2nd Annual Peanut Queen Contest To Be In Eastland On Aug. 14, 15

Jaycee Club's Radio Day Set Next 2 Sundays

The Eastland Jaycee Club will take to the "airways" for the next two Sundays to raise money for two important Eastland projects.

Proceeds from the Radio Day at KERC will be used by the club to contribute toward repairs at the Pony League Field, and to help with the of a new fence at the new track field.

Bob McCoy is chairman of the Jaycee Radio Day event and encourages one and all to be sure an listen for special gifts to be announced, and also for some surprise live entertainers and disc jockeys.

Many items have been contributed by local merchants to be "given" in exchange for contributions toward the worthwhile community projects, McCoy said. The event will be held on Sunday, July 12 and Sunday, July 19.

Jaycee Club members will man the mikes and residents are invited to tune in for surprises from their favorite J.C.D.J.s.

WIN IN NEW MEXICO — Lill and George Hull of Eastland, at right, received honorable mention for their hobby display at the Clayton, N.M. Jaycee Wildcat and Hobby Show recently.

In the first endeavor there in this type of promotion, the Jaycees and the New Mexico town were overwhelmed with their results. Over 600 people signed the guest register and about 75 tables of displays were entered. Barbed wire enthusiasts were the predominant group. The list of items on display went from insulators to arrowheads, to bottles, nails, rocks, antiques, china dolls, old magazines, coins, obsolete farm tools, ... ad infinitum. The Eastland Jaycees are studying the possibility of holding such a show here and Mr. and Mrs. Hull, both avid and well-known collectors, will undoubtedly be called on to assist with planning and ideas. Most likely date would be early fall, and Eastland is considered a very good possibility due to its proximity to Abilene and the Fort Worth-Dallas market. Persons interested in helping or with suggestions might like to contact the members of the Eastland Jaycees or Mr. and Mrs. Hull. Clayton is across the new Mexico border from Amarillo.

BLUE SOX WIN

The Eastland Blue Sox defeated the Cisco Panthers 12 to 1, Thursday, July 9, in the Cisco Stadium. Winning pitcher was Tom Morren; losing pitcher was Lee Jualimilio.

Monday night the Cisco Cats will play Ranger Hawks at Ranger; Cisco Panthers against Eastland Greenbacks at Eastland; Eastland Blue Six re open. Results will be in Thursday paper.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Little were honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, June 28, with a family reunion. Hostesses for the event were their son and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Little of Eastland and their daughter and husband, Mrs. Chris Gellinek and Mr. Gellinek of New Haven, Connecticut, at the Rudolph Little home.

Dinner was served in the covered yard to some fifty guests from Abilene, Clyde, Denver City, Arlington, Weatherford, Ranger, Hallettsville, and Pecos, Texas.

The "BIG" Queen contest is just about a month away in Eastland.

The Second Annual State Peanut Queen Pageant has been set for Aug. 14 and 15 in Eastland, with sponsors anticipating more entries and crowd-pleasing pageantry.

Larry Rollins of Eastland, general chairman for the event, said there possibly will be 20 entries in the pageant. Each county in the state which has a peanut allotment is eligible to enter a contestant in the state event.

Rules call for the contestants to live in a peanut producing county, be single and of less than 17 nor more than 21 as of Aug. 13. The girls will be judged on appearance in evening dress and swim wear, as well as talent. Each contestant also will be required to make a two-minute speech on the peanut industry in her county.

A special 20X40 foot stage with a 12-foot "runway" will be built for the pageant at the Majestic Theatre.

Sponsored by the Texas Peanut Producers Board and directed by the Eastland Jaycees, the pageant will be held again at the Majestic Theatre in Eastland. Official hostess will be last year's winner, Miss Marsha White of Katemysyn Mason County, who was chosen over 10 other contestants.

The Pageant Queen will receive a $500 scholarship to the college of her choice and will travel during the coming year as representative of the Texas Peanut Producers Board.

The new queen will be crowned on stage at the theatre Aug. 15, and receive the scholarship during ceremonies at halftime of the Peanut Bowl football game at Maverick Stadium in Eastland Sept. 19. DeVoe Willard, president of the National Peanut Council, will make the presentation. Sgt. Cloe Lewis of Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene will be master of ceremonies.

The Eastland Jaycees had sponsored a county pageant for 10 years prior to the state pageant to select a queen for the Peanut Bowl. Rollins said the pageant had been started to promote the annual football game between arch rivals Cisco Junior College and Ranger Junior College. The Peanut Association later asked the Jaycees to originate and produce a state pageant to select a queen to represent the peanut industry of Texas.

Rollins said a panel of five judges from across the state is being chosen to judge the pageant. Staging of the production is under direction of Mrs. C. J. (Mary) Douglas of Abilene, who also directed the first pageant.

Contests are now being held in various counties over the state to choose Peanut Princesses, who will compete in the state pageant. Recent area winners in county contests were Beth Calhoun of De Leon (Comanche County), and Beth Pearson of Ranger (Eastland County).

Other counties represented last year included Wilson, Parker, Erath, Houston, Wise, Hill, Mason, Atascosa and Fannin.

FULLEN MOTOR Co. LAUGH-A-DAY

A misguided garden-club lady got a rather curt turn-down when she tried to soft-soap W. C. Fields into addressing her society's annual banquet. "But surely you believe in clubs for women," said the matron.

"Certainly," said Fields, "but only if all other means of persuasion fail."

LOGUES... Bought On A Community Center, How About A Place For Youth?

They're too smart. They're friends to the policeman and they take pride in their hometown.

But are we adults doing our part? We think not! After we've signed and mailed our United Fund checks, we sat back with a smug feeling, remembering that "One gift does it all" But does it?

The United Fund is the correct way certainly, to provide funds for our many worthwhile member organizations and we annually about United Fund to the roof tops, but the biggest budget in the world isn't worth a hoot without people to use that money to help the young folks get the most out of life.

All of our U.F. agencies are good, but what good is the Salvation Army budget unless there's someone to properly administer it. If the needed don't get help, we're wasting our money.

Why shouldn't that beautiful recreation building on City Park Hill be put to good use. It's rotting again.

It would probably entail hiring a suitable couple to manage such a Community Center, but wouldn't it be an asset. It'd cost money, sure, but wouldn't it be worth it? Who knows, with just a little imagination, adults might even find lots of excuses to use such a center.

We of this community would be saddened to think "Maybe, if we'd done something, anything, ... in the event that headline ever has to be written. (Remember, it takes two to tango.)"

Funeral Services For Mrs. Garrett Sunday at 3 p.m.

Funeral for Mrs. Lou Ella Garrett, 88, will be 3 p.m. Sunday at Arrington Funeral Chapel in Eastland with Rev. Haston Brewer officiating.

Burial will be in the Gorman Cemetery.

Mrs. Garrett died at 9:25 p.m. Saturday at Hickman Nursing Home of Eastland after a three year illness.

Born Sept. 18, 1881 in Jewell, she had lived at 418 E. Conner for nine years. She married Virgil H. Garrett Sept. 21, 1898 in Jewell. He died in 1946.

She was a member of the Harmony Baptist Church.

Survivors include four sons, Alton K. Garrett of Eastland, Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, Joe V. of Gorman and William B. of Pasadena; one daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Hendricks of Eastland; one sister, Mrs. Lon Norris of Carbon; 12 grandchildren; and 34 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Roberts returned last week from a vacation trip in "cool" Colorado.

Corn Borer Threatens Peanut Crop In Central Texas Area

Anger of a considerable number of the peanut producers in this area because of a rapidly spreading infestation of the lesser cornstalk borer was expressed by agricultural officials here.

Commissioner John C. Comanche of the Texas Department of Agriculture, has warned of the danger in a report he filed in the Central Texas peanut producing area covering the period from June 15 through June 30.

According to the report: Detection survey crews from the DeLeon Research Lab have found that the corn borer is spreading rapidly. The first heavily infested peanut fields were found in southern Comanche County during the third week in June. Since then the borer has spread rapidly northward and is now found in the central part of Comanche County, the southern part of Eastland County and in Callahan County.

being found in all stages of growth from newly hatched to full grown.

According to the Departmental light trapping program, Commissioner White said there are two concurrent major cycles of the insects at this time. The next major cycle should occur during the period July 3 through 13 to be followed by a second cycle predicted to start about July 20.

The report ended with an added emphasis from Commissioner White, "The lesser cornstalk borer is spreading rapidly. Early detection and control is necessary to prevent heavy economic losses not only to the peanut farmer but to the peanut industry as a whole."

"Doc, ask your computer what my symptoms mean," wails puppet patient in TeleTheatre show. Traveling in a specially-outfitted trailer, the show is sponsored by Southwestern Bell and is open-free to the public.

Southwestern TeleTheatre To Be In County Towns July 15-17

Southwestern Bell's new TeleTheatre, an exhibit trailer featuring "little people," will be in Cisco July 15, Eastland on July 16, and in Ranger on July 17 for a one day stand beside the telephone company. The free exhibit will be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The "little people" are hand-crafted puppets that seem to come alive—with no strings attached—as the history of telephony is told in song and story.

"This is probably one of the most unusual traveling exhibits anywhere in the United States," said John McGowan, manager for Southwestern Bell. "The puppets make the exhibit a treat for youngsters, but the sophisticated tongue-in-cheek treatment of historical and scientific events will appeal to adults as well."

Activated by 53 small electric motors, the 13 performing puppets animate the story of communications in a series of six vignettes. The stories range from Mr. Bell's first telephone conversation to a sneezing computer that's just diagnosed a patient's ills via telephone lines.

TeleTheatre visitors, using telephone handsets to hear the commentary, will see puppets come to life as animated phones—from the old 1890 crank-type and the skinny "flapper" model of the 1920's to a progressive trio of ultra-modern phones which sing and dance their "thing."

Visitors will also have a chance to see a hologram. Through laser photography a flat photographic plate provides a three-dimensional view of an object photographed by this new process.

"Wagon" Sees Lee Marvin In His Debut As A Singer

Actor Lee Marvin has added another dimension to his movie career with his acceptance of the role of Ben Rumson in Paramount Pictures' "Paint Your Wagon." Marvin bursts into song for the first time on the screen, as an irascible prospector born under a "Wand'rin' Star."

A look at his career shows at a glance that Marvin is an actor who knows his business—respects it as an art form—and can do very well what he pleases since he won an Academy Award for his performance in "CAT BALLOU." Having read literally dozens of scripts, he settled on "Paint Your Wagon," an Alan Jay Lerner Production opening Wednesday at the Majestic Theatre.

"When the idea was first presented to me the script hadn't even been completed," Marvin recalls. "I think the motivating force was the fact the Alan Jay Lerner, who produced the picture, told me what he had in mind, and his enthusiasm was of such magnitude that I said, 'Of course, I'm interested.' As time progressed and the script came through it fulfilled all my expectations. So naturally the deal was made."

"Besides one doesn't argue with credits like Alan's—'Gigi,' 'An American in Paris,' 'Brigadoon,' 'My Fair Lady' and 'Camelot'."

Marvin is the third actor to turn musical on a Lerner vehicle; Rex Harrison and Richard Burton made their singing debuts in "My Fair Lady" and "Camelot," respectively.

"The music isn't really the point of the film and for that matter the point of my interest. The music is beautiful but it isn't there for music's sake, rather to point up the story. This isn't really a western, either. It's a story about the Gold Rush and people with human values."

Would Marvin consider a Broadway musical? "I haven't been asked to be the new gray-haired fox of the Great White Way," he adds.

"Paint Your Wagon," photographed in Panavision and Technicolor, stars Marvin, Clint Eastwood and Jean Seberg. The film was directed by Joshua Logan.

Lee Marvin is seen in his first musical role as gold miner Ben Rumson in Paramount Pictures' "Paint Your Wagon" an Alan Jay Lerner Production. The lusty musical about the California Gold Rush, directed by Joshua Logan, was photographed in Panavision and Technicolor and also stars Clint Eastwood and Jean Seberg. Opening Wednesday at the Majestic Theatre.

Farm Bureau Now Setting Up Programs

Eastland County Farm Bureau is currently involved in a statewide effort to evaluate current organization programs on the state and county level and establish goals and priorities, according to Jack Cozart of Eastland County Farm Bureau.

In a special board meeting held on July 22, 1970 in the Eastland County farm Bureau meeting room, the local Farm Bureau directors adopted a resolution committing themselves to the "leadership of other county Farm Bureaus in a joint effort to up-grade and strengthen the organizations program to better serve the needs of farm and ranch families." Top priorities would be marketing and better support loan value on peanuts.

The board also voted to send President Jack Cozart as a representative to a special statewide meeting of county presidents Aug. 27-28 in Brownwood. The purpose of this conference is to chart a recommended course of action for the Farm Bureau.

All of the 203 organized county Farm Bureaus in Texas are holding special board meetings this summer to evaluate current programs and set goals, President Cozart said. A summary report of these meetings will be presented to all of the county presidents at Brownwood. In addition, they will consider a special report that is to be prepared by agricultural specialists in the land grant system on trends in farm production, marketing, etc.

Recommendations on what the Farm Bureau organizations should do on both state and county levels are expected to come from the Brownwood meeting.

According to a procedural plan adopted by the TFB board of directors in June, a statewide committee will be appointed and charged with the responsibility of implementing the state-level recommendations. County Farm Bureaus will be urged to appoint similar county committees to carry out local programs and activities.

Homemakers Hints

Many fresh vegetables and fruits are available at this time. Improved methods in home canning and freezing methods make it more enjoyable for the homemaker to preserve the natural goodness of foods at home.

Freezing foods is one of the simplest and fastest methods of preserving foods at home. It keeps the natural color, fresh flavor, and food values of most fruits, vegetables, and meats better than other methods of food preservation.

The Frozen Foods bulletin is available from the County Home Demonstration Agents Office. It gives directions for freezing fruit, vegetables, meats, dairy products, eggs, fish, prepared foods, and other foods. The FROZEN FOODS plus HOME CANNING bulletins are available at no charge.

Homemakers are reminded that in canning vegetables, such as beans and peas, that it is necessary to heat vegetables before freezing to slow or stop the action of enzymes which cause spoilage. Until vegetables are ready to pick, the enzymes help them grow and mature. After that they cause loss of flavor and color. If vegetables are not heated enough, the enzymes continue to be active during food storage. The vegetables will then develop off-flavors in a few months and may discolor and toughen. Heating also wilts or softens vegetables and makes them easier to pack. Too long a heating period in the blanching process will result in softening of texture and necessary loss of water soluble vitamins and minerals.

The Frozen Food bulletin available free from the Home Demonstration Agents' Office gives easy and complete freezing directions for each fruit.

72 students in Eastland County collected social security checks on a retired deceased, or disabled parent's record on Jan. 3, 1970.

of Agriculture, ardin, on July 1, ounced July 27- s for a mail ref- 1971-crop wheat otas. By law, in f new legislation, eat crop comes revisions of the Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. This Act requires that a marketing quota referendum applicable to the 1971 crop be conducted on or before August 1, 1970. The Agricultural Act of 1965, as amended, extended its voluntary wheat program through the 1970-crop year, and specifically suspended marketing quota of 1,210 million bushels along with a national allotment of 43.5 million acres.

To be announced of the referendum will be the price-support loan rate for 1971-crop wheat, estimated domestic certificate value, required acreage diversion percentages, and other program details. County ASCS offices about one week prior to the referendum will mail program information to wheat producers, along with the ballot voting instructions and individual farm allotment of 43.5 million acres, as compared to the 45.5 million-acre allotment in effect for the current crop year.

Marketing quotas, to be put in effect, must be approved by two-thirds or more of those voting in the referendum. If quotas are approved, producers will be limited to their allotment acreage beyond which they cannot harvest without a marketing quota penalty. Any excess acreage production would be subject to penalty unless it is stored under bond. If they remain within their allotments and divert the required acreage, they'll be eligible for price-support loans and domestic wheat marketing certificate payments. If the referendum fails to carry, producers staying within their 1971 allotments and complying with other terms and conditions which may be prescribed by the Secretary, would be eligible for support loans at 50 percent of parity.

'Riot, Explosion, Hub-Bub' Hits Eastland at Reunion

The place was the Lone Cedar Country Club. The time was Saturday, June 27, 1970. The occasion was the meeting of the classes of 1924, 1925, and 1926 of dear old Eastland High School.

The group was called to order by E. N. Varner, husband of Mineola Graham, class agent for the class of 1925. L. V. Simmons, Baptist minister and graduate of the class of 1926, offered the opening prayer.

A short talk was given by William Sewell, 1926 graduate and coordinator for this, the greatest home coming that Eastland High School has ever had.

All the 1925 graduates were summoned to the phone to talk with a fellow classmate from Radio City, Calif. He was none other than Charlie Crowder who has made quite a name for himself in the field of education.

After everyone had enjoyed a delicious meal, many enjoyable moments were spent in listening to each one talk of the highlights of his life since graduating from Eastland High School.

Time was taken out for a period of silent prayer in memory of classmates who have passed away. Those mentioned were Leslie Downtain, Ed. T. Cox, Bobby Garrett, Charles Fagg, Arlys Cross, Oren Mead, John Simmons, Mamie Tom Matthews, Rose Mary Powell, Selma Bishop, and of course, our dearly beloved teacher, Miss Belle Wilson.

Everyone was quite delighted with a suggestion from someone for Edna Day Corner and William Sewell to lead us in a rousing yell for the Eastland Mavericks as they did in 1925.

We were pleased to have as visitors Miss Velma Payne of the class of 1922, Willard Matthews of the class of 1918 and his wife Mrs. Anderson, the former Hassie Graham and her son, Robert Anderson, Mrs. Ann Mead, Karen Hargrave, a 1970 graduate of Breckenridge High School, granddaughter of Lucile Martin Callaway.

Mr. J. Horton Is Hostess for WSCS Meeting

The two circles of the WSCS met July 3 on the lawn of the president's home, Mrs. James Horton. Business was opened with a prayer by the president.

Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin gave the devotional on the "Heritage of America."

They decided on four projects for this year. First — refurbishing the church secretary's office. Second, they discussed a church wide covered dish supper at Yeon Howard's home at Lake Leon at 5 p.m., Aug. 2 with swimming and skiing and fun for all. The Readers Write

Having just returned from a trip, visiting our historical shrines of Monticello, Williamsburg, Independence Hall, Betsy Ross' home, Ben Franklin's grave, Valley Forge, the historic places of Boston, one has great pride in our nation beginning and respect that borders on awe, for the men who shaped our nation. One can't help but wonder if there was as much criticism of leaders then as there is now; somehow I can't believe there was or they never could have accomplished the things they did. They had to have all

Sunday Subject Is Announced

The practical effects of a life consecrated to God show the true meaning of sacramental vows, according to the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" to be read on Sunday, July 12, in all Christian Science churches.

The Golden Text, establishing the theme of reading from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, is from John: "The bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, the following passage refers to the teachings and practice of Christ Jesus:

"First in the list of Christian Duties, he taught his followers the healing power of Truth and Love. He attached no importance to dead ceremonies. It is the living Christ, the parolical Truth, which makes Jesus' the resurrection and the life to all who follow his mmi deed."

Services are at 11:00 a.m. in First Church of Christ Scientist, Corner Lamar and Plummer Streets, Eastland.

Bride-Elect Is Honoree at L.C. Luncheon Event

The Bridesmaids luncheon honoring the bridal party of Andrea Rhodes was held Friday at noon at the Lone Cedar Country Club.

Tables were laid with white centered by lime green streamers carrying out the chosen colors of the bride. An arrangement of white and lime green flowers centered the head table. Miniature brides in white and green place cards completed the decorations.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Gene Rhodes was assisted by Mrs. Charles Mahaffey of Ranger and Mrs. Bill Bennett of Weatherford, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Otis Anderson of Gainesville, Mrs. Pat Crawford, and Mrs. Rudolph Little of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Zupan visited in the home of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Barron and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Zupann, of Longview last weekend.

the First Baptist Church. "Purpose" is a contemporary modern folk musical which is similar to "Good News" presented last year by the young people of the First Baptist Church.

The musical calls for a varied instrumentation. Martha Brewer is pianist and harpichordist. Guitarists are Jeff Jackson, Larry Barnes, and Gary Barnes. Jana Rex-roat will play the flute.

Young and husband, L. V. Simmons and wife, William Sewell, Edna Day Conner, Ezma Miller Vaught and husband, Dorothy Lindsley Harrison, Hayden Osborn, and Eda Lindsley Osborn.

All agreed that this was the very best homecoming ever held and we of the class of 1925 most heartily agreed with June Hargus that the class of 1925 was the best to have graduated from Eastland High School.

The group sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and then were dismissed with prayer by L. V. Simmons.

"hung to-gether" as old Ben said or they certainly would have "hung separately" during the Revolutionary War and afterwards.

It seems to me that our greatest need today is for unity; we elect a President then we try to criticize him to a state of ineffectiveness; we oppose just to be "doing our thing" not that we have a better solution. We close our eyes to immorality because we can't be bothered, we even watch our religion beliefs attacked and maligned because it's everyone's right to say and believe what he pleases. We even admit by our silence that its "Square" to be patriotic and real "Camp" to believe in prayer, chastity, integrity or conservation in any form.

We are following to the letter of the Communist rule No. 3 which states "Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace." Mrs. A. E. Cushman.

WOW! It was my first homecoming, but, God willing, it won't be my last. It was pure joy to see so many people from more years than I care to count. If they have changed at all, it could only be for the better. My wife was treated like "visiting royalty", and this made me swell up bigger than the biggest bullfrog in Lake Leon.

After living in the jungle that I have inhabited for so many years, it was like a breath of fresh air. I almost forgot to lock my back door last night.

Sincerely,
Collen Gray Satterwhite

People Power: Beverly Nicholson is a good example.

"Well, to me Texas Electric is a lot more than power lines and machinery—it's people. It's the people who make it all work—just as it's people who use our service. My job is a good example of what I mean. As a home economist, I help people get more out of their electric service—planning a new kitchen, or lighting a patio, even explaining new electric appliances. And right now I'm working on a cooking program for the Girl Scouts. I think this is a good example of the way Texas Electric works for the people we serve. It's one reason I'm proud to work here." At Texas Electric, we're proud of the 2600 people like Beverly Nicholson of Eastland who are the real power behind your electric service. It's People Power... at work for you.

Conservation Is Important Hunting, Fishing Likes

Conservation Service is to hunt or fish? by the natural beauty of the countryside? Is it difficult for you to find a good place to enjoy your activities? If you are to any or all of these, you should be interested in our natural resources. The beauty of the countryside is also gone. Good hunting will be rare. Many ponds suitable for fishing and other sports will result from the work of the Leon-Bosque Conservation Project. This project is developing programs to improve our natural resources. This will enhance production and recreation potential in the area. Farmers and ranchers affect the hunting and fishing by the way they manage their land. Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service encourage landowners developing conservation plans to include consideration for fish and wildlife species. Cover and strip-crops provide food and cover as do windbreaks, field borders and fencerows. Ponds are popular spots for doves and ducks as well as many mammal species. They also provide good fishing when properly managed. Native rangeland and improved pastures can be managed to benefit wildlife while providing more grazing for livestock. By resting native pastures periodically, a better cover is maintained on the land. The improved cover not only provides shelter for wildlife, but prevents erosion of topsoil and reduces the silt deposited in streams and reservoirs. Selective brush control as to areas and methods can benefit wildlife and livestock. On the other hand indiscriminate destruction of brush may eliminate good wildlife habitat. Overgrazing of grassland is usually harmful to wildlife as well as livestock. Lack of good conservation cropping system tend to reduce game populations. The treatment of privately owned land is the choice of the landowners. They will largely determine the quality of our rural environment in the future. They will continue to play a major role in the increase or decline of wildlife. Wildlife habitat must be maintained or we must give up hunting. Whether you are a landowner, a hunter, a fisherman, or someone who likes to get out and enjoy nature, you should be concerned about the wise use and development of our natural resources.

IT HAS BEEN

By Yada Arnold

Very often the question is asked by modern citizens, "What did people do for entertainment in their homes before the advent of radios and television?" How in the world did they amuse themselves at home, especially during foul weather? Cold and rainy evenings kept families shut in from the outside. Summer brought families together on the front porch in the evenings, provided there was a front porch. If not, they sat under trees in the yard studying the firmament, naming different stars, wondering about the Milky Way, the Big Dipper and the Little Dipper. There were stories from parents to children and always games in the early part of the evening.

As days became cooler, fall rains set in and families spent old-fashioned evenings in the sitting room. Usually the room was spacious, measuring 16 x 18 or 18x20 feet, with a huge fireplace in one end or a big heating stove that afforded warmth when filled with dry wood and chips.

In the middle of the room with a hanging kerosene lamp above it, stood the center table covered with a hand-crocheted cloth. The family Bible copy of Pilgrim's Progress and the plush-covered family album adorned the much-loved table where the children sat and studied lessons for school, played checkers and dominoes and worked puzzles.

Grandma sat in her sewing rocker, a work basket on her lap filled with balls of yarn. In her hands shining knitting needles flew back and forth as she knitted socks, stockings and shawls that were called "Newbys", for different members of the family and for neighbors and friends. Grandpa sat nearby in a Boston rocker and entertained young grandchildren with stories of when he was a little boy and tales of the War and hardships endured during hard times.

Usually there were two or three fat, lazy cats, family pets, lying or curled up on a rug near the fire, sleeping away the hours before being put outside for the night.

Papa filled his pipe from a tobacco jar and settled himself comfortably and read the Semi-Weekly Farm News until he fell asleep.

Mama came into the sitting room when she had finished after supper chores in the kitchen. She brought a large bowl of yeast dough and set it on a stool near the fire to rise until morning. Next morning the dough was kneaded, more flour added and formed into loaves to be baked in the wood-burning kitchen range. Grocery store bread was never heard of in those days.

There were always buttonholes to be made in garments for the family, work clothing to be patched and buttons to be replaced. Yet mama had time for fancy work. Yards and yards of crocheted lace for petticoats, pillow shams, scarves for dressers and tables, doilies for gifts and to be used in the rooms of the home. Mama was a perfect stool maker. She made them of empty tin cans and buckets filled with sawdust or sand and covered with patchwork from the rag bag.

An outstanding object in the room was a bookcase. Every family, from the youngest to the oldest member, found untold entertainment from the shelves of the bookcase. Always there was a book of predictions by a then

100-Degree Heat Poses Crops Threat

The current period of consecutive 100-degree days has sapped topsoil moisture and poses a serious threat to crops and pastures in Eastland County, according to farmers and ranchers of the area.

Searing July heat begun to burn pastures, inhibit the growth of fresh grasses and raise the prospect of mid-summer and costly feeding.

The heat is particularly bad for the tight land districts where small grains, feed and pastures form the principal land use. The soil is beginning to crack badly in these areas and thus increase the loss of bottom moisture which, in much of the area, retains some season from the good winter rains, snows and ice.

The sandy or peanut growing areas, while needing rain badly, are not in as serious a state as the harder soils. All of the peanut crop has been planted and in general germination has been good.

It is characteristic of peanuts, say growers, that they can endure a great deal of drab weather during the early stages of their growth. The critical period comes in late July and August when the fruiting stage of growth begins to get under way. Good moisture conditions from mid-August to September are essential to the formation of a good crop, they point out.

Farmers and ranchers alike were hopefully listening to weather forecasts and watching the sky for signs of relief which, in the past two or three years, have broken the mid-summer heat wave at the critical moment.

So far, however, the weatherman offered little consolation.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard E. Smith of Austin visited in the home of Mrs. Mildred Blair this week. Dr. Smith is with the State Health Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burkett of Eastland. They had just returned from a vacation trip to West Virginia and Washington, D. C.
