

Slot-Machine King Wanted For 5 Percent Testimony

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he will insist that Frank Costello of New York, reputed "slot machine king," be called as a witness in the Senate investigation of "five percenters."

"I think Costello is a very necessary and important witness," McCarthy told a reporter today. McCarthy is a member of the Senate investigations subcommittee which has been digging into the question of whether there has been improper influence in letting of federal contracts. He has mentioned Costello's name several times during the hearings.

McCarthy by questions linked Costello with Phil Kastei and William Helis as partners in a liquor firm. He pressed Vaughan about any contacts with or campaign donations from them. Vaughan said he knew nothing about any such liquor firm. He said he got $2,000 or $3,000 in campaign contributions from Helis in 1946, but that his understanding was that Helis had collected the money from Greek-Americans friendly to the Democratic cause.

Helis is a New Orleans oil man and racing figure. Today, McCarthy said he wants to ask Costello "about a number of things that have cropped up in the investigation but I can't disclose them now or it would foul things up." The Senate hearings are in recess now, probably for about a month. Meantime, the staff and investigators are running down a number of tips and collecting data that may be disclosed later at public sessions. Government agencies are moving to shut their doors against five percenters. The government's chief purchasing officer, Jess Larson, assured the senators before the hearings closed that the middleman in government offices administration out. Larson, who heads the new government of vice administration, testified that he, Secretary of Defense Johnson and Budget Director Frank Page had worked out a plan to make direct contracting easier for small businessmen. Unethical firms will be blacklisted and federal employees warned about taking favors, he said, adding: "It is my honest opinion that this procedure, together with the policy of decentralizing procurement and the maintaining of adequate, courteous and efficient information centers will cause the so-called five percenter to wane and die because there will be no need for his services."

Plane Flight For Grandstaff Is In Prospect

Ranger Escort To Be Sought For 'Cantata' Trip. It looks like Frank Grandstaff might make his trip to Big Spring in grand style. Air transportation is planned for the Tennessee prison inmate who will be freed long enough to come here and hear — for the first time — the musical composition he wrote behind bars. Grandstaff is due to appear during Centennial week, principally on the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 2, when the male chorus of the Texas & Pacific Railway company, of Dallas, presents the "Big Spring" cantata he wrote. Gov. Gordon Browning of Tennessee has said a parole could be effected, as long as Texas folk assume custody of Grandstaff. Then, Friday, C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder, well-known oil man who has interests in Big Spring, proffered the use of his private plane for bringing Grandstaff from Nashville. If such mode of transportation is agreeable to state officials of Texas and Tennessee, the McLaughlin offer will be accepted by the Big Spring Centennial association. Shine Phillips, association president, will be in Austin the first of the week to confer with authorities as to escort and other details of the parole. He will request that a Texas Ranger be assigned. Meanwhile, the unique affair was creating comment in the national press. A Nashville paper advised that it will send a reporter on the Grandstaff trip. From the same city originated stories having to do with the case. One press report which said "Governor Allen Shivers had agreed to pay expenses" of the Grandstaff trip caused some consternation in Austin, since this is not a fact. The Centennial association is making all arrangements, and Governor Shivers' assistance was in merely making a request of the Tennessee executive that the parole request be given consideration.

Aid To Britain Plan Mapped

Agenda Drawn For Important Money Talks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—A tentative six-point plan for helping Britain out of its financial crisis is expected today from final discussions of American, British and Canadian fact-finding officials. Representatives of the three government have been meeting twice daily for the past week to explore the problem. They hope to complete an agenda today that will permit their foreign ministers next week to discuss three points: 1. Reducing further British purchases from the United States and increasing buying in non-dollar areas wherever possible. 2. Streamlining American customs rules to encourage more British exports to send their goods to the United States. 3. Easing provisions of the 1946 British loan agreement to permit Britain to slow up purchases of American goods in favor of those from non-dollar countries. 4. Boosting American purchases of British commonwealth tin and rubber. The United States has been buying limited quantities to stockpile for an emergency. 5. Increasing American economic help to southeast Asian members of the British commonwealth to ease their demands on Britain's scarce dollar supply. The countries involved are reported to be India, Pakistan, and Malaya, and Burma, now outside the commonwealth. 6. Calling a new tariff cutting conference some time next year to reduce duties on British exports to the United States. The steps are intended as stop-gap measures to ease the drain on Britain's dwindling reserves. But officials agree they will not by themselves solve Britain's long-range problem: its inability to earn enough dollars to pay for what it buys from the United States and Canada. The basic solution to this is believed to be an intensive drive by the Labor government to reduce British production costs and thus make it easier for British products to compete in the world market. This long-range problem will be handled by the foreign and finance ministers of the three governments meeting here Sept. 7 to study the dollar-pound crisis.

Church Dispute Not Settled By Vatican Ruling

BOSTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—A five months dispute between the Boston hierarchy and a Roman Catholic group over whether there is salvation outside the Catholic Church still appeared unsettled today despite a Vatican ruling upholding Archbishop Richard J. Cushing. The decision was announced by Archbishop Cushing in "The Pilot," official publication of the Boston Catholic hierarchy. The announcement said the ruling was made by the Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office, over which the Pope presides. The controversial group, led by the Rev. Leonard J. Feeney, S. J., has persisted in the contention non-Catholics could not be saved. The church holds otherwise. The group has held to its position in face of a stern interdict against their organization — St. Benedict's Center — and the "silencing" of Fr. Feeney. Referring to the group's stand, the letter from the sacred congregation declared: "It is clear that the doctrine presented (by the group) . . . as genuine Catholic teaching is far from being such, and can do nothing but grave harm to those who are in the church and to those outside it."

The communication from the Vatican also named Fr. Feeney and strongly criticized him for his part in the controversy. CRAIG ELECTED LEGION COMMANDER—George N. 'IMPORTANT VOICE' New Commander Lists Legion Aims

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2. (AP)—The American Legion's new national commander—40-year-old George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind.—stood pledged today to make that organization "an important voice in the nation's political and social life." The Hoosier lawyer—the first World War Two veteran ever named to head the Legion—was chosen yesterday in a nip-and-tuck race with three other candidates. The job pays $15,000 annually and carries with it a $35,000 expense allowance. Philadelphia, its streets washed clean of Legion literature, resumed quiet normalcy today after four days of serious discussion, speech-making, politicking and parading that marked the Legion's 31st national convention. Craig rolled into office on thumping majorities given him by a half dozen of the Legion's biggest state departments — Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Indiana and New York. "My generation has already carried the responsibility of national security in time of war," Craig said, "and now we join, in unity of purpose, our older comrades . . . in promoting and safeguarding those principles necessary for our continued strength and prosperity as a nation." An estimated 60,000 Legionnaire attended the mammoth conclave which retiring National Commander Perry Brown, Beaumont, Tex. called "the best in our long and colorful history."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2. (AP)—Three months of sitting atop a 30-foot pole—and not eating—is a good way to lose about 100 pounds. Percy the Fat Man figures. Percy Conlon weighing 340 pounds and already weak from a week of fasting, yesterday climbed the steel pole to his six-foot square wooden house. He lives at nearby Tarrant. Hundreds cheered the 33-year-old man, who panted laboriously during the ascent. Percy already has lost 17 pounds during his week away from the victuals. He says it's really tough during the first seven days. "After that you don't want food," he added. "I'll be down on Dec. 4 for a chicken dinner," said the big fellow as he climbed the pole. Before the weight-losing jag began, Percy's measurements made him a classic "Mr. Five-by-Five." He was 50 inches in the waist and he's exactly five feet tall. Formerly he was a racing car driver and weighed 130 pounds. Percy's little house is equipped with telephone, television and radio. Each day he'll put in a call to his brother, a Chicago musician—and explain how he feels. At the end of 30 days Percy will squeeze the juice of a lemon into his drinking water each day. He also plans to take a little salt during the fast. Percy hopes "fasting and drinking pure water" will cure what he calls the "sleeping sickness." This ailment has bothered him since he became "stout," he says. On a normal day, the big fellow has been accustomed to poisoning off a dozen eggs for breakfast.

Flag-Pole Sitting (And No Food) Seems To Be The Way To Reduce

To Pick Jury For Probe Of Alice Slaving

ALICE, Sept. 2. (AP)—Five jury commissioners were named today to select a grand jury to investigate the pistol slaying of W. H. (Bill) Mason, crusading radio commentator. Judge Paul A. Martineau of Corpus Christi, substituting at a special term of 7th District Court for Regular Judge, L. Broeter of Alice, named the commissioners. Judge Broeter is ill. The five are expected to select a panel of 16 men sometime today. From the 16, a grand jury of 12 will be chosen. Mason, 51, veteran newspaperman and radio man was shot to death July 29 as he sat in his automobile on the industrial outskirts of Alice. Deputy Sheriff Sam Smithwick, 60, surrendered after the slaying and was charged with murder. In his last broadcast, Mason said Smithwick owned the property on which a night club was situated and said loose women piled their trade at the night spot. Judge Broeter had promised that "all angles of the crime would be investigated. Today, Judge Martineau said: "I will give the grand jury a complete charge in this case."

The five commissioners named were William Botard of Alice; Herbert Havemann, Orange Grove; Alvin Canales, Premont; John Gunn of Alice and E. H. Eblers of Orange Grove. They were present and were sworn in immediately. The courtroom, which seats several hundred persons, was packed, an extraordinary audience for the simple, formal procedure of naming grand jury commissioners. The same courtroom had been jam-packed early in August when the big, bulky, Smithwick pleaded innocent to the murder charge and the state's eyewitness, Avilno Saenz, testified Saenz, a 35-year-old war veteran, said Smithwick fired the single, fatal shot that killed Mason.

How To Free A Skunk From Jug

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Sept. 2. (AP)—Fred Holtz has canceled his plea for volunteers to help solve a delicate problem: How to get a skunk's head out of a glass jug without being penalized by the skunk. Holtz and his wife were aroused from sleep Wednesday by a thumping racket outside their home in nearby Wadsworth. They found a skunk, its head stuck in the jug frantically attempting to remove the unwelcome head gear. A call to the sheriff's office, the humane society and others brought no response. Holtz decided on a plan of action yesterday. He donned what he called "protective clothing against a skunk" and found the jugged-head animal under the edge of a water tank. Holding his nose with one hand, Holtz bent over, grasped the jug with his other hand and gave a quick tug. The jug came loose. Holtz continued to hold his nose and also his breath. The skunk looked at his rescuer, then scampered away without a word — or anything.

Seek Dismissal Of Tideland Suit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—Louisiana asked the Supreme Court yesterday to dismiss the suit in which the United States seeks to establish "paramount rights" to the oil-bearing tidelands off the Louisiana coast. Last May the court gave the government permission to file suits against Texas and Louisiana, but the matters rest at this point. A motion filed by F. Trowbridge Von Bauer representing Louisiana, contends the court has no authority to act in the controversy. Further, it says the state has not agreed to be sued by the federal government.

Navy Man Denies Desertion Charge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—A Navy court martial board today weighed James Patrick Ryan's story that he didn't really desert his ship in 1947 but was shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion.

The court was expected to reach a decision late today after hearing argument from young Ryan's attorney, Walter H. Moorman, and the judge advocate general, Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Kroetz, who is prosecuting the case.

Ryan, 24-year-old Huntingdon, Pa., Army combat veteran of the last war, is a postwar Navy enlistee who is charged with deserting from the Destroyer Dickson at San Remo, Italy, July 3, 1947.

He gave a harrowing account of miserable experience endured for 16 months as an unwilling member of the fabled French Foreign Legion.

Ryan said he missed his ship at San Remo because he passed out after having a few drinks too many with Italian pickup acquaintances. When he started for Nice, France to rejoin the Dickson, he related, he was kidnapped by the Legion. He said he endured repeated beatings because he wouldn't sign enlistment papers, but was kept in the Legion anyhow.

His long ordeal, Ryan testified, took him in and out of several French prisons and North African Legion posts and eventually into the Viet-Namese war in Indo-China. He said officials told him he was being shipped to Asia to keep him out of the hands of those trying to free him from the Legion.

He said he escaped from Indo-China in October, 1948. Battered and weary, Ryan finally reported to naval authorities in Canton, China, last February.

His story of being whipped with a leather belt in North Africa was supported by Walter G. Leathe, 23 of Malden, Mass.

Leathe said he too was abducted into the Legion while touring France last year, but was finally released after six months, through the intervention of Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.)

When the court told Leathe that Ryan was charged with desertion, he appeared startled.

"I don't think anyone in this courtroom understands the violence the Legion resorts to. I have seen people get their eyes popped out because they wouldn't sign a paper. No, I can't understand that charge."

GIRL'S AGE AN ISSUE

Further Probe Of Hitchhike Slaying

BRADY, Sept. 2 (AP)—Further investigation has been ordered in the hitchhike slaying of a Brady real estate man.

A grand jury met here for seven hours yesterday and considered murder charges against attractive Mrs. Sandra Peterson in the roadside shooting Aug. 25 of Lewis Patterson near Brady.

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the jurors adjourned subject to recall and went home. Dist. Atty. R. P. Haun of Coleman said the case was "passed for further consideration."

The grand jury's term is up Oct. 2. However, if no disposition is made of the case by then, the next grand jury could consider the charges.

One of the principal questions facing the grand jury is the actual age of curvaceous Mrs. Peterson.

"We want to wait for the birth certificate," Haun said. "We don't know if she is under age or over age. We want to see the birth certificate."

Talkative Sandra says she is only 17 — which would make her a juvenile under Texas law and safe from a murder trial until she is 18. Massachusetts' police back up her claim. They say a copy of the birth certificate shows she will not be 18 until Dec. 11, 1949.

On the other hand, when Sandra was arrested she told officers she was 23.

"That girl has been around too much to be just 17," Haun said. "I would like to see that birth certificate. I have asked for a certified copy. When I get it I am going to have it subjected to a microscopic examination to be sure it hasn't been tampered with."

Among a number of witnesses appearing before the grand jury was Loretta Fae Moringo, 15, of Austin, who was with Mrs. Peterson at the time of the shooting. She is being held in McCulloch County jail along with Sandra.

AND VETERANS RESPOND

Robeson Schedules Another Concert

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP)—Paul Robeson says he will hold a concert Sunday—a mile from where a riot broke up a scheduled appearance last week—and veterans groups say they'll stage a parade to protest it, as they did before.

The Negro singer, declaring "there'll be no more Peekskill—not like that," announced his acceptance last night of an invitation to sing Sunday afternoon in nearby Cortlandt, where the riot raged last Saturday.

Fourteen veterans groups immediately countered at a meeting near here with plans to hold a parade past the new concert scene that would be what they termed "a conclusive demonstration against Communism."

A scheduled concert by the Negro singer—who has been actively identified with leftist movements—broke up into a fierce riot Saturday after veterans groups staged a counter-demonstration.

At least eight persons were injured, two seriously.

Robeson will sing Sunday under auspices of the "Westchester Committee for Law and Order," which describes itself as a non-political group formed after last week's disturbance.

The concert is scheduled for 1 p. m. (EST) at the old Hollow Golf Club grounds, about four miles north of here. The golf course is on the same road and about a mile north of last Saturday's riot scene.

In Albany, meanwhile, a "civil rights" group protesting the riot in a march on the state capitol was booed last night by a crowd of some 3,000 persons. No disorder was reported.

Robeson, announcing his new concert at a New York meeting, said:

"If none of the state troopers show up, we'll be protected, we'll be there, and we'll have a concert with many artists from all over the United States."

The veterans groups met in Cortlandt township, where the concert is scheduled, and drew up plans for their parade.

Alan M. Grant, Jr., supervisor of the town, said a parade permit was granted to the veterans—comprising 14 posts of various organizations—last night.

A spokesman for the veterans said nine American Legion posts.

three Veterans of Foreign Wars groups, and one Catholic War Veterans and one Jewish War Veterans post will be represented.

The parade, the spokesman said, will go down Hillside Ave., which runs past the golf course grounds. He said the groups hope to stage a parade "five or 10 miles long."

SIR 754 OUGHT TO BE ENOUGH

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—Sir Tiruvallyangudi Vijayaraghavacharya.

That's the name of a 73-year-old Indian diplomat who arrived here yesterday en route to London to attend a commonwealth relations conference there next week.

"In London," he said, "I was known as sir 754. That was the number of my room in the Savoy Hotel."

Southern Korea Hears Reports Of Invasion

SEOUL, Sept. 2 (AP)—Word spread here today that the Russians are demanding return of weapons loaned to North Korea Communists unless the southern republic is invaded by the end of this month.

An American officer assigned to intelligence for the American embassy said the report was "possibly true." He said he had received it from two sources.

Korean officials also heard the same report from various sources. The Soviets merely would end military assistance to the North Communist regime unless the south was taken over.

Defense Minister Shin Sung Mo told the Associated Press that the report, whether true or not, would not change the policy of the republic's army. He said it is on the defense at all times against possible invasion by the Communists.

The Communist army has some Japanese weapons but most of its equipment is Russian. The North Korean Red Army has been estimated at 200,000 men.

There are about 70,000 American equipped men in the republic's army.

It Ain't Fair To Search A Man's Stomach

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2 (AP)—It's illegal to search a man's stomach for evidence, a federal judge has ruled.

After giving the opinion that such a procedure is "trial by ordeal," Judge Jacob Weinberger yesterday dismissed narcotics charges brought against Andrew Willis, whose stomach was searched.

Willis, 42-year-old laborer, was arrested June 26 by federal narcotics agents. He was taken to a hospital, strapped to a bed and a stomach pump was applied. Officers said they recovered two capsules of heroin by this method.

Judge Weinberger commented that this was "the most unusual procedure" he had ever heard of for obtaining evidence.

However Willis was immediately re-arrested by Los Angeles police on a state narcotics charge.

Bolivian Rebels On The March

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 2 (AP)—Insurgent reports heard here today said rebel forces attempting to topple the government are marching on the Bolivian city of Tarija.

The reports said the advance is being led by Carmelo Cuellar, commander of rebel troops that captured Yacuiba on the Argentine border Wednesday. Tarija, in the south, has a population of some 20,000.

The number of troops under Cuellar was not known here.

The revolt was launched last Saturday by the National Revolutionary Party (MNR), an extreme nationalist group.

A rebel plane dropped bombs on El Alto airport in La Paz yesterday, but no damage was reported. A government plane bombed the airport at Sucre, official sources said, to prevent the escape of rebel officers who occupied the city Wednesday.

1,600 MILES TO DENTIST

EDMONT, Alta., Sept. 2 (AP)—A toothache can become a pain in the neck when you're 1,600 miles from the nearest dentist.

For Mrs. Adolphus Norris of Akavik, N. W. T., it meant a three-week trip down the Mackenzie River to Edmonton by tug boat.

When she suffered a severe toothache her husband packed her and their two daughters aboard the tug which he uses in his trading business, and set out for Edmonton, 1,600 miles south.

After a 1,100-mile water trip and a 500-mile jaunt by bus, the Norrises arrived in an Edmonton dentist's office. Just for good measure they are all getting their teeth fixed.

Norris hopes to make the return trip in 10 days.

Convicted Wife-Slayer Shot As He Struggles With Sheriff

PORT LAVACA, Sept. 2 (AP)—A former Army pilot, convicted by a trial court in the slaying of his wife, was shot to death here yesterday as he struggled with Calhoun County Sheriff L. M. Fisher.

Fisher said Michael H. Byars, 31, jumped on him as the sheriff opened the door of Byars' cell. Fisher drew his 45 caliber automatic and fired four times.

"It's a clean case of justifiable homicide," Dist. Atty. Frank W. Martin of Goliad said after an investigation. He said no charges would be filed against Fisher.

Byars was in jail on charges of assaulting a Port Lavaca woman with intent to rape. Fisher had gone to his cell to take Byars before a justice of peace for a preliminary hearing on the charge.

The sheriff's clothing was badly torn, his shoulder skinned and a knee bruised in the scuffle.

A 197th District Court jury at Brownsville convicted Byars last year of murder without malice in the death of his wife, Juanita S. Byars, 39. Her body was found in the bed of their airport cabin at Harlingen after the cabin burned.

The state accused Byars of strangling his wife and burning the bed in which she lay. The original charge was murder with malice but was reduced to murder without malice during the trial.

Gasparyan died Wednesday, the announcement said.

The AFL retail clerks local whose members work at the John Wanamaker Department Store will start their campaign next week by spending $5,000 for newspaper advertisements.

Paul P. Milling, the local's president, said the 1,900 union employees recognize that it is in their interest for the store to prosper.

State Hospital Attendants Go On Shorter Shift

Male attendants at the Big Spring State Hospital went on a three shift per day schedule Thursday.

This put all such employees at the hospital on an eight-hour per day basis. The new eleemosynary institution board ordered the shortening of work schedules for the men, said Dr. A. M. Bowden, superintendent. They will continue to draw the same pay as for the longer hours.

Part of an estimated 10 additional men needed because of the new schedule have been added to the staff.

Women attendants have been on a three-shift per day basis for the past three years.

Thursday was the beginning of the new fiscal year and was the first day under the new board for the state hospital.

New Discord In The Red Orbit With Revolt In Czechoslovakia

Only this week did the world learn of a revolutionary movement in Czechoslovakia that produced quick and terrible punishment from the Communist government there. In secret trials, six men drew the death penalty, numerous others went to prison, and ten were acquitted. The Red government, announcing this, said the uprising had been biased.

Some observers of the foreign scene say this is evidence that the restiveness reported in satellite states against the Kremlin is not confined to Yugoslavia, but is permeating all other nations behind the Iron curtain. The purge in Czechoslovakia is the first major indication that it is not well in the Cominform. The Communist government at Prague called it "an armed revolt" on a large scale, an admission that removed it from the category of simple ideological divergences.

Meantime, the Kremlin continues to bombard Tito of Yugoslavia with recrimination and abuse, and Tito seems in no wise disinclined to take it lying down. The latest Russian blast is an accusation that Tito has become a stooge of the West, a charge that seems to have been engendered by Tito's request for a $25 million loan from the U.S. Export-Import Bank.

The Cominform, after reading Tito out of the brotherhood, set out to destroy him by shutting off all commerce between the Yugoslavs and the other satellites and with Russia. Undoubtedly this embargo is hurting Yugoslavia, and Tito's plea for an American loan and for trade concessions with France and Italy reflect his desperation.

It is for the West to decide whether to render assistance to Tito, as a means of rifting, the Iron curtain and contributing to the disaffection of other satellite states. Under the circumstances it looks like a pretty good "calculated risk," and a loan to Tito—to be guaranteed and repaid by shipments of raw materials to the U.S.—might be the best 25 million investment ever made.

Mileage Death Rate Is Down, But Safety Work Must Go On

Another cheerful little item emanated from Chicago Wednesday, this time from the National Safety Council. It said that the mileage death rate from traffic accidents for the first half of 1949 had reached a new all-time low of 8.8.

The council said this was the first time in its records that the half-year rate had been less than seven deaths for each 100,000 miles of vehicular travel.

"The goal set by President Truman in 1946 is in sight," exulted Council President Ned H. Dearborn. "At that time he asked that the mileage death rate, then about 32 deaths per hundred million miles, be cut in half."

In terms of human life, however, the first half of 1949 did not turn out so well. July's death rate was up two percent, and both January and April showed increases. The toll for the first seven months, however, was still one percent under the comparable period of last year.

The actual death toll was up, January through June, but so was the mileage traveled, hence the per-mile rate was cut almost in half compared to that of 1946.

Exposure to death in traffic naturally increases in proportion to the rise in miles traveled, so the mileage death rate is an accurate reflection of actual hazards of travel. And there is reason to rejoice in the fact that Americans are traveling with almost double the safety per mile that they were traveling only three years ago. Railroads and airlines have used the mileage death rate as the standard measurement for years.

But the battle has only begun. As always, the weapons are the three E's—Education, Engineering, and Enforcement. The fact that 16,540 Americans died in traffic during the first seven months of this year offers incentive enough to carry on the campaign for safety with renewed determination and vigor.

That is too stiff a price to pay for carelessness.

Politics As Exchange Of Favors Seems To Be Vaughan's View

WASHINGTON.—(Ma.) Gen. Harry Vaughan gives the impression on the witness stand of a man honestly puzzled by all this fuss over his free-wheeling use of White House influence.

The definition of politics as a mean exchange of favors completely covers his understanding of the uses of the great power conferred with a position inside the White House. That utilizing the White House telephone, his own rank or the President's name has anything to do with good government or public morality clearly has not occurred to him.

People who know him well have been saying this; now he is proving it out of his own mouth. Repeatedly Vaughan showed how fantastically little he knew about the people for whom is his own good name and the prestige of his old friend, the President, now are in hazard. In many instances he had no idea of their backgrounds which included repeated violations of government regulations and in one case a criminal record.

They knew people he knew—and not very well at that. And he never bothered to ask questions seemingly before he sent—or accompanied—them on their way fortified with the magic words: "A friend of the White House."

The social world of Washington has an inviolable rule: A White House invitation is a command. The political world says: A White House subscription is a command. Human nature being what it is, the suggestions are obeyed too. Men completely sure of themselves sometimes fight back but the average bureaucrat plays it safe.

This puts the burden wholly on the discretion of the White House staff. Vaughan is not being accused of larceny; he is equally guiltless of discretion or understanding of White House power.

He is spreading upon the record a perfect example of what such blind influence can do to government though it is honestly motivated. He appears not yet to recognize this. He says he doesn't think anything has been proved against his wily friend, John Maragon, and that as of now he'd still recommend him for White House employment.

As a matter of fact, the general has in a way been protected by his simplicity and obvious lack of the kind of sinister temperament that would have attracted the big shots with larceny in their hearts. Big crooks could not have afforded to trust such an extraveiler, who wanted only to be a good fellow. The evidence is all comparatively little stuff, important to expose and stop, but not crime in the grand manner.

Maragon is what Broadway would call a hustler, a crafty but somewhat daffily character who perhaps served Vaughan as a court jester of his own. In almost his only spontaneous outburst, Vaughan indicated as much. He said he found Maragon receiving calls over the Vaughan White House telephone and put a stop to it, adding with a grin: "You know he don't reprimand easy."

The general is neither a defiant nor happy witness, however. He is pale and subdued in contrast to his usual bumptiousness and he is plainly striving neither to give nor to take offense. He may not understand why but he knows he is in trouble.

Anti-Communist Pacific Pact Likely To Be Brought Forward

WE ARE LIKELY TO SEE A FRESH burst of activity shortly in the interests of the Pacific Union which has been proposed by President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines as a counterpart of the Atlantic Pact.

This project is primarily designed to halt communism in the Orient—not by military means but by politico-economic methods. The move takes on special significance in view of the striking Communist successes in China.

The project first was announced July 11 after Quirino discussed it with President Chiang Kai-shek of China. These two having agreed on the necessity of such a development, President Quirino visited America and on Aug. 9 made a plea for American support in addressing the Senate and House.

QUIRINO AND CHIANG ALSO AGREED that relations between China and the Philippines should be strengthened and that practical measures should be taken immediately for promotion of close economic and cultural cooperation. The South Korean Republic was expected to be an early participant, and it was agreed that invitations for collaboration should go to Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, India, and Siam.

The task of pursuing the project with these nations has been assigned to Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States.

General Romulo not only will have to sell this idea to the other nations of Southeast Asia, but it is understood that he will harmonize the plans for Pacific Union with development of the U. S. Pacific Department's Far Eastern policy.

AND WHAT ABOUT JAPAN AND ITS relations to this Pacific pact? Well, of course Nippon's relations to the Pacific Union will become a major issue.

Brazilians Getting Miffed At U. S. Over Restrictions Tied To Loan

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
FOR DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—British-American differences aren't the only strained relations worrying the State Department.

Behind the scenes, a trouble-breeding situation has developed with Brazil, our traditional South American ally.

Cause of the disturbing dispute is a loan—with reverse English.

The Brazilians don't want the loan.

They hotly charge that the Export-Import bank is trying to "blackjack" them into taking a $200 million loan they don't want.

This is the Brazilians' story: Brazil owes several hundred million dollars to U.S. firms and banks for purchases of equipment and other supplies in the past year. It is conceded payments have been slow. The Brazilians explain this is due to an acute dollar shortage, as a result of a very heavy decrease in exports to the U.S.

The Brazilians say that if they can get a $40 million loan to develop the vast, untapped resources of Minas Gerais, they can quickly expand their economy to meet their commercial debts. Also, that such a loan fits in squarely with President Truman's "point four" program.

But the Export-Import Bank is refusing to consider this proposal until Brazil agrees to take the $200 million loan.

In Rio De Janeiro this has led to bitter feeling. Cries of "Yankee imperialism," "dollar diplomacy" and "Uncle Shylock" have been tossed around. In Washington, Ambassador Nabuco is more polite and discreet. But no bones are being made of the contention that a group of New York bankers and export firms are behind the insistence of the big loan.

Specifically, it is claimed that the Commerce & Industry Association of New York has pressured the Export-Import Bank into demanding that Brazil sign up for the $200 million in order to pay off its commercial debts.

The Brazilians are hoping President Dutra may take the issue directly to President Truman.

NOTE: Minas Gerais means "general mines" or "abundant minerals." The state is the richest in Brazil; also the most powerful politically, owing to its great wealth. The proposed development loan has been under consideration for some time. Elaborate scientific and economic studies have been submitted and a special envoy, Dr. Barbosa Melo, was sent to Washington to work with Ambassador Nabuco to negotiate the loan.

Adding fuel to the situation is the fact that Milton Campos, governor of Minas Gerais, is a strong possibility as Dutra's successor next year. Campos is worth over what he considers deliberate U.S. refusal to aid the development of his state.

PEACE, IT'S WONDERFUL!

An intriguing little drama went practically unnoticed at the opening banquet of the American Legion convention in Philadelphia.

They are Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and former Secretary of War Harry Woodring. Johnson was Woodring's assistant secretary and the two men differed hotly on rearmament and intervention in the war. Johnson favored both. Woodring, a Kansan, was opposed. Woodring was dropped first; Johnson later on the insistence of Secretary of War Henry Stimson, who demanded his own associates.

After Johnson's appointment as defense secretary, newsmen, recalling the Woodring feud, asked the latter for a statement. The reporters expected a blast. Instead, Woodring warmly commended his old rival, and expressed the opinion he would do an outstanding job.

At the Legion banquet, Johnson, sitting at the head table, spotted Woodring on the floor. Rising, Johnson went to Woodring and greeted him warmly. Later, when Woodring left, he walked up to Johnson and bade him a cordial good-bye.

Peace, it's wonderful!

Here's A Film Beauty Waiting For A Date

HOLLYWOOD.—The famed Hollywood wolf is just a meek little lamb. If you want to believe Ruth Roman, Ruth is a streamlined and unattached brunette who ought know.

She'd like to meet one of those aggressive Hollywoodmen who, according to legend, lure the ladies with champagne and convertibles. Just to satisfy her curiosity, of course.

"I've lived here for years," the actress said on the "Always Leave Them Laughing" set. "I have yet to get a call from anyone resembling a wolf."

"The rest of the country thinks female stars ride a constant merry-go-round of nightclubs and parties. I know a lot of leading ladies who sit at home night after night because nobody asks them for a date."

Filmland exerts, Miss Roman opined, must be twiddling their thumbs rather than their mouths, and wishing they had nerve enough to call. Or maybe Miss Roman just doesn't know the wrong people.

In any event, ravishing Ruth poses a question, perhaps with an eye to the future:

"How is a girl to get married? Assuming she finds a man, who wants to reform a lamb?"

Dan Duryea, who takes his heels seriously, is visiting psychiatrists the better to portray screen villains. He says he has learned, for instance, that women who pay money to see him slap other women around aren't necessarily neurotic. Seems it's a normal desire, at least vicariously.

There's A Certain Warmth In Greeting Phrased As 'Howdy'

Of all mannerisms and habits cultivated by man, the conventional words of greeting and adieu probably are the most trite and stereotyped, yet when properly uttered they never lack freshness.

Our thoughts on the matter would necessarily be biased, of course, but we are of the opinion that inhabitants of the South, and particularly the Southwest, gave other sections of the country a fair lesson in proper utterances of such time-worn phrases during the recent war.

The "howdy, partner" that popularly characterized the man of the Southwest for so long in the ears of his contemporaries most certainly never came into the wide usage in this section that fiction writers would have you believe. However, the boys who ground out the Western tales for readers all over the country were faced with a problem. Those who used facts as a basis for portraying the habits of their fictional characters needed a distinctive phrase to describe the warmth of everyday greetings in the cattle country.

In reality a cattleman might say "good morning" or "hello" or "how are you" or any number of the phrases of greeting used throughout the country. If the writers used such phrases, however, their readers in other sections would interpret the words as their neighbors uttered them. That would spoil the atmosphere of the story, because the warmth of the cattleman's greeting would be lost. Readers in "civilized" circles could scarcely be expected to imagine any freshness in a "good morning" when they had heard their neighbors stumble over the same phrase with half-hearted, guttural sounds that issued forth as if they were prompted purely by necessity.

Consequently, the writers of western stories who investigated were quick to take advantage of the situation when they heard a simple "howdy" used in place of the conventional "how do you do." It was a different word one that was coined by the men they used as characters in their stories, and a word that would convey the proper expression to uninitiated readers.

The Southwestern man could greet friends and strangers with the same warmth by using any one of dozens of other greetings, but "howdy" was the word that best conveyed his sincerity.—WACIL McNAIR.

The Nation Today—By James Marlow

Here's Stock-Taking Of What Congress Has And Hasn't Done

WASHINGTON.—IT'S TIME TO take stock of what this Congress, the 81st, has done.

It's been in continuous session since early January. Now the House has taken a three-weeks' vacation, its work practically finished.

The slower Senate is still grinding along. It may be here for weeks, after it returns from the one-week holiday it started Wednesday night.

But mostly it will be winding up its part of the job which the House already has completed. So little new can be expected.

Every year Congress passes a number of laws which don't make headlines and this Congress, has done the same.

But the work of any Congress is judged by the big pieces of law-making it puts through.

On that score—major legislation—this Congress does not have a very distinguished record.

HERE ARE THE BIG BILLS PASSED by this Congress, meaning finished action by both House and Senate:

1. It continued the Marshall Plan for Europe. (The two differed on how much money to spend on it. They'll have to iron that out.)
2. It voted to keep rent control from April 1, 1949 until June 30, 1950.
3. It set up a government housing program: 810,000 dwelling units for low-income families; slum clearance and housing help for farmers.
4. It unified the armed forces more closely, strengthening the hand of Secretary of Defense Johnson.
5. It approved six of the seven plans President Truman submitted for reorganizing the government. These plans followed in part the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Governmental Reorganization.
6. It passed a new minimum wage bill, raising the present 40 cents an hour to 75 cents for people working for firms that do business across state lines. The House acted weeks ago on this, the Senate Wednesday night. All they have to do now is compromise a few differences.

SO MUCH FOR THE BIG BILLS ACTUALLY passed by both houses. Now for the bills that were passed by the House and, although still awaiting action by the Senate, are expected to pass there and become law:

1. Military aid for Europe to back up the Atlantic Pact.
2. Renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. This act, continually renewed by Congress since it was first passed in 1934, is a cornerstone in this country's foreign trade and policy.
- Under it the President can lower American tariffs on goods from a foreign country which in turn agrees to lower its tariffs on some of our goods.
3. Revising the Displaced Persons Act to cut out features which are considered to discriminate against some groups of DP's who wanted to come to the U. S. (The Senate may act but that's not certain.)
4. Keeping for another year the present system of holding farm prices up. It's not clear what the Senate will do on this, whether it will agree to the House plan or vote one of its own, or what it probably will do something.

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS, ALL MAJOR points which Mr. Truman wanted this Congress to pass, have no chance of passing this year:

1. A bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. The Senate voted to make mild changes in it. The House hasn't acted, isn't expected to. So T-H stands unchanged.
2. Social Security. Mr. Truman wanted the social security program widened to cover more people, give higher benefits. No action this year. May be next year.
- Last among the major things comes federal aid in education. The Senate passed a bill to grant such aid. Before the House could act, the whole subject was engulfed in a religious controversy. Small chance of House action this year. Therefore, small chance of federal aid.

Wherein The Older Generation Tries To Fathom The Younger

EAST HAMPTON, N. Y., SEPT. 2.—The fat man lay stretched on the beach, blissfully at peace, lulled asleep by the sea's old song.

Suddenly a shower of sand fell on his face. The fat man looked up into the serious face of a tow-headed five-year-old boy with a big broom. The boy held an animal book under his arm.

"Let's play a game," he said.

"Go away, little boy," said the fat man crossly. "I am paying $14 a day at this resort to get sunburned and you are standing in my sun."

"But there is nobody else for me to play with," said the boy stubbornly.

"If I play one game with you will you go away?" he asked.

"YES, LET'S PLAY GUESS-THE-ANIMAL game. I'm thinking of an animal that starts with the letter 'D'. What is it?"

"Is it a deer, dromedary, donkey, or a dachshund?" said the fat man.

"No."

"All right, I give up."

"It's a dimetrodon!" chortled the boy.

"A what?" asked the fat man uneasily. He noticed again that the little boy had a forehead like Einstein's.

"A dimetrodon," said the boy. "You know—one of those Permian reptiles that lived millions of years ago." He opened his animal book and showed the picture of a huge lizard with a giant fin on its back.

"Ugh," said the fat man. "Okay you win, little boy. Now go away."

"Is it a plesiosaurus, a palaeotheria, or a protosaurus?"

"Nope."

"IS IT A PAREISAURUS, A PLATEOSAURUS, a protogate, a phytosaurus, or a pterodactylus?"

"Nope."

"But it has to be. That's all there are in the book."

"I didn't say it was in the book."

"Well, I can't think of any more," said the little boy, sadly.

"It's a pig," shouted the fat man happily.

"A pig?" said the little boy, caught between scorn and treats. "A pig? Nobody would ever think of a pig. It isn't fair. I'm not going to play with you any more. He stomped away across the beach.

"Modern children," chuckled the fat man, lying down again. He was so pleased with himself he didn't fall asleep again for five minutes.

FRIEDRICH SCHORR, born Sept. 2, 1888 at Nagyvarad, Hungary. Former Metropolitan Opera baritone for 15 years and head of the vocal department of the Hartt College of Music in Hartford, Conn. Schorr became a singer over the protest of his father who wanted him to be a lawyer. He began his Wagnerian career at 22, neglecting his law studies at the University of Vienna to study voice. He came to the U. S. in 1911 for minor roles with Chicago Opera, sang in Baltimore, and in 1924 made his Metropolitan debut as Wotan in Die Walkure, a role he sang more than 200 times. He retired in 1943 to specialize in teaching.

LeTourneau To Talk Twice Here Sunday

R. G. LeTourneau, widely known Christian lay-leader and business man, will be a special guest in Big Spring Sunday. He will speak during the morning worship hour at the First Presbyterian church and at the First Baptist church at 4 o'clock, under the auspices of the local Pastor's association.

More than half of the earth-moving machinery produced in the world today is built in the five U. S. plants and one Australian factory of R. G. LeTourneau. Vel "Bob" LeTourneau confesses he has another interest, deeper and more driving. That interest is in the service of God.

Brought up by humble, God-fearing parents, LeTourneau left school at the age of 14 to take a job in a foundry. Two years later he came to Christ. He obtained his early mechanical training through correspondence courses in mechanical engineering. Repairing tractors in a garage of which he had become part owner, he began making improvements on existing earth-moving models. Soon thereafter he started turning out his own products on an ever-increasing scale.

Came the depression, and LeTourneau faced bankruptcy. He owed thousands of dollars. It was then that he made his pact with God, literally taking the Lord into his business as a partner.

Almost overnight his affairs began to prosper. Sales picked up and profits multiplied, while he faithfully kept his end of the bargain by diverting most of his profits to Christian work. He was then "in business for God" or God's business man.

Besides giving approximately 90 per cent of his profits to God, LeTourneau sponsors the LeTourneau Technical Institute. The institute is a non-profit education institution devoted to the training of industrial leaders. At the time a student registers and enters the institute, he makes his major choice aided by a comprehensive psychological testing program, including an intelligence test and personality inventory made by his counselors. A physical examination also allows him to determine his physical fitness for his chosen vocation.

"Bob" LeTourneau has addressed capacity audiences in cities and towns all over North America. In the past 14 years he has flown the equivalent of more than 100 times around the world in his private planes to give an account of his thrilling experience with God.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd will begin a series of sermons on "Presbyterianism" at the evening service Sunday. During the sermon, he will discuss the background and history of the Presbyterian faith.

"Another Famous Fugitive, Abraham" will be the topic for discussion at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. Dr. P. D. O'Brien will bring the message based on Genesis 12:10. During the evening worship hour, he will be heard on the subject, "Joseph, A Type of Christ." Baptismal services will be observed following the sermon hour.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

God's Justice Given Praise In The Psalms

Scripture — Psalms 40:1-7; ed. He had compassion on the poor, yet gave consideration to the rich. His heart was large enough so that, even in the midst of his agony on the cross, he called upon His Father, God, to forgive his enemies.

"God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; He judgeth among the gods." "How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah." "Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy." "Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked." "I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High." "But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes." "Arise, O God, judge the earth: for Thou shalt inherit all nations." "When shall justice come to our earth, many changes will be made—but God's world will really be here."

MEMORY VERSE

"Glory ye in His holy name: Let the heart of them rejoice that seek Jehovah." — Psalm 103:1.

In Psalm 49, King David calls upon all people—"low and high, rich and poor, together"—to listen "They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches; "None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give God a ransom for him." "Money can do much to relieve suffering—as those who need and have none can testify. But if one has sinned, money will not buy innocence. The person who committed the crime knows in his soul he is guilty, and although justice may for a time pass him by—perhaps by means of this same wealth—he never can be happy again.

The sad thing is that money does sometimes buy off a dishonest judge, while those without rich or influential friends suffer injustice.

Psalm 72 is called A Song for Solomon, and ends with the words, "The prayers of David, son of Jesus, are ended."

It is thought that David uttered this prayer when he was dying and Solomon put it into the form of the Psalm that David's memory should never perish. Only two Psalms bear the name of Solomon, this and the 127th.

"Give the king Thy judgements, O God, and Thy righteousness unto the king's son."

"He shall judge Thy people with righteousness, and Thy poor with judgment."

"He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor."

We know that Solomon was a wise judge in many ways, but he—like all human beings—had his faults, and he oppressed the people more than his father David or his predecessor, Saul, by taxing them excessively.

No one is perfect, and so judgments are often faulty—even when judges have the best of intentions—and in our country, this writer is sure, that a large majority of our judges try honestly, and conscientiously to give justice to all who are brought before them, whether they be rich or poor—native sons or those whom some call "foreigners."

Judges, jurors, teachers, parents, and many others should read the opening words of the 82nd Psalm and take them to heart. Jesus Christ was the only man whose judgments were perfect. He condemned only the willfully wicked.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

There's a lot of difference between the words, forget and forgive. Many friendships remain broken over a period of many years, not because misunderstandings have not been forgiven, but because they have not been forgotten.

Anytime there is a serious misunderstanding, there is always a feeling on the part of the persons involved that things are not the same. They can meet on the street without hatred and still have an uneasy feeling when attempting to be friendly.

It's one thing to be forgiving. It's another to be able to break down barriers caused by the misunderstandings. They continue long after forgiveness takes place.

Often we hear people comment concerning the littleness and pettiness of people. They criticize the human race as if they were not a member. It is probably a pretty good thing that most of us have a good opinion of ourselves because it is doubtful that anyone else does. But it seems like a good thing to remember that most of the faults we see in others are seen in us, too. It seems a truth that we see our own faults in the lives of others quicker than we see those faults with which we are less familiar.

Human relations have always been a problem and will probably continue unsolved. Probably one of the best methods of getting along is a little item called a sense of humor.

CATS FALTER

Garcia Records 14th Victory

Bert Garcia spun a glossy three-hitter to lead the Big Spring Broncs to an important 7-2 win over the Ballinger Cats before some 800 fans here Thursday night.

The triumph put a damper on the Felines' chances to bulldoze their way into the first division and a spot in the Shagbushy playoffs, since fourth place San Angelo edged Sweetwater Red Brown's Cats now trail Angelo by 3 1/2 games, have but 12 to play.

Mendez, Gomez In Foot Race

A throwing exhibition, contests, and a foot race will be held preliminary to the Big Spring Broncs-Ballinger Cat game at Steer park.

Ace Mendez, Bronc player, is to face all comers in a contest for throwing accuracy and distance. Al Valdes will give an exhibition of infield throwing.

A 100-yard dash between Felix Gomez and Mendez, both Big Spring players, will be held before the game starts. Preliminaries are due to begin at 8 p.m. The game starts at 8:15.

Julio Ramon, out of uniform for the past few days with an injured finger and throwing arm, will probably go to the mound for the local team. He will be seeking his 21st victory of the season. His record now stands at 20-4.

Ramon will also be out to set a new record in strikeouts for the season. He needs only two more to equal the 349 mark set for professional baseball by LeRoy Jones of Sweetwater in 1947.

GIANTS GREET SW COACHES

DALLAS, Sept. 2 (AP) — Southwest Conference football teams had one thing in common today: Big squads of big men.

Opening practice yesterday found terrific turnouts at the seven schools, with the 36 reporting at Texas, the most eager.

They begged—and got—a five minute scrimmage.

Southern Methodist University, two-time defending champion, saw action that took more effort than bending at the waist. Coach Matly Bell had some of his defensive line-men decked out in over-stuffed padding and let the offensive players bang away.

Down at Arkansas five full teams started running through T formation plays. It was a strange sight for the on-lookers, used to John Barnhill's Tennessee single wing.

Rice and Baylor had numbers and numbers sense. Twenty-two seniors showed up at Rice and 23 turned out at Baylor.

The first day of practice followed a general pattern of two a day workouts — one light in the morning with uniform in the afternoon.

Texas Christian started worrying right away about protecting the passer (Lindy Berry) while Texas A&M had 49 players to choose a team to top last year's record (nine losses, one tie).

Local Nimrods Out For Dove

Eighteen hunters have secured licenses for the 1949 dove season which opened Thursday. County Clerk Lee Porter said today.

Open season for dove lasts through Oct. 15. Shooting hours are from a half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Bag limit on the fowl is set at 10 per day, and the hunter may not have more than 10 in his possession at any time. Shotguns must be permanently plugged to three shell capacity, and be no larger than 10 gauge.

No hunting is permitted in game refuges and preserves, the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster commission has warned. Licenses may be obtained at the county clerk's office throughout the hunting season, Porter said.

Texan Advances To Semi-Finals At Rochester

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Staff Writer
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 2. — Bill Campbell, the par-busting law maker from Huntington, W. Va., had to lose his golf clubs to become a real threat in the U. S. Amateur Championship.

"It happened in Chicago a year ago," the strapping former Princeton University athlete said in explaining why he's in the semi-finals today at Oak Hill.

"I had a set of specially built clubs, long ones to fit my size. They were swiped from under my locker right after I'd won the Tam O'Shanter Amateur Championship."

"I went down and bought a set off the racks. They're regular size, a bit small for me. But I find I'm closer to the ball. I don't get as much distance but I'm far more accurate, and my game has improved."

Campbell, 26-year-old conservative Democrat member of the West Virginia Legislature, met Charlie Coe, the Walker Cup star from Oklahoma City in one-semi-final match today.

Willie Turnesa, the 35-year-old titleholder from Elmford N. Y., plays Rufus King, Wichita Falls, Tex., cattleman and tournament "dark horse" in the other 36-hole duel.

The survivors will clash over Oak Hill's 6,800 yards tomorrow for the 49th championship.

Campbell was the only man to equal par in yesterday's rain storm and 40 MPH winds. He did it in eliminating Crawford Rainwater of Pensacola, Fla., in a fifth round match, 4 and 3. Later he defeated Julius Boros, of West Hartford, Conn., one up.

Turnesa had some anxious moments in his sixth round match against Frank Strafaci of Flushing, N. Y., but overcame a two-hole deficit to win, 3 and 2.

King entered the semi-finals with a one-up victory over Harold D. Padock Jr. of Aurora, Ill.

Coe gained the round of four after going 21 holes with Johnny Dawson, the 46-year-old Walker Cupper from Hollywood, Calif., winning when Dawson three-putted from 30 feet.

Landrum Named Hurler Of Year

DALLAS, Sept. 2 (AP) — Joe Landrum, workhorse of the Fort Worth Cats, today was named hurler of the year in the Texas League.

Landrum ran away with the vote of the sports writers. He got 23 of a possible 54 points. Tommy Bels of Oklahoma City was runner-up with 10.

Announcement of Landrum's selection was made by Texas League Secretary Milton Price who said Henry Wysz of Shreveport, Frank Smith of Tulsa, Roy Sanner of Dallas, Tommy Fine of San Antonio and Bob Milliken of Fort Worth also got votes.

Landrum leads the league both in victories and innings pitched. He has won 17 while losing 11 and figured most prominently in keeping the Cats on top of the league most of the season. Landrum has worked 254 2/3 innings, pitching in 35 games, 15 of which were complete. His earned run average is 2.67.

Landrum came to Fort Worth this year from Greenville of the Sally League. He also was at Asheville of the Tri-State last season. He is a righthander, 21 years old and has been in pro baseball three seasons counting this one.

For being selected as the pitcher of the year he will receive a trophy and a check for $100. The award will be made by League President J. Alvin Gardner next Monday.

The player of the year in the league also has been selected and will be announced tonight.

Best Field In History Scheduled To Tee Off In Golf Invitational

More Than 200 Linksman Due

The classiest, if not the largest, field in history was to compete in the 18th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club.

A turnout of 200 or more goes gunning for Bill (Red) Boden's crown, which the Odessa carrot-top has wrapped up the last two years.

Roden, who was supposed to fly in from the National Amateur tournament at Rochester, N. Y., last night, will have to be in command of all his shots to retain his crown.

Gunning for it will be such sterling shotmakers as Billy Maxwell, the local youth who also plays out of Odessa; Don Cherry, a transplanted Wichita Falls veteran representing the Odessa country club; Morris Williams and Marion Pfleger, both of the University of Texas; Jack Williams of TCU and Plainview; and E. C. Nix of Seminole, a perennial contender and a former champion.

Gene Gregston, golf writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, showed up Thursday, accompanied by Cherry, Bob Malone and Spud Cason, the latter two of Fort Worth.

Local entries like Obie Bristow and J. R. Farmer are not to be counted out. They're always tough to beat on the local course.

Par for the nine-hole layout is 36, or 72 for the qualifying round. Indications are it will take 75 or 78 to rate the title flight of 32 players.

Match play will get underway Saturday morning. Entries will play two matches daily until Monday, when the championship match will consist of 36 holes.

Those qualifying today will be eligible for the medal prize, which happens to be a wrist watch.

The rival Hall and Bennett trophy teams were due to tee off at 1 p.m. today. Joe Black is captain of the local force, which regained the huge mug a year ago, while Van Ligon, Midland, leads the visiting corps.

List of entries rose to 130 Thursday.

Among those entering listed with their homes and scores, if they qualified, were (player from Big Spring unless otherwise designated):

Jack Wallace, Duane Meier, Taber Rowe, W. P. Watts, Fort Stockton; C. H. Sheppard, Midland; Tommy Neel, Weatherford; Bob Satterwhite, 77; Woody Baker, 80; Bill Tatum, Lubbock; Joe Black, Marion Pfleger, Austin; Morris Williams, Austin.

Also J. R. Farmer, Ross Olson, Sr., Lubbock, 106; J. E. Foote, 81; Clinton Purser, Robert Wheeler, Midland, 83; M. E. Montgomery, Midland, 90; Pearl Ward, Midland, 78; Houston Woods Stanton, Dr. J. E. Hogan, 85; S. M. Laughlin, Artesia, N. M., 86; Frank McCleskey, 86; Bud Cole, L. L. Miller, 94; and R. E. McKinney.

Also R. W. Thompson, Earl Reynolds, 74; Bert Pribble, Hobbs, N. M.; Pete Harmonson, 88; Doug Grogan, 83; Jim McKinney, 102; N. J. Keith, Odessa; George Grimes, 84; and James Edwards.

The entries will be treated to a barbecue starting at 7 p.m. at the country club this evening. The Calcutta pool will also be conducted around 8 p.m.

Tournament starter is the veteran Shirley Robbins, country club pro.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Credit Obie Bristow with bringing in the University of Texas linksman, Morris Williams and Marion Pfleger to compete in the 18th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament, which gets underway today at the country club and continues through Monday.

The man-mountain went down state for the express purpose of picking up the youngsters and bringing them out here.

Pat Proulx, the one-time Odessa infielder who couldn't get started against Longhorn league pitching this season was rapping the W-T-M league pitching at a .388 clip a few days ago. Proulx is with Borger.

Ray McCullough, the capable Southwest conference referee who received his higher education at TCU, has drawn the assignment as referee of the SMU-Notre Dame football game next Dec. 3. McCullough will be assisted by J. Dallas Marvill (Northwestern), Earl Dayvault (Texas) and Bernard Darling (Beloit).

ROBB DEPARTS FOR DALLAS AND DRILLS
The Robb has departed Our Town for the opening of fall football drills at Southern Methodist. Ike, who saw to it that he neared peak condition before moving on to Dallas, will play offensive guard for the Ponies in this, his sophomore year.

The new addition of the Sweetwater high school football team nudged a squad of Pony exes, 21-20, in a recent scrimmage which should be a tipoff that the Steeds aren't going to be easy to handle this fall.

Included in the lineup of the Exes were such standouts of other years as Jim Ronemus, Harvey Gray, Doll Feagan, Tom McMillan, Buster Lambert and Don Lambert.

Ronald Fraley and Red Rushing were the standouts for the 1949 Mustangs.

COATES COUNTS ON REYNOLDS, BINGHAM
Red Coates, coach of the Odessa Junior college football team that opens its 1949 season against HCJC of Big Spring in Odessa the night of Saturday, Sept. 17, plans to operate from the split-T formation this year. That's the system that proved so successful for the University of Oklahoma and Missouri in 1948.

Coates expected around 60 boys to report for drills, a third of them from Odessa.

Burr Reynolds, who played first string quarterback for Schreiner Institute last fall and Don Bingham, a speedster, who attended Sul Ross in '48, will serve as the principal cops in the Odessa backfield. Bingham was a standout in the Big Spring Relays two years ago.

Marvin McNeil, Amarillo's great forward passer of the 1947, will enroll at Oklahoma A&M college this month.

Jack Howton who'll probably give the Big Spring Steers a headache when Carl Coleman's football gang plays Plainview a week from tonight is a brother to Bill Howton, the 175-pound end who will play a lot of football for Rice Institute this fall.

John Dibrell Grets 45 Football Candidates First Day Of Drills

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks hit the road toward 1949 grid wars Thursday when 45 candidates reported to Coach John Dibrell for the first practice session.

It will be the first football campaign in history for the Hawks. Heretofore their intercollegiate sports program has been confined to basketball.

Dibrell was expecting more hopefuls to put in appearance today, and he probably will issue at least 60 uniforms before the season gets underway. The Hawk coach plans to carry a squad of about 50, but he will give all candidates an opportunity to show their prowess on the gridiron before trimming his roster.

There was built in evidence at the initial practice session, and Dibrell and Harold Davis wasted no time in setting the stage for an appraisal of their squad. They immediately set out on some blocking practice and other routine drills.

The Hawks have only two weeks to ready themselves for their first game. They are scheduled to meet Odessa Junior college in a conference argument on Sept. 17. The opener will be played in Odessa.

First home game will bring the Abilene Christian college "B" team here for an appearance on Sept. 24.

Several former Big Spring Steers were among the candidates who reported Thursday.

Local fans are familiar with such operatives as Gerald Harris, B. B. Lees, Charlie Seydler, Moe Madison and Horace Rankin. They hope to play in Dibrell's backfield. Among other promising candidates for positions in the secondary are Elton Prater, who galloped to fame with the Forsan Buffaloes, and Nino Lujan, a 170-pound flash from Grandfalls.

Bill Van Pelt, who weighs in at 205, Arless Davis, Donnie Carter and Sam Thuman, head a group of former Big Spring performers who will vie for line positions. Both Davis and Carter were in the Steer backfield last year, but they elected to move to the forward wall at HCJC. Davis will try for an end position, having played that spot two years ago in high school. Two candidates from Sterling City, Mitchell and Baker, also have their eyes on starting assignments in the line.

Heaviest candidates, however, are Jack Gaines, a 256-pound lineman from Gorman, and Frank Goodman, 215, from Knott.

The Hawks went through a morning drill at the college campus Thursday, and then reported for an afternoon session at Steer stadium. Dibrell plans to follow the two-day practice schedule until the classroom bells sound.

Odds Favor Cardinals And Yanks In Races

By JOE REICHLER
AP STAFF

The Redbirds are rooting pretty today. Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals never were better off than they are right now. Not only are they leading the Brooklyn Dodgers by two full games, but the remaining schedule is all in their favor.

The Cards have 27 games left to play, and 18 of them are at home. On the other hand, the second place Brooks must play 17 of their remaining 27 games on foreign fields.

Furthermore, 13 of the Cards' games are against the seventh and eighth place Cincinnati and Chicago clubs. They've already won 21 out of 31 from these basement ball-teams.

The Brooks have 15 to play with the third and fourth place Boston and New York teams. They've played under .500 ball against these first divisioners, winning 13 and losing 18 to the Giants and Braves.

In the American League, it is likely the seven games between the league leading New York Yankees and runnerup Boston Red Sox will settle the issue. The Red Sox trail the Yankees by three games. Their chances are not bright by any means, but they're not as dark as those of the Dodgers.

Boston plays 14 of its remaining 23 games at home, but the Yankees keep 23 of their games at friendly Yankee Stadium.

Both runners-up lost ground yesterday. The Dodgers got off to the right foot, outscoring Cincinnati, 11-4, in the afternoon portion of a day-night doubleheader (two admissions, if you please). The Reds bounced back, however, to upset the Brooks, 4-3, in the 10-inning nightcap. At the same time, the Cards were knocking off the Phillies in Philadelphia to pick up half a length on the Brooks. Howie Pollet spec a five-hitter for his 17th victory.

The Red Sox led with their ace — 30 game winner Mel Parnell — but they were trumped by the Detroit Tigers, who shut them out, 7-0, behind the seven-hit pitching of Art Houtteman.

The Yankees came through with their patented "agesaker," a wobbly 4-3 victory over the Browns in St. Louis. Tommy Byrne picked up his 12th victory but needed help from Ace Fireman Joe Page in the ninth.

The Cleveland Indians, baseball marathon champs, won another overtime tussle, edging out the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1, in 11 innings. It was the Indians' 17th straight overtime victory and their 18th in 19 extra-inning games.

Randy Gumpert pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 3-0 win over Washington. Dick Wells' 15 walks helped the White Sox no end.

The third place Boston Braves in the National whipped the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, as Catcher Bill Ballfield batted in five runs with a home run and two singles. Warren Spahn picked up his 17th pitching triumph.

Despite Ralph Kiner's grand slam homer for Pittsburgh, the New York Giants defeated the Pirates, 9-5, on round trippers by Hank Thompson, Bobby Thomson and Billy Rigney. The Giants moved into fourth place, a half game over the Phils.

Burt Shotton, the usually mild-mannered manager of the Dodgers, was chased out of a ball game for the first time in three seasons with the club. He got the thumb from Umpire Art Gore for protesting a ball and strike decision in the ninth inning of the opener. The Reds got four runs and had the tying runs on the bases in that frame, but Ralph Brantner, fifth Dodger chucker, retired Walker Cooper for the third out.

Herm Wehrer stopped the Dodgers' five-game winning streak in the nightcap. He gave up eight hits for his ninth win. A triple by Homer Howell, ex-Dodger, and Ted Kluszewski's double won for the Reds in the 10th.

TRAFFIC LURE—This sign was erected recently on the north side of U. S. 80 three miles east of Weatherford to attract traffic to the main route. The 50x100-foot board was ordered by Ranger business firms. Other towns on the route are being asked to pay a month's rental each per year to help defray the cost, according to R. V. Galloway, manager of the Ranger chamber of commerce.

MOVEMENT AGAINST TITO

'Real' Communist Party Among Slavs

BUCHAREST, Romenia, Sept. 2. — The Cominform journal said today that there is a "genuine" Communist Party in Yugoslavia, which is growing and may eventually overthrow Premier Marshal Tito.

The journal also claimed that the Yugoslav Communist exile movements now have their own radio station, and that four anti-Tito newspapers are being printed abroad and also circulate within Yugoslavia.

The journal declared that new underground "conspirator" groups are springing up everywhere inside Yugoslavia and that this "illegal revolutionary movement" is gaining impetus.

The article charged that Tito is maintaining an army and police force of some 800,000 men, not counting secret police "who are everywhere."

The journal said that before Tito split with the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) last year, the Yugoslav army consisted of only 300,000 men.

Landslides Add To Death Toll In Tokyo Area

TOKYO, Sept. 2. — Landslides and floods in the wake of a violent typhoon boosted the death toll in Japan to 95 today.

The latest national police estimate was 417 injured and 49 missing. More than 50,000 were homeless in the Tokyo-Yokohama area because of floods or because the typhoon smashed thru dwellings.

Heavy rain fell throughout the day. It was the heavy rainfall, not overflowing rivers, which caused the floods in low areas of Tokyo.

Backed up water halted all rail commuters.

The Tone River, which threatens Tokyo with flooding, ran bank full.

Nine of the additional deaths reported today were caused by a landslide near Urawa, northwest of Tokyo.

The typhoon hit this populous area of Japan Wednesday.

Two Small Children Perish In Ice-Box

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2. — A citywide search for two small St. Paul children ended last night when their smothered bodies were found in an ice box, stored in a neighbor's garage.

The tiny victims were Franklin Sherer, five, and two and one-half year old Sandra, a tot for whom Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sherer, the boy's parents, were caring pending her adoption by the family.

Mrs. Sherer missed the children shortly before dinner time and called police. Squad cars were alerted.

But it wasn't until four hours later that one of the officers found Franklin's tricycle in the garage of John Linnerooth, next door neighbor of the Sherers. The Linnerooth family had been absent since noon yesterday, attending the state fair.

Officers opened the refrigerator to find the tots curled up in separate compartments behind tightly closed doors. Fire department rescue squad members used oxygen for an hour in a vain effort to revive them.

Police said they would question playmates to learn if the two pulled the doors closed accidentally or whether they had been shut by other children. They could not be opened from the inside.

Giant Airliner To Get Tests

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 2. — Britain's biggest airliner is scheduled for taxing tests tomorrow.

It is the eight-engined, 130-ton Brabazon built at an estimated cost of $48 million by the Bristol Aeroplane Company.

At the controls will be Texas-trained A. J. Pegg. If the taxing flights are successful Pegg intends to take the craft up for its first flight Monday.

The plane is larger than any American ship in operation, but smaller than the U. S. Air Force's 150-ton experimental XC-99 and the Flying Boat which Howard Hughes tested briefly in 1947.

The British plane was 320 feet across the wings; 219 feet long and 85 feet high.

The propeller-powered Brabazon is being tested five weeks after the debut of the 500-mile-an-hour De Havilland "Comet" jetliner which Britain has hailed as her challenge to American commercial air supremacy.

Radio Man's Death Before Alice Jury

ALICE, Sept. 2. — A special term of the 79th District Court opens here today for the purpose of finding out everything possible about the pistol slaying of W. H. (Bill) Mason, crusading radio commentator.

The 51-year-old veteran newspaperman and radio spokesman was shot to death July 29 as he inspected city sewer and street conditions in the industrial section of Alice.

Defendant in the grand jury investigation is big Sam Smithwick 60, who was a Jim Wells County deputy sheriff at the time of the shooting. In his last broadcast, Mason said Smithwick owned the land where an Alice night spot was located. Mason spoke of conditions at the tavern-dance hall and said loose women piled their trade there.

Smithwick has been held without bond since the shooting.

Star witness for the state is Avellino Saenz, a 35-year-old veteran who was in Mason's car which Smithwick stopped on July 29.

At his examining trial Aug. 2, Smithwick pleaded innocent to a charge of murder with malice in Mason's shooting. Saenz testified Smithwick shot Mason.

Judge Paul A. Martineau of Corpus Christi will preside over the special term of the 79th District Court. The regular judge, L. Broeter of Alice, will undergo a major operation in Houston tomorrow. During his absence from the 79th District Court bench, other judges in his section will divide up his docket.

THIS IS THE THIRD TIME, NOW, THIS FELLOW HAS BEEN 'KILLED'

RAMSGATE, Eng., Sept. 2. — John Dargl learned today that he died on Aug. 21. He just laughed. That makes three times and he's only 30.

The latest death notice took the form of a widow's pension check for Mrs. Dargl. It came from the National Insurance Ministry. Records there showed Dargl passed away 12 days ago. Clerical error, they decided.

Dargl also was officially dead in each of the two world wars.

In World War One the Navy passed the sad news to his relatives after a raid on the Belgian harbor of Zeebrugge.

They reported Dargl went down aboard one of the escort vessels. It turned out he had been transferred to another boat at the last minute.

In World War Two a man wearing a parachute with "John Dargl" stamped on it was killed in a plane crash. The Royal Air Force withdrew its death notice when Dargl proved he had lent the chute to a fellow navigator at a flying school.

Should Pay Debts, Japanese Are Told

TOKYO, Sept. 2. — Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida tonight told the Japanese people they should pay back the money Japan has received from the United States for aid since the war.

In a radio address marking the fourth anniversary of Japan's surrender, Yoshida added that Japan should repay all foreign loans received before World War II.
