1. Adoption of Amendment No. 6 would make it possible for certain state agencies now under constitutional restrictions establishing maximum interest-mate limits to provide for higher interest rates on future bond issues thereby allowing the bonds to compete for sale on the open market on even footing with bonds issued by other entities. 2. Failure to adopt Amendment No. 6 would cause many major state programs to be curtailed or discontinued due to a lack of funds. Among these programs are the Texas Opportunity Plan, which provides student loans enabling many young Texons to attend college, and the with an adequate water supply for the next 50 years. Against:

1. Removing the constitutional limit on maximum interest rates for bonds issued by certain public agencies would allow those agencies to provide higher interest rates on future bond issues which, in turn, would require increased tax revenues from Texas citizens to pay the added interest meht No. 6 would encourage the state through its various agencies to rely even more on creating bonded indebtedness as a means of financing future ing needs.

2. Many of the employees who are within the scope of this amendment are employed by cities or counties. This cost might more than appropristely be borne by local political subdivisions.

The demand and need for student loans is great and in addition, a cutback is expected in the amount of federal funds available. The federal cutback will increase the states' burden. Belknap is about 70 miles from Ranger, where I live.

He'd say, "Pas pa golla" Do you remember where we lived in Texas? Pas pa Golla always said yes, although he didn't really remember too much. Well one day I was on my way to the Fort and I stopped by this little creek to water my horse and while my horse was drinking, I saw a well dressed, tough looking stranger (to these parts of the country) stop up the creek and water his horse. After the horse drank and the stranger had washed his hands and face in the muddy creek, he took the saddle bags off the horse. There was a shovel tied to the saddle, he untied the shovel and took several big steps from the creek, near a peppendular rock he dug a hole, then he took a kettle and emptied the saddle bags in the kettle, he then put the kettle in the hole and filled the dirt in and packed it down. The stranger walked over to the left about 50 or 60 feet and a iron rod about 21/2 to 3 foot long and drove it in the ground beside the kettle he buried, he then spread dry grass and sticks over the freshly dug dirt and built a fire, made himself some coffee, let the fire die out while he lay near by on a saddle blanket. When the fire had gone out, he headed north-east looking back only once.

I waited until I was sure he wasn't coming back then the ashes was cold. I dug with a stick and my hands. I found that it was a copper kettle filled with gold money. I emptied the kettle of gold coins on the ground and played with them. Then I counted them and put them all back in the kettle and reburied it.

I didn't want the gold, Indians (at least the Sioux)) believe gold belongs to the gods and is sacred, and it's still there. I saw with my own eyes. Pas pa Golla told me his father taught him gold was

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in Dallas, Amarillo, Denton, and some 30 other Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma cities.

This professionally conducted course boasts nearly 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in this area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

At these free one hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attend-

Dear Editor. Just a few lines to say "Hello" to everyone.

I am stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas with the 8th CTV Unit. September 5, I will be entering drill instructor school at Fort Polk, Louisiana. Then I will be training troops at Eastland Fort Polk

Our training here consists of night infiltration and close combat training. Well, I guess that's all for now, but I'll write again as soon as possible. Sincerely yours, John W. Daniel.
