The Smiths Have Day At University

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (U) — The Smiths had their day at Lehigh University's midyear commencement exercises. Six Smiths received diplomas from Lehigh President Martin D. Whitaker. All told, 180 seniors graduated.

And there's still plenty of Smiths in Lehigh's classes today—25 in fact.

Tourists Miss U. S. Coffee, Sunshine

STRATFORD-UPON-AVON, England, (U) — Americans find this hometown of Shakespeare a fine place but there are some things they miss here. For example, beer after the theater (saloons close early), coffee at the inn and "California sunshine."

That's what some of them said in answering a questionnaire submitted to 1949 overseas visitors.

Countries Affirm Basic Principle

ROME, (U) — The legal committee of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) has reaffirmed the basic principle that compensation is due any person on the earth's surface who suffers damages as a result of objects falling from airplanes.

The ICAO group is composed of representatives from Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, France, Italy, Mexico, Norway, The Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, Czechoslovakia, Venezuela, Britain and the United States.

Gives Added Illumination

LOGAN, Utah, (U) — A rancher in Wyoming's Star valley hung a lighted lantern in his stock yard in the belief it would keep elk away from his haystack. E. Von Almen said he looked out late at night to see if the light was still burning. It was moving around the stock yard.

"I discovered," he said, "that an elk bull had the lighted lantern hanging from one of his antlers and was showing the elk cows where the best hay was."

LAB PRODUCES NEW TYPE OF SILAGE

Cattle Feeding Test Acclaimed As Success By Farm Experts

CHICAGO, Mar. 2, (U)—A new method of treating grass and legume silage is being offered to help solve many of the nation's soil and food problems.

More livestock feed at less cost. Increased butterfat production for dairy cattle, and heavier weight gains for beef cattle are claimed for it after lengthy tests in actual herd use.

Fred Rech, chief chemist for the Arcady Farms Milling Company, a producer of livestock feeds, led the company's laboratory research to produce the new type of silage.

"Farm experts have worried for decades about soil erosion and depletion," Rech said. "Now farmers are faced with severe crop surpluses. And many agree there is not enough meat being produced for the growing U. S. population. These are major farm problems today."

"On the other hand, many farm people realize more production of grass and legumes, such as alfalfa, clover, and cowpeas, would save soil. It also could cut down surplus crop acreages and permit increased production of livestock."

"But the question has been what to do with the grass and legumes after they are produced."

During warm months, the chemist said, livestock can forage on the fields and pastures, but not during the winter in northern states. Making dry hay from these crops, he added, has resulted in losses in Vitamin "A" reaching as high as 60 to 70 per cent, a poor investment for dairy herds where the vitamin content of butter and milk is of prime importance.

"It has been proved molasses is perhaps the best preservative for grass and legume silage," Rech said, "but in its liquid form it is inconvenient to use and has required supplemental proteins in the total cattle diet."

"That is why we wanted to find some way of making a mix which could be used dry with grass and legumes, and would carry both vitamins and proteins in the silage to the livestock."

The new dry mix contains 45 per cent pure cane molasses and nine per cent balanced protein. It is added as the silage is made. Vita-

Britain's Chief UN Delegate To Resign

By MAX HARRELSON
AP STAFF
LAKE SUCCESS, March 1—One of the world's most durable career diplomats, Sir Alexander Cadogan, is getting ready to retire after 42 years in British government service.

Cadogan, now 65, is chief British delegate to the United Nations. Officially he has nothing to say about his retirement plans but he has told associates that he will leave diplomacy soon.

The veteran diplomat's decision was not influenced by the outcome of the British elections. He never has taken an active part in party politics, although his father, the fifth earl of Cadogan, held several cabinet posts in Conservative governments.

As a civil servant Cadogan has been a close adviser to both Conservative Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Labor Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Both relied on his judgment in many delicate problems.

Although Cadogan has been much in the public eye during the last few years as Britain's top U. N. delegate, his most extensive and perhaps his most valuable service was a behind-the-scenes adviser.

During the critical years of 1938-46 he was permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs—the highest career post in the British Foreign Office. As adviser to Churchill, he attended all the big wartime conferences except Casablanca.

He doesn't like to talk about his personal role in these, but his associates say it was Cadogan who wrote the first draft of the document that became known as the Atlantic Charter.

Cadogan is a wiry man, with thinning gray hair and a brush mustache. He is British all through, imperturbable in any diplomatic clash, deliberate and soft-spoken. A rather retiring man, Cadogan does not often use sharp language, but on occasion he has shown that he can put the roughest opponent in his place.

Cadogan has a passion for brevity and clarity. Once when he was permanent undersecretary, he threatened to take away all the stenographers of the British diplomats abroad unless they turned in shorter and better notes. He is noted for his own brief speeches.

Cadogan's aides like to tell about the time he received a cable from London informing him that the foreign office was sending over a new adviser named Hesmondhalgh. Cadogan took one look at the name and remarked: "Let's call him Brown."

In private life, Cadogan likes to forget the world's problems. Both he and Lady Cadogan, the former Lady Theodosia Acheson, play golf regularly near their Long Island home. They also like the movies, although they avoid double features whenever they can. Cadogan enjoys an occasional scotch and soda, smokes a pipe or cigarette and eats any style of cooking.

Born Nov. 25, 1884, Cadogan was educated at Eton and Oxford. He began his diplomatic career in 1908 in Constantinople (now Istanbul). He soon went to Vienna and was there on June 28, 1914, the day Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife were assassinated at Sarajevo. At the beginning of the first world war, he returned to London to become a junior clerk in the foreign office.

After the war he served at Versailles and at Geneva where he was secretary-general and adviser to the British League of Nations delegation. When the Japanese invaded Manchuria, Cadogan was named ambassador to China. In 1938 he was called to the foreign office again and remained there throughout the second world war.

Before the fighting ceased, he created a new foreign office department called the E. and R. (Economic and Reconstruction Department) in which British planning for the postwar security organization was done. He led the British delegation to Dumbarton Oaks in 1944 and took a leading part in the San Francisco conference. In February 1946 he became Britain's permanent delegate to the U. N.

The Cadogans have three daughters, Patricia, Cynthia, Gillian Moya and a son, Alex Ambrose Patrick George—all now in England.

Spanish Casserole Made From Sausage

Pork is very plentiful, with a wide variety of cuts available. It is highly nutritious and should be served often, pork sausage—like a fresh pork—should be cooked well done for safety and to bring out its best flavor. When buying pork sausage, be sure it comes right out of the refrigerator and keep it refrigerated at home until used. When frying sausage, place in cold pan over low fire and cook slowly for about 12 minutes, turning once or twice, and pour off fat as it accumulates.

Spanish Casserole
1 dozen link sausages
1/2 dozen slices bacon
4 large carrots, finely diced

2 green peppers, chopped
4 medium sized onions, diced finely
1-3 cup tomato catsup
1-3 cup water

Wrap two sausages in each slice of bacon and secure with tooth picks. Fry until the bacon is crisp, draining off the fat frequently. Place in casserole and cover with carrots, green pepper and onion, which have been well mixed. Make a sauce of the catsup and water and pour over top. Cook, covered in a hot oven (450 F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour. Uncover and allow to brown during last 15 minutes of baking. Serves 6.

Chocolate Is Flavor Favorite Around The World

The flavor of chocolate is enjoyed by most everyone, and combines with other ingredients to produce fast-appealing and tasty cookies, cakes and other desserts. Feature chocolate desserts in special meals on St. Patrick's day when we honor the good saint by a display of green, top hats and shillalahs. Mint and chocolate are go-togethers as green mint ice cream and tiny chocolate candies made crunchy by the addition of corn flakes, oven-popped rice cereal, or corn-soya shreds fit the bill.

Give these chocolate recipes top billing:

Chocolate Bit Shamrocks
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1/2 pound marshmallows
5/8 cups oven-popped rice cereal
1 cup chocolate bits

Melt butter and marshmallows over hot water; beat thoroughly. Place rice cereal in greased large bowl. Pour the marshmallow mixture over rice cereal and stir until well mixed. Add the chocolate bits just before preheating the mixture into a greased square pan. Cut into shamrocks.

Yield: About 16 shamrocks.

Choco-Mintwiches
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup ready-to-eat bran
1/2 cup milk

Sift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and cocoa. Beat shortening until creamy, add sugar gradually, continue beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and ready-to-eat bran; beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix until well blended; wrap dough in waxed paper and chill.

Form into rolls about 2 inches in diameter, wrap well in waxed paper and chill for several hours or overnight. Cut in slices about 1/4 inch thick and place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 10-12 minutes or until done. Remove from baking sheets while still warm. When cold, put cookies together in pairs with Mint Filling.

Mint Filling
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract
2 drops green coloring

Combine sugar and salt; add milk gradually beating until smooth. Add flavoring and coloring; beat well.

Yield: 2 1/2 dozen Choco-Mintwiches.

Swiss Ring With Scrambled Eggs Is Supper Dish

Eggs make fine dishes for breakfast, dinner or supper. Use them often while they are cheap. An egg is both good eating and good nutrition. Not only do they provide adequate proteins for a main dish but they are quickly and easily prepared in many ways. A low cooking temperature is desirable for eggs. High temperatures make them tough and leathery.

1 1/2 cups raw rice
1 number 2 can tomatoes (not drained)
3 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons fat
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups grated cheese
6 eggs
1/4 cup milk
Dash of pepper
Butter
Parsley

Combine washed rice, tomatoes, water and salt in upper part of double boiler. Steam about 60 minutes until rice is tender. Cook onion and green pepper in fat until soft. Add grated cheese, onion and green pepper to rice. Taste and add more seasoning if desired. Pack into a well-greased 8-inch ring mold. Keep hot. Melt butter in skillet, pour in beaten eggs and milk, and scramble. Unmold the rice ring on a hot platter and fill center with scrambled eggs. Garnish with parsley.

Yield: 6 servings.

Use Leftover Egg Yolks From Chiffon Pies In Custards

Use leftover egg yolks from chiffon pies in making custards, mayonnaises, and as a coating for croquettes. One box of ordinary gelatin usually contains 4 small envelopes, each holding 1 tablespoon of gelatin. Never add ordinary gelatin to hot liquid without first softening it in cold water. Boiling and over-cooking are to be avoided.

Peppermint Chiffon Pie
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup water
3 egg whites
1/4 cup sugar
1 drop essence of peppermint or 1/4 teaspoon peppermint flavoring
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy (2 ounces)

1 cup whipping cream, whipped
Chocolate cookies or baked crust

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Beat egg whites until stiff and beat in sugar gradually. Add dissolved gelatin, flavoring, nuts, and candy. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into crust and chill. Makes a 9-inch pie.

Savory Pot Roast Provides Basis For Thrifty Variety At Mealtime

Savory pot roast provides the basis for three wonderful meals that bring mealtime variety at thrifty savings.

Purchase a large, 4 to 5 pound blade or round bone chuck roast that moist slow cooking makes fork-tender. Then before you start your pot roast, cut off about a pound of meat without any bone. This choice cut is perfect for an old-fashioned Swiss steak dinner you serve later in the week. Wrap in waxed paper and keep cold in the refrigerator.

The remaining meat, of course, is fine pot roast fare served with rich brown gravy and hearty vegetables. In preparing pot roast do as the cook book says and use the moist heat method of cooking known as braising. It's the sure road to flavorful meat that comes apart in juicy bundles when you lift it with a fork.

For a rich brown color, dip the meat in seasoned flour and brown slowly in some hot shortening in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven.

Then add a cup of tomato juice or soup stock to the well-browned meat, and some flavorful seasonings as cloves, bay leaf, peppercorns and sliced onion rings. Cover tightly and simmer slowly over low heat on top of the range or in a slow oven (325° F.) about 2 1/2 hours. Turn occasionally for even cooking and add more liquid if necessary, to keep meat from sticking to the bottom. Never drown the meat with too much liquid, as you lose out on the full meat flavor.

Vegetables, like whole onions, pared potatoes and carrots are extra-good cooked along with the pot roast. Add another 1/2 cup of liquid and simmer vegetables 40 minutes or until tender.

For speed-up preparation, pressure cook pot roast according to directions.

Arrange meat and vegetables on a heated platter and serve with a rich brown thickened gravy. Hot yeast rolls, buttered caraway noodles and steamed broccoli, make "pot roast for dinner" a special event.

Best of all, second and third day family meals are a snap with it as it is already on hand. There's satisfaction aplenty in the full-flavored goodness of a biscuit-topped meat pie or beef stew made with planned left-over beef.

In the following the meat is marinated in a spicy sauce for an intriguing flavor variation.

Spicy Pot Roast
Yield: 8 to 10 servings
4 pounds blade or chuck beef roast
2 cups vinegar
4 cups water
12 cloves
2 bay leaves
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups sliced carrots
1 cup sliced onions

Combine vinegar, water, cloves, bay leaves, salt and sugar. Pour over beef and let stand for several hours. Save liquid. Dip meat in flour and brown in hot fat in a heavy kettle or Dutch oven. Allow about 30 minutes for thorough browning. Add 2 cups of the spiced vinegar, the carrots and onions. Cover and simmer slowly over low heat 3 to 3 1/2 hours or until tender. Turn occasionally to insure even cooking; add more water if necessary. Serve hot with thickened brown gravy.

Country-Style Swiss Steak
Yield: 4 servings
1 pound steak cut from pot roast
1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons shortening

Chiang Once More Is President Of China

By SPENCER MOOSA
AP Staff

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 2 — Chiang Kai-shek became president of Nationalist China again Wednesday, 13 months after he retired from the job.

Premier Yen Hsi-shan, who has been performing the presidential functions for the last three months, promptly tendered the resignation of his cabinet. This was expected. Gen. Chen Cheng, a close friend

Bank Is Short Over $100,000; Cashier Blamed

ALPINE, March 2. — The First National Bank of Alpine reported Wednesday a "shortage" of $100,000 to $200,000 in its funds.

Both Sheriff Jim Skinner and Bank President George B. Ains blamed the shortage on a cashier who committed suicide early last month.

Auditors from El Paso discovered the "defalcations," Ains said.

John Clayton, cashier at the bank, was found dead of gunshot wounds on Feb. 2. His death was ruled a suicide. Clayton came to Alpine from El Paso 17 years ago. Ains said the shortage was immediately reported. The bonding company which had put up Clayton's bond covered $100,000 of the missing funds and bank directors put up the rest, the bank president said.

"There's no doubt that Clayton was solely responsible, and that he had no confederates," Ains said. "No legal action of an sort is possible now."

The shortage reported included some funds belonging to Sul Ross State College of Alpine.

Rule Deductible Clause Is Valid

AUSTIN, March 2. — The Third Court of Civil Appeals Wednesday ruled that the $100 deductible clause in windstorm, hurricane or hail insurance is valid.

In so doing, it reversed a trial court judgment which had been rendered in favor of Jess D. Carter against the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas.

Carter had tried to force cancellation of a bond order prohibiting any insurance company from insuring the first $100 of loss resulting from windstorm, hurricane or hail.

Wrote Associate Justice Robert G. Hughes.

"Appellee (Carter) is deprived of the right to insure his property against storm damage to the extent of the first $100 of his loss. This may be regrettable, but if to give him this privilege would so increase the cost of storm insurance as to be prohibitive, he and those like him must endure for the public good."

The appeals court reviewed testimony offered in the trial court showing that insurance companies had lost $25 million on windstorm insurance in Texas in about nine years just before the insurance commission adopted the $100 deductible order in September, 1946.

Crocodile Hunting Not So Lucrative

DARWIN, Australia. — Come to Darwin by all means, but don't expect to make a fortune shooting crocodiles, says Northern Territory Administrator A. R. Driver.

Crocodile hunting grounds in the vast thinly populated Northern Territory of Australia have been shot out in the last 20 years. The 30-foot monsters have gone, and today any croc more than 18 feet long is thought a good skin.

"Every year dozens of young men return south disheartened after having gambled their savings on a spotlight, a dinghy, a .303 rifle, and a dark, mosquito-ridden river," says Driver. Most of the successful shooters are established in some business in Darwin, and take a few months off each year to go shooting.

Aided Blind Man, Suffers Injuries

CHICAGO, Ill. — Mrs. Gladys Mattson took a blind man by the arm to help him across the street. A car ran through a red light and pushed the blind man out of the way. But she didn't have enough time to save herself. Her unselfish bore down on them. Mrs. Mattson died cost her several broken ribs.

Court Belittles Heifer's Attack

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A Maryland farm worker sued his employer, a Washington resident, for damages. He said a heifer had stepped on his foot, injuring him, and that the animal was "dangerous."

District Judge Richmond B. Keith wouldn't go along with him. He acknowledged heifers might be excitable but not generally dangerous, like a tiger or rattlesnake. He dismissed the suit.

They Were Wrong In This Instance

SINGAPORE, (U)—St. Margaret schoolgirls won a debate by instating honesty is not the best policy—but they are not so sure they were right.

 While they were arguing the point with the boys from St. Andrew's school, thieves sneaked into a nearby room where their belongings were hanging and made off with $150 in cash and much personal property. The boys, who didn't debate as well, perhaps, didn't lose a thing.

Texas Advancing In Hog Production

Texas is ninth among states in the number of hogs, says Fred Hale, professor of animal husbandry at Texas A&M College and an authority on swine. Outside the Corn Belt states Texas ranks first in this industry, which has become important in Texas.

Average hog population for Texas for the 10-year period, 1940-47, was 2,842,000. In 1943 the peak of 4,183,000 was reached but last year the number declined to 2,362,000 head.

Hale says Texas agriculture originally was based on cotton and cattle but today Texas is becoming more of a hog state. Income from hogs in Texas last year was almost twice the income of sheep.

Hale says that work of 4-H clubs and FFA chapters is partly responsible for bringing about the change in the swine picture.

He sees a much greater hog-producing potential for Texas in that 40 per cent of the grain sorghum and corn now produced would be enough to feed 4 million hogs to the 200-pound weight.

"Figuring one hog would feed two persons, 4 million hogs would be enough to provide the population of Texas with pork," Hale says.

Texas has a potential market for its swine in Mexico and South America, Hale believes. Texas now exports some pork from the Corn Belt but at the same time it also ships out many, most to California points. In 1939, the peak year of shipments to out-of-state points, Texas sent around 294,000 head to Los Angeles.

"On the whole," Hale says, "the hog business in Texas is fundamentally sound. Hogs will put on 100 pounds gain on less feed than any other farm animal. Initial investment is low, and returns are quick. Per pound price for hogs compares favorably with that of other animals and swine can be raised on small acreage."

Hale points out that by proper management, year-around green pastures can be produced in Texas, thus providing 20 to 40 per cent of the needed protein supplement and displacing five to 10 per cent of the required grain.

According to Hale 80 per cent of the production cost should be allotted to feeds. This means that if $100 is spent to feed hogs, they would have to be sold for more than $125 to show a profit.

TARDY SINGERS ESCAPE BLAST

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2. — Because everyone in the choir of the West Side Baptist Church was late for practice, the church was empty when an explosion ripped it apart last night.

The choir was to have met at 7:30 o'clock. At 7:35 the unexplained blast leveled the building and shattered windows and shook plaster from the walls of nearby homes and stores. No one was injured.

Fire Chief Cecil Hess said the cause of the explosion hadn't been determined.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

As we get older, stress and strain, overwork, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complaints of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up stiff or frequent urination may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, depression or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wall, try Don's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 45 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Don's give happy relief — help the 15 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Don's Pills today!

Old Millstones Defy Father Time

MILLINGTON, Md. — Time hasn't been able to do much more than gnaw up a set of grinding stones at the old Millington Mill.

Serenely, under its seventh owner, the mill pursues the placid business started 186 years ago when Thomas Gilpin built it with bricks imported from England.

The structure has three stories, with beams roughly hewn from tree trunks, fastened with wooden pegs. One of the thick timber beams in the center of the first floor ceiling shows a long gash down the side, a memento of the war of 1812. The mill was used as a granary then and the gash was produced by over loading the second floor with grain.

Ex-GI Robert O'Dell is the current owner of the venerable mill. O'Dell and his brother Dorn now grind out flour and corn meal for the farmers and villagers of Maryland's seacoast and withdrawn Eastern Shore in much the same fashion as the generations of millers before them.

Father Killed In Plane Crash

BEAUMONT, Calif., March 2. — A woman and her 3-year-old child, both too badly hurt to crawl away, lay for eight hours beside the body of their husband and father yesterday after their plane crashed against a mountainside.

The wreckage hung so precariously on a rocky ledge that rescuers had to lash it down before they could rescue the woman and child and lower them by ropes to waiting stretchers below. The body of the pilot was left in the plane overnight.

D. R. Roark, 28, Downey, was killed outright in the crash. His wife, Esther, 28, suffered a broken back and his daughter, Sharon Ann, a leg fracture.

West Berlin Wants No Red Rowdiness

BERLIN, March 2. — Mayor Ernst Reuter promised West Berlin today his police will stop any attempts at rowdiness when 500,000 East German youths stage a rally here the last week in May.

Reuter told the city council: "We will not permit any marching from the east (Soviet) sector or into or through West Berlin. Neither will we allow any entry into West Berlin by automobile, vehicle or other public means of transport."

Reuter declared the youth congress is one of a series of "planned plots" by the Reds to stir up unrest in West Berlin. He urged the public to meet any such threat with the same firmness with which they met the Soviet blockade.

Couple Charged In Thornton Slaying

AMARILLO, March 2. — Ewald Johnson and his blonde wife, Diana Jean, are charged with murder with malice in the killing of W. A. Thornton in an indictment returned yesterday by the Potter County Grand Jury.

Thornton, famed oil field explosives expert, was beaten to death in an Amarillo tourist court the night of June 22, 1949.

Policeman Wants To Be Protected

LOS ANGELES, March 2. — Policeman Clarence J. Wahl, 32, used to handling tough criminals, asks superior court to protect him—from his wife.

He made the request yesterday while filing for a divorce on charges of cruelty and intemperance. Wahl said his wife often accuses him while he is patrolling his beat, calling him "vile and abusive" names and threatening bodily harm.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY, DALLASITE FILES SUIT TO REGAIN SEIZED CAR

SPOKANE, Wash., March 2. — A Texas man has filed suit here to regain his car, seized by police with a 100-mile an hour chase.

Thomas Garner of Dallas, wanted in this area on a burglary charge, states in his suit that Sheriff Ralph Smith seized illegally an expensive auto last November and has refused to return it. The car contained about $1,000 in personal property, the suit said.

Attorney Fred Lewis filed the complaint for Garner yesterday. Sheriff Smith was ordered by Judge Ralph Edgerton to appear in court Friday to show why he should not return the car and property.

The sheriff took possession of the car when it was wrecked and abandoned after leading officers on a wild chase from the Stateline Village, Idaho, to Spokane, Nov. 21.

Three armed men escaped from the car and money taken during a safe burglary at Stateline Village that night was found in the auto, Smith said.

Other property found in the car was identified by sheriff's officers as that of Garner, Hollis Green and James Duane Smith.

Income Levels Affect All Food Prices

By SAM DAWSON
AP Staff
NEW YORK, March 1. — Amerca's changing eating habits—and perhaps even more its shifting income levels—affect the food business and food prices today almost as much as the vagaries of supply.

Food dealers are always at the mercy of supply—weather, government subsidies, export demand, import threats, all play their part.
But demand isn't as constant a factor as you might think. When you move into a higher income bracket, you're apt to change not only the quality of the food you buy, but also the very kinds of foods you buy.

For example, if you get richer, you're apt to buy more frozen fruits and vegetables than our poorer neighbors. They stick closer to

Lone Star State Declared Independent In Year 1836

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
A melancholy newspaperman wrote the Texas Declaration of Independence 114 years ago.

Presumably, it was written the night of March 1, 1836. The place was Washington-on-the-Brazos.
Even as his quill pen scratched into that first monumental sentence of more than 300 words, the doomed defenders of the Alamo were making their stand.

The Goliad massacre was 26 days away. In less than two months, the decisive battle of San Jacinto would be fought and independence would be assumed.

As George Campbell Childress wrote, a northerly blow in and dropped the temperature to 33 degrees. He was 32 then and he had five more years of life.

Dr. Herbert Gambrell, chairman of Southern Methodist University's history department and author of "Anson Jones, Last President of Texas," told us the story of Child-dress. Much of his information came from L. W. Kemp of Houston, well-known Texas historian.

An earnest young man of rather violent disposition, Childress was born in Tennessee and admitted to the bar in Davidson County, Tenn., in 1828. In 1834 he became editor of the Nashville Banner and Nashville Advertiser. The next year he took over the editorship of the Nashville Daily News.

JOHN F. JONES

GARDEN CITY, March 2.—Election of John Frank Jones, Big Spring, as superintendent of Glasscock county schools, has been announced by H. A. Haynes, president of the board.

Jones, head of the department of business administration at Howard County Junior College since it opened in August 1946, is to assume his new duties July 1. He will succeed C. G. Parsons.

Twenty-four years of teaching experience are back of the superintendent-elect. He holds bachelor and masters degrees from the East Texas State college at Commerce and has done one year of work toward his doctor's degree at the University of Texas. He taught for 14 years and served two others in an administrative capacity at Tex-arkana before coming to Big Spring.

At the junior college, in addition to instructional duties, Jones was faculty sponsor for the first student yearbook and newspaper.
He also served as "bursar," a combination business post.

Jones is a member of the Lions club in Big Spring, the I.O.O.F. and Masonic lodges, and of the Gideon's. He is a Baptist and in the past has done scout work.
He and Mrs. Jones have two children.

Childress had an uncle in Texas —Sterling C. Robertson—one of the impressarios who had obtained a big grant of land in the Milam County area. In Nashville, Child-dress began espousing the cause of the Texas revolution. He made at least two eloquent speeches to raise funds and enlist volunteers.

And in December, 1835, he came to Texas, arriving at the Red River border on the 13th of that month.
He went to his uncle's colony. On Feb. 1, 1836, the people of the colony elected him a delegate to the convention of the people of Texas at Washington-on-the-Brazos.

On March 1, at the convention, he moved that a committee be named to draft a declaration of independence. He was named on the committee and did the writing. It was ready for adoption the next day. "An excellent statement of the cause of Texas," said Gambrell.

"A wonderful document."

After that, Childress practiced law a while in Houston and went back to Tennessee. But he returned to Galveston in 1841. There, at a boarding house on Oct. 6, 1841, he stabbed himself to death with a Bowtie knife. He left a letter which said: "I cannot bear to live longer."

Childress County was named for him and in 1934 the State of Texas erected a monument in his honor at Galveston.

The food habits of the various income classes have been reduced to statistics by the National Industrial Conference Board.

The part that income plays in eating habits is strikingly shown in the case of frozen fruits and vegetables, a comparative newcomer.
Those making $7,500 or more a year consume three times more per capita than the average, while those in the lowest income brackets consume less than half the average.

Bakery products find the greatest per capita consumption among those in the $3,000 to $4,000 a year class. The same is true for such prepared dishes as soups, and for potatoes and sugars and sweets.
Greatest per capita consumption of fats and oils, dried fruits and vegetables, flour and other cereal foods is by families with incomes under $2,000 a year. Least per capita consumption of all of these is by those in the $7,500-plus group.

The upper brackets consume the most fresh fruits, milk, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, and fresh vegetables, and the lowest income brackets consume the least.
Canned fruits, vegetables and juices appeal most to those making between $4,000 and $5,000.
Those making less than $1,000 buy

Just Wash—Wring Out—Hang Up!

Now a rinse-free washday—thanks to Procter & Gamble's Tide! All over America women are talking about the amazing fact that you can wash with Tide—without rinsing!

Here Are The Facts About Washing Without Rinsing

- 1. Will this method get clothes really clean? Yes, Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the wash-water—and clothes come from the wringer CLEAN... and as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.
- 2. Will clothes come white? Yes, dazzling white! It is almost impossible to tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed white shirt.
- 3. How about ironing unwashed clothes? When you wash with Tide—without rinsing—clothes dry soft and fluffy... iron easily.
- 4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe... skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

British Shakeup Demanded As Atom Spy Draws 14-Year Term

By WILLIAM H. OATIS
AP STAFF
LONDON, March 2.—The strange spy career of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, sentenced to 14 years in prison for giving atomic secrets to Russia, led today to British Press demands for a major shakeup and investigation of this country's security organization.

There was little doubt in unofficial circles that the Fuchs trial yesterday would rock this country's counter-espionage setup and probably would touch off an intensive check of every individual connected with Britain's atomic research.

The London Daily Herald said "British intelligence services are to be overhauled immediately." The Daily Herald, organ of the ruling Labor party, predicted there would be "sweeping changes in the security measures at government research establishments."

No officials connected with security, however, would comment on the case at all.

The big question was: How did the brilliant German-born scientist—a professed Communist since 1932—manage to dupe Britain's security officials for seven years?

An editorial in the Daily Telegraph explained it by saying security measures were too slow to change when the wartime co-operation between Russia and the west turned into the cold war of today.

The impression was general here that British agents and the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation had already set out one of history's greatest dragnets for the men to whom Fuchs handed important information on the atom bomb and possibly even on the projected hydrogen bomb.

This international manhunt would not necessarily be confined only to Russians. For in Fuchs' confession he did not name the nationality of the person he first contacted in 1942. He merely said he "established contact with another member of the Communist Party."

The issue likely to bring about the most searching inquiries—perhaps even in parliament—was the fact that Fuchs' attorney said he came from Germany in 1932 as a known Communist and "never pretended to be anything else."

He even managed to escape the purge of Communists and fellow travelers from government departments handling state secrets, which was launched by the Atee Government almost two years ago.

Filling Of Judge's Post Clears Way To Some Important Business

Selection of John L. Dibrrell, Jr. to serve out the unexpired term of the late J. E. Brown as county judge puts at an end speculation over the vacancy. The choice came as a surprise to many not close to the situation, but when several applicants had been eliminated for various reasons, the Big Spring businessman, who had filed at the request of a number of friends, stood as the logical choice.

Matters Pointing Toward Census, And It's Vital We Have Good One

Sam Goldman has been announced as the county supervisor for the decennial U.S. census. His is a comparatively brief, but a vital job. Between now and April, Goldman will be confronted with the necessity of special schooling, recruiting a capable staff of enumerators, field workers and others, and of seeing that they are trained.

ened during the past three and a half years in which he has engaged in business here. He will find an ample amount of work to occupy his attention. Always there is an abundance of routine such as signing probate forms, passing on sub-age driver license applicants, presiding over sessions of the county and commissioners courts. To these will be added some extra work, such as directing the acquisition of right-of-way for the Vealmoor road and the Knott road, if the county really intends to turn it over to the state highway department.

Acheson's Political Vulnerability To Have Repercussions Upon U.S. Foreign Policy

In its report from Washington the February "Atlantic Monthly" said that "the story of American foreign policy in the next few months will be in large part the story of Secretary Acheson's conflicts with Congress... Acheson's vulnerability on Capitol Hill is based on the fact that he has little political strength in his own right. He is building a following by his force of mind and general ability. But he did not come into office with the kind of grass roots strength which makes a Congressman think twice before he attacks."

British Labor Regime's Slim Majority May Prove Blessing

DESPITE THE INSTABILITY OF BRITAIN'S Labor government because of the tiny parliamentary majority it received in the general election, there is no reason to assume that her home affairs or foreign relations are going to rot. Actually the very uncertainty of tenure may prove to be a blessing in disguise. This is due to the fact that England's critical economic situation and her vast responsibilities as one of the big three western powers call for a minimum of political confusion.

Six Ex-Commies Tell Why They Become Disillusioned With Party

WASHINGTON, (AP)—IN "THE GOD THAT FAILED," a recently published book, six well-known writers tell why they became Communists or sympathizers and then backed away. It tries to answer at least one question: Why communism appealed to a number of intellectuals, here and abroad, particularly in the 1930's and before. Some of them were amazingly foggy about communism when they joined the parade.

Merry-Go-Round-Drew Pearson

Merry-Go-Round-Drew Pearson Acheson's Political Vulnerability To Have Repercussions Upon U.S. Foreign Policy

great and difficult decisions can be made only by the President himself, and the Secretary of State can only be the President's minister. Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson, and Franklin Roosevelt made foreign policy. When the President has not done this, foreign policy has languished. Though Hughes was a far abler than Harding, though Stimson was far wiser in foreign affairs than Hoover, they were unable to conduct a successful foreign policy.

But the strongest Secretary of State will be in trouble—particularly in the time of crisis—if the President himself is not strongly and continuously in command of the conduct of foreign affairs. Only the President can bring all the departments and his own majority in Congress into line behind a decision in foreign policy.

Now Mr. Acheson is extraordinarily well equipped by experience and bent of mind to be a minister of foreign affairs. Limiting ourselves to this century, it would be fair, I think, to put him in the small class with Root, Hughes and Stimson—if we measure him by intellectual grasp of the issues and by the integrity of his public virtue.

Nostradamus Prophesied Paris' Final Destruction By H-Bomb

The other day, I ran across something in the prophesies of Nostradamus which seems to refer to the hydrogen bomb. First of all, a word about Nostradamus. You've probably heard of him. He was a 16th century French physician, and a good one even by modern medical standards. Among other things, he revolutionized the treatment of the black plague, and laid the groundwork for its eventual eradication. His achievements as a physician alone would have brought him lasting fame, but today he is remembered chiefly as the prophet who foretold the French revolution, World War I and the final destruction of Paris.

has gone so far as to assert that everyone is a clairvoyant in his dreams. In other words, a goodly proportion of our dreaming is concerned with the future, and thus when a certain scene or event strikes us as familiar, we may be sure that it was foretold to us in our dreams. Clairvoyance in the waking state, however, appears to be a gift which is given to only two or three persons in a million. Nostradamus was easily the greatest prophet since Biblical times, but there have been several others in each generation whose prophesies likewise came true in an astonishing fashion. Jacques Cazotte, for example, also foretold the French revolution, as well as its effects upon himself and his friends.

ECA Debate May Bring Issue Of European Goods Into Open

WASHINGTON, —The 1950 drive for European recovery funds is keyed to the principle that world trade means world peace and the accompanying thesis is that America must buy if it intends to sell. A special mission went to Europe last summer to study means of expanding export trade; U. S. officials freely scolded ECA beneficiaries, especially Britain, for not pushing their goods into U. S. markets.

tion, Harrison and Abramovitz, is that there would be difficulty with the labor unions over handling outside materials. This is interesting since the labor unions nationally are among the most vocal ECA supporters. The British have been asking the blunt question of whether this country really wants foreign goods since its Seattle experience last month. A leading British electrical firm underbid its nearest American competitor by a quarter of a million dollars on a new Seattle power plant but lost out. Tariff-minded senators answer to all this that full employment here and a stable America is the greatest contribution this country can make to peace. Some argue for outright dollar gifts rather than trade concessions.

Boyle Gives Case Background Of Okla's Prodigal Zoo Leopard

NEW YORK, (AP)—OKLAHOMA'S PRODIGAL leopard had more friends in death today than he ever knew in life. Millions of Americans felt a twinge of regret at the passing of this beautiful creature, who crept back to his zoo home after 61 hours of fruitless wildcatting. The way I look at it, the re-appearing leopard was just another mouse-bearded American husband, misunderstood both by his wife and his alarmed human neighbors.

But he couldn't find any. All he saw was a puny tomcat, and when the tomcat saw Louie he ran like hell. So Monday night, weary, hungry and bedraggled, Louie said to himself: "Poor Hortense. I'll bet she's feeling lonesome. Anyway she's learned her lesson. I'd better go back and see how she is." And back went Louie, the homing pigeon, with his tail between his legs. Fifteen hours later he was dead. And the odd thing was that Louie, who never had even blown the foam off a mug of beer, probably just slept himself to death under the influence of the drug, chloral hydrate, which is often used to quiet noisy drunks.

Bush Being Groomed For New Science Job

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
 WASHINGTON, March 2. (U)—Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.) said today he will urge President Truman to name Dr. Vannevar Bush as head of a new national science foundation now approved by both the Senate and House.

Bush was at the forefront of America's wartime scientific research effort. As chief of the proposed foundation he would carry out the same duty in peacetime.

His wartime record weighed heavily with security-conscious House members. Before passing the foundation bill yesterday they tied to it some of the most stringent security and loyalty checks yet to be required of any federal agency.

Following House passage, the bill went to the Senate preparatory to ironing out what its supporters consider minor differences between versions passed by the two chambers.

Population Requires New School

(First of a series of articles on the Big Spring School problem.) The proposed new high school is not a case of keeping up with the Joneses — rather keeping up with the stork.

In 1916 when the present high school was built, the district census was 1,116. By the time extensions to the building were utilized in 1928, there were 2,377 scholars in the district.

Today the district has more than 4,100 scholars, but the high school space is the same as it was more than 20 years ago. Actually, it is less, because one wing had to be practically demolished for safety reasons.

The building now takes care of an enrollment of 850 pupils—which is more than a third of the entire district census when the enlarged building was provided.

Prospects are that the situation could get much worse. For instance, the present seventh grade has 270 pupils, the sixth 297, the fifth 315. Classes in high school show promise of averaging about 150 graduates per year the next three years.

That probably wouldn't solve the entire problem, but it would reduce by more than half the number of sections of half-day sessions. Combustions possible under more space now being provided may further reduce the half-day practice.

There are two reasons for the steady increase in the scholastic population. One is a steady growth of the city. Building permits, utility connections, water taps all reflect this progress.

The quickest approach, oddly enough, is to start at the top with a new high school plant adequate to meet the needs for many years. This is the step that propertied taxpayers will be asked to take in balloting on a $950,000 bond issue Tuesday.

Big Spring-Snyder Bus Route Open To Passenger Traffic First schedules on the Big Spring-Snyder bus route were run between the points Wednesday.

Although service was started without fanfare, there were four passengers on hand to ride the initial run leaving at 8:45 a.m. and a like number for the 4 p.m. run.

Equipment operated by R. L. Terry, Snyder, owner of the line, is a 16-passenger Ford sub bus. Running time is one hour and 15 minutes between the terminal points.

Terry, who holds a permit from the Texas railroad commission, has indicated that the present schedules are subject to change should demand indicate more popular hours for the runs.

UMW Is Innocent Of Court Contempt

Seizure Of Mines May Be Imminent

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The United Mine Workers today were found innocent of contempt of court in the 25-day soft coal strike.

Federal Judge Richmond B. Keach, who heard the case without a jury, announced a verdict of "not guilty" on both the civil and criminal contempt charges.

The judge said that he had considered the government's petition and "found on the record" that the charges of contempt of his Feb. 11 back to work order were not supported.

The union had contended that it was in no way responsible for the refusal of the miners to work. Its defense was that the 372,000 coal diggers had each quit work by individual decision, not by direction of the union.

It took Keach just two minutes to announce his decision. After offering counsel for both sides an opportunity to be heard and saying that he had "heard none" the judge signaled to the marshal to escort him from the courtroom.

He made his announcement soberly and white-faced. Keach had prepared a long written opinion, but announced his ruling and did not bother to read the prepared document.

The decision was a stunning surprise to the crowded court room because the union in two previous strike cases has been held guilty and compelled to pay fines aggregating $2,130,000.

Government officials increasingly concerned over the spreading economic effects of the coal production stoppage had placed high hopes on the contempt case as a means of getting the miners back to work.

There are indications the government may now turn to seizure of the mines unless there is a quick contract agreement that gets coal production going again.

Smith Seeking Re-Election As Commissioner

First announcement for a place on the Big Spring city commission, subject to the municipal election of April 4, came Thursday from Jack Y. Smith, an incumbent.

Smith is one of three members of the commission whose terms expire this year. Others are H. W. Wright and C. W. Deats.

Smith is serving his first term. He said Thursday he is submitting his name for reelection "in the hope that my experience on the city council to date has given me such understanding of the municipality's affairs that I can be of further service for another two-year term."

Smith is personnel director for the Cosden Petroleum corporation, is a long-time resident of the city, and has been active in various civic affairs.

"I do not take the job of city commissioner lightly," he said. "I am fully aware that Big Spring has some pressing problems ahead, notably in the field of water and sewer expansion. The solution of these problems will not be easy, but if the people see fit to return me to office, I will put every effort, on the basis of my experience to date as a commissioner, toward working with other commissioners in handling the affairs of the city properly."

Clary Murder Trial Marked By Fireworks

COLORADO CITY, Mar. 2. (SpI)—Clashes between state and defense counsel marked the morning of the fourth day of Cliff Clary's trial in 32nd district court here.

First witness to testify was Dr. O. H. Chandler, practicing physician in Ballinger and formerly Clary's family doctor. Carl Runge, defense lawyer, at one point attempted to have the doctor disqualified on certain medical expert technicalities.

Under questioning, he stated that he based his opinion on "findings of blood in the breathing passages, the lungs, and stomach."

Attempts of the defense to shake his testimony failed. Other witnesses to testify during the morning session were Lyle ranchers who were neighbors to Clary while he was ranch foreman for Cleo Smith, J. L. Martin, former owner of a drive-in tourist court in San Angelo, testified that his records show Clary had registered at his court 10 times between October, 1947, and January, 1948.

Mrs. Mildred Blackstone, subpoenaed by the state, appeared as a listener in the courtroom Wednesday afternoon. Texas Ranger Ralph Robatsch escorted her to the room for witnesses in the trial.

O'Neal Dendy, district attorney from San Angelo, called Mrs. Blackstone late Thursday morning, then excused her without questions and called Mrs. Tommy Roth, a former neighbor of Mrs. Blackstone. Mrs. Blackstone did not testify in Clary's original trial in Ballinger.

U. S. Ready To Aid Tito Further WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The United States, after granting another $20 million loan to help shore up Yugoslavia's economy, appears ready to hand out more if Marshal Tito runs into new financial trouble.

The Export-Import Bank granted the credit yesterday, in response to urgent pleas for help. It offers new evidence of this country's readiness to take "calculated risks" to help Tito win his life-and-death fight to remain independent of Moscow.

The new credit is to be used mainly to buy American raw materials and machinery and supplies now cut off from Yugoslavia by a tight Russian-led trade blockade.

Cigarettes Stolen As Tax Boosted SAN ANTONIO, March 2. (AP)—There are 120,000 cigarettes somewhere in San Antonio on which the new one-cent state tax is not likely to be paid.

Valued at $1,000, 10 cases were stolen from the truck of a local wholesale tobacco company today—the first day the added one-cent tax was effective.

BIG SPRINGERS PROMISED SOMETHING SPECIAL

Lions Minstrel To Open In Auditorium Today

Minstrel days—faster and funnier—are back today. Curtain goes up at promptly 8 p.m. today at the city auditorium on the Lions club's third annual minstrel show. In addition to the 40-voice minstrel chorus, there will be a rapid-fire sequence of novelty numbers to which the show merges along.

Indications are that the production will move faster and that the situations and gags will be funnier than before. As for scenes and costumes, there is no comparison. Ray Rogers, who supervises the stage arrangements, said that the 20 drops and scenes were the largest number ever used in a show in the auditorium.

The production is timed as a two-hour show. It is produced by the John B. Rogers Co., the producers of Centurama, the Big Spring Centennial show last October.

Proceeds will go for local welfare projects. Candy sales will spark the intermission period. A copious supply of prizes will be on display.

Country school. All these scenes whip back and fourth with scarcely a break. The junior executive (E. H. Boulton, Jr.) and secretary (Mrs. Munson Coignont) stir comical activity.

There follows a sequence of the "Two-Timers," and one by Mrs. E. B. McCormick on the busy housewife, and a novelty by Jack Smith and Lorena Brooks, Eighteen gaily costumed characters help air the babies in the park. Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Neely (the Blots) and Vernon Baird (the baby) have their troubles as does Clara Zack as the marm for a Bob Tidwell, Bill Dawes, Lea Kornfield, Munson Compton, Dan Conley, Mary Jane Hamilton, Barbara Lytle, Louis Lovess, and Dr. Cullen Chapman. The "H-Yaler Strutters" will give a lively demonstration of precision acrobatic dancing before the lively grand finale.

Gags for the banter between Mr. Interlocutor and end men are all new—and so is the city auditorium's sound system. Thus, club official, hopefully point out, every scene should be a good one. Final performance of the show is set for 8 p.m. Friday.
