Moore...

ABOUT Eastland
By Virgil E. Moore

Shop Foreman's Note: Somewhere in the rush this week, Mr. Virgil E. Moore's distinguished column got lost in the composing room and was not discovered until only a few minutes before press time. We are substituting a column not nearly so distinguished, but one that makes a mighty good "filler." Mr. Wright's remarks are not to be construed as reflecting in any way the opinions felt by Mr. Moore, on this or any other subject.

By NORMAN WRIGHT
We often wonder how much longer the American public can hold up under the way these radio and television announcers keep screaming at us. We wonder just how low in mentality they think the people of this country can get. It is an insult to the intelligence of a cross-eyed moron ape the way some of this crud is beamed at us.

We have made a catalog of some of the guys we would like to choke first, and at the head of our list is the sack we call "The Screamer."

This is the gink who comes at us like a college cheer leader screaming at the rate of about a thousand words a minute trying to stampee us into jumping out of the bed, hurrying into the car and breaking all speed records getting down to Gultz & Co., where we can buy a $500 deep freeze for $497.50 and get a box of red apples thrown in, yes, think of it, a box of delicious red apples thrown in absolutely free if we hurry, hurry, hurry, and not waste another minute, and by the time this guy gets through he has us both hanging over a chair out of breath, and he's off the air whether he knows it or not.

Then there is the guy who thinks he is so cute he can hardly stand to stay in the same studio with himself. He is the dimpled darling with the cute wink who cuddles a box of his sponsor's product and punctuates his points by giving it a whack with the palm of his hand, like a mother trying to burp a baby, and finally winds up by making goo-goo eyes at us and whispering softly, "You'll try it just for me, won'tcha, huh?" and that's when we have to leave for the bathroom.

Then there is the Professional Type, this guy in the white coat with the turned around collar who says he is Doctor Addie Noids, and he begins telling you about your liver and lights. He goes over a stack of graphs and charts and proves beyond doubt that you have been dead for the past six months, but thanks to a new discovery which is now contained in Elmer's Little Blue Tablets you can be a rejuvenated human being for only 15c, and you can get the large economy size package for only 19c and this bargain of the age comes in a variety of six different colors without costing a penny more. How he escapes being prosecuted for impersonating a doctor, we'll never know.

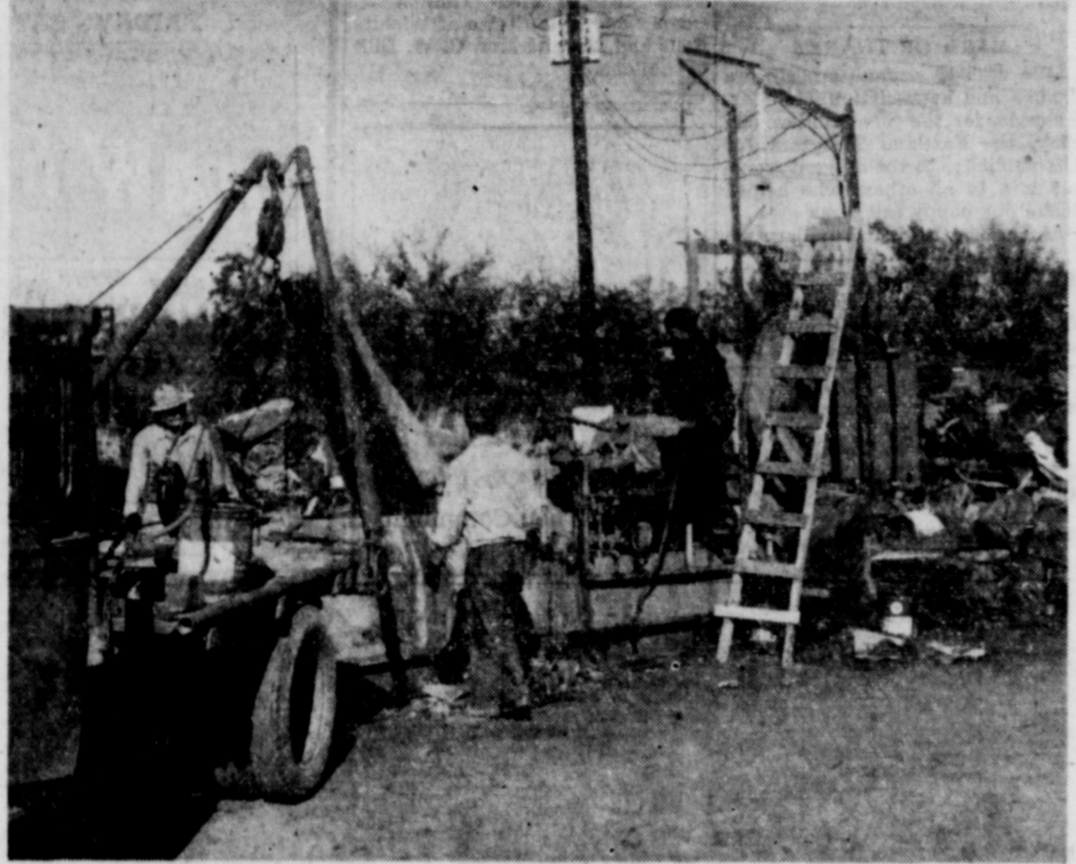

And then there is the Mystery Man. His product contains A-C-R! The only product of its kind known to man that contains A-C-R! The miracle ingredient that not only gives you more miles per gallon

BUNDLE IT UP—Workers at Eastland Iron and Metal Co. pull another bundle of scrap out of the new scrap iron press recently installed by Henry Pullman. This bundle weighs about 350 pounds. The press takes loose scrap and presses it into compact bundles, which are easily shipped out. DOGIES BLAST RANGER PUPS TO 27-6 TUNE

By JAMES WRIGHT
Eastland's Junior High Dogies scored on the third play of the game here Tuesday night and then coasted to an easy 27-6 victory over the Ranger Pups.

The Dogies wasted no time in getting the game's activities underway. Clifton Slate tucked in the back on the third play and stepped off 48 yards into the Ranger endzone, and then ran over the extra point.

Eastland scored again in the first quarter, this time giving the credit to Quarterback James Lewis who took the ball over from the one foot line. Slate again ran over the extra point to make it 14-0, Eastland.

In the second period, Lewis found Slate in the open and fired a perfect pass to him, Slate gathered in the ball on the Ranger 40 and outdistanced the defenders the rest of the way. The entire play netted 60 yards.

The final Eastland score came in the same period when Slate blasted over the right side of his own line and raced 60 yards into pay-dirt. This time Roger Taylor, a standout on defense all night, ran over the extra point try to make it 27-0.

Neither team managed to score a huge success. Eastland is becoming The Place to buy everything that modern Americans desire, and we want to take this opportunity to show everyone the wide variety this city has to offer."

ANNUAL ROLL CALL IS HELD BY PYTHIANS HERE TUESDAY

Approximately 80 were on hand for the annual joint roll call held Tuesday night in Eastland by the Knights of Pythias and their wives.

The affair was in the form of a fish fry, with the fish provided by Lance Powell and Frank Williamson. The ladies provided all of the other food.

J. H. Rushing was in charge of the program, and he introduced Robert Warren of Baird, who is district deputy. Warren discussed the K of P home for children at Weatherford.

During the roll call, $80 was subscribed for the home and Rushing said the amount is expected to increase to $150. The local Lodge annually makes a donation to the home to be spent during Thanksgiving and Christmas. Ten children of deceased members of the local Lodge make their home there.

B Teamers To Play Albany Here Tonight

Eastland "B" teamers end the 1956 season here Thursday night when they entertain the Albany "B's."

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at Maverick Stadium. Both teams have impressive win-loss records this year and the tilt promises to be a showdown.

Coach Jon Tate is expected to again shuffle his charges around, and a starting line-up would be hard to pick.

Victory Would Give Locals Clean Sweep

Eastland's untamed Mavericks will be out to erase the lone obstacle in their path to an undisputed claim to the District 10-A championship here Friday night when they entertain the Clyde Bulldogs in the final regular season game of the year for both elevens.

An Eastland victory will give the Mavericks their first district championship since 1947 plus an unblemished district record. And the oddsmakers will give you three touchdowns and a pair of field goals to three fumbles that the Mavs turn the trick.

Clyde sports a record of one win and two losses in district play and the Bulldogs only have a record of one win, six losses and two ties for the year. Eastland, on the other hand, has won three district tilts in a row and sports a 7-3 record for the year, with two of their losses coming by one point margins.

The two teams have played four mutual opponents. Eastland won all four of the games and Clyde dropped all but one.

The Mavs record for the year, in case you could possibly have forgotten it, follows: Cisco, 26-27; Dublin, 34-0; DeLeon, 26-7; Cross Plains, 6-7; Ranger, 12-28; Gorman, 53-0; Wylie, 28-6; Albany, 55-33; and Throckmorton, 65-0.

Clyde's record: Santa Anna, 0-0; Rochester, 0-20; Rule, 0-36; Baird, 0-21; Gorman, 0-0; Aspermont, 13-21; Throckmorton, 13-21; Wylie, 14-39; and Albany, 6-52.

Eastland's starting line-up will have Dale Slatton and Dick Corbett at ends, Wayne Durham and Carl Freeze at tackles; Lupe Herrera and Jim Phillips at guards, Neil Pogue at center, Harvey Lewis at quarterback, Saul Pullman at fullback and Jimmy Martin and P. A. Cox at halfbacks.

Coaches for the visitors are Joe Don Allen and John Black.

Eastland, of course, is coached by Carrol Shelton and Jon Tate.

Eastland will go into the game in good physical and mental condition, unless unexpected developments occur during the last few days of workouts. Clyde will field one of the largest teams the Mavs have met this year, but the Bulldogs are young in comparison to the senior-studded local eleven.

Game time is 8 p.m.

MAVS TO PLAY BUFFS HERE

Eastland's Mavericks, champions of District 10-A, will meet the Cross Plains Buffaloes, District 9-A titlists, in Eastland Friday, Nov. 23, Wendell Siebert, superintendent, announced today.

Siebert said officials of the two schools met here Tuesday night and reached their decision.

The two teams played earlier here this season in a non-district clash with Cross Plains taking a close 7-6 victory. Siebert said the game would again be played here since Eastland played in Cross Plains last year, the last time the two teams met in a district contest.

The bi-district game will begin at 7:30 p.m. Cross Plains has an 8-1 record for the year, losing only to strong Coleman. The Buffs have only weak Rising Star left on their regular schedule. Eastland has won six and lost three. They play Clyde Friday night.

Mrs. Brealford Will Be Buried This Afternoon

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. for Mrs. H. P. Brealford, with graveside rites at the Eastland Cemetery.

Mrs. Brealford, the widow of the late H. P. Brealford, prominent Eastland attorney and banker, died Tuesday in Tyler. She had been a life-long resident of Eastland.

Proudest title in the world!

A tribute to the American housewife

"Just a housewife" is a term we hear too often. That's about like saying "just a doctor" or "just a company president." The job you're doing as a housewife is one of the most important anybody is doing in America today.

Who is mainly responsible for your family's health?
It's you—the housewife. And our fine national health record testifies to the good job you're doing on this score.

Who sets your family's standing in your community?
You do. You not only create an attractive home for your family and plan the entertaining, but also make most of the outside social contacts in church, club and community. How far would the charitable operations of these groups get without your help?

And your family's financial standing depends as much upon your ability to manage money as it does your husband's ability to earn it. Your family savings program is as much your responsibility as it is your husband's.

That's why so many women today are urging their husbands to invest in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. They know that the principal invested in Bonds is safe—not subject to market fluctuations. And the returns are sure—an average 3% interest, compounded semi-annually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). With the automatic extension privilege, Bonds will continue to pay that same high interest for 10 years more. That means $1.80 in returns for every $1.00 invested.

Remember, you can help your family win financial security tomorrow—by encouraging your husband to invest regularly in Savings Bonds today.

And the next time you hear someone say "just a housewife," stick up your chin and speak up for the job you're doing. Where would your family or your country be without you?

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EACH SUNDAY

Frank Sparks Is Speaker At 9:49 Class Sunday

"What doth the Lord require of thee," Frank Sparks asked the Men's 9:49 Bible Class at its regular Sunday session meeting in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

These seven words contain plenty of food for thought and prayerful meditation. These words make the thought that was the subject for discussion of the International Sunday School lesson last Sunday.

The attorney digressed just enough from the lesson to make it interesting. He, using Armistice Day as the occasion, told about his thoughts at the first Armistice about the future and about what he himself would do with his life after a discharge from the Army. His thoughts were, "What doth the Lord require of thee?"

And when he got off the train in Gorman a few months later with a law license in his hand, looking for a place to put up his shingle he thought, "What does the Lord require of thee?"

Those words are something all men today can think on any time with profit. We can stop and ask ourselves this age-old question every time we make a decision of any importance and think on it. Perhaps in the past we haven't given this question as much thought as we should have.

The attorney told the class historical background of Sunday's Sunday school text, Micah 6:1-5 and 6:6-8.

Micah was a younger contemporary of Isaiah, a sort of poor man's Isaiah, who actually had a little better understanding of the current trend of events in both the Hebrew Kingdoms than Isaiah.

Micah fully realized that things were brewing in the greater nations of the Middle East during his time that didn't spell good for his people. His teaching is simple and forceful. He raised considerable Cain about the treatment of the poor people of that day. He deplored the exploitation that took place then and didn't mince any words when he told the people about their conduct being against God's will.

When he was asked by the king "What does the Lord require of me?" Micah didn't hem and haw around about it. He didn't sheepishly look at his feet, fearful of looking his king in the eye, nor did he give the king an answer the king would have liked to hear. Micah told the king how the cow ate the cabbage while looking him as straight in the eye as a hoot owl looking for a bug.

Micah told about the fall of the two kingdoms, the people being taken into slavery and national disgrace, and servitude to a foreign people.

Micah said the Hebrews had to get right with God. He said that in order for them to do that they would have to do as God showed them what is good and that is "To do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

It's as simple as that.

Class president Travis Harrell announced that the membership noon prayer services would continue, with each class member praying wherever he is and at whatever he might be doing at that time.

Harrell also said he would like to see all the members read over their lesson for next Sunday before they came to class. The lesson then will be titled "Qualities of a Christian," and the text is Matthew 5:1-12. This is the Sermon on the Mount, the most beautiful passage of literature in any language and one of the greatest of the fundamental truths of all Christendom.

Harrell asked all men in Eastland not in some other Sunday school class to come out and meet with the folks of the 9:49 class. He said it will be interesting to see and hear how Attorney Sparks handles the Beatitudes Christ handed down from the mountain.

Henry Van Geem's quartet of two singers and two grunTERS will probably sing, but on that point Harrell couldn't be sure.

Eleven Pledges Initiated By Delta Tau In Sunday Ritual

Cooper Library at Ranger Junior College was the scene of the fall initiation of eleven pledges into the Delta Tau Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

The candlelight ritual was read by the president, Thelma Edwards. She was assisted by Mrs. Sophia Lovelace of Eastland and Miss Wilma Elliott of Olden. Eleven pledges were instructed in the aims and ideals of Phi Theta Kappa before they signed the fraternity oath witnessed by the members of the local chapter and the Ranger Junior College faculty. J. F. Lilly gave the closing fraternity prayer.

After the ceremony colored movies were made before refreshments were served from a table laid with Mexican Drawn table cloth with crystal appointments. The Phi Theta Kappa emblem flanked with yellow roses centered the table.

Mrs. Frances Jameson, Girls' Counselor and honorary member of Phi Theta Kappa poured. Mrs. J. P. Morris, Dean of Women, served angel food squares topped with tiny yellow rose buds of spun sugar.

Pledges include Edward A. Basham, son of Allen Basham of Palo Pinto; William R. Ballinger, son of W. H. Ballinger of Ranger; Mrs. Marie Ann Boney, daughter of Mrs. Annie Harper of Eastland; Lionel Crisp, son of O. S. Crisp of Midland; Jerry E. Dobbs, son of Mrs. Joe Young of Ranger; James Gilkey of Eastland, Conard D. Miller of Eastland, Don Norton, son of C. U. Norton of Ranger and Champ Pearson, son of L. R. Pearson of Ranger.

Two pledges, Bud Remyse, son of Hubert Remyse of Arlington and Bill Cooper of Eastland, were absent.

Other members witnessing the program were Mrs. Dorothy Bell, James C. Spence, Dr. and Mrs. Price Ashton, Phi Theta Kappa sponsors, Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, and Mr. George Alford completed the guest list.

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honorary fraternity for students in junior colleges throughout the United States. Its object is to promote scholarship, to develop character, and to cultivate fellowship among the students.

To be eligible for membership in this organization the student must be of good moral character and possess recognized qualities of citizenship as judged by the faculty. The student must be in the upper ten percent of the regular enrolled student body with an average of eighty-five or above. No greater college honor can come to any student than an invitation to become a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Plans were made to attend the National Convention at Lawton, Oklahoma, on April 18-20.

Officers of the local chapter are: Thelma Edwards, president; Don Davis, vice president; Wilma Elliott, secretary; Jerry Dobbs, treasurer; John Butler, student council representative; Jerry Kile, reporter; Mrs. Dorothy C. Ashton, faculty sponsor.

And if he had to tell you what A-C-R was he wouldn't know whether it was animal, vegetable or mineral, and neither do you and neither does the sponsor.

And then there is the "Folky" guy, the honey talking gent whose language is so hill-billyish that you want to run for the oxygen tent to keep from losing your dinner, and somebody, somewhere, thinks this nut is talking straight to the hearts of the great American public. How dumb can you get.

And for crying out loud, will somebody please explain how they manage to keep a guy like Godfrey's Tony Marvin foisted off on the world, standing there day after day with his deep belly-talk saying "Yez Autha, Yez Autha, Yez Autha . . . Ha-Ha-Haanaanaa-Ha-Ha-Haanaanaa" . . .

Oh, me! Maybe we didn't know how to appreciate the election!

not much chance to practice my hobby in Texas, what with the long drought. Looks like I'll have to make trips to the Gulf to get any exercise."

Along the East coast, Dr. Hodgkins is well known for his hobby. While working for the Dupont Company in Wilmington in 1954-1955 he was a leading member of the Delaware Underwater Swim Club.

The 75-member group won the Middle Atlantic competition last summer and finished high in the East Coast Championships. For fun, the members dive around ships sunk during World War II off the Jersey - Delaware coast or seek gold coins from old treasure ships that went down in Colonial days.

Club members have picked up numerous old coins on the Delaware beaches, Dr. Hodgkins reports.

Born in Fort Worth, the young chemistry professor began diving as a boy. He recalls rigging up a diving helmet when he was 10 and taking it out to Lake Worth for a trial.

"I almost drowned," he recalls slyly.

Later, after graduating from Allen Military Academy, Dr. Hodgkins became absorbed in chemistry. He took his B.A. degree from TCU in 1950 and his M.A. in 1951. Enrolling at Rice Institute, he finished his Ph. D. in chemistry in June of 1954.

Hired immediately by the Dupont Company, he plunged into work as a research chemist on problems of a new synthetic rubber and organic intermediates. He also plunged into the Atlantic Ocean in pursuit of his new skin-diving hobby.

An overwhelming desire to return to teaching (he was a U. S. Public Health Fellow at Rice) caused him to return to TCU in September.

Dr. Hodgkins is a senior member of the American Chemical Society and the Wilmington Organic Chemists Club. He's a member of Sigma Xi and retains his association with the Delaware Underwater Swim Club. He is author of several papers on chemistry that have appeared in leading journals.

Mrs. Hodgkins is a Dallas girl who spent much time in South America and attended North Texas State College. They have two young sons—who probably will be skin divers, too.

Now Is Time To Start Your Fruit Cake

By Julia Hunter
Home Economics Director, Lone Star Gas Company

The holiday season is just around the corner and now is the time to get under way with your favorite fruit cake. Most fruit cakes should ripen for four to six weeks before they are cut; however, we know of one famous recipe which is started in July and one for an unbaked cake which is ready to serve within 48 hours.

Modern homemakers take fruit cake baking in their stride by dividing the preparation into two parts which do not necessarily have to follow on consecutive days. The first is selecting the recipe, collecting the ingredients and then preparing the fruits and nuts. Along with this goes preparing the pans for baking. On a second day comes the mixing of the cakes, the baking and the preparing for aging.

In selecting a recipe for a fruit cake keep these things in mind. A recipe which lists dark raisins, prunes, figs, dates, molasses and assorted spices will turn out a dark, moist, traditional fruit cake. Those recipes which call for light raisins, dried apricots, honey, candied cherries and peels, but no spices or dark dried fruits will produce a light cake.

This list will make shopping for fruit cake ingredients easier: One pound dates makes about 2 cups.

One pound raisins, prunes, dried apricots, dried peaches, dried pears or dried figs measures about 3/4 to 3/8 cups. One pound dried apples measures about 5 cups. One pound cut-up candied fruits, peels, shelled almonds or Brazil nuts measures about 3 cups. One pound shelled walnuts or pecans measures about 4 cups.

Since fruit cakes require slow baking, extra precautions must be taken so the cake will not develop an undesirable heavy crust. Line greased pans carefully with brown paper and grease the paper. Fill prepared pans to not more than one inch from top.

As soon as fruit cakes are baked remove them to wire rack to cool. Pan lining papers may be removed from the cakes, or may be left on to help retain moisture. When cakes are thoroughly done, wrap in additional waxed paper or aluminum foil and place in airtight containers with cut apples around the cakes. If desired, cakes may be aged in fruit juice. In this case, remove pan lining papers and sprinkle the cakes with fruit juice. Wrap in cheese cloth or other thin white cloth sprinkled with fruit juice and then in waxed paper or aluminum foil. Place in airtight container.

Check the cakes every week during the aging period. If they seem dry, add additional cut apples or fruit juice. If they seem too moist, leave off wrappings and cover of container for several hours.

Well-aged fruit cakes, even those with large pieces of fruit and whole walnuts, almonds or Brazil nuts will slice easily if the cakes are chilled first and a very sharp knife is used.

For additional free information on holiday foods send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood Street, Dallas 1, Texas.

Recipe of the Week
Tennessee Fruit Cake: Chop 1/2 pound currants, 1/2 pound seeded raisins, 1/2 pound seedless raisins, 1 pound dates, 1/2 pound candied pineapple, 1/2 pound candied cherries, 1/2 pound blanched almonds, 1/2 pound pecans, 1/4 pound candied lemon peel, 1/4 pound candied orange peel, 1/4 pound citron. Sift together and sprinkle over fruit and nuts 3 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon all-

Hardtop styling is achieved by Mercury in its exciting new station wagon. A lone, canted center pillar on each side, gives picture window visibility and style. Windows wrap around at the back, and the rear window rolls down into the tail-gate, eliminating the cumbersome lift-gate and adding open-car ventilation to closed car protection. Mercury station wagons offer "passenger car" riding comfort featuring the industry's first air-cushion rear suspension. A special station wagon series includes six models of four-door 6 and 9-passenger and two-door 6-passenger wagons. Ten inches longer than current wagons, the new Mercurys also are lower and wider and roomier inside for passengers and have more cargo carrying capacity. This Colony Park 9-passenger station wagon has simulated grained wood exterior trim. A choice of two powerful engines is offered—a Turnpike Cruiser 290 hp. V-8 or a Safety-Surge 255 hp. V-8.

Hints On Use Of Range Broiler

By Julia Hunter
Home Economics Director, Lone Star Gas Company

The broiler of your range affords an adventure in cooking that saves time while producing a delectable meal. All you need to add is bread, a salad and dessert and the meal is complete and ready to serve. In broiling, as in all meat cookery, low temperature methods are recommended since experiments prove they give less shrinkage and a more tender product. Broiling may be done by either of two methods—full-flame broiling or low-flame broiling. Both provide moderately low temperature broiling and render ideal products.

Low-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes with heat control at "B" position. Leave control at this position for complete broiling period.

Full-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes with heat control at "B" position. Leave control at this position for complete broiling period.

There's an easy way to clean broiler pans, too. To avoid unnecessary cleaning, preheat the broiler compartment, but do not preheat the broiler pan, for placing cold food on hot metal causes sticking. When broiling is finished, remove food and drain all drippings from the pan. Sprinkle the grid and pan generously with soap or detergent and cover with a wet cloth or wet paper towels. Let them stand while the meat is served, then remove the cloth or towels and wash the grid and pan. It is as easy as washing a dish.

For additional information on broiling foods send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

Low-flame broiling takes a longer broiling time, but permits use of oven and broiler at the same time.

It is not absolutely necessary to preheat the broiler compartment, but a few minutes should be added to broiling time if the compartment is not preheated. For most broiling the pan should be placed in the compartment so that top surface of the food is 3 inches from the flame. Fish, however, should be 2 inches from the flame. Thick cuts of pork and chicken should be four inches from the flame.

Full-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes with heat control at "B" position. Leave control at this position for complete broiling period.

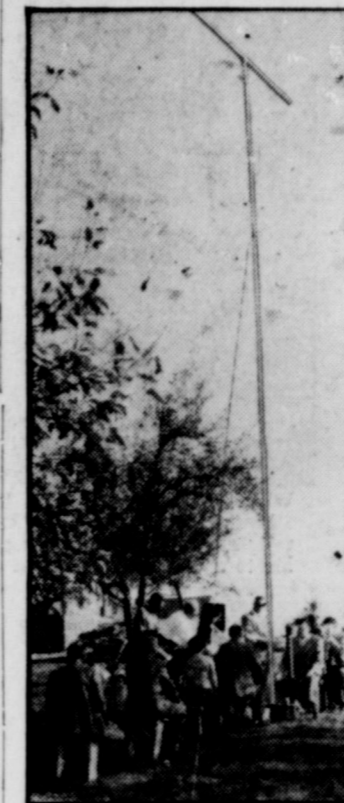

Low-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes. If using oven at same time, set heat control at temperature required for oven cooking. If oven is not in use, set heat control at 350 degrees F.

There's an easy way to clean broiler pans, too. To avoid unnecessary cleaning, preheat the broiler compartment, but do not preheat the broiler pan, for placing cold food on hot metal causes sticking. When broiling is finished, remove food and drain all drippings from the pan. Sprinkle the grid and pan generously with soap or detergent and cover with a wet cloth or wet paper towels. Let them stand while the meat is served, then remove the cloth or towels and wash the grid and pan. It is as easy as washing a dish.

Bump Free Pavement Is Predicted

"Bump Free" rides on continuously reinforced concrete pavement are available now in at least five parts of the United States, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. Many other highways may be similarly improved in the future. Research is now going forward to place the design of such roads on a sound engineering basis. The "bump-bump-bump" effect is caused by the joints in the highways. These roads were built in segments, to allow for expansion and contraction due to temperature changes. Engineers now believe that the joints may be unnecessary. They say that continuously reinforced concrete pavement may result in lower maintenance costs, in addition to providing smoother rides. Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, California and Texas are among the states that have stretches of continuously reinforced concrete pavement. The Indiana road was built in 1938, followed by Illinois and New Jersey in 1947, California in 1949 and Texas in 1951. A new stretch is being constructed in Pennsylvania. The Committee on Reinforced Concrete Research of American Iron and Steel Institute—composed of 22 producers of concrete reinforcing bars—is helping to sponsor research on the Pennsylvania highway, which is near York, Pa. The tests are being conducted by Lehigh University. A prominent highway engineer believes that the life of continuously reinforced concrete pavement will exceed that of other pavement designs by a number of years.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

"YOUR HONOR, I OBJECT..."

So it is with the trial in a law suit: After the jury brings in the verdict people can tell you how your lawyer should have conducted the trial.

But as with football, it's somewhat harder to look forward into the swirl of maneuvers and predict in advance how a particular move will make out. The future holds many surprises.

Our system of justice rests upon the "adversary" theory of a trial where both sides fight for real stakes in dead earnest.

Our U.S. Supreme Court, for example, will not give an "advisory" opinion to anybody—neither the President or Congress—as to whether a proposed law would be constitutional. The court decides that point only in a real law suit with real people fighting for real stakes.

Our courts have an aversion to deciding a point of fact or law where each side does not present its views on the merits with skill, vigor, and good faith. They know how plausible one side can sound until the adversary has his inning.

So, during a trial the pressure is on. Each side tries to present the facts favorable to its cause and prevent the other side from presenting matters which are not properly admissible under the rules of evidence.

To make matters worse, unless your lawyer acts at once, say, when the other side offers a piece of testimony, he loses the right to get the court to strike it from the record at a later time.

Fully to protect you, your lawyer must plan your case so that if things go against you, he can take your case "on the record" to a higher court if he feels that the trial court has erred. But alas, often he cannot claim the error unless he made a point of it at the proper instant during the trial.

If you ever sat on a jury, you may have wondered why some lawyer always objected to every little thing. He ought to have known, you think, that he was making the jury angry with him.

Well, this is why: If he had not, for example, moved to "quash the indictment," or objected to certain evidence, the higher court might not let him raise the point on appeal.

So even if he antagonized everybody in the court, the lawyer by the rules of our system of justice, still had the duty of "protecting the record" so that if need be he could also protect his client in the higher courts.

At every stage of a lawsuit, your lawyer must remember to make points against the possible fact that a panel of thoughtful appellate justices will sit down calmly to review what was done in the excitement of a trial.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SHERWOOD C. LYNN,

Reduction In Traffic Mishaps Is Recorded

"A reduction in traffic accidents was recorded in October, as compared with October 1955, said Captain G. L. Morahan today, after tallying the record for the Abilene Highway Patrol District.

Five people died in the 13-County District in October 1956 as compared to 14 who died in October 1955, and 191 accidents occurred in October 1956 as compared to 136 in October 1955.

Motorists died in Callahan, Haskell, Shackelford, and Taylor Counties in October 1956.

Captain Morahan cautioned that the next two months of 1956 will probably be the most hazardous, due to weather conditions, more night driving, and the holidays in November and December.

To date through October the district total for 1956 shows that 54 people have died in traffic accidents as compared to 70 the first 10 months of 1955—but we can not let our guard down by the reduction in deaths alone, as we are still having too many accidents, more in 1956 than 1955, and not as severe. Therefore, we must back the attack on traffic accidents by increasing our efforts all the time we are behind the wheel of a 4000 pound automobile.
