ALLRED URGES REPEAL OF RACE TRACK BILL

ARGUMENTS IN MUNOZ'S TRIAL BEGIN TODAY

By United Press
FLAMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 11.—An impassioned plea for the life of Bruno Hauptmann, his chief counsel, Edward J. Reilly today declared that "disloyalty in the Lindbergh household" was responsible for the kidnaping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

In his address to the jury Reilly directly charged duplicity among the servants of Hopewell Manor and accused, among others, the butler, Oliver Whately, Nursemaid Betty Gow and Miss Gow's sailor son, Henry (Rod) Johnson, with complicity in the plot.

Among his charges were that the now famous "kidnap ladder" used on the estate after the kidnaping was a "state plant" and that it had never been used in the crime.

He ridiculed with all the sarcasm at his command the state's contention a man could have climbed a ladder to the nursery, committed the abduction and descended "after the ladder broke" without arousing the entire household. He pointed to the silence of the Lindbergh's little fox terrier as proof that "no stranger" were about.

Throughout his plea there was a strong emphasis on the fact that the state's case was based on the gamut of sarcasm, innuendo, soft pleading and sober arguments.

Hauptmann had listened stolidly while Prosecutor Anthony Hauck, Jr., demanded his conviction on the charge of murder, but noted with satisfaction that the prosecutor's plea ended without a demand that the jury send him to the electric chair.

Revolt Perils Uruguay Ruler

His government threatened with overthrow, President Gabriel Terra of Uruguay, above, is fighting several rebel groups which are moving toward the capital, Montevideo. A veteran of years of guerrilla warfare, Basilio Munoz, is leading the attack by the insurgents. Terra is serving his second four-year term as president.

that reminds me...

Tomorrow, February 12, commemorates the birth of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln. There will be no exciting celebrations, the day will probably pass off, just as days do. Business will go on as usual, and the Eastland National Bank will open its doors to its customers and not close up for the occasion. After all there is no reason for suspending business for the event. . . . Abraham Lincoln, himself would probably frown on the idea, were he among the living to express his thoughts.

Yet the very fact that the date reminds us of the man, there is every reason to pay him homage in mind, thought and deed as we carry on the day's business or pleasure. Rev. H. W. Bolton, D. D. in days gone by paid Lincoln this tribute: He was compassionate. With what joy he brought liberty to the enslaved. He was forgiving. In this respect he was strikingly suggestive of the Saviour. He was great. Time will but augment the greatness of his name and fame. Perhaps a greater man never lived in this or any other nation. He was good and pure and incorruptible. He was a patriot; he loved his country; he poured out his soul unto death for it. He was human, and thus touched the chord that makes the world akin.

Lincoln's own words . . . will live for all time an utterance that had everything worth-while to it for any nation of peoples. Much more so than are demonstrated under dictatorships, such as are now in power in some of the nations . . . they are "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Just how much of that has been done is a matter of history . . . Those words were uttered some seventy odd years ago. There has been a terrible war since then . . . Then on top of that two depressions . . . all have been measured in dollars and cents. Today the government speaks in terms of multi-billions . . . and the pinnacle has not been reached as yet. We are still in the aggregate slaves to greed. That is one thing that an emancipator has as yet been able to free us from. The road towards the goal is wide and open for some one to tread the way . . . but there are dangerous hazards in the path . . . treacherous obstacles to overcome.

PROPOSED LAW WOULD LEVY A GAS TAXATION

Cite Value of Casinghead Plants and Wells in County.

County commissioners Monday took a stand as being opposed to the proposed tax measure of levying a gross production tax on gas of two cents per million feet to be paid by gas well owners and landowners.

Their attitude was voiced in an order passed by the group in which it was resolved that the legislature be petitioned.

The group, in the order, cited the value of casinghead gasoline plants and stripper wells.

The commissioner's order read, "such a law would be exceedingly harmful to the best interests of the county."

The order in full: Whereas, Eastland county has located therein a large number of casinghead gasoline plants, the aggregate value of which as shown by the ad valorem tax rolls is the sum of $1,765,260.00 and

Whereas, connected with such plants are a large number of small stripper wells, now producing casinghead gas which is being sold to said casinghead plants, the aggregate value of which wells as shown by the ad valorem tax rolls is approximately $1,500,410.00, and

Whereas, we understand that there is a proposal now being considered by a special senate committee on taxation to levy a gross production tax on gas of two cents per million cubic feet to be paid by the owners of the wells and the landowners on whose land the wells are located, and

Whereas, it has been deemed reliable that the two cents per thousand actually exceeds the amount received by well owners and royalty owners for said gas during the year 1934, and if such a tax were levied, it would more than confiscate the entire value of such gas and there would be no further inducement on the part of the owners to produce said wells, leaving nothing else to do but plug the same; and if such wells were plugged, it would result in the complete loss and abandonment of such wells, as well as the plants now devoted to the treating of the gas therefrom, thus causing a very loss of tax revenue to the county, and

Whereas, such a law would thereby be exceedingly harmful to the best interest of this county, Now, therefore, be it resolved, that this court petition the legislature, and especially the senator and representative of this county and district, to vote against any such proposed tax, and to do their utmost to prevent the passage thereof, and that copies of this resolution be furnished each senator and representative, and to the press.

(Signed) Clyde L. Garrett.

Small grain benefitted as rain soaked most of Texas Monday. Every weather station except Amarillo in the Panhandle reported rainfall.

Although no rain was reported in the Panhandle skies were partly cloudy there.

MESSAGE SAYS IS GAMBLING PURE, SIMPLE

Governor Says State Has Suffered Evils In Past Seventeen Months.

AUSTIN, Feb. 11.—Governor Allred in a special message to the legislature today, demanded repeal of the law that permits pari-mutuel betting at race tracks.

"No niceties of language, no hair splitting phraseology, no talk of so-called 'pari-mutuel' or certificate system can disguise the fact that everything permitted under the race track gambling law is gambling, pure and simple," he said.

"During the 17 months since this law was enacted, Texas has witnessed and suffered every evil pointed out by George Washington as attendant upon gambling. The very foundation of morality and character of our people is being undermined by legalized, commercialized and advertised gambling," the governor said.

Our Task Is To Avoid Necessity of Relief

One of the dangers we face in considering any unemployed relief, no matter how it is set up or what benefits it may provide, is in the end only a substitute for something better.

Recent argument over different relief measures seems to have taken it for granted that there is, somewhere, a magic formula which, if we only could find it, would solve this vexing question forever.

It is most important for us not to forget that even the wisest relief bill is only a poultice. Even if every idle worker in the land were drawing ample relief allowances under a scheme which magically prevented the financial load from burdening the taxpayer the real problem would remain. We would still face the task of getting these idle men back to work.

There is going on in Washington now a lengthy argument between proponents of different kinds of relief. One kind is typified by the administration's relief measure, which would operate through state systems and would give jobless men an allowance ranging somewhere around $50 a month.

The other, infinitely broader, is represented by the Lundeen bill, now being discussed before a House subcommittee.

This bill would boldly pay all persons past 18, who are jobless through no fault of their own, a weekly sum equal to the prevailing rates in their locality. Those on part-time work would draw from the government the difference between their part-time wage and the prevailing wage.

Now this bill, naturally enough, is drawing superlatives from each camp. People whose viewpoint is that of the political left are hailing it as a measure which will at last do justice to the unemployed; conservatives, on the other hand, see in it a piece of extravagance which would commit the government to unbearably heavy expenditures and would promote idleness.

What both sides are apt to miss is the fact that our real problem is to arrange things so that no unemployment relief bill will be needed.

The immediate need may be to take care of the jobless, but the long-range need is to get the jobless back to work.

That bill, strictly speaking, is a piece of extra-economic machine is out of gear we plan for a relief bill, the until we have fixed things so that job and not a handout.

Huge red hearts pierced with arrows, adorned the walls here and there and a true "love" seat under an arch of hearts had an opposite seat of "evil" with overhead appropriate quotations concerning bad hearts.

A clever little phantasy was brought during the evening concerning the good or true love seat, and the evil seat.

Various games and contests had awards of wee bottles of perfume, bags of candy hearts with dolls, and a game of blindfold had awards of boxes of Valentine candy for those who successfully pierced the center of a big heart with a thrown arrow.

Winners in this game were Reita Lee Barton, Dolores Hurley, Sarah Maud Cawley, Georgiana Huffman, Marvin Holloway and Quinman Hurley.

Other guests were Martin Jean Lister, Edmond Hurley and Leon White.

Mrs. Little served refreshments of sandwiches, potato flakes, small cakes, candy and fruit punch.

There is a matter before congress, has been before . . . and will always be there until it is paid. That is the soldier bonus. For a while in trying to solve the issue in just a personal opinion, we could see no reason for paying it . . . It looked like extorting something that they were not entitled to. Our final conclusions are that they should be paid. There was a promise and an obligation. It should be dispatched. As long as it remains as it is . . . a political and personal issue between the pros and cons . . . it will cause strife and discord, leaving no room for the real issues of the nation to be solved. Since it is only a matter of money . . . why not pay it and have it over with. No congressman should feel uneasy in his shoes about it . . . Although the president has frowned on the idea of paying it . . . he could be mistaken in his analysis of the thing. Should congress pass the payment . . . and should the president veto it . . . and should congress pass it over his head and veto . . . they will still find the loyal . . . faithful and patriotic president Franklin D. Roosevelt, sitting in the executive chair, ready to take up the next business on the subject of the nations business . . .

and he will bear malice to none . . . and pray for charity for all and firmness in the right. We believe that president Roosevelt is just as willing to cooperate with those who disagree with him as those who disagree with should cooperate with him . . . when the thing has been definitely decided . . . one way or the other. CONGRESS SHOULD PASS THE BONUS BILL.

Which reminds us of a story told recently by Hon. Wirt Franklin at the Central West Texas Oil Association annual banquet . . . He said there was a school teacher asked the class who the Saviour was. One little girl said Franklin Roosevelt. The teacher said no . . . that wasn't right . . . Another pupil said Franklin D. Roosevelt. Wrong again said the teacher. Then another one said with his chest out . . . Franklin Roosevelt. "No" said the "thats still wrong" . . . apparently bright little fellow up and said "I know" . . . er said "all right, who's Christ" said the boy. The little group near the teacher spoke up and said "I know" . . . gamn republican . . . So Again we are thankful for good old rain . . . and bus good in Eastland . . . Saturday to general crops . . . town and our town . . . you've got . . . sign . . . for any town . . . in a . . . er wise.

How Much Would You Pay For a DOLLAR BILL?

THIS IS A TRUE STORY: It started with a half-serious wager, and it teaches a lesson.

Two business men were visiting a famous resort. One offered to bet the other that he could not sell real dollar bills for 50 cents apiece. The other accepted the challenge and went to work.

"How do you do," he said to a passing stranger. "Will you give me 50 cents for this dollar bill?" The stranger paid no attention.

The salesman tried again, and again. But nobody bought—and finally he had to admit that he'd lost his bet.

All of which suggests that people like to know who the seller is before they buy. You can trust the merchants who advertise their products in this newspapers. The advertisements offer useful, dependable information about things you need and want. Read and heed the advertisements carefully and you will reap savings and satisfaction.
