BRIEFCASE RETURNED
Two Men Carry Off $500,000 By Mistake

ABILENE, Feb. 16. (AP)—Two Newark, N. J., men told police here that by mistake they carried off a briefcase containing about half a million dollars in negotiable government purchasing orders. The valuable orders were turned over to state police in Arkansas as soon as the mistake was discovered, said Louis S. Green and his companion, Oscar Beim. Green and Beim appeared at the Abilene police station last night. They said they had read a story in the Abilene Reporter-News that FBI men were still looking for the orders.

"We did it," Green told Chief of Police Raymond Ekins, "but it was a mistake." Here's the story Green and Beim told: En route to Los Angeles, they stopped in a Knoxville, Tenn., hotel coffee shop. They left their bags in the lobby. When they finished their coffee, they put their bags in their car and drove on to Little Rock, Ark. There they discovered a briefcase that did not belong to them. Inside the briefcase was approximately $500,000 in purchasing orders and the name: Arthur G. Huey, Minneapolis, Minn. regional engineer, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Green and Beim said they immediately took the briefcase and its contents to Arkansas state police. Abilene police relayed the information to FBI officials in Dallas. Ekins said he understood Green and Beim planned to continue their trip to Los Angeles today.

Miner Rescued As Search Continues For Companion

WHITESBURG, Ky., Feb. 16. (AP)—Rescuers who late yesterday freed one of two miners trapped in a coal mine near there pressed efforts today to reach his companion. Worley Dickenson, 59, of Pound, Va., was brought from the mine after he had spent more than 24 hours in a space "about the size of a No. 3 washtub." Sheriff Hassell Stamper said he believed the other miner, 43-year-old Dewey Rose, also of Pound, had been killed by the rock fall that caught the two in the mine at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Dickenson also said he was positive Rose was killed in the cave-in. He said Rose was working about 20 feet from him when the fall came.

Texas Vets' Benefits Total $384,645,512
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—The Veterans Administration estimated today that it funneled $384,645,512 in veterans' benefits into Texas in the last fiscal year. Nationally, benefits totaled $5,522,063,282. The largest payment, VA said in its annual report to Congress, was $1,881,283,111, in the form of compensation or pension payments or retirement pay.

FOUR DRAGNA MEN RELEASED AFTER QUIZZING IN COHEN HOME BOMBING
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16. (AP)—Frank; his nephew, Louis, and Guillermo Gadamo were freed by police yesterday after being questioned about the recent bombing of the home of Gambler Mickey Cohen. Tom's other son, also named Frank, was charged with failure to register as a sex offender. Dragna disappeared shortly after the governor's crime commission identified him as a member of the Mafia, Sicilian underworld society, and as a "rival" of Cohen. Authorities believe he may be in Mexico. Police say they have been told that two Cohen men, Frank Nicoll and Dave Ogal, also are in Mexico. They've been missing for months. Cohen had to make good their bonds, totaling $75,000, when they failed to appear on charges in connection with the beating of A.M. Pearson.

Man's Will Drawn Up On Linotype Machine
LITTLE FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—John Crowley, former editor and publisher of the Little Falls Evening Times drew his will on a linotype machine. He wrote: "I regard it as highly appropriate that this line casting machine, which has been such an asset to the business that constituted nearly all of my life work . . . should be the medium through which I should give directions as to my desires for the distribution of (my) estate." The amount of the estate was not disclosed. The largest bequest, $15,000, was left to the Little Falls

New System Gives Livestock Market Terms Uniform Meaning

CHICAGO, Ill. — In the terminology of the livestock market, what's the difference between "strong" and "higher"? Or between "weak" and "lower"? These phrases appear frequently in livestock market news issued daily by the news service of the Department of Agriculture. So do such terms as "uneven," "slow" and "incomplete clearance," among others.

What do they mean? And do they mean the same thing to the man reporting the market at Denver as at Indianapolis?

The Agriculture Department has set up a system to give these market terms a uniform meaning — the first time this has been attempted in 35 years, according to E. J. Rowell of the Washington office of the department's production and marketing administration.

"The use of these terms in describing trade conditions should result in a better understanding and a more uniform interpretation of market reports by producers, traders and others," the department says.

All reports are now divided into five categories — supply, demand, activity, price trends and quotations, and clearance.

Supply refers to that quantity of product available for the current day's market. Demand represents "the desire to possess a commodity, coupled with the willingness and ability to buy." The department adds that demand is not used unless an unusual situation exists in the market.

Activity is the relative rapidity or slowness with which sales are being made. It's divided into three parts — active, moderate and slow. The market is active when buyers are urgently seeking supplies; moderate when trading is about normal and slow when buyers are selecting supplies very carefully.

In the price trends and quotations section, the department divides the market into six classifications, each with a different meaning — higher, strong, steady, weak, lower and uneven.

Higher is used when prices for the bulk of sales are measurably higher than in the previous period. Strong is used when there is a definite leaning toward an upward price change, but this advance is not measurable. Some sales have been made at higher prices, but there is no advance on the bulk of sales.

Steady applies when there are no changes; weak when there is a definite but unmeasurable leaning toward reduced prices and lower when prices for the bulk of sales are measurably lower as compared with the previous period.

Uneven, a tricky classification, is used when there are substantial sales outside the quoted price range.

Clearance refers to how well supplies are taken. It's either "complete" — meaning all offerings have been bought — or "incomplete" — meaning some offerings were not sold.

Thus, in the Chicago hog market for Jan. 32, the department first listed the number of hogs for sale. That was the supply picture. Nothing was mentioned about demand because there was nothing unusual in it. Then came the price quotation, "uneven, 25 to 50 cents higher." Prices were higher with a substantially more than normal volume of sales outside the quoted price range. The market closed "active" — meaning buyers urgently sought supplies — and there was a "broad early clearance" — meaning all hogs offered were bought early in the session.

Capt. Sanford To Be Reassigned

Capt. Harold Sanford, commander of the Big Spring Army and Air Force Recruiting Main station for the past year, has been ordered to Fort Sill, Okla., for reassignment.

He will go on extended leave prior to reporting to the Oklahoma station. Capt. Sanford has been awaiting Fourth Army orders for assignment since Col. John F. Taylor was named commander here several weeks ago.

Local Schoolmen To Attend Convention

Walter Reed and Roy D. Worley, local schoolmen, are to attend the National Convention of Secondary Schools Principals in St. Louis Feb. 18-22.

They will leave for the convention tomorrow and will return next Thursday. Reed is principal of the Big Spring high school. Worley is assistant high school principal.

Former Diplomat To Address Local Knife, Fork Club

Dr. H. H. Chang, Representative of the Chinese Institute of Foreign Affairs and former Chinese diplomat in European capitals, will be the next guest speaker at the Knife and Fork club. The affair will be held on the night of February 20 at Hotel Settles Ballroom.

Dr. Chang is termed "a powerful orator with a keen sense of humor."

The diplomat returned from China in the autumn of 1945. He is an ardent Chan' Kai-shek man and believes that the destiny of China should have been left in the hands of the disciple of Sun Yat-sen, and that he would be called the saviour of China.

Dr. Chang is a prolific reader, writer and lecturer. He has mastered English—which he considers more difficult to learn perfectly than Chinese. His latest book, "Letters from a Chinese Diplomat" was published in the spring of 1945.

TELEVISED EYE OPERATION LIKELY TO GIVE SIGHT TO MOTHER OF TWO

ATLANTA, Feb. 16, (AP) — A delicate operation performed as 1,000 doctors watched promises to enable a cotton mill worker's wife to see her husband and two children for the first time.

It was the surgical transplant 10 days ago of a cornea from a still-born baby to the left eye of Mrs. Mary Ella Sams, 33, of Manchester, Ga.

Color television picked up minute operation details and displayed them to physicians at a south-eastern medical meeting. It was the first such demonstration in the South.

The bandages were removed yesterday layer by layer. Mrs. Sams' sight was tested with a flashlight beam.

She smiled as her husband, children and relatives clustered around her and told them she could detect the light.

Her doctors at Grady Hospital were silent on the final results. But she herself said joyfully: "You know, they think I'll probably have 80 per cent vision in this eye. Isn't that great?"

Mrs. Sams has been blind since an infection at the age of 18 months. If sight is restored to her left eye, a similar operation may be performed later on her other eye.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up hitches or frequent urination may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 14 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

AMATEUR POLITICIAN IMPRESSES PROS

Iowa Farmer Is Spending Own Money In U. S. Senate Race

VAN METER, Ga. — An amateur politician is spending his own money by the bucketful in a determined effort to be Iowa's next U. S. senator.

In his first attempt at politics, Alvin P. Meyer, 52-year-old Van Meter farmer and oil dealer, is drawing exclusively on his personal savings to win the Democratic senatorial nomination in the June primary.

Meyer says he is willing to go the limit permitted by law with his personal war chest, which in his race could mean more than $7,000. With a good chunk of this already in circulation, Meyer is showing the professionals a trick or two.

"He'll get a lot of votes," Democratic leaders say.

"If I get beat," Meyer says, "I won't try it again. But I'll never regret the money I spent trying."

A big hulk of a man who dresses neatly in quiet business suits, Meyer is his own campaign manager. He writes his own speeches. He plans his own routes. He devises his own campaign methods.

"I guess you might call my campaigning a 'Joe Louis' approach," Meyer explains. "Give 'em a haymaker and then give 'em another—that's my style."

Haymaker No. 1 came when Meyer announced his candidacy last Oct. 30. He used a 17-station radio pickup and a full-page newspaper advertisement. He was the first man in the race.

Both the speech and ad were composed by Meyer himself along homespun lines.

Haymaker No. 2 was a big newspaper ad in color which Meyer entitled "Christmas Greetings To All Iowa." Among other things it pictured Meyer resplendent in a red, white and blue Uncle Sam costume—false beard and all. The ad also carried "a very unique shot of 425 head of hogs on Mr. Meyer's farm" with the hogs grouped in an "M" which "denotes the M for Meyer For Senator."

Meyer says there are more haymakers in the works between now and June. Meantime he is halfway through the job of personally distributing the first 30,000 campaign cards he has had printed. He plans to visit every city and hamlet in the state.

The political bug bit Meyer in the fall of 1948. At that time he walked into a Des Moines radio station and bought 15 minutes of radio time to urge President Truman's reelection. He called it his "expression of gratitude for the New Deal."

"I got such a favorable reaction from that," Meyer says, "that I decided I'd like to run for the Senate."

"Why not?" he asks. "I'm a farmer and a businessman and I firmly believe I am capable of being a good senator."

Meyer cheerfully admits he has made "a lot of money" in the oil business since he was "driven into it in 1931 in order to save my farm."

At that time, Meyer says "I didn't even have decent clothes to wear—things were that bad." Now he sells about two million gallons of gasoline a year from his own bulk plant through a chain of 15 central Iowa service stations, 10 of which he owns outright.

Meyer also operates four farms totaling 600 acres and a Winterset, Ia., cafe. His wife and two sons help him in his various ventures. They also have three daughters.

Meyer describes his political philosophy as "middle of the road." His economic credo, he says, is "keep the dollars rolling. A dollar being spent is doing something."

Meyer says his own campaign is "keeping some of these dollars rolling and the fun I'm getting out of it is worth every cent it costs."

Meyer's platform calls for a farm support program based on 100 per cent parity but he says the Branham Plan "needs some bugs taken out of it before it will be workable."

He says he wants labor—especially unskilled labor—to have enough income to "live like other people." He also wants less talk about war and more talk about peace.

Meyer says he's wholly on his own in the primary, adding: "If I lose—well, it won't be the first time I've put money into something that didn't pan out."

City Eagles Okay Nine Applicants For Membership

Nine applicants were approved for membership in the Fraternal Order of Eagles here last night. Cecil A. Horton, Willard E. Phillips, Doss C. Myrick, Jeff D. Cross, William C. Hutchins, Edgar L. Cowan, Walter S. Smyrl, T. J. Nelson and Archie C. Sanders were voted into the organization at its regular business session.

A club square dance was held following the meeting, with Roland Fitzgerald acting as master of ceremonies. Guest callers were C. A. Walker, M. E. Heald and Harry J. King.

Eagle Auxiliary To Be Formed In Big Spring

First step toward the formation of an auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles was taken last night when 14 women requested membership in such an organization.

The auxiliary will probably be created and officers elected at the next meeting of the FOE Tuesday, Roy Bell, Eagle committeeman, said.

Those petitioning for membership last night were Mrs. Jack Hull, Mrs. C. R. Franklin, Mrs. Iva Johnson, Mrs. D. E. Westhert, Mrs. Edna Fitzgerald, Mrs. E. R. Scott, Mrs. Abe Bailey, Mrs. Frank Rutherford, Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. L. Miller, Mrs. James B. Williams, Mrs. A. G. Howie, Mrs. Oscar Sherman, and Mrs. R. B. Abernathy.

Virginia Politician Dies of Hemorrhage

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Rep. Schuyler O. Bland (D-Va.) died of a cerebral hemorrhage today at the Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was 77.

Bland, who was serving his 17th consecutive term in Congress, had been ill for some time. He was taken to the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—"Long and faithful" service gave Howard Raymond Kemp, a chauffeur, $175,000. The will of Mrs. Victoria B. Powers, his employer, gave Kemp $50,000 outright and $125,000 in trust.

Actress Gets Skunk As Valentine Gift

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hedda Hopper received a skunk as a valentine present from Joan Bennett—and christened it "Joan."

Then she gave it away to cat-fancier James Mason, saying, "seems there's a great affinity between cats and skunks."

Miss Bennett paid $35 for the deodorized, house-broken wood pussy. She also spent $600 for two full-page ads in trade papers to tell all Hollywood about her feud with Miss Hopper.

The actress said of the columnist: "I've been the victim of her attacks for many, many years."

French Prepare For Possible Sabotage

PARIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—The French government took special steps today to prevent possible sabotage and Communist-led slow-downs on shipments of military equipment in and out of the country.

The measures were not revealed. But the cabinet announced that Minister of State Pierre-Henri Teitgen had sent special instructions to police and other officials "to insure the maintenance of public order and the general protection of public services."

Courtroom Brawl Suit Withdrawn

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16 (AP)—Lawyers for Mrs. Lorraine Michel yesterday withdrew a battery allegation growing out of a courtroom brawl over custody of Child Actress Lora Lee Michel.

The child's foster mother had asked the city attorney to issue a complaint against Mrs. Ona Worgen, the child's former agent, in connection with the fight Feb. 8. At that time Mrs. Michel successfully resisted efforts of Mrs. Lena Wilson Brunson of Nederland, Tex., Lora Lee's real mother, to obtain custody.

College Flying Classroom To Make Six-Week European Tour

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 18. — The little red schoolhouse has been streamlined and given wings under the "Flying Classroom" plan of education developed at Michigan State College.

The college now is planning its most ambitious project: A flying classroom trip to Europe. A chartered plane will take off from New York March 18 to carry 80 of the nation's top educators on a six week study tour of Ireland, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium and Holland.

If the red tape can be whipped, the group also hopes to visit Russian-controlled Czechoslovakia.

Most of the time will be spent in first-hand observation and conferences with key leaders. Trends toward governmental control, curricula and labor-management problems in England; folk schools and co-operatives in Scandinavia; an countries; Marshall Plan results; influences of communism, business, industry, agriculture and other topics of current significance.

Heading the project is Prof. Carl M. Horn, director of continuing education at Michigan State College.

"Perhaps the most hoped-for goal is some contribution to a better international understanding," Horn said.

"In this era of American leadership in the world affairs, it is an absolute necessity that our youth have a fuller knowledge and understanding of the nations of the world."

The European flying classroom will be financed from scholarships provided by business, industrial and other organizations and individuals. Several thousand organizations will combine to provide $1,500 for sponsoring one representative from each state, selected by state educational committees.

Each participant will agree to speak at state educational conferences and to key business, industrial, labor, agricultural, religious and lay groups to pass along what was learned on the trip.

In order to benefit as many groups as possible a quota on the types of educators to be selected has been set by the college. The quota includes three college presidents, three deans of education, 25 school superintendents, 10 school superintendents, 10 school principals, three commissioners or assistant commissioners of education, and three classroom teachers holding office in state or national educational associations.

Horn, 55, with almost 30 years of experience in Michigan education, is credited with the first significant development of air travel as an educational technique.

This Vacation Is What Nation Needs

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 18. — William Joyce, Jr., president of a shoe manufacturing firm, received no complaints after he announced a new rule for company executives. The rule: all executives must take a six months vacation, with pay, upon reaching age 50. But Joyce wasn't just being a good guy. He thinks his plan will more than pay for itself.

"Men who have been working at top speed for years need to forget business, step back and look at themselves and take stock of the world in general," Joyce explained. "I believe that a six months vacation will fit these top flight men for many more years of service." After making this statement, Joyce boarded a ship with his family for a six months vacation in Hawaii. Yes, he was the first to reach the age limit.

Woman Is Saved From Fatal Fumes

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 18. — Mrs. Marie Raichle was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while talking to her husband on the telephone. Unable to leave his job in the Pennsylvania railroad shops in time, her husband, George, dialed a neighbor and asked her to go to his house and take his wife to safety. Then Raichle raced home. His wife was taken to a hospital where she recovered. Officials said the fumes came from a leading furnace.

Colorado City Scout Fund Drive Launched

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 18. — Now underway here is the annual fund drive for the Boy Scouts. Under direction of G. D. Foster, finance chairman of the Lone Wolf district, the campaign was launched with a breakfast Tuesday morning at the Crawford. Others on the finance committee are H. B. Baker, Percy Bond, Jay Craddock, Ross Jones, Walter Rogers, Gerald Rooden, L. A. Strain, Luke Thomas, Ira Utter, and Ed E. Williams. District chairman is W. H. Shelby.

HONORED—Dr. J. E. Franklin (above), head of the secondary and administrative education department of East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, Texas, is one of 80 educators of the United States who will make a six weeks flying tour of Europe this spring to study educational economic, social and political conditions there. The tour is sponsored by Michigan State College and Yale University. (AP Photo.)

In 1945, when he took a group of Michigan school administrators on a national train tour of Army, Navy and Air Force schools.

In the summer of 1946 he conducted the first flying classroom trip on a study of business and industry in five large Midwest and Eastern cities. The tour has become an annual affair.

Horn launched the first national flying classroom in the summer of 1948. That was a month-long, 7,500 mile trip which took 44 educators from 25 states on an aerial tour that took in the large cities of the East, the West Coast, the Pacific Northwest, the Southwest and the South.

Horn is optimistic about the future of the flying classroom.

"The air age offers education one of its greatest opportunities and challenges," Horn said. "We know definitely that learning is quickest and easiest when the subject matter is approached directly."

"Why not take college or high school classes to the other continents for direct studies of foreign cultures, effects of war, international relations or other ideologies? With vision and initiative on the part of America's educators, and co-operation from the federal government, industry and labor, the airplane will make the entire world a classroom and the 'air age of education' will be here."

Drive For Library Funds To Be Made At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 18. — Plans for launching a drive for library funds will be made here Monday.

Workers named by the library board as a steering committee will meet at the home of N. H. White, board chairman. Brady (Pete) Warren is steering committee chairman. Others are Mrs. Lawrence H. Rudd, Mrs. William S. Rhode, Joe Earnest, Mrs. Charles Godwin and Mrs. J. W. Randle.

Already $1,000 has been received from various sources. Architect's plans for a new building pegged at $12,000. Whether to build on library owned lots downtown, or to sell the lots and apply to the building fund in event the school district will permit construction on the junior high grounds is a current question. The library now is at a peak in books and circulation.

Pittsburgh Sex Cases Increasing

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Sex cases are on the increase in the Steel City.

Warden Charles D. Dye of the Allegheny County Jail, reports that one out of 10 persons lodged in the jail during 1948 was charged with a morals offense. He says 1,139 persons were charged with sex crimes in 1948 with the number rising to 1,285 last year.

EXPENSIVE PARKING

ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 18. — A woman driver dropped a coin into a parking meter yesterday. Two policemen responded, then yelled for police, and obligingly opened the meter's coinbox and returned her coin.

She had told them that instead of a penny she put a $2.50 gold piece in the meter. She had been carrying the gold piece as a good luck charm.

Jewish Increase

JERUSALEM, Feb. 18. — The present 100,000 population of the Jewish-held section of Jerusalem may be doubled within the next three years. That, said, Shattner, representing the finance ministry, is the desired goal to make Jerusalem stable economically.

Two Airmen Missing In Crash Of F-82

AUSTIN, Feb. 18. — The pilot and gunner of an Air Force F-82 which crashed in the Gulf yesterday are missing.

Bergstrom Air Force Base officials said the plane, attached to the 382nd Fighter Escort Squadron at the base here, was on a routine gunnery flight when it went down just off Matagorda Island.

Jury Recommends Mercy For Bourland

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 18. — A jury last night convicted Sam Bourland, 33, of murder without malice in the shooting of a neighbor. It recommended a five-year suspended sentence.

Bourland was accused of killing Mrs. C. C. Crowson, 51, last Nov. 12 in a dispute over their common driveway. The jury returned its verdict after deliberating five hours and 30 minutes.

Sweet Singing Bird Wears Sweaters

SIERRA MADRE, Calif., Feb. 18. — Winter frost holds no terrors for a sweet-singing canary named Bubbles, despite her lack of feathers. Bubbles, pet of the O'Sealio family, moulted two years ago and was unable to grow new plumage. But admirers knitted her four sweaters. Now when shivery weather rolls around they just pop Bubbles into one of the miniature garments and away she sings.

Raw Cabbage Contains Needed Vitamin C

Raw cabbage contains more vitamin C (ascorbic acid) than cooked cabbage, so eat it liberally in salads and in slaw.

Today, cabbage should be cooked for minutes instead of hours. Short cooking saves the delicate cabbage flavor and crisp texture. Five minutes of boiling does the trick for shredded cabbage.

Cabbage salad combinations: The following are pleasing combinations when mixed with cabbage and dressings such as boiled, French, or mayonnaise: Radish and onion Green pepper Carrot and green pepper Carrot and Peanut Carrot, raisin and ripe olive

Cucumber and beets Diced ham and green pepper Nuts and cheese

Cabbage Slaw
1 quart cabbage, finely shredded
1/4 cup green pepper, minced
1/4 cup sweet pickles, diced
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup cream, sweet or sour
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
Black pepper

This is a salad easy to prepare and well flavored. Mix the cabbage with the green pepper and pickles. Combine the sugar, salt, vinegar, cream, mustard and pepper. Pour over the cabbage. Blend carefully, but well—and serve at once.

Current Querries

Q. Should pot-roasts and Swiss steaks be browned quickly before the liquid is added?
A. No, all meats which are browned before cooking with moisture should brown slowly. A slow brown makes a more attractive finished dish.

Q. How does panbroiling differ from panfrying?
A. In panbroiling drippings are poured off as they accumulate. In pan-frying drippings are not poured off and fat is added to pan before cooking meat.

Q. What is the purpose of a meat thermometer?
A. A meat thermometer indicates the internal temperature or the degree of doneness of meat.

Q. What is the English cut from beef?
A. The English cut is a rectangular cut from beef chuck and may be cooked as a pot-roast.

Q. Is corned beef always made from the brisket?
A. No, corned beef may be made from several hoes, less tender beef cuts.

Feature Cherries For Cheery February Dishes

February days are traditionally cherry days. And it's a month that boasts many bright winter meals, for cherries may add gaily to desserts and main dishes alike.

A tangy cherry sauce is ever popular with ham and also a fine accompaniment for pork chops. Smoked tongue's zesty flavor is equally as appealing as a tart cherry sauce, according to Reba Stagg, home economist.

Of course, cherries fit into all types of fancy desserts—desserts quite simply made, yet with a definite party atmosphere about them. There is cherry cobbler, cherry pie or an interesting cherry upside down cake.

Another dessert or party refreshment is cherry roly-poly—both colorful and quick to make. Sweetened biscuit dough is patted out flat and spread with cherries. The dough is rolled up like a jelly roll, cut into individual servings and baked with a cherry sauce.

Individual cherry tarts rate as special conversation pieces for dinner dessert or entertaining. Each tart may be topped with a clever pastry design—drum, hatchet, flag, log, heart—all in keeping with February days.

For breakfast, coffee cake, clearly revealing bright red cherries, is popular during the season.

Broilers, Fryers Are Good Buy Today

Poultry is a plentiful food, therefore the price is lower. Broilers and fryers, as well as stewing chickens are a good buy today. There are many ways to serve chicken. It is delicious broiled and so easy to prepare. Fry it and serve with cream gravy. Make creamed chicken from the stewing size and serve it over steamed rice or toast. Chicken is high in vitamin B content. Many diets are low in this vitamin—the vitamin that helps to keep you looking well and feeling well.

Chicken With Rice
1 fryer, cut up
1/4 cup olive oil or salad oil
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup rice
1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger
1 clove garlic
3 cups canned tomatoes

Fry chicken in oil until golden brown. Place in bottom of casserole with the oil. Sprinkle over it salt and the rice, the latter washed and drained. Bury the clove of garlic in the bottom. Pour over all the tomatoes and bake covered in 350 F. oven until the rice is tender and fluffy, about 1 hour or slightly longer. Remove clove of garlic before serving.

Army Reports Two Enlistments Here

Two men, from Lamesa and Pyote, were enlisted in the Army here yesterday.

David L. Gathes of Lamesa, a former serviceman, is to be assigned to the 10th infantry division at Fort Riley, Kans. Charles A. Crocker, Pyote, will join the same division for basic training, Main station recruiters said.

The pair left this morning for Fort Riley.

Religious Scripts Are Reproduced

CAIRO, U.S. — Photographic reproductions of 3,000 religious manuscripts have been made by a U. S. Congressional Library expedition in Arab held Jerusalem. The work is expected to open a mass of new source material on religious thought through the centuries.

The same team, aided by Egyptian scholars, now is at the 1,200-year-old Saint Catherine's Monastery in Egypt's Mount Sinai Peninsula. There they will make photographic reproductions of 3,000 more ancient volumes and 2,000 scrolls. The Saint Catherine's project is expected to throw more light on Islamic and religious history than any scholarly project of recent years.

For Tempting Variation, Stuff Those Pork Chops

Experienced cooks know that pork chops may be depended upon for satisfying serving any time. But for tempting variation, fill plump pork chops with a savory bread stuffing, suggests Reba Stagg, home economist.

For the bread stuffing, two cups of toasted bread crumbs are combined with 1/4 cup finely chopped onion and 1 tablespoon of chopped green pepper. The mixture is seasoned with celery salt and combined with 1/2 cup milk and one slightly beaten egg.

Chopped celery may be added to this stuffing if desired. Or for a complete change, pork chops may be filled with a whole kernel corn, cracker crumb and green pepper combination.

Fruits present even more stuffing possibilities. Sliced tart apple may be used alone or combined with prunes. Dried apricots and raisins are equally as appealing with the flavor of pork.

When chops are to be stuffed it is best to choose double thick rib chops. A pocket is made in each chop by cutting from the side along the bone. Cut from this side, the edges hold together, partially closing as the chops cook. With the chops filled, they are browned on both sides, covered and either cooked in a moderate oven (350 F.) or on top of the range for about 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Quick Casserole

For an easy casserole arrange sliced potatoes in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Top the potatoes with ground cooked pork or ham. Over this pour a thin cream sauce, seasoned with grated onion and cheese. Cover the casserole and let it bake in a slow oven (300 F.) for 45 minutes.

Livestock and poultry need water as badly in winter as in summer.

Luncheon Trick

Serve hot potato salad with frankfurters for a quick luncheon dish. Cook potatoes with the skins on and dice, but not too finely. Season the potatoes with salt and pepper, dry mustard and a touch of sugar. Add 1/4 cup water and 1/4 cup vinegar. In the meantime cook diced bacon until lightly browned, add grated onion and cook until tender, then mix with potatoes and just heat. Simmer frankfurters until heated through and arrange them on a platter round the hot potato salad.

Quick Casserole

Livestock and poultry need water as badly in winter as in summer.

Fruit Pot-Roast

Cranberry pot-roast is a novel winter main dish. Prepare as a regular pot-roast, using diluted cranberry jelly or sauce for the cooking liquid.

Suggests Pot-Roast Variations To Satisfy Keen Winter Appetites

With family appetites keen, many wise homemakers are turning to a savory pot-roast. This is the dish that's famed for both its satisfying heartiness and its thrifty use of less tender cuts of meat.

Among the meat cuts which may be cooked as a pot-roast, there is the boneless chunky rump, the heel of the round, and the arm and blade. If desired, these latter cuts may be boned and rolled for simple serving.

According to Reba Staggs, home economics expert, cooking a pot-roast is really braising—the same as cooking Swiss steak or pork chops. The meat is floured or not as desired, then placed in a heavy utensil with hot lard and browned slowly on both sides. A small amount of liquid is added, the pan tightly covered and cooked over low heat until the meat is tender, allowing about 45 minutes per pound cooking time.

Variety is great in preparing a pot-roast. Spices may be added for a definite "different" touch—ground ginger or whole cloves. The cooking liquid is another way of changing a pot-roast—tomato juice, half catchup and half water or diluted vinegar.

Vegetables, left whole or cut in large pieces, may be added for still more variation. Combine them with the meat just long enough before the end of cooking time so they will be tender. Along with carrots, potatoes and onions, include turnips, squash, parsnips, green beans or peas. Or substitute vegetables with fruit—cranberries, dried apricots or prunes—for new flavor contrasts.

"Good gravy is an essential part of any braised meat dish. It should be made in the pan in which the meat is cooked. The drippings are poured off, then measured back into the pan, blending an equal amount of drippings with flour (two tablespoons each for each cup of liquid). The liquid is added and the gravy cooked, stirring constantly, until thickened.

"Chilioni"

Chili takes on a new look with bed of macaroni or mix them together. Serve with crisp potato chips.

Potato Flags

It's potato flags for February's patriotic dinners. Peel and slice large potatoes lengthwise. Cut the flags out with a cookie cutter, then fry them in deep hot lard until well browned. These flags are especially clever as a garnish for a roast meat platter.

Expert Answers Frozen Meat Question

Many homemakers today are asking the question, "How do I cook frozen meat?" According to Reba Staggs, well-known meat expert, frozen meat is cooked the very same way that any fresh meat is cooked.

As is the rule with tender cuts of meat, they are cooked by dry heat—roasted, boiled or pan-broiled. The less tender cuts are cooked by moist heat—braised or cooked in liquid.

When it comes to defrosting meat, for equally good results it may be done in the refrigerator, at room temperature or during cooking. It makes no difference—which is the most convenient for the homemaker. Of course, if the meat is thawed, meat should not be frozen again.

However, as in most rules there are exceptions. Thin steaks and chops to be breaded should be defrosted prior to cooking. Roasts that are defrosted during cooking require a slightly lower temperature than that recommended for fresh meat. This is, also, true for broiling steaks, chops and patties. They should be placed farther from the heat than usual so that the meat will be cooked in the center by the time it is brown on the surface.

Here's Quick Lunch Treat Of Yesteryear

Honey old-fashioned foods are just as appealing today as yesterday. One such "old" combination is fried mush and sausage patties—an ideal combination for a quick cold day lunch treat, says home economists, Reba Staggs.

In preparing the sausage is formed into 1/4-inch patties and cooked in the usual manner—placed in a cold frying-pan with 2 tablespoons of water, covered and simmered until the water is evaporated. The cover is then removed and the sausage cooked slowly until thoroughly done and browned, about 30 minutes.

For the mush, which should be made in advance so that it will have time to chill, 3 teaspoons of salt are added to 6 cups of boiling water. To this is gradually added 2 cups of corn meal. The mush is stirred constantly and allowed to boil vigorously for about 20 minutes. At the end of this time, it is poured into a loaf pan and chilled. For serving, mush is cut into 1/4-inch slices, coated with flour, then browned in the sausage drippings.

For a change, mush may be filled with finely chopped dates or raisins. If adding raisins, first place them in water for 5 minutes to become plump.

Way With Leftovers

Here's a way to make tempting use of leftover roast pork. Heat chopped cooked pork in pork drippings for a few minutes. Add sliced tart apples and a small amount of finely sliced onion. If the apples and onion are tender. Make a thin gravy, add pork, apple and onion mixture, curry powder and lemon juice. Heat thoroughly and serve hot over fluffy white rice.

Broiled Ham Steak—

2 slice ham, 1/4 to 1 inch thick
3 firm apples
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup red cinnamon drops
Boil sugar, water and cinnamon drops together until cinnamon drops are dissolved. Pare apples and cut slices crosswise about 1/4-inch thick; select largest slices and cut in heart shape with heart cutter. Simmer the apple hearts in the syrup gently until just tender, but not overcooked as they lose their shape. Remove from syrup and drain. Place ham slices on broiler rack and insert in broiler so that top edge of meat is about 3 inches from the heat. Brown top side, turn and brown second side. A 1/2-inch slice of ham requires 15-20 minutes and a 1-inch slice 25-30 minutes. When done, place ham slice on hot platter, arrange apple hearts around it, and serve immediately.

AIR FORCE PLANS NEW RESCUE HELICOPTER—This artist's drawing shows one of the ways the Air Force plans to use the new specially-designed twin-engine helicopter, the Piasecki H-21, developed for air rescue service. The H-21 will be equipped with inflatable pontoons with built-in skis surrounding each of three wheels to permit it to land on water, snow, ice or land. The ship will have a power hoist for bringing survivors aboard in areas where a landing cannot be made with shown above. The helicopter will be 54 feet long with a 20-foot cabin that can carry up to 27 persons. Builder is the Piasecki Helicopter Corp., of Morton, Pa. (AP Wirephoto).

Shakespeare Vies With New Plays On Broadway

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. —This is a busy and happy season in a healthy Broadway theater as classical revivals arrive to vie with sparkling new plays.

Katharine Hepburn returned to the stage to score in a satisfactory triumph as Rosalind in "As You Like It," her first attempt at Shakespeare. And the producers of "South Pacific," Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein 2d, hit another gold mine with their production of a new and gay, sentimental French-Canadian comedy, "The Happy Time."

Also the New York City Theater Company, a municipal enterprise, added prestige to the season with a remarkable revival of George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," a play which first was performed in New York City in 1897. Not only is it a witty, intelligent comedy, but Margaret Webster's production has equipped it with a cast of stars headed by Maurice Evans, Dennis King, Marsha Hunt and Victor Jory which would be beyond the financial reach of the average commercial manager. Because it is a municipal effort with a limited engagement, the high-salaried stars perform for the equity minimum wage scale.

In attempting her first role as a Shakespearean player, Miss Hepburn proved herself a courageous player for "As You Like It" has long been considered by Shakespearean scholars as one of the bard's minor plays, a tedious comedy which relies largely upon a simple trick. In this, Rosalind masquerades as a young boy to pursue the man he loves.

Miss Hepburn, who is lovely and feminine in the colorful gowns she wears in the earlier scenes in the formal court at the palace of Duke Frederick, is enchanting in the later scenes in the forest of Arden. In the forest she wears the costume of a young boy, leaping about the stage on long, slim legs with a feminine grace that denies disguise. It is a colorful, gorgeous production with which the Theater Guild has surrounded Miss Hepburn. She has a top flight cast with William Prince as an admirable Orlando, Cloris Leachman as a pretty and able Celia whose mind is filled with caprice and Whitford Kane as a chuckling, amiable Corin.

The Broadway stage got a further uplift with the arrival of "The Happy Time," a delightful comedy which Samuel Taylor has adapted from the novel of the same name by Robert Fontaine. This is the sort of play which delights one so much on seeing it the first time that you note a reminder to go back and see it again.

Somewhat in the mood of "You Can't Take It With You," the Pulitzer prize play of 1936, "The Happy Time" is the story of a French-Canadian family in Ottawa during the early 1920s.

They are all characters; there isn't much plot, but it is a delightful comedy. Claude Dauphin, a splendid actor, is Papa Bonnard, a French violinist who is married to a Scotch Presbyterian mother of a young boy, Bibi, who is just about to emerge into manhood. His strict mother wants him to remain innocent, but the lad has two uncles, Uncle Louis and Uncle Desmond. One is an enthusiast for burlesque shows where he catches garters thrown from the stage, and the other is an enthusiast for drinking all the wine he can find. They want to teach Bibi about life.

But it is a happy, loving family and when one encounters trouble, all of them unite against a common enemy. When young Bibi gets in trouble at school, Uncle Louis and Uncle Desmond give up women and wine to join Papa Bonnard in making a united assault against the unfair principal of the school.

It is one of the most heart-warming and funniest comedies of the season with a perfect cast including Dauphin, Johnny Stewart (as the young Bibi), Edgar Stehl, Richard Hart, Kurt Ksamar, Eve Gabor and Leora Dana.

Speaker's Wife Solves Problem Of Drying Clothes In Her Apartment

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. —It never quite came to hanging baby diapers outside the second floor windows of the sedate old state capitol building.

Where to dry the family wash was just one of the problems for a speaker's wife living in the speaker's apartment behind the House of Representatives in the west wing of the Capitol.

Most of those problems have been solved with a remodeling job, and that job includes a nook fitted with an automatic washer and dryer.

It's now a six-room air-conditioned apartment. The contractor's job cost $19,285.55 and the air-conditioning $4,890 for a total cost of $24,175.55. That includes a new office for the speaker and fixing up a new cloak room and committee room. In addition, more furnishings and new drapes are being bought. Money for the remodeling job came from the regular appropriation for the board of control last year.

The apartment is a mecca for coffee drinkers. Mrs. Mansford, wife of Durwood Mansford, present speaker of the house, buys 10 to 12 pounds of coffee a week.

In the remodeling, she had a shallow cupboard built just inside the kitchen door off the corridor behind the House of Representatives. In the cupboard are rows of cups and saucers so that a coffee fiend can pick them up on his way in a little farther to the coffee pot, always kept full.

Red Cross Aiding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. — About $200,000 will be spent for relief of more than 300 families affected by this week's tornadoes in Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee and Arkansas, the Red Cross has announced.

Legislators, state employees, members of the press and visiting dignitaries drift in. "I guess I easily have 50 persons come in a day," Mrs. Mansford said. "Now it's a place they can be proud of."

Cherry Cream Pie

Broadcast: February 18, 1950

1 package vanilla pudding powder 1/2 cup Fat Milk
 1/2 cup water
 2 large eggs, separated
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 No. 2 cup sweet pickles, drained

Put pudding powder and 1/4 cup sugar into saucepan. Stir in mixture of slightly beaten egg yolks, milk and water. Bring to a boil over low heat, stirring constantly. Cook and stir 30 seconds. Stir in vanilla. Cover and cool thoroughly. Drain cherries well. Spread half of cooled custard in bottom of cold baked 9-in. pastry shell. Cover with drained cherries. Top with rest of custard. Beat egg whites stiff. Beat in slowly remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Arrange on custard, spreading to the edge of crust to seal in filling. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 15 min. or until light brown. Cool thoroughly before cutting with a wet knife.

INDIAN GOAT LOAN MONEY IS SPURNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—At least one government loan program is going begging.

Last spring the Indian Bureau made available $100,000 to the Navajo tribe to be loaned to tribal members to purchase purebred milk goats.

The Navajos wanted none of it. All summer the tribe's advisory council tried to persuade Indians to borrow goat money. It didn't.

They were also afraid that the goat milk would be unsanitary under the conditions in which they would have to care for the animals, he explained.

"They would prefer to buy canned milk," asked Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa).

"That is what the advisory council said," replied Huber.

receive a single application.

The story of the goat loan fund was told to the House Appropriations Committee by Albert Huber, assistant chief of the Indian Bureau branch of extension and credit. It was made public today.

Huber said the Navajos were scared off by the $75 to $100 price tags on the purebred goats—fearing that they could not care properly for the animals.

They were also afraid that the goat milk would be unsanitary under the conditions in which they would have to care for the animals, he explained.

"They would prefer to buy canned milk," asked Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa).

"That is what the advisory council said," replied Huber.

Spoudazio Fora Hears Program On Christopher Move

Mrs. R. C. Thomas presented a program on the Christopher move Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. A. A. Arcand.

Mrs. Thomas' discussion was based on recent best seller, "You Can Change the World" by the Rev. James Keller. Mrs. Thomas explained that the word Christopher means bearer of Christ and means literally "to go to the people in every way possible with His love, truth and peace."

She pointed out that one per cent of our population is responsible for the undermining of our way of life and that if another per cent would actively shoulder the responsibility of furthering the cause of democracy much could be accomplished.

Mrs. Thomas quoted the book as saying that all subversives who preach an atheistic ideology attempt to reach the people through four fields, education, government, labor and the field of newspapers, magazines, books, radios and movies.

"So it is imperative that citizens with the Christopher philosophy enter these fields to prevent subversives from getting control."

Mrs. Thomas concluded her review by quoting an old Chinese proverb, "It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness" and explained that a single Christopher can do much to bring peace and love into the world.

Mrs. Harold Canning and Mrs. J. C. Morgan assisted in the program.

Mrs. J. F. Neel presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to give a party for new residents of the city during Get Acquainted Week.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. M. J. Chisholm, Mrs. Roy Clark, Mrs. Oliver Cofer, Mrs. W. A. Davis, Mrs. Tommie Elliott, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Mrs. Stanley Purifoy, Mrs. Ray Rhodes, Mrs. Joe Williamson, Mrs. J. F. Neel, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Paul Scherer, Mrs. Harold Canning, Mrs. R. C. Thomas and one guest, Betty Williams.

Mrs. John Annen Named Honoree By Sewing Class

COAHOMA, Feb. 16—Mrs. John Annen, instructor, was named honoree by the Adult Sewing Class at a canasta party in the home of Mrs. Jim Hodnett. The class presented a box of Valentine candy to the honoree.

Refreshments were served to those attending and the Valentine motif was used in the decorations.

Prior to this party a style show was presented by the class in the homemaking department of the high school. Models for the show included Mrs. Pat Hogan who wore a red wool quilted robe; Mrs. W. A. Wilson who was attired in an aqua gabardine dress; Mrs. F. W. Burkholder who wore a grey chambray; Mrs. Jim Hodnett modeled a grey Botany with white plique trim; Mrs. C. O. Welch, a white pique rayon party dress; Lella Birkhead, a rust colored strutter cloth dress; Minnie Birkhead, a beige colored spring coat; Mrs. Alvin Lay, a chartreuse chambray dress; Mrs. J. A. Westmoreland, a blue alpaca dress and Gypsy McColium who modeled a plaid blouse.

Refreshments were served in the homemaking room from a lace covered tea table. A large red heart served as the background for the centerpiece of red and white carnations. A silver tea service completed the table appointments.

Pictures were taken of the group taking part in the style show.

Attending the canasta party following the style show were Lella Birkhead, Mrs. Dud Arnett, Mrs. C. C. Currie, Mrs. Jim Hodnett, Mrs. F. W. Burkholder, Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Mrs. C. O. Welch, Mrs. Pat Hogan, Mrs. John Annen, Mrs. Ernest Garrett and Gypsy Ted McColium.

Blitz On U. S. Rackets Planned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Law enforcement officials today began whipping into shape a "master plan for moving in on the rackets."

The decision to set in motion an organized crackdown on the country's multi-billion-dollar gambling machinery was taken yesterday by Atty. Gen. McGrath's national conference on law enforcement.

The steps proposed in this direction ranged from "moral influence" to far-reaching new legislation by Congress, along with the closest possible co-operation among federal, state and local authorities.

President Truman, who briefly attended the conference yesterday, suggested a moral crusade against crime.

He called for an aroused public opinion against the postwar "resurgence of underworld forces living on vice and greed."

A "continuing executive committee" on law enforcement was created.

Cities Go Far Afield In Search For Water

BY BRUCE BISSAT
NEW YORK (AP)—Most big American cities are sending their pipelines far out into the countryside today to capture the huge stores of water they need for their expanding populations.

Right now New York City, the nation's biggest cluster of people, is threatened with water rationing or worse because that steady reaching out was interrupted by the war. But New York's case isn't unique. Indianapolis had a bad scare in 1941 and Salt Lake City was going dry in the mid-thirties. Miami once feared creeping underground sea water would ruin its fresh water reserves.

And among the 12,000 communities totally dependent on ground water supplies are many which today face an early end to their economic growth—or even a loss of present strength—because water resources are endangered.

It's the high-paced life the cities are leading that accounts partly for the squeeze many are in. They're breeding urban-minded folk who too often regard water as inexhaustible—available always at the turn of a tap. Cities are tremendous wastrels of water.

Most sizable communities likewise are industrial centers, and American industry at the mid-century mark is relying ever more heavily on water in its work. By itself the irrigation West, manufacturing consumes nearly two-thirds of city supplies as well.

Factories fan out and multiply, stores and theatres put in water devours air conditioners, home owners and apartment dwellers install washing machines, dishwashers, automatic sprinklers. It all adds up to city use of about 10 and a half billion gallons of water a day, three from underground stores and the rest from surface sources.

The cities, of course, are far from alone. Menaced by shrinking reserves, farms may be abandoned or never started. Factories moved or never built. But plainly no city of any size intends to let itself become a ghost town for lack of water.

Take New York. Present reservoirs, drawing from mountains in rolling country on either side of the Hudson river to the north, yield slightly less than the one billion, 200 million gallons the city was using daily before current conservation began. An extremely dry year has cut reserves to a 90-day supply.

But the city is spending $400,000,000 on a project to tap tributaries of the Delaware river farther west and add 540 million gallons a day by 1956. Meanwhile it is speeding a plan to take 100 million gallons daily out of the Hudson upstream at the point where it becomes badly polluted and mixed with sea water. Other stop-gaps may be needed.

Experts figure that even the Delaware project won't be enough after 1960. An interstate commission now is framing a program for a series of costly dams on the Delaware's main stem. New York would then be out of danger for 50 to 100 years.

"Water crisis" and Los Angeles always have seemed to go together.

er. Yet except for severe ground water depletion that hurts industry, the booming southern California metropolis has no immediate problem. Years ago it fought for and won a 240-mile aqueduct bringing down Owens valley water from the lee of the high Sierras. Now it siphons added billions of gallons from the Colorado river 300 miles east of Los Angeles.

The city is using only 16 per cent of its Colorado river quota. Its raving expansion can go forward for several decades before the critical point is reached. So when Los Angeles shouts "shortage" today, it is thinking far ahead.

High on the city's future book are two proposals: to get water from the Columbia river more than 1,000 miles north (by a system of water trades with closer areas), and to de-salt the sea water available in endless abundance at its shore.

The Bureau of Reclamation already is studying the Columbia river plan to determine how practical it might be.

As for distilling ocean water, the Navy did it on a small scale in World War II. Efficiency of the process has been boosted eight times since the beginning. But it is still too costly for any but special or emergency use.

Congress is being urged, however, to authorize research and may vote funds this year. A cheap method of distilling salt water clearly would revolutionize the outlook not only for Los Angeles but for all coastal cities.

Fast-growing Houston, already looked at in the story on industrial water, is on the shortage list mainly because of its heavy reliance on diminishing ground reserves. As it turns to ample unused surface supplies farther out, its problems will ease.

A random sampling of other shortage spots might include Newark and Atlantic City, N. J.; Savannah, Ga.; Peoria, Ill.; Cincinnati and nearby industrial valleys in Ohio. There are many others.

It is the 12,000 "ground water" towns that generally are most vulnerable. Steadily flowing wells are their life. Few places can count on any source so reassuring as San Antonio's great Texas well, the nation's top producer with 25 million gallons daily.

The only alternative for desperately thirsty cities in this huge group is to extend costly lines of pipe to distant surface supplies, just as so many of the great urban centers are doing. And there are economic limits to this process for any city.

33¢ NIBBLE—When the postman put the GI Insurance dividend check of Bruce Shanks of Buffalo, N. Y., under his door, 10-month-old Judy got it first. The cocker spaniel chewed it up. Mrs. Shanks put the pieces together and the VA assured Shanks of a duplicate check. (AP Wirephoto).

'LITTLE RED WOLF' IS BUSY MAN

Bulgaria's New Premier Also Heads Bulgarian Red Party

LONDON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Husky, Vulco Chervenkov now is a double-barreled power in Bulgaria. He has both the jobs Georgi Dimitrov held when that old International Communist died last July.

At 49, Chervenkov is both boss of the Bulgarian Communist Party and head of the cabinet.

Parliament chose him premier by unanimous vote Feb. 1 to succeed 72-year-old Vassil Kolarov, who died Jan. 23.

He was already first secretary of his party's central committee—tantamount to the general secretaryship Dimitrov had.

The party, some 300,000 strong, heads the Fatherland Front that runs a country of some seven million people. Chervenkov has been a member almost 30 years.

His full name means "Little Red Wolf." He is heavily built, has a round bulldog face, thick eyebrows and a shock of black hair shooting up from his forehead in exaggerated crew fashion. Official portraits stress his grimly set jaw.

A headline speaker at almost every big political rally, he reads his speeches in driving, trip-hammer style.

Chervenkov flew to Moscow for the December celebration of Stalin's 70th birthday. Sofia was plastered with his picture during his own celebration, often side by side with Dimitrov's.

He was outspoken against the late Traicho Kostov, former deputy premier.

He was in the forefront of a Sofia student strike when he was 14, joined the Communist Party before he was 20.

In 1922 he was hurt in a political street fight. In September, 1923, he became secretary of the Bulgarian Young Communist League.

That same month he took part in an uprising against a military regime that had seized power in the country. This failed and he went into hiding, under sentence of death.

Two years later the party, which had gone underground, sent him to Moscow. He made the Soviet capital his base for the next 19 years.

Trained in law, he finished his university studies in Moscow and became director of a school teaching the Communist theories of Marx and Lenin.

In the war years he did party work in the Soviet Army and managed a series of Moscow broadcasts to the people of Axis Bulgaria.

In September 1944, with Soviet troops on Bulgarian soil, Chervenkov went home and became a member of the Bulgarian Communist Central Committee.

His political career has been on the upgrade ever since. He became deputy premier last August. Chervenkov married Dimitrov's sister. He and his wife live comfortably in what was once an upper middleclass section of Sofia.

Their college-age son and daughter are in school in Moscow.

The Communist leader is chauffeured around the Bulgarian capital in a Russian Zis resembling the Packard he used to have.

Acquaintances describe him as a "professional Communist," hard working and serious.

After a day in his office, they say, he often receives party workers at home until early next morning and sometimes gets only four or five hours' sleep.

Chervenkov has the medal of Lenin from the Soviet government for his wartime work. He has said: "The unshakable friendship between Bulgaria and the Soviet Union is the chief foundation of our existence as an independent nation. There is no true Bulgarian patriotism without this."

Reservists Being Realigned By Army

Realignment of the organized reserve is being brought about by the Army.

Within the next three months division will be made into the active, inactive and honorary reserves, according to Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district.

Active reserves will have two components—the organized reserves being in units for mobilization, the volunteers for fillers and replacements in effecting the second mission or the ORC. Honorary reserves will be for those requesting such designation, and the inactive group will be of over-age-in-grade who cannot or do not participate in the active reserve programs.

A joint armed forces medical-military symposium will be conducted April 4-6 at the Brooke Army Medical center and the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field. It is the first of its kind in the Southwest. Quota is 89 medical corps officers, 25 nurses, 14 dentists, five women medical service corps officers, 10 medical service corps officers, and 10 veterinarians.

Big Springers To Attend YMCA Meet

Several Big Springers are expected to attend the area council meeting of YMCA to be held in Wichita Falls Feb. 24-25, according to Lee Milling, local YMCA secretary.

Delegations from all parts of Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas will be present for the two-day session. Milling, Arnold Marshall, Shelby Read, and possibly others from Big Spring plan to attend.

A meeting of the chamber of commerce nominating committee, made up of holdover members of the board of directors, has been called for 11 a. m. Friday, Douglas Orme, chamber president, said this morning.

The group will be asked to nominate additional directors to bring the directorate up to full strength. The chamber membership elected 15 new directors this week. They will meet with the holdover group at noon to elect as many as 10 other directors.

At that time, names of all newly elected directors will be announced, Orme said.

At full strength, the board may be made up of 35 directors. The directorate will meet at noon Monday to elect chamber officers for the new year.

Stanton Cap Rock Co-Op Manager To Attend Meeting
O. B. Bryan, Stanton, manager of the Cap Rock Electric Co-operative, Inc., will attend a meeting of electric co-ops in Austin Monday.

George Haggard, deputy administrator of the REA, will be featured on the program. He will explain the rural telephone program to the group. However, cooperative spokesmen have said the purpose of the meeting is not to attempt to get the legislature to approve an enabling act.

This would, they agree, be practically possible during the special session. Before cooperatives to function under the rural telephone act, state enabling legislation would have to be passed. Existing private concerns have until October to apply for loans for purpose of authorizing rural telephone service.

The Coopers' exchange is filing such an application and so is the Ackery-Knox company. Western Telephone Co-op has been organized to explore possibility of service paralleling Cap Rock lines.

Market Is Strong In Livestock Sale Here
The run was lighter but the market remained strong at the Big Spring Livestock Auction company sale Wednesday.

Fat cows sold for 17.00, butcher cows for 14.00 to 15.00 and fat calves and yearlings for 22.50 to 25.00.

Stocker steer calves brought 26.00 to 27.50, heifer calves up to 26.00, cows besides calves 24.00, heavy stocker steers to 23.80 and hogs from 15.00 to 17.25.

Approximately 400 cattle and 50 hogs were handled.

THE WEATHER
BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Fair and mild warmer this afternoon, tonight and Friday.

A second offset to the southeast Borden Canyon discovery, Livermore No. 1 Reinecke, has been staked.

At the same time, operators in the P. R. Rutherford No. 1 Griffin, approximately a mile northeast of the opener, was preparing to test the Canyon. It reportedly was topped at 6,942 feet, which is 204 feet low to the No. 1 Reinecke. Bottom of hole was 6,962 feet. Fair porosity and staining was said to have been logged.

Location of this test is 800 feet from the north and west lines of section 57-35, H&TC, approximately three miles southwest of the Amerada No. 1 Von Roeder, a Canyon discovery which also made some water.

Exact location of the offset to the Reinecke, wells, which was drilling plugs from oil string at 6,784, was not given. It will be approximately 660 feet from the west and north lines of the southwest location south of the discovery; quarter of section 57-35, H&TC, one Livermore No. 1 Reinecke rated 24 barrels in 30 minutes on a drillstem test Friday evening from 6,754-82.

Standard of Texas No. 1-6 Griffin, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 35-25, H&TC, south and west of the Reinecke well, topped the Ellenburger, unofficially, at 8,316 feet. On an hour and a half drillstem test from 8,318-36 feet, recovery was 45 feet of oil and gas-cutting mud. Shut-in bottom hole pressure was 75 pounds. It deepened to 8,850 and started a test from 8,835-50, but the patcher failed and it was to be deepened and test.

Location of a wildcat oil test in northeastern Mitchell county has been announced.

It will be the James H. Snowden, Fort Worth, No. 1 W. H. Narrell, and will be 600 feet from the south and west lines of section 24-Y, T&P. This puts it near the Seurry county line and one and a half miles south of Inadale, in the southeastern corner of Seurry. It also will be 3/4 miles northeast of the Capital No. 1 Ebie, which was abandoned at 7,565 feet. Contract depth will be for 7,550 feet.

Standoff No. 1 Hutto, eastern Howard wildcat in the southeast corner of section 33-1-1, T&P, deepened after recovering 120 feet of mud on a test from 7,537-943.

Dowell, et al No. 1 Solomon, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 72-07, H&TC, 14 miles northwest of Colorado City, drilled to 7,054 feet. In eastern Glasscock county, Shell No. 2-TXL, section 23-32-4a, T&P, drilled at 2,022 feet in shale and anhydrite.

PILOT

raining in torrents and the wood was wet. It wouldn't start.

Early Tuesday morning I started off for the coast. I saw a ground squirrel and shot at it a couple of times with my .38 service revolver, but I didn't hit it.

Then I heard Whitfield (First Lt. Raymond P. Whitfield Jr., 25, of San Antonio) blowing on his whistle. He was about a mile away. It was about noon. He was the first of the crew that I saw. The island was hilly and brush-covered and it was hard to make progress.

Whitfield and I could only make about a half a mile per hour on foot.

Then we heard S-Sgt. Vitale Tripodi (of Brooklyn N. Y.) yelling for help.

He was hung up in his chute on a tree and had been there all night. It took all our efforts to bring him down. He was in pretty bad shape. We did everything we could to make him comfortable, and made him a sort of bed out of pine boughs, after we'd cut him down from the tree and moved him down from the cliff where the tree was.

Later the Canadian Destroyer Cayuga sent in 25 men to pick him up and search for the others. Meanwhile, however, Whitfield and I scrambled down to the beach, where we stumped out an SOS in the snow. Then we waited for the others, who showed up shortly.

A little while later the fishing boat picked us up.

We were all anxious that our wives and families know we survived okay.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 16. (AP) — "Thank God, that's wonderful!" said Mrs. Harold L. Barry. She had just been told yesterday that her husband, pilot of a missing B-28, and the 16 men with him had been found alive.

Compromise Admission That Idea Of Tax Loophole Was All Wrong

The administration has softened its stand on the "plugging" of the 27 1/2 percent oil depletion allowance. Instead of abolishing it as first proposed, a wave of protests has resulted in a compromise proposal of 15 per cent.

As one oilman has observed, a loophole is either a loophole or it isn't. A willingness to settle for 15 per cent constitutes an admission that sincerity is lacking in attacking the premise upon which the depletion allowance was accepted in 1926.

Creating Of Values, Consumers Warrants Property Development

City commissioners have given tentative approval to four proposed real estate developments within the city. They are called additions, naturally, but in reality, only one would represent additional territory.

Certainly the latter fits into any long-range plan for the city's continued growth and well-being. However, there is a possibility of creating a constriction by making this one item the sole pivot point.

How Francois Villon, Vagabond French Poet, Loved And Lost

Among literary mysteries, two of the most outstanding are the disappearance of Ambrose Bierce in Mexico and of Francois Villon in France. Everyone knows how Bierce crossed the Rio Grande in the palmy days of Franco Villa, and promptly vanished from human ken; but the somewhat similar case of Villon apparently is not so generally known after the lapse of nearly five hundred years.

Which the majority of us outgrow. Personally, I do not believe Villon would have embarked definitely upon a career of vagabondage and crime if he had not been the victim of unrequited love.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

This month's campaign for the raising of funds for the treatment and prevention of heart disease as well as research work seems a little more hopeful with the announcement of the newest research instrument in the battle, it's the electrocardiograph—called EKY— which measures the changes in size of the heart as it beats.

One of two such devices in Texas is being used in research studies at the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas by Dr. Tinsley Harrison, staff member; Dr. E. E. Eddleman of Birmingham, Ala., and Dr. Marjorie Greve of Houston.

"It will be at least ten years before the EKY will be a practical tool in studying heart disease," Dr. Harrison says. "Right now our job is to find out how to use the information the EKY gives us."

Dr. Harrison said the EKY was in about the same stage of development as the electrocardiograph was in 1910. The EKY differs from an electrocardiograph in that it measures the actual size changes of the heart chambers as the organ beats. The electrocardiograph measures the electrical currents in the heart.

"Neither EKY or the electrocardiograph tell us what the stethoscope tells us by sound. Using all three is like getting the same story from three different witnesses," he says.

The EKY uses a thin X-ray beam which is focused on the heart by a large X-ray plate in which the operator can see the heart as a dark throbbing mass in the dark examining room.

Since an X-ray goes through thin tissue better than thick, the differences in thickness of the heart as it expands and contracts causes the X-ray to vary in penetration.

This varying is changed by a photoelectric cell into an electric current which it turns moves a recording needle on a film strip.

Result is an "up-and-down-hill" graph which varies according to the individual heart and its condition. By studying thousands of film strips, researchers will be able to form a general law using different shapes of the graphs. This, then, will add more information to the study of diseases of the heart.

Beta Sigma Phi societies throughout the state have taken the fight against heart disease as their project for the year. The quota for local members is $2.50 each.

Shovel and Hoe

February is an exciting month. No matter what the weather, she holds in her abbreviated calendar the promise of spring, to say nothing of Valentine, the two big birthdays, and the ground hog!

Between all this we can plan a garden, order seeds, shine up our garden tools and in some sections, do actual planting. Short and busy—that's February.

With the garden lover's Valentine include a package of zinnia seeds. The All-American gold, silver and bronze medal winners in Petunias such as "Fire Chief", rich velvety red with flowers two and one half inches across on dwarf erect plants; "Silver Medal", rich salmon flowers three inches across, dwarf bushy plants; and "Pink Sensation", vigorous, two feet tall by four feet wide, plants covered with large, light pink flowers would be a good choice.

Perhaps you know someone who goes in for cutting flowers and who would appreciate a package of the new Sanpedro "Giant Sky-scraper", mixed colors; "Giant Ruffled Tetraploid", mixed; or "Giant Double Lemonade", primrose yellow.

Children would enjoy Pansy plants in bloom or seeds of the new "Floradale Scarlet" Zinnias that have giant flowers with long ruffled petals. Some of the seed catalogs offer folders with pictures of children working in gardens (to be colored) and full sized packages of seeds for sowing.

Winter coverings should be inspected and any that have blown loose should be replaced. Plants heaved from the ground during a thaw should be pushed back into the soil.

Perennial plants such as Aspidistra, Candytuft and Primrose can be dug with large ball of soil (any day you can dig into the soil), set in pots, watered and stored in a cool cellar until top growth starts. After which they can be brought into heat and light for forcing into bloom. Return to garden after blooming period expires.

Grape vines should be pruned before the buds begin to swell. Old, neglected vines should be cut back severely, to ground if in very bad condition. New shoots will come from the roots, but vine will not bear until next season.

5,200 To Attend Capital Jefferson-Jackson Dinner

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Staff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. — At 7:45 this evening, a green light will flash in the National Guard armory here, and 550 waiters will dash out.

Thereupon, 5,200 diners, faithful Democrats who are affluent enough to shell out $100 a plate, will start chomping away at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

It sounds easy, written that way. But the person who only has to make the main speech, has a snap compared with the chore of getting the dinner arranged.

At least, that's the view of Mayflower and Statler Hotel officials, who are splitting the catering job for the big feed.

The hotel people have a heap of statistics and assorted data to prove their point.

To begin with, there's the geography problem.

The armory is a monster of a building in Southeast Washington. The food will have to be cooked in the hotels, four miles away.

Then there's the additional worry: The night before the banquet, Georgetown and George Washington Universities will be using the armory for basketball.

So, hunking along the sidelines, as intent on the game as any cheerleader, will be a group of cleaning people, table-setter-uppers and other functionaries. The moment the final whistle blows, they'll spring into action.

By daylight the last traces of basketball will be scrubbed from the big hall, and 520 tables will have been set up.

At 10 o'clock in the morning, the table linen and the silverware will

Flying Arrow Back In American Port

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 16. (U.P.)—The Freighter Flying Arrow, marked by 38 shell hits from a Chinese Nationalist gunboat off Shanghai last Jan. 9, is riding safely in this port today.

Capt. David Jones, 31, brought the Flying Arrow in yesterday and reported that he had "reassuring" information for the wife of a Navy airman held captive by Chinese Communists.

Skipper Jones, of Chicago, told reporters the information he had for Mrs. William C. Smith of Long Beach, Calif., was confidential. He declined to discuss the information.

For months Mrs. Smith has been trying to effect the release of her husband, a Navy chief electrician, Smith and Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, of Cincinnati and Chicago, have been held by Communists since they went on a plane flight in the Tsingtao area in October of 1948.

Decorations and contests carried out the party theme. The birthday song was sung for those who had birthdays during the past month. Gifts from secret star sisters were distributed.

Gladys Dalmont presided during the business session when committees were appointed. Times for entertainment of the club were drawn.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Emily Andrews, Mrs. Fannie Mae Eaker, Mrs. Bonnie Allen, Mrs. Ortry Boatler, Mrs. Leona Benson, Mrs. Beatrice Carol, Mrs. Beulah Carnrike, Mrs. Willa Mae Dabney, Mrs. Brownie Dunning, Mrs. Peggy Davis, Mrs. Gladys Dalmont, Mrs. Ruth Eason, Mrs. Anne Eberley, Mrs. Jessie Graves, Mrs. Frances Fisher, Mrs. Mae Hayden, Ms. Eula Hall, Mrs. Blanche Hall, Mrs. Ethel Lees, Mrs. Minnie Michael, Mrs. Edith Murdock, Mrs. Ruth Pitman, Mrs. Ruby Read, Mrs. Rose Stringfellow, Mrs. Ollie Smith, Mrs. Pearl Ulrey, Mrs. Nora Williamson, Mrs. Agnes V. Young, and four guests, Mrs. Louise Leeper, Mrs. Vera Gross, Dorothy Driver and Mrs. Thelma Helton.

More of your legs will be showing this year, and if you are planning to wear the new eye-appeal stockings, your gams surely will be conversation pieces.

Model Libby Dean was selected by a manufacturer of fancy hosiery as having the most perfect legs in America. (8 1/2 inch ankle, 12 1/2 inch calf, 19 1/2 inch thigh). She says: "You've got to shake your ankles, gals, if you want to get your legs in shape."

Personally, pretty Miss Dean practices what she preaches. Her exercises include the duck walk whereby she walks with a duck-like waddle (feet out, knees bent slightly). Occasionally she picks up marbles with her toes and also grasps a rolling pin with her foot—all in the interest of prettier feet and legs. Says she:

"If you stand on your feet all day, as models usually do, legs and feet get tired and weary. Exercises not only keep them in shape but chase those sore muscles."

Willy de Mond, who picked Miss Dean's legs as the prettiest in America, says the majority of American women have legs that leave much to be desired. He points to such things as leg skin blemishes, varicose veins, callous and bony heels, bulging calves and knobby knees as keeping the proportion of pretty legs down to a minimum.

As a matter of fact he is convinced that the majority of men have prettier legs than do women. He thinks Errol Flynn's legs are perfectly proportioned "with just that little heavier thigh that men have that makes their legs look more symmetrical." He says:

"Men are more conscious of their legs, when they must show them, than are women. When John Barrymore had to appear in close-fitting tights, as in the role of Hamlet, I always padded his underwear to fill out the blank spots."

He thinks the reason men have prettier gams than women is because they wear shoes with pretty much the same heel - height

Pardon Me, Miss... Legs Are Showing

Two Given Sentences In Denison Robbery

SHERMAN, Feb. 15. (U.P.)—Twenty-year prison sentences were given yesterday to Orval Wayne Mann, 21, and William Robert Leaman, 22, both of Bonham, after conviction of robbery by assault.

The two were charged with robbery of a Denison grocery Nov. 12, 1949.

Liver oils from the fresh-water fish called the burbot yield seven to eight times more in vitamins than cod-liver oil.

According to our authority, your legs do not have to meet Miss Dean's dimensions to wow the boys or get the plaudits of leg experts. Your leg measurements might vary because you are small boned or large boned, but if you are in proportion according to the basic 8 1/2-12 1/2-19 1/2 inch rule, you still can lead the glamor parade.

ATHENS, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—The Athens Independent School District will build a new elementary school and repair old buildings with $250,000 bond issue. Voters approved the issue, 603-104, Tuesday.

5,200 To Attend Capital Jefferson-Jackson Dinner

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Staff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. — At 7:45 this evening, a green light will flash in the National Guard armory here, and 550 waiters will dash out.

Thereupon, 5,200 diners, faithful Democrats who are affluent enough to shell out $100 a plate, will start chomping away at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

It sounds easy, written that way. But the person who only has to make the main speech, has a snap compared with the chore of getting the dinner arranged.

At least, that's the view of Mayflower and Statler Hotel officials, who are splitting the catering job for the big feed.

The hotel people have a heap of statistics and assorted data to prove their point.

To begin with, there's the geography problem.

The armory is a monster of a building in Southeast Washington. The food will have to be cooked in the hotels, four miles away.

Then there's the additional worry: The night before the banquet, Georgetown and George Washington Universities will be using the armory for basketball.

So, hunking along the sidelines, as intent on the game as any cheerleader, will be a group of cleaning people, table-setter-uppers and other functionaries. The moment the final whistle blows, they'll spring into action.

By daylight the last traces of basketball will be scrubbed from the big hall, and 520 tables will have been set up.

At 10 o'clock in the morning, the table linen and the silverware will

Flying Arrow Back In American Port

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 16. (U.P.)—The Freighter Flying Arrow, marked by 38 shell hits from a Chinese Nationalist gunboat off Shanghai last Jan. 9, is riding safely in this port today.

Capt. David Jones, 31, brought the Flying Arrow in yesterday and reported that he had "reassuring" information for the wife of a Navy airman held captive by Chinese Communists.

Skipper Jones, of Chicago, told reporters the information he had for Mrs. William C. Smith of Long Beach, Calif., was confidential. He declined to discuss the information.

For months Mrs. Smith has been trying to effect the release of her husband, a Navy chief electrician, Smith and Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, of Cincinnati and Chicago, have been held by Communists since they went on a plane flight in the Tsingtao area in October of 1948.

Sunbeams Meet Wednesday Night

First Baptist Sunbeams met at the church Wednesday night. After the meeting opened with the group singing "Jesus Wants Me For A Sunbeam", Caroline Savage led a prayer and the Sunbeam watchword was given. The group reviewed scriptural memory work and hand work was completed. After a study of the different colored children of the world, the group sang, "Jesus Loves The Little Children of the World." This was followed by a discussion of the different colored children of this city. Fifteen children and three leaders were dismissed with the group singing "Into My Heart." All children, 4 to years of age, are eligible to attend the next Sunbeams meeting which is scheduled for Wednesday, February 22, at 7:45 p. m. in the church, say officials.

No One In U. S. Can Escape Tax Collector

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. — Perhaps if you own no property and get such a low wage that you pay no federal income tax, you think you have escaped the tax collector. The American Taxpayers' Association of Washington, says that's a fool's paradise, begging your pardon. You pay taxes at almost every level of income. But when you get down to the lower levels, the taxes you pay are hidden in the price you pay for things, right down to a loaf of bread.

This taxpayers' association is a 22-year-old group, kept up by contributions, which tries to tell citizens just how they are being taxed and what is being done with the money. It can get pretty involved.

To figure out what the lower income families are paying in taxes, the association went to three different families and got them to account for every penny they spent through one year.

In each case they took a man and wife, with two children—the average American family. They took men who earned $900, $1,900, and $2,400 a year. None of them paid income taxes to Uncle Sam. Either they earned too little or their exemptions made it unnecessary. But they paid hidden taxes in the following amounts:

The man who earned $900 a year paid out $123.84 a year in taxes. The man who earned $1,900 a year paid out $243.

And the man with a $2,400 income paid out $314.76.

Here's how it worked for the man who was getting $990 a year, or $80 a month:

ITEM	Cost	Amt. of Month Tax
Food	$27.00	$2.11
Shelter	18.00	4.70
Clothing	9.00	.86
Fuel and light	6.00	.58
Transportation (Street Car)	4.00	.45
Recreation	2.00	.21
Insurance	2.00	.07
Miscellaneous	12.00	1.31
Annually	$990.00	$123.08

Here's how it worked out for the man with $2,400 a year:

ITEM	Cost	Amt. of month Tax
Food	$48.00	$2.74
Shelter	38.00	9.92
Fuel and light	22.00	2.08
Transportation (New car)	20.00	4.26
Recreation	6.00	.62
Savings	5.00
Insurance	12.00	.42
Miscellaneous	25.00	2.82
Annually	$2,400.00	$314.76

The taxes that hit these families were property taxes (hidden in the rent), where they paid rent; excise taxes, licenses, import duties, and taxes included in freight costs.

The association traced various things we all buy from the first step to the point at which we buy it. They found we pay:

- 75 different taxes on a quart of milk (the taxes just about represent the value of the cream on a bottle of milk.)
- 151 different taxes on a loaf of bread.
- 100 different taxes on an egg.
- 125 different taxes on a woman's cotton dress.
- 118 different taxes on a man's suit of clothes.
- 154 taxes on a cake of soap.
- 201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline.

The association says: "Hidden taxes force your landlord to add $10 to every $30 that he charges you for rent."

"Your nickel pays a great many hidden taxes every time you use the telephone. Each telephone represents an average of nearly $7 in yearly hidden taxes."

"One third of what you pay for food, clothing, electricity, gas, rent, fuel, and all down the entire list of every day needs, represents taxes."

The association wants you to remember that hidden taxes start with raw materials—like copper ore—and all those taxes are added on as the raw material is shipped, processed, shipped again, retailed. This is what tax experts call "pyramiding" of taxes.

The association says, "It works this way. When a tax is levied on an article at any time during its production, that tax is passed on by the person who pays it as a part of the cost of the article. When the article then passes on to the wholesaler or retailer, he adds his profit mark-up to the price of the article, he also adds the mark-up to that part of the price which is really just taxes."

"Every corporation which pays taxes must employ an accounting force which deals exclusively with taxes, and their salaries and expenses are passed on to the consumer as part of the company's overhead."

Here are some examples of the manner in which taxes pyramid, as worked out by the association: Take a woman's cotton dress. The association says, "Beginning with a bale of cotton, the taxes begin to pile up for the purchaser."

The farmer who raised the cotton pays taxes on his land and farm implements to the state, the county and the school district. He passes them along in the price of his bale of cotton.

"At the cotton gin, where the fibre is separated from the seeds, there are license taxes, excise taxes, social security taxes, machinery taxes, and property taxes. They are added to the price, and handed on down.

"Next come the textile mills, where the cotton is spun and woven into cloth. Here again taxes must be paid, much the same as at the gin, and city taxes are added.

"The cotton then reaches the clothing factory, where the manufacturer's taxes are added to the price.

"Finally the dress reaches just you and me in the store. The storekeeper pays a tax on his goods, his license fees, and they are added to the cost of the dress. All these taxes add up to $2.20 on a cotton dress that costs $7.86."

The association also cites the 206 taxes which "ride your new automobile."

Auto manufacturers figure you pay from $355 to $466 in taxes, most of them hidden, when you buy a car that costs from $1,600 to $2,000.

One tax study was done on a woman's hat bought in a New England store. It carried 65 separate taxes with the federal government, 43 state taxes, and 41 local taxes from the time that the ribbon, made in New Jersey, traveled to New England and got into a buyer's hands.

HE'S ALIVE AND KICKING

LONDON, Feb. 16. —Winston Churchill was so annoyed today with a rumor he was dead that he issued a formal statement denying it.

"I am informed from many quarters," the Conservative Party leader said, "that a rumor has been put out that I died this morning. This is quite untrue."

"It is, however, a good sample of the whispering campaign which is being set on foot. It would have been more artistic to keep this out for polling day."

School Bond Election Set March 7 In City

Voters To Pass On Proposed $950,000 Issue

Construction Of Senior High School Plant Is Objective

Calling of a $950,000 bond election for March 7 was announced today by the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district.

The call was made in response to petitions signed by J. Gordon (Obie) Bristow and 512 others.

Purpose of the proposed issue, largest within history of the district is to finance the construction of a senior high school plant, gymnasium and auditorium, to provide for repairs, equipment, and such other construction as might be possible.

Marvin M. Miller, president of the board, announced the date of the election shortly after noon Thursday before his departure on a week's business trip out of the city.

The board had initiated action on Feb. 9 at its regular meeting, following several months of study. At that time, it announced that financial affairs of the district were not clear enough under the new state foundation program to warrant action toward a new high school plant.

Originally proposed in 1947, when it was coupled with a tax rate increase proposal, the building program is now through the planning stage. Although it failed to be approved then, trustees had been given a federal advance for planning that enabled them to have the plans and specifications for the structure completed.

Immediately following the board's announcement a week ago, petitions were circulated.

Call for the election specifies that the bonds would be amortized over a 30 year period and at a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent.

Terms of the call allow for purchase, construction, repair or equipment of public free school buildings of material other than wood, and, if necessary, for purchase of sites.

However, the district owns the site for the high school plant on the north side of Eleventh Place between Goliad and State streets. It has owned this for more than a decade.

The repair clause would allow for renovation and reconversion of the present high school plant into one for junior high purposes.

At the time the board suggested time was right for taking action, it noted that at the present rate of increase, within two or three years the practice of half day sessions might reach into the high school level. It also pointed out that conversion of the present building into a junior high plant would relieve pressure on elementary schools.

The present high school building was erected in 1916 and was expanded in 1928.

City Fruit Stand Suffers Heavy Damage In Blaze

Fire did considerable damage to Burke's Fruit stand at 301 W. 3rd street about 11 a.m. today.

The blaze started from a pile of trash at the rear of the store, firemen said. It spread to a large building and then to the store building.

Both buildings and contents were damaged by water used to extinguish the fire, firemen said.

Both Main Fire station pump trucks responded to the alarm.

Firemen also extinguished a grass fire at the rear of the Couden housing area four miles west of town Wednesday afternoon. There was no damage reported due to the blaze.

Louisiana Flood Covers Million Acres, May Make 8,000 Homeless

FERRISDAY, La., Feb. 16. (U.S.)—Backwaters from six flood-gorged rivers covered a million acres in this area today and 8,000 persons faced the prospects of being homeless.

No loss of life had been reported. Residents said livestock were being evacuated from cotton and livestock country roughly one and one-half times the land area of Rhode Island.

John Russell of Atlanta, Ga., directing Red Cross relief activities in Catahoula and Concordia Parishes (counties), said 1,000 families had been evacuated. He expected 2,000 more families to be brought to higher ground. Russell estimated that 8,000 persons were involved in the two parishes. Additional evacuations were in progress in the adjoining parish of Avoyelles.

The Vicksburg district of the corps of engineers estimated that 1 million acres were flooded in East Central Louisiana, on the west side of the Mississippi River. An additional 100,000 acres east of the river were inundated, but that section is a sparsely populated strip of Mississippi.

Lt. Col. G. F. Dixon, Jr., of the Vicksburg engineers said that about one-half of Catahoula and Concordia Parishes was under backwater. Levees on major streams were holding, but surplus waters, piled up by a confluence of streams, were creeping up minor tributaries and fanning out.

FIREMEN RESCUE WOMAN—Mrs. Lena Docherty, 65, is aided down an aerial ladder by two firemen at the height of a blaze which swept a four-story tenement in Boston, Mass. Thirteen persons including four children were rescued over ladders when flames cut off the stairs. (AP Wirephoto).

FEPC IS HELD UP BY HOUSE GROUP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (U.S.)—The House Rules Committee refused today by a 6 to 6 tie vote to clear an anti-job discrimination FEPC bill for House action.

Four Democrats and two Republicans voted to keep the bill in a committee pigeonhole where it has been since last summer. An equal number of Democrats and Republicans voted to give the House a chance to settle the issue.

Voting to approve the measure were Reps. Herter (R-Mass), Brown (R-O), Delaney (D-NY), Madden (D-Ind), McSweeney (D-O) and Sabath (D-Ill).

Voting against the bill were Reps. Allen (R-Ill), Wardworth (R-NY), Cox (D-Ga), Howard Smith (D-Va), Colmer (D-Miss) and Lyle (D-Tex).

Chairman Sabath told newsmen proponents of the bill will try to pass it next Wednesday under procedure sharply limiting debate. He seemed pessimistic, however, about the chances.

Some backers of FEPC had hoped Allen might change his voting, allowing the bill to go to the floor. Allen said in advance, however, that he had no such intentions and he voted against the bill.

The bill is scheduled to come up for a House decision next Wednesday under restrictive procedure allowing only two hours for general debate.

That procedure is known as the "calendar Wednesday" rule and allows committees to obtain House votes regardless of rules committee opposition. But the bills brought up under this rule must be disposed of in one day unless a two-thirds vote decides to extend the time.

Court-ordered bargaining between Lewis' United Mine Workers Union and the operators was to resume today in spite of the continuing strike.

A presidential adviser, John D. Clark, warned of "terrible" demoralization in industry if the strike continues two or three more months, with "serious unemployment."

Clark is a member of the President's council of economic advisers.

Senator Wants To Curb Lewis Power

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (U.S.)—Sen. Robertson (D-Va) called today for speedy enactment of a bill which he said would curb the "monopolistic powers" of John L. Lewis.

The measure would make labor unions subject to the anti-trust laws if they restrained trade unreasonably in industries affecting the national health and safety.

Robertson, sponsor of the bill, said in a statement prepared for a Senate judiciary subcommittee that Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers union, is "vested with monopolistic powers."

Lewis, the senator added, is using those powers to control the production as well as the price of coal.

Summer Rodeo Slated For City

Big Spring will have a rodeo next summer, stockholders of the Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association announced at conclusion of a meeting Wednesday night.

Plans for this year had been somewhat indefinite since the association sold its property in the southeast part of the city last month.

Truman To Make Fair Deal Plea At Pep Dinner

Jefferson-Jackson Day Banquet Will Be Largest Ever

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—President Truman was reported ready today to raise a new call for his whole legislative program. The occasion is a major address he will deliver tonight at a gala $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

The mammoth affair—described as the largest dinner ever held under one roof—will be staged at the National Guard armory. It is a sellout. More than 5,200 persons from all over the country and the territories will attend.

Each has pledged a $100 contribution to the party war chest for the privilege of hearing the President and dining on broiled filet mignon. This means that the Washington dinner alone will raise around $520,000.

Other dinners for $50 on down have been and will continue to be held over the next few weeks here and there.

In sounding the keynote for the Democrats in this congressional election year, the President was described by National Chairman William Boyle as prepared to call for full speed ahead out of his administration program.

He also was reported as likely to take a few pot shots at the Republicans. In a 1950 campaign document 10 days ago, the GOP said the major issue today is "liberty against socialism."

White House callers yesterday said the President told them he will "lay out the Democratic platform" in his speech tonight.

They also quoted him as saying he will campaign for increased Democratic majorities in Congress this year on an aggressive scale as he did in 1948 when he made 371 speeches and traveled 31,500 miles.

16-YEAR-OLD ESCAPES JAIL

Local officers are seeking a 16-year-old boy who gained his freedom by sawing out of the juvenile ward around 11 o'clock last night.

The escapee, George Hill, was being held on a charge of robbery. He is described as being about 5-feet-8 and weighing in the neighborhood of 125 pounds.

Another prisoner in the ward, Jimmy Robinson, said he refused to accompany Hill after the latter had severed the lock on the door to the jail.

Juvenile Officer Jess Slaughter said Hill undoubtedly obtained the saw blades from an outsider.

Hospital Aid Plan Meets Opposition In State Senate

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. (U.S.)—Part of the administration-approved plan for financing state hospitals and special schools ran into opposition in the Senate State Affairs Committee last night.

The committee refused to give immediate approval to a bill which would raise the tax on cigarettes one cent a pack. The measure, already passed by the House, was sent to a subcommittee with orders that it be reported back Monday.

Whether this slow-down of legislative action would prolong the special session was problematical. The 104 day vote point to possible trouble for the bill when it reaches the Senate floor.

The House has for the time being completed its work on taking care of building and operating needs of the hospitals and special schools.

Biscuit Heir Wads British Socialite

BEALIEU, Eng., Feb. 16. (U.S.)—Grainger Weston, 26-year-old Texas, and the Hon. Caroline Douglas-Scott-Montague were married here yesterday.

A Texas oil derrick, a cowboy on a horse and a 12th Century abbey were wedding cake decorations. The American touch symbolized the interests of the bridegroom, who leaves soon with his bride for Fort Worth to represent his father's firm.

Peace Mission May Be Sent To Russia

FLAMING B-29 WRECKAGE—Eight crewmen were killed and seven escaped serious injury when their Air Force B-29 bomber bounced across a high near Great Falls, Mont., and burned on a takeoff from the local Air Force Base. The seven who escaped were in the rear of the plane. The plane was riding in the search of a giant B-36 bomber that vanished off the wild British Columbia coast. (AP Wirephoto).

SEARCH CONTINUES

Six Of B-36 Crew Still Are Missing

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash., Feb. 16. (U.S.)—Six crew members of an abandoned Air Force B-36 were reported still missing today along the rugged British Columbia coast.

A Coast Guard report last night that all 17 of the men had been picked up or located was without substantiation this morning.

Search headquarters here and at Vancouver, B. C., and the Coast Guard at Ketchikan, Alaska, said a large scale search was under way today for the six.

Eleven men were rescued dramatically by a fish boat yesterday and last night from Ashdown and Princess Royal Islands. They had parachuted from the burning B-36 during Monday night after three engines caught fire on a flight from Alaska to Texas.

Ten survivors were picked up after they had endured miserable cold and wet and hunger for more than 30 hours. One was picked up later by a rescue team from a Canadian destroyer after he had hung with head down for 10 hours, with legs broken, after he had landed in a tree on a cliff side. He suffered for additional hours in an improvised shelter after other survivors freed him but couldn't get him to the beach.

Hopes that all of the 17 had been rescued were blasted rudely this morning. The Coast Guard information office here said the original report that all were located and safe had come from an Alaska base but that it later was corrected.

Comdr. F. J. Scheiber at the Coast Guard's Ketchikan Base said this morning that there was no information up to that time on the other six men. He said the best that could be presumed by searchers, on the basis of information at his base, was that the missing men parachuted into the same general island area.

Several Persons Killed In Blast

MIDLAND, Mich., Feb. 16. (U.S.)—An explosion virtually blew apart a building at the huge Dow Chemical Co. today, reportedly killing several workers.

Michigan state police said several men had been killed in the blast, but declined to estimate the number.

An unofficial source in Midland estimated the deaths at five or six. An undetermined number of Dow workers were injured in the shattering blast.

The explosion, occurring at 11:20 o'clock this morning, blasted the roof and one wall off the building. The building houses Dow's emulsion polymerization progress in the manufacture of rubber base paint.

It was not immediately determined how many workers were in the plant at the time.

Every ambulance in this chemical city was called into action to take away the dead and injured.

Dow Chemical officials said they did not yet know the cause of the explosion.

$435,000 Loan For Cap Rock Co-Op At Stanton Approved

Application of Cap Rock Electric cooperative, headquartered in Stanton, for a $435,000 REA loan has been approved.

The REA has notified O. B. Bryan that the loan has been authorized.

Cap Rock, however, will utilize it only on the condition that 182 new members to be served are willing to consume a minimum of power sufficient to pay out the line.

MISSING PILOT—Capt. Harry L. Barry, 30, (above) has been identified as the pilot of the Air Force B-36 bomber which was forced down in Queen Charlotte Sound, near Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. (AP Wirephoto).

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 15. (U.S.)—When we started to lose altitude at around 15,000 feet, I told the radar operator to direct us over land.

We dropped to 5,000 feet in 10 minutes.

I set it on the automatic pilot and we bailed out in only 10 to 15 seconds. I was the last to leave the plane. It kept flying on beyond us after we left the ship.

I landed in a little lake on Princess Royal Island. It was covered with slush and ice. I came up pretty good, then waded through the water, dragging my parachute behind me. That got the chute wet, and it didn't do me any good during that first night.

I tried to start a fire but it was

Senate Group Votes To Remove Spud Price Supports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (U.S.)—The Senate Agriculture Committee voted 6 to 2 today to remove all government price supports from Irish potatoes until rigid planting and marketing controls are put into operation.

The Lucas proposal removing supports was attached to a House-passed measure revising cotton controls. It previously had been approved informally late last night by the same group.

Formal language for removal of the potato price supports was not ready until today.

The action was taken at a closed meeting of the committee. Sen. Aikin (R-VI) and Hoey (D-NC) were said to have voted against the proposal.

Lucas, the Senate Democratic leader, seeks approval of legislation to allow the secretary of agriculture to fix potato production quotas on the basis of either bushels or acres. He introduced the plan and urged quick passage. His proposal would be an amendment to the present farm price support act.

Bomber Pilot Tells Story

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — Capt. Harold L. Barry, 30, of Hillsboro, Ill., pilot of the ill-fated B-36 which crashed off the northern British Columbia coast around Monday midnight after the 17 men aboard had parachuted, was one of 10 survivors to reach McChord Air Force Base tonight. Following is his story.)

Big Spring-Snyder Daily Bus Service To Be Inaugurated

Daily bus service between Big Spring and Snyder is due to be inaugurated soon.

R. L. Terry, Snyder, announced here Thursday that he had been granted a permit by the Texas railroad commission to operate between Big Spring and Snyder.

Only a few details remain to be worked out, he said. He anticipated an early beginning of service.

Plans call for two round trips daily. At the outset, new equipment, a 16-passenger bus, would be used in the transport.

Schedule, timed to tie in with points west from Big Spring, calls for departure from Snyder at 7:15 a.m. and 1 p.m. with arrival at Big Spring at 8:20 a.m. and 2:10 p.m. Departures from Big Spring will be set at 8:45 a.m. and 4 p.m., with arrival in Snyder at 10 a.m. and 5:10 p.m.

The buses will be served out of the union terminal here. Terry is a long-time resident of Snyder and has had experience in bus transport field in the past.

HST PLANS CAMPAIGN TOUR TO AID DEMO CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (U.S.)—President Truman disclosed today that he plans a non-political campaign tour this year to help Democratic candidates seeking seats in Congress.

Adopting the label he used during his pre-convention swing of 1948, the President told reporters he would take them on a non-political tour again this year.

The President made clear that he will wait until after the primaries before doing all he can to help Democrats win in any state. White House callers disclosed yesterday that Mr. Truman planned to campaign for Democratic candidates, especially in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Mr. Truman refused to tell his news conference whether he will seek re-election in 1952.

George Luckey, California Democratic vice chairman, had indicated earlier this week after seeing the President that he thought Mr. Truman was receptive.

The President said Luckey drew that conclusion himself. He declined to say whether it was correct. And he suggested that reporters wait and see what he does.
