Dust being stirred up every afternoon at 4 and after at Connellee park—when it settles or is blown away by gusts of wind—one section, the "Chili" Obery were among the spectators. Though the team as a whole measures up as a tight aggregation, they should develop shiftness by their lightness and bolstered by the five lettermen, Frost, Garrison, Bagley, Tully and Cook, there is no reason they can't make a niche in Oil Belt football this year.

AMATEUR PILOT KILLED IN FALL FROM A PLANE

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 11.—Herschel Johnson, 30, amateur pilot, was killed today when he jumped from his stunting plane at an altitude of 300 feet and failed to pull the rip cord of his parachute. The plane swooped to the ground and was only slightly damaged.

Observers said the pilot had been practicing a series of spins and that they believed he thought the plane was out of control when he decided to jump. They said it appeared that Johnson either was too excited to pull the rip cord or that he was struck by the spinning plane and knocked unconscious. The plane landed almost level and had he remained with the craft it was believed he would not have been hurt.

Interest has been manifest by teachers of Eastland, Carbon, Olden and Morton Valley in taking study towards degrees from Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Hardin-Simmons professor, Abilene, who may instruct weekly in Eastland, W. P. Palm, Eastland high school principal, said Tuesday. Union Leaders of Strike Warn They Seek no Violence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Union leaders warned today that beginning tomorrow they would refuse to accept responsibility for further violence in the textile strike which has brought troops out in five states. "Violence is worst today that it has been before and it is going to get worse," Chairman Francis J. Gorman said. "If it continues after tonight, that is not our fault. We have made our peace proposal."

The proposal called for closing all mills while President Roosevelt's board mediates the strike.

ENGINEER OF MORRO CASTLE TELLS OF FIRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The story of destruction of the Morro Castle was unfolded at an inquiry today with testimony of men driven by smoke and fire from their posts in the liners' engine-rooms. Eben S. Abbott, chief engineer of the ship which was destroyed with loss of at least 137 lives, was the first called today by D. N. Hoover, conducting the inquiry for the commerce department. The United States attorney's office also took the investigation before a federal grand jury.

A lifeboat put out from the burning ship with only two passengers among the 32 persons aboard, Abbott testified. "There were no other passengers around," he said. "What effort was made to get any passengers?" he was asked. "There were no more to be seen and the wind forced the boat away," Abbott replied.

Evidence disclosed startling charges of incendiarism and inefficiency on the part of the crew. Federal District Attorney Martin Conboy was so impressed by the testimony that he ordered a grand jury investigation. The jury will try to discover the origin of the mysterious blaze and will seek the answer to the question of why a large percentage of the crew in proportion to the passengers were saved and if the crew made efforts to get passengers off in lifeboats.

Sanitation Project Underway in County

Thirty-one persons in Eastland county have received employment in the county sanitation project which started Friday for nine weeks duration, under the supervision of the state and national departments of health, J. G. Reagan of Cisco, county foreman, stated Tuesday. Persons who desire construction of the type the department concerns itself with have been advised by the director to send their applications in early as the rule of first come, first served applies.

BOBBIT ASKS DEMOCRATS IN VOTE ON LIQUOR

Opposition to Several Measures Looms At Convention At Galveston.

GALVESTON, Sept. 11.—A demand for submission of prohibition promptly to the voters of Texas was made in the keynote speech of R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, at the state democratic convention here today. Bobbitt made the speech as temporary chairman of the convention. "Our party is a liberal party, believing on fundamental principles of local self government and state rights and we are going to stand for those principles," he said. "The people of Texas are more interested in bread than they are booze. They are more concerned in hogs and hominy than they are in hooch and horsingoring."

"They are more interested in the wide and just safeguards around the homes and the schools than they are in boxing arenas, pool halls or any scheme of so-called legalized gambling."

"Let us promptly submit the question to the voters and then as honest democrats who believe in the majority rule, abide by the results. A number of disagreements appeared in prospect. Tom Love, Dallas dry, was ready to fight submission. A proposed plank condemning horserace betting also may cause a scrap. Selection of Jim Kilday of Houston as permanent chairman may be fought by the delegation from his own county, though Tom Connally, who was opposed to his selection, has said he will not fight Kilday."

ANOTHER TEXAN GIVEN AN IMPORTANT POST

Another Texan has been given an important post. George C. Hester, state representative from the 83rd district, and head of the department of history and government at the Southwestern university for a number of years, has been called to Washington to serve as a member of the federal power commission.

This is certainly a most important assignment. Texas is on the brink of a mighty river power development and control. There is the Buchanan dam project which concerns all the people from the very source of the Colorado river to the lower coastal regions where its waters flow into the Gulf of Mexico.

Some people seem to agree with a lot of members of the Brain Trust that we will soon be living in an Utopia with little work for everyone, high pay, and plenty of leisure in which to spend it.

There is nothing undignified in manual labor, but it would be difficult to convince the rising generation on this point. Most of them have been educated to believe that a clerkship in some store or office is infinitely preferable to any task which entails shedding the coat and earning a living by the sweat of the brow.

governors, exercising power over the National Guards of their states than has been done over the federal troops "called out the guard" at various times within the year.

It is the governor's power to call the National Guard into service, according to Henry E. C. Smith, an article in the current issue of the magazine, "Today," which said that the call is made most frequently to intervene in strikes, recently the case in California, Minnesota, Alabama, and Wisconsin. But it has been summoned for other tasks: To protect families, to hunt desperadoes, to patrol summer camps of wealthy children, to protect public property, to enforce laws, to seize voting lists, to enforce the authority of a governor whose right is questioned (North Dakota), to enforce the federal government's $35,000,000 program to provide equipment, rent and payrolls and summer camps, the War Department almost no power over the units. Thus, when obstructed that use of the National Guard to seize voting lists in Louisiana was beyond its power, the War Department has acted even had it to the article said.

The National Guard in Louisiana has resulted in bloodshed. Industrial community strikers welcomed the National Guard after two of their number were killed. The guards-manned machine guns in the strike zone.

There — in San Francisco, Toledo and Portland — the presence of guardsmen in the strike zone led to the use of firearms and bayonets and nauseating gas.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOOTS RAEBURN, IN MARRIAGE WITH DENIS, handsome swimming instructor, because she doesn't want to face her parents' disappointment or leaving she has been snubbed by the younger set of Larchneck, fashionable New York suburb.

Russ goes to Miami, promising to send for Boots later. She gets a job in a big department store and takes a tiny room in Greenwich Village. She becomes ill with influenza and is befriended by DENIS' FRENCH KAY, young author. Kenway sees that Boots has a doctor and nurse and begs her not to worry about expense.

After she recovers he invites her to tea at his apartment. There she meets beautiful RAY CHILLINGFORD who has a possessive manner toward Denis.

Just before her illness Boots received a telegram telling her Russ had been killed in a motorboat accident.

On Christmas Day she dines with EDWARD VAN SCIVER, one of Denis' friends.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX

THE long, cold, dreary winter dragged on. And presently there dawned a day when the light was golden instead of gray, and white clouds scudded across the surface of a sky of heaven's own blue. And there was the feeling of spring in the air.

Boots had seen Isabel twice, during the winter. She was starved for news of her own people. When Isabel had greeted her, enthusiastically, one day across the counter. Boots had been quite simply glad to see her. She had made no pretenses, offered no explanations, for her being in Lucy's. Isabel had said something haltingly about being "terribly sorry" to hear about Russ's death. Boots had thanked her simply. Even now, when she heard his name and people spoke of his going, it didn't seem quite real. It was all part of an old dream.

Isabel had brought her news of the younger set in Larchneck. Sylvia, Isabel contributed, had been home for Christmas vacation, "looking stunning" in a mink coat. ("But imagine," Isabel had interposed, "imagine mink on a girl her age!") And somehow this particular comment had made the old days seem very far away, the old struggles and heartaches unreal. Boots felt she had grown up. She was living a real life now. The big question of whether to spend 20 cents or a quarter for lunch, the saving for a new pair of shoes, the efforts to send one's sales totals up so that the end of the week brought approbation, or better still, a raise in one's pay envelope—all these were real. The other matters, parties at the Ritz, diamond wrist watches, silver fox scarves and tap dancing lessons, were so much embroidery. Nice but relatively unimportant.

Isabel herself, though sweet and friendly and confiding as ever, seemed very young, very frivolous to Boots now. But she brought news of her mother, and that was important. Mrs. Raeburn, Isabel reported, was well. "She misses you dreadfully still. Why don't you go up and see her?"

Boots shook her head, considering. No, she would not go until they sent for her. It was not stubbornness that held her back but pride. Her mother was well—was going about. She must be happy. It was enough to know that. Later—much later—she would see her.

AND now spring had come to a waiting world. Last spring she had been so careless, so unawake now, in the span of a single year.

Rebekah Lodge, 8 p. m., I. O. O. F. hall.

Prayer meeting, 8 p. m., at all churches.

Booster Bible Class
Judge W. P. Leslie brought a fine lesson on the study of Hezekiah, held up before posterity as an example of Godly leadership.

The study in character leading was forceful. The morning session was opened by their president, Mrs. Ed F. Willman, and the assembly song service, "Take My Life and Let It Be," and "He Ledeth Me" led by Mrs. Edward Everett with Mrs. W. W. Kelly as pianist, was closed with prayer offered by Mrs. I. N. Griffin.

Dr. Hob Gray, one of the instructors of the University of Texas, and at one time a teacher of the Booster class, was an honored guest. Dr. Gray presented an interesting talk and closed the session with prayer. Present: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Willman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lemmert, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Geem, Jr., and Mrs. W. W. Kelly.

Home-Makers Class
The Home Makers class of the Baptist church had their Sunday morning session opened by Mrs. S. D. Phillips, president. New officers were elected for the year in Mrs. W. P. Palm, president; Mrs. E. E. Layton, first vice president; Mrs. W. M. Sherrill, second vice president; Mrs. Artie Liles, third vice president; Mrs. S. C. Walker, fourth vice president; Mrs. S. D. Phillips, secretary and reporter. These officers take effect the first of October and for one year's service.

Announcement was made that the retiring officers will entertain the incoming officers with luncheon, 1 p. m., Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Ray Lerner, class teacher.

Mrs. Lerner brought a fine study of Hezekiah, based on the theme "Godly Leaders in Civic Life," and from the 30th chapter of second Chronicles. High lights brought out that Hezekiah fought for religious reform. That while he was a great statesman, poet and engineer, he was a greater religious reformer, even though he was the son of one of the most wicked kings (Ahab), of that time. His moral training was due to his mother and his associates, Isaiah, the prophet, having had a great influence on his life. The thought was stressed that it is the mother's training and the associates that count in the life of the growing child. The golden text for the day was "God Is Gracious and Merciful."

A "Prune Deal" Rules Idahoans
BOISE, Idaho.—The New Deal has brought a "prune deal" to Idaho this year, according to Henry McBirney, president of the Prune Growers' association.

Marketing regulations now in effect establish the following prices below which no prunes can be sold by local dealers:

$.325 on suitcases.
.375 on fabled lugs.
.575 on jumble half bushels.
.625 on fabled half bushels.
.675 on four-basket crates.

The local Idaho dealer and shipper is tied hand and foot to maintain this market for the grower, McBirney said, and it is up to the grower to see that it is lived up to. If the grower sells at a lower price to outside sources, he can make it possible for some organization to wreck the entire set-up.

A man has been found who remembers Dr. Wirt, but he couldn't explain why, except that he has a good memory for the most obscure facts.

KERRVILLE.—Frontier relics donated by early settlers became so numerous that the size of a pioneer museum which receives about 1,000 visitors a month at Bandera, 25 miles south of here, had to be doubled in size. M. J. Hunter, newspaper publisher, maintains the museum, which he established with funds raised from the sale of his books on early Texas characters and from donations. The museum building is made of native stone.
