ON TEXAS FARMS

Planting cowpeas, terracing, and crop rotation enabled Byron Scott, Rains county farmer, to produce eight 600 pound bales of cotton on 12 acres even in a drought year, according to Roy King, farm demonstration agent, under whose guidance Mr. Scott carries on his soil rebuilding, moisture and conservation program.

Drouth may have affected some people's food supplies but the members of the Greenville, Prairie Hill, and Latium home demonstration clubs in Washington county reported 9,165 containers of fruits and fruit juices, vegetables, meats, pickles, jams, jellies and preserves on their pantry shelves and fall vegetables yet to can.

As a part of their clothing work 250 home demonstration club women in Cherokee county report that they have made 165 founding patterns and by them made 225 dresses and slips; built 25 new clothes closets and remodeled 100; made four sleeve pressing boards and two shoe racks.

Pooling and planting more than 100 acres of cabbage for carlot shipment, 114 members of the Galveston County Truck Growers' association are doing their bit to supply the country with green food this winter. Copenhagen Market and Golden Acre are the varieties being planted. A Kansas City firm has bargained for the output.

BEEVILLE—Fifty-two varieties of canned food, totaling 1010 containers can be found in the 4-H pantry of Vera Ray, farm food supply demonstrator of the Clearview Home Demonstration Club in Bee county, according to Miss Lorena Yates, home demonstration agent. There are eight varieties of vegetables, seven of meats, nine of fruits and fruit juices, tomatoes and tomato juice, preserves and jellies, vegetables and fruit pickles, relishes, and three varieties of time-saving or emergency canned foods.

The value of her pantry is approximately $200. The cost, including the purchase of lumber for shelves, 350 tin cans, eight dozen jars, four dozen bottles, fruit for canning, and other items, was $28.25.

VICTORIA—A cedar lined closet costing $6.20 was displayed by Mrs. A. V. Pargac, wardrobe demonstrator in Victoria county, to achievement day visitors recently, according to Mrs. Girtha Vest, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Pargac feels that the closet will be very practical as it protects clothes from silver fish and moths which are so destructive.

GILMER—Mrs. Espin Spier, yard demonstrator in Upshur county, believes in rooting her own cuttings for her yard and now has 153 living in her cutting bed, according to Miss Lula M. Dilworth, home demonstration agent. Included among her cuttings are amur privet, abelia, salt cedar, moor orange, wax leaf ligustrum, cepe jasmine, vitex, and juniper. She has about 20 native shrubs in her yard this year and has made other improvements.

BRADY—In spite of the fact that drouth has cut grain and feed crops to practically nothing, 15 McCulloch county 4-H club boys have a total of 59 club calves on feed, according to James D. Prewit, farm demonstration agent. One club carlot is being fed by Richard Winters of Brady. These 40 young calves were started about the middle of August at which time they averaged 323 pounds each. Drouth conditions had started them considerably, but they are showing a fast recovery on a good self feeder filled with whole oats and a mixture of maize, corn, and cotton seed meal.

PORT LAVACA—Arch McDonald of Calhoun county decided that trench silos provided the best method of saving his grain sorghum, and so he has just finished his second trench silo this year, according to B. L. Herndon, farm demonstration agent. His first one was 130 by 10 by 7 feet and the second is about half this size. Both silos were built and filled at a total cost of $100.

FALPURIAS—The value of proving dairy sires has been shown again by Elmer J. Rupp, Brooks county dairyman, with Sophie's Agnes, Laddie's 27th, according to Louis Franke, farm demonstration agent. This sire, once a member of the famous Lasater dairy herd, has been sold and resold several times by dairymen of this locality, and each time discarded as unsatisfactory. The figures of the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry show that the eight daughters of this sire in the herd of Mr. Rupp will average 377 pounds of butter fat a year as compared with the 285 pounds average of their dams. A 24.2 per cent increase in milk production and a 32.2 per cent butterfat increase was indicated. This record stamps the unwanted Sophie's Agnes' Laddie 27th as an

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE

HALLOWEEN with its ghosts and goblins and its tradition of ghouly is the ideal occasion for a party, and an easy party, moreover, for supper served cafeteria style is entirely in keeping with the spirit of the whole idea.

The dining table stretched to its limit, or two long tables placed counter-fashion near a wall in the dining room, may be arranged with the food and the necessary china and silver. Trays, for each guest are piled at one end of the table. Next to the trays is a pile of napkins—paper, probably—each wrapped around the required silver. If you like, you may tie each napkin with a bow and tiny favor, or if bridge or other games requiring tallies are to be played, the tallies may be tied around the napkin. Small plates are scattered through the living rooms to serve as supper and bridge tables.

Self-service
The host may carve and serve the meat and the hostess pour the coffee as the guests help themselves. Arrange the salad on individual plates—bread and butter size rather than salad—on, even better, it may be put on a large platter from which each person serves himself on his supper plate. The dessert, unless it's the meringue, can be placed right on the serving table to be taken with the rest of the menu, or the guests may return to the serving table for it after the first course is finished.

Jack o' Lantern Pies
Another good Halloween supper menu is built around veal and ham pie of Pickwickian fame. With this you might have squash croquettes, cabbage and orange salad, cheese cups and little Jack o' Lantern pies.

Two tablespoons prepared mustard and two tablespoons prepared horseradish are added to one cup whipped cream to make the witches' slight sauce.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed quince, cereal, cream, ham toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Mock terrapin, onion and orange salad, bread sticks, sponge cake with whipped cream, milk, tea.
DINNER: Individual planked dinners, salad of mixed greens, grape juice, tapioca pudding, milk, coffee.

BENNETT AND MARCH NEW FILM LOVE TEAM

Hollywood's newest and most glamorous romantic team makes its debut in the persons of Constance Bennett and Frederic March in "The Affairs of Cellini,"

When producers Joseph M. Schenck and Darryl F. Zanuck selected this popular pair to co-star they established what promises to become one of those happy Hollywood combinations that are the answer to every producer's prayer.

Pauline Lord, noted stage actress who makes her motion picture debut in Paramount's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," coming Monday to the Arcadia Theatre, has been on the stage for over thirty years, yet never has played an ingenue role.

The stage star flatly rejected a number of offers from various motion picture studios until Paramount asked her to play "Mrs. Wiggs," a part in keeping with her stage roles.

NAVAL MEN PRAISE WORK OF ACTORS IN FILM OF U. S. NAVY

The larch-string is out from now on at the U. S. Naval Training Station in San Diego for Jimmy Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Frank McHugh, Lloyd Bacon and any of the other Warner Bros. troupe who were concerned with the making of "Here Comes The Navy," the production at the Lyric Theatre Monday.

The company spent nearly a week in San Diego, shooting scenes at the Training Station, depicting Cagney and McHugh as a pair of raw recruits being licked into shape for their debut on a U. S. man-o-war.

Gloria Stuart, Dorothy Tree, Willard Robertson are other principals in the cast. The story combines thrills, laughs and romance in a drama of the U. S. Navy, with 3,000 sailors taking part.

Let's Have Confidence All the Way Around

President Roosevelt's suggestion that the bankers regain their confidence in the people of the United States...

We have spent a good deal of time, in the last 18 months, wondering about what this, that, or the other group is going to do.

Will the bankers stand for this? Will the unions do that? Will the industrialists play along on such-and-such a scheme?

Those are the questions we have been asking. Gazing up at the pitiless heavens and receiving no answer, some of us have managed to develop a pretty fair case of the jitters about it all.

The president seems to have suggested the answer.

Government, he reminds us, is simply the fusing of all elements in the nation's life. It is the implement through which the common will becomes effective.

This being the case, it must provide leadership; and the leadership it provides must, in the last analysis, reflect fairly accurately the temper of the great mass of citizens, because when it ceases to do so the citizens invariably get themselves a new government.

Over and above all these questions about what the various groups will do, then, there is the question of the temper of the people generally.

To have confidence in the great majority, therefore, is to have confidence in our future course—and to be dubious about the future is to doubt the good sense, the courage, and the fortitude of the people of the United States.

Nothing has been done in these very trying years to justify such doubts. The plain citizens of the land have behaved with exemplary patience and intelligence under extremely difficult circumstances.

Once we become fully confident that they will go on doing so, we can automatically restore our confidence in the behavior of the various groups into which the people are divided.

Court of Honor

U. R. Ussery presided at the court of honor held last Monday night in Carboon. He was assisted on the court by W. E. Trimble and Edwin Allison. A good number of scouts appeared for advancement, and an attractive and interesting tenderfoot and investiture ceremony preceded the court of honor program. Following the presentation of awards the program consisted of patrol stunts, and games directed by Professor Estes. Indian dances were put on by some scouts from Brownwood. The troop had an excellent display of handicraft work. The troop is led by Scoutmaster F. M. Wood and Assistant Scoutmaster J. V. Thompson. Several citizens present gave testimony of the appreciation of scouting and the efforts put forth by the leaders.

Odie Minatra chairman of the Breckenridge district court of honor, presided at court held at the First Methodist church, where a large number of scouts made application for awards. The highest award made, that of Eagle, went to Alvin Highers of Troop No. 18. It is announced that the next court of honor is to be a public one with a special program.

Good Turns

Scouts of the various troops in Breckenridge took part in activities during the Breckenridge homecoming jubilee, that was held last Friday and Saturday.

Troop Paper

Scoutmaster Henshaw, Troop No. 20, sent a copy of a paper edited by scouts of his troop to this office the other day, which shows what a group of boys can really do when they set out with a real scout spirit to accomplish some objective.

Hikes

At 5:30 Friday evening nine scouts of Troop No. 8, with their assistant scoutmaster, Robert Silverman and junior assistant scoutmaster, Roy Owens, hiked to a camp site on the bayou. The boys gathered wood enough to build a large camp fire, over which their supper was cooked. There was a story hour around the camp fire after the evening meal. At midnight the boys were awakened by Mr. Silverman who had prepared a surprise lunch for them. The next morning after the scouts had cooked and eaten their breakfast, some games and drills were engaged in before camp was broken and the hike to town begun.

Scoutmaster Dan Gill of Troop No. 2 and 11 of his scouts left their troop headquarters at 6:30 Saturday morning on a hike to the city park. Four scouts passed hiking tests during the hike. The noon meal was cooked "imu" style. No-fore hiking back to town the regular weekly meeting of the troop was held.

Appointment

During the regular Thursday night meeting of Troop No. 8, Brownwood, Scout Roy Owens was appointed junior assistant scoutmaster. Also the troop was divided up into patrols. Scout Homer Allen is leader of the Hawk patrol, and Scout Charles Lockwood will lead the Flying Eagle patrol.

Latest test got the U. S. fleet through Panama canal faster than ever before. In other words, the fleet is getting fleetier.

"History of Fashion Important"

Says Orry-Kelly Famous Hollywood Designer in the Fourth of a Series of Personal Interviews.

ORRY-KELLY Designer of Fashions for Warner Bros. Pictures

DOLORES DEL RIO Star of Warner Bros.—First National Pictures

"In order to design successfully for the screen, one must possess the gift of prophecy—he able to foresee the fashions of the future," asserts Orry-Kelly, designer for Warner Bros.—First National Pictures.

Study Human Side "To intelligently dress my characters in the clothes of various periods, it is not enough to glance hurriedly through a book of old sketches and select a garment in the manner one would choose a costume for the Beaux Arts Ball. I must make it my business to thoroughly study the human side of the period, become familiar with the social and economic causes for the fashions and then, guided by this knowledge, proceed to design clothes creatively, putting myself in the place of the dressmaker of the particular period, working from the same inspiration which prompted them to do the things they did.

"In searching for this inspiration through pages of history, it has been particularly interesting to notice how close a relationship there is between clothes and the events of the times. For instance, a French coquette is thrown from her horse. Her hair falls down and she ties it up with the aid of a garter. Soon all women are wearing a head dress called, after her, the 'Fontange.' 'The Merry Widow' in 1908 sent all our smart women into large hats with willow plumes. Hobbie skirts, the vogue in 1910 caused Broadway trolley cars to be redesigned with lower steps to accommodate them.

Heavy Vote Tuesday Of County Urged By A Former Officer

Necessity of Eastland county voters going to the polls Tuesday in order to uphold the county's representation at democratic conventions has been pointed out by those connected with that party.

Party loyalty alone should prompt voters to cast their ballots Tuesday, said a former democratic county chairman, who added that other counties might get a larger representation at conventions if Eastland county does not vote heavily. He said, "Convention representation of the county is based upon the number of votes cast for the democratic nominee for governor at the preceding election."

Texas Corn-Hog Referendum Shows Affirmative Vote

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas corn-hog contract signers voted more than ten to one in favor of a corn-hog program for 1935 and more than three to one in favor of a one-contract-per-farm program for 1936 according to the final figures in the Texas referendum compiled by E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman. The actual vote was 16,343 in favor of the 1935 program and 1,577 against it, while 13,106 favored the one-contract-per-farm and 4,055 opposed it.

Of the non-signers, 787 voted in favor of the 1935 program and 266 voted against it. This was nearly three to one. On question two 736 non-signers voted for it, and 327 voted against it.

In direct contrast with the Texas vote of approval is the vote recorded in Kansas. Fifty-nine counties there favored a 1935 program, but it was vetoed by a heavy negative vote in the eastern one-third of the state. Final results showed 17,429 signers voting in favor of it while 19,985 voted against it. Among the non-signers voting in approximately one-half of the counties, the count was 1-17 for and 4,130 against the program. It is estimated that not more than 30 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots in the referendum. The proposed one-contract-per-farm program was refused by a margin of 23,829 to 11,607 among signers, and 4,008 to 408 among non-signers.

Farmers Anticipate Credit Needs and Make Local Loans

HOUSTON.—Foresighted farmers in all parts of Texas are anticipating their credit needs for the coming growing season and already are making arrangements with their local production credit associations for loans in 1935, according to reports received by Tully C. Garner, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston. The practice of making arrangements before the money actually is needed has many advantages to recommend it, Mr. Garner pointed out, and the associations would like as many farmers as possible to make their applications prior to the crop production season.

Before making application to a production credit association, the prospective borrower should analyze his 1935 plans carefully; how many acres are to be planted to cotton, how many to feed and other crops, how much labor will be necessary and how much money will be needed for tractor costs or feed for workstock. After he has done this, he should be able to estimate accurately just how much money will be required and when he will need each of the installments of his loan.
