Reds Strike At ROKs On Sniper Ridge

By STAN CARTER
 SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 2 (AP)—Chinese Reds struck again this morning at South Koreans clinging desperately to Pipint Hill on top of Sniper Ridge in Central Korea.

Other Republic of Korea troops held to positions within 25 yards of the crest of Triangle Hill, two miles west of Sniper Ridge. The ROKs were shoved off the top of Triangle Friday.

U. N. artillery halted two attacks by about 175 Reds on a small ridge east of Triangle's crest last night. Artillery fire also stopped a Red assault on Allied positions on Sniper Ridge during darkness.

A South Korean officer estimated the Chinese have lost about 12,000 men, killed and wounded, in the 20-day old fight for the two heights north of Kumbwa. That is the equivalent of a Red division.

U. S. Navy planes blasted Red positions in the Sniper Ridge area Saturday and played a major role in reducing the Reds' heavy concentrations of artillery and mortar fire. Pilots reported they hit 18 Chinese gun positions and eight ammunition dumps.

Chinese shelling dropped to about 4,000 rounds Saturday, from a daily average of about 24,000.

In the west a strong United Nations tank raiding party drove Chinese defenders from a hill, killing or wounding 500 Reds. An Allied officer said the Communist position overlooked the Sachon River which flows across the battle line, south of Panmunjon where truce talks are now in recess.

Far to the north the aerial war flared for the first time in six days. The Fifth Air Force claimed U. S. Sabre jets shot down two Communist MIGs and damaged four others over Northwest Korea.

On Jans Russell Hill, a ridge extending northwest from the crest of Triangle, other Allied troops fought tenaciously in the face of a battalion-sized (750 man) Red attack.

The Chinese penetrated part of the Allied line at dawn. Then a furious close quarter fight raged throughout most of the day. By nightfall a briefing officer said neither the Allies nor the Reds were in control.

Personal Reminder

Monday afternoon Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers in Big Spring will put out 3,000 of these personal reminders to householders to vote in Tuesday's general election. Scout officials had counted on more than twice this number, but a shipment went astray. Three hundred youngsters will start hanging these reminders on door knobs at 4:30 p.m., a quarter hour after a broadcast over KBST announces the project. Each boy will sign the back of the reminder as he leaves it on a door. As they complete their assignment they will report to unit leaders at KBST. By 5:15 p.m. the job is scheduled to be completed. Another 3,000 of the reminders are being distributed in Stanton and Forsan. This is part of a nation-wide "good turn" by Scouting.

Record County Vote Is Expected Tuesday

Howard County is set for its biggest general election turnout in history.

Predictions Saturday from several who have observed local political activity for a number of years, indicated that something over 8,000 citizens of this county will cast ballots.

Such a figure would easily establish a record, since not even the most heated primary event or liquor election, which usually command top attention among local voters, has approached such a figure.

One basis for such predictions was the absentee vote total, which had climbed to 843 by Saturday morning. A few more absentee votes are expected in the mails, and those postmarked before midnight Friday night will be counted.

In previous elections the absentee vote total usually has accounted for approximately 10 per cent of the balloting. In the primaries last summer, however, the absentee vote was only about seven per cent of the total. At 10 per cent, the grand total would be approximately 8,500, while at seven per cent the figure could go over the 9,000 mark.

It all is expected to contribute to a tremendous chore for the election judges and their assistants.

Howard County's potential voting strength, as near as it can be calculated, is slightly over 11,348. That is the total number of poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued during the poll tax paying period this year. Some persons exempted from poll taxes are not required to obtain exemption certificates, however. These include over-age voters who do not live in cities of 10,000 or more population.

Extensive efforts to get out the vote are being made, with civic and youth organizations joining with the regular campaigners in that respect.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Boy Scouts, the DeMolays and other groups are working actively to urge voters to turn out at the polls.

Campaign leaders of the political parties, both local, state and national, are bringing their activities to a thunderous climax. Radio schedules from now to election are jammed with political speeches and spot announcements, and advertising columns of the newspapers are carrying heavy political lineage.

All of Big Spring's polling places are expecting heavy traffic Tuesday. The voting boxes in the city are at the same locations that were used during the primaries last summer. Box No. 1 will operate in the Courthouse, Box No. 2 at the Washington elementary school, Box No. 3 at the 18th and Main Street fire station, Box No. 4 at the City Hall fire station and Box No. 8 at the West Ward School. Boundary lines for the various voting precincts will be the same as for the primaries, since the new precinct lines established recently by the commissioners court do not become effective until the first of the year.

All rural boxes will be at their usual locations in the various communities.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Some of the election officials are expecting an all-night job Tuesday night, on the basis of a heavy vote which is virtually assured, a cumbersome ballot and a prospect for a number of write-ins, which always complicates the vote-counting process.

The ballot includes eight columns, six of them listing candidates of the various political parties.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Tuesday is the big day when Howard Countyans add their voice to those of other Americans in choosing a President of the United States. Absentee votes, when all mail is in, may hit around 850, easily a record. The Tuesday vote could be a record too, especially if you do your duty as an American citizen and vote.

In moving about here and at other points we find one point of agreement among most partisans—they will be glad when the election is over. Most of them say they want to read something else, hear something else, and get back to regular chores without arguing with anybody.

"Rarely in my experience has a tribute so impressed me," Dr. Willis Sutton, famed educator, wrote students of Big Spring High School. When Dr. Sutton made his final talk before the high school assembly a week ago, there was a spontaneous standing ovation that continued for minutes. The venerable educator, who had spoken hundreds upon hundreds of times, to all character of audiences, took his bows. The applause swelled and tears came in the old man's eyes and he wept.

October continued the punishing drought cycle as a completely dry month. Unpaved streets were ground powder fine and the choking dust hung like a pall in the still autumn evenings. It made one wish for the old time street sprinkler.

Gas Transport Ruined By Fire

A 5,000-gallon gasoline transport truck and its load of fuel were destroyed by fire early Saturday afternoon on Highway 87 about 13 miles north of Big Spring.

The truck, operated by A. W. Laws of Las Cruces, N. M., caught fire as it traveled north on the highway. Big Spring firemen who went to the scene said the blaze apparently started in the cab of the vehicle.

The driver pulled the truck over to the side of the road but was unable to extinguish the fire with a portable extinguisher. The fire already was out of control by the time firemen arrived.

Fire Capt. A. D. Meador said most of the 5,000 gallons of gasoline in the semi-tanker was lost. Firemen were called to another fire Saturday afternoon. A food building at the rear of Bill's Food Market, Lamesa Highway, was damaged about 2 p.m.

Chest Drives Nearer Goal

Howard County's Community Chest campaign goal homed nearer Saturday as Chairman Elmo Wasson reported miscellaneous gifts amounting to approximately $1,900 in the latter part of the week.

Latest donations pushed the total raised to approximately $5,000. Goal is $49,952.

Chest officials expect to push the campaign until the quota is reached, hoping to finish the drive this week.

The Community Chest fund will be for operation for Boy and Girl Scouts, a local servicemen's center, YMCA, and Salvation Army during the next year.

'GIVE 'EM HELL' TALK

Harry Warns Of A Disaster Under Ike

By ED CREAM
 ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Truman wound up the most strenuous campaign of his career tonight with a forecast of victory for Adlai E. Stevenson — and a warning of national disaster if Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected instead.

"We would have the ultimate irony of a general who stood for the defense of the free world when he was in uniform, presiding over the liquidation of our foreign policy," the President declared.

Truman's final speech of the 1952 campaign was prepared for delivery in the same Missouri city where he ended his own 1948 fight for his election to the White House.

"I finished my 1948 campaign in St. Louis and we won," Truman said. "We're going to win again this time."

Then in an address bristling with barbed attacks on Eisenhower and the GOP leadership the President summed up the case he has made for Stevenson in some 18,000 miles of campaigning through 30 states from coast to coast.

He travelled farther and spoke oftener in 1948 — but that campaign was spread over a longer period and the President was four years younger.

Program Of Progress Is Vowed By Ike As Adlai Predicts Demo Victory

Stevenson Raps Reactionaries Of Republicans

By CHARLES WHALEN
 CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson brought his campaign to a roaring finish before 25,000 people in Chicago Stadium tonight with a fighting prediction of a Democratic victory Tuesday.

"There has been an electric feeling of victory in the air all the way home," Stevenson declared upon his return to Illinois from a day of whistle stopping through Ohio and Indiana which climaxed a 32,000-mile campaign touching 35 states.

The huge hall erupted with a screaming ovation when Stevenson stepped to the platform. The crowd stood and yelled, stomped, cheered, and whistled for four minutes.

Two of his three sons—Borden and Jon Fell—stood beside him to share in the ovation.

Stevenson's jibes and thrusts at the Republicans and at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—the GOP candidate—drew howls of laughter and cheers.

Accusing Eisenhower of having changed his position on the issues since he entered "the presidential race, Stevenson asked, "Which general do you believe?"

Then he said: "Is it the one who is in agreement on all basic issues with Sen. Taft in Taftland...?" The crowd interrupted him with a chorus of "No, no," and they gave the same response when he mentioned the names of Sens. Jenner (R-Ind) and McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Stevenson declared that if Gen. Eisenhower is elected president it would mean the "most reactionary elements" in the Republican party would run the country. He also asserted an Eisenhower victory would mean "the vindication of aquil tactics" in the dying days of the campaign.

"Nothing has happened to indicate that the general, having yielded to these men throughout his campaign, would suddenly be able to take his administration away from them—even if he wished to do so. They are the men who dominate the Republican party—and they are the men who would run the country."

Stevenson has called Eisenhower the captive of Taft and has argued that Taft lost the presidential nomination but won the nominee.

The Democratic candidate said the contention has been made that a Republican triumph next Tuesday would consolidate the position of progressives in the party and

General Warns Of W. Europe Preparedness

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH
 NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower tonight called Korea an important symbol of Communist aggression but said the free world's attention must never be diverted from the possibility of a Soviet attack on Western Europe.

In a nation-wide television and radio address, the Republican presidential nominee said the task of stemming Red aggression is a global problem, and added:

"Let's not be diverted too much in one corner of the world."

Eisenhower went on tonight's program after pledging earlier to carry out a 10-point "program of progress" for America if he wins the presidency in next Tuesday's election.

And his political chief of staff, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, predicted flatly that the general would defeat his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

The Republican nominee's program, based on campaign promises, calls, among other things, for immediate steps toward a tax reduction, for barring any appointment of Communist aggressors, and for action to eliminate "second-class citizenship" among minority groups in the United States.

Eisenhower set forth his program in a prepared statement shortly after flying back to his New York headquarters from Chicago, where yesterday he made a stretch-drive bid for Illinois' 27 electoral votes. The general's aides expressed confidence that the GOP nominee stands a good chance to carry the home state of his Democratic opponent for the White House, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Eisenhower's statement tonight was accompanied by another from his political chief of staff, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, who flatly predicted Eisenhower will be the next President.

"The opposition" campaign of vilification and outright smear has boomeranged on its sponsors," Adams said. "They just couldn't sell their fantastic charges to the American people who love and respect Dwight Eisenhower as the greatest living American."

Eisenhower's own statement came as he made ready for a nation-wide television and radio appeal to the voters tonight.

The general was planning a quiet day tomorrow, with only attendance at church services scheduled so far. Shortly after midnight he will board his campaign train for a trip to Boston where he will spend Monday motoring through that area.

Campaign End Seen A Brawl

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
 Associated Press Staff

The 1952 presidential campaign, a strange blend of high drama and fierce muck-raking, approached its hour of great decision today with politicians and pollsters tormented by doubts about the outcome.

Despite a brave front put up by strategists in both camps, most of them were still "running scared" on the big question:

Will the sovereign American voter elect Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower or Gov. Adlai Stevenson next Tuesday to cope with world communism and a crowding host of domestic problems in the next four years?

Forecasts of generally fair weather strengthened predictions of a mammoth outpouring of 55 million or more votes — far more than the previous record of 49,820,000 set in the Roosevelt-Wilkie contest of 1940.

The voters will choose, not only a President and vice president, but 34 senators, 432 House members, 29 state governors and a multitude of lesser officials. (Maline elected his governor, a senator and three representatives, all Republicans, in September.)

The electorate had been treated to a campaign which ranks in bitterness with any of the past — and toward the end there were signs that some of the citizenry had become bored with it all. The candidates had in many cases run out of adjectives and were repeating themselves.

The encounter between Eisenhower's "great crusade" and Stevenson's "talk sense" drive at first looked like it might be a gentleman's argument. But it speedily became a general brawl. President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and many other flailed the opposition.

Such words as "bigotry," "smear," "manure," "fraud," "slander," "flim-flam," and "lies" became standard campaign ammunition.

In the closing weeks, both sides seemed to reach the conclusion that the Korean War might be the deciding issue. Eisenhower charged that bungling by the Truman administration had got this country into it. More South Koreans should be trained to man the front line, cutting American losses, he said.

Then Eisenhower made a major move. If elected, he said, "I shall go to Korea" to try to bring the war to "an early and honorable end."

Stevenson hotly declared there was "no slick and easy" way out of the stalemate; he said he would not make "false promises" even if it cost him the election. Truman pictured Eisenhower as a pitchman selling a "new patent medicine" to end the war.

In the last days of the campaign, the war cast into semi-shade such other burning issues as communism, corruption in government, inflation, civil rights, "prosperity," "isolationism" and many others.

The pollsters lined their forecast with feathered clauses on which they could fall back if the limbo got sawed off.

One frequently heard analysis ran like this: "Eisenhower is ahead, but Stevenson is gaining; the question is whether he can catch up by Nov. 4."

What puzzled the experts were such questions as these:

Has television wrought great, yet-to-be assayed changes in the way in which people make up their minds? Stevenson relied more on TV than Eisenhower, as the quickest way to make himself known to millions.

How will the women vote? Women of voting age now outnumber men by about two million.

What effect will the drop in farm prices have on farmers' votes, many of which Truman garnered four years ago? Farm prices as a whole have dropped 4.4 per cent in

J. EDGAR HOOVER SAYS

Native-Born Don't Go For Communism

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover said today that native-born Americans in general don't go for communism — and he offered some statistics to prove it.

He said some leaders have changed their names, bases of operations, mode of life and physical appearances, using plastic surgery in some instances. On the other hand, said Hoover, the general public has become more alert in reporting to the FBI and other security agencies occurrences which they might have let pass unnoticed in other times.

War Vet Found Dead From A Bullet Wound

GRAND PRAIRIE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Herman C. Barrow Jr., 37, world War II and Korean War veteran was found dead from a bullet wound in his head at his home yesterday.

Somebody once said Christmas was for the kiddies. But there are people in these parts who might disagree heartily with this statement.

The Webb Toyland, housed in a former clothing warehouse, was almost a necessity for the base. Restrictions On U. S. Employe In Politics Noted Government employes are allowed to vote as they please just as other citizens and they may express their political opinions, but they cannot actively participate in a campaign for any candidate or political party.

A Federal law, known as the "Hatch Act" restricts the political activities of all employes of the Federal Government and some state and local government workers. Under the Hatch Act, a government employe may serve as an election judge or clerk, but he cannot work as a checker or supervisor at the polls for a political party or candidate.

DeVaney Due To Preside At FB Convention
C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will preside at the organization's annual convention at the Plaza Hotel, San Antonio, Nov. 10-12, it has been announced.

J. Walter Hammond of Tye, the Federation's president, will be unable to attend this year because of illness. He is recuperating at his farm home, after suffering an attack Oct. 1 while attending a meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors at Chicago.

Registration will start at 9 a.m. Sunday, on the mezzanine of the Plaza, DeVaney said, "and the convention proper will get underway at 9:30 Tuesday morning."

High on the convention agenda, DeVaney said, are problems dealing with water legislation, rural roads and many other state and national issues involving agriculture. Voting on resolutions will be at the last session Wednesday afternoon. National and state leaders in government and the Farm Bureau will headline this year's program.

serious abdominal operation last July. Mrs. Crosby was received into the Roman Catholic Church last Monday, the day before she sank into a coma. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick Concannon said he baptized her and she had since received sacraments including extreme unction.

The priest said: "She had asked to be baptized many months ago. The intention has always been there." Mrs. Crosby rallied sufficiently after her operation for Bing to make a movie location trip to France. She had been in ill health several years.

When he returned by train from New York last Saturday, Dixie disregarded her doctor's orders, got out of bed and met him at the depot in Los Angeles. As a result, she had a relapse next day.

Dixie Lee Crosby, a star of Broadway musical comedies and the screen in the late '20's, was born Wilma Wyatt in Harri-man, Tenn., Nov. 4, 1911.

A gifted singer and dancer, petite and blonde, Dixie won a blues singing contest at the College Inn in Chicago's Sherman House. This led to a singing engagement at the Lincoln Tavern in the same city. She adopted her new professional name, Dixie Lee.

On Broadway, at 17, she had a featured role during the entire run of the popular musical, "Good News." Critics called her the state's foremost Southern blues singer.

A three-year contract with Fox Film Corp. came next, in 1928. Bing was a little-known singer with Gus Arnheim's band at the Cocoanut Grove, in Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel, when he and Dixie met. She liked to recall a movie producer's telling her: "If you marry that Crosby character, you'll have to support him the rest of your life."

They were married Sept. 29, 1930. Bing was 27, Dixie 18. She made a few more movies and then left the screen. As many as five tropical cuckoo lay eggs in one nest and those eggs are incubated by one female.

14 Schools Due To Take Part In Yule Singing

At least 14 school choral groups will get their assignments for the opening program of the 1952 Christmas season when their leaders meet Monday afternoon.

Dan Conley, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Activities Committee, will meet with representatives of the local and area schools at 3:15 p.m. in Room No. 2, Settles Hotel.

The various choral groups already have furnished Conley with a list of the Yule songs they wish to sing during the mass caroling program to be held Dec. 2 in the downtown area. Assignments will be taken from the lists of proposed songs.

All school groups will sing as individual units during the program. Caroling will be featured instead of a Christmas parade this year. Following the Caroling, the annual Treasure Hunt will be started. Approximately 65 or 70 merchants are expected to take part in the "hunt" which will be conducted for a period of 22 days—from Dec. 2 through Dec. 24. Scores of prizes will be offered, with each participating merchant to offer new awards each day or two.

Plans for the Treasure Hunt were tentatively adopted at a meeting of merchants last week. Since then, Culin Grigsby, chairman of the Merchants Committee, and other members have been contacting businessmen to outline the program and secure their commitments for participation.

Other phases of the Yule observance plans are also being pushed. New street decorations and materials have been ordered and will be installed prior to the Dec. 2 program.

To The Voters Of Glasscock County Commissioners PRECINCT NO. 3
I want to call attention to the voters in Precinct No. 3 in Glasscock County that I will be write-in candidate for commissioner of that precinct in the general election Nov. 4. So far as I know I will be the only write-in. C. J. Baker has told me he will not be a candidate. So many have urged me to offer for this post, that I have consented to make the race. I have been in the county and precinct for 22 years and I believe I can make you the kind of a commissioner you want. I'll deeply appreciate your support and your helping spread the word to other voters in the precinct. WALTER GRESSETT (Paid Pol. Adv.)

Over $250,000 In Construction During October

More than a quarter-million dollars worth of construction was started in Big Spring during October, City Building Inspector F. W. Bettle reported Saturday.

Building permits for the month covered construction valued at $281,435. Construction activity more than doubled the rate for September and pushed the year's building total to nearly $5 million.

In October, 107 building permits were issued, making total for the year 1,286. Valuation of the year's construction, thus far, is $4,951,735.

Although it outstripped September, October building ranks only eighth in volume for the year to date. Other months with a lower total than October was March with $236,735 in construction.

January, February, April, May, June, July, and August have had higher totals, the June aggregate being the greatest at $1,226,585.

MONTH	PERMITS	AMOUNT'S
JANUARY	97	$376,870
FEBRUARY	105	292,160
MARCH	101	236,735
APRIL	134	553,655
MAY	127	378,380
JUNE	146	1,226,585
JULY	221	937,790
AUGUST	136	555,825
SEPTEMBER	62	112,280
OCTOBER	107	281,435
TOTAL	1,286	$4,951,735

Florists Note National Week

Florists in Big Spring are joining in special observance of National Flower Week.

Special floral arrangements will be provided in several public places, including both banks, the electric, water and gas offices. Various flower shops have been assigned to each and will change arrangements during the week.

Most of the florists will have special activities in their own shop and some are planning presenting favors to some of the callers.

Mayor G. W. Dabney has called attention to the special occasion by proclaiming it as "National Flower Week in Big Spring," starting Sunday and continuing through the following Sunday.

The mayor pointed out that flowers constitute one of the best ways of expressing affection, appreciation, congratulations or sympathy. They cheer and brighten the home, lift up the morale of the sick, provide inspiration through color and beauty, he reminded.

"Flowers symbolize hope and inspirations," he continued, "and they provide home and personal adornment and decoration; they possess a universal language which can express the proper sentiment anytime or anywhere when mere words fail."

ON VOTE PREDICTIONS It's All A Matter Of How You Feel

By The Associated Press

EDITOR'S NOTE: Predictions make pleasant reading when you agree with the predictor. The Associated Press, in the paragraphs below, is giving both sides a chance. Take your choice and enjoy yourself.

Jack Porter, Houston, Republican national committeeman: "I am convinced that two-thirds of the people of Texas still believe in the principles of government for which Thomas Jefferson stood, and that they also now realize that the Truman Democratic Party does not believe in those principles and has left them as it left me, and that Texans will give our native-born son, Dwight D. Eisenhower, a big majority."

Sam Rayburn, Bonham, speaker of the House and chairman of the Texas Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Committee: "As a state since my travels over the state since this campaign began I am convinced Texas will return a solid majority of the Democratic ticket on Tuesday."

Alvin Lane, Dallas, state GOP chairman: "Texas-born Dwight Eisenhower has earned the confidence of an overwhelming majority of Texas citizens—Democratic and Republican alike. I feel confident he will be their choice on Tuesday by a substantial majority—at least 100,000 votes."

John C. White, state agriculture commissioner: "We (the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket) will win by 60 per cent of the vote. An overwhelming majority of the farmers know that the Democrats are interested in their welfare and want to see continued farm prosperity."

Ben Gull, Texas campaign manager for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket: "There is no substitute for hard work and the thousands of good Texas people who are working their hearts out for Eisenhower are going to share in the victory Tuesday. Ike will win Texas." Gull predicted Eisenhower will have a 30,000 to 50,000-vote victory margin.

Lloyd Forrester, 59, Belton cotton and cattle farmer: "My father before me was a Democrat, and I'm going to remain a Democrat. I don't want a ten-dollar calf following my $200 cow. Stevenson will win. Why, sure, he'll win."

Wright Morrow, Houston, Democratic national committeeman: "I think the vote in Texas is going to be close. More and more Democrats who believe in the basic principles of the party are realizing that the party has left them, and that they must make a choice between loyalty to their country and loyalty to a party label. If enough of them come around to this thinking, the chances are good for Gen. Eisenhower to win Texas."

Rep. Paul Kilday, San Antonio: "Texas will go comfortably Democratic after the roughest campaign in his memory. Kilday said

Peaceful Night On Halloween

Goblins and spooks conducted themselves like little ladies and gentlemen, for the most part, Halloween.

No property damage, outside of a little soap, paint and ink smearing, was reported to police Saturday in the wake of the spirits.

Police Chief E. W. York said it was the most peaceful and sanely-conducted Halloween celebration he recalls. The chief and Mayor G. W. Dabney joined in an expression of appreciation for the way youngsters had "fun without becoming vandals."

Most "trick or treat" threats from the Halloween-nighters—toddler to teen-age size—were met with treats. Tricks, in other instances, consisted of up-ended garbage cans, soaping of windows, and such like.

Paint was smeared on the side of one municipally-owned automobile, but it was removed Saturday morning without damage. A street marker or two was uprooted, and there was a report of flowers being pulled up in one yard.

Checks Are Mailed To Winners At Fair

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The State Fair of Texas has mailed checks totaling $166,652.17 to 781 Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls in 175 Texas counties.

The money is their take from the biggest junior livestock and poultry auction sales ever held by the state fair.

The $154,220.32 paid for 1,120 steers, lambs and pigs put up by 620 boys and girls was $22,778.30 more than was paid for 879 head last year, livestock manager Ray W. Wilson said. He said this broke all State Fair records both for the number of animals and the amount of money paid for them.

A total of $9,629.35 was paid for 775 turkeys sold by 80 youngsters and $2,192.50 was paid for 810 broilers sold by 81 boys and girls, Wilson said.

Prices paid for all animals and poultry were substantially higher than current market prices, Wilson said. The $3 a pound paid to Ann White, Big Spring, by Hotel Adolphus, Dallas, for her grand champion steer was one of the best prices ever brought by a junior steer at the fair. The 975-pound animal sold for $2,925.

Not including the grand champions, average price per pound included: 120 prime steers, 46.3 cents; 119 choice steers, 39.2 cents; 24 good steers, 33.1 cents; 229 lambs, 36.5 cents; 79 top pigs, 37.1 cents; 510 group lot pigs, 23 cents.

Commodity Prices In Decline Again

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Wholesale commodity prices this week declined for the fourth week in a row and the livestock group sank to a new 1952 low, according to The Associated Press commodity index.

At 179.82, the index compared with 180.45 last week and 191.75 a year ago. The base year of 1926 equals 100 in this weighted index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices.

The livestock component sagged to 203.69, compared with 228.02 a year ago and 206.54 a week ago.

90th Division To Meet

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The 90th Division Assn. will hold its 34th annual reunion in Dallas Nov. 14-15-16, Ernest Tuft, Dallas, first vice president, said today.

FORT WORTH LADY LOST 25 POUNDS

NO DIETING

"I have lost 25 pounds taking Barcostre," writes Bertha Taylor, 2723 Clinton Ave., Fort Worth, Texas. "I feel like a different person now." And Mrs. Don L. Bush, 1111 N. Main St., Arlington, Texas, tells this interesting story: "Before taking Barcostre none of my clothes would fit me. After taking the first bottle, I no longer had such a ravenous appetite, yet I ate all I wanted. I have lost 18 pounds and feel wonderful."

Just ask your druggist for four ounces of liquid Barcostre. Pour into pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just 2 tablespoonful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce, return the empty bottle for your money back. Year after year this amazing product increases in popularity. Over four million bottles sold in Texas in eight years. After you have tried the starvation way with vitamins to fortify you against weakness, why not try the safe, sure, Barcostre way? You won't know a hungry moment reducing with Barcostre.

Blood Drive In City Is Set For November 17-20

Organizational work is in the making for the receiving of blood for the Armed Forces, when the Red Cross mobile blood collecting unit comes to Big Spring November 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Donors' cards already are coming in to the Red Cross office, and a system of soliciting donors on a general basis will be started soon under direction of Roy Reeder.

Members of the Parent-Teacher Association Council will be in charge of the afternoon phase of the program as they were when the blood collecting unit was here last February. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Mitchell will be in charge of coffee arrangements, and Mrs. Helen Wilson will direct registration. Members of the Grady Ladies will be on hand as attendants.

Under requirements of the Red Cross, a physician will be in attendance at all times, and registered nurses will supervise medical questionnaires and the blood withdrawals. Only persons whose physical and medical history indicates complete safety will be permitted to contribute blood.

The collection center again will be in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church. It will be open on the 17th from noon to 6 p. m., on the 18th from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and on the 19th and 20th from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. On the latter two days, most of the time will be given over to volunteers from Webb Air Force Base.

The growing casualty lists in Korea prompt a renewed call for civilian's contributions for blood plasma, and all donations will be gratefully accepted here. Persons who will make blood contribution may call the Red Cross at 256 and get their names registered.

Caps Make The Difference

Three registered nurses are pictured above as they prepare their caps before going on duty at the Big Spring Hospital. The caps—a very important part of the uniform—designate the schools in which the nurses received training. The nurses are, left to right, Miss Joyce Hutchinson of Regina, Canada; Miss Jo Norment of Bastrop, Texas; and Miss Pat Ellison of Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Each girl's cap is different. Miss Hutchinson, who went to a nursing school at Medicine Hat in Alberta, Canada, has a round shaped hat. Miss Norment, looking into the mirror, has a cap with pointed ends and a three-way back flap. The cap is that given by Brackenridge Hospital in Austin, where Miss Norment took her training. Miss Ellison, who attended a nursing school in her home state of Wisconsin, has a high center cap with a round ridge. Each of the nurses has a pin which also designates the school attended. Only registered nurses are allowed to wear the caps and pins. Big Spring hospitals are staffed with nurses from all over the United States, and patients see a variety of caps.

THEY ARE WELL TRAINED

Registered Nurses In City Give You The Best Of Care

When a registered nurse in one of the Big Spring hospitals begins caring for a patient, that patient can rest assured he is receiving the best of attention and treatment.

For each of the nurses has gone through a long and rigid training period to learn "how" to take care of patients.

Before assignment to a hospital, each of the nurses spends from three to five years in a nursing school. They are efficient and well educated in the ways of medicine.

Registered nurses take pride in their schools. So much pride, in fact, that each wears a cap and a pin which signifies the hospital in which they received training.

Only registered nurses wear the caps and pins. Vocational nurses are allowed to wear caps provided they are labeled. Practical nurses wear only the uniform.

Each of the nursing schools issues a different cap. Consequently patients in Big Spring hospitals see a variety of cap designs—pointed, round, square and oblong. Some have black bands and some do not.

Also in the local hospitals the patient can find registered nurses from all parts of the country, adding further variety in cap and pin designs. Some nurses are here from as far away as Canada.

Regardless of which area of the United States registered nurses take their training, that training is more or less uniform. When nurses begin school, they are on a period of probation from six to nine months. Statistics show that approximately 50 per cent of those "desiring" to be nurses drop out of school at the end of the probationary period. Many can't make the grade, and many don't like the tough training. And the training is tough. It ranges from eight to 10 hours each day receiving classroom instruction and practical tutoring. This is in addition to studying at night. Most nurses start out by taking half class work and half practical work.

The training is progressive. After learning how to make up beds properly, carry trays for meals, give baths, keep records and other basic nursing aids, the "students" are allowed to go on the hospital floor.

Here their training begins in earnest. After learning the basic procedures of bedside nursing, they start on more advanced aspects. If wrong medications are given by the student nurses, they are politely dismissed (if serious enough).

In three years time, the students become registered nurses and assume duties in a hospital—if they wish. Some take two additional years and end up with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Nursing schools are affiliated with colleges, and nurses receive college credit for their training.

Most schools not having facilities for complete training are affiliated with other hospitals so the nurses can receive instruction in all fields.

Registered nurses receive training in surgery, medicine, pediatrics, communicable diseases, psychiatry, obstetrics, and eye, ear, nose and throat treatment.

They can specialize in one field if they wish, but most nurses in Big Spring hospitals combine talents learned in all the courses.

Training nurses have strict rules which vary with the hospitals. Some have to stand when the doctors enter, some cannot go with patients or interns, and some must not wear make-up.

Most schools require that the students remain in the dormitories at night, with possibly one "late" night out per week. Most schools require that nurses sign out, tell where they are going, when they are to return, and who they are with.

The majority of nurses go into training upon graduation from high school. However, some women are in, in years when they begin training. A few schools set an age limit at 35 years.

After their training period, nurses pick the part of the country where they would like to live and try to locate there. They are assisted by placing agencies. Big Spring has a fairly good salary scale, and nurses

Autopsy Is Ordered In C-City Death

COLORADO CITY Nov. 1.—W. J. Chesney Mitchell County Justice of peace, entered an order Saturday morning for an autopsy on the body of Thomas Marion Gunn, who died Oct. 8 in a hospital here.

The entire Gunn family was hospitalized on that date after an illness diagnosed as food poisoning. After the death of the 11-month old Thomas Marion the other three members of the family became progressively sicker and were moved to the Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gunn and three-year old Earline. After release from the Abilene hospital the three were moved to Paducah to convalesce at the home of the Gunns' parents.

Gunn is an employe of the Colorado City police department. A police dispatcher, Mrs. Juanita Shaffer reported letter from Mrs. Gunn on Friday. According to the letter Earline has recovered, but Gunn is unable to use his arms and legs. Mrs. Gunn reports a stiffness in one leg. The Gunns will return to Colorado City on Sunday.

Police Chief Sam Hulme says his department has been investigating the possibility the family might have been poisoned and has sent several items from the Gunn home to state laboratories in Austin. However, Hulme said Saturday morning that a report had not been received from the Austin lab. So far nothing has substantiated the poison possibility.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon said that his office was not involved and would not be until such time as autopsy findings might indicate an investigation.

The child's body is buried at Paducah and an Abilene pathologist has been ordered to conduct the autopsy.

are located here from some distance out of the state.

Most all hospitals allow nurses one meal per day in addition to salary. Some furnish nurses quarters and all three meals.

Recreation for registered nurses is a mixed-up affair. They have to sandwich in activities between varying work periods. Sometimes they are on duty during the day, and sometimes they work at night.

Most local hospitals have three shifts—from 7 a. m. to 3 p. m., from 3 p. m. to 11 p. m., and from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. Nurses rotate on the shifts, working first one and then the other.

Letter Puzzles Relatives Of War Prisoner

SHAMROCK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Relatives of Marine Sgt. Dewey E. (Doc) Britan, war prisoner of the Chinese Reds, were puzzled by a letter received at the Shamrock Texas this week.

The letter, signed with the sergeant's name, is dated July 7, 1952, and apparently was mailed from Prisoner of War Camp No. 1, North Korea.

The letter states that the former Kelton youth has not heard from any relatives since he was captured in North Korea Nov. 30, 1950.

An appeal is made by the writer that the letter be given widespread distribution so his relatives will learn that the POW is not hearing from them.

Sgt. Britan is the son of Mrs. Huanita Britan, formerly of Borger, who recently moved to California. He is a nephew of Charlie Britan, Kelton.

Relatives said they have written regularly and some of them have received letters from him as recent as a month ago.

Warrant Officer Doug Rives, Shamrock, brother-in-law of Britan, said the letter is not in the sergeant's handwriting and is not phrased in the sergeant's characteristic way.

Smith Won't Talk Much About Check

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—Dana C. Smith, trustee of a Nixon expense fund, declined to answer most questions at a deposition hearing on a $4,200 check on which Smith stopped payment, an attorney announced afterward.

Smith said at the hearing yesterday that the check had no connection with the campaign of Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican vice presidential candidate. And Smith emphasized after the closed hearing that the check was not drawn against funds collected for Nixon but upon Smith's own personal bank account.

Recently the State Department disclosed that Smith, a Pasadena attorney, had written the U. S. Embassy in Havana, Cuba, asking information in a case in which he had stopped payment on a check given for gambling losses at a Havana night club.

The deposition was taken for a collection agency.

11 Diseases Are Noted This Week

Sixty-three cases of 11 different communicable infections were diagnosed by local physicians during the past week, report of the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit showed Saturday.

Most prevalent disease was diarrhea with 20 cases. Second was gastroenteritis, 12 cases.

There were nine respiratory infections including influenza and bronchitis. Three cases of pneumonia were reported, along with two cases each of strept throat, hepatitis and gonorrhea.

34-State Entries In Livestock Exposition

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Entries representing 34 states for the 53rd annual International Livestock Exposition Nov. 29-Dec. 6, were received before the deadline today.

The list for the exposition includes prize breeding of fat cattle, judged in individual classes.

Big Spring Still Waiting

Although the structure apparently is rapidly nearing completion, the new Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. building at 8th and Runnels, was still in the construction stage Saturday, which was to have been the date for beginning of dial telephone service here under a schedule outlined by the telephone company two years ago. On Sept. 26, 1950 the Big Spring city commission granted the telephone company a rate increase. Simultaneously the telephone company announced that a dial system would be installed, with a goal of Nov. 1, 1952 set for beginning operation of the new system.

235 Non-Agriculture Workers Placed By Employment Group

Two hundred and 35 non-agricultural workers and 104 agricultural workers, the latter principally Mexican nationals, were placed in employment during the fiscal month just closed, through the facilities of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, according to Leon Kinney, manager.

During the month, Kinney said, 286 non-agricultural workers were referred to jobs; 1,343 office visits were recorded; 98 new applications for employment were received; 15 initial claims for unemployment compensation were received, and in all 62 such claims were filed. Sixty-one persons were referred to jobs during the past week, he said, and of these 54 were placed in employment. Office visits during the week totaled 350, while 17 new applications for employment were made and 21 unemployment compensation claims were filed.

Corporation Court Fines In Week Are Near $1,000

Fines amounted to nearly $1,000 in Corporation Court as 88 cases crossed the docket during the past week. Drunkenness again was the big item, accounting for 35 fines for a total of $655. Traffic violations accounted for most of the remainder. Violence was reflected in the cases transferred to other courts. Transfers included three persons charged with attempted murder and one charged with aggravated assault. Three cases involving driving while intoxicated also were transferred. Disturbance and vagrancy complaints resulted in the smallest fines. Two persons were fined a dollar apiece when they pleaded guilty to disturbance charges, and a $1 fine was assessed against another who pleaded guilty to vagrancy. Three reckless driving fines of $25 each were levied. Four persons were fined a total of $65 for speeding, and a "road" charge resulted in a fine of $25. Other fines included driving without license, $25; double parking, $2; ignoring red light, $5; leaving scene of an accident, $25; failure to grant right-of-way, $1; driving on wrong side of street, $15; following another vehicle too closely, $5; and prohibited turns, five fines for total of $19; and violating stop sign, three fines for $20.

Texan Given A Promotion On The Battlefield

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Nov. 1 (AP)—Guerdon Sines, 23, Texan and 1951 West Point graduate, won a battlefield promotion to first lieutenant after only one week in Korea and his first real action, a combat patrol. He led out a patrol the other night and in 15 terrible hours it killed 40 Chinese and wounded many more. Sines' home is Houston. The patrol left Allied lines at dusk and threaded silently into Communist territory. It attacked a hill and drove off Chinese defenders. Then the 22 men dug in shortly after midnight and waited. Said the Texan: "There were about 100 Chinese and they came at us 10 at a time. We hopped up and down in our foxholes to fire at them, minimizing our chances of getting hit. One of our men bobbed at the wrong time and his face was blown off with mortar." Pfc. James Miller, Canadian, Tex., a Browning automatic rifleman, killed 15 charging Reds, every one through the forehead. Some Chinese reached the crest before being shot down. Finally the Chinese withdrew. "We could hear occasional moans from Chinese down on the slope, Sines said, "and we could hear them crying for their medics. We tossed grenades down there to try to finish them off." At dawn, the patrol counted 40 bodies.

Cotton Crop In Howard Co. Is Rated 'Poor' This Year

Cotton crops in north Lamb and Castro counties are reported as "very good" 85 per cent open and 37 per cent harvested with an estimated yield of 100,000 bales. Areas reporting "good" crops are south Lamb, Bailey, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Swisher, Briscoe, Hale, Floyd, Wheeler, Gray, Reeves, Loving, Ward, El Paso, Hedgespeth, Culberson, Fisher and Pecos Counties. Reports of "pretty sorry" have been received as descriptive of the crops in Taylor and Jones Counties. Counties turning in reports of "fair" crops are Hockley, Gaines, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Crosby, Lubbock, and Wilbarger.

Those counties in which the crop is rated as "poor" include Cottle, Motley, Donley, Hall, Childress, Collinsworth, Dawson, Borden, Martin, Howard, Mitchell and Scurry. On the whole and over the areas listed the crop appears to be about 82 per cent open and 42 per cent harvested. Rates for pulling range from $1.50 in south Hale County to $3.00 in Runnels, Taylor and Jones Counties. Pickers are being paid $4.00 in El Paso, Hudspeth and Culberson counties. Most counties are paying 25 cents for weighing and hauling, while a number are paying 35 cents and still others 50 cents.

Youth Hurt When Hit By Car Wheels

Gary Liner, young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Liner, 1407 Tucson, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday morning when struck by the wheel of an automobile his father was backing out of the driveway. The youngster suffered bruises, but seemed to be uninjured otherwise. Doctors said the car apparently stopped before the wheel rolled over the boy. X-ray examination at Cowper Hospital revealed no fractures. The boy was being kept under observation at his home, however. James Weaver, 904 Abrams, received an ankle injury Friday afternoon as a result of an automobile-motorcycle mishap at Fourth and Gregg. Weaver and George Albert McGinn, 506 Dallas, were riding a motorcycle which was in collision with a car driven by Jacob Walter Unger, Ackerly, police said. No injuries were reported following a car-motor scooter mishap at Eighteenth and Scurry, also Friday afternoon. Dennis H. Jones, 14, 901 W. 18th, was operator of the scooter and Darnabel Lenore Hardy, 1911 Johnson, was driver of the car involved, said investigating officers. A two-car accident also occurred late Friday, Lee Roy O'Brien, 402 Settles, and Charles Joseph Angeloff, Webb Air Force Base, were drivers of vehicles involved, police reported. Damage was minor and there were no injuries.

Range Specialist School To Start Here Tomorrow

A three and a half days school for experienced range specialists on the West Texas staff of the Soil Conservation Service will be held here, commencing at 1 p. m. tomorrow, W. S. Goodlett, area conservationist said yesterday. He estimated that about 20 of the SCS range men will be in attendance. The course will include some classroom work but will consist principally of field trips. Goodlett said the SCS has found that Big Spring is one of the most advantageous spots in the state at which to hold its meetings and schools because of the opportunities offered for field trips and because of splendid co-operation received from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, and the Howard County Junior College in making facilities of the college available to both the SCS instructors and students. He also called attention to the fact that Big Spring is now the headquarters of one of the largest SCS areas in the state, and that many visitors come to the city for this reason. Mineral production in Pennsylvania is worth well over a billion dollars a year, second only to Texas.

Laying Operations Of CRMWD Halted

Laying operations were halted temporarily Saturday on the Big Spring-lake section of the Colorado River Municipal Water District line. Crews had pushed the 33-inch diameter line through the Jerry Buchanan tract 10 miles northeast. E. V. Spence, CRMWD general manager, said that the contractors, Ben Sira and McKenzie Construction Company, were shifting operations for a month or two. This is by agreement with the CRMWD, he added, because it will give the pipe supplier, United Concrete Pipe Company, time in which to turn out a safe margin on pipe. Although the company has steel enough in sight for the remainder of the project, deliveries were slow at a critical time due to the steel strike. This slowed pipe output. In addition, United Concrete Pipe Company dropped back to regular operations, eliminating overtime production which had been ordered to get the 27-inch line into Big Spring from the west. Output currently is about 55 joints of the large dimension line per day. Since the line reached Big Spring around Sept. 1, the laying crews have been taking the larger pipe almost as rapidly as it could be produced. Laying crews, which are being shifted to Sweetwater to lay pipe from that city to Lake Trammel, and from that point to connect with a line to the new Oak Creek lake, will be back on the CRMWD job in time to finish it well in advance of possible spring rains. Before Big Spring could utilize water from the lake, however, its filtration plant will have to be enlarged. The city has funds at its disposal for this purpose, they having been approved as part of an over-all water, sewer and storm sewer program submitted to voters two years ago.

Republicans Running On The Texas Ballot

The few Republican candidates for lesser office have had a hard time getting any attention in Texas because of the din of the presidential contest. But there will be Republican candidates—one for Congress, several for county offices, one for state representative—on some Texas ballots Tuesday. It took a "talkathon" to get the state's lone GOP-Democrat congressional race into the news. The state's first "talkathon" was staged by Randolph Reed, Beaumont attorney running on the Republican ticket for the Second District congressional seat given up by Rep. J. M. Combs, Beaumont. Reed, whose opponent is Democratic nominee Jack Brooks, Beaumont, had radio station KRIC of Beaumont all to himself from 2 p. m. Thursday until 12:30 a. m. Friday. He answered between 1,500 and 2,000 questions put to him via telephone by the public. Ninety-five per cent of the questions, he said, were intelligent ones. The usual slate of GOP candidates for state offices does not appear on the ballot this year. Instead the Republicans adopted the strategy of cross-filling the Democratic nominees, from Gov. Shivers on down. Only John C. White, agriculture commissioner, asked that his name be withdrawn from the Republican column. Other contests in which there are Republican candidates include that for state representative from Galveston County, Charles B. Smith, Galveston attorney, is the GOP candidate opposing incumbent Democrat Harold Seay. Both have campaigned actively. For the first time in history, there are Republican candidates for county office in Hutchinson, Midland and Gray Counties. Blanchard W. Spearman is campaigning vigorously for commissioner in the Hutchinson County precinct which includes Borger and more than 80 per cent of the county's 25,000 population. Spearman is the GOP candidate opposing A. A. Bullard, Democrat who unseated long-time Commissioner Fritz Thompson in the primaries. In Gray County, the GOP nominee is Clayton Husted, campaigning for commissioner against Democrat W. E. Jarvis. Husted has made a few short radio talks. Midland County has four Republican candidates, two for commissioner, one for judge and one for attorney. In Dallas County, Republican Grover Hart Jr., is running for County Court-at-Law No. 2 against Wiley H. Rawlins.

Non-Jury Cases Tried By Judge R. W. Hamilton

Several non-jury civil cases were tried in 18th District Court here Saturday before Judge R. W. Hamilton of the 70th District. Judge Hamilton came here to preside over the court Saturday morning due to the illness of Judge Charlie Sullivan. Among the decisions handed down by Judge Hamilton was an annulment of the marriage of Joy Gregory Mann and Robert S. Mann. The plaintiff alleged that Mann was already married when she was wed to him last August. Several other uncontested, non-jury cases were heard during the morning. Meanwhile, District Attorney Elton Gilliland reported that the current court session probably would continue on schedule despite Judge Sullivan's illness. Several judges from other districts have indicated that they will make themselves available for the bench here during the next few weeks. The district attorney said an article in a San Angelo newspaper Friday morning may have been a bit misleading. The article stated that court proceedings were being held up here because of Judge Sullivan's illness. However, no cases had been set down for trial this week, and the first jury for this term of court is not due to report until Nov. 10. The first criminal week for this term will begin on Nov. 17.

Girl Who Saved Trio Of Children Dies Of Burns From Flames

WACO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mary Nell Young, 12, Negro girl who carried three younger children out of their flaming farm home to safety, died of burns in a Waco hospital today. The children were alone in their home about two miles from Mart when fire of unknown origin broke out yesterday. Mary Nell first led out a brother, Allen, 4, and then carried out a sister, June, 3. When she re-entered the blazing building to get her three-week-old brother, Junior, her own clothes caught fire. Although she managed to rescue the third child, she was critically burned.

Plenty Of Speeches Mark Texas Politics

By The Associated Press

Texas got the full treatment in politics from the homefolk Saturday.

John Roosevelt, stumping for Republican Dwight Eisenhower, was the only out-of-state active campaigner.

South Texas, already with the promise of Texas Rangers in four counties Tuesday for election day, had more troubles. A Benavides rancher, in Austin seeking help to get supervisors in Duval County, said he had been threatened with death.

The rancher, J. L. McDonald, said his life had been threatened twice by calls to his hotel room in ten days.

Gov. Shivers went on the air early Saturday for Eisenhower. At noon Ralph Yarborough, who tried unsuccessfully to defeat Shivers this summer, was on the air for Stevenson.

Senate Nominee Price Daniel spoke for Eisenhower in Wichita Falls. Agriculture Commissioner John White was on at 6:45 p.m. for Stevenson.

Roosevelt, youngest son of the late president, went through Lufkin, Sherman and Corsicana during the day and wound up at San Antonio with the message that the issue is "Eisenhower honesty versus Truman corruption."

At Sherman, Roosevelt also said Texas may hold the balance in the national election, and he urged Texans to place principles above parties.

Yarborough said the choice is between one schooled in law and government and the other in tactics and regimentation. He said Texans should not be asked to throw aside the Democratic Party on what he called "the unintelligent emotionalism" of the Republican campaign.

Daniel told 700 persons at Wichita Falls he believed Eisenhower would carry Texas. He said that Texans' forefathers would have shunned the Democratic ticket, "would have broken with the principles backed by Truman and the national Democratic party today."

San Antonio, Maury Maverick, a firebrand in the so-called Loyal Democratic faction, said of Roosevelt's tour for Eisenhower: "F. D. Roosevelt turning in his grave—my son, oh my son."

White asserted if the Republicans win, "The same old bunch will lay the basis for the second great depression."

Among the latest well-known Texans to take sides publicly was Hutton W. Summers of Dallas, who was out for Eisenhower. Summers retired from politics in 1946, after serving as Congressman from Dallas for 34 years.

CAMPAIGN

60 days; hogs have gone down 10 per cent.

How will the vote picture be affected by the mass migration of Negroes to the North in recent years; city dwellers to the suburbs; of Northerners to the Far West?

All these were puzzlers, as was the big question whether the long solid South would be rent apart. There was little doubt that so far as the South was concerned the national Democratic party was subjected to the greatest stress and strains since it burst asunder in pre-Civil War days.

Democrats, angling for the "independent" and "internationalist" vote, bore down hard on what they called "the great surrender on Morning Side Heights." This was the Columbia University meeting at which Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft, the man the general defeated in a terrific fight for the nomination, joined hands for the campaign.

Republicans scoffed at the charge that anybody had surrendered; they called it a "No Deal" accord, and at campaign's end Taft cheerfully came up with the prediction that Eisenhower was as good as in.

James A. Farley, master Democratic politician, used to say that politicians might as well spare their voices that nothing anybody says or does in the last weeks of a campaign makes any difference. But politicians, glancing at the "undecided" columns in the polls, are nowadays not so sure.

They tried to figure the effect of a last-minute gamble Stevenson took and won. He flew to Chester, Ill., where a convict rebellion raged. An ultimatum was issued, and the convicts caved in.

A policeman's strike made Calvin Coolidge a national figure and eventually President. It would be a queer twist, indeed, if a felons' revolt helped Stevenson to the White House.

As the campaign drew to its end, politicians anxiously scanned the political skies in such massive states as New York, California and Illinois, all rated as doublets. Together they have 104 votes, a big chunk of the 266 needed for victory.

It all added up to a national political picture in which, the experts figured, anything might happen. Even those who shunned the pedestrian technique of poll-taking and relied on pure reason could not agree.

Stevenson Investigates Prison

Gov. Adlai Stevenson walks through a door to Menard prison compound at Chester, Ill., as an unidentified state police captain holds the door. The governor interrupted his campaign tour in order to help settle the prison riot. Seven hostages were released by the prisoners and the rebellion settled while Stevenson was in Chester. STEVENSON

That a Republican defeat would "enable the most reactionary elements to take over the Republican party."

"This seems to me about the most fantastic argument of the year," he declared. "For it suggests that Sen. Taft having laid down the general's program will be humbled and routed by the novel experience of Republican victory."

"It suggests that the junior senator from Wisconsin will be chastened by the heavy wine of triumph."

"I see no foundation for these wishful hopes. It is obvious that these men would be emboldened by victory—that they would regard it as the result and vindication of squalid tactics in these closing days of the campaign."

Stevenson said the late Wendell Willkie, GOP presidential nominee in 1940, founded the "modern tradition of progressive Republicanism" but that Eisenhower has not once mentioned Willkie's name.

"I know there are still many thousands of progressive Republicans in the Willkie tradition—and I wonder how they feel today," he added.

Talking to a crowd at Alliance, O., which Police Capt. A. M. Barnhouse estimated at 2,000, the Democratic candidate defended the Democratic party's foreign policies and the decision to fight in Korea.

He asserted the cost of international co-operation is heavy—but will be worth the price if it prevents a third world war with its threat of atomic destruction. Stevenson added: "I say to you that we need have no fear of the ultimate outcome. . . . The Communist threat and the world will move gradually, but certainly, toward the peace and security that all mankind dreams for."

The candidate then opened an oblique attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower by saying: "We don't promise deep and immediate cuts in taxes. That could only be achieved by cutting our defenses."

"We do not promise to bring your young men home quickly from Korea. That could only be achieved by surrendering what our soldiers have fought to win."

"In other words, instead of easy but false promises we offer the long, hard, expensive way to peace, my friends, and I hope you will mark it well."

"We are doing the hard job that must be done if we are to have a secure place for ourselves and for those children. We are following out the high ideals of Woodrow Wilson. . . ."

Stevenson said he had a "clean, honest, economic government in Illinois—and I would do the same thing in Washington." Then, he added, his definition of a good government: one that stays out of everything it can, but when there is need to act, it acts with vigor, efficiency and boldness.

Stevenson again turned to the issue of foreign policy where he has said the Republican "Old Guard" has opposed Democratic programs to contain communism. He has

Road Needs Due Talking At Meetings

All interested citizens have been invited to take part in meetings in Lubbock Wednesday and in Amarillo Thursday that are being sponsored by local chambers of commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to discuss road needs and problems of the area.

Virgil P. Patterson, of Amarillo, chairman of the WTCC Highway Policy Committee, will preside. James F. Melton, lower photo, manager of the WTCC taxation and legislation department, will present an exhaustive study of fiscal and other phases of highway matters that will confront the next Legislature. This educational program will be continued in six other meetings in West Texas. The Lubbock meeting will open at 2 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce building. The Amarillo meeting will be held in the Herrington Hotel, beginning at 2:15 p.m. Thursday.

HCJC Tabulates Reports For Per Capita Payments

Final reports, on which will be based the state per capita payment to Howard County Junior College, were being tabulated at the week end.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of HCJC, estimated that there would be the equivalent of 185 full-time students on which the college would draw the state subsidy. This is based on the number of qualifying students in school as of Nov. 1.

The state pays $169.50 for certain students carrying full class loads. Generally speaking, this is the non-veteran group. Total enrollment at the outset of the fall semester was around 430. This includes a large number of airmen from Webb Air Force Base and a number of veterans who draw VA assistance, and still others who are taking non-credit courses.

Mrs. Lucy Moore Funeral Is Held

Mrs. Lucy Virginia Moore, 83, of 1700 Birdwell Lane, resident of Howard County for almost half a century, was laid to rest Thursday in the Coahoma cemetery.

Mrs. Moore had been ill several months, having passed away Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Southard, 1300 Lancaster. Since 1909 she had lived in Howard County and for 45 years was a resident of the Midway community.

Surviving her are a son, O. A. Moore, and three daughters, Mrs. R. L. Southard, Mrs. G. F. Hibner, and Mrs. N. S. Hurst; 25 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

BTX Output Going Satisfactorily Now

Production from Corden's BTX unit is progressing satisfactorily, R. L. Tollett, president, said Saturday. Most bugs which were revealed at the new petro-chemical plant, which also upgrades raw gasoline, was brought up and put on stream have been eliminated.

Spraberry Testing Due As Casing Set In Martin Venture

The Plymouth Oil Company is preparing to cement the 5 1/2-inch liner on the bottom of its No. 1 Millhollow in Martin County to perforate and test in the Spraberry.

Operator drilled through the Spraberry this week and without testing. Total depth is now 7,940 feet in Permian shale. There is no way to tell yet as to whether a completion will be made in the Spraberry.

Location of the well is 1,960 from north and west lines of section 7, block 35, township 1-south, Texas and Pacific survey a mile and a half northeast of Stanton.

Abilene Woman And Husband Found Dead In Her Automobile

ABILENE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sophy Sedberry, 20, of Abilene, and her divorced husband, Albert Sedberry, 18, of Houston, were found dead in her car here today.

Mrs. Sedberry, who had been driving, had been shot three times in the head. Sedberry had been shot once in the head.

Mrs. Sedberry had obtained a divorce in Houston in October. She was a reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McMahon. Her father is a prominent Abilene lawyer.

Sedberry was a student at the University of Houston.

A 16-month-old son survives.

Farmers Protesting New Picking Wages

Farmers they say, are already paying more in fringe benefits to the Mexicans, providing cooking utensils, insurance, bedding and cotton sacks that is not given to migrant citizen workers.

In addition, the new $1.75 wage has been made retroactive to Oct. 13 by the Department of Labor. Representatives of the farmers' group says it plans to meet with attorney Tom Millam of Lubbock tomorrow to draw up the petition.

Another meeting of the group has been scheduled for Monday night at the Terry County Courthouse in Brownfield. The other 19 counties will be invited.

A new wage was set last week by the U. S. Department of Labor of a $2 per hundred pounds of cotton picked. The old figure was $1.50.

Under an international agreement, the prevailing domestic scale of an area must be applied to Mexicans working in that region.

After a protest meeting Tuesday of 225 farmers, the government agreed to take a new survey of the wage.

Ed McDonald, regional director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, said in Dallas that the new survey had established the prevailing wage for citizen labor was $1.75 per hundred pounds picked. McDonald also said "re-surveys of other West Texas counties will be conducted next week."

W. G. Boyd Jr., manager of the Dawson County Cotton Growers Association, and Sam Allen, director of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, said the farmers object to the new re-survey results on these points:

"They claim that $1.75 is not the prevailing wage.

Looney Funeral Set For Today

Funeral for Paul W. Looney, 69, will be held at Nalley Chapel at 2 p.m. today.

Mr. Looney died at 3 a.m. Saturday at his home at 1001 E. 3rd Street.

The Rev. Jack Powers, minister of the Trinity Baptist Church, will officiate at the last rites.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. P. W. Looney, Big Spring; three daughters, Margaret, Mildred and Dorothy; two sons, Roy Looney, Las Vegas, Nev., and John Looney, Kilgore; five brothers, J. B. Looney, Teague; Fred Looney, Longview; Han Looney, Carlisle, N. M.; Claude and Clyde Looney, Las Vegas, Nev.; one sister, Mrs. Janie Bowers, Teague.

Also surviving are two stepdaughters, Mrs. E. A. Nance, Sr and Mrs. H. M. Spears, Big Spring; and 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

uled in the Bay State capital city Monday night, winding up his campaign for the presidency.

In his statement tonight, Eisenhower said that on this week end before election day "the American people have a right to a brief summary of the pledges that I have made to them during this campaign."

He went on to say that to attain the objectives he set forth, "we shall assemble from all professions and all walks of life the ablest men and women this country affords."

He added: "With public servants of such character and ability we shall not only conduct a government of which our people can be justly proud, but we shall then have established the most effective means of accomplishing these great objectives and attaining these ideals."

Eisenhower pledged:

1. That as President he would serve "all the people irrespective of their race, their creed, their national origin, and irrespective of how they voted."
2. That the social gains achieved by the people "whether enacted by a Republican or a Democratic administration are not only here to stay but are here to be improved and extended."
3. That he would work for "restoration of integrity and competence in our national government." The general said a Republican administration "will not tolerate any deviation from an uncompromising code of honesty and ethics in government service."
4. That the full resources of a GOP administration would be thrown into the battle against inflation. He said the steady "whittling away of the value of the dollar" must be stopped.
5. That the Republicans will eliminate "waste, inefficiency and duplication in government," along with taking steps that will make a tax cut possible. Eisenhower said one step which could be taken immediately would be to wipe out "waste and extravagance in government and give our people a dollar's service for each tax dollar received."
6. That he would "support and strengthen, not weaken, the laws that protect the American worker." The general said he would work "unceasingly to build an economy that will maintain for him (the worker) a high level of wages with steady purchasing power so he and his family can share fully in the comforts of American living."
7. That he will support programs to promote, a healthy, prosperous agriculture, based on the present law calling for government price supports of basic commodities.
8. That he would devote himself "to making an equality of opportunity a living reality for every American." He said there is "no room left in America for second-class citizenship for anybody."
9. That a Republican administration would "stamp out disloyalty in government" without engaging in "witchhunts or character assassination." He added that the Republicans will use "every legally constituted agency and method to prevent the infiltration of Communists and fellow travelers."
10. That a Republican administration would pursue a "firm consistent foreign policy with one primary goal—the attainment of peace in the world for ourselves and for all people."

In setting forth his foreign policy goal, Eisenhower reiterated he intends to go to Korea, if elected, in an effort to end the conflict there.

"We must not appease the Communist aggressors," he declared. "The free world must remain strong, and united, in a system of mutual security if it is to remain free."

UN Is Warned To Be On Guard If Truce Agreed

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. Nov. 1 (AP)—Nationalist China's foreign minister, George K. C. Yeh, warned the United Nations today to be on guard if the Communists agree to a truce in Korea. He said it might be an obstacle to final peace and commented grimly that the Reds have shown no desire for peace.

"Much as we desire peace we believe that the armistice now under negotiation in Korea is desirable only in so far as it constitutes a step, a necessary step toward the restoration of peace," Yeh told the U. N. Political Committee, whose 60 top-ranking delegates are debating the whole issue of Korea.

"Uppermost in our minds is the question whether the armistice in Korea, if it should come to pass, would prove to be a step towards the restoration of peace or whether it would develop into an obstacle to peace," he continued.

"In other words we must not delude ourselves into thinking that the solution of repatriation of war prisoners means the solution of the whole Korean question. . . . The Communists at Panmunjon have yet to show that they do desire peace. The United Nations should not therefore go on indefinitely cherishing the hope that the Communists may eventually be motivated by such a desire."

Yeh said his government had had 30 years of "bitter experience" with the Communists. He said his government had found that after agreements had been reached the Communists would repudiate them.

Clifton Webb New Zealand foreign minister appealed to the Communist delegates to accept a 21-nation resolution which endorses the U. N. Command position at Panmunjon and urges them to accept a truce on U. N. terms.

McCraw Suggests Shivers Clean Out His Own Regime

LUFKIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Former Texas Atty.-Gen. William McCraw, Dallas, said today Gov. Allan Shivers is "so busy shouting about the administration's housekeeping that he isn't paying any attention to the dust balls in his own parlor."

McCraw said Internal Revenue Bureau records show 42 state officials "paid $227,655 income tax on graft" last year.

He read a quotation he said was from a Houston Post editorial of Oct. 17: "If 42 public officials paid $227,655 as taxes on graft, the graft itself was presumably a much greater amount."

McCraw, in a campaign speech for Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson, said Shivers, "having been on both sides of the tideland question—for compromise and for no compromise—finds himself without an issue. When he now talks about corruption he should be ashamed that in his own state a great daily newspaper—an Eisenhower supporter—is shocked into editorial comment at tax paying grafting public officials."

Lamesa Shifts To Dial Phone Setup

Lamesa shifted to its dial phone system Saturday night.

The conversion was effected at 10:45 p.m. and Mayor J. W. Bryant, put in the initial call to a friend, Joe Pickle, in Big Spring.

The system now has 3,000 telephones, he said, and has facilities for expansion. This development was a wonderful milestone for Lamesa, Mayor Bryant said, but he added wistfully that he wished he could dial a three-inch rain as easily as telephone numbers.

The switch-over was accomplished with brief ceremonies as Lamesa leaders celebrated the occasion.

County officials reported the good news that bids will be received on the U.S. 87 and U.S. 80 cut-off via scenic mountain, as well as the Vealmoor-U.S. 87 connection, in December. This means that perhaps the projects can be ready for surfacing some warmer weather April 1.

Rates for bus fares and gas were approved for increase by the city commission. A minor adjustment was made in the proposed commercial gas rate. Residential rates will average up about 30 cents per month on a year's basis. Bus fares rose from 12 to 15 cents.

ties, one for independent voters and one column for write-ins.

However, according to a recent opinion issued by the Attorney General of Texas, write-ins can be inserted in any column the voter chooses. In other words, if a voter wants to cast a ballot under a particular column he can write in a name under the column. If his choice is dissatisfied with the candidate listed on the printed ballot, he can vote for that candidate.

And, of course, the split ticket can be voted in Texas, which means that voters who desire may vote for some candidates of one political party, and others from other parties.

The Texas law also provides two methods of voting. Small squares are printed at the left of each name on the ballot for the convenience of those who wish to use the "X" method. In this method, the voter simply marks "X" in the square beside the candidate of his choice for each office.

Those who desire can still use the "scratch" method, which was for years the standard voting procedure in Texas. Those who use that method will mark through the names of all candidates except the ones they favor.

Election officials again are urging the voters not to change methods of voting in the middle of their ballots. If a voter prefers the "scratch" method he should use it from top to bottom, and the same is true of the "X" method.

The Democratic Party, Republican Party, Prohibition Party, Progressive Party, Christian Nationalist Party and the Constitution Party, 11 have candidates for President and vice president listed on the ballot.

Only the Democrats and Republicans, however, have candidates for state and local offices listed on the Howard County Ballot.

The election judges in Howard County are as follows: Earl Stovall, Box No. 1; Lawrence Robinson, Box No. 2; J. W. Purser, Box No. 3; S. P. Jones, Box No. 4; Willis Winters, Box No. 5; Carl Lockhart, Box No. 6; Ed Martin, Box No. 7; R. R. Mundt, Box No. 8; Leroy Echols, Box No. 9; Mrs. C. C. Suttle, Box No. 10; L. B. Bynum, Box No. 11; Edgar Phillips, Box No. 12; Cecil Alfred, Box No. 13; Marvin Smith, Box No. 14; and R. A. Merrick, Box No. 15.

Write-In Campaign Seen In Glasscock

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 1—Balloting may be lived in at least one precinct here Tuesday by a write-in campaign.

Walter Gressett has announced he will be a write-in candidate for the post of commissioner from Precinct No. 3, A. W. White, is the Democratic nominee for that post.

The Glasscock ballot will carry no nominees below the level of state treasurer except in the Democratic column. Local nominees are Sam F. (Buster) Cox, sheriff; Mrs. Vena Lawson, county and district clerk; Leonard L. Hanson, treasurer; W. C. Underwood, justice of peace; John Redner Jr., commissioner Pct. No. 1; Fred S. Hatfield, commissioner Precinct No. 2, A. W. White, commissioner of Precinct No. 3; John F. Priddy, commissioner of Precinct No. 4; Mrs. Ronnell McDaniel, county Democratic chairman.

as his latest book, "Fort Concho and the Texas Frontier," went on sale. Works of this sort are priced because they preserve the history of a people who suffered and worked but never wavered.

The Community Chest was so near and yet so far from success at the end of the week. Around $1,000 had been added through various efforts, putting the total around $45,000 or 10 per cent less than the objective. Your contributions, generous and prompt, are needed urgently so that all participating agencies can carry on their full programs.

Those who have campaigned for preserving all the Courthouse square not needed for building space as a sort of village green had another rally last week. The Jaycees, after studying the matter, favored the beautification plan.

Suit between the Colorado River Municipal Water District and the Martin County Underground Water Conservation District was placed before the Supreme Court of Texas last week. Crux of the matter, although it didn't enter into the suit, is a proration regulation.

Coming here for four days—Nov. 17-18-19-20—will be the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Our quota is 650 pints of blood. The need for our fighting men is urgent. Don't wait to be asked for this opportunity, call the Red Cross office (256) and volunteer. A pint of blood is so little to give to those who give so much.

Harsh, Ugly Election Drive Seen In Texas

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

Texas voters tense and edgy, have just two more days to make up their minds how much they "like Ike" or whether they will go along "gladly with Adlai."

Last-minute volleys of oratory, bitter charges and counter-charges echoed from the G to the E in the final, desperate efforts to persuade voters who still don't know or haven't said which candidate they prefer.

Tuesday's general election campaign is a harsh and ugly campaign. Its uncompromising bitterness will flavor the Texas political scene for many years.

The Republicans, firmly allied with rebellious Democrats, have a chance to win Texas' 24 electoral votes for the first time since 1928.

A two-party system could be one major product.

It did not develop after Herbert Hoover's slim victory 24 years ago, but that rebellion against Democratic nominee Al Smith was mostly underground.

This year Gov. Allan Shivers, Atty-Gen. Price Daniel and the state Democratic organization openly allied themselves with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and a New Guard Republican organization hoping to win permanent recruits for their party.

The long smouldering resentment of conservative Democrats dates back to 1940, opposition to Franklin D. Roosevelt and policies deemed inimical to states' rights. It broke into flaming revolt when the September state convention repudiated Gov. Adlai Stevenson and endorsed Eisenhower.

This brought stinging charges of party disloyalty and a fierce counter-attack including threats of future reprisals from staunch party-line Democrats who have formed the core of the Roosevelt-Truman liberal faction.

The conflict within the party has torn it to shreds year after year but always before there was some semblance of unity in the general election campaign. Ultra-conservatives splintered off into small separate parties in 1944 and 1948. This year they joined the Republicans, along with the more moderate conservatives.

Former Democratic Govs. W. P. Hobby, Dan Moody and Collie Stevenson have endorsed Eisenhower. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and James V. Allred, now a federal judge, have not.

Lined up in support of Stevenson were such nationally-known Texas Democrats as Speaker Sam Rayburn, retiring Sen. Tom Connally, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and a substantial block of House members.

Most state officials have kept prudent silence in this conflict between what might be called the "Texas Democratic Party" as contrasted with the "National Democratic Party."

All but one state official nominated by Democrats in the July primary accepted cross-nomination and filing by the Republicans. The hold out was John C. White, agriculture commissioner, who is stumping for Stevenson.

Daniel, double nominee of the Democrats and Republicans, is opposed to succeed Connally. There has been some talk of Democratic write-ins aimed at him and Shivers, but it has not been encouraged by the liberal faction leadership.

They want their numerical strength in the party maintained, looking ahead to 1954. Vote allocations in precinct, county and state conventions then are determined by the total Democratic vote less the votes drawn as many as 200,000 by the Republican nominee for governor. The GOP will be required to hold a primary in 1954. Many Republican leaders would welcome this as another step toward developing a working two-party system here. In the past, Old Guard Republican leaders didn't like the idea. They wanted firm control of their own affairs, including patronage, through the convention system.

Presidential elections often hinge on a few votes. Texas' block of 24 electoral votes—largest in the South and sixth largest in the nation—could swing the outcome either way. So doubtful and vital was the outlook in Texas that both parties for the first time sent their presidential candidates on campaign tours here, matching each other speech for speech and snuff for mile of whistle stopping.

Never before has Texas been so tightly organized by the two parties. The dissident Democrats formed a separate unit known as Democrats for Eisenhower, but they co-ordinated their grass roots campaigning, advertising and oratory with the New Guard Republicans. The National Democratic Party's organization headed by Rayburn got a late start but worked furiously to catch up.

Texas drew national attention as long ago as May, when both state party conventions split.

The Republicans fell out over Eisenhower and Robert A. Taft. The Eisenhower faction finally won. The Democrats broke wide open on the old row between conservatives and liberals. The conservatives under Shivers won seats at the Chicago convention in a national party effort to keep the Texas organization in line. Shivers promised to put Stevenson's name on the ballot in the Democratic column and made his pledge good.

At that point, the state organization's support of the national candidate ended. The September convention repudiated him and endorsed Eisenhower.

Then the national party sent Rayburn hurrying to Texas to pick up the pieces.

He and his campaigners have asked voters if they would like to go back to the depression with its 15-cent cotton and 18-cent oil, or stick with the Democrats, 40-cent cotton and $2.85 oil. Stevenson told farmers here they have had a chance to "put on a little fat."

He needed Shivers by saying a person "who is a Republican."

Health of Pankhurst, defeated for district attorney.

The petition McDonald secured signatures for will go to Judge Reams for official action. The supervisors if victorious would have power to keep watch over ballot counts and report any irregularities.

Signing 65 petitions for supervisors were Gov. Allan Shivers, U. S. Sen-elect Price Daniel, Atty-Gen-elect Price Daniel, Ben Shepperd, State Treasurer Jesse James and State Supreme Court Associate Justice-elect Frank P. Culver.

Federal Morality To Be Topic Of Dr. Neel's Talk

The broad principle of morality in government will be the theme of a talk by a prominent Texas Baptist clerical leader in Big Spring Monday night.

The speaker will be Dr. T. V. Neel of San Antonio, appearing under auspices of the Texas Democrats for Eisenhower and speaking for the candidacy of Dwight Eisenhower. He will be introduced by the state senator from this district, Pat Bullock of Colorado City.

The program will be at the City Auditorium beginning at 8 p. m. and will be broadcast over KBST. Douglas Orme, chairman of the local Democrats for Eisenhower, said all the public is invited to hear Dr. Neel.

"We feel he has an important message for all the people—one that is acceptable in principle to everyone—and we hope a large crowd will hear Dr. Neel," said Orme.

Dr. Neel has been a college president and has held seven 12 pastorates and has worked as an organizer for Texas Baptists. He is considered one of the denomination's more forceful orators.

Graveside Rites For William Shearin Due To Be Held At 4 P.M.

STANTON.—Graveside rites will be conducted at 4 p. m. today for William Grayson Shearin, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shearin of Stanton.

Rev. Earnest B. Coon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery under direction of Arrington Funeral Home. The casket will not be opened after it is taken from the funeral home.

The infant, born Sept. 7, died about 3:55 p. m. Saturday in a hospital here.

Survivors include the parents, one sister, Mary Jo; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Shearin of Chattanooga, Tenn.; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Williams of Albuquerque, N. M., and other relatives.

Takes Riot Weapon

The Catholic chaplain of Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus, O., was on the grounds when convicts rioted, setting fires and damaging buildings. The chaplain, Father LeSeour, shown with his 'ack o the camera, pleaded with the prisoners to stop, and one of them handed a knife to him. The knife is shown in the chaplain's hand. (AP Wirephoto).

Convicts Clean Up After Ohio Revolt

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1 (AP)—Two hundred psychopathic convicts, excited by the million-dollar Halloween rebellion of 2,000 fellow prisoners slowed clean-up work at burned and riot-torn Ohio Penitentiary today.

The emotionally unstable convicts, quartered in their battered A and B cellblocks, gave no indication they would make the trouble when it came their turn to move across the prison compound to breakfast.

But, Warden Ralph W. Alvis adopted a give-no-quarter attitude and told his guard force "if they don't come out go in and get 'em."

John H. Lamneck, state welfare director, said the edgy 200 must be taken from their cellblocks in order to find out how badly they have damaged their cells.

"They tore up plumbing and broke out windows," said Lamneck. "But we don't know yet how much of the two cellblocks will be usable."

Arthur Glatke, state corrections commissioner, said he thought the guards would not run into any more trouble.

Although the big trouble definitely was over and even minor skirmishes seemed remote, Warden Alvis took no chances. He asked Gen. Albert Henderson, state adjutant general, to keep his 600 Ohio lingers as writing in 1949 that "I happen to believe that the Communist party should be granted the freedom of political action and that Communists should be allowed to teach in universities."

The committee analysis said McCarthy failed to quote the full sentence and that it ended, "... to teach in universities so long as they do not disqualify themselves by intellectual distortions in the classroom."

McCarthy's statement that Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, "condemns the government's loyalty program ... in the most vicious terms."

The committee said McCarthy apparently referred to a 1947 article by Wyatt and that he "distorted criticism by Wyatt of loss standards and inadequate procedures and omitted Wyatt's indictment of Communists."

McCarthy's reading from a Justice Department brief that "plans have been discussed by leading members of the party and agents of the Soviet secret police, to obtain blank American passports from the United States Department, from Communists employed in the State Department; McCarthy on Sept. 4 had cited the reference as proof of his contention that there are Communists in the department, and Stevenson had said the brief referred to conditions of more than 20 years ago, when Calvin Coolidge was President. At Chicago, McCarthy said there was nothing in the brief to indicate that was true, and he added that the evidence on which it was based had never been made public. He said there had been indications that it came from Harvey Matusow, Paul Crouch and Cummings, (who was Roosevelt's first attorney general.)"

"This was perhaps McCarthy's most astonishing statement," the Democratic committee said. "He confused William Garfield Cummings, the FBI plant in the Communist party, with former Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings."

McCarthy was able to give his audience detailed biographies of former Communist Matusow and Crouch. But for some reason he seemed not to have heard of William Garfield Cummings—or at least that is the impression he sought to give."

Top JC Officials To Be At State Meetings

Two top officials of Howard County Junior College will be in state meetings this week.

D. W. A. Hunt, president, is to be in Austin for the state adult education conference which starts on Thursday and continues through Saturday. He will be in Austin a day early, however, because he is on the program panel.

B. M. Keese, dean-registrar, is to attend a conference in College Station a conference of colleges in Texas.

Warden Alvis said he had found no ring-leaders of the "bad food" riot. He said apparently dissatisfaction with their food that began before dark in the prison dining hall.

Ironically, the 200 psychopaths now giving prison officials their only concern were not involved in the original outbreak. They had already been fed and returned to their cells when the mutiny began.

At one time, the 200 were let out of their cellblocks to make sure they weren't burned nor any fires spread. They returned later.

But, once inside the cellblocks, the problem convicts began yelling and smashing and breaking. Their screams mingled with the caterwauling of psychopathic convicts in cellblocks C and D, while flames puffed high above the 30-foot gray stone walls surrounding the prison.

Fires Still Rage In Many Texas Forests

By The Associated Press
Southeast Texas forests still burned Saturday. The State Forest Service tersely summed up a week of hopeless fire fighting in terms as dry as the autumn-colored woods.

The service told of more than 20,000 acres of timber charred in one day, Friday, worst of the year—and of more than 50,000 acres burned in five days earlier in the week.

It told of exhausted men, ruined homes and burned barns.

Fire fighters faced fewer blazes Saturday—but careless hunters still tramped the woods and there was no hope of rain to offset untended camp fires and discarded cigarettes.

Smoke blinded lookout towers in the Woodville district. Heavy layers of smoke—left by 18 fires which burned nearly 8,000 acres Friday—cut visibility to zero. Five fires burned Saturday in 520 acres of the Woodville district. There were three fires burning 125 acres in the Kirbyville district.

Throughout East Texas, Forest Service Headquarters reported, 28 fires were out of control. There had been 61 Friday.

A. D. Folweller, director of the service, called the week "the most critical in recent years."

Many parts of the nation were in as bad shape—or worse. No fire area could expect rain.

Arkansas and Missouri, among the states hardest hit, banned hunting. The biggest Arkansas fire of the season swept over 10,000 acres of timber near Camden Friday.

Des Moines and Marshalltown, Iowa, declared states of emergency because of danger from woods fires. Emergency regulations were slapped on 17 1/2 million acres of national and state forest land in northern Wisconsin.

Lumber companies turned out their workers to help Texas foresters. But winds from a dry north during the week spread the fires.

The forest service renewed its appeal to hunters, cigarette smoking motorists, brush burning farmers—and farm wives boiling their laundry over outdoor wash pots—to take care.

Folweller said, "Fire fighters working seven days a week from daylight until after dark are exhausted. Many timberland owners are supplementing state equipment and manpower. Many pieces of equipment are breaking down.

"In the past week, 13 homes and other dwellings have been destroyed by forest fires in East Texas. Livestock has been killed, fences burned, hay crops and barns destroyed in addition to damage to the forest resources. Even little fires kill the trees which are needed to supply forest products for the next generation."

18 False McCarthy Statements Are Pointed Out By Democrats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, in a 17-page speech attacking Gov. Adlai Stevenson, "used at least 18 false statements, distortions or quotations wrenched from context."

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said research workers had spent four days dissecting an analysis of the speech which McCarthy delivered to a nation-wide radio and television audience from Chicago on Monday night.

"We are providing a detailed point-by-point analysis of 18 errors in the speech," Mitchell said in a statement accompanying the 5,000-word reply to McCarthy's 3,500-word speech.

Mitchell said he wanted to call particular attention to "eight glaring falsehoods and distortions."

The first one he cited was McCarthy's statement that the Communist paper, the Daily Worker, said on Oct. 17 that "if Communism want to vote for Stevenson — go ahead and vote for him but don't vote straight down the line."

The committee's analysis said that "nowhere in the Daily Worker for Oct. 17, 1952, nor for any other date, does there appear any such statement." He quoted the Daily Worker as saying in an editorial that day that its readers should vote for the Progressive party ticket.

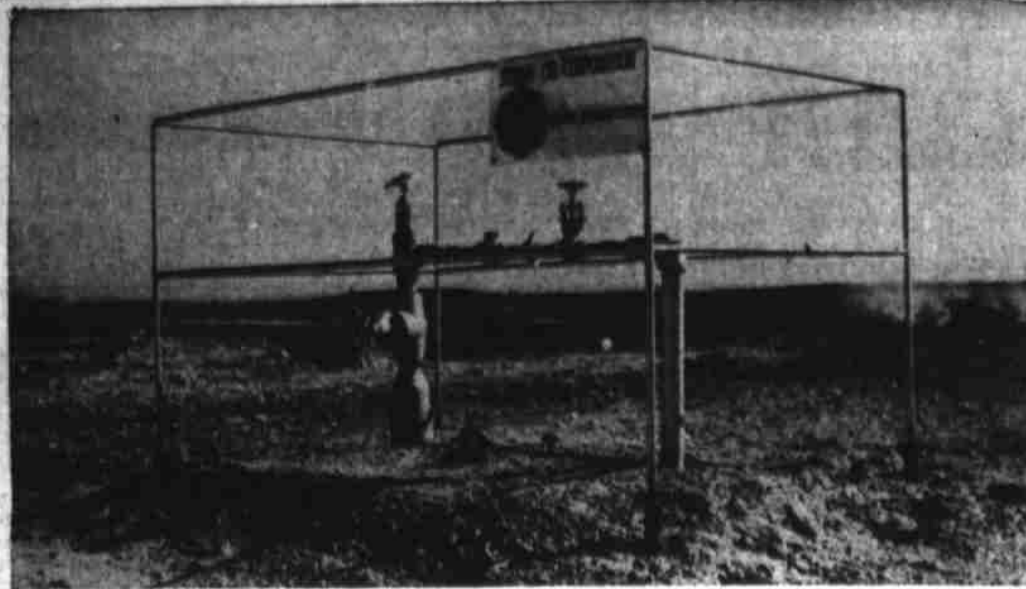

In his speech, McCarthy said that Stevenson had surrounded himself with advisers and the senator described as "a right-wing and said Democratic presidential nominee "would continue the suicidal, Kremlin-directed policies of this nation."

Stevenson, who said in advance that McCarthy's speech would be perhaps the biggest smear on record, has never so particularly noted it since Monday. Throughout the campaign, however, he has repeatedly attacked McCarthy and said his rival for the presidency, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, compromised his honored principles by calling for Stevenson's re-election.

He also asserted that McCarthy spoke with Eisenhower's full approval. The cost of broadcasting the speech, which $75,000 was raised by private groups.

In addition to the point about the Daily Worker, Mitchell cited as "glaring falsehoods and distortions" these portions of McCarthy's speech:

1. The senator's statement that Stevenson in 1943 was "given the task of formulating America's post-war policy in Italy," coupled with a quotation from Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, now Central Intelligence Agency director, that "U. S. policy was to seek to bring Communists into the Italian government."
2. McCarthy's statement that "Gov. Stevenson headed an economic mission to Italy which was not concerned with broad political matters," Mitchell's statement said. "Gen. Smith's book, cited by McCarthy, actually shows that Smith agreed with American post-war policy in Italy, and in any event the book does not even mention Adlai Stevenson."
3. McCarthy's statement that Alger Hiss and another man who was described as a Communist in congressional hearings "recommended Adlai Stevenson to the Mont Tremblant (Canada) conference which was called for the purpose of establishing foreign policy — postwar foreign policy in Asia."
4. The committee said official records show that Stevenson did not attend, and was not invited to attend, the conference sponsored by the Institute of Pacific Relations, a controversial private group.
5. "McCarthy falsely stated," Mitchell said, "that Gov. Stevenson was available in Chicago to introduce Alger Hiss on Nov. 12, 1946, because the governor was allegedly there to deliver a speech of his own."
6. "Gov. Stevenson was not in Chicago Nov. 12 and never introduced Hiss in any lecture," Mitchell added.
7. The statement by McCarthy that Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., a Stevenson aide, wrote in 1946 that "the present system in the United States makes even freedom-loving Americans look wistfully at Russia."
8. Mitchell commented: "McCarthy concealed the anti-Red content of the (Life magazine) article, an article on which Schlesinger obtained assistance from Whitaker Chambers. A sample of what McCarthy omitted is: 'The Communists spread their infection of intrigue and deceit wherever they go.'"
9. McCarthy's quotation of Schles-

Turning Water Into Oil

New Study Of Oil Industry's Potential Scheduled By PAD

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (U) — A new blueprint of the oil industry's potential is being undertaken with the idea of assuring adequate petroleum supplies in the event of all-out war.

Sharp Increase Noted In Regions Drilling Activity

A sharp increase in Permian Basin rotary drilling activity in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico was recorded by Reed Rollar Bit Company October 25 in their semi-monthly survey of activity in the area.

At that time, the area covered by the survey showed 508 rigs in operation as compared to the 488 October 10.

Lea County, N. M., activity continued at a high level with the survey showing 123 projects drilling. That figure is an increase of eight over the 120 units going on the previous count.

Andrews, 'hottest' county in the West Texas portion of the Permian Basin, was credited with 34 rotary rigs turning. October 10, there were 29 in that county.

Completions Lag As Drilling Slackens

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (U) — The slackening drilling pace for the last quarter of the year saw 158 oil wells completed in Texas this week. The year's total dropped farther behind that of last year, 9,957 to 9,228.

The Railroad Commission reported completion of 18 gas wells and a year's total of 701 against 737 a year ago.

WEEK'S REVIEW

Discoveries Loom In Several Areas And Zones Of Basin

By JIM CARLL SAN ANGELO, Nov. 1 — Four oil discoveries and two gas strikes were completed in six West Texas counties during the week.

Four other counties reported indicated discoveries. A northeastern Borden County Ellenburger strike, Superior Oil Co. and Intex Oil Co. No. 14-598 Jordan, was completed for a daily flowing potential of 184.4 barrels of 42.9 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 6.3.

Production was through an 8-64-inch tubing choke from open hole between 8,421 feet, where 7-inch casing was cemented, and 8,432 feet, the total depth.

The Ellenburger was topped at 8,427 feet on elevation of 2,817 feet. The discovery is four miles northwest of Fluvanna, Scurry County, 1 1/4 miles south-southeast of Superior and Intex No. 6-597 Jones, Mississippi discovery and 1 1/4 miles northwest of Superior and Intex 13-57 R. H. Jordan et al., Ellenburger discovery in Scurry County.

A Callahan County discovery from the Gray and Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1-L Johnson was completed for a daily flowing potential of 211 barrels of oil and 646,000 cubic feet of gas.

Production was through an 18-64-inch tubing choke from perforations between 3,663-74 feet. Location is 2,111 feet from north and 691 feet from east lines of section 379-B-SPRR, near the town of Alpha.

A Jones County Noodle Creek discovery, Lester and Duffield, Inc., No. 1 Walter S. Pope, was completed for a daily pumping potential of 108 barrels of 40 gravity oil

It Takes Chips To Punch Holes For Oil Wells

By WILBUR MARTIN HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (U) — Remember when you were a kid you used to "dig a hole to get to China."

Drilling an oil well isn't that simple. To begin with, you've got to have some money. Lots of money. A well 3,840 feet will cost around $80,000 to drill. Deeper wells cost more.

How come it costs so much? Well, you need 76 persons to do the job. That's what Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. figures it takes. This includes petroleum engineer, geologist, four surveyors, an electric logging crew, a mud logging crew, a cementing crew, 16 workmen, 10 truck drivers and helpers, four drillers, 17 drilling helpers, a tool pusher, five rig builders, a sidewall coring crew, a casing perforation crew, a caliper logging crew and a gamma ray logging crew.

Fancy jobs for just drilling a hole? They're all necessary. Then you'll need equipment. A dragline, bulldozer, 23 trucks, six cars, 6,500 feet of drill pipe, 200 feet of conductor casing, 1,500 feet of string casing, a power drilling rig, four to 50 drilling bits, 19,900 barrels of water, 23,880 gallons of butane, 35 tons of cement, 3.5 tons of chemicals for mud, 15 tons of drilling clay, 45 tons of weighting material.

You'll probably drill the rotary method. That's the most popular type today. It consists of a bit, something like an augur used for drilling wood, rotated at the end of a string of pipe. Down through the pipe is pumped a stream of mud—a special kind of chemical compound—which picks up cuttings and washes them to the surface.

When World War II broke out the nation had an excess production capacity of about one million barrels of crude daily, largely because of the discovery of new fields in 1940. By 1943 that cushion had been absorbed and war demands necessitated production at a rate slightly above the level consistent with maximum efficiency and conservation standards.

At present the reserve production capacity is estimated at between 800,000 and a million barrels daily. While that is almost as much as in 1940, the protective margin is far less because of greatly increased demand. The reserve now is only about 15 per cent of domestic consumption.

Last year 44,516 new wells were drilled, compared with approximately 39,000 in 1949. The 1952 total is expected to be approximately 47,000. The 1953 goal is 55,000.

Wrapped up in the study are highly problematical angles, such as how long a war with Russia would last and how much steel could be spared from other essential industries to drill a yet-to-be-determined number of wells between now and Jan. 1, 1958.

Perhaps the biggest problem facing the PAD study group is finding a way to get the excess margin in far less because of greatly increased demand. The reserve now is only about 15 per cent of domestic consumption.

The PAD, while it has power under the Defense Production Act of 1950 to order things done, prefers to achieve its goal through voluntary action from the oil industry.

Anderson and two other New Mexicans were listed by the San Angelo Standard-Times today as "silent partners" in the Saxon Exploration Co.

The firm is one of five companies on whose property the Railroad Commission said 62 oil wells were found to be non-producers after being reported at full production by operators.

The pipeline connection of Saxon was ordered severed pending an answer whether good wells had been making allowances for bad ones of the lease. Of Saxons 52 wells, 27 were dead.

Anderson indignantly denied that there was anything underhanded about his connection with the Saxon Co.

In an prepared statement, Anderson said: "As a starter, let me say that no person is using an assumed name in any venture where I am associated."

"The Texas' statute requires partners who use a partnership name like Saxon Exploration to file what is termed an assumed name report, but it consists of the names of those who make up the firm."

"We have done that. It is just too cumbersome to list all the names of those who make up the firm. And then say, 'Doing business as the Saxon Exploration Co.'"

"Next we are not 'silent' partners, in my opinion. We are non-operating partners. The non-operating partners several years ago hired Norman Fitzgerald to buy leased, drill wildcat wells and develop and produce any oil he might discover."

"He was the sole manager and it was his full responsibility to watch the gas-oil ratios and close down the wells if they became dead."

"He alone has the records and his engineering organization does all the work."

"Personally, I have not been satisfied with the reports we have received and have been trying for months to get the same information the Texas Railroad Commission is now demanding."

COSDEN OPENS DENVER OFFICE

Cosden Petroleum Corporation is opening a division office in Denver, Col.

R. L. Tollett, president, announced activation of the office to handle exploration and production activities in the Rocky Mountain area. The office will be in charge of J. S. Cosden Jr., whose father founded the Cosden Oil Company, one of the predecessors of Cosden Petroleum Corporation. Cosden was in the headquarters office here Friday.

The Denver operation will function under Marvin M. Miller, vice president.

Cosden has been doing some exploration work in the mountain area, having drilled Nebraska test in the summer. Currently, a venture is underway near Piney, Wyoming on the west slopes of the Rockies.

Brown Protests Federal Policy

DENVER, Nov. 1 (U) — An industry spokesman voiced a protest today against federal government activities which he said "continuously plague the domestic oil producer and threaten his success in filling the nation's oil needs."

Russell B. Brown, Washington, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn., said complete control of the petroleum industry could result from government moves.

Brown, in an address prepared for the annual Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Assn. meeting, said these tend to restrict market outlets, control prices and "otherwise ignore the essentials of a competitive economy."

He named "three essentials to adequate oil supplies"—1, the right to free exploration; 2, market outlets at reasonable prices; 3, a good investment atmosphere.

Brown criticized price controls by OPS, controls of both price and producing operations by the Federal Power Commission, steel policies of the Office of International Trade and control of market outlet through State Department policies.

He also charged the Treasury Department falls through tax laws to recognize production hazards.

"The domestic industry cannot generate the capital required to meet defense goals unless imports are reduced, price controls are removed, or both," Brown said.

Iatan-East Howard Area Has Location

Fleming Oil Company and Fleming & Kimball No. 4-D L. C. Denman will be an Iatan-East Howard location. This venture will be 330 feet from the south a 1 990 from the east lines of the northeast quarter section 18-30-18, T0, combination tools to 3,200. Operations will start at once.

1950 — (Connecticut) I vote in every 900 elected Senator William Benton—by a margin of only 1,102 votes out of the total of 878,000.

1950 — (Michigan) I more vote per precinct in only one-third of the state's precincts was the margin that elected Governor G. Mennen Williams.

1944 — (Missouri) I vote per precinct in less than half the state's precincts was the plurality that elected Forrest Donnell to the Senate.

1940 — (Kansas) I vote per precinct in only one-sixth of the state's precincts was the margin that elected Payne R. Atner Governor.

1916 — (U.S.A.) I more vote per precinct in the vital state of California elected Woodrow Wilson President over Charles Evans Hughes.

1884 — (U.S.A.) actually less than 1 vote per precinct in the key state of New York would have elected James G. Blaine over Grover Cleveland as President of the United States.

Lea Wildcat Has Reef Pay

Sun Oil and Gas Company No. 1 Renshaw, central east Lea County, N. M., wildcat, has shown good indications of being a discovery from a deep line formation which is probably Pennsylvanian.

That show came in a drillstem test from 10,948 feet to 10,971 feet, with the tool open three hours. A 1,000-foot water blanket was used. Gas showed in 20 minutes, but no fluid came to top while open.

Recovery was 3,300 feet of clean oil, 1,000-foot water blanket, and 100 feet of drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water, and gravity of oil was not reported. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,325 pounds, and shut-in bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 1,700 pounds. Operator is drilling deeper. The contract is for 14,000 feet to try to find and test Ellenburger.

DISCOVERY OFFSET New Location Scheduled Near Ellenburger Strike

The Round Top Oil Company of Abilene and C. M. Ashby of Dallas will drill their No. 2-Garza Land and Cattle Company immediately. It is to be a 9,500-foot exploration try for production in Ellenburger in southeast Lynn County.

The No. 2-Garza will be a one location northeast offset to the same operator's No. 1-Garza, a lower Ellenburger discovery now in the process of completion.

Location of the new exploration is to be 660 from south and west lines of northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 432, block 9, EL&RR survey, 12 miles east of O'Donnell. It will be drilled with rotary tools.

Round Top and Ashby No. 1-Garza Land and Cattle Company is preparing to take a potential test and complete on perforated section in Ellenburger from 9,310 to 9,325 feet. Informed observers report that the project had produced at rate of approximately 350 barrels of oil per day on preliminary tests.

Total depth is 9,367 feet, with the 5 1/2-inch casing cemented on bottom to the Ellenburger at 9,305. Elevation is 2,915 feet. Perforated zone was washed with 500 gallons of mud acid, and before the pipe was set, the project ran a 3-hour drillstem test in Ellenburger from 9,252 to 9,367 feet. Gas came to the surface in one hour.

Recovery was 6,890 feet of clean 43.2 gravity oil and 360 feet of heavily cut oil and gas drilling mud with no signs of water. Open hole bottom hole pressure was from 140 to 2,340 pounds. Set in bottom hole pressure was 3,878 pounds after 45 minutes. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 431 block 9, EL&RR survey.

Round Top and Ashby No. 1-Garza is on the southeast side of the O'Donnell field. That area has one producer from the Canyon line of Pennsylvania and one from Mississippi. Both of the wells were drilled to the Ellenburger and made water in that formation.

The Round Top No. 1-Garza showed as a production from the Mississippi as well as a flowing oil discovery from Ellenburger. The operator will probably test the Mississippi pay in near future.

In a previous report the Round Top No. 1-Garza was erroneously located in Lea County, New Mexico.

Adlai Strategists Figure Electoral Total Near 300

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois will win or lose the presidency next Tuesday with the belief firmly implanted in his mind that he owes no man either major favor or blame for the result.
 The Democratic presidential nominee is outwardly extremely confident of victory. His strategists can "prove" with their pencils that he will carry enough states to run his electoral total to about 300, thus giving him something to spare over the necessary 266.
 If he should win, Stevenson already has written in advance his own declaration of political independence. In this declaration, voiced at Philadelphia earlier this week, Stevenson declared:
 "I have renounced in this campaign to barter my principles and those of my party for the support of any politician or any political boss and I don't intend to."
 "I have not made promises of huge tax cuts or quick and easy solutions to the problems of Korea that I know could not be kept. I have supported only those interests of farmers, of labor or business men which are in the public interest."
 Then, in a direct reference to the Republican accusation that he is a captive of the Truman administration and must continue its policies, the Illinois governor asserted:
 "I am the captive, if they will have me, only of all the American people."
 Those words summarize Stevenson's own view of his campaign—a drive that started far back of scratch last July when he was nominated to oppose Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, but which has so gained momentum in the last few weeks that most politicians now call the election extremely close and few non-partisans will predict the winner.
 It has been a rough and tumble campaign—some say the dirtiest in years. Both sides have slung personal charges at each other. Although President Truman has been the principal tough talker on the Democratic side, Stevenson has indulged in acid-etched sallies at the war there to an early and honorable end. The GOP was confident that was a telling political blow.

 Stevenson has been striving mightily to label that pledge as only a political gesture that could accomplish nothing.
 But no one can say what the ultimate effect will be.
 Stevenson's dramatic flight from his campaign train to Chester, Ill., focused new national attention on the Democratic nominee.
 The quick success in settling the riot after his arrival seems likely to impress some voters with his ability to act quickly in an emergency and to be exploited by the Democrats as indicating his capabilities as an executive.
 Stevenson took a long gamble, for if he had failed to end the riot, the political reaction might have been costly for him.
 If he wins, Stevenson will bring with him to Washington a coterie of young men relatively untiered in government.
 Stevenson is pledged to clean up corruption and he said repeatedly he had the experience in Illinois to do a thorough job.
 How will Stevenson win the presidency, if he does?
 His strategists count of 167 electoral votes from the Southern and border states, although they conceded privately that total might be cut by possible Eisenhower victories in Virginia, 12 votes, and Florida, 10 votes. They still would have 145 Southern and border votes even if they lost those two.
 To get the 121 additional votes needed for the magic 288 total, Stevenson's aides look primarily to Illinois, 27; California, 32; New York, 45; Minnesota, 11; Rhode Island, 4; Washington, 9; Montana, 4; and Arizona, 4. These add up to more than the necessary total.
 But if they lose one or more of the big states, such as New York or California, they believe they still can win since Truman demonstrated it could be done in 1948 when he didn't carry New York.
 On the Stevenson list of what might be called "hopeful" states are Massachusetts, 16; Michigan, Connecticut, 8; New Mexico, 4; and Utah, 4.

GETS A TREMENDOUS HAND

Ike Believes He's A Winner; Korea, Clean Up Main Issues

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is roaring down the stretch of his first political campaign, buoyantly confident that his strategy of unremitting attack and a promise to clean up Washington has been a winning one.
 Although the Republican presidential nominee was forced over to the defensive at times, at the end it was continuous, ceaseless, hammering attack, built around the spearhead of the Korean War as the overshadowing issue of the campaign finale. On war he spoke as the victorious general of Western Allied forces in the greatest world conflict.
 Eisenhower used the Korean issue now and then all the way, since he first started the heavy cannonading around Labor Day. But once he voiced his "I shall go to Korea" pledge in Detroit a week ago last night, he never let up on it.
 The general and his advisers believe he is striking political pay dirt with the issue. Crowds give him a tremendous hand every time he repeats that he intends to go to Korea, if elected—regardless of criticism from Democrats.
 Korea and all the other issues—change, communism, corruption—have been put together into what the Republican candidate calls his "great crusade"—a crusade in which he believes victory now is only two days away. He sized it up this way to a crowd at Lancaster, Pa., last Monday:
 "It is on the march. Everywhere we find the enthusiasm swelling, confidence growing. And there is going to be the biggest cleanout on Jan. 20, 1953, that Washington has yet had the good fortune to witness."
 Those worries pretty much evaporated with the first invasion of the Deep South in many years by a presidential candidate of either party—an invasion the GOP claimed as a tremendous success. There were developments centering around people and personalities:
 1. The teaming up of Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the man he defeated for the GOP nomination in a brawling national convention which seemed likely to leave the party scarred and split. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson called it the "great surrender" to the "Old Guard." But apparently it swung most Taft followers into line behind Eisenhower. And the general insisted he never changed or yielded on his convictions.
 2. The reunion between Eisenhower and his tearful vice presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California. Eisenhower pronounced Nixon unstarved from use of an $18,000 expense fund donated by California supporters. The GOP figures Nixon's dramatic airing of his financial position television-radio helped the party cause.

 3. The Eisenhower endorsement of such controversial men in his party as Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana. Both senators have criticized Gen. George C. Marshall in strong terms, whereas Eisenhower has called Marshall a great patriot. Eisenhower endorsed them as members of the Republican organization. He said he differed with McCarthy on the Wisconsin senator's methods but approved his goal of ridding the government of subversives.
 4. Party bolts that shifted Democratic Govs. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Robert Kenyon of Louisiana and Allan Shivers of Texas to the Eisenhower standard and Republican Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon to the Stevenson banner.
 Both Eisenhower the man and the method changed to some degree as the campaign moved along.
 Constant cracks from the opposition got under his skin, sent his temperature soaring and sometimes, he said, made him so mad he couldn't talk—the people would have to do it for him election day.
 His earlier pledge not to deal in personalities went by the board toward the end of the general was cutting loose with all he had as President Truman and Stevenson, accusing them of lies, vilification, slander, hitting below the belt, getting as low as they could get.
 But as the campaign came to a close, it was the Korean issue which was getting paramount emphasis in the GOP attack, and it was the specter of depression—Democratic charges that Republicans might bring another depression—against which the GOP was throwing up its tightest defense.
 Republican strategists felt they were making real headway with the argument that Eisenhower is the nation's best bet to find a way out of the Korean War. They especially like the general's announcement he would go to Korea if elected President.
 Privately, Eisenhower aides aren't too optimistic. They believe he will show well in all sections. And they think the outcome is likely to turn on half a dozen big key states—New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Michigan, Illinois and California.
 Some of them will be happy if the general comes out of the election with one or two Southern states in his pocket.
 "But at least," one of them told a reporter, "he has made it respectable for a Southerner to vote Republican."
 Actually, the men around Eisenhower are not predominantly Taft men. If there is a preponderance on the staff, it is of supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who failed twice as the GOP presidential candidate. And Dewey has been a relentless intra-party

On The Hallelujah Train
 Approximately 150 veteran employees of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, most of them retired, stretched their legs and vocal cords here Friday afternoon. They had a few hallelujahs to say before boarding their train for a trip to El Paso as guests of the company. Their aggregate service was more than 4,600 years.

Men In Service

Aviation Cadet Ralph L. Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brooks, 609 George, recently graduated from jet fighter pilot training at Laredo Air Force Base at Laredo.
 Brooks, 22, was awarded his silver pilot's wings and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force. Graduation ceremony was last Saturday.
 Additional training will be given Brooks in combat technique before he receives a permanent assignment. His final instruction was received in the T-33 jet trainer.
 Cpl. Harold L. Jeffcoat, who recently returned from Korea, is now at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio where he will be reassigned to an Army unit.
 He has just reported to Fort Sam Houston after spending a 30-day furlough with his parents here. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jeffcoat, 602 Alford. While home, Jeffcoat and his parents joined his brother, Lynn, who lives in San Antonio, for a visit with Fort Worth relatives.

Second Group of T&P Vets Take Off On An Excursion

"Come on up here," boomed Josh Williams. "Don't want no socializing now."
 Josh, retired Marshall shop worker, was summoning his 145 trainmates who made up the second group of Texas and Pacific Veterans Employees on their third annual excursion. This group, made up entirely of long-time Negro employees, had a brief sing-song at the T&P terminal here Friday afternoon.
 As Josh led them through a series of spirituals in a voice that trembles now and then, a T&P official explained that it was Josh, several years ago, who ran like the wind following at the top of his great voice to warn workers of runaway cars. Some thought that certum voice had saved half a dozen lives that day.
 Combined total of service with the T&P represented by these men, was 4,736, or little better than 32 years per man.
 Most of the men aboard the Friday train were from Marshall, but there were others from Woodlawn, Hallsville, Longview, Willis Point, Gladewater, Terrell, Dallas, Grand Prairie, Petty and Fort Worth in Texas, and from more than half a dozen towns in Louisiana.
 They were all dressed up for the occasion and they kept their cars in apple pie order. The chair car up front was sort of headquarters where they talked and sang and held an occasional church service. If any seemed a little frisky for their brethren, they toned them down.
 "You couldn't imagine a nicer behaved bunch," said Chris Hobson, assistant director of employe and public relations for T&P.
 The first group of the T&P Veterans and Retired Employees Association came through here Oct. 24 enroute to El Paso. This section was for the white members, and several here boarded the train for the "all-expense-paid" trip as guest of a grateful company.

Duncan Spots New Location

The Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring has staked a new wildcat location in Garza County about five miles northeast of Justiceburg. It will be the No. 1 McCrary.
 Location is 1,300 feet from south line and 1,950 feet from west line of section 127, block 5, H&TC survey. It is on a 399.7-acre lease. Elevation is 2,316 feet. Depth is set at 3,000 feet, and it will be a combination tool well.
 The Duncan No. 1-Davis, 330 from north and west lines section 80, block 5, E.H.H.R., about 12 miles east of Post, is being drilled deeper with cable tools. A core from 2,805 to 2,825 has oil and gas shows in top four feet.

Mitchell Explorers Pass 6,000 Level

Cosden Petroleum Company has passed the 6,000-foot marker during the past week. They are the No. 1 Pearl L. Kincaid and the No. 1 D. C. Stubblefield.
 Cosden No. 1-Kincaid, 600 feet from south and west lines of north-west quarter, section 60, block 20, LaVaca Survey, is at 6,015 in lime.
 Cosden No. 1 Stubblefield, 600 from east and north lines of section 96, block 26, T&P survey, got down to 6,281 in shale.

State Hospital Has Fire Training Plan

The Big Spring State Hospital, along with every other eleemosynary institution in the state, will have an organized system of fire training set up by the end of the year, officials announced this week.

So far, a total of 3,290 student hours in fire extinguisher training programs have been held in 16 of the 23 eleemosynary institutions over the state. Additional training to consider flame-proof decorations, safety containers for flammable liquids, and the hazards of static electricity will also be given. Periodic evacuation drills are also being set up.

The fire and safety division of the Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has been acting as a consulting agency for the program. The state's division of defense and disaster relief has also been working with institution officials in order to make the training effective in case of other forms of disaster.

Office Building Plans May Be Seen At C-C

Plans for construction of an office building at Fifth and Main may be inspected in the Chamber of Commerce plan room, Loyd Wooten, projects manager, said Saturday.

Bids will be accepted until 2 p.m. Nov. 18.

The 60x100 one-story office building is to be constructed for the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Big Spring. It will include four 25x60-foot office suites. Architect-engineer is the firm of Puckett & French, Big Spring.

Gambling Ring Is Broken Up At Webb AFB

An eleven member gambling ring which had begun operations at Webb Air Force Base was broken up here this week-end. Ten men and a woman, all Negroes, were arrested Friday night and tried Saturday morning.

The Negroes were charged with introducing crooked and illegal gambling devices into federal property. They were arrested by Capt. Grover McRae, provost marshal, after they started gambling.

Capt. McRae said the gamblers timed their operations so that they would be on the base at pay day. Justice of the Peace W. O. Leonard levied fines totaling $283 against the offenders Saturday morning. Eight were found guilty of gambling, two guilty of vagrancy, and the woman guilty of being drunk.

The woman was released after she paid her fine of $23. The ten men had not met fines Saturday and remained in jail.

Capt. McRae closed in on the gambling games before any damage was done. He said that there had been some gambling trouble last month, and that he was "prepared" for any such month.

Sheriff's deputies A. C. Abernathy and V. G. Grady assisted with the arrests.

Upon arrest officers said the Negroes had three decks of marked cards, sets of loaded and shaved dice, and some dice without the full sets of numbers on them. They also had small sets of "shakers" which can be taped to the fingers and sound like shaking dice when moved. One man even had a polished ring with which he could see cards as he dealt.

The Negroes were reportedly from Houston, Lubbock, New Mexico and Snyder.

The losses were shared almost equally.

Kumhwa Ridges Fight To Go Down As Story Of Valor And Sacrifice

By JOHN RANDOLPH
CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Nov. 1.

Osong Mountain, the strongest Communist fortress in Korea, looms over the Kumhwa Valley.

Below its five great rocky bastions, two long ranges topped by the crests of Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge, stretch to the southeast deep in Allied territory.

These two heights are massive hills themselves, but are slight indeed against the dark bulk of Osong towering behind them.

To win the commanding heights of Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill of these two lesser ranges, the Allies have been fighting a savage, swaying battle since the morning of Oct. 14—and the end is not yet.

The losses of brave men in this concentrated bloody violence cannot be revealed at this time. But when the numbers are made public, this bitter struggle for the Kumhwa ridges will take its rightful place among the more terrible battles of the Korean War.

For it has been one of the major actions of the war, a solid Allied assault against a fortified hill system by the full strength of two divisions, one American and one South Korean.

The losses were shared almost equally.

It is a story of valor and sacrifice, of dogged persistence and stubborn courage, of terror and mutilation and quaking death.

It will go down in the history of Korea as the fiery proving ground of the Korean 2nd Division, one of the republic's finest units. Imagine the crouching Sphinx of Egypt looking southeast. Its big head and heavy shoulders are reared high. In front stretch two long lean cat legs, ending in curled paws.

The head and shoulders are Osong. The right leg is Triangle and its cluster of smaller heights—"Jane Russell," "Pike's Peak" and "Little Sandy." The left leg is Sniper Ridge, with Pinpoint Hill near the paw and "The Yoke" a ridge junction closer to the Sphinx.

Osong itself is a bulky mass, made up of five towering ridges that curve inward to a central crest, like a five armed swastika or a whirling plowheel. Its top rises 3,500 feet into the air from the valley below — three Empire State Buildings one on top of the other, or six Washington Monuments.

It is 450 feet, more than 30 stories, higher than Heartbreak Ridge, and with its seven square miles of ridges is three times as bulky, as the scene of last year's month-long and violent battle. Its Korean name, Osong-san, derives from its five ridges and means "Five-in-one Mountain."

To American GIs who have watched it unweary from their lines for more than a year and a half, it is notorious as "Papa-san."

Today, the Allies are on both the southeastern ridges leading up to the Sphinx itself, still fighting hard, and about half way up the legs.

Just off the Sphinx's right paw is Kumhwa Junction, once a bustling provincial capital, but now only a flat pasture—if there were only cattle to graze on it.

Even without walls and people, Kumhwa is an important place, the exact strategic center of the 155-mile Korean Front, and one of the most important Allied positions in Korea.

It still is the junction of five roads, a river and a railroad that may someday run again. It also is the eastern anchor of the Central Korean plain that is known as the Iron Triangle which is held half by the U.N. and half by the Communists. More important than that, Kumhwa is the Seoul invasion gateway on the northeast, just as Kaesong is the northwestern gate and Chorwon—the Yonchon-Uijongbu corridor—is the invasion route from the north.

The exact object of this bloody battle is not altogether clear, and even some higher officers involved in the fight find it difficult to explain concisely. That does not mean that the U.N. is fighting for fighting's sake, but it does mean that there are so many possible reasons that it is hard to select the most important ones.

There are at least four major reasons for the assault on the north, which is taking the Allies closer and closer to Osong's bulk.

1. There is no doubt that as long as the enemy holds Osong—to say nothing of the Sphinx's legs, Kumhwa is not safe. For a year and a half, during daylight, Chinese eyes have watched every man and truck that crossed that junction, and night or day, winter or summer, Kumhwa receives more shells than rain.

When you drive through Kumhwa in a jeep, knowing that Red guns have the junction "zeroed in" to a millimeter, you press the gas a little harder, look up at Papa-san and murmur, "Big brother is watching you."

2. If the enemy should hold the lower legs, and launch a new general offensive, the two ridges would be natural corridors for the Chinese.

3. Someday, if the U.N. stunts itself to taking Osong in a frontal push, the seizure of the ridges now under attack would be a logical preparation.

4. Lastly, such battles of attrition, although costly to the Allies, are probably even more costly to the Chinese—since the Reds still use their men's bodies like ammunition, to be expended in lavish mass attacks and counterattacks.

Having considered all this, Gen. Van Fleet gave the orders that put the Kumhwa front into motion in the early dawn of Oct. 14, sending the U. S. Seventh Division against the Triangle Hill ridges and the ROK Second Division against Sniper.

The ROKs had two objectives—"Pinpoint Hill" and "The Yoke" beyond it. They had to take Pinpoint six times in 12 days before they held it, and two attacks on The Yoke have gained them only the first 20 per cent of the slope. The Seventh Division suffered a bloody repulse on Triangle's rocky pyramid on the first day, and then took it on the next in a see-saw battle that lasted a week and involved three other neighboring hills. These are Jane Russell, Little Sandy and Pike's Peak, the last still in Communist hands.

As for the fighting itself, it reached a pitch of ferocity that, with the similar battle for White Horse Hill, is new to Korea. In almost every way, it resembles—on a narrow sector—the savage trench warfare in Flanders in the first world war.

It is also akin to such deadly World War II fights as Monte Casino, Tarawa, Iwo Jima, Saipan and Okinawa. When the full tale is told, it may lead some of these in loss of life.

Look out for the narrow slit of a forward observation bunker and imagine desolate brown mountain crests, bathed in full sunlight, stripped of trees and plants, and churned to ash sand by the constant crash of shells.

Up on the crest—and there are both Koreans and Americans there—men inch their way forward through paths of machine gun bullets and among the shellbursts, hoping to blind a Chinese bunker with their rifles or flame throwers and then to blow it in with blocks of TNT.

Sometimes, through binoculars, you see a solitary fanatic Chinese soldier jump from his bunker and rush the attackers, with a hand grenade swinging. He goes maybe 10, 15, 20 feet and pitches forward as they chop him down.

As darkness falls, the shellbursts turn to flashes of orange and yellow, and you know that in the black night men of one side or the other are creeping forward, seeking out weak spots for a rushing attack.

3 PCT. DISCOUNT ENDS

Tax Collections Hit 70 Per Cent Of Roll

Both city and school tax collectors reported 1952 tax collections amounting to approximately 70 per cent of their rolls as deadline passed for tax payments at the three per cent discount rate.

C. E. (Perry) Johnson Jr., city tax collector, reported tax payments amounting to 72.64 per cent of the city roll.

J. O. Hagood, collector for the Big Spring Independent School District, had recorded tax payments amounting to 63 per cent of the school tax roll, but his figures contained no mail payments which have been stacking up throughout the month. Addition of these payments to the total is expected to boost October payments to the 70 per cent mark, he said.

Gross tax payments to the city amounted to $185,490.08—72.64 per cent of the $255,368.56 roll. This was an increase of more than three per cent over city taxes paid during the same period last year.

Net taxes (after three per cent discount for payment in October) were $179,926.42. Discounted was $5,563.66.

Percentage increase represents even a larger gain in dollars since the city tax roll is some $23,000 higher than in 1951.

Total school taxes paid, not including mail payments, was $226,687.22 during October, said Hagood. Of the total, $22,049.49 was current taxes, $2,939.76 was delinquent payments, and $97.97 came from miscellaneous sources. Discounts allowed for prompt payments totaled $6,692.38.

Current collections included $160,191.52 for the local maintenance fund and $56,165.59 for the interest and sinking fund. The school tax roll is $339,000.

Tax payers have another day in which to take advantage of the three per cent discount on payment of county taxes. Midnight Monday is the deadline for payment on that basis. All three agencies grant two per cent discounts for tax payments made in November, and the allowance drops to one per cent in December.

Both Sides Claim Pennsylvania Win

Editor's Note: This is the fifth story in a series on the big states with large blocks of electoral votes. Today's story tells the situation in Pennsylvania where there are 22 electoral votes—second only to New York.

By CHARLES WELSH
PHILADELPHIA (U. S. —) Talking with Republican and Democratic leaders about the probable result of the Nov. 4 presidential election in Pennsylvania you can't escape the thought they must be discussing two different contests.

Victory is in the bag, say spokesmen on both sides.

The known facts sum up about like this:

Pennsylvania had long been a Republican state until President Franklin D. Roosevelt won in 1936. He carried the state again in 1940 and 1944, each time by smaller margins. Republican Thomas E. Dewey won in 1948 by a solid 149,000 votes.

A record registration and widespread public interest practically guarantee a record vote, somewhere in the neighborhood of a 4,250,000 total, if recent percentage records are continued.

Both of the state's two biggest cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, now have Democratic city governments. The federal payroll in the Keystone State is big. So is the state payroll, directed by a completely Republican state administration.

Most polls show Republicans ahead in Pennsylvania. Two weeks ago, an Associated Press survey of newspaper editors produced a composite opinion that Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower would receive 3 per cent of the vote had the election been held then, with 47 per cent going to Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

Editorially, most newspapers in the state are pro-Eisenhower. Only four dailies—in Lancaster, Scranton, Erie and Waynesburg—have endorsed Stevenson. Fifty or more, including major newspapers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, are supporting Eisenhower on their editorial pages.

There is some evidence on how party leaders appraise prospects for Pennsylvania's 22 electoral votes in the fact that both presidential nominees, and many other big name campaigners, chose to visit the state in the final week before election.

Eisenhower formally opened his campaign at a giant rally in Philadelphia Sept. 4. He came back for a day-long tour across the state this week and a major speech in Pittsburgh.

Democrats sent President Truman into Pennsylvania for what amounted to three days of whistle-stopping last week. Stevenson chose yesterday and today to bid for Pennsylvania.

Here's what party leaders say: Republican — National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett says "We'll do better than 1948—much better. I look for Eisenhower to win by 300,000. It could be as high as 500,000 although I'm not predicting that."

Democrat—Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, veteran Democratic national committeeman: "Stevenson will win. We lost the state by only 149,000 four years ago, when Truman got only a small majority in Philadelphia. We'll do a lot better there on Tuesday. Labor is united behind the Democratic ticket for the first time. John L. Lewis' endorsement and the United Mine Workers backing will help us a lot in both the anthracite and bituminous areas."

The Senate race features Republican incumbent Edward Martin, a 72-year-old former governor, seeking a second term. His opponent is former U. S. District Judge Guy K. Bard, 57, a lawyer and farmer.

Here are some of the state's vital statistics: Registration: 3,128,773 Republicans; 2,137,490 Democrats; 74,673 minor parties and non-partisan. The former registration record was 5,104,710 in 1940.

28 Absentee Votes Cast In Glasscock

GARDEN CITY — Glasscock County had 28 absentee votes submitted shortly before the deadline, according to Mrs. Vena Lawson, county clerk.

Glasscock County election judges for Tuesday's general election include Ray Hightower, Box No. 1; Frank Ramsel, Box No. 2; Mrs. J. J. Overton, Box No. 3; Henry Hilliger, Box No. 4; Mae Burns, Box No. 5; D. M. White, Box No. 6; and Martin Holder, Box No. 7. The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

HI-TALK

By Margie McDougale

This has been a very eventful week around BSIS. Here are some of the things that have been happening.

The Halloween Carnival Monday night was a huge success. Those who missed it really missed something. There were booths of all kinds all along the cat walk. Also a very enjoyable side show was sponsored by the junior class. The show consisted of Shm Jim and Fat Hattie (Jim Farmer and Marge Keaton). The Tattoped man was Jerry Brooks and the wild women from Borneo were Gay Jones and Judy Douglass. They also had a Miss America contest between Doys Mason, J. W. Thompson and Freddie Blalock. Last but not least were the Hawaiian hula dancers. They were Georgia (George) McGann, Ramona (Raymond) Gilstrap, Charlene (Charles) Fox and Billie (Bill) Dorsey.

The dance started at 8 in the senior high gym. The gym was beautifully decorated with black and orange crepe paper. At 10 Neda Hedeston was crowned queen and her escort was Tommy McAdams. The other nominees and their escorts were Mary Lou Lppard, escorted by Warren Anderson; Joyce Gound, escorted by Don Anderson; Jann Bailey escorted by Richard Gilmore; Pat Tidwell, escorted by Buddy Cosby; and Pauline Busbes escorted by Louis Stipp.

BSIS was greatly honored Monday to host the national convention of both the Democratic and Republican parties. At 10 the Democratic convention was called to order by Charles Partain. Jackie Millam acted as keynoter. Nominations were made by Roy and Loy Loudamy, Okie Haygood and Marilyn Bennett. After the votes were counted, Governor George McGinnis Stevenson and Jimmy Chatwell Sparkman won the nominations.

At 1 that afternoon, chairman of the Republican convention John Lawrence called the convention to order. The great General MacArthur, alias Margie McDougale, made the opening speech and nominations followed by Frances McClain, Joyce Gound, Craig Dunan and Pat Crossland. After polling and numerous parades of delegates, our great General Jerry Hayes Eisenhower won the nomination and Luke Thompson Nixon the nomination for the vice presidency. The paper was greatly surprised when Mr. Homer Truman addressed the Republicans.

The nominations were made possible by the government classes and were sponsored by Irma Jean Slaughter.

Roger Brown was greatly honored Saturday by being nominated for chaplain of the House, at the pre-legislative convention that was held in Lubbock.

M. Billings, Gordon Myrick, Ronald Young, Jerry Musgroves and W. D. O'Donnell.

Eighteen members of the Big Spring and Coahoma Orders of the Eastern Star returned Friday from Amarillo where they attended the annual meeting of the Grand Chapter of Texas.

Included were Dorothy Driver, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. Cleo Richardson, Mrs. Wayne Parish, Mrs. Norman Reed, Mrs. Edna Tanner of Coahoma, Mrs. Julia Wells, Mrs. Tom Helton, Mrs. Sylvia Dalton, Mrs. Eula Hall, Mrs. W. E. Carrick, Mrs. Bernard Fisher, Mrs. Lina Kobler, Mrs. Mimmie Michael, Mrs. Harri Lee, Mrs. Willie Pyle, Mrs. Pearl Urey and Mrs. L. A. Griffith.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. William Glenn Lillard, Star Rt., Stanton, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Audrey Jean, to William M. Schafer Jr., son of W. M. Schafer Sr. of San Angelo. The couple will be married in a semi-formal, double ring ceremony, Nov. 25 at the First Assembly of God Church in Big Spring. The Rev. J. W. Farmer will officiate. The bride-elect is a graduate of Flower Grove High School and attended Baylor University and Texas Tech. Her fiancée is a graduate of Del Rio High School and served with the U. S. Air Force.

New Book Of Poetry Written By Aunt Of Former Resident

"Trammel Fork Creek," a book of poetry depicting life in rural Kentucky before the black top roads were built, written by Mrs. Dolly Barmann, has recently been published by the Kaleidograph Press of Dallas.

Mrs. Barmann is the aunt of Lee Harris, former office manager of Coeden Petroleum Corp. Trammel Fork Creek meanders through the hills of Kentucky parting the woods which are thick enough to hide a moonshiner's still from the revenuers. Dolly Barmann spent her youth in this particular wedge of the state and she listened to the oft-told tales and lived the vivid experiences of the people around her.

In her book, she has preserved the Kentucky rural life as it was before electricity reached the area. She tells of possum hunts, husking bees, bound music, a shivaree, moonshiners, red likker, wheat threshing time and other things true to the mountain country. She has written of real people and places with clarity not often found, with sympathy and humor, but above all with understanding. —JH

Prentice Parkers To Make Home In Odessa

Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Parker are making their home in Odessa following their marriage Wednesday afternoon.

The bride is the former Alta Joyce Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dalton, 205 W. 7th. Mrs. A. M. Parker of Odessa is mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, performed the informal, single ring ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Prevost, 700 Aylford. The couple repeated their vows as they stood before the mantle decorated with an arrangement of gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue suit with black accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Mrs. Dalton was her daughter's only attendant. She was attired in a red suit with black accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Mr. Dalton served as best man. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left on a short wedding trip. Mrs. Parker attended Westbrook High School and before her marriage was employed by the Karen Montgomery of the sixth grade and Charles Engle were crowned king and queen of the College Heights School at the annual Halloween Carnival held at the school Friday night.

John B. Hardy, school principal, crowned the students. Trumpeters were Deles Baird and Bobby Settler, who blew miniature toy horns. Donald Cannon, a junior high student, stood behind the scenes and actually furnished the fanfare.

7 Children Are Feted With Party

A party at the Farrar private school Thursday honored members of the first grade and morning kindergarten groups who had birthdays during October.

A Halloween motif was carried out in decorations and favors were noisemakers. Games were played and individual cake squares iced in white and topped with orange jack-o-lanterns were served with ice cream.

Honorees were Richard Reges, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ross; Frankie Cherry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cherry; Guy Talbot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Talbot; Hank Laakman, son of L. Col. and Mrs. Henry E. Laakman; Susan Stepl., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stephens; Richard Dahneke, son of Capt. and Mrs. H. H. Dahneke, all of whom were celebrating their sixth birthdays; and Kay Pachal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Pachal, who was five in October.

Guests were the honorees' classmates. Lynelle Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sullivan, and a former student at Abilene Christian College, spent Saturday in Abilene attending the ACC Homecoming celebration.

STEP AHEAD IN FASHION... with Mojud and Mary Grey nylons from MI-LADY'S ACCESSORIES. Expertly knit for flattering fit, every filmy inch of these misty nylons are full fashioned beauties that fit like your very own skin, flatter your costume... flatter your legs, and you'll find them in 51 gauge, 60 gauge and the oh-so-see 66 gauge, that's so finely woven for more beauty and much longer wear. Some are accented with dark pane-line seams; some are seamless... all boast provocative new shades, such as Mojud's "Tango," a lovely mauve, so new desired to complement your newest costumes and keep you beautifully dressed from head to nylon toe.

FASHION EXCITEMENT FOR FALL... In the new sport skirts by Rhodes of California at ZACK'S Of Margo's. It's the skirt most likely to succeed, no matter where you wear it. This smart waist-whittling, pss-pocketed skirt does tricks for your figure, with its front button accented by three large smoked pearl buttons and the flared side pockets. The soft woolen is distinguished by a tiny checked plaid that's predominately grey or brown, but with just a touch of red, to combine a new type of color richness and a distinctive casual flair. The casual lines of this smart separate will make it the basis of your fall wardrobe, and it's yours for just $14.95.

A MAN IS AS FIT AS HIS FEET... and his feet will be fit for any occasion when they're clad in Phoenix socks from ELMO WASSON'S. The arrival of two new styles is the latest news in sock success. In solid colors he'll find that wonderful, wearable Dynel, that blends beauty and strength in a sock that's cashmere soft... or if he's a gay dog, there are bright argyles in six color combinations that are predominately grey, brown, navy, maroon, green or tan. These argyles are as long on wear as they are on good looks, because the pure wool and spun nylon combine for comfort, strength and washability... and they'll make sock darnings practically obsolete. Solids, $1.00, argyles, $1.95.

SMALL PACKAGE... with large possibilities. That's what you'll find at THE RECORD SHOP in Webco's "Midge" and Decca's pink-sized portables. These small three-speed players are models of compactness, efficiency and beauty, and they'll play all types and sizes of records with equal finesse and tonal talent. Because of their size, they're perfect for college dorms or small apartments, and they're so easy to take with you wherever you go. Of course, the best part about them is their price which is small too... only $29.95. Styled in smart luggage type cases, these stunk little players will mean untold enjoyment to carry with you for years to come.

WORDS AND MUSIC... go hand-in-hand to give you an unusual and distinctive greeting card for a number of important occasions. At HESTER'S SUPPLY you'll find these music box cards playing familiar notes of timeless melodies accompanying your sentiments for an original greeting. If it's an anniversary, you'll find one that plays "The Anniversary Waltz," or to congratulate the new baby, one that plays "Rock-A-Bye-Baby." There's the Wedding March card and the Happy Birthday card, and the Get Well card plays Reveille, or better known as "You Gotta Get Up." Priced at $1.00, they're a happy blending of the old fashioned music box with appropriate verse for a truly individual message.

Hospital Volunteers

Mrs. Harold Steck, above left, hospital representative of the American Legion Auxiliary, operates a library service for patients in the local VA Hospital. Mrs. Rowland Schwarzenbach, left, and Mrs. Bert Wall (in photo at right) broadcast chapel service, and, below, Mrs. Schwarzenbach makes her rounds with comfort articles for the veterans.

Helen Poe To Speak For Church Women

Helen Poe of Dallas, world traveler and lecturer, will speak Friday at 3 p.m. in Howard County Junior College auditorium under the auspices of the United Council of Church Women.

Miss Poe's appearance is in observance of World Community Day and her topic will be "The American Challenge". At the program the "package for peace," clothing for children 1-6 years of age, to be sent to Korea, displaced persons camps and countries where the need is greatest, will be dedicated. There will be special music and a devotional.

Miss Poe, a specialist in Christian education and missionary studies, spoke here last year during the three-day school of missions held at First Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell is chairman of World Community Day, a project of the UCCW, which annually sponsors two other special days—World Day of Prayer on the first Friday in Lent and May Fellowship Day, which emphasizes the cooperation of church women in community affairs.

The Council is collecting money for medicines, vitamins and other needs of the people in ravaged foreign countries. United Nations Week was observed this week by sending 900 pounds of used clothing overseas. Several of the clubs in the city also co-operated in this project.

World Community Day has been a Council project since 1941.

Club Makes Plans For FHA Week

Coahoma Future Homemakers have planned a different activity for each day of Future Homemaker Week, Sunday through Saturday.

Sunday morning the girls were to attend the Methodist Church en masse. Monday they will give roses to the teachers and put up posters, exhibits and displays, concerning different phases of home-making, in Coahoma stores.

Tuesday the group will take flowers to patients at the VA Hospital in Big Spring and adopt a needy family.

They have planned a Clean-Up Day and initiation, installation service at an assembly program, Wednesday. On Thursday, each member will prepare a family meal and a family-fun night program.

"No Gripe Day" will be observed Friday, with a 5 cent fine imposed for each gripe. Also that day, the group will plant rose bushes.

Club members will attend the FHA district meeting in Big Spring on Saturday.

Making the arrangements for the week were Mackie Brooks, Joyce Francis, Sue Hill and Betty Jean Davis, assisted by their sponsor, Betty Fillingim.

Legion Auxiliary Sets Poppy Day For Nov. 8

A flower on every lapel will be the goal of American Legion Auxiliary women on Poppy Day next Saturday, Nov. 8.

"This year the poppy will have added significance because of the long lists of war dead from Korea which have been added to the heroic roll of those who have died for America," said Mrs. Frank Sabato, poppy chairman of the Howard County unit of the Auxiliary.

Proceeds from the sale are used to carry on rehabilitation and welfare work among veterans and their families. The paper flowers are made in some VA hospitals by the hospitalized veterans and are purchased by the Legion Auxiliary, which designates the Saturday nearest Armistice Day as annual Poppy Day in Big Spring.

Poppy proceeds go to veterans in state and contract bed as well as VA hospitals. A third of the proceeds are sent to the State Department in Austin and the state secretary-treasurer sends a check in the amount of 40 cents per patient so that the hospital representative of the Auxiliary can purchase comfort articles, cigarettes, refreshments for parties and can give aid to veterans' families where it is needed.

The local hospital representative is Mrs. Harold Steck and Mrs. Herbert Whitney is the alternate. They are volunteer workers and receive no pay.

The Christmas gift shop is an outstanding program made possible by poppy money. Gifts or checks are sent by interested organizations to the hospital representative, who wraps and mails the packages to the patient's family after he has made his selection. Postage is paid by the hospital representative from the fund.

Poppy money also make it possible to give each patient a dollar bill or a gift on Christmas morning. Telephone calls may be made by those who wish to call home.

Since the Auxiliary began volunteer hospital work in September 1950, a total of $3,691.92 in poppy money has been spent. Last year from October 1951 to November 1952, the amount spent was $1,675.92.

This amount included $775.46 for comfort articles, $335 for cigarettes, $96.47 for postage, $68.67 in aid to families, $59.38 for parties and $258.33 for Christmas dollars and gift shop decorations, ribbon and wrappings.

The figures for cigarettes and for parties does not include those donated by individual units and posts. The gift shop boxes were valued at $655.76, and $132 was donated for gifts.

Mrs. Sabato and Mrs. Bert Wall, president of the local Auxiliary, will be in charge of the sale.

Look What's Cooking At Cafeterias

There'll be plenty a-cooking at local school cafeterias during the week ahead, the menus indicate.

So look 'em over and you can avoid duplication when serving the evening meal.

MONDAY: Pork chops, buttered corn, English pea salad, pineapple pudding.

TUESDAY: Hamburgers, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, coconut pie.

WEDNESDAY: Spanish rice, pinto beans, pickles and onions, corn bread, plain cake with lemon icing.

THURSDAY: Chicken pie, green beans, tossed salad, jello.

FRIDAY: Salmon loaf, mashed potatoes, carrot and pineapple salad, sliced peaches.

If apples are not covered while they are being baked, they should be baked often with the juices in the pan. If they are covered, they will usually only need to be basted a few times.

'Heidi' Performance Slated Tuesday Night

The local branch of the American Association of University Women will present the Clare Tree Majors Children Theatre in a performance of "Heidi" Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the City Auditorium.

Tickets for the production and two others to be presented by the group are on sale at the offices of school principals. The price is $1.50 for all three plays and 75 cents for one.

Other productions to be staged by the Theatre are "Snow White" and "King Midas."

"Heidi" is one of the best-loved books for children the world over. It was written over 100 years ago by a Swiss author almost unknown in the USA.

The book has been made into movies on several occasions and has been a popular number in the Children's Theatre for almost 30 years.

It is a simple story but written with such sincerity that children feel they know Heidi as they know their own sisters or friends.

The audience will see an example of the fact that when we attempt the impossible we are often rewarded by accomplishment.

When the little invalid, Clara Sesman, is brought up the Alps in her wheel chair to visit Heidi, Peter, the goat herder, resents the fact that Heidi no longer has time to spend with him and the herd on the mountain peaks.

In a fit of jealous rage, he pushes Clara's empty wheel chair over the cliff hoping that it will force Clara to terminate her visit. It has a very different result however.

City Federation Sponsoring American Art Week Here

Work of local artists will be displayed in the windows of downtown stores next week in observance of American Art Week, according to Mrs. H. G. Keaton, art chairman for the Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs Inc., which is sponsoring the event.

Paintings will be shown by Mrs. Edith LaveHe, Mrs. Myrtle Lee, Mrs. O. M. Waters, Mrs. Wyatt Eason, Mrs. R. E. McClure Jr., Mrs. Mary Locke and Mrs. H. G. Keaton.

Mathis and Bradshaw studios will arrange special displays of their own portraits, and other stores where the paintings will be displayed are Hemphill-Wells, Margo's, Prager's Men's Store, Big Spring Drug Co., Mellinger's, Swartz's, Lucelle's, The Little Shop, E & R Jewelry, J & K Shoe Store, Marchant Optical Co. and L. M. Brooks Appliance & Furniture Co.

In proclaiming Nov. 17 American Art Week in Big Spring, Mayor G. W. Dabney said: "Art is the universal language. In unmistakable tones it speaks to all mankind. Let everyone respond. American Art Week is humanity's opportunity to pay tribute to art and to the artists of all the Americas."

Various clubs in the city will be observing the occasion with special programs, according to Mrs. Hayes Stripling, president of the City Federation.

American Art Week will be celebrated in 40 countries over the free world, even on air base islands. Its purpose is to honor the art and artists of all the Americas.

Championship Team

For five consecutive times the team of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 has won in district degree competition. The lodge won permanent possession of one loving cup, and last week, by reason of another win at the West Texas No. 2 District meet in Crane, took the second leg on another. Members of the team are, left to right, Alma Crenshaw, Nannie Adkins, L. M. Hayworth, Beulah Morrison; second row, Mozelle Herring, Della Herring, Mamie Roberts, Sue Nielson, Lucille Thomas, Evelyn Roger, Eula Pond, Thelma Braune, (team captain), Rosalee Gilliland, Julia Wilkerson, Lena Fay Franks, Velma Blackshear, Lucille Petty, Gracie Lee Grider, Marie Hughes, Bonnie Phillips; third row, Irene Gross, Ruth Wilson, Frances Shank; Judy Kehr, in the back. Not pictured but taking part in the work were Beulah Hayworth, Amanda Hughes and Jacqueline Wilson. (Mathis Photo.)

C. J. Lamb Shows Films At Meeting

FORSAN, (Spl) —C. J. Lamb showed two films at the meeting of the Fellowship Club in the annex of the church recently. Fourteen attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Howard of Midland visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Howard, during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buri Griffith and Vard were in Desdemona recently visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Porter and Mary Lynell are in San Angelo for a week-end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Porter. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McDonald of Abilene will also visit in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Theime and children were in Sterling City visiting relatives recently.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hayhurst have been in Tulsa, Okla., for the past week visiting her mother, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shelton and Bobby Dean were in Dallas this week where Mrs. Shelton underwent medical treatment.

'Forty Odd' Review Scheduled Thursday

Mrs. Clyde Angel will review "Forty Odd" by Mary Bard Thursday at 3 p. m. in the Howard County Junior College auditorium for the Thursday Review Club.

Club Members Have 'Heidi' Tickets For School Sale

Although tickets for the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre production of "Heidi" are on sale through the offices of local grade school principals, a group of teachers, all AAUW members are responsible for the tickets and citizens may purchase the tickets through them if unable to contact someone in the principal's office.

The teachers are Eulalia Mitchell, Airport; Mrs. Ann Reagan, College Heights; Mrs. Ruth Burnam, Central Ward; Neal Cummings, East Ward; Mrs. Arthur Ruckard, North Ward; Mrs. M. R. Turner, Park Hill; Mrs. Dean Bennett, South Ward; Mrs. H. L. Derrick, Washington Place; Mrs. Jim Anderson, West Ward; Mrs. Miriam Wilcox, Mrs. Ola Mae Karslter and Loride Williams, Junior high.

Mrs. Bard, a sister of Betty McDonald who wrote "The Egg and I," is the wife of a doctor and author of the popular book, "The Doctor Wears Three Faces."

"Forty Odd" is the hilarious story of what Mrs. Bard did to cure herself — a cure she didn't need — of being 40 and acting that age.

While the book is a humorous account of the author's efforts it contains some sound sense, indeed, for women approaching or in their 40s.

Mrs. Angel, who has reviewed for the 1905 Hyperion Club and the Baptist WMU as well as for the Thursday Review Club last year, believes the lighthearted story will be particularly appealing to women.

It has been reviewed by Mrs. Herbert Emory of Dallas in a number of Texas cities this year.

The November review is being held on the first rather than the third Thursday, the usual date. The December review also will be held on the first Thursday, according to Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, project chairman of the Junior Woman's Forum, which sponsors the club.

Halloween week end will find the Knott School campus humming with activity. Every class is working picking cotton, selling cookies or engaging in some other money making job to provide funds to vote for king and queen.

Four students were honored at the coronation which will climax

Ham Patties

Patties made from leftover ham look as good as they taste when you bake them sandwich fashion with golden pineapple slices. Make your favorite ham loaf recipe from ground cooked ham and pat out to a rectangle 3/4-inch thick. Cut into circles with a large biscuit cutter and arrange half of them in the bottom of a shallow baking pan. Drain syrup from canned pineapple, mix with a little mustard and save for basting patties during baking. Top each patty with a slice of pineapple and cover with a second ham patty. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 20 to 40 minutes.

Future Homemakers Of America Plan Observance Of FHA Week

An old adage says we learn to do by doing. The Big Spring Future Homemakers of America are doing just that.

Every day this week—Future Homemakers of America Week—they have planned some special event in observance of the occasion. Today, on Church Day, they will attend church in a body. Monday, Publicity Day, will be noted with pictures representing the different goals in the homemaking program.

On Community Day, Tuesday, they will start collection of outgrown clothing which the chapter will refurbish for Thanksgiving gifts to the needy. On School Day, Wednesday, they will wear some distinguishing FHA badge and on Thursday, Family Day they will plan the family's meals or a fun night. On Friday's Fun Day they will initiate new members and install new officers.

During the week the girls will be working toward the eight goals set forth in the national program of work for 1952. Each goal will be achieved by accomplishing some special activity representing that goal. The goals and their activities are:

1. Accepting and enjoying responsibilities in our homes, represented by individual projects such as planning "a surprise for Mother."
2. Getting along with the family, such as sponsoring story hours for children.
3. Learning new ways of practicing democracy by helping new students become acquainted at school.
4. Stressing the importance of spiritual values in the home by decorating the altar of the local church with flowers.
5. Overcoming prejudices by increasing knowledge of people of other countries, represented by contributing to the World Christmas Festival.

6. Learning to be a leader.

7. Planning recreation to meet the needs of all by planning parties for their families.

8. Encouraging homemaking students to join FHA by placing Teen

The pictures on Page 1 show the Future Homemakers engaged in some activity pointing toward the achievement of these goals. The work is being directed by Mrs. Nancy Annen and Edna McGregor at the High School and Mrs. Roberta Wiley and Bettye Webb at the Junior High.

'Carmen' To Be Presented Here Friday At Auditorium

Celebrating his 50th anniversary as an impresario, Charles L. Wagner will present Bizet's opera, "Carmen," here at the City Auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Big Spring Concert Association.

In addition to this being a jubilee year, the season marks the 13th for the Wagner Grand Opera, which has come to be known as one of the finest touring opera companies.

Mr. Wagner has waited 10 years to produce "Carmen," because of its inherent casting difficulties. Believing that the composer and the librettist knew their work, Mr. Wagner has been faithful to tradition in his casting of "Carmen." He has chosen young singers, who not only sing their roles, but who look them as well. Each member of the ensemble and orchestra is hand-picked.

According to Mrs. Shelby Read, ticket chairman, newcomers to Big Spring may purchase tickets for the three Association presentations by calling her through Thursday. The tickets, $10, dual; $6, single; and $1.50 for children, will not be sold at the door.

SLIM AND SIMPLE

Copeland's Middie Version Makes Good Holiday Dress

Slim is the password for the holiday season and slim is Jo Copeland's interpretation of the new Vogue: the middie.

The dress she wants you to make for your round of festive activities was originally created in a black tissue faille, set off by a scarf of brilliant, oriental brocade.

The bodice is simple and to the point, with straight darts creating the fashionably busty look. A wide diagonal band, buttons across the bosom, for decoration as well as stay for the neck-kerchief.

All in all, this is the typical Copeland look—the look every well dressed woman adores.

You don't have to stick to the original fabric suggestion either; the sky is the limit for choice of materials. May we suggest one of the season's new nubby woolsens or a comfortable wool jersey for the dress, with a taffeta scarf for subtle contradiction in a well-balanced whole.

Pattern No. 1121 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. The dress requires 3 7/8 yds. of 39-inch material for size 12, and the scarf 1 1/8 yds. of 39-inch fabric. To order pattern No. 1121, send $1, Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 535, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y. For air mail handling enclose 25 cents.

To order our new pattern booklet No. VII, send 15 cents.

Installation Banquet Held

Members of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club held their annual installation banquet at the Settles Hotel Thursday evening.

Mrs. Margaret Wooten, past president, conducted the candle-light ceremony.

New officers are Mrs. Johnnie Morrison, president; Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Apple, secretary; Mrs. Myra Broadwell, treasurer.

Mrs. Lina Flewellen gave the invocation and Mrs. Mildred Oreme presented a short skit, "The Treasurer's Report."

The dining tables were decorated with purple satin streamers and centered with arrangements of purple and lavender chrysanthemums. Place cards, which also served as favors, were individual miniature aster corsages.

Gifts were presented the retiring officers and bingo was played by the 28 attending.

SS Class Honors Mrs. Stowe With Surprise Party

Mrs. Warren Stowe was honored with a surprise birthday party by members of the Dorcas Sunday School Class of the Airport Baptist Church immediately following their regular meeting in her home Thursday.

The meeting opened with the group repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison and Mrs. Elizabeth Henley presided. Mrs. Lois Jernigan gave the secretary's report.

Plans were made to entertain members of the Young Married Women's Class with a party at the church Nov. 14 and to have the annual Christmas party Dec. 9 at the church. At the latter, the group will pack a box for a needy family.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. CONRAD JR. AND JOE MACK

Newcomer Collector Of Antique Pitchers

It looked as though Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Conrad Jr. were settled for life.

Their whole world centered around Fort Worth, where they had been high school sweethearts, were married, and where their only child, Joe Mark, 13, was born.

Then bingo — they were transferred to Big Spring by T&P Railroad, the company for which Conrad had worked ever since graduation from high school.

The transfer was doubly hard for Mrs. Conrad. The family had recently bought a home in Fort Worth and the million odd things that must be done to a new home had just been completed.

"I've never been away from my parents before," Mrs. Conrad stated a little sadly. "And it's hard, too, to leave the friends you've made during the years."

The Conrads are adjusting quickly to the tempo of West Texas life, however.

Joe Mark has begun taking guitar lessons and before long will be a full-fledged guitar-playing cowboy. He shares his mother's enthusiasm for oil painting.

Mrs. Conrad also collects antique pitchers.

While living in Fort Worth, she was quite active in the work of the Junior Woman's Club, particularly the gardening and applied arts branches.

The Conrads are members of the Eager Beavers Meet With Mrs. Burnett Friday Afternoon

Members of the Eager Beavers Sewing Club met in the home of Mrs. R. G. Burnett Friday afternoon with Mrs. Neal Bryant, secretary, presiding in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Burnett led the opening prayer, read the scripture and gave a short devotional on "Faith."

Attending were eight members and one guest, Mrs. J. A. Magre. Mrs. Johnny Burns will be the hostess next week and all members are urged to attend as secret pal gifts will be exchanged.

DRESS PARADE

By Jen Wieser

For a club book review Mrs. Odell Womack, a gray-eyed blond, was chic in a red gabardine suit fashioned with a slim skirt and jacket designed with double, rounded lapels. Her black crepe blouse featured beaded detail at the rounded neckline and she wore a feather-trimmed black velvet hat, black suede pumps and gloves and carried a black velvet bag.

Glimpses: Mrs. Gil Jones in a navy suit with a blue and white checked blouse . . . Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper in a two-piece black knit, with narrow horizontal white stripe and a black velvet hat . . . Mrs. Roy Sloan and Mrs. Arnold Marshall, studies in brown . . . Mrs. Ed Fisher in gray plaid wool . . . Mrs. E. P. Driver in one of the new winter cottons looking like wool in black and white check with velveteen collar . . . Mrs. J. W. Maddrey in beige . . . Mrs. James L. Johnson in navy faille dress with full skirt . . . Mrs. C. G. Griffin Jr., in black, with black velveteen wes-

Mrs. Duncan Entertains Bridge Club; WMS Meets

FORSAN, (Sp) — Mrs. G. F. Duncan entertained the Casual Bridge Club in her home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. M. M. Hines won high score and Mrs. J. D. Leonard, a new member, was second high. Binges were won by Mrs. O. W. Scudday and Mrs. James Underwood.

Ten attended, including Mrs. Don Page of Odessa, a guest, and Mrs. Joe T. Holladay, a new member.

Mrs. Jewell White presided at the meeting of the WMS of the Forsan Baptist Church in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Stagner.

Mrs. J. B. Hicks gave the opening prayer, and the Rev. Stagner was in charge of the Bible study on "Women of Destiny" and gave the closing prayer.

Eleven attended. The group will meet next Wednesday for business and visitation day in the home of Mrs. Cliff Fowler.

Bill Kinney taught the Bible study when the women of the Church of Christ met at the church Wednesday for their regular meeting. Eighteen attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby and Albert and Mrs. and Mrs. Sammy Porter had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall of Iraan and Mr. and Mrs. Don McAdams of San Angelo.

Mrs. Louise Stewart visited relatives in San Angelo during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rose of Electra are here with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Monroey. Mr. Rose is a patient in a Big Spring hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Howard were in Abilene Sunday visiting Mrs. Howard's sister. Another sister, Mrs. Ivan Harris, of Seattle, Wash., was also visiting in Abilene.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Everett were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Appling, of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Whitley and family of North Cowden.

A large group of football fans from Forsan attended the Sterling City-Christoval game in Sterling City Thursday night.

Twenty-three young people attended the young people's meeting at the Methodist Church Tuesday night. A film was shown, games were played and a covered dish

Prayer Week Observed By Methodists

FORSAN, (Sp) — Members of the Forsan Methodist Church met Friday afternoon for a week of prayer and self-denial program at the church.

Mrs. L. B. McElrath was in charge and having part of the program were Mrs. R. L. Bowman, Mrs. Lois Smith, Mrs. B. D. Caldwell, Mrs. H. L. Nixon and Mrs. G. T. Baum.

Mrs. Lois O'Ban Smith requests members of the Forsan Study Club to bring to the next meeting Thursday gifts for the friendship box to be sent soon to Austria.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith and children are in Hot Springs, Ark., this week end on a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pye Jr. of Odessa are here for a few days visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pye Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gressett.

Week end guests of Mrs. J. D. Leonard are Mrs. E. H. Hearn, Mrs. and Billie Wels of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgie Bennett have returned from a vacation spent at Brady with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Caldwell of San Angelo are here for the week end with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunn, and Wilma.

Mrs. C. E. Draper was a recent visitor in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wadsworth, who have been in Odessa for a week, have returned home.

New residents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lonsford and daughter, who moved here from Big Spring. He is an employee of Cosden.

Pvt. and Mrs. Bobby Wash arrived here Friday for a 15-day visit with relatives. They are en route from Baltimore, Md., to a base near San Antonio. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wash in Waco before coming here.

Mrs. Albert Crumley and Mrs. Hubert Crumley of Doole visited the C. V. Wash family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blankship were in Clyde Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lee.

When making griddle cakes, many good cooks like to beat the yolks and whites of the eggs separately, then fold the whites into the batter last. This method usually makes the griddle cakes extra fluffy.

Individual Cakes

Little cup cakes can become individual up-side down cakes by simply melting ¼ cup butter or margarine and mix with ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar. Place a tablespoonful in the bottom of cup cake pans, arrange juicy pineapple tidbits in a petal design over the syrup, and spoon in batter and they come from the oven all frosted. There'll be enough topping for 8 cup cakes.

Hamburgers, served with toasted rolls and barbecue sauce, make good eating for the football crowd. To make the barbecue sauce easily, put a cup of chili sauce, a tablespoon of brown sugar, two or three tablespoons of cider vinegar, and some thin onion rings in a saucepan. Simmer the sauce for about five minutes and when you pour it over the hamburgers see that there's an onion ring on each.

B&PW Clubs Offering Fellowship

CHILDRESS (Sp) — Some Texas woman doctor who wants to do research or advanced study has an opportunity to do so—if she can meet the requirements.

The Minnie L. Maffett Fellowship Fund, sponsored by the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., has $2,267.92 to finance some woman physician's advanced work, according to Alyene Ater, Texas Federation president.

The fund was founded at the Federation meeting in Amarillo in 1946. It now totals $29,355.12 of which $2,267.92 is income ready to be used.

The fund honors Dr. Minnie L. Maffett, M.D., of Dallas. She is past state and national president of the B&PW Clubs.

To be eligible the applicant must be a woman graduate of a Texas medical college. In the event there is no such applicant, the fund committee at its discretion may consider a woman who is a bona fide Texas resident and has taken a Ph. D. or M. D. degree from the University of Texas or some other recognized university and who is doing research in a medical field. Applications must be made on forms provided by the Minnie L. Maffett Fellowship Awards committee. These may be obtained from Mrs. Florine Carney, 524 Nashville Ave., Port Arthur. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Cecil Canterbury, Dallas; Mrs. Charley Ward, El Campo; and Mrs. Gladys Walker, Dallas.

Lynda Smith, Kay Mitchell Crowned Carnival Queens

GARDEN CITY, (Sp) — Lynda Smith and Kay Mitchell were crowned queens of the Garden City Halloween Carnival recently in the school auditorium.

Richard Dodd, grade school principal, crowned Lorin McDowell III, king of the grade school and he, in turn, crowned Kay as his queen.

Roscoe Newell, high school principal, placed the crown on Bob Frazzell making him high school king. He, then, crowned Lynda.

Wilburn Bednar served as master of ceremonies and Neta Geiger and Reta Carol Hardy were heralds. Crown bearers were Dean Woodard and Ronnie Poole. The flower girls included Vickie Batte and Barbara Ann Young and Mitz Shirley, pianist, served as accompanist.

Other members of the court were Gall McDaniel, Ray Mason, Margaret Jo Cook, Dickie Edmondson, Mary Beth Boswell, David Harris, Mary Kay England, Bill Allison, Linda Lee Green, Dennis Calverley, Judy Reynolds, Clifford Stephens, Sandy Montgomery, Billy Bowden, Jo Ellen Green, Jimmie Smith, Bertie Mae Robinson, Truett Newell, Gladys Reynolds and Bill Robinson.

An added attraction of the carnival was the fortune-telling booth with Mrs. Zann as the reader.

Members of the FHA served supper in the school lunch room prior to the program.

Members of the Garden City WSCS met at the church Wednesday afternoon for a Week of Prayer Program. Mrs. W. K. Scudday was leader and those giving talks were Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. J. P. Boswell and Mrs. D. W. Parker. Each talk was followed by prayer.

With the use of a seven-candle worship center, Mrs. Tom Ashbill gave a brief description of the incidents that will be aided by the offering taken. Mrs. I. L. Watkins was at the piano as gifts were placed on the altar. The meeting was closed by singing, "An Evening Prayer."

Mrs. O. L. Rich, Mrs. E. M. Teels and Mrs. Velma McDaniel are in Amarillo to attend the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. John Henry Cox returned recently from Vian, Okla., where she had been to visit her new

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Darlene Sneed

The past week has been a busy one with everyone working for the Halloween carnival. Clubs have met to plan their part of the carnival and to select candidates for the apple dunker and the queen. Candidates for the apple dunker were Richard Gilmore, Mark Harwell, Gwendell White, Wayne Glenn and Tommy Porter.

Candidates for the queen were Lynelle Sullivan, Lou Ann Nall, Marie Petty and Darlene Sneed. There were many booths sponsored by different clubs. Some of them were: a picture taking booth, where everyone had his picture made behind a skeleton; a duck booth, where kids pitched a ring at a live duck's neck in a tub of water; a fortune telling booth, a food's booth, and a wishing well. In the apple dunking contest every one was completely amazed when Wayne Glenn, candidate of the engineering club, got six apples out of the tub of water in 21 seconds. Being winner of this event, he was crowned king of the carnival. Marie Petty, candidate of the athletic club, was crowned queen of the festivities.

Casey Jones won first in the free throw contest. Bobby Malnes was second and Jack Lee third.

The faculty members seemed to have as much fun as did the students. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, Charlotte Sullivan, Lynelle Sullivan, George McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brenholtz, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Keese, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Elizabeth Cope, Mack Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Bryant, Miss Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holbert.

Kids having a good time were: Cecil Hoggard, Jack Lee, Casey Jones, Wayne Glenn, Jimmy Wilkerson, Carl Preston, Gerald Feiler, Lyn Mitchell, Nan McGahay, Milburn Hoover, Marie Petty and Lonnie Muse, Jeanette Petty and Dallas Williams, Alice Border and Tommie Porter, Lou Ann Nall and Billy Wayne King, Jackie Jennings and Bobbie Adams, Voncell Rhoton and Glenn Barnes, Billie Sue Blankenship, Bobby Malnes, Sewall and Bob Baker, Darlene Sneed and Jerry Fowler, Jonel West and Jimmy Harris, Mary Stevens, Mark Harwell and Sue Blankenship, Bobby Malnes, Richard Gilmore and Jan Bailey, Don Stevens, Tommy Randolph, Marvin Wise, Rodney Cramer, Floyd Maryin, Gary Warren, Mary Northam, Jo Ann Burns, Sue Love, Cecil Niblett, Billy Mac Shepard, Alfred Thieme, Pat Dillon, Gwendell White, Robert Brown, Bob Hall, Larry Hamilton, Bob De-gramo and Bill Bradford.

BSU members who went to the convention in Dallas are Ben Hitt,

Charles Warren, Shirley Riddle, Frances King, Francys Rick, Jackle Fryar, Delmar Hartin, Weldon Cothran. The BSU has greatly enlarged its membership, anyone who wishes can come to the meetings held every morning from 7:30 to 8.

The Jayhawks scrimmaged the almen from Webb Air Base Thursday night in the gym. Coach Davis stated that the Hawks looked much better. Don Stevens and Casey Jones paced the Jaycees with 16 points each, while Charles Warren made 14 points, Dallas Williams and Bobby Malnes both made 12 points, and Lonnie Muse made 7. More points were spread among 10 other players.

The Lasso Club sponsored a girls basketball game Tuesday night in the gym. The Soapless Six once more beat the Lavettes but barely won with a much tighter squeeze than last week's big win. Marie Petty scored 7 points for the winners; Cecil Niblett, Minnie Ola Woods, and Darlene Sneed all scored 4 points, to make the total score 19 to the Lavettes' 16 points. Bobbie Adams played an outstanding game for the losers by scoring 10 points. Lou Ann Nall scored 4 points and Lynn Mitchell made 2 points.

If anyone happened to hear queer noises in the hall last week, they might be informed that it was the German class learning songs in German. George Hank, instructor, played the uke.

The ping-pong table in the cafeteria has certainly made a big hit with all the students. As soon as the cafeteria is remodeled to serve as a student center, there will be many more games to be enjoyed by the students.

The Lasso Club has met twice this week. On Tuesday members met to plan their part of the carnival. On Thursday they met to plan the assembly which they are to give Nov. 6. Tuesday night the club plans to have a covered dish supper in the cafeteria at 7 to practice for the assembly.

Marie Petty, Lou Ann Nall and Bobbie Adams went to Texas Tech for the homecoming game this week end.

Dr. W. A. Hunt attended a luncheon Wednesday noon honoring J. Evetts Haley, instructor at Texas Tech, at the Settles Hotel. His two new books off the press have been bought for the library. They are "Fort Concho and the Texas Frontier" and "Life on the Texas Range."

Mrs. Dorothy Davis, formerly instructor of the basic training class visited the class Wednesday evening. The class had refreshments. George Hank is the night instructor now.

Two one-act plays will be presented Thursday night, Nov. 6, at 8 in the auditorium. The plays are "The Balcony Scene" and "The Weak Spot." "The Balcony Scene" is a fantasy about a man who goes to his own funeral. Much to his surprise he is not nearly as well liked as he imagined he was. "The Weak Spot" is a comedy play based around superstition. The man of the house in this play does not believe in superstition and his wife is a fanatic on such. These will be good plays and the public is cordially invited out to see them. HC-JC students will be admitted on their activity cards. Adult tickets are 50 cents and students from grade school through high school will be admitted for 25 cents. Tickets may be obtained from almost any college student or in the business office.

Mrs. Pyate Gives Study At Meeting Of Coahoma WMS

COAHOMA (Sp) — The WMS met at the Baptist church for mission study this week with Mrs. C. T. Pyate in charge of the study.

"Scattered Abroad," by E. C. Hutchins presided at a short business meeting and it was agreed to extend the time for packing the boxes for the orphans home until Monday. All are invited to assist with this work and anyone desiring to help is asked to bring or leave the articles at the church. Good used and new clothing are needed and also cosmetics are needed.

Groups Band To Get Out Vote On Tuesday

The "Get-Out-The-Vote" drive gets underway at 4:15 p.m. Monday with a radio program over Station KBST to be climaxed when Scouts distribute Liberty Bell replicas urging voters to cast their ballots on Tuesday.

On election day itself, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has divided the various business districts into square blocks. Jaycees have been assigned to blocks and will canvass all business establishments in the morning urging employers to allow employees time to vote. Later in the afternoon, Jaycees will check each establishment to see if employees did vote.

J. N. Young and Gil Jones are heading up the Boy Scout end of the drive. Bill Cox is chairman of the Jaycee committee.

Young will open Monday afternoon's radio program by introducing Gil Jones, Scout official, who in turn will present Mayor G. W. Dabney, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, president of the Pastors' Association, will also speak.

Representatives of the various political factions will speak briefly urging people to vote. They include Frank Hardesty, chairman of the county Stevenson-Sparkman Committee; Doug Orme, chairman of Democrats for Eisenhower; and Al Dillon, county Republican chairman. Other speakers urging a big voter turnout will be Ray Rhodes, Jaycee president and Mrs. Hayes Stirling, president of the Federated Women's clubs.

At about 4:30 p.m., immediately after a prayer offering by the Rev. Clyde Nichols of the First Christian Church, a Liberty Bell ringing in the background will give Scouts the cue to begin distribution of the Lib-

Price Clinics Schedule Given

Schedule of price clinics to be conducted in this area was announced Saturday by the Lubbock Branch Office of Price Stabilization.

Price Specialist Sam Blake will be in Big Spring Wednesday, Nov. 12. He may be contacted at the Chamber of Commerce office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Blake will be in Lamesa Monday, Nov. 10, and in Colorado City Thursday, Nov. 13.

The OPS pricing official will visit Stanton on Friday, Nov. 28. He may be contacted at the Martin County Chamber of Commerce office between 2 and 4 p.m.

OFFICIAL BALLOT

This is a reproduction of the official ballot that Texas voters will mark on Tuesday. Columns are provided for all parties. You may vote for the candidates of your choice by placing an X in the square beside the name or you may vote for the candidate of your choice in each race by scratching or marking out all other names in that race.

Voters desiring to vote the straight Democratic ticket (first column) may do so by scratching out all other columns and leaving the Democratic column unmarked. To vote a straight Republican ticket, voters may leave unmarked the Republican column (second column) and scratch out all other columns. If the voter wants to vote a split ticket favoring Eisenhower on the Republican column (and not for Stevenson), this may be done by scratching out Stevenson's name in the Democratic column but leaving the remainder of that column unmarked. Then the voter must mark out all other Republican candidates except Eisenhower.

NOTE: One column is missing at the far right of the above reproduction, for lack of space. However, that column is a write-in column where the voter may write in the names of any candidate he or she may desire.

Attention Is Called To Convenant of UN On Human Rights

To The Editor: Recently our attention has been focused on the United Nations and its work. I believe each of its documents should be considered individually and not blindly accepted because of a basic belief in the U.N.

Uppermost in my mind is the International Covenant on Human Rights. This issue was set forth by the universal declaration on Human Rights proclaimed by the U.N. Dec. 10, 1948. This was intended to be only a moral and educational force and not a legal and binding document.

But this declaration is now being converted into a covenant that intends to be a legal force and will become a part of our national law. Prominent lawyers and U. S. Senators believe that this document, if ratified by our Congress, can change our constitution by limiting our Bill of Rights.

In America we hold that our freedoms are God given and not "government" given. This international covenant binds governments to give each citizen the right to have food, health, clothing, housing, medical care, culture, employment and leisure and also to engage its resources to promote such national rights to every individual on earth.

Christian charity cannot be legislated. If we love God we also love our brother, and so loving him we will help him. This can be done by God's help only.

If anyone desires information about this covenant may I suggest you write to Facts Forum in Dallas and to the U. S. State Dept. and U. N. for the various bulletins.

MRS. R. H. MCKENZIE

Voting Issues Are Noted By Writer

To The Editor: We haven't heard this most important truth (and a shame and a disgrace to any free thinking public discussed during this great campaign of ours. The question is, why, the millions of our men and boys and the 50,000 and the 37,000 to be called this month and next want an answer, why everyone (ignorance not questioned is allowed to vote but the convicts, insane and the soldiers.

This was before Congress at one time. Somehow time got by (possibly Truman had a vacation on hand so Congress adjourned, nothing done about it.

Now our men and boys are sorely hurt about it. Of course the insane can't know and the convicts, criminals don't expect such an honor.

people of our great nation, United States of America.

So, women, let us dedicate ourselves to the task of seeing that as many of our women use their God given right, as citizens of a Free nation, to cast their vote in the coming election, Nov. 4th—and thus help to select the men who are to guide our nation for the next four years.

Issue Of Peace Makes Like Best Qualified To Lead The Nation

To The Editor: War merits first consideration in casting vote.

Our net President will inherit a two-and-a-half year old unsolved war. He will find enough weapons in the armed forces of the world to destroy civilization.

Regardless of past events, party affiliation or present temporary status, every voter is charged with the basic and frightful responsibility of electing the man best qualified to conclude war and win peace.

Each voter will act as a judge on the world crisis by the way he casts his vote. He will be directing our history of tomorrow down the road to war and death or peace and life.

Who will he choose for our leader in this world crisis?

Dwight D. Eisenhower has led us to victory in one world war. Under his leadership and administration he has united the people of Western Europe in military and civilian life. He has prepared their defense against Communism.

Dwight D. Eisenhower commands the respect of people all over the world. He is the one man who has a chance to bring sanity into the thinking and into the behavior of men.

behavior of men.

Dwight D. Eisenhower as President of the United States will be guided by those fair principles of human conduct which spring from the heart of a great and sincere man.

The Democratic Party of Texas recognizing the horror of war and feeling its deep moral obligation to the safety of America and to the welfare of its people recommends that every Democrat in Howard County vote and work for the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower for President and Richard Nixon for vice president.

DOUGLAS ORME
Chairman Howard County Texas Democrats for Eisenhower

Predicts Voters Of This County Will Stay With Democrats

Dear Editor: I have been reading with some interest and I must say with some disappointment your attempt in the editorial column of the Herald this week in favor of the Republican party. You and your Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benjamin Franklin Reynolds, have done the best you could under the circumstances to advise us how to vote, but when you read the election returns from Howard County on the night of November 4th, you will conclude that your labor of love was in vain. Four years ago Howard County gave Truman 4,179 votes, Dewey 61, the State Righters 28. Truman received 3,306 more than all the opposition.

The people of this county, except for the drought, are better off than they ever were before; have better homes, better living conditions, better jobs, more financial resources, more security as citizens than we ever had before, and we are not going to give up all that and all the other gains we have made in recent years for a change to something which evidently could be no better for us, but might be worse.

The farmers are, I believe, 90 per cent Democratic, for most of them remember the Hoover days that bankrupted most of them. It is really amusing to hear your Secretary of Agriculture try to make us believe that the Hoover administration was not bad at all, but that it did put us all on a good solid foundation. It did, for we were set on the ground, broke and hopeless until a Democratic administration picked us up and put us on our feet. We would be ungrateful if it was to me, to go back on our friends. In fact we are not going to do it.

The thing that seems to hurt you most is the "mess" in Washington, and the Korean war. Well, the Democrats have been diligent in firing and convicting wrongdoers in office, and they have done it without the help of the Republicans. And while you deplore the "mess" in Washington, you condone the "mess" in California. Sen. Nixon's accepted contribution of more than $18,000 from outside sources for his office, his admission to sending Christmas cards through the mails free his fellow to explain where he got the $21,000 down pay-

Back To School

Some 95 Humble Oil & Refining Company employes will have finished a "Fundamentals of Supervision" course being given in Big Spring when the five-week school is closed. Two classes of 20 men each already have finished the training. Three more groups are to be schooled in supervision techniques in the next three weeks. In the classroom scene above, W. C. Barnes, Abilene, assistant division manager in charge of sales, is offering some pointers. The school is being conducted at the Settles Hotel.

International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, November 29 through December 6. It will be held in the International Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards. Over 11,000 head of the country's top cattle, sheep, swine and horses from 34 states are expected at the show, including grand champions from state and regional shows, to compete for the $100,000 in cash awards, and for the enviable International purple and blue ribbons. The most celebrated bovine animal of the year is the grand champion steer that will be selected on Thursday afternoon of the show. Dr. A. D. Weber of Kansas State College at Manhattan, will again judge all steer classes. This makes his fifth straight year at this job.

Glasscock County has a new agricultural agent. He is 30-year-old Oliver West, graduate of Texas A&M, native of McCamey and veteran of combat in Italy during World War II and a share of the Korean War battles. Previous experience includes 18 months as assistant county agent in Bexar County, and 30 months as Callahan County agent.

He and Mrs. West have a four-year-old daughter. According to the Soil Conservation Service specialists some farmers and ranchers are still planting winter cover crops. They say the small grain, planted on September rain, is all up to a nice stand but that more rain at this time would certainly be helpful. They point out that such cover crops as rye, vetch or peas are fine to prevent blowing, to add organic matter to the soil and to make it easier to work in planting 1953 crops.

The 8,000-cubic yard stock tank now under construction on the D. H. Snyder Ranch, eight miles southeast of Comstock is nearing completion, according to SCS engineering technicians Blacky Morris and Lefty Bethell, who did the layout work and who have been assisting with the construction in an advisory capacity. R. E. Martin, whose ranch adjoins the Snyder Ranch on the north has also improved his stock water facilities. He has fenced out a stock tank, put in an overhead tank and is using a windmill.

Among recent purebred Hereford sales, Winston Brothers of Snyder shipped 16 bulls to Johnson Brothers at Cambray, New Mexico, and 30 bulls to Eugenio Prado, Chihuahua, Mexico. The Johnson Brothers, incidentally, are the men who bought Old Man, sire of Chubby T, from Barney Brooks of San Angelo and took him to New Mexico, a few years ago. After raising a bunch of fine colts from this great old stallion the Johnsons sold him back to a Texas breeder.

J. Lindsey Nunn, former Amarillo cowman, publisher and radio station owner, who moved to Lexington, Kentucky, to raise Herefords in Blue Grass pastures reports the sale of seven bulls to a Florida breeder. Dudley Brothers of Comanche have shipped 20 bulls to Antonio A. Guerrero, also of Chihuahua. Pronger Brothers of Stamford have sold 24 bulls to the U-lazy S Ranch at Post. Roy L. Duke of Abilene has sold 13 heifers to Steve and Nona Nance, also Abilene. Frank and Margaret McCullan of Ozona sold 18 heifers to Sam Beyley of Walnut Springs. J. E. Summerour of Dalhart sold 24 heifers to J. N. Birdwell of Texoma, Oklahoma.

A uniform and bloomy load of Hereford calves from Wyoming emerged as grand champion over all breeds at the annual Omaha Feeder Calf Show at the stockyards there last week. This top load of the show was exhibited by George Mill of Hat Creek, Wyoming. They averaged 408 pounds and sold in groups of five for an average return of $59.67 per hundred. One of the groups of five went at $80.00. A total of 3,285 calves were shown at an average weight of 380 pounds, with an overall average price of $32.14.

What has been called "Agriculture's Greatest Show" will celebrate its 53rd year as plans take shape for the 1952 edition of the

Yet women have stood by their men from the cradle to the cross. A good woman is a jewel of incomparable worth. "If mine heart have been deceived by a woman." — Job 31:9.

Time Approaches For Us To Give A Minute To God And To Nation

The heading on this message is: "One Minute...for God and Nation," And it is as follows:

"This is our minute in time. It may not come again. This our minute to think, not to dream. To speak, not to listen. To lead, not to follow.

"Each of us—you, your family, your friends and neighbors, can... MUST do something to fill this minute with greatness.

"Soon our country will select its leadership for the next few years. It is important that we select wisely. It is important that each of us register a choice by voting. But voting alone is not enough.

"Let's do something more. Because only by 'something more' can our leadership be made truly wise and this minute made great.

"Our duty and our privilege are simple. We need Faith—

"To bring God to the Halls of Government; to restore him to the Councils of Business; to return him to the Front Room of Life. Let's do as wise men of old have always done. Let's spend our minute with God.

"and as we reach for the ballot or the voting machine lever... Let's reach into our hearts and find a prayer. Then truly, this minute... our minute... will be great, that peace and happiness may visit our children."

The Herald is pleased to reprint this message through the courtesy of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, which presented it in advertisements in newspapers and magazines throughout the country. Its merit is bespoken by the fact that there have been thousands of requests for reprints of it.

The Herald feels the timeliness of this appeal — this challenge—justifies its position as an editorial on this day, two days before a day of great decision for America and all Americans.

Ah, yes, to have faith in God, in ourselves, in our fellowmen, and in freedom! With this faith, and with our moment of prayer, our mission will be done.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

Political Scene Could Be Safer With Adhesive Tape On McCarthy's Mouth

By FRED GREENE

Nothing's wrong with politics that can't be cured by some adhesive tape over the mouth of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, a Republican from Wisconsin.

He thinks his diatribes are hurting the Democratic party, but after his outbursts against that party's presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, we must be highly doubtful.

Consider this intelligent remark of McCarthy:

"I do not state that Stevenson was a Communist or a pro-Communist, but I must believe something was wrong somewhere."

Sure something's wrong, but it's wrong with McCarthy.

Regardless of which party a voter favors, we can't help but feel that he or she is far from being so dumb as to believe such a remark.

McCarthy's usual tactic is to label a man a Communist and then sit back without offering any evidence. This he has done many times. Here, however, we find McCarthy admitting Adlai Stevenson is neither a Red nor a pro-Red, but trying to discover that he is simply because he feels Adlai must be a Red inasmuch as the Democratic nominee is not a Republican, apparently.

Furthermore, to assert, as McCarthy did, that Stevenson "would continue the suicidal Kremlin-dictated policies of this nation," is pure bluff.

No Russian dictates American policy. Not even a Briton or a Frenchman.

You, the American voter, decides American policy and Joe McCarthy knows this. But he also knows he will win votes, so his charge.

The Spotlight is not shining any brighter on one candidate as against another, but it does focus its glare on what it believes to be the truth.

The heat generated by this campaign has been intense. No quarter has been given in this, the last week. Both Presidential aspirants, Stevenson and Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower have been traversing the vital "doubtful" states in a last minute effort to corral electoral votes.

Ike has been pounding away on the topic of the Korean war, asserting mismanagement and poor foresight in setting up policy in the Far East on the part of the Democratic administration.

Stevenson has spent his time reminding voters of prosperity under Democratic regimes and deflation under Republicans. Social gains under Democrats have also been stressed by Stevenson.

The race appears close. Stevenson has been picking up considerable ground since the sparring began. Whether he has picked up in these last few days as did President Truman in 1948 is doubtful, but he may have already had sufficient votes to start with despite surveys, pollsters and sample ballots.

A good many people point out, even in surveys, that Ike has been running way ahead of his party in nearly every state. This is a tribute to the general's outstanding personality and to his accomplishments as a soldier.

Many people would vote for Ike on this strength of a personal desire and may have said so to poll takers, but when the chips are down on Tuesday, they will have to vote for the party, too. This may, as a result, cause some quick shifting not attributable to the candidates themselves or to their personalities or speeches. Thus could Ike be the loser.

On the strength of past performances, the Democrats must be favored, but this time they face formidable opposition not just in a party but in a personality. But that Ike smile is a broad one.

For Texans, the intense political fight could force a drastic re-alignment of forces.

Gov. Allan Shivers, Democrat, has led the Texas party in a revolt, urging members to vote for the Republican candidate, Gen. Eisenhower. Most Texas members of Congress, however, are supporting the national party nominee, Gov. Stevenson. Speaker of the U. S. House of Representative Sam Rayburn leads this fight.

The situation is complicated, but the results could bring a powerful Republican party into being in Texas.

Should Ike carry Texas and the nation, it becomes clear that with the Democrats so sorely split the state GOP would be twice as powerful.

Should any of the Texas Democrats for Ike remain on Ike's side to the point of joining the GOP, whether because of adherence to GOP views or because of patronage, that would be just gravy to state Republicans.

As for the Democrats, they are split now and they will remain split so long as Shivers remains governor and Price Daniel stays in the U. S. Senate. As dispensers of patronage to a considerable degree, they are not thought of as party regulars (national variety). Thus, the battle is on between the forces and with both splitting patronage and power, no one can run the whole show.

Certainly, while the degree of Republican power in Texas remains uncertain, they will gain tremendous strength, whether the GOP retains that strength, only time will tell. An opportunity does exist for a strong, balanced two-party setup in Texas.

Korea and the United Nations took a portion of the Spotlight this week when Andre Vishinsky, Russian foreign minister, gave his answer to Dean Acheson's appeal for UN approval of Allied conduct at Panmunjom, site of the truce talks.

Vishinsky put forth a counterproposal, suggesting the formation of a so-called peace commission, composed of the directly interested nations and other to study the question of peace in Korea.

This is not quite what this country desires, but it does appear to effectively put us on the spot. Russia has appealed to the small nations. As one correspondent points out, since the small nations would be trampled in any war, they seek to solve the problem of Korea by any means possible.

Thus, since the Korean struggle involves Russia, these small states figure we might as well bring the Russians into the act openly, rather than have them lurking behind the scenes as is now the case at Panmunjom.

Boiling it all down, one might believe this writer's viewpoint when he says Russia resolves the problem into a question of how the decision shall be reached. No mention of the decision itself. The Kremlin thus drags on the Korean problem, apparently figuring they can out-wait us.

Gov. Stevenson, in a dramatic flight from his campaign train, landed early Friday morning at Chester, Illinois, to personally seek the end of a convict strike at Menard State Prison.

After conferences with officials in the wee hours of the morning, the governor personally directed that an ultimatum be delivered by state aids ordering the rebellious felons to release seven hostages or be stormed by state troops.

The prisoners gave in to the ultimatum, released the hostages and 339 haggard convicts returned to their cells for the first time since Monday afternoon when they rioted.

The Korean war continued to seew back and forth with vital crests being exchanged frequently in bit-UN approval of Allied conduct at

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff A Decision For Eisenhower, And An Explanation For That Course

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

There is no doubt in my mind that Tuesday's election is the most fateful one for this nation for a full generation, possibly for the last two generations.

It is to be hoped that the great mass of the American voters have been able to approach the Tuesday decision with steady judgment. It is unfortunate that the critical issues have been muddied up with some of the dirtiest political tactics ever employed within my memory. Neither side is less guilty than the other. I have been aghast at the Trumanistic phases of the Democratic campaign, and have shuddered at the McCarthyistic phases of the Republican campaign.

My personal decision has been for General Eisenhower. This decision has been based on several factors, covered by such slogans as "time for a change," "do something about Korea," "return to true democratic processes," and the like. Actually, a decision calls for a better analysis than that. I have found what appeals to me as one of the clearest cases for Eisenhower I have seen or heard, and I submit it in this space today as an expression to my own convictions. With such action, I of course, respect the convictions of those who are in disagreement, but I command this as worthy of consideration by any American.

The following is from a column of many days ago by George Sokolsky, one of the ablest analysts of political affairs today.

Now, I have decided to vote for General Eisenhower, not from party loyalty but because there seems to be no alternative position to take.

Let me state my reasons:

1. I believe in the Constitution of the United States as a way of life. The Constitution stipulates a separation of powers and authority between the executive, the legislative and the judicial branches of government.
- It is now clear that Eisenhower, if elected, can find a co-operative majority in Congress, while Stevenson will not have a supporting majority of his own party in Congress. Should Stevenson be elected, the wasteful struggle between the President and Congress, characteristic of the Truman regime, will be continued.
2. I believe in the limitations upon the federal government which are stipulated by the Constitution. Eisenhower has, during the campaign, given every evidence of respecting the rights of the people of each state; Stevenson has indicated a preference for an overpowering central government.
3. I believe that the two-party system has been an inevitable development of American history as a reaction to the dangers from both corruption and tyranny because of prolonged power by one party. The election of Eisenhower will preserve the two-party system; the election of Stevenson will destroy the tradition of two parties and will lead to a multi-party condition, similar to that of France, with splinter blocs replacing the two major organizations. It would add to the national confusion.

4. I oppose the theory of permanent war as a method of solving domestic economic questions. This is not an easy problem to solve for anyone nor do I see any constructive proposals concerning it on either side. But I feel that a new look at the problem is essential and that the Republicans have the advantage, as a party, of not having a vested interest in errors already made in Europe and Asia. On this subject, Eisenhower's approach has been more forthright than Stevenson's.

I am convinced that the participation of Communists, who are Russian agents, in the government of the United States is essentially wrong. Eisenhower has made his position clear as an anti-Communist. I read Stevenson's so-called anti-Communist speech and came away from it distressed because it sounded like a defense of the American Communists and an attack on those who oppose them.

5. Eisenhower may fumble on economic problems but his intention to reduce the budget, to rationalize military expenditures, and to make our defenses more efficient provides hope for a lowering of taxes. Stevenson refuses to meet this problem at all, although it is the crucial one of our lives.

6. Eisenhower's intellectual brilliance appeals to me. Eisenhower's handling of himself under the stress of an altogether new experience in his life, his procedures in binding the wounds of a divided party, his recognition of the political party as a team, his rejection of confusing advice and his psychological adjustments in an extraordinarily difficult campaign give hope for a restoration of government by law, by the Congress and the President co-operating rather than quarreling.

7. I abhor socialism as the road to the enslavement of the individual to the state. As long as Stevenson does not repudiate the socialistic A.D.A., the peril of creeping socialism continues in our country.

The above became a sort of credo for me. Whether you agree or not, I urge you most earnestly to go to the polls Tuesday and do your part in making a most important decision, for our nation today and tomorrow.

Gallup Poll 1952 Election Provides A Ninth Test Of Gallup Polling Methods

PRINCETON, N. M., Nov 1 — Results of the 1952 presidential election will give poll takers a chance to judge the success of many new procedures which have been developed since the last election.

The adverse reaction of some people to polls, immediately following the 1948 election, was due in no small part to the failure of researchers in this field to educate the public on the methods and limitations of public opinion sampling.

In few fields of research has so much progress been made in the short span of 17 years. There are still many unsolved problems, but progress has been made and will continue to be made as a result of each election experience.

While such factors as political machine activity and efficiency affect voting results, poll accuracy can best be measured in terms of how closely the poll results reflect the true division of the popular vote.

In a total of eight national elections these results have deviated from election results by an average of 3 to 4 percentage points. However, in a close election, the error may actually be less than this amount, and the poll may still be on the wrong side.

Obviously, the margin of error inherent in sampling surveys can go either way—that is, it may be plus or minus 3 to 4 percentage points.

As a result of the 1948 election, a number of innovations have been instituted this year.

- 1 — The polling has continued much closer to Election day than in 1948. That year the bulk of the interviewing was concluded 10 to 12 days before the election, thus missing the swing to Truman in the closing days of the campaign.
- This year the bulk of the interviewing will have been completed by Thursday of this week. The final report will be published on Monday in The Herald.
- 2 — This year a more intensive analysis than ever before in history is being made of the persons who are undecided or are unwilling to reveal their choice. They constitute approximately 7 million out of an estimated probable turnout of 55 million.
- Although no proved technique now exists to pre-determine how the undecided or unwilling person will vote, it is possible in 1952 to reveal a great many pertinent facts regarding these silent voters.

Except for the existence of modern polling techniques, no one could know the approximate number of these undecided voters during the campaign and particularly on the eve of the election.

These undecided voters have been analyzed on the basis of their past voting behavior, their educational, economic, religious and other characteristics in order to determine how they may go on Election day.

The final poll report will show how the national vote would stand if the undecided divide 2-to-1 in favor of the Democrats (on the basis of past voting and 3-to-1 in favor of the Democrats (on the basis of other characteristics.

Most of the polling error in 1948 would have been avoided if the undecided had been analyzed with the same care.

- 3 — This year several different systems of sampling have been employed.

Since the 1950 Census figures became available, the "quota" sampling system has been replaced in all sections except the South by "district" sampling. The other two, called "pinpoint sampling" and "time-place sampling," employ principles used in random or probability sampling.

4 — For the first time in polling history, the Institute is testing two different questions on the presidential race.

The one deals with candidates and is similar to those used by virtually all national polling organizations throughout the years.

On the basis of interviewing completed through Oct. 23, this question showed Eisenhower with an edge over Stevenson.

The other deals with party preference, and attempts to eliminate personalities.

Many political analysts feel that a voter's loyalty to his party is often a more important factor in determining his final decision than the popularity of candidates.

On the basis of interviewing completed through Oct. 23 this question showed the Democratic party with an edge over the G.O.P.

The Institute believes that a very useful purpose has been served by testing both barometers simultaneously during the 1952 campaign.

Tuesday's election will test which of the two questions is the more accurate reflection of voter sentiment.

The two question wordings are:

CANDIDATE PREFERENCE — "If the presidential election were being held today, which candidate would you vote for — Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, or Eisenhower, the Republican candidate?"

PARTY PREFERENCE — "If the presidential election were being held today, which POLITICAL PARTY would you like to see win — the Democratic party or the Republican party?"

In addition, the Institute has tested sentiment on a question dealing with the "self-interest" of each voter. This is worded as follows:

Which political party is best for people like yourself — the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

Uncle Ray's Corner

Sunday Talk: About Evangeline

A long and interesting letter has come to me from Mrs. Doris Spaulding. She writes:

"Your account of the Acadians I thoroughly enjoyed, as I do all of your articles. I have spent much time in Louisiana (including the Evangeline country) and thought you might like some further notes.

"At St. Martinville, La., stands a $20,000 bronze statue of Evangeline. The village also contains the original home of Gabriel. The buildings are the same, but many of the furnishings are replicas supplied by the natives.

"Near this is the Bayou Teche, with its water orchids and water lilies. These flowers make a truly beautiful sight. They bloom most of the year, and are so abundant that they leave only a narrow strip of deep green water to be seen. This is the same Bayou Teche up which Evangeline and her party made their way.

"Contrary to Longfellow, the Acadians came down the east coast of North America, and went up the Mississippi River to the inland swamps of Louisiana, where they settled.

"On the banks of the Bayou Teche stands an aged, gnarled, moss-covered oak known as 'Evangeline's Oak.' Also contrary to the poem of Longfellow is the fact that Evangeline found Gabriel to be a husband and father, instead of a dying man. Heartbroken, she turned to the care of the aged and homeless. She filled her life with Good Samaritan work, and the people of the parish call her St. Emily. This brings to mind that her true name was Emily La Biche (pronounced BEESH)."

Thank you, Mrs. Spaulding, for your interesting letter! You make Evangeline seem more real. Her story, as you record it, points a path which others can follow when they suffer sorrow. Many a person in deep sorrow has found comfort by helping others.

Although Longfellow based his story on certain facts, he presented the poem more as a work of fiction than as an exact history of Evangeline and Gabriel.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verse is found in the Gospel.

ST. JOHN 15:7. "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

This is my favorite passage because it answers the heart-hunger of mankind for completeness by promising the Presence and the resources of God's omnipotence. It inspires hope for me in my human weakness and frailty. Moreover, it sets forth a challenging relationship between God and the individual. Here I learn that if I desire God's blessings and resources then I must fulfill certain requirements and conditions. God's promise is conditional upon my willingness to get into the proper environment and spirit to receive and use His blessings. This Divine-human relationship which Jesus described when He said, "I am the vine, ye are the branches," is a stimulus to me to measure up to my part of the contract. It counteracts the laxity and laziness within me when I am tempted to shirk spiritual disciplines. I have tested the promise again and again through the years and I always find that when I do my part God fulfills His promises."

THEY AGREE!

"Thoughtful Americans of both parties, I am sure, want ours to be truly a government of all the people. I hope that both political parties, the press, radio and television and leaders in every field of American life will do their best to impress upon the people their individual responsibility to register and express their preference in the ballot box. I am glad to give my hearty endorsement to The National Non-Partisan Register and Vote Campaign."
Adlai E. Stevenson

"Americans who fail to register and go to the polls actually are voting by default for minority rule. Let no one forget that in every instance in which modern totalitarian rulers have seized power they have done so with minority rather than majority support. I wish every success to The National Non-Partisan Register and Vote Campaign."
Dwight D. Eisenhower

Historical Western

Edmond O'Brien comes to the rescue of Laura Elliot in the above scene from Paramount's "The Denver and Rio Grande," which shows at the Lyric Theatre today and Monday. The movie deals with the fight between D&RG Railway and Canyon City and San Juan Railway for right-of-way over the Rocky Mountains. The struggle leads to murder and finally, a huge head-on collision of two trains.—

Military Musical

Battle Between Railroads Seen In Lyric Film

A battle between two railroad companies for right of way across the Rockies through Colorado's Royal Gorge is staged in the movie, "Denver and Rio Grande," which will show today and Monday at the Lyric Theatre. Edmond O'Brien, Sterling Hayden and Dean Jagger are the main actors in the movie. O'Brien and Hayden play opposing construction bosses for rival railroads. The Technicolor production concerns the fight between Denver and Rio Grande railroad company and the Canyon City and San Juan line. The D&RG actually has a clear-cut right to the pass, but the other line attempts to block that right. Canyon City's boss, Hayden, tries intimidation, vandalism, and finally wholesale murder to block O'Brien and the D&RG. The time is in the 1870's. Authentic 19th century train cars are used in the film. A head-on collision is filmed in the movie for the first time. It cost Paramount $165,000 for the wreck. O'Brien and Hayden have station-by-station battles for the right-of-way, and they finally have a gun battle in which a third man is killed, leading to the wreck. J. Carroll Nash, Zasu Pitts and Laura Elliot are also starred in the movie.

Wartime Intelligence Story Playing Today

"Decision Before Dawn," Twentieth Century-Fox's wartime adventure concerning intelligence work behind the German lines, will be unveiled locally at the State theatre today and Monday. The film stars Richard Basehart, Gary Merrill, Oskar Werner, and Hildegard Neff. Miss Neff and Werner, both Germans, make their entrance into American movies through the picture. Filmed entirely in Western Germany under the direction of Anatole Litvak, the picture deals with a little known World War II episode when German prisoners of war volunteered to spy on their own country for the Allies. The movie shows how the men risked their lives, identities, and futures to bring the war to a speedy conclusion. It also shows what their fellow prisoners did to them upon discovery. Basehart plays an American officer who guides the missions behind enemy lines. Merrill is the intelligence chief who stakes his military career on the success of the spying operation. Werner and Miss Neff are well-known European favorites. Werner is cast as the PW who risks his life for the Allied cause. Miss Neff is a disillusioned young camp follower who helps him. Producer Litvak and company traveled some 2000 miles in the French and American zones of occupation to film the sequences in 18 German cities.

Gold, Love Found In Thursday Film

Richard Arlen hits the jack pot in the movie "Mine with the Iron Door," which shows at the State theatre Thursday. He finds gold and love at the same time. The love interest is furnished by Cecilia Parker. The gold is found after a long search for the lost mine. Story of the movie concerns a man who is swindled by a promoter into buying worthless property. However, when he gets to his land, he learns that it supposedly has a lost mine. After tracing down various clues with the help of a prospector's daughter, he finds the mine. The movie is based on Harold Bell Wright's book of the same name.

Military School Antics Revealed In 'About Face'

The light and pranks side of life in a military academy is the story setting for "About Face," which will be at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The Technicolor production features four talented newcomers and two veterans. Eddie Bracken, comedian, and Gordon MacRae, singer, head the list. Newcomers are Dick Wesson, Virginia Gibson, Phyllis Kirk and Aileen Stanley Jr. "About Face" concerns the antics of three cadets nearing graduation at Southern Military Institute. MacRae and Wesson become involved when they try to help Bracken, who has married against regulations and is about to become a father. Comedy and musical routines are ample in the production. Miss Gibson plays the commandant's daughter who is in love with Wesson. Freshman - upperclassmen relations, breaking rules, military training, and love interest make up the picture. In one scene the ladies are all found in the military barracks. Nine new songs were written for "About Face," and outstanding numbers are rendered by MacRae and Miss Gibson.

Mountain Adventure

Elizabeth Threatt and Dewey Martin minister to co-star Kirk Douglas in the above scene from "The Big Sky," which shows today through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. Douglas has just been wounded by hostile Indians. The picture concerns the adventures of two men who travel into the uncharted wilderness up the Missouri River. Arthur Hunnicutt also has a leading part in the movie.

Love-ly Troubles

Marguerite Chapman avoids the questions of George Brent in the above scene from "Man Bait," which will play at the State Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The movie was released by Lippert Pictures. A musical short, "Swingtime in Mexico," will be shown along with the main feature.

Willie And Joe Back In Action

Bill Mauldin's famous World War II cartoon characters—Willie and Joe—will come to life here on the Ritz Theatre screen Friday and Saturday. This time they will be pictured in a story concerning the Korean War. The movie is entitled "Back at the Front," and it stars Tom Ewell and Harvey Lembeck as Willie and Joe. The movie is a sequel to "Up Front" which was released last year. The story concerns two battle-hardened GIs who are called back into service for Korean duty. The two characters are still "civilian" GIs who try to do things without going through the red tape. It deals with the humorous side of fighting a war.

SHOWING AT RITZ Best-Selling Book Turned Into Film

A little-known chapter of American adventure in the early 1800's will be unfolded in "The Big Sky," which will play today through Tuesday at the Ritz theatre.

The outdoor film drama centers on a fur-trading expedition up the Missouri River from St. Louis—into an unsettled wilderness teeming with Indians.

The picture is based on A. B. Guthrie Jr.'s best-selling novel. The stars are Kirk Douglas, Dewey Martin, Elizabeth Threatt, Arthur Hunnicutt and Buddy Baer.

"The Big Sky" is a Howard Hawks' production. It concerns a pair of restless young Kentuckians (Douglas and Martin) seeking adventure. They want to get out of the hum-drum existence which they have in their "modern" civilization. They journey to St. Louis in search of an uncle (Hunnicutt), who is an old-time mountain man. They find him in a local jail. The three join a fur-trading expedition headed by a Frenchman. Here they meet another huge Frenchman—Baer.

The expedition heads up the river to do trade with the Blackfoot Indians. The men have a daughter of the Blackfoot chief (Miss Threatt) along as a hostage to insure trade.

The task of hauling the 63-foot keelboat upstream, the efforts of rival fur companies to stop the trip, attacks by Indians, and a stormy romance combine to make the picture colorful and adventurous.

Fights between the white men and the Indians are common, with hand-to-hand combat the rule, not the exception.

River sequences for "The Big Sky" where photographed along Snake River in Wyoming's Jackson Hole region. A company of 200 players and technicians spent two months on location to make the realistic scenes.

Miss Threatt, who plays the part of the Blackfoot Indian girl, is actually part Cherokee.

NEW AUTOGRAPH PARTY SOUGHT

Haley's New Book Out-Sells The One About Jeff Milton

JEFF D. MILTON

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS The autograph party honoring West Texas Historian Evetts Haley at the Book Stall on Wednesday resulted in a complete sell out of the Haely historical works, according to Miss Marie McDonald who immediately ordered more copies of his other works and had an additional supply of "Fort Concho and The Texas Frontier" delivered from the El Paso printer, Carl Hertzog.

Miss McDonald says efforts are now being made to arrange for Haley to return for another autograph party later this month.

A survey made of book sales, and a poll made of readers, indicates that up until the recent publishing of "Fort Concho and The Texas Frontier" by the San Angelo Standard-Times, the most popular Haley volume with Big Spring and Howard County readers has been his "Jeff Milton—A Good Man With A Gun" published by the University of Oklahoma Press in 1948 and still a best seller here.

This is the story of one of the best known of the peace officers of the old Southwest, who was born, a son of the Governor of Florida, Nov. 7, 1861, named Jefferson Davis Milton there at the beginning of the Civil War. He died at Tucson, May 7, 1947, after a career that included law enforcement in many fields, and at the end of which he had been able to say: "I never killed a man that didn't need killing; I never shot an animal except for meat."

Old-timers like Lorin McDowell and Shine Phillips, and others, are sure the great appeal of "Jeff Milton—A Good Man With A Gun" is greatly due to the fact that Milton, as a young Texas Ranger, was assigned to Captain Bryan Marsh's company at Hackberry Springs in Mitchell County, about 30 miles east of Signal Peak, or Signal Mountain, near Big Spring.

Milton enlisted in the Rangers at the same time as Will Roberts, 81-year-old father of Mrs. Oscar Martin of the Elm Courts, 1228 West Third, Big Spring, where he now lives with his daughter. Roberts visited Milton in Tucson a few years before the latter's death. "Milton was a fine officer and a fine man," Roberts recalls. "His first man" was a fellow named Patterson at Colorado City, who wanted to be a bad man. Jeff had to kill him."

And many of the old-timers here in Big Spring remember Milton well. While in the Ranger service he was stationed here several times and passed through town frequently in the course of his duties. This was over a period of a few years immediately after the first T&P train had reached Big Spring.

At this time the late John Birdwell, himself an ex-Ranger, frontier marshall, saloon owner and later Howard County sheriff, was operating the Birdwell Hotel on the site where the T&P passenger station now stands. In the Jeff Milton story, Haley relates an amusing incident that took place at the Birdwell Hotel when Milton stopped at the big two-story frame, known variously as the "railroad eating house" for a meal.

"A few years after the railroad was built and the town of Big Spring was started," Haley wrote in the "good man with a gun" biography, "Jeff stopped off at John Birdwell's railroad eating house for dinner. Rabbit stew was the dish of the day. Jeff took one look and declined. The waitress, however, was insistent that he have 'rabbit stew,' as it was 'very nice rabbit stew,' and kept on until his outraged sense of honesty overcame his Southern breeding and he settled the hash by blurting, 'Take it away. I've boiled too many prairie dogs in my time. Their bones are too red for me to eat. Any fool knows that rabbit bones ain't red.'"

"With a delicate sense of the proprieties the waitress took it away, though Jeff was repentant when he noticed that an old lady near by no longer relished her meal." "But," says Miss McDonald, "these two latest books, 'Fort Concho and The Texas Frontier' and 'Life On The Texas Range' are by far out selling anything he has ever written before, and we certainly hope we can get him back for another autograph party real soon. There are so many people who thought he would be here all day Wednesday and who waited until that afternoon to call and see him."

The Book Stall proprietor, who has sold a great many books of many kinds, says it is easy to understand the great interest being shown in these two books. "Life On The Texas Range," is a handsome, boxed volume of 80 old-time range photographs by the late Erwin Smith, cowboy-photographer in West Texas. Haley wrote the accompanying text for it and the lines under the pictures. Another all-Texas project it was produced by the University of Texas Press.

Miss McDonald describes "Fort Concho and The Texas Frontier" as the best and most complete general history of this part of the state that has ever been offered to the public. "We don't want people to get the idea from the title," she says, "that it is just a history of Fort Concho and San Angelo because most decidedly it isn't. The Big Spring for which this city was named, is referred to a number of times in the book, and in the history of West Texas it was really far more important than Fort Concho or any other fort, because it was the only water for many, many miles around. This book is just as much a history of the Big Spring country as it is of Fort Concho, because they were really one in those early days."

And Miss McDonald says that anybody who looks at a copy of "Life On The Texas Range" immediately wants a copy. "It's the most wonderful collection of old-time cowboy pictures in the world," she exclaims, and her enthusiasm isn't just because she sells these books, either. She appreciates fine books, especially when they are made up of fine text, fine illustrations, fine typography and fine binding. And, that's what these two volumes are!

The value placed upon Haley's volumes was recalled by Houston-Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, who was here Wednesday. He said that a book store recently quoted a price of $187.50 for a copy of Haley's "The XIT Ranch Of Texas And The Early Days Of The Llano Estacado" which was published in Chicago in 1929 and which has since been out of print.

ment on his $41,000 Washington home, and his attempt to get Dan S. B. Pickle, the dispenser of the $18,000 fund out of a disonorable gambling and hot checking affair, raises questions about the integrity of the vice presidential candidate. Sen. Nixon told us a lot about his dog in his radio appearance, but we would like to know a great deal more about his "kitty." Your inconsistency is that what you condemn the Democrats is right if the same is done by the Republicans.

As to Korea. We should have gone into Korea with our Allies or we should not have. I believe we are there to save freedom for the free peoples of the world, and I am sure you have the same opinion. And now, to intimate, as the general has done, that there is an easy way out or that he could do the job better is to say that our men and officers in Korea have not done their best for us. Their bravery, their courage, and their sacrifice for us has equalled that of our soldiers who have written in sacrificial blood all of the valorous deeds of the past. We have been unfair to them here if we have done anything to increase their burdens or sacrifices.

Finally, I want to commend to some wavering brethren the example of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon. When he decided he could not support Gen. Eisenhower, he withdrew from the Republican party. That was an honorable and forthright thing to do. There are some about us who should do the same. The Republicans might take them on probation. Respectfully, J. B. Pickle

Bain Named Milk Order Administrator

B. W. Bain, who is now administrator of a federal milk marketing order effective in the North Texas area known as the Dallas-milkshed, will also administer the similar order recently approved by more than 80 per cent of the dairymen in the 26-county West Texas area which includes Big Spring.

Bain's appointment was announced from Washington by the Department of Agriculture. Apparently, however, no date has yet been set for the order to be put into effect. This order will set a minimum price creamery operators must pay the dairy farmer for milk and will also authorize a representative of the dairymen to check butterfat tests, weights and bacteria counts made by the processing plant. Under authority of the order dairymen will also have access to the records to determine what disposition the plants make of the milk, since prices will eventually depend on what use is made of the milk. The order will not have any effect on the retail prices of milk, however, since these are controlled by OPS regulations.

Synopsis: TILlicum HALTED, HEAD HIGH, TESTING A FAMILIAR ODOR, BUT AN ODOR STRANGE TO THE DEEP FOREST. THOUGH SHE HAD BEEN RUNNING FOR HOURS, SHE FELT NO WEARINESS. SHE WAS LIKE A FOREST CREATURE, EVERY SENSE ALERT TO FOLLOW A TRAIL THAT MUST LEAD TO PRINCE ARN OR DEATH!

FOLLOWING THE SCENT UPWIND, SHE COMES TO ITS SOURCE. NIGHT IS FALLING AND THERE IS JUST ENOUGH LIGHT TO SEE A CAMPING PLACE WHERE BOUGHS HAD BEEN LAID DOWN FOR FOUR BEDS. THERE IS THE LINGERING SMELL OF HORSES. NOW THE KIDNAPPERS OF PRINCE ARN ARE MOUNTED!

A TINY SPARK IN THE CAMPFIRE TILlicum FANS AND FEEDS TO A FLAME. THEN SHE BUILDS A BOWER OF SPRUCE BOUGHS IN THE SMOKE, FOR THE MOSQUITOS OF THE NORTHLAND ARE NOT AN ANNOYANCE, THEY ARE A POISONOUS MENACE! HERE SHE SLEEPS, HOARDING HER STRENGTH AS A MISER HOARDS HIS GOLD. SHE IS SCANTILY CLAD NOW AND FOR THIS REASON.....

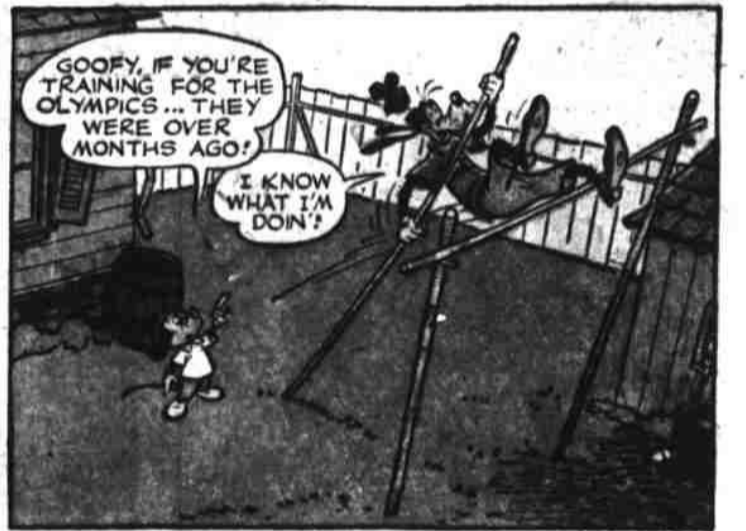

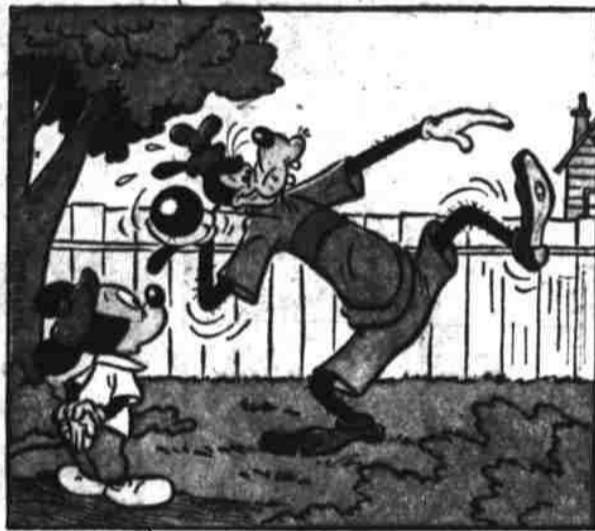

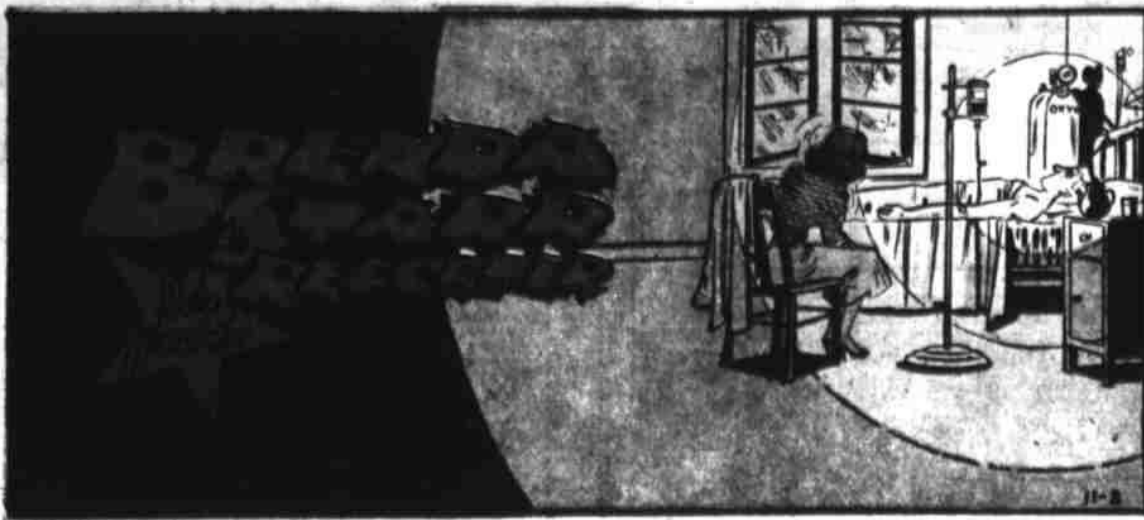

..... AT DAYS END BOLAR, WORRIED OVER THE ABSENCE OF TILlicum AND ARN, CALLS FOR A SEARCH. ARN'S BOW IS FOUND AND, A LITTLE FARTHER ON, TILlicum'S SKIRT! SHE HAS LEFT A TRAIL FOR HER MASTER TO FOLLOW! THROUGH THE LONG NIGHT BOLAR STRIDES ONWARD. WHEN THE EXHAUSTED TORCH BEARERS FALL BACK HE FOLLOWS, BY MOONLIGHT, THE TWIGS SHE HAS BROKEN, THEIR DROOPING LEAVES BREAKING THE RYTHMN OF THE FOREST LIKE SIGNBOARDS!

ACROSS THE BARREN RIDGE THE WAY IS MARKED BY HER HEADBAND, HER BRACELETS, BITS OF CLOTHING.....

AS A VIOLIN IS TUNED TO PITCH, SO IS TILlicum TUNED TO NATURE..... AT THE EXACT MOMENT WHEN THERE IS LIGHT ENOUGH TO FOLLOW THE TRAIL, SHE AWAKES AND SETS OUT, LIGHTLY RUNNING. FOR HER THIS IS DO OR DIE..... BUT SHE DOES NOT THINK IN HEROIC GESTURES, ONLY DO!

IT IS EASY TO FOLLOW THE TRAIL OF FOUR HORSES, AND NOWHERE DOES SHE SEE SIGNS OF THEIR BEING PASTURED. SHE FEEDS ON MUSHROOMS, BERRIES AND FERN ROOTS..... SHE MUST OUTLAST THE HORSES!

DON'T WASH

- JUST SOAK

Dishes soak grease-free in seconds! No washing is needed. If a bit of food clings, a touch of the dish-cloth gets it off. There's no greasy dishwater with Vel -- no ring around the pan!

DON'T WIPE

- JUST RINSE

Vel just soak and rinse. Dishes dry streak-free without wiping! Even heavy grease in pots and pans is so completely dissolved no hard scouring is needed!

No "detergent burn" to hands with Vel

PROVE IT YOURSELF -- THIS "HAND-HEAT TEST" SHOWS WHY.

Dip hands in water. Then put a tablespoonful of any leading laundry detergent in one hand -- put a tablespoonful of VEL in the other.

FEEL THE HEAT

FROM LEADING DETERGENTS, INDICATING PRESENCE OF IRRITATING ALKALIS AND LAUNDRY CHEMICALS THAT CAUSE "DETERGENT BURN"

FEEL NO HEAT

WITH VEL BECAUSE VEL CONTAINS NO IRRITATING ALKALIS OR HARSH LAUNDRY CHEMICALS TO CAUSE "DETERGENT BURN"

VEL CUTS GREASE BETTER THAN ANY LIQUID DETERGENT... ANY SOAP!

Yes! Package for package, Vel cuts grease better than the leading laundry detergent, liquid detergents or soaps. Compare Vel in your dishpan... on your hands.

MarVELous for dishes and finest fabrics!
