

George Weyerhaeuser Back at Home After Being Held By Kidnapers Nearly Week

Kidnap Gang Is Sought Under the Lindbergh Law

Nine Year Old Boy Tells About Gang of Six Keeping Masks On

IS SAFE AT HOME

Boy Told By His Abductors He Was Being Held In Oregon

By United Press

TACOMA, Wash., June 1.—The "Egoist" and five other kidnapers released George Weyerhaeuser unharmed on a tree-bordered road today and three hours later the nine year old member of the wealthy timber family was safe at home.

The grimy faced, sobbing boy said:

"I think my uncle paid the ransom yesterday or the day before."

The kidnapers, suspected of being from the Alvin Karpis gang, demanded $200,000 in used, not marked, bills of $10, $10 and $5 denominations, in a note signed "Egoist" delivered to the family six hours after George was snatched near a school.

The family would not say whether or not it had paid the ransom in whole or in part. The uncle mentioned is F. R. Titcomb, go-between in ransom negotiations.

George was "frightened, nervously upset and unable to answer questions clearly after his experience," Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weyerhaeuser said in a prepared statement.

But he was not too upset to face the questioning of department of justice agents who sought information from him before he was permitted to sleep.

Federal men questioned the farmer, John Bonifas, into whose yard near Issaquah, Wash., 30 miles east of Tacoma in the foothills, the slender boy wandered at 4 a. m.

They questioned Early Robinson, taxi driver, who brought the boy part of the way home after he had started in the farmer's car.

Because the kidnapers held George more than seven days, the abduction became a federal crime and the men who took him are liable under the drastic Lindbergh law.

George believed these was a large river near the hideout. He said the six men wore masks constantly. He also said they told him he was held in Oregon.

He was treated for a cut on the left ear.

CRUCIFIXION OF MAN IS A DARK MYSTERY

By United Press

WIGHT POINT, N. C., June 1.—Riggs, 35, was found here tonight to a cross, a wire tight about his neck, near his automobile service station.

A critical condition from nails in the hands and feet and being from shock he was taken to a hospital where it was said he may recover.

Riggs said he was unable to furnish a motive for the crucifixion. He said a group entered his room last night and led him to the crucifixion scene. His clothing was stripped from his body. Nails were driven through his hands and the heels of his feet.

That reminds me...

Murder, kidnappings, bank robberies, hangings, electrocutions and legal deaths by lethal gas continue. The headlines are full of them every day. No matter what the punishment, no matter how surely they will be caught may be the impression, crime of the most atrocious order keeps the nation of busy folks still busier glancing right and left with an idea that they may be next. Little children must be heavily guarded provided that their parents are wealthy. Men and women must handle each other with the proverbial "gloves" it seems, no matter how friendly they may be, or else there is danger of a serious consequence following what began as a friendly argument. Men and women who have an obsession for an idea regarding politics of any nature immediately flare up in antagonistic attitudes if they are not agreed with. There seems to be no way to prevent it. There are no doubt lots of folks who say they "never gamble." If they will think just a little they will realize that they are gambling every minute of their lives. They gamble with nature and its elements, they gamble on their daily routine of activities. Life itself is truly a gamble.

Noticeably prominent is the fact that in the great majority of those who pay the supreme penalty for their crimes that they go to their death with composure and in many instances a smile. The same applies to those who are sent to the penitentiary for a short term or life. They as a rule do not whimper. When they are incarcerated they put their mind in one channel and that is with an idea of how to escape. All else is put out of the mind.

If there is such a thing as a remedy it can only be placed as a responsibility on the beginning of life and that is the home. Environment seems to have most everything to do with moulding the character of the individual. Certainly there should be some way in which the idea to kill could be made so impressive as a horrible thing to do that as they advance in years they wouldn't thing of such a thing. Self preservation is the first law of nature it is said, but the term could only have been applied from the standpoint of pioneering unexplored regions. Education along the lines of self preservation are no doubt carried a little too far when it comes to being coached for the purpose of antagonism. If there could be a way to teach growing children the importance of protecting human life in the home, and then carried on in the schools there is no doubt but what crime would be decreased. The sex angle has much to do with the neurotic characteristic of human beings and lack of proper education and environment has much to do with bringing it about and such angles lead to criminal tendencies in almost every instance.

More rain during the last 24 hours which it is said did more good in this immediate section than harm. Other states and Texas communities have been having floods and twisters which have taken lives and destroyed crops and property. Think of 30,000 people being killed by an earthquake at one time. When the elements get on a rampage and start destroying it doesn't do a part job of it.

There seems to be much agitation regarding the aftermath of the NRA ruling and that the country is going to the dogs. It won't do any such a thing. Now the administration is figuring on passing the buck to the states for them to ratify a constitutional measure to give the Federal government more control over the states. The fact is the Federal government has entirely too much control over them now—and gradually it is leading to more. The American people may some day be facing the same condition that exists in Germany, Russia, Poland and Italy. Such men as Father Coughlin and Huey Long could stir up lots of bloodshed if their followers increase, and when the classes take the reins of government over masses, it will be just too bad. Supply and demand does not at this time solve (Continued on page 4)

Club Members Pay Dues From Maine And Over Nation

Demise of large oil operations in Cisco and moving of oil men to various parts of the United States has resulted in an unusual Elks club, which believes B. S. Huey of Cisco, who attended the highway celebration in Eastland Thursday.

From Maine to California, said Huey, former club members of the Cisco group still remit their dues to his city. Some former members reside in New York City.

Explaining the situation, Huey stated that the club's dues can be paid anywhere and "an oil man never knows where he'll be tomorrow."

Huey was one of the Cisco early town builders. Many buildings were erected by his financial aid. Once he published a Cisco daily newspaper.

Operation of the paper, Huey recalled, the first year was $93,000 and receipts were $98,000. "I hired some fellow from Tulsa, and of course he had to have many assistants."

Marble Table Machine Law Seen As "Confusing" By Judge Davenport In Disposing of Controversy on Friday

Regret that marble and table machine laws are not definite and certain was expressed Friday by Judge George L. Davenport in 91st district court in connection with disposition of the Ranger-Cisco officials and operators controversy.

The temporary injunction issued May 22 was dissolved by the court. "I regret that the law covering tables and machines, as are involved in this controversy is not more definite and certain," said Judge Davenport. "If that were true, those operating such machines would know with more certainty their legal rights and the officers who are charged with the enforcement of our laws could act within the scope defined by law."

"Under a law recently enacted by the legislature," continued Judge Davenport, "which as I understand is now in effect, machines such as are involved in this controversy are taxed by the State of Texas, and under the act it becomes the duty of the state comptroller to collect the taxes thus imposed."

New legislation or decisions from the court of criminal appeals was foreseen "clarifying the statutes that are now confusing." The statement was based "on the assumption that the State of Texas would not be willing to collect taxes on machines and tables that could not be legally operated after such taxes were paid."

Representing the cities in the case were City Attorney R. E. Grantham of Cisco, City Attorney W. S. Adams of Ranger, and Criminal District Attorney Grady Owens.

Representing the machine owners and operators were Earl Conner, Sr., and W. H. McDonald.

Cloudbursts and Tornadoes Take Heavy Toll of Lives In Southwestern Nebraska

ROOSEVELT IS STILL WORKING ON NEW NRA

By United Press

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt had determined today to exhaust every means of coping with the NRA crisis before resorting to the drastic expedient of attempting changes in the constitution, it was learned today.

Thus far no satisfactory plan for continuing the NRA has been evolved, and officials believed several days would elapse before a program could be brought out.

The newest development was a report Mr. Roosevelt, seeking a means of stabilizing the labor situation, would insist upon passage of the Wagner labor relations bill by congress.

Farm Imports are Below Average Of Past Ten Years

WASHINGTON.—Imports of competitive agricultural products for the eight months, July 1, 1934, to March 1, 1935, were lower than the average for the same months of the previous 10 years in every case except feeds and sugar, according to a study made by the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture.

The figures show that imports of fruits, excluding bananas, were 25 per cent below the 10 year average for the July 1 to March 1 period; vegetable oils and oil seeds, 14 per cent below the 10 year average; meats, 17 per cent below; vegetables, 51 per cent below; wool, 56 per cent below; dairy products, 61 per cent below; and eggs and egg products, 78 per cent below.

Sugar imports from July 1, 1934, to March 1, 1935, were 5 per cent above the 10 year average for these months and imports of feeds 186 per cent above. The most severe damage resulting from drought was to grain and forage crops. Drought damage to the 1934 corn crop is estimated at about one billion bushels and to the wheat crop about 300 million bushels. Production of oats and barley was reduced about 50 per cent by drought.

Imports of wheat for domestic consumption from July 1, 1934, to March 1, 1935, were 9,511,000 bushels. About half of this amount was low grade wheat for feed, and about half was durum wheat for seed and the manufacture of macaroni and similar products which require this particular kind of wheat. Production of durum wheat in 1934 in the United States was approximately one-tenth of average.

Corn imports for the eight-month period totaled 6,509,998 bushels, less than 1 per cent of the estimated loss due to drought.

Noncompetitive imports, including coffee, tea, spices, cacao, rubber, and silk were about 99 per cent of the 10 year average.

Bible Classes to Assemble in Honor Of Judge Hickman

Members of Bible Classes of Breckenridge, Eastland and Dublin of which Judge J. E. Hickman has been associated are expected to assemble this morning at the Eastland Methodist church in honor of the jurist who recently was appointed a member of the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals.

The class will meet at 9:49 a. m. in the Methodist church auditorium. Friday, members of the class presented a barbecue in honor of Hickman.

Attendance at Meet Is Reported Good

Increasing crowds are attending the Church of Nazarene revival each evening, members stated Saturday.

A large crowd heard the evangelist, Rev. John L. Knight of Mineral Wells, Friday night on "Ezekiel's Revival." The preacher based his thoughts on the 37th chapter of Ezekiel. He said in part:

"There is no place so distant in its relation to God but that God will revive when conditions are met. Man is at a loss to revive his own heart within his own strength. Ezekiel cried out in testimony to this fact 'The Hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out in the Spirit of the Lord.' He is the Spirit of the Lord is needful in promoting revivals of the old time type."

The pastor invited all Eastland citizens Saturday to attend and participate in the meeting.

"The services today will be of interest to all lovers of Bible truth," Rev. Knight stated. The meeting continues with services daily at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Hot Oil Probe is Termed a Junket

AUSTIN.—Hot oil activities in East Texas, rumors of which persist despite the railroad commission's contention that none is being produced, will nevertheless be looked into by a five-member committee from the house of representatives.

Legislators, generally, felt the investigation should not cost the state more than $1,000.

Chairman Augustin Celaya's plea for at least $5,000 fell on deaf ears.

The committee which Celaya heads is going to conduct the investigation, which some termed a "junketing expedition," if he has to borrow automobiles and the committee has to pay the "difference" out of its respective pockets, he said.

Hyacinths Block San Marcos River

AUSTIN.—Hyacinths are blocking the San Marcos river by their rapid spread and growth. Boatmen complain that the once-clear stream can scarcely be traversed because of the heavy growth.

Until 20 years ago there were no hyacinths on the stream. Some were planted for beautification. Their removal has been proposed as a work relief project.

Considerable opposition to the removal of the hyacinths is heard. Besides their beauty, hyacinths have a patriotic appeal to Texans. It was along the San Jacinto river that Gen. Sam Houston won Texas' independence from Mexico in a battle with Gen. Santa Anna. Hyacinth in Spanish is "jacinto."

Pickled Pigs Feet Burglar Sought

AUSTIN.—Austin police are looking for a burglar who likes pickled pig's feet.

While E. E. Carlson checked his stock to see what was missing after he found a door to his store pried open, police looked for a clue.

All they could determine had been taken was a large jar of pickled pig's feet.

They admitted that threw a lot of folks under suspicion.

Death Toll Might Reach 100 Over a Hard Hit Section

All Communication Lines Down Over Wide Area Inundated Saturday

DAMAGE IS LARGE

The Last Telephone Line to Town Breaks After a Report Made

McCook, Neb., June 1.—Mergers reports giving a constantly increasing death toll, today indicated the raging Republican tornadoes and cloudbursts caused a major disaster in Southwestern Nebraska.

More than a score were known dead. There were reports, confirmed because the flood wiped away communications lines, had so damaged radio stations their signals could not be heard the toll would run to hundreds.

Several towns were wiped out. Hundreds of families were homeless and marooned in the 150-mile length of the Republican river valley.

Damage estimates ran into millions of dollars.

One report came by telephone from Goodland, Kas., to the Iver Post. It said the torrents wiped out the town of St. Francis, Kansas, and that at least 23 perished. A few minutes later communication with Goodland broken.

The villages of Parks, Tree, Stratton and Max were virtually wiped out and a huge death was probable in the devastated area.

While families fled to the rim of the valley, a torrent struck southwest of McCook today. It was estimated that lost their lives in the storm.

Thirty men were marooned on the McCook power plant at night. They had labored all night piling out the water. It is said they were in no danger.

Authorities in central Nebraska organized relief parties. A large national guard unit was called out and assumed the Oxford area. The Oxford families were missing. Red Cross, Elks, American Chamber of Commerce and other organizations joined to direct and rehabilitate.

Airplanes soared over directing rescuers in boat-mounted parties.

Let Us Not Be Mislead By A Market Boom

There is a rumbling noise in the stock markets these days, and it all sounds very much like the machinery of an old-fashioned boom picking up speed to swing into high gear. And that, in turn, leads one to wonder if we could be on the verge of repeating the joy ride which ended up against a safety zone stanchion in October, 1929.

A stock market boom in itself need not do much harm to anyone who has the good sense to keep his fingers away from the hot end of the poker. It is only if we begin to look on stock quotations as the one great sign of national prosperity, and assume that a bubbling stock market is prosperity itself, that the joy ride will really be under way. That was what we did back in the glamorous twenties.

The stock market was our answer to everything, in those days. If anybody suggested that technological unemployment was becoming a grave problem, that our agriculture was critically ill, that our foreign trade was being erected on a basis of borrowed money, that we were losing sight of all human values in our race for riches—well, the one big answer to everything was that stock prices were 'way up and that anyone who didn't like it would best go back to Moscow, where he came from.

We can repeat that program if we choose. All ingredients for a stock market boom seem to be at hand—including the cheerful presence of Major Angas.

But we might as well remember that one our last joy ride we not only wrecked the automobile, but came uncomfortably close to breaking our own necks.

The danger lies in the chance that we may again mistake a rising stock market for an end in itself rather than a symptom.

A rising market does not bring prosperity. Prosperity brings a rising market. To put our chief energies into stimulation of market values would be to reach for the shadow and ignore the substance.

It would be like the janitor of the country schoolhouse who suggested that on cold days the thermometer be tied to the stovepipe, so that it would register suitably high temperatures.

If a high temperature in the thermometer is all we want, we can have it. If we have the good sense to demand that the room itself be comfortably warm, the thermometer readings will take care of themselves.

In other words—if stock prices are going up, fine and dandy; that must indicate a regaining of business health and confidence.

So long as we don't drop everything and rush off to the thermometer to the stovepipe, everything will be right.

Where Sales Tax Gives Relief Funds

Henry Horner of Illinois is a democrat. He is a young democrat with a head and a will of his own. He is behind him a democratic legislature. He made three attempts to put over (for a second year) a sales tax to provide funds for the relief of the idle workers and their families. He won after two dismal setbacks. His lawmakers ended the music and the second year of the sales tax revenue is on the way. There is a reason for it. A commonwealth must do its part and stand some of the cost if its people expect to receive federal relief. And why not?

Speaking of the sales tax, it is very unpopular in Texas in certain circles of business and society and politics.

Gov. Frank Merriam of California is a republican. He faced the sales tax issue two years ago. This is the verdict from the city of Sacramento, the seat of government of the California paradise of sunshine and advertising genius: "California's barometer of better business conditions is the state sales tax of two and a half per cent. During nearly two years of operation there has been a constant increase in receipts until today it yields approximately $13,000,000 a quarter. The tax represents payment of $2.40 per quarter for each man, woman and child in the state."

At least this is the estimate given by the tax experts of the Golden Coast commonwealth. Texas has a larger population than California. Texas has five times the resources of California. California is doing its part toward carrying the burden of relief and its cost. Likewise, the very wealthy and very progressive commonwealth of Illinois. Texas taxpayers match the federal relief dollar demand.

A whole lot of people in this world need a little cheering up, especially those who are despondent about high taxes. They act as if there is not one ray of brightness anywhere. They feel that the burden of taxes is more than they can bear. Yes, they need cheering up.

As long as there is a margin between what a city is as a place in which to live and work and what it may become, there is work in every community for a Chamber of Commerce.

"HUGE BUYING WAVE PREDICTED"

"OUT OUR WAY" By Williams

Automobile Industry Good Farm Customers

The farmer's job used to be kept by the nation's dinner table supplied. During 1935 he will work to help supply materials for one million Fords. Ford dealers point out that the Ford Motor Company will purchase many products of the farm and the forest in order to complete its announced intention to build one million cars this year. Here are some of the things that will have to be purchased: 3,200,000 pounds of wool requiring 800,000 sheep to produce it will go into upholstery, floor-coverings, lacustrics and anti-rust preparations. The production of gloves made from hides, gloves made from milk, stearic acid, tannin, glycerine, soap chine and 1,500,000 square feet of leather for upholstery will utilize 30,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs will supply and oil for lubricants, electric acid and brushes for brushes. The goat will yield 350,000 pounds of goat's hair for the mohair upholstery. This means that farms will shear 87,000 goats. Beeswax is not so much used as it was, but tons of beeswax will be used for electrical insulating compounds. 95,000,000 industrial machines will produce this beeswax. Every four-door Ford sedan uses 70 pounds of cotton. A million cars will require over 69,000,000 pounds of cotton—25,000,000 pounds in tires; 34,000,000 pounds in batting, cloth, brake linings, battery box, timing gears and safety glass. It will take 432,000 acres of cotton to produce this material. The cornfield will produce a half a million bushels of corn to make butyl alcohol and starch needed in manufacture. The flax fields will furnish 2,400,000 pounds of linseed oil. Even the fields of sugar cane will help build the Ford car, for they will furnish 2,500,000 gallons of molasses from which come solvents, anti-freeze and shock absorber fluids. Growers of the castor bean will supply 240,000 pounds of castor oil for lacquers and artificial leather. The forest will make its contribution. 112,000,000 feet of lumber, mostly for packing purposes and 5,000,000 feet of paper board will be needed. The pitch pine will supply 2,000,000 pounds of turpentine for solvents and paints and adhesives. Rubber trees whose product is used in 200 parts of the Ford car from tires to tops, will supply 85,000 tons of rubber. The cork trees

Products of Farm and Forest For One Million Fords

The motor car is not a kingdom in itself. It must have something of nearly everything that is grown on the farm and that is made in other industries. Thousands of farms and industries are feeling a new impetus in business from the scheduled production of more than one million Fords for 1935. The Ford car is a good customer of the farmer. The farmer helps to build Ford cars just as Ford cars help to make farming more efficient and convenient. They help each other and Ford dealers print out that both help the country.

"Golden Fruit" Is Found By Mexican

STRAITHMORE, Calif.—A Mexican ranch worker today placed more credence in artists' descriptions of California orange trees as bearing "golden" fruit.

Picking oranges on the F. C. Bowman ranch here, the worker suddenly came across a gold watch hanging from a branch.

The watch had been given up as lost two weeks before in an automobile accident. Searchers had sifted sand all around the scene in hope of finding the valuable watch.

Authorities are puzzled over the motive behind disappearance of books from the Congressional Library, every congressman at one time or another having read a book.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Katharine Strykhurst, beautiful, 20, becomes acquainted with Michael Heather, riding teacher, and acknowledges an unwilling attraction toward him. She is worried over the progress of an affair between Zoe Parker, her best friend, and Gibbs Larkin, of whom Zoe's parents disapprove.

"Love me, darlin'?" He had to answer this question half a dozen times a day, for Sally had the instinct of possessiveness enormously developed. She needed to be reassured. Michael Heather, with St...

"CRACKED ICE"

Well the first week of vacation has already done and gone clean past us, and practically everyone is so far behind with sleep that it will take the rest of the summer to catch up.

Albert Martin and Lowell Chance gave the dance that everyone has longed to go to. A German dance and the first that most of the gang ever attended. A mighty nice affair I say even if "Country" Williams was dancing.

The following seniors are willing the following possessions, John Hart will his loving technique to the dear brother. "Country" Williams will his dancing technique to Jimmy Mahon. Mary Frances Hunter would like to will her voice to some that can't talk loud, but as yet she has had no applicants. They all know what a burden they would have. Frank Hatten will his dry jokes to Pat Owens (The bully of Eastland High). Sam Butler will his love to Kate Cottingham. Boy Tanner will his driving technique to Jamie Stover. Bill Satterwhite will his fusing technique to Collum Grey. Bob Hart will his fishing technique to Edward Gilkey. Bailey Hinton will his fishing technique to John Frank Williams.

It looks as if Arron Hurley is the new nurse maid for the Frost baby. Well, that shows you just what love will do for you. He even carries home her little baby sister after commencement.

Marshall Coleman's sour strainer has been growing right along through all of this hot weather, but there will come a day when that thing is gonna be shaved off.

Gladys (Peaches) Davis couldn't keep Slew's heart snaked up so she's going after Tobe in a big way, and by the way Peaches, my little girl was that Tobe you were with last Thursday night night in the black Plymouth, and another thing, we don't want to catch you spending any of that money Louise made. If you need any help Louise drop around and you know where you can get the help. There's Tully, Satterwhite, Slew, Bob, Marshall, and I might come along if she gets too tough.

It looks as if the old gang is drifting back into town this week. Childress came in from Oklahoma, and Davenport managed to get back from Weatherford, and by the way he has a first class get with him. Drop around and meet him and I'll grant you your time won't be wasted.

I do believe "Butch" was dated out with Doris Lawrence at the German dance. We thought he was turning back to Olivia, but I'm beginning to think you can't tell any more about that guy's love affairs than you can Vincent Crafts.

"Snapper" Garrison is getting to be what you might call a professional in the way of dancing, and this buy by the name of Tully is fast becoming one of the best. He seems to be the biggest pest Bob Hart has at the dances.

Alex Clarke pulled out to make his home in Coleman. We sure hate to see a guy like that leave because when he was around you could always be assured of some kind of excitement whether it was a bomb or a firecracker popping off. We are still sorry he didn't throw that chunk of bread at Hunter when she was making her speech at the senior banquet. That was a plenty neat banquet. An orchid to you mothers, they'll have to go some next year to beat that one.

Just think, Ellen Pearson had something like two dates with that Mahon guy.

You ought to hear Bull Lane tell how he works out at the farm from sun up till sun down and then hear the story Wesley and his dad tells. Boy, do they differ. I hope to tell you and in a big way at that.

I see Bull's body pal, Jack Sikes, has started the summer off with a bang. He's at least a working man, or maybe boy would sound more logical. Even Bob's working, and all the Sikes family has left is Bill. First thing you know old Bill will be heaving a pick round these parts.

Tanner got through high school without getting married. That's as far as we'll carry that thought. Butler has been telling some mighty fishy sounding stories the last few days.

To that select group of persons who have achieved the difficult task of carrying on both a home and a career, we nominate Mr. Putnam.

the issue of living. Money is the power behind the throne. Money is in a class by itself and practically every body wants some of it one way or the other. Socialism in its present avatars won't fit the bill, but there must be some way to keep people from being hungry at least. Governmental employees whether elected or appointed should be selected as to their qualifications and not as a matter of patronage for votes. The courts seem to have a monopoly on that phase as most of the judicial officers are selected as to their ability and qualifications. Perhaps some day the same thing will apply in all other government stations and their employees.

Discussing competition in business and the danger of chislers and cut throats, we have had them always. Way back around thirty years ago Paul Harris and a group of fellows started what is now known as Rotary. In their code of ethics there is an article that says something about ethics in business.

When business men rely on the quality of their merchandise to make a success in business, then and then only will all business survive to the fittest. When cheaper merchandise is offered as a substitute for quality merchandise and the people fall for it, that's when the ham breaks loose in business.

Retary had the idea of fair competition long before this administration attempted to put it into practice by law

Ford V-8 Brings Fine-Car Performance Within Your Reach

THE FORD V-8—one of the most important forward steps in the history of the automobile—brings to all the people what was formerly within reach of the few. The V-8 engine had always been known for its outstanding performance, but it was used only in expensive cars. People wanted it—knew it was better. But few motorists could afford to pay $2000 or more for an automobile.

The principle of the engine was right but the price was prohibitive. Ford decided to get that price down to where more people could have a V-8 car.

That was the new idea. The V-8 was a new kind of car to fit new times, but the thought behind it was the same... the tested Ford idea of service. The Ford Motor Company simply continued to do the pioneering work that has been its specialty for 30 years and set a new standard of value.

The significance of the Ford V-8 is that now it becomes possible for every one to have a really fine automobile at low cost. Price is not a barrier. Even those who can afford high prices for an automobile are driving the Ford V-8. It is the car of fashion as well as utility.

Today's Ford V-8 gives everything you would like to have in performance, beauty, comfort and safety. As for dependability and economy—the Ford has always been known for that. Today it stands also for the newest, latest developments in automobile building.

BETTE DAVIS IN NEW FILM DRAMA COMING TO LYRIC

Bette Davis, cast at last in a role in which she will be loved instead of hated by her audiences, is coming to the Lyric theatre today in the First National picture "The Girl From 10th Avenue," a screen drama based on the sensational stage play by Hubert Henry Davies.

Miss Davis' work in "Of Human Bondage" established her as one of the screen's outstanding emotional actresses. Opposite Paul Muni in "Bordertown," she added to her prestige. Now she has a part in which there is not only ample opportunity for her to display the dramatic ability for which she is famed but to which she can bring her fine, if seldom recognized, talent as a comedienne.

Supporting Miss Davis are two brilliant English stage and screen stars, Ian Hunter and Colin Clive. Others in the cast are Alison Skipworth, John Eldridge, Phillip Reed, Katherine Alexander, Helen Jerome Eddy, Gordon Elliott, Adrian Rosley, Andre Cheron and Edward McWade.

"The Girl From 10th Avenue" relates the adventures of a young shop girl who marries a society dandy at a cocktail party and then makes a man of him despite his addition to drink, wild women and foolish friends.
 Ian Hunter was brought to this country to play the part of Thesus in Warner Bros. "Midsummer Night's Dream," and was immediately engaged to play the role opposite Miss Davis. Colin Clive has the role of an old rake who marries Katherine Alexander, who portrays a married and flirtatious gold digger who don't care how many lives she ruins to further her own ends. Alfred E. Green directed from the screen play by Charles Kenyon.
