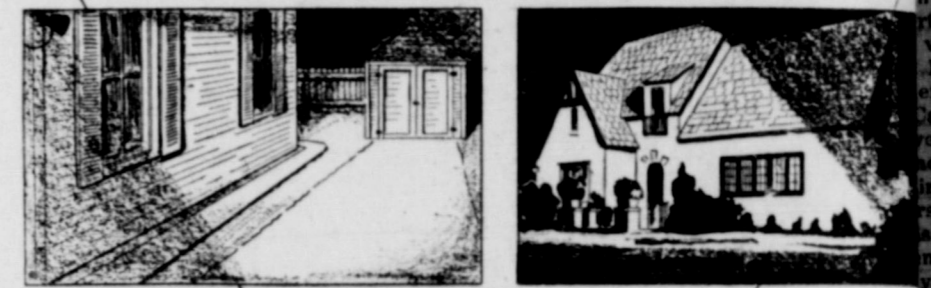

Interest is increasing in the instance of the courts in Eastland County, Tex., according to H. C. Davis, manager of the event. Events are proving to be the good-will trips made by the citizens to different sections of Eastland and other parts of the county.

Mangum was visited last night with a good story. A well balanced program has sloganed the county "the best fair that Eastland ever had." This slogan is ever those who believe in and in their community and see that the second Mrs. Travis, Patsy, here on their part of the largest attraction during the fair is hoping their wish is place to Rishi.

HEZEKIAH LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD

2 Chronicles 30:1-9, 13

There had been turbulent times in Jerusalem in the day of Ahaz, a wicked, selfish king. He had destroyed all of his vessels, and erecting altars to other gods "in every corner of Jerusalem."

God was angry with them. Ahaz died and was buried in the city but "not into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel."

"Hezekiah his son, reigned in his stead." He was an upright young man of twenty-five years of age when he began to reign in the year of B. C. 723 at Jerusalem.

"And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord." Chapter 29:2.

What a remarkable young man to stand in the face of all the sinful people and call for them to consider their unhappy state as a result of going away from God.

What words of wisdom he told them:

"Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel that His fierce wrath may turn away from us." 2nd Chron. 29:10.

How busy was his time as he called the priests to come and get ready for the cleansing of the temple and to observe the pass-over. People came from every part of the land, bringing offerings. There were not enough priests, cleansed or sanctified to handle all of the sacrifices.

"Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people, for the thing was done suddenly." 2 Chron. 29:36.

The temple stood forth cleansed in all its beauty. The doors were opened and repaired with gold plates. All unclean things were destroyed. The altar of Ahaz was broken up. "Solomon's ancient altar of burnt offerings was restored to its place before the sanctuary, together with the historic lavers for the priests." In the Holy Place the sacred lamps again burned, the show-bread was in its place, and pure incense was rising before the ark of the covenant.

It was now the month to observe the passover but Hezekiah yearned for all the people to have a part in this coming back to God. So he took counsel with the priests and the assembly and decided to observe the feast in the second month. The Mosaic law given in Num. 9:10-11 gave them that right.

He sent runners with letters to all the tribes inviting them to come and have a part in this observance and issued a decree or proclamation throughout all Israel.

He warned them of their father's fate, telling them that such would be theirs if they followed after them.

On the other hand if they would yield themselves to Jehovah, He would bless them.

"For if ye turn again unto Jehovah, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that led them captive, and shall come again unto this land; for Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away His face from you, if ye return unto him."

The assembly was a great success. The people were happy and had not had so much joy since the time of Solomon. The priests and Levites blessed the people, "and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to His holy dwelling place, even unto heaven."

Hezekiah continued his good work. He destroyed all of the idols and in sincerity led the people in their sacrifices and tithing, having to establish special officers to take care of this part of the worship.

In every form of the service he sought God with all his heart and God let him prosper.

How unlike the death of his father was the death of Hezekiah.

"And Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefest of the sepulchres of the sons of David, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did him honor at his death."

His great success is a beautiful lesson to Christians today. It was the result of seeking God with all his heart and yielding his life to that guiding power.

How beautiful, much more beautiful would our church services be today if all who follow the Christ would yield their lives completely to Him.

If we were lost in a great and strange city and hired a guide to bring us back to our hotel we would yield our sense of direction entirely to him. So if we find the life of beauty in service we must yield our lives to Christ who will direct them into channels of usefulness and true happiness.

God is gracious and merciful. 2 Chron. 30:9—Golden Text.

Former V. President Recalls 1874 Drouth

By United Press

TOPEKA, Kan.—Speaking of drouths, Charles Curtis, former Vice-President of the United States, has seen some of them before. He wrote to a friend here: "I feel sorry for our people. I think I know what they are going through. I remember a number of drouth years in Kansas, but the one I will remember the longest was in 1874."

"I stood in the streets of Louisville, then the county seat of Pottawatomie County, and saw covered wagon after covered wagon go through town every day for weeks. They were going back to Missouri and Indiana and other states."

"Then I went in a covered wagon and horseback some of the way from Louisville to Wichita. The crops had been burned up by the hot winds. The streams and waterholes were dried up. Homes had been abandoned. Dead cattle and horses were strewn along the way. I never want to see such a sight again."

MEETING CONTINUES AT MOUNT ZION

The revival meeting at Mount Zion Methodist church is increasing in interest. Rev. H. B. Johnson is assisting the Ranger circuit rider, Ephraim D. Conway, in the meeting. The meeting will continue through Sunday night. There will be an 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.
