WHITE ELEPHANT, Eastland, is tentatively scheduled to re-open Wednesday, Feb. 11, according to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wilkerson who have leased the famous restaurant and plan to operate it along the lines of their equally-famous Herman's Steak House in Big Spring. In town this week making preparation to open here, Herman and Opal are looking forward to serving the Eastland people with good food, good service, in pleasant surroundings. They'll specialize in steaks and many here will remember their cnei, Doug Cude, who has been with the Big Spring restaurant except for about a year and a half, when he was at White Elephant. Natives of Big Spring, the Wilkersons will be making opening announcements soon.

EXTRA EFFICIENT it is, the way the Texas Highway Dept. and its employes work with others in providing the best highway facilities and this is especially true in Eastland, where Resident Engineer R. P. Haun and his staff held a pre-construction Conference this week to acquaint law enforcement personnel, the press, and others on anticipated work schedules relative to the Int. 20 construction to begin immediately from State Highway 6 to the East side of Eastland. Worst traffic problems are expected about a year from now, but we all need to be aware that safety measures are going to be important as this link is developed. We local people, the ones who jump in the car to go to the drive-in or the lake, are the ones who need to be extra cautious; the cross-country travelers generally watch for and abide by the construction signs. Highway Patrol Sgt. Jerry Mathews and Police Chief John Morren were in on the planning and will be assisting with safety measures.

IT PAYS TO advertise: Melody and Darla found their cat, and discovered that there are a lot of black and white cats in town—they had many collars offering possibilities, or substitutes.

THINK BIG! That's the advice of Richard Rossander, Eastland Jaycee who's decided to make a personal crusade of raising $50,000 to help the Texas Jaycees reopen the Gonzales Warm Springs Center as a rehabilitation facility. A worthy project and a noble crusade that we've pledged to help in every way possible, including helping rig up statewide publicity. Richard and Eastland will be the headquarters for the drive, so we all can take pride in that and help.

County Teachers Hear Details Of Computer Center

About 150 Eastland County teachers met at Gorman High School Tuesday night and heard Dr. Thomas Lawrence, director of Region XIV Education Service Center in Abilene, tell of the many services the center has to offer teachers in 14 counties.

Dr. Lawrence, a Jones County native and former instructor in the Education Dept. of Hardin-Simmons University, told the teachers that they how offer educational data processing services to schools and will do report cards, attendance reports, scheduling of high school classes for $1.50 per student per year and this includes quick scoring of achievement tests.

He also said the center will appraise the pupils and tell the parents why their child may be a slow learner or poor reader. The school refers the child to the Center and they have a team of doctors and experts test the student and report to the parent.

Dr. Lawrence was accompanied by Mr. Bob Herman, director of computer services at the center.

The speaker was introduced by Supt. James R. Clark of Ranger, program chairman.

What's an Aquatic Biologist doing working for your electric service company?

He's doing many things. He counts fish, observes their growth and movement and generally monitors water quality.

These are but a few of the many jobs of John Tilton, Texas Electric Service Company's Aquatic Biologist. His laboratory is the various lakes on which the company's modern steam-electric power plants are located.

He works closely with biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and with biologists from colleges and universities.

Their findings are good news for fishermen. They reveal that the lake water which goes through the plants' condensers and back into the lake actually helps stir up more food for fish; and the constant flow of water provides slightly warm currents which Texas fish seem to like.

Why should Texas Electric Service Company be concerned?

Our responsibility, we feel, goes beyond our major job of providing dependable electric service. It includes protection and improvement of the environment in which we all live, including air as well as water.

As we build additional facilities to assure plenty of dependable electric power for the future, we will continue to monitor the lakes that provide water and recreation. Lines, plants and other facilities will continue to be built with full consideration to appearance and environment.

Grave of Unknown Child Symbolizes Pioneer Spirit

By Vada Arnold

Years ago when Sipe Springs was a thriving town in this area people from all over the country went there for supplies and to the mill with corn to be ground into meal and wheat to be made into flour. Black-Smithing was also a leading industry.

As a child, Minnie McNeely, now Mrs. L. L. Dukes, Sr., lived with her parents on a farm between Sipe Springs and Comanche. She recalls times when her father would hitch a fine sorrel mule named Ned and a tough little Mustang named Baldy (because his body was roan and his face snow white) to the wagon, pile in all the plow points that needed sharpening and a "turn of corn" for meal, and the family went to Sipe Springs.

It seemed like a real long, long trip to little Minnie but there was never a dull moment, for the little girl amused herself with the beautiful scenery along the way and lovely homes near the road.

No doubt in her imagination she saw herself grown up and living in a beautiful house beside a road just as beautiful as these.

There was the Millwee home, where her dearest friend, Minnie, lived, or the home of Mr. Paives, such a fine house, (for that day) "upstairs and everything." Then the McKeehan home. "I loved that house, it was painted red," she said. The George Morris had a grand white house. Nearby "Uncle Lane Morris had a green house, and it was so pretty. Between the two houses there was a huge hay stack where cattle ate into the straw, making snug rooms where they could be protected from the cold in winter time.

At last they arrived in Sipe Springs. They had the corn ground and the plows sharpened by Mr. Cresel. Then there was the trip to M. W. Hall and Sons General Merchandise Store. Mr. Hall and his sons, Harry, Art, Yantis and Dewey, sold everything—groceries and calico to wagons. One of the favorites of children were sweet crackers. And that was a treat on each trip to Sipe Springs and "GOOD". There was never anything so delicious.

The public well in the middle of the street was especially popular with people from Indian Mountain community where wells were few and water was scarce.

After a day of happiness and fun the McNeely family took the South Road home, on this road was a place of much interest to little Minnie, for on top of Crump Hill (named for the family who lived in a two-story white house at the foot of the hill) was a small grave where a little girl was buried. The story goes that while a family traveling in a covered wagon through the country to West Texas their little daughter became violently ill and died. The family stopped long enough to bury the child and then moved on their way, never to be heard of again. Not far from the site Uncle Bunk Dodson lived and Center Point School House stood near by.

During the years 1905-06, Mrs. Dukes (then Miss Minnie McNeely) taught school at the Center Point School. She remembers that the first thing she did was to take groups of her pupils to the little grave to round it up. School girls brought pretty pieces of china and bright colored glasses to decorate the grave. They brought the things that they had liked in a playhouse had she lived to enjoy one. When wild flowers bloomed children kept flowers on the little girl?"

Mrs. Dukes says the grave is still cared for, although it has been so many years ago since she first saw it. And she is still wondering "Whose little girl?"

Early settlers of Eastland, Brown and Comanche Counties were men and women of courage, not afraid of any hardship. They loved each other and built for themselves a social life through work. Women spent many hours at quilting parties working on quilts to keep their families warm. They picked cotton from the burs and carded bats for the quilts. They spun thread on spinning wheels and made cloth and knitted socks and stockings for large families.

Men became good friends by hunting together and working together. Many times men and women attended dances any where in a radius of 50 miles. Every body took part in camp meetings. The preacher preached the Bible and there was no creed to separate them. The man was everybody's preacher. He was kind, upright and a friend to all men alike. A God fearing man whom everyone loved and respected.

There was always the fear of Indian raids, horse thieves and disease but from their courageous lives and faith in God we enjoy the prosperous land we live on today.

The Eastland Chapter of Future Homemakers of America met Thursday for their monthly meeting. Patsy Kincaid, president, called the meeting to order and Judy Williams, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. Janet Thomas, Eastland County Home Demonstrator Agent, and Mrs. Judy Cardwell, assistant agent, presented a very interesting program on "Careers in Home Economics." They showed an informative film and distributed bulletins of information to the girls.

The speakers were presented cakes baked by third-year homemaking students in appreciation for the program.

Lions Hear Meet Report, Talk Exchange

An informal report on the Mid-Winter Conference and the foreign exchange program as program for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday at the High School Cafeteria.

President Jeff Glazner presided and reported on the Mineral Wells conference, which he, Secretary George Fields and Zone Chairman Earnest Sneed attended last Saturday.

Points stressed at the meeting were membership (which the Eastland Club is presently working on), attendance, and the exchange program (which several Eastland members have cooperated in the past and plans for the future.)

It was announced the Zone meeting will be held at Chairman Sneed's home, northwest of Eastland next Tuesday evening. Eastland members are invited, he said, and approximately 10 are due from Cisco, with a total of some 40 expected.

A five-day Lion trip to Monterey, Mexico, was also announced by Glazner, with dates and definite plans to be announced by the District later this year.

Guest was O. L. Stamey of Cisco.

It is hoped that at least two students from here will be Exchange members to South America or Scandinavia.

Demonstration Will Emphasize Tractor Danger

Members of the Eastland Co. Young Farmers will have an opportunity to see for themselves the false sense of security man may have while operating a farm tractor. A graphic demonstration using miniature tractors and equipment will be used to illustrate actual occurrences at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 5, Gib Copeland, announced today.

Ben Bullard, Assistant Safety Director for Texas Farm Bureau will use a film to show how lives can be saved and injuries reduced by the use of a roll-guard or crush-proof cab. Things that will be pointed out during the 45/55 minute program include (1) overturns and rearward upsets, (2) hitching and unhitching (3) speed, (4) horseplay (5) refueling, (6) use of the SMV emblem, (7) use of the roll-guard and crush-proof cab for operator protection, (8) seatbelts, (9) maintenance and (10) extra passengers, plus other contributing factors to accident prevention.

Approximately 1,000 farm people are killed each year on farm tractors and machinery while over 750,000 or more are injured seriously. Texas farms are the scenes of some 25 to 30 tractor fatalities and 20 to 25 farm machinery fatalities each year.

Tractor and machinery safety has been added to the very popular fire and auto demonstrations that have been used by the Texas Farm Bureau to promote safety for the past decade. This program is being brought to Olden, under the sponsorship of the Eastland County Farm Bureau.

Voter Registration On Par With 1968 in County at 8,200

For perhaps the first time in history, the actual number of eligible voters in Eastland is expected known by about Friday- and the total is sure to be an impressive one.

At mid-week, with tabulations still underway, County Tax Assessor-Collector Edgar Altom estimated the total for the county at 8,200. This is incomplete and subject to change he says, but will be pretty close to the final figure.

This total would compare favorably with the year 1948 when 8,416 registered in the county.

One of the big slow-downs in counting the number this year is the fact that so many voters from all over the county registered at the Eastland office, and these receipts have to be sorted back to their respective precincts for tabulation.

Preliminary sub-station reports are high, and will increase when the courthouse-registered receipts are added to them. Early reports showed 300 registered at the substation at Gorman; 261 at Rising Star; and 721 at Ranger, Mr. Altom explained.

Added to the burden of the tax office, is the fact that 1970 automobile registration began Monday and business has been brisk.

Over 320 passenger cars were registered in Eastland County on Monday, opening day for sign-up, Tax Assessor Collector Edgar Altom reports. There were of course, many farm vehicles registered too, but the big heavy-equipment registration are yet to come, he said. The 1970 plates are bright reflective with pretty, blue numerals. Numbering on the auto tags began at DBL 450.

County Hiway Building Near Ten Millions

February 1970 finds nearly 10 million dollars in highway construction underway in Eastland County — with outlook good for employment and payrolls.

Latest contract is for the State Highway 6 to East of Eastland, another Interstate 20 project, let last week to the J. H. Strain and Sons, Co. of Tye, in the amount of $2,643,392.52. During a public information meeting Tuesday, it was announced that this project will take about 18 months.

Other major jobs reported underway by Resident Highway Engineer R. P. (Buddy) Haun include: The St. 6 bridge widening (just north of Eastland), $70,119.79, Dahlstrom Contractor; Ranger By Pass on Int. 20, $3,292,978.19, Ruby Construction Co.;

Cisco to St. 6 an Int. 20 job, $2,458,531.45, Ruby; and U. S. 183, south from Cisco to Romney, $1,233,730.25, Darco Contractors of College Station.

It was announced at the Pre-Construction Conference Tuesday that all the highway contractor are Equal Employment Opportunities employers and welcome employees of any race, creed or color, if they are qualified.

Attending the planning conference, at which preliminary details for the latest project were outlined, were Highway Patrol Sergeant Jerry Matthews, Billy Maddox of the Employers Insurance Safety Division, J. H. Strain, Ernest Rogers, a Strain employe, H. V. O'Brien, Eastland Police Chief John Morren, Hugh C. Ballard, an equipment salesman; James Strain, superintendent for the new project; Leonard Clayton, foreman; Herman Lloyd, of Strain and Sons; Richard Johnson of the Highway Dept.; and Mr. Haun.

ated that work will begin in the "boon-docks" and no traffic hazards are anticipated until about a year from now, when the "tie-in" begins on the East side of Eastland, at the interchange. There will also be some conflict at the county road (Bassett St. south) where the new highway there and relatively light rural traffic is expected to keep that area from being a major problem, it was said.

Mr. Haun expressed pleasure with the contractor and the contractor indicated that he was ready to go to work. No headquarters has been announced by Strain, but will be sited on the job, it was said. Strain is well known here, having done the FM Carbon to Kahoma, and earlier, the U.S. 290 jobs.

Wrinkles are a vicious cycle.

In some dryers the heat that dries your clothes also bakes wrinkles into permanent press. But you can buy a new gas dryer with a permanent press cool-down cycle that turns off the heat and cools off your clothes.

That means modern gas dryers won't add wrinkles to your wash and extra ironing to your work load. Because they have a cycle that keeps wrinkles from becoming vicious.
