C. McDonald Urges His Supporters To Vote For Hunter In August Primary

As a Survey of his Followers Is Cause of Choice

By United Press
AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—C. C. McDonald, who was third in the July Democratic primary, today announced a decision to support Tom Hunter for governor in the August primary.

McDonald asked his supporters to advise him of their preference for governor in the August primary on so all might stick together "hold the balance of power," he said.

He said that leaders in the campaign after polling friends, responded and that 1,016 advised him to support Hunter, 31 to support Allred and five to remain neutral.

McDonald said the decision concurs with his own choice.

His supporters come from the "masses," McDonald said, "I only hope for those who toil labor lies in Hunter's election."

KNIFE WOUNDS MAY BE FATAL TO C. HERRING

Carl Herring of the Flatwood community, was taken to an Eastland hospital shortly after noon Monday, thought to be in a very serious condition from knife wounds which he received Saturday night.

Details of the cutting affray were meager, but it was said that the youth was cut while attending a dance in Eastland Saturday night.

Young Herring has been a member of a CCC camp at Stephenville for the past few months and last Saturday night, according to reports, attended a dance in Eastland. During the night he received five knife wounds, which were not at the time considered serious.

After noon Monday he was taken to the hospital at Eastland, though it was not divulged where he had been since Saturday night.

A CCC camp doctor accompanied the boy to the hospital, where it was said, before examination had been completed, that he might be in a serious condition.

The exact details of the affair were not known as CCC authorities were more interested in getting the boy to the hospital. It was said, however, that no arrests had been made Monday.

Expense Accounts Filed By Candidates In Governor's Race

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—Attorney General James V. Allred spent $6,421.13 in his first primary campaign for governor, his third expense report filed with the secretary of state, reveals today.

Tom Hunter, his opponent in the run-off, spent $5,580.49, his report showed.

Clint Small of Amarillo, eliminated in the first election, spent more than either of the successful candidates. His expenses totaled $7,676.56.

O. V. Breese accidentally discovered the gold when he broke a gizzard of a duck raised on Silk creek. He then retrieved another gizzard he had discarded and found other nuggets. The nuggets from both ducks were worth about $1.

A PIPE LINE HEARING WILL START TUESDAY

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—Capt. E. N. Stanley, state railroad commission hot oil sleuth in East Texas, was called to the capitol today to conduct an oil pipe line hearing tomorrow.

Stanley said that for the first time he can "see daylight" in the task of stopping hot oil. "If they don't put me in jail for contempt I think things will be all right," he said. An effort will be made to obtain a contempt order from Federal Judge Randolph Bryant, Stanley has been informed.

"There is practically no over-production now," he said. "The trouble now is from storage oil, which has to be controlled from the transportation angle."

Professor Believes Society Pendulum Swinging Back

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—Dr. Ernest L. Talbert, associate professor of psychology at the University of Cincinnati, believes that society's pendulum is swinging back from the day typified by the "flapper and the jazz hound" toward a more conservative era, he told students here recently in a campus address.

"The social sciences, once a subject for jokes and ridicule, are arising in popular esteem. The generous support given to the courageous and humane social philosophy of President Roosevelt is indicative of collective attitude. Whatever may be the outcome of his efforts, for the time being there is an upturn in the status of social scientists," he said.

Pigeon a Prowler In Deserted Home

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Lights flashed on and weird shadows danced across windows at the home of Jeanette Rosser. Neighbors knowing that no one was home, called police.

"Stick 'em up. You're covered. It's the law," shouted the police.

Wings fluttered at one of the windows and a pigeon, which had entered via the chimney, turning on light by knocking over an electric candlestick, flew out.

There were no arrests.

BREAKS LEG

Broken leg injuries were suffered by Jim Reed of Olden while riding a horse north of Eastland near Morton Valley Sunday. Reports are to effect that the horse and rider fell, the horse falling on Reed.

Treatment was given Reed at the Payne-Lovett hospital in Eastland.

ALLRED FACES HARD RUN-OFF WITH HUNTER

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN.—Attorney General James V. Allred faces a harder run-off campaign in his race for governor than that in which he has just emerged as leader in the first Democratic primary.

The second man in a preliminary primary has won a run-off as frequently as the leader. There seems to be something in human nature that aligns supporters of the losers against the leader.

Strangely enough, Allred, who has been attacked as a radical in past campaigns, becomes the conservative in the pending race. Tom Hunter's proposals are more radical than those of Allred.

Prohibition, which likely would have been the main issue in a run-off between Allred and C. C. McDonald, seems destined to have little part in the runoff between Allred and Hunter. Both are dry.

Both have declared willingness to leave the issue to popular vote.

Should McDonald with the aid of the Governors Ferguson be able to swing the bulk of McDonald's vote to either Allred or Hunter, the result of the Aug. 25 primary would no longer be in doubt. But it is doubtful that any such thing can be accomplished.

Sen. Roy Sanderford, manager of the McDonald campaign, said he does not fear that "ringers" will attempt to influence the decision of McDonald supporters as to whom they should support in the runoff. He has a card index of the "original McDonald men" in each county and indexes of all with whom McDonald headquarters was in correspondence during the first campaign. He said that it is not contemplated that any caucus will be called before a decision between Allred and Hunter is announced.

Should the Ferguson-McDonald forces be able to accomplish their announced purpose and determine the winner in the runoff, very material results might be expected.

They, naturally, would expect a voice in the decision on political plans that go with the governorship. Mrs. Ferguson, in her term as governor, had the opportunity to name one third of the present membership of state boards and commissions. Could the Ferguson and McDonald supporters dictate the naming of another member they would have two thirds, or a majority of the board membership. With the majority of the membership, patronage is available.

The political future of "Farmer Jim" might be helped. He aspires to be National Democratic Committeeman from Texas, on the selection of the state democratic executive committee at its meeting in Houston last March. A declaration in his favor from the state democratic convention in Galveston next September would help. Failing that, silence of the convention on the matter would be to his advantage. State conventions notably are responsive to the will of the party's nominee for governor.

Looking farther into the future there is a reason why Ferguson might desire the election of Allred. The Senatorial term of Morris Sheppard expires in 1937. He will be renominated by his successor nominated in the Texas Democratic primary of 1936. Allred, as governor, might be expected to seek the customary double term, rather than enter the race for senator.

Popular report now is that Rep. Wright Patman, Texarkana, may be a candidate against his fellow townsman, Sheppard. Patman is as dry as Sheppard. With Ferguson in the race on a wet platform and them splitting the dry vote, the prospect would not be dark for the Former Governor to close his tempestuous political career with a crowning victory.

Communists Parade In "No Man's Land" Today In The "Battle Of New Orleans"

That thing that happened at the penitentiary in the escape break, involving "death house" inmates, and the confession of guard James A. Patterson stumps us for comment. The public will just have to form their own conclusions, which we believe will be almost identical with each other. It proves that judging human nature is impossible. It is just a question of taking a chance in any instance, no one can tell what the other will do under circumstances. High class men have been known to become derelicts, and derelicts have been known to stage a come-back, so there it is. Life is a mixture of enigmas, and full of surprises, both pleasant and unpleasant. Keeping everlastingly busy with something of interest to the individual is the greatest safeguard against things going "haywire."

To condemn the first minor offense has led lots of men and women of the path of righteousness. We can only continue to follow in His steps when He said, "Forgive them for they know not what they do." To be firm and yet temper justice with mercy, has kept many a man and woman above the clouds of despair and degeneracy. Someone evidently failed to be his brother's keeper, but what that happens and the violator gets beyond the point of tempering anything, then something has to be done about it. Thus Mr. Patterson and those whom he befriended for money, seem to be beyond any attempt of even justice, and the public has a right to demand the extreme course to take for protection, of their home and business life.

Convict Fights Sterilization

Oklahoma's law for sterilization of habitual criminals is challenged by George Winkler, 29, above, third term in state prison at McAlester, in a test case that will be fought through high courts. COMMISSION MAY DICTATE NRA POLICIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Fresh from victory in arbitrating the Chicago stock yards strike, recovery administration Hugh Johnson is expected to plunge actively into the problems of a new NRA administrative setup when he returns from his vacation tomorrow.

When President Roosevelt returns later this week Johnson may discuss at the White House his proposed plan for an extensive reorganization, which appears to hinge upon setting up a commission.

Before leaving Washington, Johnson laid before the president various plans and told him he believed code administration was more than a "one man job." If the president sets up a board to guide NRA it is considered almost certain that Johnson will remain to direct drafting of proposed permanent NRA legislation to go to congress next winter.

Pardon Is Granted Another Prisoner

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—Robert Barnard, serving 30 years for burglary and theft, receiving and concealing stolen property from Freestone and Palo Pinto counties, was conditionally pardoned today by Governor Ferguson. He was convicted in July, 1934.

Police Forced to Prevent Disorder On "Battle Front"

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6.—Communists gathered for a demonstration in "no man's land" today and nearly brought a crisis in the prospective battle between Sen. Huey P. Long's state militia and Mayor Walmsley's police.

Given a permit to demonstrate the Communists choose Lafayette street, which separates fortified city hall and the barricaded Soule building quarters for the troops.

If the demonstrators became unruly it would be up to police to disperse them with tear gas. However, guns shot from the city hall would have to be aimed at the soldiers who are standing by with rifles, machine guns and hand grenades within reach.

Police saw the situation. By crossing the street and taking a stand along side the Soule building, thus giving the appearance of shielding their enemies, the soldiers.

The Communists protested the strife between the two political factions "while good people are starving."

700 TEXANS SHOT TO DEATH IN A SINGLE YEAR

Law enforcement has been the slogan since the very beginning of the campaign for the nomination of candidates for major and minor offices. This should be placed in the record for the edification as well as the information of all the people: "Texas crime toll, measured in the number of homicides, reached an all time high last year. Those who died at the hands of others in 1933 totaled 982, the highest number ever recorded by the Texas bureau of vital statistics. Sixteen of each 1000 people of Texas died in that fashion last year."

Homicides have gained in number during eight of the past 10 years. Five times as many people were homicidal victims in Texas last year than in 1923. December was the worst month for Texas killing. During the past 10 years an average of more than 59 were killed in that month. Why not law enforcement? Why not the organization of a state police? Why not an amalgamation of all the units or agencies of law enforcement? Why not legislation that will tend to make life sacred and property secure in Texas? Why not higher salaries for penitentiary guards? Why not an increase in the number of guards to promote vigilance in order that desperate characters incarcerated may be kept where they belong until their term shall have expired?

A New Deal along many lines in Texas is necessary. Lawmakers elected in November must face the issue. They must sweep aside antiquated methods and systems and make way for the coming of the New Deal in governmental affairs in state and district and county and municipality.

FEDERAL JUDGE KENNERLY UPHOLDS SOUR GAS LAW

Federal Judge Thomas M. Kennerly of Houston has upheld the constitutionality of the sour gas law which permits the stripping of natural gas for its gasoline content. In handing down the opinion the judge sustained motions of dismissal in six suits filed in the federal court at Amarillo last spring attacking the constitutionality of the stripping law. He also held that the state railroad commission had the authority to grant shipping permits.

The Kennerly opinion upheld the rights of the state, the power of the legislature to enact the stripping law and the authority of the state railroad commission to grant permits to the so-called strippers. All of which is a source of gratification to the millions of Texans who believe that the people of a sovereign commonwealth should have the exclusive right not only to control but to conserve the mineral wealth and all other natural resources of the Lone Star commonwealth.

Cotton men explained the loss of business this season in comparison to last season by pointing to the international trade situation, which was seriously handicapped by internal troubles of countries which usually are good customers.

Louisiana national guardsmen are shown here as they entered the New Orleans vote registration office, seizing the registry rolls, in the war declared by Gov. O. K. Allen and Senator Huey Long on Mayor T. Semmes Walmley. With martial law in the city, the mayor enlisted an army of 400 policemen to guard city hall and to repel further militia attacks. Both parties hurl charges of political plotting.

Secretary of State Has a Big Job After An Election

AUSTIN, Tex.—Secretary of State W. Health's office has looked like a newspaper office since election day.

A new law requires the Secretary of State to tabulate returns on primary elections—a duty formerly left to the party executive committee.

To comply with the law, he has had to prepare huge sheets upon which to enter the vote by counties on races for nomination for district or state offices.

Several large flat-top desks are required to hold the tabulation sheets. The procedure of tabulation is practically the same as that used in daily newspaper offices prior to the time that the Texas Election Bureau was organized to compile returns.

Complete county returns only are tabulated in the secretary of state's office, which simplified the work.

A Philadelphia scientist has devised a saliva test to discover whether a race horse has been doped. An easier way would be to bet on the horse.

Southeast Texas Cattle May Starve

BEAUMONT.—Death by gradual starvation to thousands of head of cattle in five counties of Southeast Texas unless they are moved shortly was forecast by cattlemen in this vicinity.

Seriousness of the situation was increased when more than 200 square miles of coastal land was covered by salt spray or water during the recent gulf storm.

Grass has almost entirely killed, or made unfit for grazing.

Already the pastures were damaged seriously by drought. Vast areas were burned out.

Flooding the pastures with salt water has only aggravated the situation which was bad to begin with, farmers and cattlemen reported.

To market the cattle would only add to the many troubles cattlemen are now experiencing.

Most cattle are under weight and probably would not bring enough at present prices for the cattlemen to break even.

At the same time, it was pointed out, to send so many thousands of head of cattle to the packing plants would only flood what market there was and further reduce the price.

Federal authorities have been asked to include Jefferson, Chambers, Liberty, Horton and Orange counties with those to which aid will be given in connection with the emergency drought relief program.

The storm, which was accompanied by a tidal wave, left thousands of pools as breeding places for mosquitoes, another factor that enters into the situation.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

AT THE POLES, THE MOON IS ABOVE THE HORIZON FOR TWO WEEKS AT EACH APPEARANCE. BETWEEN TIMES IT REMAINS BELOW THE HORIZON FOR A LIKE PERIOD.

DURING the dark period known as winter, full moon occurs at the poles when the moon is above the horizon, and new moon when it is below the horizon. During the summer months the conditions are just the opposite.

The Search for VALUE

THE gold or silver miner does much work before his mine is on a paying basis. That's "development work." He carries on in the hope that soon he will come to the pay-streak and will have his reward.

Compare this miner to your reading of the advertisements. Not every thing you read is of vital interest to you at the moment. But many thousands of others are reading. One finds a well-recommended suit or dress at an attractive price. That's a pay streak for him. Another rejoices to find a sales announcement of dry goods, groceries or furniture. Another wants the latest automobile or radio, and is mightily pleased to find the advertisement that tells all about it.

The advertisements carried in this newspaper are helpful to the business of living. They tell of equipment, appliances, things for personal and household needs. Take a note of the things you now have in regular use. What first called them to your attention? It's likely that you first read about them in an advertisement. Other good values await your choosing in the advertisements in this issue.
