Former Ciscoan Drowns As Auto Plunges In Tank

B. F. Williams, 38, of Dallas lost his life by drowning in an accident on Highway 183, eight miles south of Breckenridge, early Friday night. He was the son of Mrs. Edna Williams of 1106 W. 10th St., Cisco.

Funeral services were expected to be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Rust Funeral Home chapel with burial in the Gunglight Cemetery.

Breckenridge police reported that the Williams car left the highway, rolled down a 11-foot embankment and plunged into a tank of deep water. The car was submerged. A family traveling behind the Williams car reported the incident to Breckenridge police.

The body was recovered at 9:15 p. m. Friday after Dale Brown of Breckenridge, a skin diver, secured a cable to the car so it could be pulled out with a winch truck. The body was in the rear seat and a door of the car was partly open, indicating that Mr. Williams was trying to get out of the submerged car when he died.

It was believed that he was alone in the car. County Judge Cecil Mayes of Stephens County pronounced Mr. Williams dead of drowning at the scene. The body was picked up in Breckenridge at 4 a. m. Saturday by Rust Funeral Home and brought to Cisco.

Mr. Williams was born on April 2, 1929, at Gunglight. He attended the Cisco Public Schools and enlisted in the military service from Cisco in World War II. He was employed in Dallas by a Texaco service station and lived with his wife and three children at 3123 Rockford Drive in Oak Cliff.

Surviving Mr. Williams are his wife and two sons, Bobby Frank, Jr., and Stephen Wayne, a daughter, Donna Marie, all of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Edna Williams of Cisco; and two brothers, Wayne and Raymond Williams, both of Cisco.

Annual County Pecan Show Begins In Rising Star Friday

Queen Contest Is Slated Thursday

All entries of pecans in the 14th annual Eastland County Pecan Show at Rising Star, Dec. 9-10, must be entered by noon on the first day of the show, according to A. D. Ellington, Cisco, president of the Pecan Growers Association.

A total of nuts of any variety constitutes an entry, he said. Top place entries in all varieties will be entered in the regional pecan show at Abilene the following week-end. Entries of nuts from any place in the state may be entered in the Eastland County show to be held in the Youth Center, Rising Star.

In spite of a short crop, more than 25 different paper-shell or improved varieties, including those developed by government horticulturists at the pecan research station at Brownwood, are expected to be entered. These include the Choctaw, Wichita, Sioux and others.

Judges coming from the Texas A&M horticultural department will place entries on size, color, appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, per cent of kernel and other factors.

A county pecan queen contest at the Rising Star High School gym on Thursday night, Dec. 8, under the sponsorship of Mrs. George Steel and the Saturday Club, will kick off the activities of the two-day affair. A luncheon in honor of the new queen, the runner-up and last year's queen will be held in the American Legion Hall at noon Saturday. Mrs. Lee Burkhead and the North Star Home Demonstration Club will prepare and serve the food.

The bake show division of the show will be under the supervision of the County Home Demonstration Council.

A. D. Jenkins, manager of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsor, issued a special invitation to both county and out-of-county residents to view the exhibits at the two-day show.

Entries in the bake show must be in place by 11 a. m. Friday, according to Janet Meyers, county home demonstration agent. Baked goods divisions for both adults and young people will be set up. All entries must contain pecans.

Another attraction will be the pecan arrangements division. Entries of centerpieces and other arrangements in this class must contain pecans or portions of the pecan plant.

Ten young women of Eastland County have been nominated for the queen title, which will be proclaimed at the end of the pageant, which will start at 8 p. m. in the Rising Star High School gym.

The candidates and their sponsors are these: Kandy Kinder, Cisco Junior College; Haymonda Baird, Olden Future Farmers of America; Anna Bell Ratliff, Ranger Chamber of Commerce; Rosa Boland, Scranton Community Club; Kathy Sharp, Ranger FFA; Mary Jay, Gorman Chamber of Commerce; Jill Harding, Rising Star Chamber of Commerce; Karen Harris, Rising Star FFA; Nelda Harrelson, Nimrod Community Club; and Bess Lee, Rising Star Farmers Union.

Crowds Good, Action Fast In 3rd Annual Basketball Tourney

Good crowds and smashing basketball action with 16 teams competing marked the Third Annual Eastland Invitational Tournament which wound up in Maverick Gymnasium Saturday night.

Gary Spradling was high pointer with 17 for Eastland and Dyer Windham put 28 in for Baird.

CUMULATIVE SCORE

It looks like the needs of the underprivileged this Christmas will be about the same as last year. During Christmas of 1965 we delivered 66 baskets and clothed 40 school children.

Our contributions amounted to $1,640.00 and our expenditures were $1,578.00.

Contributions are coming in very slow, so won't you please help us so that we may help others.

You will enjoy your Christmas dinner more if you have helped a n underprivileged family.

We received a $25 check from a very prominent professional man of Eastland who contributes this amount each year. He asked that his name not be shown in the paper so

Point of View - ROM As Seen by Different People

(Editor's note: The ancient land of Italy is younger, as a unified nation, than the United States. On December 3, 1870, Rome became the capital of the new nation, although the king didn't enter the city until July of the following year.)

(The Telegram asked Mrs. J. A. M. Horton and Mrs. Harper to comment on "Rome As I Saw It.")

(We interviewed two sisters from Verona, Italy; Mrs. Silvana Carter and Lillian Rhinehart.)

By MRS. JAMES HORTON
Rome as I saw it is the home of art as well as the home of the Catholic religion. I hold fond memories of our visit to the Vatican, where we were blessed by the beloved Pope Paul. The dome of this huge chapel houses the original religious painting of Michelangelo.

The Vatican museums house a vast collection of the art of many ages and many peoples. Here too, is the Sistine Chapel, with Michelangelo's magnificent painting of the creation. Paintings, sculpture, tapestries, gold and jewels in this great city are priceless.

By MRS. ANNIE HARPER
Any view of Rome must include its art, its history, great men who have contributed to it, and the relation of the city to Italy and the world.

My most memorable thoughts are of Michelangelo's art, especially in the Sistine Chapel; the feeling of permanence which is evident even in the ancient streets; and the respect shown by all people for the Pope and his position as head of the Catholic Church.

There were only three or four Catholics in our particular group, but each one of us felt a quiet reverence for this place and its part in history. Silvana Orlando, a married woman, was stationed at "Little America," a United States Army base in Verona, Italy. They live with their three children Nita Lou, 4, Cheryl Lynn, 2, and Christopher Roy, 6 months, at 203 East Valley in Eastland.

Silvana's sister, Lillian Rhinehart and her son, eight-month-old Anthony Ray, are living here while waiting to join Rhinehart in northern Germany. He is a native of Clarksville, Tennessee and met Lillian while at "Little America."

Lillian has been in the States 18 months; Silvana, over three years. They have a sister in Connecticut and one in Verona. Their brother, 32, lives with their parents; no Italian child of good reputation moves from the parental home before marriage, regardless of age.

Their father is retired from an oil company (not "petrol," now "Silvana cautions," this is olive oil company) and their mother teaches at elementary school in Verona. The sister, there, an artist, also teaches at the school and teaches art in higher grades.

Asked to describe Rome, the sisters admitted they had never been there. "Except when I was tiny girl," Silvana qualifies, "when our parents took — tried to take — us from the war. Lillian was born while the family was traveling. I do not remember being in Rome. You are shocked that we never go, no?"

(No really: I've never been to Washington, D. C. either.)

Verona is a city of more than 200,000 residents, with more tourists annually than citizens. One of the largest attractions is the Arena, an exact copy of the Coliseum in Rome, built in the third century by Roman soldiers. It is now used as an opera house and Silvana's love of music is evident in the way she says, "Verdi, Aida, Carmen, Bise.")

Other famous attractions are the tomb of Juliet and the balcony where she stood to talk with Romeo. (No; talk with Romeo.)

The story of the unhappy lovers of Verona, as historical fact, is referred to as early as the year 1303. The earliest written account of it dates to 1530 and the most famous version — that of Shakespeare — is supposed to be based on the poem written in 1562 by Andrew Brooke.

Each year, thousands of young couples become engaged on this balcony. We're either of the Orlando sisters there when they accepted proposals of marriage?

"We've never been there," Lillian said, shrugging. "We have lived near it always and walked by hundreds of times, but, well, you know how things go. We just never cared about going up there."

Major differences noticed by the sisters:
Schools: In Italy, English,

Lillian says schools dismiss three weeks for two weeks for every day for every day.

Bond Sales Are $11,963 During Past Month

Guy Parker, Chairman of the Eastland County Savings Bonds Committee, has announced that bond sales in Eastland County totaled $11,963 during the month of October. Sales for the first ten months totaled $213,632, which is 71 per cent of the 1966 sales goal.

During the month of October, Texans purchased $13,520,322 in Series E and H Savings Bonds. This is an increase of 13 per cent over the same period of 1965. Total sales to date amounted to $128,194,374 which is 87 per cent of the state's goal of $147.5 million.

"A $25 Bond purchased for $18.75, for example, is a gift that keeps on giving. Attractive gift envelopes are available at all banks. Savings Bonds aid in control of inflation and support our men in Viet Nam," Chairman Parker stated.

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis (Dee) Gordon
Eastland County Extension Agent

Now that December is here we are reminded that income tax reporting time can't be far away. At least we will soon be closing out the 1966 records and getting the material together that we will need for income tax reporting.

I now have a supply of the 1967 Farmer's Tax Guides. The Internal Revenue Service prepared this tax guide to assist you in filing your Federal income tax return for 1966. Explanations and examples of tax rules of importance to farmers are presented in every day language to illustrate how they apply.

The farmer's income tax return form 1040, for the calendar year 1966, must be filed on or before February 15, 1967. If you choose to file a declaration of estimated income on or before January 16, 1967 your income tax return will not need to be filed until on or before April 17, 1967.

Before July 1, 1965 the annual federal gasoline tax averaged 26.4 bushels per acre in 1965, which was considered a pretty good year. The same thirty farmers averaged 42.9 bushels per acre this year. I have heard from several who averaged over 1 bushel per acre. Southern Blight and Leaf Spot were extremely bad in some fields. This caused some yields to be as low as 24 bushels per acre.

Not only were yields very high this year, but buyers report that peanuts graded higher than in previous years.

With the arrival of colder weather and shortage of the small grain grazing I have noticed that several cattle-men are now having to feed hay.

The production efficiency and comfort of a mature cow is not reduced by cold weather if she is full of forage, has a dry coat and is exposed to dry still air.

The critical temperature is the term used for that temperature slightly above the temperature at which cattle begin to shiver.

A cow on little or no feed will reach the critical temperature at about 55 degrees Fahrenheit. A maintenance ration will lower the critical temperature to about 23 degrees.

Low-quality roughages high in fiber serve as effective feeds during storms because of the high heat production that results from digesting the fiber.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING TO BE HELD IN BRECKENRIDGE

Several Eastland County Methodists will join Methodists from six other counties in the Cisco District conference Wednesday at the First Methodist Church in Breckenridge, district superintendent Dr. S. Wayne Reynolds of Cisco announced.

Dr. W. Kenneth Pope, resident bishop, will be present. Dr. Reynolds will preside.

Commission workshops are scheduled for the morning session. The Rev. J. Lester Davenport of Eastland is chairman of missions commission. R. B. Golemon of Ranger and district lay leader will report on stewardship and finance.

The Rev. J. Morris Bailey of the Cisco First Methodist heads the membership and evangelism commission and is secretary of the committee on ministerial qualifications.

The Rev. V. R. Whittington of Cisco Wesley is in charge of Methodist information and youth work. Mrs. Whittington heads the district's children's work.

Mr. Golemon of Ranger is district chairman of Methodist colleges commission.

Other counties expected to attend are O. L. Stamey of Cisco, Mrs. Carrel Smith of Cisco, Frank Deaton of Eastland, S. H. Nance of Cisco, and Leo Clinton of Cisco.

Who's on Who's Back?

is a timely question in insurance circles; here's why. Every insurance buyer knows that he is helping to carry the load inflicted by the careless driver; the homeowner who allows hazards to exist on his premises; the person who abuses the broken glass privilege; the householder who overloads electrical circuits; the juror who is swayed by emotional pleas for sympathy to name only a few which cause premiums to rise and be reflected in future insurance costs. So do your part to help prevent such conditions for your own welfare and protection.

CASA STAFF—Aleen Martin, Penny Copeland, Weezie Massingill, Blenda Whitley and Danny Weeks.

You park your car and walk the few steps to a sidewalk which has been treated to a permanent installation of red outdoor carpet.

This is all the effort required of you.

The door at 310 South Lamar is opened for you by a very courteous boy whose full-time occupation is simply to open doors, serve coffee or cold drinks, and make you feel welcome to Casa Manana Beauty Salon.

This part of the reception room is tiled. A curved reception desk—built of super dull walnut, as are other furnishings, including the front panel of a soft drink vending machine—is to your right. It sets in a corner formed by a full-length, mirrored shadow box which holds Revelon gift sets nestled in red nylon net, and a panel of wall centered with a Spanish wall clock and candle holders.

To your left, the boy is already pouring fresh, hot coffee and asking you to be seated. Over here the carpet is red, the furniture walnut, the textured upholstery either red or gold. Paintings are by Dante, a Fort Worth artist noted for his work with velvet. Above the couch is a night desert scene on black velvet. It is flanked by a set of the traditional matador and charging bull pictures painted on red velvet.

Red taffeta has been pulled through huge gold rings so that swag draperies dip and fold and finally reach the floor on each side of the window. If you don't begin to wonder how someone managed to find matching reds in so many different textures, it's a safe guess you've never hunted a red blouse to wear with a red and gray plaid suit.

You are escorted directly through the main room and to the left. Ignoring the delicate suggestion that the door ahead opens into the rest room area, you veer slightly toward your right.

The shampoo room features lie-down lounges, again in red and gold, and Spanish pictures. At the far end, a partition blocks a view of a Couch-type massager, which may be used fifteen minutes for ten cents, thus offering even daily use at small expense.

Back to the main room where each of the five operators has an over-sized work space. Gold chairs are raised or lowered by air, eliminating bumps and jerks. This room is also paneled, with the exception of the west wall, which is behind the dryers. This is covered with red paper, flocked with red velvet. No one protests your desire to touch it, or even trace the design with one finger.

Hot air is forbidden here. All dryers are air-conditioned and dry rapidly with warm air. There are two five-minute dryers, with hoses stretching octopus-style from a center core. (If you are very long out of your teens, you will be reminded of the machines once used to give permanents.) These hoses attach to special hair rollers and warm air is blown inside each roller. The dryer may be used regardless of the thickness or length of your hair.

It is only now, perhaps, as you sit alone for a moment that you become aware of the soft music which is everywhere. Stereo tapes of the soft music which is play continuously, never intruding upon conversation or jangling against nerves.

Across from the dryers, on the other side of that soft drink machine with the walnut front, is a closet; almost room size, containing every hair coloring, cosmetic, and permanent one could want. The Salon promises no ordering and no delays.

You may be too conscious of the Spanish decor, the red and gold, to notice one machine. (If it is called a "machine?" At least, no one corrects your choice of words as they did earlier when gently suggesting that "permanent" is out-dated; the new term is "cold wave." If those five-minute dryers brought forth memories of machine permanents, you are old enough to remember that the first permanent you got which wasn't under a machine was called a "cold wave." You are also old enough to know there's no point in mentioning this to your young escort.)

At any rate, this machine is a Martin XL, used to bleach and frost hair in 30 minutes. Since a temporary rinse is the most daring hair affair you have ever had, this information is unimpressive. After it has been explained this process used to take ten hours or more, you feel more respect for that little inconspicuous machine.

The Martin XL is also used to "set" a new permanent—excuse me, a cold wave—making it last longer. You are told this, as well as the dime massage and complimentary coffee, was included to give you the most value for your beauty-care dollars. Even a "house of tomorrow" is useless without human care and knowledge. Casa Manana provides both. Aleen Martin of Cisco has three diplomas in beauty and skin care and you get the definite impression she worked for them solely to advise you how to care for your skin. Glen and Lotties School of Beauty in Abilene has three graduates at Casa Manana: Penny Copeland, Blenda Whitley, and Danny Weeks, who moved to Eastland from Ft. Worth and who specializes high-fashion style and color. Weezie Massingill of Cisco completed Abilene Beauty School.

A prettier woman, you start for the door, knowing that when you cross that outside carpet, you pass from luxurious pampering to every day living. The transition comes earlier than that: the receptionist is answering the telephone; the operators are busy; the boy is pouring coffee; the owner is explaining to someone else why the shop uses both wet and dry sterilizers.

You have to open the door yourself.

Kindergarten Is Busy Place In Past Month

Mrs. Ferne Green has reported that the month of November was ideal for the children enrolled in the Green Kindergarten.

The children played "Drop the Handkerchief" on high school hill with Kathy Overbay acting as leader. The group toured the hill and revisited the school buses. Pictures were made of the children during both these activities.

They played games in their own school yard, with each child acting out a nursery rhyme as it was played on the record player.

"The greatest town on earth: Eastland was studied. They have expressed appreciation to the local postmistress, Mrs. Marene Johnson, who gave them pictures of their town for the scrapbooks they are making. They also received a history of Eastland County and pictures of "Old Rip" from the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

November birthdays were observed and fancy miniature cupcakes and fruit punch were served. The children sang "Happy Birthday" to Jimmy Kinnaird, who was 5 on Nov. 15; Kenny Watson, who was 6 on Nov. 17; Ginger Hoffman, who was 6 on Nov. 20; and Dawn Underhill who was 5 on Nov. 24.

Book Week was observed by making book markers to take home. The care and use of books was discussed with the students. Each carried home a section of the Weekly Reader, to allow parents to select books.

"Thankful Booklets" were made, with the students telling about those things they are thankful to have. They took turns preparing the "Golden Table," led by David Jackson and Darla Moore.

Sherri Phillips and Rhonda Rushing lead the band. The blessings were led by Steven Hopson and Timmy Magness, and the flag pledge was led by Richard Rodgers and Jeff Staggs. Hosts were James Doyle Gary Don Peak, and Lyndall Underwood.

The group sang "America" led by Lynn Justice. Renee Ramsey conducted a "Texas Quiz," aided by Jimmy Lewis and Seth Smith.

Shower Honors

Miss Vickers in Little Residence

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Joanne Vickers, bride elect of Billy Don Turner, was held in the home of Mrs. Rudolph Little, 308 N. Green Street, Eastland, Monday, Nov. 28 from 7 to 9 p. m. Miss Vickers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Vickers, Jr., 1349 South Pioneer Drive, Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Turner of Eastland are parents of Billy Don, former Eastland resident and high school graduate, who now resides in Brownfield.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Little and Mrs. M. S. Dry and presented to Mrs. Turner, Miss Vickers and her mother. Mrs. Frank Crowell presided over the registering of guests in the bride's book.

The honoree's colors, American beauty red and white, were used throughout the home for the occasion. The serving table covering was of white net over red. Rosy red punch was served from a milk glass bowl with snowy white cake squares, each topped with a tiny red rose. The floral centerpiece of red and white carnations was flanked by two milk glass candle holders with long red tapered candles.

Some 60 guests complimented Miss Vickers by their attendance.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and LeMans. You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. It's why we say, with a six like this, it's an eight? Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing column are some of the safety features standard in Tempests and LeMans. Resist seeing your Pontiac dealer today.

MRS. DICK YIELDING

creativity, Hobby Club and Mrs. Dick Yielding Are United Afternoon Hobby Club South Green has been president of the Hobby Club since its organization. She is certainly qualified by her creativity and interest in beauty. She has made dolls of peels, dried apples, which are around wire frames and wear wooden shoes, hand carved by Mrs. Yielding. There are pictures which she has fashioned from gravel and crushed glass: A clova, 26" high, made of gravel; matchin, frames hold hen and rooster made of black-eyed peas; a peacock and several scenery pictures are of glittered fabric.

Mrs. Yielding says, "I use glitter and Elmer's glue by the barrel - full." A jewelry tree of styrofoam and a rose tree are two recent accomplishments.

This rose tree is of pink roses on a styrofoam fall some 12 inches in diameter. It stands in a floor planter in her living room, across from a decorated arrangement of bleached driftwood, brought from Valisita Lake which is near Durango, Colorado.

She says, "I take practically nothing and do this with it. Perhaps this is the greatest joy of handwork."

An Eastland County native, she is the former Clara Mae Fox. She and Dick Yielding completed school together in Oldham and, after their wedding, finished Texas Business College in Breckenridge together. She worked for J. C. Penney's and Perry's in Eastland, before opening a day nursery in her home. She also keeps nurseries for Civic League, and various churches.

Mrs. Yielding was a member of Flatwood Home Demonstration Club for five years, and served as Secretary - Treasurer for two years. She worked with P-TA when her children were in school and substituted at the school lunchroom whenever she was needed. Her pecan bread and pecan pie have won her several ribbons at the Eastland County Pecan Show.

She and Mr. Yielding a Lone Star employee, moved from Olden to Eastland about nine years ago. She is a member of the Church of Christ here.

Their yard is a beauty spot of Eastland and this past season they considered one of their best. She says, "We love our flowers and this year we had dahlias as large as saucers in the back yard."

The Yieldings have three daughters: Mrs. Joe Crawford of Atlanta; Mrs. Granuel Nabors of Durango, Colorado; and Mrs. Jimmy Colburn of Midland. They have six grandsons and two granddaughters.

Other members of the Hobby Club are Mmes. J. A. Pogue, Russell Turner, Jess Taylor, Fannie O'Brien, A. W. Wright, Pat Crawford, M. W. Greiger, and John Cooper. Mrs. Yielding says, "During our meetings, we have a work session and an exchange of ideas, patterns, help, and recipes. We accomplish our individual goals of completing some handwork article and we accomplish our goal of friendship and sharing."

The club decorated a downtown window for the 1965 Christmas season and members are planning Christmas decorations for this year.

Swedish Lunch Set Dec. 14 By Civic League

Civic League members and guests will enjoy a Swedish luncheon Dec. 14, when the regular luncheon and business meeting is held at noon, at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. H. T. Weaver, chairman of the hostess committee, has announced that decorations will center around a Swedish Christmas tree and the menu will be Swedish.

Mrs. Guy Patterson will review "Once Upon A Christmas Time" by the Swedish Authoress, Thyra Ferre Bjorne.

A free nursery is provided for babies and pre-school children. Reservations must be made for the luncheon by calling Mrs. Francis Bond at Main 9-1724, and you may make nursery reservations at this same time. Children staying in the nursery should bring sack lunches. Drinks will be provided.

Sabanna Watershed Project Gaining Momentum In Area

Progress is being made in securing support for a formal application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for a Sabanna Watershed project, it has been reported.

A Sabanna Watershed Association has been formed, and endorsements for an application are being gathered as well as all necessary data required for the application.

The application will be made through the State Soil and Water Conservation Board, and the Upper Leon District has given its approval for the plan. A proposal was made to the Eastland County Commissioners Court Monday asking for support, and the matter is presently under consideration by the Court, County Judge Scott Bailey said Friday. The court meets next on December 12.

Such a project would include the entire Sabanna Watershed from the headwaters in the Baird area of Eastland County and Comanche County extending to Lake Proctor.

The primary purposes of the project are flood control and conservation of land in preventing soil erosion. Resulting benefits, however, would also include sources of water for irrigation and recreational possibilities. Reservoirs, constructed along the Sabanna could be a possible source of municipal water supplies. Similar projects are proving highly successful in adjoining counties.

In a September 26 meeting, Ross Wilson of Gorman was elected Chairman of the Watershed Association, H.A. Tyrone of Carbon was elected vice-chairman and Billy Carruth of DeLeon was elected Secretary. Treasurer, Chambers of Commerce in Rising Star, Gorman and DeLeon have enthusiastically endorsed the project and are working together to offer all possible assistance to the association. There is no known opposition to the project.

Damaging flooding occurred along the Sabanna in 1900, 1908, 1922, 1935, 1942, 1952 and 1957. About 14,000 acres are damaged during flooding of the stream. The Soil Conservation service has

Damages Are Sought in Dallas Man's Shooting

The wife of a young doctor who was shot to death in a pecan orchard near Ranger in November, 1964, will ask for $751,780.70 in damages from the man who fired the gun in a 91st District Court suit on docket for January 16, 1967.

Mrs. Patsy H. Riedel of Dallas brought the suit against Ivan J. Allen, Eastland County rancher. Her husband, the late Dr. Albert Riedel, was shot to death on Allen's ranch in the eastern part of the county. Allen was acquitted early this year by a placed the annual damage from flooding at $55,000 on crops and pastures; damages to roads and bridges $35,000 and damage to other agricultural property $10,000. This damage, it is estimated could be reduced by about 70 per cent by the construction of dams and reservoirs at appropriate places.

91st District Court jury that ruled the shooting was accidental.

The suit by Mrs. Riedel alleges negligence by Allen at the time of the shooting and asks the $751,780.70 for herself and her three children.

Representing Mrs. Riedel are Thompson, Coe, Cousins and Irons, Dallas law firm. Virgil Seaberry and Bill Hart, both of Eastland, are Allen's attorneys. They defended him at his murder trial.

DISTRIBUTION DATES

bidden by law to teach in a public school. Sometimes the Catholic schools use lay teachers; Mr. Orlando, the girls' mother previously taught in a parochial school. There's no school bus system there; regardless of where a student lives, he is responsible for his own transportation to and from school. Family life: No weekly or semi-weekly shopping was mentioned quickly. There are almost no private houses in Verona; regardless of income, the family lives in an apartment complex built around an open square. Inside the square are umbrella-covered market stalls. The women go each morning and buy food for the day. Nothing is pre-wrapped. "You'd have to buy Italian bread daily," Lilianna said. "It's too hard to eat the second day after baking." Girls begin to date much older, usually 16 or 17, and the parents want to know the boy's background, but not especially him. A girl never invites a boy to spend time in her home (eat a meal with the family, for example,) until she has decided to marry him. When a girl brings a boy home for supper, the marriage is already planned.

Women never leave their homes without heels and hose; never wear slacks or shorts on the street. Few women drive cars.

Families walk more. There are streets in Verona where a wheel of any kind is forbidden. The shops close in the afternoon (everyone sits at an outside cafe and drinks coffee) and the shops are open late at night.

Movies and TV: The sisters feel that Texas shown in western movies is the real Texas, country wise. It's desolate - looking, compared to home," they said. They also feel that the actual scenery in Italian movies is real. But not the people! "We've not always eating spaghetti or shooting someone," they said.

There is no food eaten inside a theater in Italy. When they were first escorted to a theater on the base (the Little America they mentioned), the sisters were shocked at the popcorn and candy.

In Italy, no one eats breakfast. "Men are like little children here," Lilianna says. "they must have more than coffee for breakfast and they always eat between meals." Popcorn, Spanish food, hamburgers and French fried potatoes are new foods to the women. They said Italians fry more foods, but have never used shortening, using only olive oil.

Would these Italian women prefer to live in America or in Italy? "A wife is a wife," they prefer to live wherever their husbands happen to be.

Scientists Give Sunday Topics

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the title of the Lesson- Sermon to be read in all Christian Science Churches Sunday, December 4.

Scriptural readings include Matthew's account of Jesus' healing of the insane boy who fell "oftimes... into the fire, and oft into the water," and Jesus' admonition to his disciples, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

A correlative passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is this: "Our Master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick. It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago."

Sheriff Sublett Lauded In Lawmen's Magazine

(Editor's note. The following article appeared in a recent issue of SOUTHWESTERN LAW, official publication of the Law Enforcement Officers Association of Texas.)

"Crime is definitely on the increase, and anybody who thinks organized crime has not come to Texas is just plain nuts."

Calling a spade a spade—a lifelong trait, incidentally—Sheriff Leonard "Lefty" Sublett recently voiced this opinion at his Eastland County office.

"We've had everything in the way of a major crime around here except bank robbery, and we don't have any guarantee against that," the outspoken sheriff said.

A comparative newcomer, although he is 58 but leather tough, Sublett was elected to his office in January of last year, and has been "hard at it" ever since. He has a four man staff and needs that many more.

Ironically, the crying need for more men was stifled recently by the sheriff's own good work and that of his men.

Let "Lefty" tell you about it.

"Burglars were tearing us up at Gorman, a little town of about 1200 which is just one of about five such towns in my jurisdiction. Thirteen different places had been hit, and all by the same ring."

"Well, the townspeople were getting restless, and I can certainly understand why. We had been working around the clock but getting nowhere. A petition was drawn up, and signed by most of the people demanding at least two more deputies for my staff. Well, we got a real break, and cleared 11 of the 13 cases, just before the petition was to be presented to the mayor.... they never submitted the petition and I haven't heard a word from Gorman since."

Added the sheriff with a chuckle:

"Yes, sir, me and my boys just plain worked too fast and beat 'Ole Lefty' out of a couple more hands."

Getting serious again, the former semi-pro pitcher for 16 years said the crime increase was of grave concern to everyone in the entire state.

"And it's really not a state problem, but a national one—no, it's an international one," the sheriff added.

Frankly admitting he was unable to pinpoint the reason for the crime increase, Sheriff Sublett did pop a few verbal caps in the direction of the U. S. Supreme Court.

"I don't think they realize what they are doing to law enforcement," he said. "It has gotten to the point where we almost have to apologize to a man for arresting him, and then after the arrest, we can't question him, and he may be a hardened criminal with a record as long as your arm."

"And this come," the sheriff added, "at a time when the criminal element is becoming more organized all the time."

On organized crime, the sheriff said the big eastern syndicates send their men to Texas and the surrounding area "to keep in practice". They utilize walkie-talkies, and have real engineers to case bank jobs and the like, with blue prints and all, he added.

"How about that ring of 21 they broke recently, 16 men and five women? They had their own electrician, engineer, blue print man, who works.... if that's not organized, I don't know what is."

And the sheriff fired a warning: "Look for more of the same because more money is coming into the state, and the big boys follow that cash."

Out of the Bowling Bag

By RALPH SITLER

Some of the girls from Fiesta Bowl did good at the Ladies class B tournament at Odessa. Evelyn Bagwell of Ranger and Sara Peel of Eastland teamed and took first with a series of 1.105—average out to around 185 for each—for each game. Sara came up with 3rd in the all events with a 1.578.

Gracie Koen and Myrtle Arron of Eastland came in not far from the top to win 6th with a series of 1.957. Quite a number of our Ladies are going to the State Tournament, so look for more winners.

The Ladies' Afternoon League has the HBs out in front with 60 wins and 20 lost. Joyce Hoover is high in the series with 487 and also with a high game of 175.

The Tuesday Night Ladies League is still in a close race for 1st and 2nd. Koen Salvage is 1st with 60 wins and 23 lost, but close behind with 60 wins and 28 lost, but close behind are two that are tied with 56 wins and 32 lost, Hollywood Vassarrette and Johnson Appliance.

In the "High Indiv.", 3 games, Helga Tiner came up with a 515. Ima Ruth Taylor with a 512 and not to be outdone too much is Mary Crenshaw with 504.

Tommy's Grocery, on the Monday Mens League is carrying a very substantial lead with 70 games won and 18 lost, and did you know that to date they have knocked down a total of 28,275 pins. Tommy's Grocery rolled the high series with 3,090 pins and right behind are two more three thousand series, The Dodge Boys with 3077 and Tesco Trans. with 3038 and look at those Indiv. series. All three over 600 with Charlie Offield high with 618; Holman Bagwell, 613, and Mack Heard 610. Also take a look at some of those Indiv. games. Jerry Cates, 248; Larry Sitler, 241; J. D. Johnson 237.

Looks like the Hollywood Vassarrette League on Friday night stands about the same with the Hooks on top with 46 and 26, followed by the Straps and the Backs with a tie of 40 and 32. Doyal Rhodes with 572 Bill Wyatt with 526 and Derrell Bilbrey with 503. Also in this league, we have a very happy and tickled young lady bowler who got her first 200 game by making it a 204. Madi Wyatt was that gal who beat out two men players—Doyal Rhodes and Jerry Blackwell, who had 203 and 201, respectively.

GAYLE BAUCUMS ARE ATTENDING FB CONVENTION IN LAS VEGAS

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Baucum, who live between Cisco and Eastland on Highway 80, left Thursday morning for Las Vegas, where they will be guests at the 48th annual convention of American Farm Bureau Federation.

Baucum, General Agent of Eastland County, won the all-expense-paid trip for two by being the second highest Texas producer (of new policies sold) during September of this year.

The prize climaxed Baucum's first full year with Farm Bureau. A native of Anson, Baucum graduated from Anson High School and attended Abilene Christian College in Abilene. He moved to this county in December, 1965.

Mrs. Baucum is also from Anson and the couple's nine-month-old son, Joe Edward, is staying with his grandmother in Anson while the convention is in progress.

The Baucums are members of First Baptist Church in Cisco. They met two other couples in Abilene and drove to Nevada with them. The AFBF President, Charles B. Shuman, will present the annual address and Roger Fleming, Secretary-Treasurer, will bring his report. Tuesday's main address will be presented by former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

Young Farmers of America will be recognized for outstanding contributions. Site of the convention is the Las Vegas Convention Center, which has a seating capacity of 8500 in the rotunda and seventeen large meeting rooms adjoining the main hall. Some 7,000 delegates to the United States Farm Bureau Convention are expected to the location of the convention. The Baucums are expected to be held at the Sahara Hotel.
