A BIG APPLE—Kevin and Kyle McKinnis, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McKinnis look over an apple that weighs in at 1 pound and 12 ounces. The boys had mixed emotions about the fine specimen: whether to tear into it with teeth bared or promote a pie-making session. On a recent trip to the Pacific Northwest, Mrs. Marene Johnson had several of the large apples shipped back to Eastland. Kevin is 2 and Kyle is 5.

Rotary Hears Dignitary, Methodists at Meeting

The Rotary Club was honored, Monday, Oct. 26, at their meeting to have an extra special guest, Carl E. Lemasters, Rotarian Lamaster is Head Service officer to district Governors and Clubs. He is of Evanston, Ill., and is visiting five different clubs in this area. Within the secretariat, Mr. Lemasters heads the department serving district governors & Rotary clubs in U. S., Canada, Bermuda and Puerto Rico.

The meeting was held at The White Elephant, opened with a song, and J. T. Carter, Secretary-Treasurer, introduced the guest, Jack Paine minister of the First Methodist church of Arlington.

Rev. Ellis, pastor of the 1st Methodist Church of Eastland; Eugene Robertson, Minister of the 1st Methodist church of Eules; Becky Hanna, playing the piano in place of the Rotary Sweetheart, Janice Miller, who was ill, and Pam Pierce Reporter for the Eastland Telegram. John Ryan, Vice President introduced the guest speaker for the luncheon, Carl E. Lemaster, Mr. Lemaster visits Rotary Clubs over the country, in order to know Rotary service better. Pat Miller then introduced Jack Payne, Minister of the 1st Methodist church of Arlington. He gave a thought provoking speech on our society. He brought out the fact that we are no longer living in the simple society. "We are living in a late hour, a technical age. The age in which we live requires a great deal of ingenuity to just survive," he said.

His main point, throughout, was that in order to survive in our modern age, we must get "a purpose in life big enough to live for—A self good enough to live with." He encouraged each person present to strive to be a better human being. "Worry less about what others think, and worry more about what is right," he said.

Bill Angus, President, presided.

'Lund-less' Mavericks To Do Battle With Bearcats in Ballinger Friday

McCleskey Set To Bark Signals

The Eastland Mavericks will battle the Ballinger Bearcats in a contest in Ballinger Friday night.

Kickoff time will be 7:30 p.m., and the trip will be an important one for the Mavericks in their attempt to retain the District Title.

And it'll probably be a "different" squad that marches with the Eastland colors this week, after last week's squeaker with the Hamilton Bulldogs. Shaken in the opening minutes of their first quarter Craig Lund came up with an injured leg, the Mavericks responded behind the superior calling of Secondary Signal Caller Ronald McCleskey and came out with a 9-0 win.

As always, the Maverick defenders were outstanding and were the only thing standing between a determined Hamilton team and the goal posts. The Bulldogs probably had never been higher for a game, and dominated the field, particularly in the first quarter when the Mavericks had the ball for only four non-productive downs.

A field goal in the closing seconds of the first half by Butch Edison and a hard-won touchdown, plunged over by Howard King, spelled the only Maverick scoring.

Lund will not be in the lineup Friday night. He had Coach Shirley Frazier said Wednesday. "That's about the only definite thing I can say right now." Lund was in Fort Worth for examination and treatment and word was expected to be heard by noon, Frazier said.

EHS Seniors Get Rings in Key Ceremony

Eastland High School seniors were presented the long-awaited EHS Senior rings in a special ring ceremony Tuesday afternoon in the High School Auditorium. The program opened with prayer led by Jan Brewer and the pledge led by Randall Treadwell.

Mr. E. O. Hill, principal, made some opening remarks about the '71 graduating class and introduced Mr. Wendell Siebert superintendent. Mr. Siebert emphasized the meaning and importance of an EHS senior ring and gave part of the class history.

Then he presented rings to the following seniors: Sharon Simms, Patsy Kincaid, Jo Ann Baker, Janie Miller, Mary Jo Clearman, Vicki Lowrance, Kathy Gregory, Kay Hoffmann, Kay Smith, Chris Turner, Deborah Ables, Sharon Steddum, Nida Brown, Marcia Griffin, Carla Boney, Terresa Herridge, Debbie Aaron, Gloria McDonald, Jana Rexroat, Katie Capers, Christy Jolly, Glenn Fox, Larry Blackwell, Bobby Williamson, Richard Sanello, Jerry Doyle, Craig Beskow, Donnie Sharp, Gary Thomas, Lewis Stansell, Richard Sharp, Wallace Greiger, Rocky Maynard, Phillip Harrison, Mike Robinson, Ken Coplen, Steve Beck, Franklin Harris, Sam Harris, Philip Smith, William Caldwell, Brett Arthur, and Randall Treadwell.

After the presentation of the rings, the '71 class sang "I Believe." Phillip Smith senior class president, gave closing remarks expressing the value and honor of wearing a class ring.

In closing, the class sang the Alma Mater and then the audience was asked to join in singing it the second time.

Sponsors for the class are Mrs. Buddy Haun and Mrs. Judy Thornton.

"Very pleased." was the understated way Frazier summed up Junior Quarterback McCleskey's job Friday night. "He did a splendid job, and the fans will see even more this Friday night in Ballinger. At the beginning of this week, we were wishing we had about three more weeks to get ready, but by today (Wednesday) we're very confident, and just wait 'til Friday night, and you'll really see something."

"Certainly this is not to take away from Lund's ability, but we've got a real fine back-up man in McCleskey," Frazier said.

"There's no pain, just stiffness, and it's not serious, we don't believe, but naturally we don't want to take any chances."

Since the Friday night injury, trainers have been using ice, but no heat has been applied through Wednesday, but expected to begin that day, he said.

Do you want to back the Fighting Eastland Mavericks all the way to a whallopping victory over Ballinger? Well, now's your big chance!!! A bonfire is to be held Thursday, October 29, at 7:30 p.m. on the lot next to the Little League baseball field. Lou can expect to hear a great deal of spirit, and the mighty Maverick Band will play also.

Do you have that "Maverick Spirit"? Show you do, and be at the bonfire Thursday night at 7:30, to show the Big Red you are behind them! What's The Good Word? Beat Ballinger!

Named to the Peanut Bowl Committee for the coming year are Herman Alsup and Bob McCoy, co-chairmen, and Larry Rollins, member.

It was announced that the club's Speak-Up session will be held Tuesday, Nov. 3 with Nancy Mehon as judge. The public will be invited to this event, it was announced.

The club also discussed the play to be presented here on Thursday, Dec. 10 and a ways and means project under consideration, which would provide stenciled house numbers. The club also made plans for its support of Member Richard Rossander who will be running for State Vice President of the Texas Jaycees.

The program to send Christmas gifts to local men in Vietnam was discussed.

CofC Directors To Meet Thursday

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet at noon Thursday at the White Elephant Restaurant. President Ben McKinnis has announced.

Among topics to be discussed will be consideration of conducting an investment seminar here, study of addition of colorful trash receptacles around the square and other matters, he said.

All directors are urged to attend the noon meeting.

TIDBITS

S. will be 2.5 million.

Translated into the effect these marital mergers will have on the nation's economy makes for interesting speculation. With all these new family groups being formed, the demand for goods and materials will continue to grow. The U. S. Bureau of the Census has projected a housing demand at the rate of 1.2 million per year over the next five years.

In addition to this predicted construction, an additional 800,000-900,000 units must be built to replace existing housing and to maintain a normal vacancy rate. This adds up to a total housing need of two million units per year until 1975.

"The old law of supply and demand is going to be felt in the housing market in the very near future," according to Joe Butler, executive vice president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas. "Lumber prices have been down for some time, but as building starts increasing, the price of homes is going to rise." Butler added that labor and land costs have accounted for most of the recent increases in construction costs, but heavier demands for material undoubtedly will add to the overall price of a home. "Wise buyers should anticipate the coming boom in home building and look for that new home now," he advises.

Tana Maurine Eaker, E. J. Sharp United in Marriage October 3

Nuptial vows uniting Tana Maurine Eaker and E. J. Sharp were solemnized at 3 p.m. Saturday, October 3, at the altar of the Church of God with the pastor, Rev. James Lee, reading the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Autha D. Eaker of Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jack Sharp of Desdemona are parents of the bridegroom.

The chancel rail was covered with the greenery and highlighted with white mums, blue satin streamers and lighted tall white tapers.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length frock of white chiffon over peau de soie, designed with empire bodice and A-line skirt. The bodice featured a rounded neckline and full-length sleeves of chiffon. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a tiara of white roses embellished with seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of blue and white carnations.

Carolyn Carnack was maid of honor. Her dress of blue double knit was worn with matching accessories and a corsage of blue frenched carnations.

Dale Carnack of Eastland was best man; ushers were Jimmy and Wayne Sharp, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding the mother of the bride chose a three piece suit of gold brocade satin and harmonizing accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a biege knit frock with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of blue and white carnations.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Burkett where the bridegroom is employed.

Burglars Invade Five Rising Star Business; Take Cash And Radios

Burglars who invaded the Rising Star business district late Friday or early Saturday morning, broke into at least five businesses, including a grocery store and the First State Bank, and took a small amount of loot.

Biggest haul was at Watkins Grocery where entrance was gained by breaking the glass of a front door. The thieves seemed interested only in money, taking an estimated $40 in change. Several pair of expensive work gloves were also missed.

The Jenkins Radio and TV shop on South Main was also entered and two auto radios were reported missing.

The glass in a rear door of the bank was broken and the thieves went through drawers in the teller's cages and ransacked other furniture but bank officials said nothing of any consequence was missed.

Only a few weeks ago the bank was held up at gun point and almost $9,000 in working cash taken from the banking counters. No clues to the robbers had been uncovered.

The burglars broke out of the front glass panel at the Western Auto Associates Store, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Henry. It was not determined what if anything they took.

The Downtown Cafe, adjoining the Watkins Food Store was also entered, but nothing appeared to have been taken.

Rising Star police, the county sheriff's department and Texas Rangers were investigating.

5:30 Tuesday morning. The cafe usually closes at 10 p.m. each night.

A service station across the street from the cafe closed at 1:30 Tuesday morning and the operator said he saw no one at the Spot prior to his leaving. The night police patrol checked the street at 4:35 a.m. The door is partially concealed by a breezeway in front of the building.

Mrs. Helen Addison, mother of Mrs. Hill, who works at the cafe, arrived at 5 p.m. but she remained in her car in the rear parking lot until her son-in-law arrived, and was not aware of the break-in.

BURGLARS GET $2,000 FROM CISCO CAFE

Burglars who forced the front door of the Spot Cafe 600 East Eighth Street, Cisco, some time after 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, made off with an estimated $2,000 in cash, a radio, tape recorder and stereo and a variety of trinkets usually sold at the cashier's desk, such as cigaret lighters and keys.

Charles Hill, owner of the popular Cisco restaurant, said the money was part of the receipts during the weekend which had been placed in a small safe under the cashier's desk.

He estimated his loss, including the virtual destruction of an aluminum and plate glass front door, at between $2,750 and $3,000.

The loss was not covered by burglary insurance.

The intruders gained entrance to the cafe by prizing the front door with a wrecking bar or some such instrument. City police and members of the Sheriff's department investigated and dusted for fingerprints. The glass was broken and both the frame of the door and that enclosing the panel were badly bent.

The robbery was discovered by Mr. Hill when he came to open the cafe for business at

3 Power Points Cited For Lions

The power of Lionism comes from three areas, Dr. Jack Payne told members of the Eastland Club Tuesday at their regular luncheon meeting at the White Elephant Restaurant.

Visiting preacher at the First United Methodist Church in a revival that concluded Wednesday evening, Dr. Payne said that the power comes from vision, purpose and outreach.

He was introduced by Member Rev. Cecil Ellis, pastor of First United Methodist, who also introduced Rev. Eugene Robertson of Euless, who was in charge of music for the revival. Joe Gray made arrangements for the program.

President P. B. Arther presided and guests included Herbert Brewer and O. L. Stamey. Candy Sales Chairman Darwin Millere reported that the club has just a few bags left of the Halloween candy, and these may be obtained by calling him, as long as the supply lasts.

Beginning his talk with a great deal of humor, Dr. Payne recounted how the concern of another Lions Club in another town had been the spark for what has become a powerful mission field in the Philippine Island.

Dr. Payne is of Arlington. Mrs. Clara June Park was visiting Club Sweetheart.

Globe-girdling sportsman-photographer Wally Taber hoists a perch taken during the filming of "Safari Moja" scheduled into the Majestic theatre beginning Oct. 28.

Sportsman Film Now Showing at Majestic Theatre

For the sportsman who works all year for two weeks of fishing or hunting, "Safari Moja" opening Oct. 28 at the Majestic theatre will cause more interest than a blocked punt at the Cowboy-Green Bay Packer go-go.

The whole-family adventure film is a documentation of one-man's hang-up for the out-of-doors. Wally Taber, photographer, producer, writer, and many talented sportsman already is somewhat of a living legend among sportsmen. When "Safari Moja" departs town, he will be the envy of every male who cherishes the feel of rod, rifle, bow or camera. With these tools-of-trade, he parlayed into a newspaper assignment into a venturesome career 20 years ago.

Today, 13 books, 10 lecture films, a television series and umpteen trips around the world later, Taber moves into theatres across the country with his first full-screen, living-color 35 mm theatrical — "Safari Moja."

"I wanted to give heart to the multitudes who similarly love the great out-of-doors," Taber advised.

No question, if you enjoy high adventure either near at home or far away "Safari Moja" is your bag! The line to join Taber on his next adventure forms on the right!

Plans Under Way For DD Dialing Soon

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will erect a 36x104 foot addition to its building in downtown Cisco in the next few months to relieve crowded conditions and to allow for expansion of operations, according to Plant Manager Kirby Fears in a talk Wednesday at the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club.

The building addition will be on the north side of the present 65x105-foot telephone building and it will include a basement and one floor extension of the two story structure, Mr. Fears said. Boone and Pope, Abilene architects, are presently digging foundation test holes preparatory to calling for construction bids.

Plans call for the building addition to be completed by June, 1971. The switchboard, which handles calls for 16 towns in this region, will be moved into part of the ground floor of the new section, and power equipment will go into the new basement area.

New electronic equipment will go into the main building second floor where the telephone operators presently have their switchboard, Mr. Fears said. Some 65 operators are employed by the telephone company here since Cisco serves as a regional center.

In connection with the new construction, a new store room will be erected in part of the present parking lot back of the telephone building, and the air conditioning cooling tower will be moved into the same area, Mr. Fears said.

The improvement program has a budget of nearly $350,000, the plant manager said. The telephone building, including basement and first floor, was erected in 1929, and the second floor was added in 1952.

In addition to 65 operators who work under Mrs. Thelma Mills as chief operator, the telephone company has 14 men in Mr. Fears' offices, four in the construction department under Gary Bowling as foreman, and four in the business office that is headed by John McGowan as commercial manager. Mr. McGowan also serves as manager of the Bell company's offices in Breckenridge, Eastland, Ranger and Albany.

Mr. Kirby said that plans are underway for direct long distance dialing to begin in this region in the next few months. Tentative plans call for it to start in Eastland, Albany and Ranger about December 15 and in Cisco in January, 1971.

A team of 10 Western Electric Company technicians is at work here at this time installing equipment that will facilitate the handling of accounts by computer, Mr. Fears added.

Mr. Fears, program chairman for the day, introduced Manager McGowan who talked on telephone courtesy. He offered suggestions as to proven methods of obtaining the best results with the telephone in business.

"We have people who can make you think they are smiling at you over the telephone," he said. He suggested that business men should also place their own telephone calls and that all calls coming in during a man's absence should be promptly returned.

Mr. McGowan noted that the telephone company expects the number of calls to triple in the next three years.

In other action, Lions completed preparations to provide manpower for the Community Chest drive that is now underway. Vice President C. B. Dill presided in the absence of President W. W. Sawyers.

Guests included James Reid of Eastland, Frank Menard of San Angelo and Pete Tyrone and C. G. Stephens of Cisco.

4,000 Already Registered

Data processing of voter registration is going very good, says County Tax Assessor-Collector Edgar Altom this week.

Through Thursday, Oct. 22, approximately 4,000 countians had been registered and certificates mailed or issued at the tax office, he said.

The application forms were mailed out with county tax notices and are coming back with the tax payments, he said.

All applications must be signed and many are coming to the tax office not signed and have to be returned for signatures. This is added expense for tax payers and delays the return of the certificates.

Those who did not register to vote in 1970 may make application at the tax office or secure application cards by request. These new applications must be filled out completely, signed and returned to the tax office for certification to vote.
