HERE OH WHERE HAS MY LITTLE DOG GONE . . . The refrain a song whose words might be changed to "Where oh where does is little horse belong". Roy Bayless, Animal Warden for the City Muleshoe found this little horse wandering loose near the city barn on the highway. Rather than leave it to possibly cause an accident or get injured, he loaded it into his truck which normally carries dogs and attempted to locate the owners Friday.

Over 14 Million Pounds Sunflower Seed In Area

Sunflowers burst into bloom all over the Muleshoe area this year as well as all over the State of Texas and chances are good that more will be planted next year and the years ahead, becoming more and more important to the state's agricultural industry.

The sunflower crop mushroomed to more than 375,000 acres in 1975, compared to only 5,000 a year ago. Weather conditions and lack of knowledge about the crop caused a wide range of yields.

Earl Richards, Muleshoe CoOp Gin said over 14 million pounds were brought to the gin. He pointed out that about 13,000 acres of sunflowers were planted in the Muleshoe trade area alone. Producers who contracted their crop received 15 cents a pound for the seed while the actual market price was nine cents per pound.

Richards said the producers he spoke with were well pleased with the crop and many are planning to plant sunflowers again next year. He said the farmers felt like it was a good crop. A good late crop as well as dry land crop.

Dr. John Bremer, agronomist with the Extension Service advises producers who intend to plant sunflowers next year to plan ahead carefully.

He said, "To grow sunflowers in 1976, farmers need to take a close look at their farming operation in preparation for next season's crop."

Bremer lists a number of items for farmers to consider. "First of all, choose the planting area carefully. Problems can arise when attempting to desiccate sunflowers, so stay away from home sites and cotton fields."

"Do not plant the crop on the same land year after year as this leads to increased disease problems.

"Plant only high quality seed. Only small acreages should be planted by inexperienced growers as there are many

New Char-Swiss Association Formed

An organizational meeting was held at the Holiday Inn in Odessa Saturday November 22 for the purpose of organizing a West Texas Association of Char-Swiss Cattle Breeders. Attending from this area was Benny Splawn and family, and Judge and Mrs. Glen Williams and son, Randy.

The Association was created with an initial membership representing about thirty herds.

Others are expected to join in the near future. A nine man board of directors was elected composed of Hurshel Harding, Farwell, Bob Lokey, Lubbock, Maxine Paul, Levelland, Barron Blair, Plains, Bob Waggoner, Big Spring, Junior Bowden, Eldorado, Kenneth Homer, Eldorado, Benny Splawn and Gwen Splawn president, Junior Bowden, vice president and Gwen Splawn Secretary.

A red carpet sale is planned for March 20, 1976 to be held at the South Park Inn in Lubbock. Only cattle of the very highest quality will be offered at the sale. They must be halter broke, and in show condition.

Prospective offerings will be screened at the Paul Ranch near Seminole December 3 and all but the choice animals will be sifted out. Breeders will then have until March 20 of next year to fit those selected for the sale.

The sale offerings will be made up of cows with calves at side, cows, bred heifers, open heifers, and bulls. This will be a

Gold Star Winners Honored

LUBBOCK--With parents, supporters and special guests looking on Monday night, 38 outstanding 4-H'ers were presented the highest county award offered in the 4-H Club program--the Gold Star.

Award ceremonies, which included a banquet in their honor, were staged at Lubbock's Coronado High School. Twelve member-owned electric cooperatives serving district 2 hosted the event with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, which directs the 4-H program in Texas.

A boy and girl from each of the 20 counties in Extension Service District 2 are eligible to receive this highest county award each year. The award is based on outstanding achievement, leadership and contribution to the county 4-H program.

Speaker for the special occasion was Charles W. Stenholm, general manager of Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc., Stamford, Texas, and past president of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., Austin, Texas.

Master of ceremonies was Mrs. Gail House, Department of Home Economics instructor at Texas Tech University. Mrs. Aubrey W. Russell, District 2 Extension Agent (retired), Lubbock, narrated the presentation of awards, with District Extension Agents Billy C. Gunter (agriculture) and Catherine B. Crawford (home economics) presenting the honors.

Special guests included parents, adult leaders, Extension Service officials, representatives of electric cooperatives and other supporters of the 4-H program.

The event is sponsored annually by the following 12 electric cooperatives: Bailey, Dickens, Lamb, Deaf Smith and Swisher counties, and Lea County, New Mexico. Also, Caprock, Light-house, Lone Wolf, Lyntegar, Midwest and South Plains electric cooperatives.

GOLD STAR WINNERS . . . Bobby Henderson and Alta Ramm of Bailey County were honored at the annual 4-H Club Gold Star Banquet held in Lubbock recently.

Tax Management Meeting Planned

LITTLEFIELD--How to increase profit by reducing taxes is the theme of an income tax management meeting for area producers and other interested citizens at the Lamb County Electric Coop on Hwy. 84 loop - South of Littlefield, on Monday, December 1, at 7:30 p.m., says County Extension Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

Sponsored by Lamb County Program Building Committee the session will include topics on changes in tax laws, how to handle depreciable assets, investment credit, capital gains, deferred payment contracts, advance purchases and other tax management methods.

Marvin O. Sartin, area farm management economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, will lead discussions.

Logsdon says tax conscious producers and businessmen considering year-end income and expense shifts could benefit from this latest information.

"This is an excellent session," says Logsdon, "for those who want to know more about shifting income and expenditures to reduce their taxes. This is a "how to" session, open to the public and there is no admission charge.

The county-wide income tax management meeting is one of a series of such meetings being held in several counties on the South Plains says Logsdon.

Pheasants Need Helping Hand From Farmers

The ring-necked pheasant is a remarkable bird in more ways than one. It is the most colorful gamebird found in Texas. It has been described as having characteristics of other animals, such as sly as a fox, healthy as a horse and as many lives as a cat, when it comes to outsmarting hunters or enduring adverse climatic conditions.

Since its introduction into Texas in 1939, the ring-neck has slowly increased its range and numbers in the Texas panhandle. Eleven counties now have pheasant populations that can be considered moderate and well established. Most sportsmen, and many landowners, in the Texas panhandle would like to see the ring-necked pheasant expand its range and increase its numbers.

A closer look at the pheasant's habitat needs will provide the answers that will enable it to prosper throughout more of the high and south plains areas. Food and cover are the critical habitat needs. Without good food and adequate cover throughout the year, the pheasant cannot prosper.

Being a seed or grain eater, the bird has established itself in the irrigated croplands that have crops, such as small grains, corn, grain sorghum and soybeans as a significant part of the cropping systems. Following the harvest of grain crops, there is abundant grain and seed available to the pheasants and other game birds, such as dove and quail. Soil Conservation Service personnel made a survey of waste grains during the 1975 harvest season. The survey was made in eleven panhandle counties and was made up of 53 samples. Crops sampled were sunflowers, corn, grain sorghum and soybeans. Random samples were collected following harvest and calculations extended to show the average pounds per acre of waste grains available as feed for pheasants or other birds.

The survey revealed that sunflowers averaged 38 pounds of waste grain per acre, grain sorghum 89 pounds per acre, corn 113 pounds per acre and soybeans 138 pounds per acre. Projecting these figures to the total acreages of these crops under irrigation in the Texas panhandle, shows there is ample food for gamebirds on the ground, immediately following harvest. To be beneficial to the

Multiphasic Screening Clinic Scheduled Here

Many persons in Texas, and the rest of the United States, have unknown chronic diseases that may someday become serious problems if not properly diagnosed and treated. An indication of the size of the problem in Texas can be seen in light of statistics released by Social Security officials, in which they estimate that forty six percent (46%) of Americans have one or more chronic conditions.

To provide for early detection of chronic diseases, the 65th

Texas Legislature has appropriated funding for multiphasic screening projects designed to identify persons in whom a potential chronic health problem may exist. When a problem is indicated through screening procedures, the individual is referred to the physician of his choice for diagnosis and treatment. There will be no charges for any of the multiphasic screening tests. However, any diagnostic or treatment charges for services from the private physician will be the responsibility of the patient.

In support of the health system in Bailey County, the Texas Department of Health Resources will conduct Multiphasic Screening Clinics on a regular, ongoing basis, with approximately one hour required for counseling and screening on the first visit. Nurses will establish a permanent file, which can be referred to on subsequent annual check-ups.

FOR THE BIRDS . . . In the Texas Panhandle Crop Residue Management should be "for the birds."

Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Wagon of Canyon spent Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Wagon.

Mrs. H.W. Fillmore from Vichita Falls, a sister of Mrs. B. Smith, their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Smith, from Austin, and a brother, still Smith from San Angelo are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. King Smith and Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith.

Among those who were going to spend Thanksgiving and dinner were Mrs. Kaitsser, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Boydner and Mrs. Guinn. Mrs. Percy and Wilmon also spent Thanksgiving with family.

The ladies of the Muleshoe Church of Christ are urged to attend a holiday coffee Tuesday evening, December 2, from 8:00 to 11:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Mack Wagon, 1722 1 Ave. D.

The coffee is hosted by the day Morning Ladies Class.

during the day and turn them on again at night, illuminating a different area of the home each night.) Turn down the volume on telephones. Leave blinds and drapes partially open.
If you're out for the evening, don't turn out all the house lights leaving only the Christmas tree lit. This advertises that no one is home and that new items are there for the taking.
Avoid telling strangers that no one is home at neighboring houses, and ask your neighbors to do the same for you.

Pheasants..

gamebirds on a long term basis, these waste grains and crop residue must be left on the soil surface through the critical winter months. This can be achieved by residue management practices, such as deferring all tillage practices as long as possible or adopting minimum tillage or no-tillage practices. Chisel or one time discing will leave most of the crop residue and waste grains on or near the soil surface and available as food and winter cover for wildlife.
Proper crop residue management provides other benefits than food and cover for wildlife. It protects the soil from wind erosion, it holds precipitation, in the form of snow, in place for absorption into the soil and it prevents crusting of soils from rains, reducing runoff and allowing better utilization of available moisture.
Corn and grain sorghum residue provides the least soil protection and wildlife cover and therefore annual cover season cover crops, such as rye or winter peas, are required to provide adequate soil protection and wildlife cover.
Leaving fence rows, odd areas, equipment yards, plays and abandoned farmsteads in natural weedy vegetation during the fall and winter months provide excellent cover for non-migratory game birds, such as the pheasant or quail. In the panhandle croplands where the pheasant makes his home, there is very little natural vegetative cover.
Farmers who adopt crop residue management practices that will provide the pheasant with the necessary food and cover throughout the lean winter months will be rewarded with increased pheasant populations throughout the irrigated croplands.

To qualify for the special award, a 4-H'er must be at least 13 years of age, have completed at least three years of club work and be currently active in 4-H.
According to the district agents, the Gold Star Award is intended to stimulate winners through higher achievements and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program.

Bremer said, "the potential for sunflowers remains great as oilseed crops continue to gain in prominence throughout this country. Sunflowers also loom as an alternate crop for cotton growers."

"These basic precautions are set out to protect your property. They simply emphasize that crime is more prevalent during the Christmas season, and that the job of crime control is a combined effort of law enforcement officers and citizen participation. The objective of the crime prevention program of the Muleshoe Police Department is to eliminate the opportunity for crime.
"Each individual can derive personal security from the effort he makes and from knowing that officers are as near as a telephone," Holmes said.

Most projects are for the development of routes previously under county or other local jurisdiction.
Texas' FM/RM system has been called the world's best secondary road network. Under the familiar FM Road Program, the state provides for all the construction and maintenance while counties provide right of way and utility adjustments.
The new Off-Federal System Program will use federal funds on a 70 percent federal-30 percent state basis as provided by the 1974 Federal-Aid Highway Act. The "Off-Federal System" designation refers to routes not on the federal-aid highway system.
In all, the projects provide for 299.8 miles of new FM/RM designation including 203 miles which are rural mail routes. Of the 299.8 miles, 194.2 miles are school bus routes.

City...
During the first quarter of the new fiscal year for the 14-county South Plains Alcoholism Service Workers Project, 395 clients were served, according to Howard Maddera, Executive Director, South Plains Community Action Agency, sponsor of the program.
Maddera said that the Alcoholism Service Workers Project had two major goals. One goal is to answer the cry of the pitiful alcoholic and the other main goal is to present vital life-saving alcoholism prevention and guidance to individuals, organizations, groups of all ethnic backgrounds with a heavy emphasis on the people from indigenous poverty pockets in the 14-county area.
There are an estimated nine-million known alcoholics in the United States. The National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism announced that in each average American High School there are 5 per cent of the students who get drunk once each week and this means that in our own community that five per cent of the High School student body gets drunk 52 times a year! This is a very conservative estimate by NIAAA - and facts prove that the estimate is, in fact, low in schools located in the South Plains Region.
During July, August and September the Alcoholism Service Workers formed a 25 man team of young people to lead other young people ranging in age from 12-18 years in a series of alcoholism prevention sessions. These group leaders were directed by the Alcoholism Service Workers. The young leaders presented programs to over 1,000 young people and had individual contacts with over 500 young people. Meetings were held in Plainview, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Post, Tahoka, Brownfield, Levelland, Ralls, Crosbyton and the Los Tejanos Club on the South Plains College Campus in Levelland.

Scratchboard Drawing Of Canada Geese Wins Contest

A striking India ink scratchboard drawing of a pair of Canada geese and their brood by Alderson Magee of Sharon, Connecticut, won the 1976-77 Duck Stamp competition on October 29 at the Interior Department.

Magee's design will be reproduced on next year's 55 Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp which migratory waterfowl hunters 16 years of age and older are required to purchase. Revenues from the stamp are used to purchase wetland habitat for waterfowl.

Magee is a well known artist whose works have won several other competitions in recent years, although this was his first entry in the Duck Stamp contest. He has had no formal schooling in art and prior to changing careers in 1971 was a full-time commercial pilot and representative for a jet engine manufacturer. Then, after reading about it, he became interested in the scratchboard technique—a meticulous process in which India ink baked on china clay is removed by scratching the surface with engraver's tools. It is one of the most painstaking artistic techniques. No mistakes can be made.

His work won over those of 263 others entrants, a record number for the contest, scoring 49 out of a possible 50 points.

A panel of judges selected for the contest by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Nathaniel P. Reed included William G. Conway, General Director of the New York Zoological Society; Les Line, Editor, Audubon Magazine; Larry Jahn, vice president, Wildlife Management Institute; Guy A. Greenwell, Bird Unit Curator, National Zoological Park; and George Reiger, Senior Editor, National Wildlife Magazine. Although there is no official prize other than a sheet of stamps autographed by the Secretary of the Interior, in recent years the winning design has gained immediate commercial value in the wildlife art and stamp collecting marketplaces. It is not uncommon for the artist to net more than $200,000 for reprint sales.

The competition is the only art contest regularly sponsored by the Federal Government. The colorful stamps constitute the longest running annually issued series of stamps in revenue or postage stamp history. All revenue from the stamps, except the cost of printing and distribution is used to purchase wetland habitat for waterfowl. Since 1934 when Duck Stamps

The Speaker Reports

By Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--When Texans go to the polls Nov. 4 I know they want to know as much about their new constitution as possible.

Most have had the opportunity by this time to read and hear quite a lot about the proposed charter. I have found many have given only partial or false information about many aspects of the document.

For the last two weeks I have made an effort to answer some of the more serious charges and present both sides of each question. I would hope the continuing discussion on these questions will give voters a better perspective when it comes time to ballot.

1. Opponents say granting rights to ex-felons in a new constitution is a sign of permissiveness.

A. In reality, it tightens the strings attached to convicted felons being able to vote. The Legislature recently has authority under article 6, Section 1 of the constitution to set any degree of restrictions it desires, even less stringent than those now imposed.

There is a shift in emphasis in the new constitution. No person convicted of a felony and who is in jail, on parole or on probation can vote. After the debt to society has been completely paid then voting rights are restored, but additional restrictions can be imposed.

The Legislature actually is more restricted in the new constitution in that it cannot allow a convicted felon to vote unless his debt is paid in full.

2. Opponents charge that under the new document the Legislature can abolish the Railroad Commission.

A. Anti-revisionists say this is one of the most 'ridiculous' things about the new constitution. If that's the case then the present constitution is also ridiculous because the commission could be abolished by the Legislature.

Article 16, Section 30 of the present constitution does not present a clear charge for a railroad commission. The present constitution only gives the legislature power to create a commission. It means we could wipe out the commission by passing a law, because what the Legislature has the power to create, it has the power to destroy.

3. Opponents charge local tax equalization boards would be abolished under the new constitution.

A. The only change in the tax equalization board is that the requirement that the county commission serve as a board of equalization would be deleted under the new charter.

The role would remain the same as presently under Article 7206 of the state's statutes. To do away with the equalization board we would have to repeal the law. It would mean that instead of having an equalization board or every taxing organ in the county, that function could be combined under one local board.

4. Opponents are saying special purpose tax districts could proliferate under the new constitution.

A. The only special districts that will be created will be those the people within boundaries of a potential district want to be created. While cities might create districts on their own accord, no taxes could be levied unless the voters specifically approved the tax rate. Any debt that a special district creates must be approved by voters, too, along with the taxes necessary to retire that debt.

5. Opponents are saying a legislative salary commission will mean automatically higher salaries for legislators.

A. A thorough study indicates it would not mean salaries any greater than those the voters themselves want legislators to have.

The nine-member appointed commission would recommend salaries and keep a lid on allowances. Legislators could not approve any salary or allowance above the recommendation of the commission. It could approve a lower figure if it so desired. Legislators' allowances are currently decided strictly by the legislators. Our new document removes this authority from the Legislature and puts it in the hands of the independent salary commission.

Before any salary or allowance hike could be approved, the members of the Legislature who voted for it will have to face a general election. It means if the salary is at a high level, voters will have the opportunity to show their disapproval by voting those legislators out of office and sending to Austin replacements committed to a lower salary level.

6. Opponents of the proposed constitution charge the welfare ceiling would be eliminated and seriously affect the state if the new charter is adopted.

A. This is a furor over very little. The present $80 million "ceiling" applies only to direct assistance grants for needy elderly, blind, disabled and families with dependent children.

Since 1974 the federal government has paid for the three adult categories. The state's only outlay is to assist families with dependent children. That does not begin to approach the ceiling. It is less than half.

In 1969, voters in a constitutional amendment election gave the Legislature authority to change that amendment at any time necessary so no federal funds would be lost. In effect, the ceiling means little.

7. Opponents say the new constitution gives the Legislature more power over our lives and businesses.

A. In the old constitution it specifically delegates law-making authority to the Legislature 330 times. In the new document that authorization is spelled out only 143 times.

The Legislature is going to have considerable power because it is the basic rule-making body in our society. However, there are at least 35 instances where the Legislature has new limitations placed on it that are not in the present constitution.

The new restrictions are imposed here previous experience has indicated that limitations are necessary; and increases authority where experience has shown that flexibility is needed.

8. Opponents are calling the Nov. 4 election an all or nothing election.

A. Voters can vote for or against each proposition on the ballot individually. Voters can pick and choose what they like and discard what they don't.

There are eight propositions on the ballot. All but proposition one contain only one article each. Any of the eight can pass or fail without consequence to the others.

Enochs H.D. Make Gifts For For Nursing Home

The Enochs Home Demonstration club met Tuesday, November 25, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Rose Nichols. Mrs. Zelma Fred, vice-president presided over the meeting. Mrs. Winnie Byars, secretary called the roll and those attending answered with "a meat substitute I have tried." Mrs. Nichols led a discussion about what to make for each of the residents at the Roberts Nursing Home, at Morton. Mrs. Nichols passed out sheets to each with words scrambled of different foods. No one got them all. She passed out a leaflet, "How to go meatless with protein on your side", and expanded on it's content. Several recipes were included for the club members to try. Refreshments were served to the following: Wilma Petree, Winnie Byars, Bonnie Long, Alma Altman, Zelma Fred and the hostess, Rose Nichols. The next meeting will be held December 9, at 6:00 p.m., to make gifts for the Nursing Home. The president hopes each of the members can attend. A gift exchange has been planned. Bring a gift and participate in the fellowship.

Family Building Communication

COLLEGE STATION--Open, honest communication is one tool for improving family relationships. Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, says. "But learning to communicate effectively with loved ones isn't always easy. Difference in values and feelings cause conflict and misunderstanding," she added. Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Name calling, constant criticism, threats and accusations tend to break down effective communication among family members. Instead, concentrate on positive feelings and aspects of the situation. Specifically, state your own ideas and feelings, rather than verbally attacking the other person. Listen--with understanding--to learn other family members' views of the situation before taking action or responding," the specialist advised.

Flags And Independence

Two hundred years ago on December 3, 1775, the first official American flag was raised on board the "Alfred," the flagship of the American navy. It had thirteen red and white stripes and the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew. Since the navy was governed by Congress, the flag was first called Congress Colors; later it was known at different times as the Grand Union Flag and the First Navy Ensign. This flag remained the official colonial banner until it was superseded on June 14, 1777, by the better-known Stars and Stripes.

Although it is difficult to prove, the very act of creating a national symbol was probably an indication that more and more people were accepting the idea of independence as a natural course. The radicalism of men like John Hancock and Samuel Adams did not appear to be as radical as it once did. As events moved more and more rapidly, Americans began to look more to the things that united the colonies rather than to the differences that divided them. In turn, they more realistically assessed those things that divided them from Mother England.

A flag was only a symbol, but with it the Americans were more united. A spark was still needed to convince them that independence was a necessity. One such spark would be forthcoming in a few weeks when the pamphlets of Tom Paine began to appear. Meanwhile, in Spanish Texas the citizens were more concerned with establishing a firm economic base that would guarantee survival. Since Texas was so far from the political center of New Spain and so far from other areas of settlement such as New Mexico, a type of economic activity that could be carried on independently was necessary.

In Texas the Spaniards were determined to develop industries that would provide enough revenue to support the colony's existence. In frontier areas the Spanish always relied on pastoral activities, and Texas was no exception. Because of the natural conditions ranching became the basic feature of economic development.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

Lung Cancer Statistics Reveal Dramatic Rise

Fifty years ago lung cancer was a rare disease. While 3,000 lung cancer deaths were recorded in 1930, today there are 25 times that number says the American Cancer Society.

It is estimated that during this year alone, approximately 91,000 Americans will be stricken with this form of cancer.

According to Dr. Clifton F. Mountain, chief of Thoracic Surgery at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston, "The incidence of lung cancer today is epidemic. Plotted on a graph, lung cancer represents a sharp rising curve with no end in sight."

Concerning drugs, Dr. Mountain says, "As of now, no single drug has shown itself to be highly active in respect to lung cancer. However, there are newer investigational drug agents which may have a higher activity rate with respect to lung cancer."

When surgery techniques seem to have reached their technical limits, the ability to diagnose and identify lung cancer has improved significantly in recent years. "If lung cancer is discovered in an early stage, which we define as a lesion confined totally within one lung, the patient will have a 45-50 percent chance of survival five years after surgery," he explains.

If detection is delayed until the cancer has spread to adjoining lymph nodes, the patient's chances of survival fall dramatically to 18 percent. If initial detection is still further delayed, such that the disease spreads to more distant nodes or to organs outside the chest, the chances of survival are even less.

Whenever a livestock problem strikes that is characterized by sudden onset and severe intestinal and abdominal involvement, with only minor signs of nervous involvement, resulting in weakness, down cattle, and rapid death, arsenic poisoning should be suspected. Consult your local veterinarian for help in treatment of sick animals, autopsy of dead animals, and location of the poison source.

Two of the most promising detection tools at this time are sputum cytology and the flexible fiberoptic bronchoscope. The sputum test, similar to the Pap smear for cervical cancer, allows the doctor to detect malignant cells even before the cancer can be detected by x-ray.

Once malignant cells are detected in the sputum, the fiberoptic bronchoscope, an optical branchchild of Japanese technology, can be used to search the farthest lobes of the lung in search of the pinhead-sized cancer. As an optical probe, the instrument can be inserted into the patient's bronchial tract with the capability to actually turn corners as it moves along the air passages

Health Views

YOUTH IS A FEELING...NOT AN AGE
How old are you? Not in years, but in spirit?
The late comedian, Ed Wynn, in his later years had a formula for staying young. He said that instead of worrying about his actual age and feeling old, he picked some important event in his life and figured his age from that point. In his particular case, the event was his marriage. Therefore, he quoted his age 20 to 30 years younger...and felt the same.
Youth is a feeling, not an age! There are youthful oldsters and old youngsters. So chronological age in itself means nothing.
Whether you are 8 or 80, if you want to stay youthful, your doctor of chiropractic makes the following suggestions:
(1) Keep busy. Too much leisure causes the mind to stagnate and the body to deteriorate.
(2) Have hobbies. Select activities that give you a complete diversion from your regular work.
(3) Maintain friendships. Everyone has a need for the companionship and respect of friends.
(4) Set goals and have ambitions. You are never too old nor too young to plan.
(5) Eat regular, well-balanced meals. Do not overeat. Likewise, avoid crash or fast diets.
(6) Allow yourself "think" time. Don't put yourself on so tight a schedule that you do not have time for yourself.
(7) Keep physically fit. Establish a regular program of moderate exercise.
(8) Maintain good posture. Keep your chest out, stomach in, back straight, and chin up.
(9) Get regular health examinations. Practice preventive care.
Your doctor of chiropractic reminds you that life is precious and well worth preserving. Retain that spirit of youth by maintaining good health.
Somehow
It must be said that the taxpayer is numbered about the fittest. Under the toughest conditions, he manages somehow to survive.

Arsenic Poisoning A Barnyard Danger

inside--arsenic poisoning--
Dr. James Wilson, member of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association Public Information Committee, warns that arsenic poisoning can be a severe, violent killer and is second only to lead as the cause of farm animal poisonings. Due to the severe nature of the disease, dead animals are often the first indication of a problem. When arsenic is the cause, the sources may be: 1) Paris green, a color pigment, used as an insecticide, wormer, slug bait, and formerly used in wall paper coloration. 2) Sodium and potassium arsenite in weed killers, grain dressing, insecticides, wood preservatives, and sheep dips. 3) Lead and calcium arsenates in fruit tree sprays. 4) Residues in foot-rot baths. 5) Cotton defoliants, directly or by wind drift. 6) Cellotex-R type insulation.
Almost every one of these sources can be avoided by proper disposal of their containers. Arsenic residues in such containers do not decompose and will be toxic forever. Another important consideration is that arsenic can kill either by being eaten or by being absorbed through the skin.
Usually in cases of arsenic poisoning, several animals will die suddenly. Others will be down and will die in twelve to twenty-four hours with signs of severe stomach pain. Others will show some or all of the following signs over a period of a few hours to several days. Look for: 1) Slobbering. 2) Abnormal thirst. 3) Grinding teeth. 4) Muscle weakness, staggering and trembling. 5) Severe abdominal pain, repeated standing up and lying down, kicking at their bellies, turning and looking at their flank. 6) Watery and possibly bloody diarrhea. 7) Coma 8) Death.

When an animal that has died of arsenic poisoning is autopsied, the only signs are an intense red inflammation of the abomasum and intestinal tract. The intestinal lining may be in shreds and have free blood in the tract.
If laboratory confirmation is desired, the preferred specimens are urine, liver, and stomach contents which can be obtained by your local veterinarian.
Whenever a livestock problem strikes that is characterized by sudden onset and severe intestinal and abdominal involvement, with only minor signs of nervous involvement, resulting in weakness, down cattle, and rapid death, arsenic poisoning should be suspected. Consult your local veterinarian for help in treatment of sick animals, autopsy of dead animals, and location of the poison source.

Keep Holiday Meals Safe

COLLEGE STATION—Holiday foods can carry food poisoning bacteria,—but simple precautions can prevent food poisoning and ruined holidays. Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Bacteria need the right combination of time, temperature and moisture to grow. When foods remain between 40 and 120 degrees F. for three or four hours, bacteria grow and make the food unsafe to eat.

"And the only way to kill the bacteria is to heat food to 170 degrees F. Freezing doesn't kill the bacteria is to heat food to 170 degrees F. Freezing doesn't kill bacteria, it simply slows growth," the specialist said.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Turning to specific food safety guidelines, she said to thaw the holiday turkey in the refrigerator. Fresh or freshly-thawed turkey should be refrigerated and used within 24 hours.

"When preparing the turkey cook it until done throughout with an internal temperature of 180 degrees F. And if it is to be stuffed, wait until just before placing the bird in the oven to stuff the cavity.

"Good sanitation during food preparation is important to prevent contamination. Make sure hands, utensils and cutting boards are clean when handling turkey and other holiday foods.

Also, keep hands away from mouth, nose, hair or skin infections such as boils, open cuts and sores while working with food," Miss Reasonover reminded.

After the meal is over, don't leave the turkey at room temperature long. Staph germs multiply rapidly between 45 and 115 degrees F.

"If turkey is part of the holiday buffet, use several serving trays, instead of only one to keep the meat from remaining at room temperature too long.

"Bring out a fresh tray frequently to replace that partly used. The turkey stays at the right temperature—and bacteria don't have a chance to grow," food-borne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or days.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mardis of Arlington visited their grandmother, Mrs. Kaltwasser. Also, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kalbas of Farwell.

Mrs. Inez Sanders of Morton, Mrs. Gladys Phillips of Needmore and a son visited their mother, Mrs. Hardin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Head visited their sister-in-law, Miss "Dot" Wilterding, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Carolyn Vaughn and son, Jason and daughter, DeeDee of Friona visited their grandmother, Mrs. Guinn on Saturday. Mrs. Kersey visited her on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Vivian White visited her mother, Mrs. Harris, who had a birthday on Tuesday and gave her a corsage.

Mrs. Williams went home with her son, Roy Williams from Progress, over the weekend.

This article entitled "Life" was given to me by a friend and printed several months ago. Perhaps you haven't read it, or if so, like me, will like reading it again. It is so true of life and living today.

"Life is a smile, a gentle laugh, a hand holding a hand, a kiss on the back of the neck. The smell of roses, a look of love, the peacefulness of walking in a pasture, marveling at God's handiwork, the content of lying beside a mountain stream, watching bluebirds hopping about.

The wonderment and joy you feel at watching your children grow into mature, responsible human beings, the indescribable feelings when you realize they no longer depend on you for their happiness.

They have a life of their own and knowing they stand beside you with their love and selfish consideration wishing only for your happiness; with a life of contentment and security in the years to come, the comfort of knowing you are loved by your friends, and the gratitude you feel because you have so many to love in return.

Life is sharing these moments of peace and tranquility with the one you love always beginning with a smile, a gentle laugh, a hand holding a hand, a kiss on the back of the neck, the smell of roses and his extra special look of love.

I think this is indeed worth reading again and remembering the truths of each line.

Brent and Marthan George of Lubbock spent the weekend with their grandparents, the E.N. McCall's.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Autry and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Autry left early Wednesday morning for Avendale, Ariz., for the funeral service of Leo Short, Thursday morning, at Avendale.

Organizations Will Sponsor Monthly Bingo

There were 25 residents who took pleasure in a rousing afternoon of bingo, at the Nursing Home, Thursday, November 20. The hospital auxiliary sponsored the party, which will be held monthly and will be sponsored by local civic organizations, also.

The auxiliary is working at the present time on their Christmas Card project. The project will furnish the hospital with a photometer for the hospital laboratory. The deadline for the project will be December 16, 1975.

"He Misses One "Has your husband any hobbies?" asked the neighbor.

"No," said Mrs. Tuggle. "He has rheumatiz a good deal, and lives now and then, but he ain't never had no hobbies."

Insulation Cut Heat Costs

COLLEGE STATION—Don't let the high cost of heating a home put you out in the cold this winter. Those high heating bills can be cut way down with a little insulation in the right places, says Dr. Bill Stewart, an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A home that is completely insulated can cost 20 to 50 percent less to heat than an uninsulated one," Stewart points out. "And with a little time, work and initiative, you can do the insulating yourself."

Insulating all ceilings, walls and floors in the home provides the best, most complete protection from cold, says the agricultural engineer with the Texas A&M University System. However, if funds are limited or temperatures don't get extremely cold, the most important thing to insulate is the attic floor of your home.

"This is because warm air rises and the greatest heat loss usually occurs through the ceiling."

If you plan to do the insulating yourself, Stewart recommends using batt type insulation for ease of installation. Loose fill insulation such as mineral wool is difficult to apply uniformly by hand; it should be blown in by machine.

Ceilings of homes in Texas should receive at least six inches of insulation or the equivalent to an "R" value of 22. Walls should be insulated to an "R" value of 13. Additional insulation above these amounts will not be justified unless the home is tightly weatherstripped and storm windows are installed.

"Insulating an existing home should start with the attic," points out the engineer. "Purchase batt type insulation of the proper width. Most ceiling joists are spaced 16 inches apart so you will need 15-inch wide batts. Check your attic first because some homes are built with a 24-inch ceiling joist spacing, in which case the batts need to be 23 inches wide."

Use several 1-inch by 12-inch boards to work on to help prevent putting your foot through a gypsum board ceiling. Place the batts all the way to the outside wall line. However, if there are ventilation openings under the overhang, be sure to leave space for air to move into the attic at the wall line.

In an existing home, there is no need to buy insulation with a vapor barrier on one side, since it will be impossible to install it properly to achieve a good vapor seal. This is only possible in new construction or through major renovation, contends Stewart.

"Insulating walls in a home is difficult and will require considerable time and skill. The most economical method is to have insulation poured or blown into the stud spaces by a skilled insulator. An insulating panel may also be applied over the wall surface," notes the engineer.

Homes with crawl spaces can benefit from insulation between the floor joists. Use a batt type insulation which can be stapled from falling in the event the staples come loose or the covering gives way. Because of mild Texas winters, only four inches of insulation can be justified for beam and pier floors.

In a home with well insulated ceilings and walls, the major source of heat loss will be due to cold air infiltration through cracks. Therefore, Stewart recommends applying weatherstripping around all windows and doors. Also, keep the fireplace damper closed tightly when not in use. For centrally heated homes, try to provide combustion air for the fireplace through a window as near the fireplace as possible to keep heated room air from escaping through the fireplace.

Covering screens with plastic can provide a temporary means of reducing heat loss through windows. When constructing a new home, consider using insulating or double glazed windows," advises the engineer.

"Remember, things you do to save on heating this winter will also aid in reducing summer cooling costs and will make your home more comfortable," says Stewart.

Christmas Parade Of Homes, By Xi Omicron Xi

Annual Event Features Holiday Decor

THE RILEY HOME . . . Shrubbery and trees, sets off the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Riley of 1505 W. Avenue C.

Members of the Xi Omicron Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi are selling tickets, making "goodies," and planning for the Second Annual Christmas Parade of Homes which is expected to be one of the outstanding events of the holiday season in Muleshoe.

The home tour is set for Sunday, December 7, from 1:30 - 4:00 p.m. The homes will be decorated in the Christmas motif by Muleshoe Floral.

The five homes pictured on this page will be shown. The parade will begin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Merritt at 708 W. 20th. Tickets will be collected at the Merritt home and will be used for the drawing for the door prize which will be a Christmas arrangement designed by Muleshoe Floral.

The door piece of the Merritt home is a wreath featuring gold ribbon and fruit. Above the fireplace is a wall piece of two white bells entwined with orange velvet ribbon and surrounded by pine cones and orange berries. The matching piece on the television features a white deer with greenery and orange gingham ribbon.

The door piece at the Cox home, 1907 W. Avenue H, is lighted and displays a jolly Santa Claus accented with flocked greenery, holly, pine cones, red ribbon, and candied apples. The fireplace is a focal point of the Cox home. The lighted mantle arrangement of three red tapers nestled in flocked greenery with holly and red ribbon accented it, is complimented by a Christmas basket of pine cones, greenery, holly, and ribbons, placed on the hearth. The dining table oval candle arrangement is made with hurricane lamps and fruits.

The town houses being shown are those of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Riley at 1505 Avenue C and Mr. and Mrs. John Lowery at 1503 Avenue C.

The door piece of the Riley home is made of yellow cordon puffs, flocked greenery, orange berries, pine cones, and orange velvet ribbon. The dining table arrangement has flocked greenery, pine sprays of beige, centered by three green tapers and accented with brown velvet roping. Placed on the side of the fireplace is a large lighted arrangement including a straw wreath, orange cordon puffs, Christmas ornaments, and a Nativity scene, accented by preveved cedar.

The Lowery home entry features an arrangement of red dried flowers entwined with gold grapes placed on a gold pedestal. The formal arrangement on the dining table is three gold candles nestled among Christmas fruits in shades of orange, gold, and red, with cranberries and flocked greenery, accented by gold ribbon. The elaborate wall piece over the fireplace has pine cones and fruit, surrounding three deer, connected by gold roping and accented with touches of white and gold.

In conclusion of the tour, refreshments will be served in the country home of the Jim Crawfords, located on the West Camp Road. The centerpiece for the refreshment table is a Christmas basket arrangement of greenery and fruit in shades of gold. A matching piece using gold candles decorated the buffet. The fireplace of the Crawford home is elegant with a lighted double wall piece of deer accented with pine cones, flocked greenery, and holly connected by braided red ribbon. A decorated chimney broom is placed on the hearth. The coffee table arrangement matches the wall piece and has two red candles nestled in greenery and pine cones.

Tickets are $2.50 and anyone who would like to join the Christmas Parade of Homes may contact any member of Xi Omicron Xi for tickets. Members are Mrs. John Neil Agee, Mrs. Marcia Henry, Mrs. Max King, Mrs. Joe King, Mrs. Tom Jinks, Mrs. Paul Poyner, Mrs. Charles Pummill, Mrs. Don Rempe, Mrs. Eric Smith, Mrs. Dovee Turner, Mrs. Spencer Tanksley, and Mrs. Curtis Walker. Tickets are also being sold at The Back Door, Muleshoe Floral, and Poyner's Whites.

THE BLUE ROOM . . . Little Andy Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crawford, is really taking in the scenery in this bedroom, which is decorated in blue, accented with hanging plants. The Crawford home is located about 4 miles out on the Clovis Highway and 3½ miles on the West Camo highway.

DEN PROVIDES MUSIC CENTER . . . In the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cox, of 1907 W. Ave. H is the Music center which accents the center of their den.

TOWN HOUSE . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Lowery of 1503 W. Ave. C are standing in their dining room, which is decorated with plants and ready for the Christmas Parade of Homes.

MOTHER'S DOMAIN . . . Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Merritt of 708 West 20, in Muleshoe will begin the Christmas tour in their newhome. The kitchen will be just one portion of the Merritt home, that will be seen during the tour.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—In previous columns, we've discussed problems the average citizen may have when he or she unwittingly writes an occasional check that "bounces" due to insufficient funds. In most such instances, when the problem is discovered, the person makes good the check.

But there are a few individuals who make a living by writing hot checks. These hot check "artists," "paper hangers," or "passers" are a special problem for merchants and banks, although individuals too may be victimized, either directly or indirectly. That's because "passers" increase the cost of doing business, sometimes forcing merchants to raise prices to cover their losses and the cost of tightened security arrangements. Some estimates place the amount of check fraud losses at $1 billion annually.

Lawyers in our Attorney General's Consumer Protection, Law Enforcement, and Crime Prevention divisions all say there is a wide variety of ways a merchant can lose money through bad check transactions. But there are several safeguards that may help merchants foil the professional "paper hanger," too, they add.

The most important one is to require valid identification from check writers. Recommended are Texas driver's licenses, Department of Public Safety-issued I.D. cards, student or service I.D. cards, or two or more major credit cards.

Always check to see that any photo or description matches that of the check-writer. See, too, that the address and signature match that on the check. If a check has spelling errors, messy printing, or a name and address that don't correspond to that of the I.D. card, the check could be counterfeit.

Be cautious if a stranger who is writing a check chats excessively, drops packages, or is in a big hurry. Not all such persons are hot check writers, of course, but it's best to be careful.

You should also always keep checks, checkwriting equipment, bank statements, and cancelled checks in a safe place. A professional "paper hanger" can use any or all of the above to get information about your checkwriting procedures and bank account, then use that information to defraud you.

Our Law Enforcement attorneys and the Texas District and County Attorneys Association note that hot checks now can be prosecuted under two sections of the new Texas Penal Code: (1) interfering with commerce (by issuing a hot check) and (2) theft by check. The first carries a maximum penalty of $200 fine. The second varies in punishment according to the amount stolen. If it's $20 or more but less than $200, maximum punishment is a year in jail and/or a fine not to exceed $2,000. If it's $200 or more but less than $10,000, maximum punishment is two to 10 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000.

In order to prosecute hot check cases successfully under the "thrift by check" section (which most hot check artists fall under), the District and County Attorneys Association cautions merchants that they must be able to identify the individual who wrote the check and to describe the property given. The most practical method of describing property is to note on the check a "reasonable classification," such as groceries, two suits, cash, etc.

And the most practical method of assuring that you will be able to identify a hot check passer in order to prosecute is to check carefully any I.D. with the individual's appearance. Some merchants now also take fingerprints or photographs of checkwriters for assurance of identification. The large majority of honest checkwriters usually are happy to comply with I.D. procedures that help to thwart the professional "paper hanger."

Farm-facts

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

That Time Of Year... Spirit of '76... Stock It To Them.

Several thousand farmers and ranchers will receive a questionnaire during the latter part of this month and the first week or so in December from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

It will be either a crop or livestock questionnaire. If you are one of those receiving the questionnaire, you are requested to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it as promptly as possible.

In this way, you will be doing your part in providing, for Texas agriculture and all of the economy, a true picture of our state's most basic industry - agriculture.

Your cooperation is essential, and today it is even more important than ever before to have accurate agriculture production information on which sound judgments can be made.

THE SPIRIT OF '76 seems to be taking hold of agriculture, too, as it relates to parity.

The latest report on parity for the nation is now 76. It was also 76 as of a month ago; a year ago it was 78. It means that agriculture generally is about three-fourths as well off financially as the rest of the economy.

The all-farm products index of prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers stands at 476. This means a two per cent decline compared to a month ago. The crop index was up, but the livestock index was down.

Only oats, hogs and mohair are above parity levels for agriculture producers. Wheat in Texas averaged $3.95 per bushel; parity is $4.65. A year ago, wheat in Texas sold for $4.76 per bushel.

Grain sorghum averaged $4.46 per hundredweight in Texas; parity is $5.18. A year ago, grain sorghum was selling at $5.82.

Cotton continues to be the big exception in crop prices. Parity for that commodity is 79 cents a pound; the average price in the state is 45 cents per pound; that, however, is up six cents per pound from a month ago and is about the same as a year ago.

Hogs, despite some price declines, continue above parity. Hog prices in Texas average $54.80; this compares with a parity ratio of $48.70. A year ago, hogs in Texas brought only $35.60.

Beef cattle average price is $29.70 compared to $56.20 parity. Calves averaged almost $23 in Texas; parity is almost $70. Sheep and lambs which have been above parity in recent months, are now below that ratio, also.

Mohair at $2.12 is 23 cents a pound above parity. Turkey prices to producers average 35 cents per pound; parity is 47.4 cents.

Egg prices average 60 cents per dozen; parity is 77 cents per dozen.

STOCKS OF THE FOUR FEED GRAINS - corn, oats, barley and sorghum - in Texas are estimated at 29,000,000 bushels, a decrease of 12,000,000 bushels from a year ago.

Corn and grain sorghum were responsible for the decrease. Nationwide, stocks of the four grains are 10 per cent less than a year ago.

Sanders Rites Held Saturday

Mrs. Rosieelle Sanders, 71, died Thursday, November 27, around 9:45 a.m. in the South Plains Hospital in Amherst.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, November 29 at Singleton-Ellis Chapel of the Chimes. B.W. Briggs, minister of the Church of Christ in Amherst officiated and burial was in the Muleshoe Cemetery. Mrs. Sanders had been an Amherst resident for 18 months having moved there from Muleshoe. She was born in Morgan, Tennessee on April 22, 1904, and was a Baptist.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Sutton of Farwell and Mrs. Una Mae Kattner of Waco; a son, Clyde Lee Jones of Yukon, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Ollie Fincher of Gilmer; three brothers, Ernest and Elmer Ryon, both of Sherman, and Jimmy Ryon of Shelbyville, Ind., and five grandchildren.

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world... itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork."

Psalms 19, 1

God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Carrillo Sentenced

District Judge O. P. Carrillo has been sentenced to five years imprisonment, five years probation and a $22,000 fine for filing false income tax returns.

Carrillo still faces impeachment trial by the Senate (now scheduled to begin January 5) and a removal proceeding before ### the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission.

An attorney for Carrillo and his brother, Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo, also sentenced on an income tax violation, said the conviction will be appealed.

AG Opinions

Waste disposal districts have authority to issue bonds for acquisition, construction and repair of disposal systems subject to review by the attorney general, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions, Hill said:

A city may grant automatic rate adjustments to a utility.

Contributions to pay expenses of the Southern Governors Conference in Texas do not have to be reported as campaign or lobby expenditures.

A state university cannot use either appropriated or auxiliary enterprise funds to purchase liability insurance for its administrative officers and regents.

The legislature may constitutionally vest control of the Texas School for the Blind in five members of the State Board of Education.

A lease of federal land to get the purchase price of parking facilities on the site conveys to the lessee no separately taxable real property interest in utilities.

Appointments

Ed Leach of Longview and Jack C. Kellam of Van were named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to the Texas Historical Commission.

Briscoe reappointed San Antonio Mayor Lila Cockrell and Fred N. Pfeiffer of San Antonio to the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The Governor also picked Don Rogers of Austin and Pledger B. Cate Jr. of San Antonio to the Advisory Commission.

Briscoe placed Carl Smith of Flatonia, W. C.

White of San Angelo and John Worsham of Corpus Christi on the Egg Marketing Advisory Board. Other recent appointments by the governor included Carl W. Swenson of Ganado, Hans R. Wittenberg of Edna and Joe Bonnot of Lolita to the Lavaca-Navidad River Authority Board of Directors; Mrs. Katherine M. Birkner of Maxwell to the State Health Advisory Committee and W. Sam Monroe of Port Arthur as Pilot Commissioner for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

Short Snorts

A three-judge federal court in Austin continued an order blocking implementation of Texas, new voter registration law until it is approved by the U. S. Justice Department.

Ernest Angel of Midland, Mrs. William Staff of Dallas and Ray Barnhart of Houston were selected co-chairmen of the Texas Ronald Reagan presidential campaign committee.

A detailed discussion of effects of the new Federal Voting Rights Act on Texas governmental units is scheduled here December 17 under auspices of the House Elections Committee.

Texas has been voted top state for beautification work in the Keep America Beautiful competition.

A record low of 70 new industries settled in Texas during October, but they will have an economic impact of $46 million a year and directly employ 600
