We Learn the Joy of Living Too Late to Taste of It

That Illinois banker who took $56,000 from the till, fled to the Wisconsin woods, and there learned that the simple life has it all over the ordinary rush for worldly goods seems to have made a great discovery in much the way that most of us make it-too late to do himself much good.

He found out, of course, to begin with, that putting his hand in the till had been a tragic mistake for which he would not hope to escape retribution. But that was really among the last of his discoveries-since it is, after all, something that a custodian of other people's money ought to know from the beginning.

What was more important was his discovery that he had been on the wrong track even before he became an embezzler.

He took the money, that is, to play the market. He was going to make a big killing, restore what he had taken, put himself on easy street, and live happily ever after; the act of embezzlement was simply the product of the pressure which a go-getting society put upon a personality that had lost a proper sense of values.

And his big discovery was his realization that even if he had got away with it, it wouldn't have given him what

He learn, that is, that where money is the one yardstick, the effort to build a satisfying life is almost certainly doomed to failure.

And that, after all, is what most of the rest of us are forever finding out; that it is possible to spend so much of our time and energy in making a living that we have none

We take all the force and intelligence God gave us, and apply them to the business of getting ahead-and then, presently, we find ourselves looking wistfuly back on our lives and saying, "Why-is this all there is to it?"

So we dream of what we shall do, some day, when things break just right for us and we retire to that little house in the country; or we use books, or sport, or restless movement of one kind or another, to escape from our subconscious dissatisfaction with modern life.

For we have somehow built up a society which cuts us off from those things that are to be prized above all else -free fellowship with one another, contact with the open earth and sky, solitude, leisure to savor such things as the wind in the leaves or dawn on the empty hills.

And the tragedy of it is that, too, often, we find it out as this banker did-too late to do anything about it.

Clean Out

THE SECOND QUESTICE A DOCTOR ASKS . . .

Here is some information that has relieved whole families from Constipation

When anyone is "out of sorts" the doctor's first question is about the bowels. And the second, what is being taken to help them. Doctors use laxatives, and expect you to use them. But they prefer a liquid laxative. Do you know why?

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives because they've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made fiquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use liquid laxatives to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

What to Use

There is a preparation of fine herbs, There is a preparation of fine herbs, pure pepsin, cascara, and senna which does away with all need of harsh athartics. The active senna in Dr. Cadwell's Syrup Pepsin is laxative enough for any adult, mild enough for any child. And there are other valuable ingredients in this delightful syrup.

Syrup Pepsin will usually relieve a case of constipation overnight. If a further dose is necessary, you give a further dose is necessary, you give a smaller dose, each time less, until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help

My husband, who is a druggist first recommended Dr. Cald well's Syrup Pepsin to me. I has always helped me and made me feel better. I have used it as a laxative for the entire family for 22 years.

"Morning After" Is Not Blamed On Brand of Whisky

By United Press

SAN ANTONIO, Tex .- Don't I h me the brand of whisky if you have a "morning after" headache. It's yourself, no tthe whisky that probably is to blame.

San Antonio, noted as the most wide open city in a dry state. has found that Dr. Warren T. Vaughn of Richmond, Va., knew what he was talking about when he told the Southern Medical Association here about whisky and headaches.

Rye whisky in small quantities might cause a headache for come drinkers who could drink the same amount of Scotch, Irish or corn whisky without ill effect. All, taken to excess, however, produce the hangover as local drinkers agree. Beer, with its light alcoholic content, has headache dangers for those who are supersensitive to barley.

A rich cream of mushroom soup makes a fine satisfying first course. Then comes the salad with corn croquettes, hot buttered rolls, a tray of assorted relishes such as ripe olives and several kinds of stuffed olives, special pickles and preserves, with finally frozen pudding and coffee.

Magnolia Is Now Washing Their Oil

DALLAS .- Fred M. Lege, Jr., vice president and director of sales promotion of the Magnolia Petroleum company, announced today that after long experiment and tests Socony-Vacuum and Magnolia have developed a new method of making motor oils by washing crude petroleum. The new process is very much like the method woman uses to take stains out of labrics. Instead of stains, crude petroicum contains sulphurs, gums sludges, tars that mst be refined out to produce Ibricating oil.

"Two cleaning fluids, or solvents," Mr. Lege explained, "are used in this new method. One is a substance called chrysalic solution. The other is propane, a liquid many degrees below zero. Propane is a gas under compression turns to an icy liquid.

The New WATERLESS WAY

155555555555

While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off tine excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teethbuilding minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking.
