

NRA FILIBUSTER IS FEARED IN SENATE TODAY

that reminds me...

After listening to those who are really interested in a swimming pool for Eastland—and we certainly should have one—and also looking over the field, there is no better place in the country for one than the city park west of the city. Those who will take time to drive around the park, get the beautiful bird's-eye view in all directions will admit that there is one place that could be made into a paradise. It is hoped that everybody will get behind the move and see that we do have a swimming pool for Eastland.

It took over two years to even get an inkling of who might have had anything to do with the kidnapping and murder of Chas. A. Lindbergh, Jr. It didn't hardly take a month to catch up with those who kidnaped little George Weperhouser. When that kidnaping money got to flowing around things began to pop and the G-Men were on their trail hot and furious. That the job was well planned in catching up with them and well done is indicated that so far not a drop of blood has been shed in the capture. A certain fellow that they are after may give them trouble if they catch him, but he'll have to be quick and alert to get the advantage. Those G-Men mean business and mean to get their man. Kidnapers can well see now that kidnaping doesn't pay any more.

Which is all on the cards for any other crimes that are committed with deliberation. The present determination of the government to stamp out crime is only in its infancy. When it grows up, what a perfect system will be perfected. It's time to think twice along the crime road.

Miss Maxine Francis, popular dancing instructor of Eastland and who has for several years enjoyed large classes will present her ensemble of pupils in a dance revue Friday evening at the Connellee Theatre. As usual there is no doubt but what it will be entertaining worth while for every minute during the program. Miss Francis is an exceptional dancing artist herself and always pleases when she appears on a program. For good, wholesome, unpretentious, take time off and go to the revue. It will do you good and inspire the performers to greater ambitions to succeed in their efforts to please. There is nothing more graceful, healthful and inspiring than classical dancing. Every girl should take up the art.

More cloudy weather with scattered showers gave promise to keep up today. Farmers are hurrying out of the fields, and here's hoping that they can get the job done without any injury from heavy rains. After that is done a few more good rains won't hurt. South Texas watermelons are finding their way in the Eastland markets. But just wait a few more days after eating southern watermelons and watch for our own juicy home grown ones. Then you will smack your lips with sweet watermelon juice running down your chin. Um-m-m you tell 'em.

Important Events Of Passion Week Given In Play

When the Passion Play is presented in Europe, the majority of the daylight hours are required to stage the German version in its entirety. When the Passion Play was first brought to America, those responsible realized that it would be impossible to hold an American audience in this country as long as in Europe.

After much consultation with the religious and secular leaders it was decided that the performance would run three hours, with two short intermissions.

The principal difference between the Passion Play as presented by the Great European Players in America and the German production at Oberammergau is that, in Germany, the production begins with the nativity and presents many Old Testament scenes. In America, the Passion Play is limited to the Passion week of Christ dealing only with the important events of the last seven days of Christ's life on earth.

All Passion Plays begin with a prologue. The Great European Passion Play that will be presented for three night performances in the Ranger Recreation building under the auspices of a committee composed of the leading civic and religious leaders in Ranger, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 17, 18 and 19, begins with the triumphant entry into Jerusalem.

The production that will be in Ranger presents one healing scene, that of healing the blind, and in Germany many are presented. According to Mary Kaufman, the advance representative for the players who is in Ranger assisting with the production, the one big difference in the performances is that in Germany they depend upon daylight and the European players depend upon a skillful blending of 25,000 watts of electricity made up of a myriad of colors.

Mr. Nat Wade, who portrays King Herod, and who is widely known for his staging of these plays, is stage director of the company. With the required equipment necessary many beautiful effects result from his skillful efforts.

Oklahoma Miners Return to Work

PICHER, Okla., June 12.—Almost three thousand lead and zinc mine and mill workers were back on the job in the tri-state mine area today with reopening of the Eagle-Picher Company plant here. Oklahoma and Kansas National Guards were on duty, but there were few pickets left.

It was estimated that less than 1,000 were on strike.

Covering of Sin Tragedy Is Told At Revival Meet

"The Tragedy of Covering Sins" was the sermon subject used by Evangelist John L. Knight, who is conducting a revival meeting at the Church of the Nazarene. He said in part:

"Two facts are unquestioned. First, no one will deny the fact of sin. We know that sin is on every side. Secondly, that mankind tries to cover his sins. Since the days of Adam men have tried to sew fig leaves together in an effort to cover their sins. It may be my church membership that some seek to hide their evil hearts; others by 'playing familiar' with evil trails, or even more dangerous, being too familiar with the opposite sex. From this evil method spring the desire to commit that sin so prevalent among both the young and old. This truth is too evident to require comment. Men sin and men endeavor to cover that sin. But the divine injunction is 'He that covereth his sins shall not prosper.' Though the sinner stands condemned under this thunderbolt of God's eternal declaration, nevertheless there is hope for 'who so confesseth and forsaketh them (sins) shall have mercy.' There is salvation full and free for all who the voice of God calls to every unsaved person here tonight. Will you come, trust Him now? There is life for a look." A number responded to the invitation and blessed fruitage was seen at the altar.

The praise services conducted by Mother Corbett are times of rejoicing. Brother Knight will only be with us for three more nights. All Eastland ought to hear his timely messages each evening at 8 o'clock. REPORTER.

First of Safety Classes Is Held By Lone Star Group

The first of a series of five two-hour first aid courses was instituted in Ranger by the safety department of the Lone Star Gas System on Monday of this week. Alton Alfred, assistant to A. W. Breeland of the safety department is in charge of the training school, and will probably be located in Ranger for the next several weeks in furtherance of the first aid training.

It is estimated that probably several hundred Lone Star employees will have received the essentials of the work by the time the instruction is completed. A working knowledge of such important subjects as shock, heat exhaustion, drowning, cuts, burns, fractures, and their respective first aid treatment is being given the employees in order that he might be able, not only to care for himself or his fellow employee, but also for the benefit of his family or fellow citizen, as the opportunity may present itself.

The first two weeks of the course will be devoted to employees of the Lone Star Gasoline company, and the balance of the schedule to those of the Lone Star Gas and other affiliated companies.

AUSTIN, June 12.—Drilling on many small tracts of oil land will be halted by a decision today of the supreme court favoring the Humble Oil & Refining company in a suit with C. H. Brown and others and the railroad commission of Texas and others.

The court upheld the Austin civil appeals decision that railroad commission rule 37 allowed drainage. The appeals court had authorized an injunction. Removal of the injunction was sought by the plaintiff.

We are having visitors at every service from Breckenridge, Olden Ranger, Carbon, Gorman, Flatwood, Yellow Mound, Abilene and other places.

Texas Ranges 13 Per Cent Better In Month of May

AUSTIN, June 12.—Texas cattle ranges improved 13 points during the month of May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 79 per cent of normal compared with 78 per cent a year ago and 86.1 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. On an average cattle ranges improve about 3 points during May.

Rainfall has been abundant for the major portion of the state during the month of May. The eastern and southeastern sections had excessive rainfall, which resulted in damage from floods. There is an abundance of soil moisture now and grass has made luxuriant growth.

Conditions have improved greatly in the North Central Plains area and in the major portion of the High Plains of Texas, but in some localities more rains are needed to insure good prospects for summer ranges.

In general, the major portion of Texas has been supplied with ample rainfall, which has resulted in good soil moisture, ample surface water for livestock, and a marked improvement of ranges. The prospects for summer ranges were better than "fair" on June 1.

Sheep ranges improved 20 points during the month of May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 79 per cent of normal compared with 78 per cent a year ago and 87.5 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. On an average sheep ranges improve 6 points during May. The eastern portion of the sheep area is in fairly good shape and prospects for summer ranges are good. The western portion is still deficient in soil moisture, although some good local rains fell there during the month of May. The Trans-Pecos region was still in bad shape on June 1. Range feed was inadequate and more moisture was needed.

Cattle condition improved 7 points during May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 77 per cent of normal compared with 79 per cent a year ago and 86.3 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. The condition of cattle for the major part of the State is rated as fairly good, but the cattle in the northwestern and western portions are in less than "fair" condition.

Cattle losses have been relatively small from Jan. 1 to date. The heaviest losses occurred in West Texas, due to drought and dust storms; and in southeast Texas along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, due to wet, cold weather. Calf losses for the state as a whole were also light. A considerable number of young calves were lost in some localities of West Texas because of the weakened condition of cows due to the drought.

Woman in Threet Cases Hopes For A Second Trial

AUSTIN, June 12.—Mary Lou Howell, sentenced to 20 years from Callahan county for robbery in connection with the death of L. F. Threet, rancher near Cisco last August, today hoped for a new trial after filing an appeal in the court of criminal appeals Tuesday.

Case of Mary Lou Howell charged with murder in connection with the Threet death will be tried sometime this summer in an Eastland county district court, attorneys indicate.

One, Clifford Doggett, has been assessed the death penalty for murder in connection with the Threet death. Elmer Van Cleave, charged with murder and robbery in connection with the Threet case, is yet to be tried either in Baird or Eastland district court.

Mary Lou Howell reported previously released after making bond, is in Baird jail. District Attorney Grady Owen corrected recently, saying law provides that persons assessed sentences of 20 years shall not be allowed freedom.

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., June 12.—King George, whose subjects were stirred to anxiety today by an official bulletin announcing he was suffering from catarrh, and would have to suspend engagements for two weeks, gave unexpected reassurance today that his condition was not serious.

The King appeared outside the house and motored in the Sandringham grounds.

The queen earlier gave indication there was no anxiety over the king's condition when she left here and went to Buckingham Palace in London.

ROOSEVELT IS SPEAKER TODAY AT WEST POINT

By United Press

UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY, WEST POINT, N. Y., June 12.—President Roosevelt today pointed to the United States' modest army as proof that the country should have no threat or menace to the rights of others.

Addressing the West Point graduating class and several thousand visitors, he declared America was so peace-loving that on some occasions the army had been reduced to "a level unjustified by a due regard to our own safety."

Such a time is the present, he said. And this caused him to approve recent action to accomplish "a partial restoration of the army."

His address was in effect, a reiteration of his good neighbor policy.

"It is in full appreciation of our advantageous position and of our own devotion to the cause of peace that our nation's defensive system has always reflected the single purpose that that name implies," he said.

We maintain an army to secure us from aggression but it is so created and so modest as to furnish proof that no threat or menace to the rights of others is even remotely intended, he said.

WOMAN SAYS LAWYER AIDED WITH RANSOM

By United Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 12.—Clara Feldman, wife of the kidnaper, Albert Bates, today accused Ben Laska, Denver attorney, of giving her instructions on how to pass Bates' share of the $200,000 Charles Urschel ransom without detection.

The accusation came as she testified in United States district court against Laska and James Mathers, Oklahoma City.

The government charges the attorneys, who defended Bates and other kidnapers, accepted, knowingly, part of the ransom money as fees for their services. The sum involved is $10,000.

In words spoken so softly as to be only dimly audible in the crowded courtroom, Mrs. Feldman told of her flight with Bates' share of the ransom.

She said that she had been told "her throat would be cut" if she turned over the money to the government.

Former Mexican President Warns Of Civil Conflict

By United Press

MEXICO CITY, June 12.—Political and industrial circles read with mingled concern and approval today a statement by General Plutarco Calles, former president and power behind the government in which he intimated current political bickering might bring about a division in the army and result in armed conflict and national disaster.

The statement was considered most significant, since the administration of President Pascual Rubio, who resigned and went to California to live after a similar crisis in which Calles reappeared in political life.

HUEY LONG IS THREATENING A LONG DELAY

Says Senate Cannot Act Up on Measure Before Sunday Night.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Huey Long, Dem., La., raised an implied filibuster threat against the NRA resolution in the senate today.

Long made his threat by saying that he doubted that "this matter can be straightened out before Sunday night."

The national recovery act, under which NRA operates, expires this coming week-end.

Long took the floor after the senate refused, 36 to 44, to table a motion to reconsider the vote by which it yesterday adopted the Gore amendment to make government employees earning $4,000 or more, subject to senate confirmation.

This opened the way for reconsideration of the amendment, which administration leaders were anxious to delete.

Long gave every evidence of an intention to talk at length. He refused to yield for more than a question, even when remarks that he tossed at the opposition brought other members to their feet.

Long jibed Senator Kenneth McKellar, Dem., La., for voting with him on the Gore amendment and reminded that McKellar some time ago said he would never follow Long's leadership on any question.

School Head Has Problem in Book Report To State

If a superintendent has at the start of a school term 8,500 books, how many does he have at the session's end?

The question, one of many asked of superintendents in first class schools by the state department of education annually, is being solved by P. B. Bittle of the Eastland system, and will be mailed in a report to Austin this week.

The 8,500 represents the approximate number either in use or storage each year for 1,140 students in Eastland's five public schools.

Offhand, Mr. Bittle stated that annually 50 books are unaccounted for each year and must be paid for by the school system. Students with transient parents sometimes check in for several days and leave without taking trouble to be given a clean bill of health book card report.

Students who lose their books number approximately 125. They pay for them and are issued others.

Average life of a textbook, Mr. Bittle states, is five years, with the number varying with different books.

Rehearing Denied On May Appeal

AUSTIN, June 12.—Motion for rehearing of the appeal of W. D. May, sentenced to die for murder in Tarrant county, was refused by the court of criminal appeals today.

May is serving a 27-year sentence in federal prison for his part in the $72,000 mail robbery which led later to the slaying of three men and his conviction on murder charges. During the trial the government contended May and O. D. Stevens, alleged leader of the gang, had slain three of their accomplices in a quarrel over division of the mail robbery loot.

John Bull Defaults on War Debt Due

Great Britain has a new prime minister with the same old coalition-conservative government. Now the announcement has been made that Great Britain has paved the way for another general default on the war debts owed to the United States government by the former allied governments.

Washington has let it be known that the general default of the June 15 installment by all of the debtor governments, with the exception of Finland, is expected to follow the British note, which said, "His Majesty's government found itself unable to meet this installment for the same reason that it defaulted the Dec. 15 installment last year."

Americans furnished millions of armed soldiers and vast shiploads of supplies and munitions of war to the allied governments. It made loans running into billions of dollars. Is repudiation of war loans a national virtue or a national disgrace? It is for the British government and its prime minister to make answer.

European nations and individuals are in default to the United States for many millions. Their defense is that Germany did not pay the allied governments and the people of the United States should not expect the British empire with its vast wealth to come across with the large sum it owes the American government and the American people.

Katharine, frantic when she does not hear from him, believes Michael has tricked her. Sally goes to New York and locates Michael in a hospital.

After a procession of such meaningless days, punctuated only by trays and pills and visits from a tall, melancholy doctor with a gentle voice, and white-coated internes who poked and prodded Michael...

Yesterday... Yesterday... There was something he wanted to remember and could not. So he closed his eyes and lay still.

One day Downrigg came and they had a long talk. Michael, dressed for the first time in his street clothes, was sitting in a comfortable chair out in the pavilion.

"Well, now, isn't that splendid! He likes his medicine, does he? Well, if he's very good, he shall see somebody after a bit, and that will make him still better."

Homer Brelsford returned Tuesday from a business trip in Fort Worth. Walter I. Clark spent the weekend with his family in Eastland, leaving Sunday for a week's business trip.

Tickets For Passion Play at Ranger To Be Sold Here

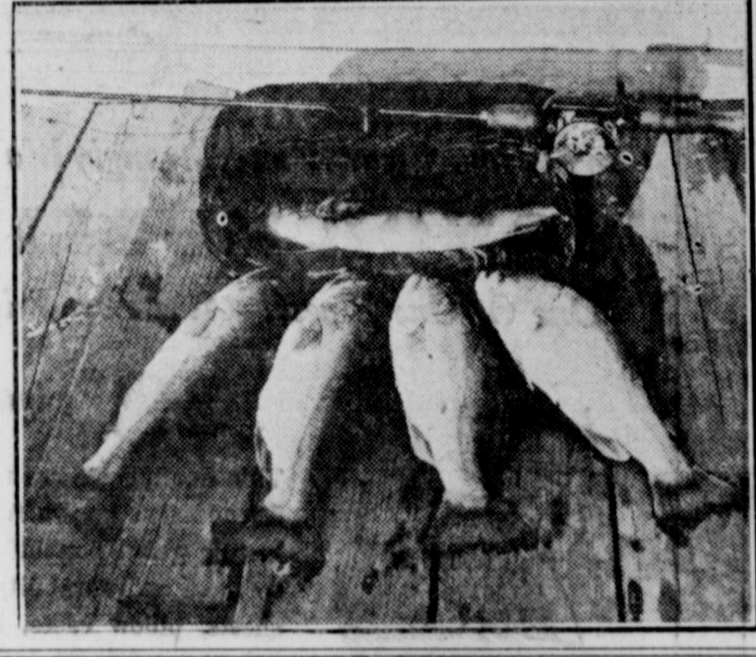

The Ranger Passion Play committee composed of civic and religious leaders of Ranger is bringing to people of this vicinity, for a three-night engagement, the "Great European Passion Play," to be presented in English on June 17, 18 and 19 at the Ranger Recreation Building.

Thousands of Americans every 10 years are traveling to Europe to see the Passion Play, and now for the first time this "drama of all dramas" will be staged in Ranger.

The Passion Play first was played in the year 1264 in Friburg, Germany, and during the occasion of a Black Plague, was given to Oberammergau in Bavaria, whose inhabitants, during the terror of the Black Plague were almost wiped out. Then was the time when the Oberammergauers made a vow that if the still living people of the town should be saved from the plague, they, as a thanksgiving, would present the Passion Play every 10 years. And so, since 1633, the Passion Play in Oberammergau has been presented every decade.

The Passion players are a group of 20 persons, who appear in all the speaking parts, and who are now speaking the text entirely in English as a special feature to the American public. The players, trained especially for their respective parts, are devoting their entire time to the parts they play.

The Passion Play is a literal translation of the Bible and presents the last seven days of Christ on earth. The text is taken in its entirety from the books of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, and no religious creed that believes in the "Divinity of Christ" can possibly find in it cause for offense.

The players are devout Christians, who feel it a sacred duty to carry the divine touching of our Lord to the world.

ROBERT YOUNG IN UPROARIOUS COMEDY

To his dignified father and brother, Tony Spear was an embarrassing responsibility. To Josephine Spiggins, the brother's fiancée, he was a delightful companion. This is the gist of the riotously funny plot of "Vagabond Lady," the Hal Roach-M-G-M production now playing at the Lyric theatre.

Dignity, His Motto
The elder Spear is the millionaire owner of a department store, whose motto is "Dignity—Always." Josephine's father, an irresponsible character, is head janitor of the store, and a former college mate of his boss.

John, in planning his marriage to Josephine, has stressed the importance of dignity, culture and poise. But when Tony arrives on the scene, after a round-the-world cruise in an ancient sailing vessel, he tells "Jo" that "tomorrow" is a long way off, so "today" should be enjoyed to the fullest. The result of the two conflicting philosophies is humorous—and at times dramatic.

At any rate, it results in complications. Especially so, when "Jo" and Tony discover that they love one another. Further grief results when some boisterous companions and Tony's drunken Man Friday, a sailor named "Corky," upset the applecart, and put Tony in a bad light with "Jo."

The situation is finally straightened out when "Jo's" habit of chewing gum drops upsets the wedding ceremony, driving John

DEAREST DAUGHTER,

Thanks so much for sending that delightful little note, remembering my birthday. And please don't feel that its being so short made it any the less welcome.

Besides, I know what it is to have "shoppers headache"—to feel all worn out and dragged down, with your feet as heavy as lead from walking around all day.

But, my dear, why do you do it? I know you and Bob have something of a struggle to make ends meet. It won't always be that way, because I know Bob's a very ambitious young man—ambitious for you as well as for himself.

But take an old lady's advice, dear. Look for bargains—no matter how wealthy you become. But don't make an expedition of it. Make it a tour. You get a newspaper. Look for real bargains there, before you set out. Then you'll know where you're going, and you won't wear yourself out. I know, because I do it.

Give my best to Bob, and give Bob, Jr., a great big kiss from his grandma.

Lots of love,
Mother
