GOVERNMENT RESTS IN THE INSULL CASE

By United Press CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The government unexpectedly rested its case against Samuel Insull and his associates today.

Insull, one time ruler of a $200,000,000 utility empire, and his associates, are on trial on charges of engineering a $143,000,000 mail fraud.

The government had expected the government would require another week, to give to the jury evidence that Insull defrauded thousands of investors through the operation of the Corporation Securities Company.

The defense of the 74-year-old Insull is expected to take longer than the government case. The closing of the prosecution is designed as a move to leave the jurors' minds the picture of Insull that prevailed in the last trial's meeting April 16, 1932.

New Mexico and West Texas officers guarded highways for the escaped men, who were cellmates in the county jail.

New Rainmaker Is Sure of System

By United Press WICHITA FALLS.—Although soaking rains have dispelled the drought here, E. L. McAbee has not given up his plan of forestalling any future dry spell with the use of dry ice.

His plan, which was launched at the airport here last summer, is to drop solid carbon dioxide, or "dry ice," into the clouds from an airplane.

Although American scientists laugh at the idea and declare that "100,000 pounds of dry ice would not be a drop in the bucket," even if the dry ice would make it rain, McAbee sticks to his idea and is sure it will work.

American may scoff but Europe is lending encouragement, McAbee said.

A European company handling carbon dioxide equipment has actually made it rain by discharging the substance in the clouds, he declared.

McAbee is expected to make another try at rain making soon. He is financing the project himself.

NEW DEAL FACES TEST IN ELECTIONS ON NOVEMBER 6

By EDWARD W. LEWIS United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Voters in 47 states will join Nov. 6 in the first referendum on New Deal policies since Franklin D. Roosevelt's smashing victory in 1932.

The nation-wide poll is to elect 432 members of the house of representatives. Maine's regular jump-the-gun election last September sent two democrats and one republican to the house, a numerical alignment identical with that chosen by Maine voters two years ago.

Democratic congressional leaders are fighting to protect their vital two-thirds majority which enabled them to beat down almost all rebellion in the 73rd congress. If the democrats retain a bare two-thirds majority of 290 seats the administration may mount it an unqualified triumph.

The average minority gain in off-year elections is 70 seats. Republicans are predicting an increase of from 50 to 85. Their gains probably will be much less than 50. Democrats insist that they will be as strong in the next house as they were in the last.

The 73rd house was composed of 311 democrats, 114 republicans, five farmer-laborites. There are five vacancies.

In California the gubernatorial candidacy of one-time socialist Upton Sinclair may effect the luck of the democratic congressional ticket. Likewise in Nebraska, due to a bitter democratic senatorial fight involving the Gov. Bryan wing, republicans may gain seats. A split in Michigan's democracy also suggests republican gains.

The farmer-labor third party situation in Minnesota and the La Follette progressive party campaigns in Wisconsin are disturbing factors in congressional races in those states. The Guffey-Roed-Pinchot argument in the Pennsylvania senatorial fight may have repercussions in congressional districts.

Minnesota, Kentucky and Missouri elected their congressmen at large in 1932, and republicans are expected to pick up a few seats in those states now that redistricting is completed.

In Rhode Island, textile strike violence rebounded into politics. Massachusetts was scorched by a democratic senatorial primary fight which may affect a re-election chances of democrats.

Republicans to make substantial gains are more likely to cut into democratic ranks in those states which are usually republican, but which climbed on the Roosevelt bandwagon in 1932. These include Illinois, Indiana, California, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia and New York.

House majority leader Joseph W. Byrns, chairman of the congressional democratic caucus committee, refuses to concede that the republicans will gain any seats, despite the fact that the off-

LABOR BOARD MOVES TO STOP LABOR DISPUTE

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29.—The regional labor board stepped into the controversy between the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and organized labor today in an effort to prevent removal of the chain's 300 stores from Cleveland.

Workers were stripping the company's two big warehouses of food and fixtures when Ralph Lind, chairman of the regional labor board, evolved a six point compromise peace plan.

He submitted the proposal to the national labor relations board in Washington received approval to submit it to company officials and union leaders for acceptance.

The A. & P. company, meanwhile, went about the task of moving out of the city, declaring it would rather quit business here than to submit to demands for a closed shop. The decision, officials said, was final.

Every store of the company here was closed. More than 2,000 employees, few of them affiliated with the union whose demands brought about the controversy, had lost their jobs.

IN SHADOW OF CHAIR

Near hysterics during the closing argument of her trial on charges of complicity in the murder of a New York policeman, Marquita Lopez, former night club hostess, wept copiously as she awaited the jury's decision as to her guilt. The defense pictured her as a "love slave" who was present at the fatal shooting against her will.

Hauptmann Is Losing His Reserve

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Bruno Hauptmann, charged with the Lindbergh baby murder, is losing the iron reserve that has characterized his demeanor since his arrest five weeks ago.

He displayed unusual emotionalism when he saw his 11-month-old son in the county jail where the father is awaiting trial on Jan. 2, 1935.

SHIP BROUGHT OUT OF SPIN DURING RAIN

Second Leg of Long Flight Is Successfully Completed Today.

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Oct. 29.—Sir Charles Kingsford Smith and Captain P. G. Taylor landed their "Lady Southern Cross" at Wheeler Field here today to complete the second phase of their trans-ocean flight from Australia.

When they landed here the two fliers had negotiated safely a 3,100 mile jump from the Fiji Islands, started at 10:10 a. m. Sunday (PST).

The Lady Southern Cross landed at 10:55 a. m. PST. (2:55 EST).

HONOLULU, Oct. 29.—It was estimated today on the basis of radio messages from Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith that the Lady Southern Cross would land here early this afternoon.

After pulling the airplane out of a dangerous spin, Sir Charles found a new worry—a gasoline shortage—as the plane neared the end of a 3,100-mile flight from the Fiji Islands to Honolulu, enroute to San Francisco.

"Gas running a bit low, but I think it will be O. K.," Sir Charles radioed at 3:15 a. m. Honolulu time (5:45 a. m. PST).

Sir Charles saved the ship from disaster earlier when it stalled and went into a spin during a heavy rainstorm.

A dramatic story of the battle against a forced landing on the waters of the Pacific came in radio messages from the plane.

Well passed the half way mark, the ship poked her nose into a rainstorm. Sir Charles tried to rise above the storm but couldn't clear it at an altitude of 1,500 feet.

While the storm rocked and tossed the sturdy monoplane, an airspeed indicator failed. The pilot reached down into the cockpit to fix it and at that moment the plane shot into a spin.

Not until after he had arrested the spin, after losing considerable altitude, did he learn the cause of that sudden drop toward the black waters of the ocean. He found that in fumbling around the cockpit he had thrown the switch to the wing flaps.

Elder Robinson Is Released In Kidnaping Case

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 29.—United States Commissioner Julian Campbell today ruled that Thomas H. Robinson Sr. was not liable for removal to Louisville, where he was indicted on charges of violating the Lindbergh law in connection with the abduction of Mrs. Berry Stoll.

Robinson, retired Nashville contractor, is the father of Thomas H. Robinson Jr., accused of the kidnaping. The contractor was released from $25,000 bond under which he has been free since his arrest. The United States district attorney said no further action would be taken until he conferred with federal prosecutors at Louisville.

Son Shoots Father After a Quarrel

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 29.—Obbie R. Davis, 66, was in a critical condition here today with a stomach wound inflicted last night during a quarrel with a son over division of property left by the injured man's wife.

Howell Davis, 42, went to the sheriff's office and surrendered.

He said he and his father quarreled at the elder man's home. The subject of the dispute was about $5,000 worth of property left by Mrs. Davis after her death in February.

This Bureaucracy Is One Worth While

This word "bureaucracy" is a very horrid word, indeed, and we do well to fear it. But the particular bureaucracy represented by the Tennessee Valley Authority seems to be an outfit that moves fast and keeps its eyes on the ball every minute.

Within recent weeks there was completed a deal by which the city of Knoxville, Tenn., with its environs, receives electric current from the TVA. Terms of this deal are well worth examining.

Knoxville originally planned to build its own distribution system to handle the current, and a PWA loan was lined up for the purpose. Had this been done, the Tennessee Public Service Company, which was supplying Knoxville with electric power would have faced ruin.

So it was arranged that Knoxville should buy out this company's distribution system, instead.

Knoxville, of course, had to go into debt to make this purchase, and a 10 per cent surcharge had to be placed on the new electricity rates to retire the debt. Even including that surcharge, however, Knoxville consumers will now get their current at rate reductions which—in the case of people who use as much as 240 kilowatt hours a month—will run as high as 34 per cent.

In ten years the citizens of Knoxville will own the distribution system, lock, stock, and barrel, free of debt; meanwhile, they will have been paying less for their electricity than the cheapest rates privately owned utilities ever offered.

It has been clear gain, obviously, for the people of Knoxville. How about the people who held securities in the Tennessee Public Service Company?

The bond-holders get back the price at which the bonds were issued, 96 1/2. Preferred stockholders retain $3,300,000 in cash and liquid assets; furthermore, the company still owns the Knoxville street railway, which is carried on the books at a value of slightly more than $4,000,000.

Four years ago the company issued common stock on a "write-up" of $4,500,000. This stock represented no investment—although dividends of $846,000 were paid on it during the depression—and so it did not share in the pay-off.

This TVA bureaucracy, then, seems to have shaken something very much like a Christmas tree for the people of Knoxville—while, at the same time, doing full justice to the utility security-holders.

Bureaucracy is a horrid word. But it depends on which bureaucracy you mean.

Newspaper advertising is helpful to both buyer and seller.

A community divided against itself cannot get anywhere.

1934 CAMPAIGN NIGHTMARE

'Dusting the Covers of Texas History' for The Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1935

"Each person took two pounds of ship-biscuit, one-half a pound of bacon, and set out on the inland journey..." thus Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca, the first explorer of Texas, simply records in his narrative of his travels one of the most fascinating stories of human existence. It was far back in the year 1527 that Panfilo de Narvaez set out from Spain with his band of nearly 600 men to explore the unknown region of Florida. It was to be a long, weary, anxious ten years for the kinsmen at home before they were to have further knowledge of their hardy adventurers.

Although Narvaez thought that his little band had landed on the shores of Florida, they were in reality on the grounds of the present State of Texas, and their subsequent wanderings through the land, the hardships they endured, and their explorations are preserved as invaluable bits of Texas history.

Cabeza de Vaca's narrative of those exciting years is to be found in a rare second edition volume in the archives of the University of Texas library. Because of it, loyal Texans are able to understand and give honor to those men who paved the way in Texas for future explorers and settlers, though it was to be many years before others came.

De Vaca became the first explorer of Texas through his captain's will rather than his own. He did not believe that it would be expedient to land at the particular place the Captain and several others had selected. Rather than appear a coward and remain with the boat, while the others set out on their journey inland, De Vaca went with them... was an ironical twist of fate that he was to be one of the four who were to return to civilization.

TEXANS will pause in 1936 to honor publicly Cabeza de Vaca and the 300 men who disembarked on the sandy shores of Texas with their "ship-biscuit and bacon" over 400 years ago. To those men who left their security to turn their faces toward a new land, new hope, and a better civilization, the people of Texas will pay homage, for they have reaped the benefit of the hardships of those adventurers.

Forces Marshalled Against One of the Late Amendments

USTIN.—Seeing in the so-called tax-limiting constitutional amendment a grave menace to education, to the highway program, to poor relief and to the taxpayer, one of the most virulent arrays of opposition ever embodied in Texas against an amendment is marshalling forces very corner of the state. The amendment, one of those voted upon Nov. 6, proposes a strict state (not including local collections and expenditures taxes, licenses, permits and a total of $22.50 per infant per biennium. School teachers, women's clubs, motorists, business and leaders interested in high-development, county and local officials, relief workers and all home-owners are campaigning to impress upon the electorate the amendment really means. The Democratic party of Texas, at Galveston convention, Sept. 1, furnished the spearhead of the attack by recommending to the voters "that this amendment be voted" because it is undemocratic, would shift tax burdens to all taxpayers, would menace relief and federal highway and "threatens the continuation of existing bases of state aid to local units for schools and Texas schoolteachers, through state president, J. C. Loftin said: "Inevitably, the state aid reduce its aid to counties

Stormy Wedding Ends in Divorce

The local tax-burden of the average taxpayer would be increased. "The joker in the proposal," added Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of C. I. This is not a tax-limiting, but a tax-shifting proposal." Adds Eula Lee Carter, president of the honor

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII SIDNEY GRIFF returned to his own car and drove at once to the Hillcrest hotel. He got in touch with the bell captain on the night shift and gave him a $5 bill by way of introduction. "I want to find out," he said, "about a man by the name of Cathay who was registered here on Monday night in Room 964." "There's been two or three people asking about him," the bell boy said. "Showed you photographs?" "Yes." "The photographs they showed you weren't the photographs of the man who was here?" "No." "Can you remember what he looked like?" "He was rather a big fellow and I think he had blue eyes. I can't remember enough about him to describe him, but I could tell him if I saw him again." "He was paged several times during the evening?" "Yes." "Can you tell me about the calls he received? You paged him during the evening here in the lobby." "It must have been 15 or 20 times." "Were the calls telephone calls, or was it someone who was here in the hotel and wanted to talk with him?" "Someone here in the hotel—a little guy with gray hair and blue eyes. I remember him well. He was mad as a wet cat about something. He had an appointment with this guy, Cathay, that Cathay hadn't kept. He was some kind of an inventor, I think, and there was some kind of a deal on that Cathay was to close." Griff's eyes were thoughtful. "I wonder if we can find out who that man was?" he said. "I think so," the bell captain told him. "I think the man had a room here in the hotel, at least for the night, and I think he waited over. It seems to me I saw him checking out about the time I came on duty Tuesday night." "Let's go see if we can find out." "Okay," the bell boy said. "You wait here, chief, and I'll go prowling around a little bit. I think maybe I can find out. I tell you what I think I can do. I think I can con-

Royal Honors
And Halloween
Saturday night presented a brilliant scene in Eastland, in the crowds hurrying to the Halloween carnivals, staged by the ward schools, followed by the annual school events, the crowning of the queen and king of their respective schools.

The West Ward school staged a very lovely coronation scene, in the building where the carnival was holding sway on the south side of the square.

The gray interior decorations of booths, added to the brilliancy of the scene.

The throne on its white dais had a background of lattice work entwined in rainbow colors and starred with flowers.

The flowers massed steps approaching the throne, faced the long aisle to the door, through which entered the royal court entourage, whose coming was heralded by Sir Pete Pegues.

The prince and princess entered in couples, the little maidens in airy rainbow tinted frocks, and lads in conventional attire.

The herald announced Prince Bob of the House of Davenport, with the Princess Marcella of the House of Sheinberg.

Prince Harold Gene of the House of Harkrider, with Princess Opal of the House of Armstrong.

Prince Billy of the House of Shirriffs, with Princess Betty Mae of the House of Jones.

Prince Bob, House of Harrison, and Princess Kathryn of the House of Grianham.

Prince Homer, House of Meek, and Princess Mary, House of Pace.

Prince Jack, House of Germany, and Princess Louise, House of Davis.

Prince Bobby, House of Gage, and Princess Totsy, House of Threath.

The crown-bearer, Princess Freeman in bouffant pink silk, followed in their wake, bearing proudly a silver crown, on a maroon velvet pillow.

The clarion bugle call rang out, announcing the coming of the royal pair, King Leroy of the House of Speed, and the queen, Doris of the House of Hennessie, in white gauze, with billowing silver trimmed gauze train, carried by the pages, Charles Layton and Max Cawley, dressed in English shorts.

The courts bowed in deference, at the entrance of the king and queen; the princesses grouped themselves to the right of the queen, and princes to the left of king, as the royal couple ascended the throne.

To the pretty music of a three-piece orchestra the pageant was completed by the king placing the crown on the queen's head, escorting her to the royal chair, and taking his place beside her.

Coronation ceremonies were in charge of Misses Marjorie Spencer and Lavelle Hendrick.

West Ward Carnival Big Success

The annual carnival of West Ward school staged under direction of Mrs. William Shirriffs, assisted by Mrs. E. M. Anderson, drew a crowded attendance at Conner building, Saturday night from 6 to 10 o'clock.

The food sale was brisk under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Davenport and candy and ice cream, sales kept Mrs. W. C. Marlow, busy.

Popcorn and peanuts purveyed by Mrs. O. O. Mickle, were in great demand; Mrs. A. J. Treadwell had a large success with "Bingo," and Mrs. N. N. Rosenquest, a most attractive gypsy, did a thriving business at the fortune telling tent. The lovely decorations were by Miss Maurine Davenport.

Youngsters exhausted all their pennies at the whistle, balloon and confetti stand, in charge of Mrs. L. Y. Morris.

One of the most attractive features of the carnival was the waffle stand, where Mrs. John Van Geem, as a real black-face Aunt Jimmie, with head bandana and everything, tossed off hot waffles.

Screen's Newest Star Duo

The nation's movie-going public are hailing the new star team appearing in First National's "Happiness Ahead." It is composed of Dick Powell, of whom you already know plenty, and Josephine Hutchinson, the young lady who leaped to screen stardom from New York's Civic Repertory Theatre. This entertaining comedy with music at the Lyric Theatre midnight Saturday and Monday and Tuesday.

LUCKY AGAIN

Window decorations of a witch and spook with lighted eyes, and in accompanying window, by the exact replica of the South Ward school building and campus, on which the groups of dolls, named for each teacher, were picturesquely arranged by Misses W. B. Collie and Earl Bender.

Johnny Hart and L. A. Horn, ballyhoo men for the carnival, certainly knew their okra, and cried the attractions of the vaudeville to 20 children in tap dancing and acrobatic stunts. A real Mae West, in paint, corset, and bustle, was put on by Virgil Seaberry Jr., who also gave an imitation of Bing Crosby, in "She's Way Up There, I'm Way Down Here."

This booth was managed by Misses Lucile Brogdon and Lillian Smith.

The Chamber of Horrors had a willowy, wily, snake charmer, Earl Francis, in short gauze petticoat, and decollete, who caressed the snakes, wiggly affairs with red flannel tongues and bead rattles.

The "barker," Judge Clyde L. Garrett, in "soup and fish," tall silk hat, red and white polka dot vest and tie, was the real thing.

The "horror" feature was arranged by Mrs. Lewis Pitzer.

Something like 350 people visited the carnival, of which the gross receipts were $100.

Speakership War Expected In House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—A bitter party battle over the speakership of the next house of representatives faces democratic congressmen right after the November election.

The successor to the late Henry T. Rainey will be chosen at a party caucus just before congress convenes in January.

Leading candidates are House Majority Leader Joseph W. Byrns, Rules Committee Chairman William B. Bankhead, Dem., Alabama, and Interstate Commerce Committee Chairman Sam Rayburn, Dem., Texas.

Half a dozen other members have announced their candidacies and additional entrants are expected after Nov. 6.

Byrns was elected majority leader by one vote over Bankhead in the fight which made Rainey speaker of the 73rd congress. Animosity created in that speakership contest still ról the house.

Representative John McDuffie, Dem., Alabama, was Rainey's chief opponent in last year's fight. He has withdrawn from the race this year, throwing his support to Bankhead.

Figuring in the background of the fight as trading ground for support is the north-south issue. Northern and western democrats are now in congress in greater numbers than for years, they are jealous of southern dominance in important house posts. Most of the committee chairmen are southerners because of seniority.

A possible outcome of the speakership struggle may be elevation of Byrns to the speakership. Bankhead getting the majority leadership, and Representative John O'Connor, Dem., New York, becoming chairman of the powerful rules committee. The latter development would however, be a mere "sop" to northern democratic demands. O'Connor may enter the speakership race.

Representative John W. McCormack, Dem., Massachusetts, has been urged to seek the speakership. He would draw support from eastern democrats.

MANY NEW SCREEN BEAUTIES SEEN IN "HAPPINESS AHEAD"

The call for new faces on the screen is answered by First National Pictures in a big way in "Happiness Ahead," which comes to the Lyric Theatre on Monday.

The leading woman, playing opposite Dick Powell, is Josephine Hutchinson. She is a new-comer to Hollywood. Her previous experience was entirely on the stage. With the New York Civic Repertory theatre, she created many roles including that of "Alice in Wonderland." For several seasons, she has been with Eva Le Gallienne.

Other new faces in the picture are Margaret Carthew, Louise Seidel, Avis St. John, Rosalie Roy and Frances Lee, five beautiful girls of decided talent.

Next in importance to the leading role is the part of Josie, played by Dorothy Dare, formerly of the New York musical comedy stage. Miss Dare is a charming and vivacious girl, who in addition to her acting opportunities in her first picture will sing of the song hits, "All on Account of a Strawberry Sundae."

The picture is a thrilling romance with special musical numbers and pieced with comedy. It is based on the story by Harry Sauber who collaborated on the screen play with Brian Marlow. Other important players in the cast include John Halliday, Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly and Marjorie Gateson. Mervyn LeRoy directed the production.

DeMILLE FILM BREATHE-TAKING IN GRANDUEUR

Cecil B. DeMille, motion picture director, and master of the spectacle, has turned to the pages of history for his newest Paramount film which is entitled "Cleopatra," and which will be shown at the Lyric mid-nite Halloween.

With Claudette Colbert, Warren William and Henry Wilcoxon playing the principal parts, "Cleopatra" brings to the screen all the talent of this pioneer director, who has come up from the beginning of motion pictures, more than 20 years ago, with each new film topping his previous one.

That his metier is the kind of film making shown here is beyond all doubts. In every lavish, glittering DeMille speaks out in bold, clear strokes. "Cleopatra" is indeed the finest thing he has done.

Taking the exciting love affairs of Egypt's glamorous queen for his story basis, DeMille weaves his pattern on a background of Rome and Egypt in all their glory and grandeur. More than 5,000 people appear in the film, which tells in dramatic fashion how Cleopatra and Marc Antony, the Roman leader, linger at love while mighty empires totter about their very feet.

McHUGH AND POWELL SING CATCHY AIR IN "HAPPINESS AHEAD"

That Frank McHugh, the well known screen comic sings a duet with Dick Powell in "Happiness Ahead," the First National production which comes to the Lyric Theatre today, is no surprise to those who remember Frank as a musical comedy star.

It was only five years ago that Frank was putting over humorous song numbers in "Show Girl"

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE

OCCASIONALLY we housekeepers find time to add a course that makes a meal an event even for the cook. A perfect cake with a perfect frosting is something more than a sweet course with which to finish the dinner. It's the expression of the cook's devotion to her art and of her eagerness to give pleasure to others.

A simple, honey mesel finds an ideal dessert in a layer cake. There's a touch of lavishness about a glittering frosted cake that adds glamor to the simplest meal.

When you plan to have a cake dessert, the rest of the dinner should be low in starch and sugar, for a cake is rich in these two properties. Baked or broiled fish, spinach timbales, buttered carrots, fruit salad and layer cake form a well-balanced menu.

A cake is always good for Sunday night lunch, too. Precede it with stuffed tomato salad or tomato aspic ring filled with salad, and coffee and toasted sandwiches.

Ribbon Cake

Here's ribbon cake, a favorite with men: Three cups sifted pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2-3 cup butter or other shortening, 1-2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 3-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon cloves, 1-4 teaspoon mace, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 tablespoon molasses, 1-3 cup finely cut raisins, 1-3 cup finely cut figs.

Sift flour once, measure, add salt and baking powder and sift together three times. Separate yolks from whites of eggs and beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Cream shortening and gradually beat in sugar. Add yolks of eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating when that musical was a Broadway sensation.

The duet which he sings with Powell is a famous topical number called "Massaging Window Panes," and is a metrical tale of what a window washer sees as he goes about his dangerous daily task.

"Happiness Ahead" appeals to those who still believe that variety is the spice of life. This story stars in a Park Avenue drawing room, proceeds to a Chop Suey Parlor, thence to a skating rink, a Lovers' Nook on Riverside Drive and in the meantime introduces a series of thrilling incidents.

Dick Powell has other songs in this thrilling romance as does also Dorothy Dare of the Broadway musical comedy stage. The airs were written by three song writing teams, Wrubel, Dixon, Fain and Kahal and R. and Ruby.

Mervyn LeRoy directed the picture from the screen play by Harry Sauber and Brian Marlow. Josephine Hutchinson has the nine lead while others in the cast include John Halliday, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly and Marjorie Gateson.

A Gypsy newspaper is not being published in Rumania, probably won't brag about home-delivered circulation.
