Senator Patton To Offer New Bill

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 4.—A bill to curb the political activities of state employees and to provide for the election of a state auditor, Senator Patton, who recently was defeated for the nomination for state railroad commissioner, charged that employees of the commission have been guilty of political activity. He said that campaign literature in behalf of election of commissioner Pat M. Neff was carried by state employees on official trips through the state. Patton charged also that Neff placards were placed on state vehicles.

"I tore some of them off, myself," said Patton. Details of his proposed bill have not been worked out but Senator Patton indicated that it will likely be in the form of requiring an affidavit from employees that they have not participated in the campaigning while on state expense, before expense vouchers will be issued.

PEIPING, China, Aug. 4.—The city of Changsha, which was captured by a pillaging horde of bandits and communistic groups last week, was shelled by a Chinese gunboat today.

Several casualties were suffered by the native civilian population, but their extent was not revealed in advices here.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4.—Nanchang, capital of the Kiangsi province, was being evacuated rapidly today as reports of the approach of southern Chinese brigands reached the city.

It was feared the citys fall was imminent and all available forces were lined up to resist the attack.

The tension that developed at Hankow, north of Nanchang and Changsha, when reports reached there that bandits were advancing northward, was lessened with the arrival of a national government division to strengthen the city's defense.

First Juvenile Gun Battle Is Fought, Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Chicago's first juvenile gang battle was held on the west side, there were three casualties.

The victims were Sam Sharsena, 6, shot through the leg; Billie Korkoras, 8, shot through the thigh and Florence Mollere, 15, shot through the right foot.

It began as a free for all fist fight, in which Louise Hoda, 11, and Albert Blach, 7, were the winners. Teddy and John Obaza, 14 and 12, the losers.

Badly beaten, Teddy and John retreated down an alley. Sam, Billie, Florence and other witnesses gathered around Louis and Albert to congratulate them for their victory.

Teddy and John returned. Teddy brought a 22 calibre rifle, almost as tall as himself. John brought the bullets and handed them to Teddy who, reclining on one knee, fired into the group. Sam, Billie and Florence fell and were taken to a hospital. Teddy and John were captured later and taken to the juvenile detention home.

Supporters Of Ross Sterling Meet In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 4.—Several hundred supporters of Ross Sterling gathered here today from over the state to acclaim his merits as gubernatorial funder and exhortate the possibilities of a return to Fergusonism.

Honesty in government and defeat of the policies which marked former Ferguson administrations were defined as the keynote on which the Houston millionaire publisher will seek to defeat Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in the run-off election for nomination as governor.

Gov. Dan Moody was present to plead the cause of his personal friend.

State Senator Walter Woodward, who was elected chairman of the meeting, gave a typical address in sounding a call to arms for the Sterling supporters to carry a message of facts to the people and to compare the years of Fergusonism with those of Moody's administration.

"Elect Sterling and you will have a continuation of honest government," Woodward said. "He is a man of vision, a business man. I know the honest people will arise in this election and down Fergusonism forever."

Moody was scheduled to speak in the afternoon, but so insistent became the cries for him that he finally took the platform. He was applauded vociferously throughout his denunciations of the Ferguson administration.

"This fight is a contest between decency and indecency, between right and wrong," Moody declared. "I have never talked with Sterling about regulation of public utilities and don't know what he thinks about it."

"I don't know and don't care what he thinks about taxation or the prison system, because I know where he stands on the question of honesty."

"It is not a question of issuing state road bonds, but a question of whether Texas will have to hang its head in shame with the return of Fergusonism. There's no secret about it if she's elected, Ferguson expects to fill the chair. With one word he can accept me as a lawyer, while with the other he can point where his wife is to sign."

Many members of the legislature and leaders in campaigns for defeated candidates in the first primary were in the audience.

Tom Ball of Houston, who was defeated for the democratic nomination for governor in 1914, when Ferguson was swept into the office compared the purity of Sterling to that of Sul Ross and his militant spirit to that of Jim Hogg.

Mark McGee of Fort Worth, campaign manager for Earle B. Mayfield and adjutant general under Mrs. Ferguson, said in an address: "No matter how much I might oppose the road bond issue, I would rather have it than to have 2,000 convicts pardoned and turned back into the channels of society. If Mrs. Ferguson is elected, I will throw us back in the turmoil of six years ago. This is a fight, not with arms, but with ballots."

Oddities In The News of Today

TEXARKANA, Tex., Aug. 4.—Gus Kennedy, shoe merchant, today confessed bribed hands and knees and wondered why he waded on the vagaries of a prospective oil well. He began last night to crawl from there to the Lenz-Johnson well, 16 miles eastward, as payment for his professional lack of faith in the hole before oil began to flow. Pat Crowe, a painter with whom he bet the well would never produce, demanded payment. Kennedy, a brother of the Texarkana mayor, planned to stop at sunrise and escape the burning heat rays, and expected to complete the laborious trek Thursday night.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 4.—Court authorities were thumping dusty law books today to learn if they could extradite "Jiggers," Mrs. Dora Gulkers fox terrier, and bring him back to New Jersey to face a death sentence.

After Mrs. Marie Protowando had told the court how Jiggers ran out of the Gulkers yard and bit her several times, Mrs. Gulkers was given until 10:30 a. m. yesterday to destroy the terrier. If not killed by Jiggers was to be shot by the police.

But when an officer called at the home to learn if the law's penalty had been carried out, he learned Jiggers and his mistress had gone to New York and did not expect to come back soon.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Dave Barry, who referees the Dempsey-Turney prize fight in Chicago, took a long count himself today. Two policemen discovered Barry sitting with a girl friend in a parked automobile, without lights. They ordered him out of the car, searched him. He objected. They took him to jail.

Barry objected further and more strenuously at the police station. A former prize fighter himself, he aimed a blow at officer John Bowman, who ducked it and swung one back with better results.

"Was it a very long count?" asked a grinning reporter who attended the Dempsey-Turney affair. "Pretty long," was Bowman's answer.

TURON, Kas., Aug. 4.—Deputy Sheriff Hans Pederson thought it funny when he found a new lock placed on the city jail which he had not had an occupant for years. He investigated and found someone had confiscated the jail as a storage room for 50 gallons of wine.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Ted S. Lundgren, an equipment inventor, prepared to take off today for New York, where he will leave Friday with Roger C. Williams on an attempted 15-day flight around the world. One leg of the proposed journey, from Tokyo to Seattle, will be 4900 nautical miles.

The first leg of the flight will be from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, to Berlin, a distance of 3,675 nautical miles, chiefly across water. This was the route followed by Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine in the monoplane Columbia. From Berlin the airman plan to fly to Omsk, Siberia, then to Tokyo, across the Pacific to Seattle, and thence to New York. The long Tokyo-Seattle leg will be by way of the Aleutian Islands.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 4.—The German fliers—Ascan Weller and Wolf Hirth—decided today to abandon their proposed flight from Berlin to the United States.

The fliers had successfully flown to England, Scotland and then to Iceland, preparatory to continuing to Greenland and America. Hirth and Weller flew here last night from Kalskadnes. It was reported they would dismantle their plane and ship it to the United States on the steamer Minnedosa.

C. E. Robinson Is Early Arrival For Ex-Rangers Meet

C. E. Robinson, an ex-member of that body of picturesque Texas pioneers known as Texas Rangers, arrived in Eastland today from his home in Oakland, California, more than 2,000 miles away, to attend the eleventh annual reunion of the Ex-Rangers' association, which will convene here Wednesday for a three day meeting.

Robinson saw eight years' service as a Ranger. He served as a member of Company B under Capt. James Peat, and as a member of Company E under Lieut. Neville; and Company A under Capt. Geo. W. Bailey.

No sooner had he hit Texas soil until the memory of past events began crowding into his mind, becoming more vivid as he saw again the scenes of many of them, Mr. Robinson said.

Mr. Robinson was a member of the band of Rangers who guarded the camps of the workers engaged in building the Texas & Pacific railroad through this section of the state. He was also stationed at Colorado City at the time Bill Patterson, a wealthy cattleman of that section was causing considerable trouble there.

Dick Ware, a Texas Ranger, defeated Patterson for sheriff at Colorado. He apparently had it in for the Ranger and he and his cowboys frequently rode into the town and "shot-up" things, Robinson said. Six Rangers were stationed at Colorado City to help keep the peace. Patterson's guns on them were the town one night and shooting at some of the Rangers, was shot and killed by some of the Rangers," Robinson recalled.

Following the killing of Patterson an examining trial was being held before a Justice of the Peace. The town one night and shooting at some of the Rangers, was shot and killed by some of the Rangers," Robinson recalled.

Earthquake Near Caspian Sea Kills 500 Is Reported

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Reports of a severe earthquake on the northeast shores of the Caspian Sea were received here today, the Morning Post reported 600 killed and 4,000 injured, and great devastation in the towns of Tchapaev and Vritsky. Two hundred houses and a church were destroyed in the former town, the advices said, and the bodies of 30 children were recovered from the ruins of the children's home. The river Ural broke its banks and flooded the town.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Two earthquake shocks, described as "rather more violent than the Italian ones" were recorded by the seismograph at Fordham University at 1:12 a. m. and 1:19 a. m. D. S. T. today.

The distance was about 3,000 miles from New York, according to university officials, and the location of the shocks was probably in South Central America.

Weather And Crops

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A new heat wave, as intense as those of unprecedented daily series, gripped the midwest today, causing intense suffering and millions of dollars damage to crops.

Scores of prostrations were reported from widely separated localities where temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were common. Wilted crops were further damed up by the sultry winds, a merciless sun and continued drought. Agricultural experts said rain and cooler weather must arrive soon or all but a fraction of the corn and late grain crops will be lost at that damage already was unestimable.

The almost unprecedented dry spell brought another hazard—forest fires—to Michigan, Montana and Idaho, where volunteers and forest rangers fought large timber blazes. It was feared the situation would be aggravated by lack of rain.

Electrical storms completed the havoc wrought by nature when considerable damage was done in the power and communication lines were put out of commission.

Agricultural authorities said grains throughout the entire midwest have been damaged by the drought. Wheat and oats crops have been prevented from "filling out" because the stalks have been dried up and thousands of acres of growing corn have been wilted, they said.

The dry spell is entering its fourth week in many areas and pastures have been so dried out as to lower butter and cream production to a great extent. There has been no rain for 77 days within a 100 mile radius of Memphis, Tenn., where $25,000,000 crop damage was reported.

Serious water shortages also were reported in several states today as the present heat wave went into its third day. Wells, springs and small streams were said to be drying up in eastern Iowa, where no rain had fallen since July 4. Cedar Rapids, in the center of that area, had a temperature of 108 yesterday.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—Gettysburg housewives today faced the first Monday in years they will not devote to the family laundry, because the water supply is so near exhaustion from the prolonged dry spell authorities have issued orders to disperse with the washing until an emergency source could be tapped.

GALLUP, N. M., Aug. 4.—Gallup today took stock of damage done by flood waters that covered a large area of the city after a cloudburst Sunday. Basements of business houses were flooded, damaging stocks of merchandise. In the residential district in the lower part of town household goods in some homes suffered and pavements were torn out. Although there was no loss of life, the flood was the most serious in the history of Gallup.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Local showers in various sections of the east tonight may afford temporary relief from drought and heat, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported. Western New York, New England, Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and West Virginia.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Farmers of drought stricken Ohio gazed heavenward in vain today as fair skies and scorching temperatures blasted their hopes for rain. Millions of dollars' crop damage has been caused thus far by the dry spell which pioneers describe as the worst in fifty years. Rainfall in the state as a whole, has been 7 inches below normal.

Similar conditions prevailed in Kentucky and West Virginia. Pastures in most sections of Ohio have been burned so severely that the cattle are dying. Creeks and small lakes have dried up and rivers are at the lowest stage in twenty years.

ADD WEATHER AND CROPS.—TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 4.—Not since the great grasshopper plagues or the hot, dry winds when Kansas prairies were unbroken has Kansas experienced worse crop growing days than during the current record heat and drought, old timers agreed today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Anyone in Chevy Chase, Md., with a green lawn is under suspicion of being a scowfall now. Owing to drought conditions, sprinkling of lawns has been forbidden for two weeks. Residents whose lawns show up green, however, are suspected of secretly watering their gardens hose at night. Police patrol the suburb daily for

Ex-Rangers Are Arriving For State Meeting

Plans were nearing completion today for the opening here Wednesday of the three-day annual Texas Ex-Rangers' association, which promises to be the most largely attended meeting the association has held in recent years. C. E. Roberson, of Oakland, California, an ex-ranger, arrived in Eastland this morning and is perhaps the most member of that body to arrive for the convention.

Stuart N. Lako, nationally known magazine writer, who contributes articles to the Saturday Evening Post and other well known publications, is here to write articles about the Ex-Rangers. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram will have a staff correspondent here to cover the convention and possibly other daily papers over the state will send men here. The Associated Press, one of the largest news gathering agencies of the nation will have a representative here to cover the convention.

The unveiling of the monument to Jesse Washington Harbin, Eastland county pioneer and veteran of three wars, will be a feature of the convention, and will take place on Thursday afternoon, the last day of the convention, at the Eastland cemetery.

The program arranged for the Harbin monument unveiling will include announcements by Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Board of City Development; prayer and remarks by Judge J. D. Barker of Cisco; remarks by Judge Carl Springer; and remarks by Judge C. L. Garrison. Talks will be sounded by the Boy Scout bugle

Capt. Jack Evans Is Coffin Lying Champion Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 4.—Consider the plight of Captain Jack Evans, who lays claim to the coffin lying championship.

Although the captain has broken his own record for lying in a coffin, in an amusement park here, his backers refuse to allow him to be dug up until certain financial details are settled.

This is no laughing matter. Captain Jack has been underground without real food for seven days and a couple of hours. Signals from the champion to those six feet above him are that he wants to come up.

But here is where the matter of a contract come in. One of the park owners insists on 35 per cent of the receipts and unless he gets his money, he says he'll refuse to allow the grave diggers to turn a spade.

Charles Hudspeth, assistant to Captain Evans, was almost driven to tears and punches. Communicating with Evans through the ventilator shaft, Hudspeth yelled: "Hey, we won't get enough out of this for new suits. I'm going to ask visitors to donate 50 cents to see you dug up and the park will get nothing, see."

"Get me out of here without so much argument," answered Evans. "Make it a quarter, times are hard and most of them up there haven't got a half dollar."

All was settled then and the crowd began to pay quarters to see Captain Evans arrested. When the park officials arrived on the scene, there was an uproar. They roared in chorus: "We want our 35 per cent."

"Nix," said Hudspeth. Fists began to fly. Somebody called policeman Fred Moore. Moore is a diplomat, he suggested they dig Evans up and argue afterward. The combatants agreed to let Moore hold the money and Evans was brought to earth or from the earth.

When the captain was uncovered he was a sorry sight. His cheeks were sunken. He had a week's growth on his chin. His eyes were almost popping from their sockets. He had a glass of water, thanked the crowd and then collapsed. Eager hands helped him to a bed. Then the park owners and Hudspeth adjourned for further argument over division of the receipts.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 4.—With August normally the hottest month of the year in Texas, the state can hope for no immediate relief from the unusual heat prevalent in most sections for more than a month, Dr. J. L. Cline, government meteorologist, said today. "We can just be thankful Texas temperatures have not as a rule been as exorbitant as they have in other states," was Cline's only proffered comfort. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 4.—Rain is necessary within ten days if Oklahoma's cotton crop escapes serious reduction in production, Harry Cordell, president of the state board of agriculture, said today. "The crop has withstood a five week drought but it is now suffering acutely. Corn and other crops such as sorghum have been injured seriously," Cordell said. WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A major catastrophe is threatening the drought stricken farm areas east of the Mississippi River unless there is rain within ten days, Louis J. Staber, master of the National Grange, told President Hoover at the White House today. Staber urged the government to consider measures to aid in the situation. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 4.—A water shortage was threatened in sections of Arkansas today as streams reached their lowest levels in years as a result of a 74 day drought. State agricultural authorities estimated crop damage due to the drought was being increased by hundreds of thousands of dollars every day. ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Drought conditions in eastern Missouri and southern Illinois, the worst in years, have forced many farmers to slaughter livestock due to water shortage, it was learned at the national stock yard today. In some section, water for stock has had to be hauled miles by automobile. Beekeepers have reported bees have either remained in hives, consuming honey, or, unable to find flowers nearby due to the drought, have traveled so far seeking pollen many have failed to return.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Many regions of France were damaged last night and early today by storms that struck the fashionable channel coast resorts with cyclonic force. Heavy rain also caused damage in Paris and the storm was the most severe in the south since last year's flood disaster. "This is a 'silk stocking' district, I am told, but there is plenty of rayon still in the country," it is only one block from the hopeless crops milling around the employment agencies on Sixth Avenue to the big houses and hotels of Fifth. By now voters ought to know that the only difference between a Republican and Democrat is that one is in office and the other wants to be. "I don't see where I am going to get a chance this time to talk against prohibition because all the candidates in this district are wet."

MARYSVILLE, O., Aug. 4.—Henry Ford's penchant for things primordial and E. H. Creviston's "yen" for salesmanship combined to place another exhibit in the well-stocked Ford museum at Dearborn. Aware that the old horse who used to gaze through the display windows of the harness shop is now as rare as the cigar store Indian, Creviston became convinced Ford should preserve this remnant of another era for posterity. A canvass of Maryville's saddlery stores revealed one survivor who had gazed upon the town's passerbys for more than 40 years. Creviston promptly "unhitched" the animal and "stabled" it in his own back yard until he could secure a purchaser. Museum officials were skeptical of Creviston's offer, suspecting the steed was a saw-horse, and demanded a picture. Supplied pictures erased all suspicions and the horse was ordered on its last journey. Old Mountaineer Tried For Murder (Continued from page 1) LURAY, Va., Aug. 4.—"Uncle Jake" Cabbage, 80 year old mountaineer patriarch, went on trial for his life today, with his attorneys pleading self-defense in the killing of Fred Cabbage, the old man's 19 year old grandson.

Another Hit-and-Run Driver!

All of the Cabbages from miles around, some of them wearing shoes for the first time in their lives, were in the ancient mountain courtroom when the trial began. One of the oldest of the Blue Ridge clans, they have become divided against themselves as a result of the slaying.

Young Cabbage was shot to death on June 8 near the old man's cabin in Cabbage Hollow. "Uncle Jake," who has been in jail since, was indicted on a first degree murder charge last Monday. Commonwealth's attorney S. L. Walton has asserted he will press for the death penalty.

Defense attorneys indicated before the trial began today that the old man will be his own chief witness. They expect him to relate a vivid story of hill billies, clans and the mountain code which "Uncle Jake" says, the boy violated when he defied his grand father's orders. "Uncle Jake" has insisted he shot the boy because "he wouldn't be no himself." He says young Fred threatened to attack him because of a reprimand. Witnesses to the shooting are quoted as saying the boy raised his hand as if to strike after the old man ordered him off his premises.

Heywood Brown Is Out For Congress

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Heywood Brown, author and newspaper columnist, has announced his candidacy for representative in congress on the Socialist ticket from the 17th district of Manhattan. Brown will oppose the incumbent, Ruth B. Brody, Democratic candidate in one of New York's "silk stocking" districts, which includes Park Avenue.

Unemployment will be Brown's chief campaign issue, he said in a statement announcing his acceptance of the Socialist designation. "I think it will give me a chance to call attention to the fact of unemployment and the basis remedies which must be applied to relieve it," Brown said.

As for President Hoover, everybody knows that when the people ask him for bread he gave them proclamations. Perhaps they would have done better if they had pretended they were Belgians. "This is a 'silk stocking' district, I am told, but there is plenty of rayon still in the country," it is only one block from the hopeless crops milling around the employment agencies on Sixth Avenue to the big houses and hotels of Fifth.

By now voters ought to know that the only difference between a Republican and Democrat is that one is in office and the other wants to be. "I don't see where I am going to get a chance this time to talk against prohibition because all the candidates in this district are wet."

Mears and Brown In Smashup, To Try Again Soon

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Aug. 4.—John Henry Mears, whose swift plane was shattered yesterday on the take-off for the second leg of a projected around the world flight, expects to try again soon.

If the veteran globe-trotter's backers are willing, he said today, another ship will be fitted for the venture and a new attempt will be made to capture the speed record for encircling the earth—a record which Mears held twice and which now rests with the Graf Zeppelin. In the crash yesterday, which occurred just before dawn as the airplane "City of New York" was taking off for Dublin, Mears and his pilot, Henry J. Brown, escaped with minor injuries, but the plane was wrecked as it blew a tire and swerved into the stones at the side of the runway.

"Downhearted?" Mears said after the accident. "Not a little bit. These happenings and incidents are inseparable from the game of aerial adventure." Mears' chief concern, outside his plane, appeared to be the whereabouts of his terrific mascot, Tailwind II, which disappeared after the crash. Searching parties were sent to look for the dog. Mears and Brown left Roosevelt Field, L. I., at dawn Saturday for Harbor Grace where they landed at 4:20 p. m., making the 1,100 miles at an average of about 115 miles an hour.

Court Recesses In Billings Case

By GEORGE D. CRISSEY United Press Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The California Supreme Court laid aside the "re-trial" of Warren K. Billings today when Gov. C. C. Young might review evidence on which Thomas J. Mooney was convicted of complicity in the San Francisco bombing, July 22, 1916. Although the two men were convicted for the same crime, it is necessary that their cases be reviewed in a different manner in settling petitions for pardons.

The court must act for Billings because he was previously convicted while the governor has the power to free Mooney. The Supreme Court hearing resulted in many strange and conflicting stories coming to light and resulted in a placing into the record the testimony of two repudiated witnesses who testified against Billings in 1916. John MacDonald, one of the reconting witnesses, occupies an important position in the hearing before Gov. Young, to open in Sacramento late today. He will declare again that identification of Billings and Mooney as the dynamiters of a Preparedness Day parade here was false. The other reputation witness, Estelle Smith, will not testify at the Mooney hearing because she was used as a witness in the Billings case only during the dynamiting trials. Estelle Smith, however, furnished an alibi for both Billings and Mooney during her appearance before the court with the result that Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Mooney, announced he would seek an entire new trial for his client. The two reputation witnesses added little to the known facts in the case and, in the opinion of the court, created still greater confusion in the fight of the pair for freedom from the prison cells where they have spent almost 14 years.

NCE UPON A TIME-

Mooney's strategy is that the probability for a pardon was brighter should the court ignore MacDonald's trial testimony and his reputation also.

The Sacramento session which will be attended by the governor and members of his pardon advisory board, will be brief one. Attorneys hope the hearing will remain in session until late tonight and that MacDonald be permitted to complete his testimony before adjournment. The plan is to conclude the hearing sometime tonight.

Monday the Supreme Court will resume its deliberations.

Eastland County Club Boy Tells Of A. & M. Trip

By ABB FOX EASTLAND, Aug. 4.—If you were to walk into the local county agent's office, you would see something that would, or should be, interesting to the citizens of Eastland county. Since the return of J. C. Patterson and his merry band of short course boys and girls, there will be on display several blue ribbons and others, won by our own agent in an all-state news writing contest, which is more than was won by any other county agent in Texas for all of which we should be proud. I believe that every individual who made the 1530 A. & M. short course trip will readily agree with me that our own agent's planned things so well that there is no comparison of their ability at this work and that of other agents with whom we came in contact while on the trip, or if we had had to choose one to sponsor the trip it would have been only a matter of a few seconds in agreement upon Mr. Patterson and Miss Ramey. I sincerely believe that all will join me in extending them our congratulations. Everyone was more than pleased with our own trip. It is impossible to tell of the many prizes we participated in and the many interesting places we visited. One thing we are proud of is the Eastland county club boys ball team, led by its spirited young captain, J. D. Thomas, who made a record hard to surpass, after announcing a challenge to any club team in the state the challenge was accepted by many good ones. The results were: Eastland 13, Hall Co. 4; East-

Chestnut & Smith And Jake Hamon Win Tournament

Jake Hamon and Chestnut & Smith advanced to the finals of the Olcott Baseball Tournament Sunday by winning their games in the semi-final round. Jake Hamon defeated the Eastland Horned Frogs while Chestnut & Smith tumbled over the Gordon Tigers. Both teams won by top heavy scores.

Jake Hamon slammed the offerings of Rawley Fairbairn all over the park and decisively defeated the Horned Frogs by the score to 13-4. Dabbs and Harbin hit home runs, while Watson's hitting featured for the Frogs. Hammett sparked on the defense for the Hamon men.

The second game proved to be another hit and run affair with Chestnut & Smith getting the big end of the 17-4 score. Hargrove, Taylor and Pace led the Natural boys, while Hunt was outstanding for the Tigers.

Mother at 12

School authorities at York, Pa., are wondering how they are going to enforce Pennsylvania's compulsory school attendance law in the case of Mrs. Ralph Moody, above, 12-year-old child-wife, to whom a baby son was born recently. The code compels children between six and 16 to attend classes and doesn't mention motherhood as a legal excuse for absence.

WITH THE TEXAS LEAGUE

Beaumont's Exporters rose from the depths Sunday and defeated the Waco Cubs in both games of a double header, sending the Cubs from first to third place and raising their own standing from last place to seventh.

The Exporters were out in the first game, but won a 7 to 4 decision by a five run spree in the third inning. Walkup blanked the Cubs in the nightcap, while Beaumont won 2 to 0.

Wichita Falls regained the Texas League lead with a 4 to 3 victory over Fort Worth in 10 innings. The Fort Worth Cats advanced to second place in spite of their defeat, however, as Waco lost two games. The Spudders were held scoreless until the seventh, when they scored three runs. They chalked up the winning tally in the first half of the tenth.

Houston took an easy 12 to 4 contest from the San Antonio Indians. Peery and Estell were ineffective against the Buffs, allowing them 19 hits.

George Murray, ace of the Dallas Steers' pitching staff, let Shreveport down with seven scattered hits, winning handily by a 5 to 1 score. The victory put Dallas within a half a game of the lead of the second division.

Yesterday's Hero
Dale Alexander, Detroit first baseman, who drove in two runs and scored the other two himself as the Tigers won from the Chicago White Sox, 4-3.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

They're Planning Comebacks

Two of the most dangerous contestants in the annual Wrigley marathon swim to be held next month have been training for several weeks in the specially-chilled waters of a New York swimming pool. They are Clarence Ross, left, present three and five-mile professional swimming champion, and Ethel Hertle, winner of the Wrigley swim for girls in 1928. Ross led the field for eight miles last year, but was forced out by the icy waters. Miss Hertle lost her title a year ago to Martha Norellus, but is determined to win it back this season.

Police Seek Slayer Of Gerald Buckley

DETROIT, Aug. 2.—Investigation into the gang slaying eleven days ago of Gerald E. Buckley, radio announcer and public commentator swung around to police today as police admitted they were seeking Egbert M. Hofmann, an active worker for Mayor Charles Bowles. The hunt for Hofmann, whom Mayor Bowles says is a young man of means, started when detectives found a handkerchief fastened to him, which showed daily deposits of $2,000 or more over a period of several weeks just prior to the Buckley murder. The bank book was found in the apartment of Miss Marjy Mansell, cabaret and radio singer, arrested yesterday. Miss Mansell, friend of Buckley and sweetheart of Pete Licavoli, gangster, still is held for investigation, while police seek to trace the woman who telephoned Buckley shortly before he was murdered. Licavoli has been sought since the murder, to police today as well as unable to locate his hideout.

Hoppers Coming

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 2.—Agents of the United States Department of Agriculture made plans today to war against a horde of grasshoppers reported advancing on El Paso. The army of insects, so thick it is said they darken the sun when they hop in a mass, was last reported 150 miles south of El Paso in the state of Chihuahua, Mex. It appears today reports of the horde already had reached the city as hundreds of the little "hoppers" covered downtown streets.

Marathon Golf

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y.—Ray Koenig, local hardware dealer, sought to convince a friend that 120 holes of golf could be played during the time between dawn and dusk. So he set out at 5:15 a. m. and when he returned at 7:30 p. m. he had completed 126 holes. He lost six pounds as a result. Koenig thinks little of playing 54 and 72 holes a day.

Let Us Be Gay At Lyric Today

Another famous New York success serves as Norma Shearer's newest starring picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. It is "Let Us Be Gay." Rachel Crothers' popular comedy of marriage and morals which played for nearly one year on Broadway. Like "The Trial of Mary Dugan" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," both of which revealed Miss Shearer as one of the most talented actresses in Hollywood, "Let Us Be Gay" suits the Shearer technique to the proverbial "T." As the dowdy wife, who divorces her wayward husband when the "other" woman becomes a bit too bold, and then develops into a charming and seductive woman of the world, Miss Shearer creates one of the most delightful roles of her career.

Playing opposite Miss Shearer is Rod La Rocque. As the divorced husband who meets his former wife three years later in Hollywood and then makes the startling discovery that she is the most charming woman in the world, Rod La Rocque is the real thing. It is a splendid role for La Rocque, one that he plays with evident sincerity and conviction.

Another important role, and an hilarious one, is contributed by Marie Dressler, who recently scored a favorably in "Anna Christie" and with Polly Moran in "Caught Short." It is around Miss Dressler, as a wealthy and eccentric dowager, that the picture's amusing situations revolve. For as the Mrs. Boucicault who wants Norma Shearer to win the heart of the man paying attention to her grand daughter, Miss Dressler is well-nigh perfect. Incidentally, the man Norma Shearer is supposed to "vamp" is none other than her ex-husband, a situation which makes for many highly amusing and complicated moments.

Included in the supporting cast are Hedda Hopper, as a gushing dilettante, Raymond Hackett, Sully Eilers, Tyrell Davis and Gilbert Emery, all of whom give convincing and thoroughly gay performances.

Robert Z. Leonard, who recently directed Norma Shearer in her great success, "The Divorcee," directed "Let Us Be Gay."

"Let Us Be Gay" will be presented at the Lyric theatre today and Monday.

Gasoline Altered To Meet Changing Seasonal Demands

NEW YORK.—Veteran motorists who long for that good old fashioned gasoline, apparently are longing for something they could not well use if they had it. Tests made by the U. S. Bureau of Standards show that the old style gasoline which felt cold to the touch and evaporated readily is not well suited to modern motors, because of those very characteristics. In other words, it burns too quickly to assure full power development and it is likely to produce vapor lock, or a tendency to boil in the fuel line, resulting in motor stoppage. Modern fuels must be adapted to the uses to which they are to be put, or rather to the season in which the motor is operated. Highly volatile gasolines assure quick starting, burn quickly and produce less power. Less volatile fuels burn slowly, increasing the power output, but have a tendency to cause crankcase sludge and hard starting. Refiners have struck a happy medium and given to motorists continuing satisfactory service from his motor by altering their products to meet seasonal demands. Gasoline
