WESTWARD FROM Dodge City we made it to Colorado Springs, Colo., via Pueblo Wednesday and got a sampling of what lay ahead when we found rain in abundance. (Were it as wet at home.) Getting settled in the Ramada Inn and one tourist outing to the authentic cliff dwellings at Manitou Springs took up the first day. The family enjoyed the cliff home sight-seeing, and here found the first of the many friendly chipmunks. We had an excellent view of the famous Pike's Peak, from the motel, but a Democratic vote turned down an actual drive to the summit.

A looked-for treat for the young ones was our visit to North Pole, Home of Santa's Workshop, at Cascade, the jumping off (or up) place to the peak. This amusement park, geared to the Santa theme, is very nice for youngsters, but inferior by far to Six Flags as far as excitement and entertainment. Of course, they had their pictures made with Santa ("copies available with this coupon"), and took in all the sights.

Really the highlight for the little ones was the picking out their really authentic Indian suits from a western store in Manitou Springs, adjoining neighbor to Colo. Springs. Amy rode a Shetland Pony at Santa's Land (four successive trips) and decided later that that was her favorite thing on vacation. (We could have bought her a pony, stayed home, made her happy, and saved money in the deal.)

A visit to Ghost Town turned out mediocre. You've seen better, and you've seen worse. It's really a reconstructed frontier town, inside a large building, with a few extra treats through in. Nothing to particular warrant writing home about. We skipped the pottery factory, believing that Eastland's House of Webster offers more.

We made a side trip out to Royal Gorge at Canon City and were all duly impressed with that yawning chasm, but skipped the drive across, reasoning that there was nothing to gain, and that there might be something to lose.

Likewise we elected to pass up the tour of the state penitentiary at Canon City, holding that it didn't have any particular vacation entertainment value.

All sorts of impressions of Seven Falls had come our way from different people who had seen them, and we didn't know quite what to expect. Frankly, we were very impressed. We got into the site rather late in the afternoon, but before the lights came on and arrived just in time for an authentic Indian dance ceremony which proved a real treat, especially for the kiddos. It was cold and damp and the water falls were very pretty and the chipmunks ate peanuts out of your hand.

It rained hard the night we had reservations for the Flying W Ranch where Tenkersley plays with a western band and they serve barbecue suppers, and we missed that treat, but marked it down for a must-do the next time up. We also plan to make the scenic drive into the Western, and more mountainous part of the state at a later date when Little Trevelers are a little bigger.

The family enjoyed a spec-

THE FLAG COMES DOWN—Mrs. Mayme Ledbetter ended her 15-year tenure as Scranton postmaster, and the existence of the Scranton fourth-class office Friday at 11 a.m. when she pulled down the American flag from the staff beside the little office.

Scranton Post Office Is Closed At 11 a.m. Friday

When Mrs. Mayme Ledbetter turned over her stock of postage stamps and money orders to J. D. Collier, Cisco postmaster, shortly after 11 a.m. Friday, that final act as postmaster at Scranton signaled the end of the last business institution in the little western Eastland county community.

Afterwards she pulled down the American flag from its staff beside the building and locked the door.

If there was any nostalgia in these acts, it was not evident.

"It has been pretty lonely here," said Mrs. Ledbetter. Through the open door were visible two or three decayed buildings which once sheltered prosperous stores and a service station before Scranton lost its schools and most of its rural population moved away in the general drift from rural to urban areas.

The four box patrons of the little office will be transferred to Rural Route No. 4 out of the Cisco office. When Mrs. Ledbetter took over as postmaster 15 years ago, following a seven year tenure of her late husband, H. C. Ledbetter, there were 15 such patrons. Inside the tiny building, which Mrs. Ledbetter owns, there was a prosperous general store owned and operated by the late W. J. Gattis and across the street Louis Morgan, since moved to Cisco, operated another general store and service station.

Aside from the few stamps sold and the mail sent or distributed to the four boxes, practically all of Mrs. Ledbetter's business was issuing a few money orders for elderly people who used that method of paying insurance or bills.

About July 1, she remembers, there was a "rush" of money order business when three or four orders were issued for a total amount of about $150.

"I told them that business was sure picking up, now that I was going to close," said Mrs. Ledbetter.

The office was open only three hours daily, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. "But it was six days a week," she said.

Wightman Moore, who has been carrying Route Four for as long as Mrs. Ledbetter has been postmaster, served the little office, bringing its pouch of incoming mail each morning and two hours later picking up any outgoing mail.

A pot of white chrysanthemum blooms sitting on the office counter and sent by Mr. Moore and Mr. Collier expressed the sentiment of that long relationship.

Mrs. Ledbetter will move her home to 1004 West Eleventh Street in Cisco and the little building in which she and her husband so long served as a dwindling postal patronage, will go with her. She plans to convert it to a garage and storage room. No doubt the little sign over the front door will find a place among the souvenirs she will bring with her.

Plans for closing the little office have been long in the making, but the closing was deferred so long as Mrs. Ledbetter wished to remain active. When she notified the department last spring that she wanted to retire the closing plans were finalized.

So this week Scranton and its post office becomes in microcosm what is happening in the changing pattern of population all over the United States.

Group Meets To Study County Resources Plan

The Agriculture Resource Development Director's Committee met Tuesday, July 27, in the County Court Room of the Court House at 2:30 to discuss ways of developing resources in Eastland County and surrounding counties.

ght from the directors or the Farm Bureau Office. They will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Everyone is invited to attend.

FULLEN MOTOR Co. LAUGH-A-DAY

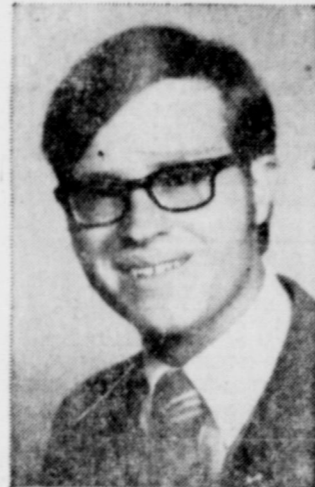

A young man went to his doctor complaining of insomnia. The doctor examined him, found nothing radically wrong, and advised the man to start counting when he went to bed and to go on until he fell asleep.

The following day he was back again at the doctor's house.

"Well," said the medico, "and did you follow my advice?" "I did," replied the patient. "I actually counted up to 45,875."

"Oh no, doctor. Then it was time to get up."

Three Eastland Boys Representing Eastland At Texas Youth Conference

RICKEY ALEXANDER
Tex. Con. President

ex-director

Three Eastland youths are representing Eastland Youth Conference at the annual summer Texas Youth Conference held in Seguin and Austin, July 30 through August 2. Jimmy Sayre, president of the local conference, Chris Frost and Joanna Stone, left Thursday for the conference.

Some 1,000 young people and adults are expected to attend. The purpose of the conference is to involve the young people and adults in an attempt to close the "generation gap," encouraging young people to participate in solving youth-oriented problems and stimulating deliberate, positive action by youths.

"Highlights of the conference are four dialogue sessions on how young people can work within the system," said L. D. (Skip) Harris, 28-year-old executive director of the Conference.

Houston printing executive Bud Hadfield will be the keynote speaker for the conference. He has recently completed a three-year term as civil service commissioner for the City of Houston.

Dr. L. L. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Midland, will be the featured speaker during a religious service in the State Capitol House Chamber Sunday, August 2.

Representatives from all levels of law enforcement, business, government and the civic and academic communities will participate in the dialogues.

Texas Youth Conference programs have directly involved over 10,000 youth at annual conferences in the past seven years, bringing their problems into focus in a forum where professional leadership training and guidance has helped them to find solutions.

Groundwork for the conference has been headed by L. D. (Skip) Harris, who has an extensive history of youth work. A native of Tyler, he taught science in a high school and became the local youth conference advisor there. He is currently serving as co-chairman of the Texas Credentials Committee for the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Director of the Summer Conference is Jack Ladd, 20, student at Texas Tech University. Ladd has six years' experience with the Texas Youth Conference and has served as director of the Summer Conference the past two summers. Ladd is a native of Midland.

Rickey Alexander, 17, is president of the Texas Youth Conference. He also serves as director of the Dollars Against Delinquency Drive, a Texas Youth Conference fund raising project. With Harris he serves as co-chairman of the Texas Credentials Committee for the White House Conference on Children and Youth. Alexander's hometown is Lubbock.

The finale of the conference will be a red carpet reception in Austin to be hosted by House Speaker and Mrs. Gus Mutscher, followed by an awards assembly in the House Chamber.

20 Youths Return From Week at Leuders Camp

Twenty young people of the First Baptist Church and their sponsors have just returned from a week's stay at Youth Camp held at Leuders Baptist Encampment.

The young people enjoyed a week of recreation, seminars, devotionals and worship services. The recreation consisted of swimming, a softball tournament, a volleyball tournament, table cricket, ping pong (Eastland's own Billy Bird won second place), archery, washers, and horseshoes.

High point of the recreation was the annual "Saints and Sinners" softball game between the adults and the young people. The Saints won in a close game of 2-1. Buddy Sipe, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church in Sweetwater and song leader for the "Youth Encounter With Christ" held earlier in the month in Cisco, was in charge of recreation for the camp.

Thursday night a drama, "Campus Masquerade" was presented by South Side Youth of Seaside, Abilene. They also presented a folk musical, "Tell It Like It Is" Thursday night.

Camp Director was Dalton Stewart and Associate Director was Rev. Riley O. Fugitt. Rev. Logan Cummings was camp pastor.

Those attending from Eastland were: Rev. Haston Brewer, sponsor, Johnny

Arlington Family Happy As Highway Dept. Finds Lost Ring

The Texas Highway Department has long been recognized as one of the most efficient in the nation. Texas roads, saluted for decades as among the best anywhere have a great deal to do with the popularity of the state among tourists.

Just recently we received a letter bestowing another accolade upon the highway boys and suggesting some of the qualities which make the personnel of the department efficient as road builders.

"I have a bit of news," wrote Mrs. R. A. Jeske of Arlington, "which I think deserves to be in your newspaper commending the Texas Highway Department, District 23 from Brownwood, Eastland County." A news article clippled from the Arlington Daily News was indorsed.

The clipping relates that Mrs. Jeske and her husband were driving between Cisco and Eastland late one night when Mr. Jeske lost a treasured class ring. A search, aided by other motorists, failed to turn up the ring and the Jeskes reluctantly resumed their journey home from California without it.

Some time later, according to the story, they received a telephone call from a Dr. Kreisle of the University of Texas inquiring whether or not Richard Jeske had lost a 1961 University of Texas class ring.

Seems that John D. Ray, a highway department employee who reportedly lives in Cisco had noticed a glimmer on the pavement while putting down a layer of asphalt and picked up the ring. Ray turned the find over to the Highway Department and Roy L. Taylor, permit clerk presumably of Brownwood, wrote the University of Texas giving the initials engraved in the ring. A search of the University files and Dr. Kreisle's telephone call to R. A. Jeske as the only name of that genre in the telephone book, eventually brought ring and owner together again.

If you don't think the Jeskes were delighted, read this: "Mr. Taylor and Mr. Ray are two very honest and efficient citizens of our state. We owe a great deal of thanks to them. You should be very proud of these two gentlemen, and we wanted you to know about this. I talked to Mr. Taylor on the phone. I was so excited... that I'm not certain, but seems that he said either he or Mr. Ray lives in Cisco.

"We are originally from Priddy, Texas, and have always heard of Eastland and Cisco, but never knew until this happened what great places they are."

TIDBITS

Of course the Garden of the Gods is nice and could be a place for a lot of time if you'd like, with all the beautiful rock formations but looking for the likeness of Lincoln in stone holds your fascination just so long especially when it's pouring down rain. Now if we'd been watching it rain on Eastland County, it would have been more interesting.

Heading south, we passed Pueblo again, and Trinidad Colo. before moving back into our fourth state of New Mexico. A road we'd never seen. From Brownwood to Texas and headed down for the night after a blinding rain and wind storm at the XIT Motel at Dalhart.

Visitations in the Penhandle of Texas out us one night at the Bayford Ratiff ranch out of Dumas. He's Gay Nell's brother and we got to visit a brand-new, 17-day-old niece that he and Susie are justly proud of. Bayford is an attorney in a Dumas law firm.

The further south we came, the higher we had to run the air conditioner and the more we wished we could have brought much of that Colorado rain.

The car was full of "netty" rocks, feathers, bows and arrows tired folks, and no matter how you look at it, Eastland never looks better than after having been away from it for a while.

Mrs. Ed F. Willman had as her guests this week her grandsons, Kenneth and Michael Willman, of Dallas, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Willman were her guests, also, over the weekend. They and their sons returned home Sunday.

Visitors in the Milton Hunt home were Mrs. Nadine Hailey and Mrs. Flourine Remmen of Glendale, California. Also visiting was Mrs. Alma Brewster of Canoga, California. While here they also attended the Hunt family reunion Saturday at Firemans Hall.

Two County Grid Teams Picked as Top Contenders

Barely does the Fourth of July get passed before Pigskin Predictions begin to pour in.

Dave Campbell's "Texas Football" sees two District winners in Eastland County and sets the Eastland Mavericks on a pedestal they'd rather not be on at the beginning of the season.

Ranger is picked to win District 10-A, and Eastland is seen as winner of 8-AA and a contender with Iowa Park in the semis.

Expected to win the district races are: 1, Dalhart; 2, Childress; 3, Floydada; 4, Frenship; 5, Reagan County; 6, Canutillo; 7, Haskell; 8, Eastland; 9, Llano; 10, McGregor; 11, Iowa Park; 12, Granbury; 13, Mansfield; 14, Wills Point; 15, Mt. Vernon; 16, DeKalb; 17, Hallsville; 18, Lufkin Dunbar; 19, Mart; 20, Georgetown; 21, Kirbyville; 22, Anahuac; 23, Crosby; 24, Tomball; 25, Giddings; 26, Boiling; 27, Randolph; 28, Southwest; 29, Refugio; 30, Georgetown; 31, Freer; 32, Lyford.

Regional playoff competition could involve Dalhart, Floydada, Reagan County, Eastland, McGregor, Iowa Park, Mansfield, Dunbar, Mart, Kirbyville, Tomball, Giddings, Randolph, Refugio and Lyford.

Iowa Park heads up the case for the quarterfinals along with Floydada, Eastland, Mansfield, Dunbar, Kirbyville, Randolph and Refugio.

The semifinal forecast matches Eastland and Iowa Park and Dunbar against Randolph with Iowa Park and Randolph making it to the title showdown game.

The pre-season Top Ten teams with returning offensive and defensive starters or returning lettermen:

1. Iowa Park (19 lettermen, 5-5 starters from 15-0 state championship).
2. Randolph (10 lettermen, 9-5 starters from 9-1 team).
3. Refugio (15 lettermen, 8-6 starters from 6-4 team in AAA).
4. Eastland (15 lettermen, 6-8 starters from 10-0-1 team).
5. Lufkin Dunbar (6-10 starters from 12-0-2 team).
6. Jacksboro (17 lettermen, 7-8 starters from 13-1 team).
7. Mart (18 lettermen, 8-6 starters from 15-0 Class A state champ).
8. Floydada (17 lettermen, 5-8 starters from 11-1 team).
9. Kirbyville (18 lettermen, 9-8 starters from 7-3 team).
10. Granbury (15 lettermen, 10-9 starters from 6-3-1 team).

DISTRICT 8-AA-EASTLAND came from well back to take it all a year ago. This time it is on the spot—and prepared.

It figures it should come on strongly with 6 offensive and 8 defensive holdovers from a 10-0-1. Backfield strength embodied in QB Craig Lund (180), TB Ruben Gaeta and WB Randy Rexroat, is excellent. Guard Philip Harrison and tackle Phillip Smith head up a stout line which also includes guard Gil Gaeta, LB Ronald McCleskey, center Mike Jones and tackles William Caldwell, Rodney Reynolds and Bill Mueller.

Say good things about the backfield at HAMILTON, too, where HB Bob Gardner (170), twice all-district, FB Tom Prichard and OB Gary Luker are all long on quality. Line cream is evident in superior tight end Mickey Kinsey (6-4, 220), Sam Todd (225), Ted Sellers, Steve Hopper and Danny Poe. Also sure to help are guards Mark Bottlinger, Ricky Hale and Donnie Wallace, center Clark Bottlinger and LB Garland Spitzenberg.

BALLINGER's battalion includes 2 offensive and 4 defensive starters from a 6-3. Tackle Bobby Wanoreck (6-0, 200), end David Keese, FB John Patterson, HBs Larry Winchester and Johnny Hoffman and QB Ricky Akins form a promising nucleus. HB's Mickie Lyles and Tom Sykes also will contribute strongly.

COLEMAN summons up 3 offensive and 4 defensive operatives from a 6-4 team, all the while looking to LBs Danny Birdwell and Monte Sides, flanker Freddie Kendrick, ends Joe Boatright, Billy Don Faries and Ben Wright. QBs Donnie Wood and Jimmy Alcala and FB Mike Marrs as the cohesive forces.

Rebuilding doesn't daunt CISCO, although only 1 offensive and 5 defensive starters return from a 5-4-1. Guards Randy Housh and Mike Ritchie, tackles, Stephen Tone and Dave Roberson (6-2, 215), QB Lanny Fraiser and HB David Westfall from the good foundation. Backs Bill Wells, Mike Lowery and Dell Mellette, and lineman Mike George, Danny Kent, Monte Morris and J. V. Rhyme are sure to play key roles, too.

Injuries helped burden CLYDE with a 1-9 last year but now 9 offensive and 9 defensive regulars (21 lettermen) return. QB Johnny Hoffman is a passing whiz and LB Walter Bruton "could play for any AAAA ball club I know," says coach Winford Hogan. Ends Johnny Pierce and Terry Rosinbaum, HBs Craig Loper and Gary Barr, guard Bobby Gray, LB Al Windham, tackles Al Henner and Timmy Payne and nose guard Manuel Ramos (230) WINTERS greets the autumn with 7 offensive and 9 are other good ones.

1-9. Present is a top runner in HB Mike Mathis (6-0, 170), QB Ronnie Wilson and HB Von Byrd, lend strong scoring aid; and tackle David Harrison, guard Joe Pritchard and LBs Lynn Giles and Dane Bishop are toughies; FB Joe Ivey (6-1, 205), end Jimmy Sims, guard Hudon White and tackle Danny Reel are other rugged customers.

COMANCHE will roll back with one offensive and two defensive starters from a 2-8 team. Paul McGettes and Ronald Shaw will be the prime backfield candidates with Jerry Gore, Jimmy Chester, Danny Colcleasure and Jack Boyd leading the line charge.

Favored to win district titles are: 1, White Deer; 2, Wheeler; 3, Sudan; 4, Hale Center; 5, Seagraves; 6, Van Horn; 7, Albany; 8, Archer City; 9, Mason; 10, Ranger; 11, Millsap; 12, Pilot Point; 13, Farmersville; 14, Honey Grove; 15, Forney; 16, Itasca; 17, Pewitt; 18, Rains; 19, White Oak; 20, Garrison; 21, San Augustine; 22, Barbers Hill; 23, Eikhart; 24, Hubbard; 25, Magnolia; 26, Tiddhaven; 27, Schulenburg; 28, Leander; 29, Bandera; 30, Jourdan; 31, Poth; 32, Santa Rosa.

Projected bi-district winners are White Deer, Hale Center, Seagraves, Albany, Mason, Pilot Point, Honey

President of the Desdemona Homecoming is Bobby Wisdom; Vice-president is Morgan Roberts; Secretary-treasurer is Evah Sparkman.

News From Gordon

The regional outlook sees White Deer, Seagraves, Mason, Forney, Pewitt, Barbers Hill, Magnolia and Poth.

Seagraves and Forney are tabbed for the northern semifinals game with Barbers Hill and Magnolia clashing in the south. Then make it Seagraves and Barbers Hill in the finals.

The pre-season Top Ten teams with returning offensive and defensive starters or returning lettermen:

1. Seagraves (15 lettermen, 4-7 starters from 11-1 team).
2. Forney (5-5 starters from 9-3 Class AA team).
3. Barbers Hill (9-9 starters from 8-4 team).
4. White Deer (17 lettermen, 7-7 starters from 8-3 team).
5. Magnolia (14 lettermen, 8-9 starters from 8-3 team).
6. Mason (14 lettermen, 5-5 starters from 8-2 team).
7. Poth (20 lettermen, 8-7 starters from 12-1 team).
8. Schulenburg (17 lettermen, 8-8 starters from 9-4 team).
9. Sonora (16 lettermen, 4-4 starters from 12-3 state finalist).
10. Albany (12 lettermen, 8-7 starters from 6-4 team).

TEAM BY TEAM DISTRICT 10-A—Three teams which won or tied for district titles have been tossed into this league—yet it appears a pair of 1969 runnersup are the championship choices this time around.

RANGER, highly touted a year ago, counts 4 offensive and 6 defensive returnees from a 7-3, expects better defense and passing. QB Jesse Speer is the aerial triggerman and he has all-star ability. Guard Daniel Dunson, tackle Richard Treese and LB Mike Lebrado are the hubs of the defense. Other nifties are FB Mike delos Santos (215), TB Roger Rutledge, WB Robert Garcia, tackle Ricky Hughes, end Milton Monroe and backs Clinton Eaton, Billy Foy and Jerry Williamson.

GOLDTHWAITE, 3-7 last year has 9 offensive, 7 defensive starters, headed by all-district end Kennon McLean (6-3, 175). So the team is thinking big. Line aces Scott McLean, Gary Summy, Eric Wright, Jeff Stewart, Lynn Knight and Ronnie Saylor, FB Dan Sutherland, QB Johnny Johnson and HB Dan Hardgrave provided a legacy of quickness and agility.

DUBLIN gave almost three dozen players experience in a 1-9 year in 1969, now with 8 offensive and 8 defensive returnees it figures on a winning reward this autumn. QB Roekey Ford, HBs Troy James and Floyd Murray, FB Gray Couch and ends Richard Pope and Rickey Greer provide fine offensive potential. Richard Thieband, Paul Warner, Billy Evans, Damon Stephen, Gary Henderson and Rodney Marshall are the good line names.

DELEON had superb depth in a 10-2-1 quarterfinals achievement last year. It returns 9 of 22 starters, including prize talents in QB Herman Hardin (6-5, 200), FB Billy Hamilton and tackles Roland Almagure and Brad Koonce. Guard David Gilder, ends David Carruth and Randall Bolen and HB Stanley McCrum are proven winners, too.

CROSS PLAINS will lack numbers this year but quality is present in QB Ronnie Pancake, back Bobby Cowan, tackle J. S. Archer (190) and center Bill Melton (190).

BROWNWOOD EARLY has numbers but experience is thin. Soph QB Lance Blackwell (6-3, 170) should be a dandy. Junior backs Chris Boyd and Charles Hall join Bryan Horner to head up the backfield. End Keith Ward (6-5, 215) is a fine prospect and teams with Frankie Wilder, Steven Hounshell, Michael Huff, David Sueich and Kelly Tyson up front.

Helping out while the heat's on Summer months are among our busiest at Texas Electric. It's the time when we need extra help to meet the big demand for more electric service.

The college student pictured above, Hodges Mitchell in Fort Worth, and more than 100 other young people are working in various field and office assignments as summer employees of Texas Electric. They're making money that will help them get an education. And we're getting the extra People Power we need. We can't think of a happier way to take the heat off.

JAMES FRANCISCUS - LINDA HARRISON -

"Beneath Planet of Apes" To Be Shown at Majestic

"Beneath the Planet of the Apes," 20th Century-Fox's release of Arthur P. Jacobs' APJAC production, is scheduled to open on Saturday at the Majestic Theatre. The Panavision, De Luxe Color attraction stars James Franciscus with Kim Hunter, Maurice Evans, Linda Harrison and Charlton Heston reprising their stellar roles from "Planet of the Apes," the predecessor film that proved to be one of the most successful boxoffice attractions in motion picture history.

With Ted Post directing, the photoplay by Paul Dehn from a story by Dehn and Mort Abramson is based upon characters created by Pierre Boulle whose novel was the basis of the initial "Apes" film.

Franciscus plays an American astronaut dispatched to rescue fellow spaceman Heston, and the story takes up where the prior film terminated with Heston's discovery that New York had been obliterated by an atomic bombardment.

It tells of a simian military invasion of a mutated human society dwelling in the underground remnants of what once was New York before the cities destruction. Most of the action occurs in the remains of the Manhattan subway system or in the molten carcass of St. Patrick's Cathedral deep in the bowels of the earth.

Make-up is again under the supervision of John Chambers winner of an Oscar for his work on the original film, only the second such award in the Motion Picture Academy's history. Milton Krasner reports as cinematographer, while Leonard Rosenman was engaged by Jacobs to write and conduct the dramatic music.

CJC Teacher Enjoying Visit With Sister On Homestead in Aska

EDITOR:
Here in the Alaskan wilderness (which won't be a wilderness much longer). I am thinking of my Cisco friends and wishing that I could share some of our rain and cool weather with all of you.

There's a newness and a pioneerishness about this state that carries one back to the days of Daniel Boone. It's even challenging to a teacher on the brink of retirement.

I am visiting my sister, Mary Carey, and we are living on her homestead. At the time of her filing six years ago, this area could be reached only via air with a landing on a sand bar in the Chulitna River or by boat up this river from Talkeetna. The latter was even more treacherous than the sand bar landing for the river, fed by Mt. McKinley glaciers, is swift, deep, and icy cold. She brought materials for the first cabin via the river route; for the second aeroplane; and for the ski shelter atop Blue Berry Butte there was a combo of Jeep wagoner to the base of the mountain and a helicopter lift to the summit.

Today I am writing from her trailer home which we call our Bush-Astoria because it has a BATH and we cook and light with petrolane. Our water comes gravity flow from the mountain and there's a little waterfall behind our cabin. It's 18 miles to our mail box; twice that distance to a telephone; and three times that far to electricity. It's wonderfully quiet and peaceful but civilization is encroaching. From our front door we now see three of these forerunners of civilization: a bridge crew, a road construction gang, and a survey team.

The permanent bridge across the treacherous Chulitna is nearing completion; we drove across for the first time on July 10. Prior to that date, we parked our car on the other side of the river, walked the bridge framework and packed luggage and supplies on our shoulders. Such transportation teaches that necessities are few. When all the concrete was poured, the homesteaders were granted a special dispensation: we could push a wheelbarrow across the quarter-mile bridge span and save our aching backs! Before the ice thaw was a temporary bridge and during that time my sister had the trailer moved across the river. The snow was too deep to move it from the road bed to the homestead. During the wait, the temporary bridge went out and she was left stranded for three weeks—stranded in a brace and on crutches from a back break from a fall in her classroom in February. The couple who helped her move, stayed in the house with her until another temporary bridge was completed. They crossed and the bridge went out again.

Despite bridge barriers, we have had our little jaunts. One of the most fascinating was the dedication of COMSAT (Communications Satellite Station) at Talkeetna. Built in the woods within five miles of where Mary teaches, this world-wide hook-up brings television to Alaska with a degree of satisfaction for the first time. This earth-tracking station wakens the little town of Talkeetna from its Rip Van Winkle sleep. Not since the gold rush days had there been such excitement.

President Nixon is greeting the Talkeetnas and all Alaskans on the first message sent to COMSAT. As all of us gazed at the bigdish which scanned the sky, the recorded voice of the President was as clear as if he were on the podium. That podium was filled with celebrities: Mrs. Rob Bartlett, widow of Senator Bob Bartlett for whom COMSAT is named; U.S. Senator Ted Stevens; state senators and representatives and a Talkeetna homesteader.

Keith Miller, who had returned as governor to make the main address for the dedication.

When I first visited Talkeetna seven years ago, there was no road; one entered by train or plane. Today the road that leads to it is being paved and many new houses are under construction, i. e., near COMEAT. I guess Talkeetna will always stay a ghost town of the gold mining days. At least, the state historical society is trying to keep it that way.

Nevertheless, the awakening which Talkeetna is experiencing typifies all Alaska. The Last Frontier is vanishing.

I'll be home to my beloved Texas in August with an appetite whetted for school and football.

Missing Day Found

AN INTERESTING clipping entitled "The Missing Day" has come to our desk with the suggestion that it be reprinted for the benefit of local readers. It was written by Bob Gooding for his Contact Eight feature on Dallas Television Channel Eight. The item follows:

"It concerns a missing day in time discovered and related by Harold Hill, president of the Curtis Engine Company in Baltimore, Maryland and a consultant for the space program. Mr. Hill stated that he thought one of the most amazing things that God has for us today happened to our astronauts and space scientists at Green Belt, Maryland. They were trying to determine the position of the sun, moon and planets 100 years and 1000 years from now. In order to do this they had to plot the orbits through past centuries.

"They ran the computer measurement back and forth over the centuries and suddenly it came to a halt. The computer signaled that there was something wrong either with the information fed into it or with the results compared to the standards. They called in the service department to check it out and found nothing technically wrong. The computer still came up with the same discrepancy. . . a day was missing in space in elapsed time. The scientists were dumfounded. There was no answer.

"One of the team remember a reference to the sun standing still in the Bible. Upon checking, they found in the Book of Joshua a pretty 'ridiculous' statement for anybody who has 'common sense.' According to the Scripture, Joshua was concerned because he was surrounded by the enemy and if darkness fell they would overpower him, so Joshua asked the Lord to make the sun stand still. 'So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hastened not to go down about a whole day.' (Joshua 10:13). There was the missing day!

"They checked the computers going back to the time it was written and found it was close but not close enough. The elapsed time that was missing back in Joshua's day was 23 hours and 29 minutes. . . not a whole day. They again read the passage and there it said, 'about (approximately) a whole day.' This still did not account for the other missing 40 minutes. The 40 minutes had to be found because in projecting spacial orbits it would be multiplied many times over.

"Again the man remember somewhere in the Bible, that it said the sun went backwards. In 2nd Kings, Chapter 20, Hezekiah, on his deathbed, was visited by the prophet Isaiah who told him that he was not going to die. Hezekiah did not believe him and asked for a sign as proof. Isaiah said, '... shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?' Hezekiah replied, 'It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees; nay, but let the shadow return backward ten degrees.' (2 King: 20:9-10). Ten degrees is exactly 40 minutes!

"Twenty-three hours and 20 minutes in Joshua, plus forty minutes in 2nd Kings make the missing twenty-four hours the space travelers had to log in the log-book as being the missing day in the universe."
