TidBits

By H.V.O.

Guess the Rotary and Lions service clubs will be meeting one more Monday and Tuesday, respectively, at the High School this week, awaiting the anticipated Wednesday opening of Eastland's White Elephant. New Proprietors Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wilkinson are hoping to have everything in order for that date.

Understand Mr. John Rhynes, Hollywood - Vassarette plant manager here has an unusual program planned for the Rotary soon. It's to be sack-lunch day, with members bringing their own eats and contributing the amount usually spent on meals to the very deserving Rotary Foundation. The program will be a visit, look-see at the Munsingwear plant here. You'll be reading, and seeing, some unusual Rotary announcement about their upcoming magic show. Scouts report that Club Sweetheart Shannon Wilson may be "cutting up" for the event.

AMONG THIS town's most interesting people to talk with is Lone Star Title Man Jerry Carter, who knows the right-of-way business backwards and forwards. He's scheduled to present his slide presentation on r-o-w business to a national convention of experts in Houston this June.

JIMMY YOUNG may have come up with a dessert that could promote our leading industry here. He asked for, and got, a peanut sundae at the Dairy Queen recently, and you know what? It sure looked good, and ought to be a staple in everybody's diet.

LINE FROM Laugh-In being quoted locally and getting laughs: "Oh, my we had sex education even back when I went to school. Of course, we called it 'recess' then."

NOTES FROM all over: An analysis of statistical data on cigarette and distilled spirits consumption over a period of 33 years suggests that people consume more alcohol to compensate for surges of exuberance and anger and that they smoke more in situations that induce anxiety and emotional stress.

Dr. Frederick W. Williams, a marketing manager for the Bureau of Advertising, A.N.P.A., reported these findings after an analysis of the Department of Commerce monthly consumption data for the 33 years, 1936 through 1968.

In Dr. Williams' opinion, the smoker or drinker is like a person who treats himself with home remedies. He says: "In contrast, smoking appears to rise when people feel anxiety induced by shock, horror, fear of other stresses."

DEVELOPMENTS being what they are, an informal survey of officials close to the subject in Eastland, indicate that the re-election of Sen. Tom Creighton is our best guarantee of maintaining the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland. And too, Sen. Tom could be our "last" senator as the swing to representation shifts to the metropolitan areas.

Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved—Acts 4:12.

Sgt. Roy Stroud in Canal Zoen Arms Matches

U. S. Army Sergeant Roy L. Stroud, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stroud of Rt. 1 Eastland participated in the 1970 USARSO Commander's Rifle and Pistol Matches held at Empire Range, and at Fort Clayton in the Panaha Canal Zone.

Eighteen teams competed, representing the U. S. Army Forces Southern Command, the U. S. Air Forces, Southern Command, U. S. Naval Forces Southern Command, local gun clubs and the Canal Zone Police.

The M 14 rifle was the official match weapon; and the .45 caliber pistol the official pistol match weapon. Slow and rapid fire from 200, 300, 500, and 600 yards made up the rifle program; whereas slow and rapid fire from 25 and 50 yards was the pistol scheme.

USARSO Commander Major General Chester L. Johnson greeted the competitors at the award ceremonies with this comment: "You men have truly improved your marksmanship, and we're talking about the basic skill of the infantryman." The general also congratulated the men for their sportsmanship; and thanked the unseen help, who counted the hits at the target sites, and who totaled the scores, while others were firing.

The best riflemen will represent the U. S. in the 11th Annual Pan American Invitational Military Rifle Match, featuring 19 Latin American nations. Good sportsmanship and marksmanship has always been an essential part of both the Commander's Rifle Matches, and the Pan American Rifle Matches.

Dogs might teach people a lot about friendliness with human beings. They limit the number of their human friends, but stay loyal to them forever. They limit the demonstration of affection to tail-wagging, but do a lot of that.

Former Countian Finds Challenge In Restoring Spanish Galleon Artifacts

Worth Carlin, son of Mrs. Hal Lavery of Cisco and a research chemist with Pittsburg Plate Glass Company, is finding "extreme challenge" in helping restore artifacts recovered off the coast of Padre Island, according to a story in the Corpus Christi Caller-Times recently.

The biggest problem facing archeologists in handling the recovered treasures is a shortage of finances, he told the Caller-Times writer.

"They have next to nothing for money" for cleaning and restoring operations, he said. He and others assisting in the treasure preservation work are donating their time.

Carlin, a graduate of Ranger High school who attended Cisco Junior College and graduated from St. Edward University at Austin with a degree in chemistry, lives at Portland, Texas. He also did special work at SMU at Dallas. He and Mrs. Carlin have six children.

The artifacts, ranging from small coins to massive cannon, were recovered from an area off Padre Island where Spanish galleons sank about 400 years ago, the story relates. The pieces are now housed in the Balcones Research Center in Austin.

The article continues: Carlin who is serving in an advisory capacity to archeological personnel restoring and preserving the treasure pieces, was elected to aid them because of his work in the field of electrochemistry. The Portland man is a senior research chemist with PPG Industries where he has been employed for 16 years.

Cleaning the artifacts will involve and electrolytic process and will require electrochemical equipment, Carlin said in explaining his connection with the archaeological project.

Carlin said the age and delicate condition of the treasure items will make restoration a "challenging project," but noted that lack of money for cleaning operations poses a big drawback.

The research chemist indicated he will advise on cleaning procedures for the bulk of the larger items in the treasure cache. The smaller precious items, such as coins and gems, already are being cleaned, he said, and are stored in vaults.

Larger items, among them cannon and other weapons, are being kept in vats of water "in an attempt to preserve the status quo until they get a chance to clean them up and treat them properly" Carlin said.

He said several of the bigger pieces "looked like they had been acid cleaned" before they were received at Balcones.

Carlin said the archeologists have a fair chance of recovering the metal of most of the objects. He said those items that have not been cleaned are still encrusted with beads and shells.

Under the electrolytic techniques being advised by Carlin most of the larger pieces will first be mechanically cleaned as gently as possible.

After the initial cleaning has revealed the metal oxide or rust, the items will be placed in a vat of alkali and will be made cathodic. The hydrogen will be liberated from salt that has impregnated the metal.

"The purpose is to get all the salt scrubbed out," Carlin explained, "so that the artifact can be washed with water and coated with a preservative."

Gets B. Crocker Award at EHS

Senior Judy Williams has been named 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Eastland High School. She received the honor on the basis of her score in the homemaking knowledge and attitude test taken by senior girls last month. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Williams and has taken three years of homemaking. She is active in the Future Homemakers of America, serving this year as secretary of the local chapter. She has also won the Silver Thimble Award presented by the Thursday Afternoon Club for the highest average in sewing.

Gets Crisco Award At EHS

Katie Capers, junior at Eastland High School, has been awarded the Crisco Award for 1969-70.

The award is presented each year to the outstanding home economics student. The nine-inch trophy features an attractive gold statue mounted on a wooden pedestal. The figure holds the laurel wreath of excellence above her head as a symbol of outstanding achievement.

Katie has been in Homemaking and Future Homemakers of America for three years and is presently serving as historian for the FHA. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Capers.

It was stated that a fee of $1.00 for each set of plates must be added to the license fee as printed on the application. This is mandatory, he said, and it is not a collector regulation.

In other years substitutions for license issuance were set up on March 1. In Cisco the Chamber of Commerce has customarily served as that station for local car owners.

Manager Jim Smothers said Wednesday that the CoC office would not be able to perform this service this year under the new system and that car owners who have customarily received their plates here would have to look to the county office at Eastland for this service.

Plates Must Be Obtained From Eastland Office

So far as it is now possible to see, there will be no substitutions for the issuance of 1970 motor vehicle license plates set up in Eastland County.

The computerized system under which these plates are now being issued simply is not set up for a substitution system in counties such as Eastland, County Tax Assessor-Collector Edgar Altom explained.

Under the former system in which license numbers were not pre-matched to application forms, it was possible to get series of plates to substitutions for issuance without insurmountable problems in record keeping, he said. But under the new system this is almost impossible to do without an organization and expense practical only in the large cities where the overall volume is so much greater.

Hence, the plates must be obtained from the county collector's office in Eastland either by mail or in person.

The office in the court house began issuing the plates Monday and by Wednesday evening had dispensed some 700, exclusive of those for trucks, and vehicles other than passenger cars.

Altom emphasized that where plates are ordered by mail the Legislature has stip-

"Since there will be only one issuing station and the volume is great, the sooner the most of the owners send or come for their plates the more efficient and less expensive the process will be," he pointed out.

"We are not saying positively that there will be no substitutions," he said. "But as matters are now going and considering the almost insuperable difficulties of proper record keeping under a substitution system, we will say that it is highly improbable."

Two-Thirds State Land In Need Of Conservation, Official Says

About two-thirds of our state's land still needs soil and water conservation treatment. State Conservationist Clyde W. Graham of the U.S. DA Soil Conservation Service revealed this week.

Graham said that although many critical conservation problems have been solved in Texas in the last 30 years, some 103 million acres of the state's 160 million acres of rural lands need conservation treatment. The figures came from county data prepared by state and federal agencies, then summarized by a state committee chaired by SCS.

"Much of this 103 million acres has had some conservation measures," Graham pointed out. "And most of this land needs treatment every year—especially cropland."

Graham said that in terms of acres, grassland improvement is still the state's biggest conservation problem. He cited these grassland needs: About 50.6 million acres need brush control, followed by careful management, including periodic rests. Some 22.3 million acres of this land has deteriorated to the extent that re-seeding is needed after the brush is controlled. Graham stressed, however, that when brush is controlled on grassland, wildlife needs should be considered carefully. He said strips or motts of brush should usually be left for wildlife food and cover.

Some 19 million acres of grazing lands need only improved grazing use. This is land that has been grazed too closely but still has a stand of desirable grasses; all it needs for improvement is better management.

About 13.2 million acres need both rest and better grazing use to let the base grasses improve in vigor and increase soil cover.

In addition to the 22.3 million acres of land that need seeding after brush control, there are some 4.3 million acres of other grassland that need seeding or reseeded. There are also 1.1 million acres of cropland and 1.3 million acres of former cropland that need to be planted to permanent vegetation. This totals 29 million acres of land in Texas that need planting to grass or trees.

The inventory breaks the state's 35 million acres of cropland down into dry cropland; irrigated cropland; and other cropland, such as orchards and land formerly cropped. Some 22.3 million acres of cropland needs treatment.

The state has 25 million acres of dry cropland, 7 million acres of which need protection with cover crops of crop residues. Some 5 million acres need terraces, diversions, or waterways as well as cover from residues or growing crops.

Out of 8.3 million acres of irrigated land, 3.7 million acres need an improved irrigation system to prevent erosion or water loss.

The survey shows Texas has 22.7 million acres of forest land, of which 9.2 million acres need conservation treatment for soil protection and to improve forest stands.

The study also shows that pressure for urban growth is steadily cutting into the state's rural lands. During the 1958-1967 decade, agricultural land in Texas dropped by some 780,000 acres, or an area bigger than an average Texas county. About 500,000 acres of this went to urban areas, some went to federal uses, and lesser amounts went under water in ponds and reservoirs.

Summaries of the state study are available from SCS offices, soil and water conservation districts, and from most other state and federal resource agencies. Local county reports are also being prepared by county inventory committees. The complete state inventory showing major land uses and conservation treatment needs by land capability classes for the state as well as each county will be published later this year, Graham said.

Nearly 3 million American boys and girls belong to 4-H and find learning can be a lot of fun. They enthusiastically invite all the rest of Eastland County youth to join up now. Their parents agree that 4-H is an enjoyable activity, but they also know that 4-H is one of the Nation's most effective out-of-school educational programs. One out of every six U. S. adults is a former 4-H'er. Most of them want this experience for their children.

In 4-H, young people learn practical skills in a wide variety of projects in agriculture, home economics, citizenship and personal development. They learn to apply the latest facts to discover "why" as well as the "how" of what they do at the same time they enjoy friendship and recreation. Developing character and good citizenship are the range goals of 4-H.

Any boy or girl 9 through 19 years of age may join 4-H by signing up and choosing a project. The main requirement is willingness to "learn by doing."

The 4-H program is part of the nationwide educational system of the Cooperative Extension Service a—three way partnership of the county governments, the State land-grant universities, and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Local people determine the 4-H programs.

Friends of 4-H a; so give valuable advice and financial aid. About a fourth of the money sent on the 4-H program comes from non-tax donors— from individual donors, businesses, and organizations.

To build 4-Hers, some 400,000 public spirited men and women— some of them parents— serve as volunteer local leaders. These leaders work with the Extension Agents, who in turn have the vast stores of knowledge of the universities and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

These leaders advise and encourage 4-H'ers in planning and carrying out projects. They teach them new subject matter, attend club meetings, and most important, have a genuine interest in boys and girls.

You may ask, "How do I take part in 4-H?" You may call the Extension Agents here in Eastland at the Courthouse and we'll be glad to answer your questions and help you in any way we can.

There will be a 4-H meeting in your area in the month of February. Ask another 4-H member when and where or call the Extension office.

Boys and girls enjoy the 4-H club. Here they elect their own officers, conduct their own meetings, plan their own programs. They take part in community activities and the countywide 4-H program. Boys and girls join 4-H club by agreeing to work on a project and to follow 4-H ideals and standards.

The main purpose of the Extension 4-H program is to help young people become creative and productive citizens. 4-H lays a foundation for continuing education and helps youth acquire a zest for life-long learning.

YOUR FLORIST TALKS ABOUT FLOWERS

STATE AND THEIR FLOWERS
 If nations proudly display national flowers—so do all the states in our United States. A number of states polled the public school children in choosing their state flowers. Alabama chose the Golden Rod (incidentally, it's the U. S. national flower), and it is said to signify encouragement. Georgia's Cherokee Rose means loyalty and regality. Florida's Orange Blossom denoted marriage; while Arkansas' apple blossom means adoration.

We feel our flowers mean a lot to individuals, that is why we take special care in the preparation of all our flowers. We know the customer's satisfaction is our greatest asset.

County Livestock Show Dates Set For Feb. 19-21

The Annual Eastland County Livestock Show will be held this year on March 19-21. According to Jim Wells, Eastland County Assistant Agent, the entries for this year will close on Feb. 12th. Entry forms are available from the county agents' office and from all vocational agricultural teachers in the county.

The entry fees this year are $1.25 for all calves, beef heifers, and dairy cattle. The entry fee on lambs, barrows, and breeding swine is $.60. These entries must be paid when the entry card is turned in and signed. "We want to encourage all 4-H youth and FFA students in the county to enter their animal projects in the show as it will benefit themselves as well as making for a successful Livestock Show, Mr. Wells.

"The County Livestock raisers are planning the show and are doing a fine job. Hoot Ferguson is president of the association, and he and other members encourage all youth enrolled in 4-H or FFA in the county to participate in the County Livestock Show March 19th-21st."

SCS Says Time Is Now For Coastal Seedbed Preparation

BY JOHN SIMPSON
Soil Conservation Service
Now is the time for seedbed preparation for sprigging coastal bermuda grass.

Many of the cooperators with the Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation District are preparing seedbeds at the present time.

J. C. Poe has prepared 90 acres of land with a hi-way tandem followed with his farm equipment. He is now ready to sprig his grass.

Danny Woods cleared 22 acres of post oak, plowed the land with a Hi-way tandem, followed with farm equipment and also ready for sprigging. He plans on sprigging coastal Feb. 15.

Ed Harrison, director of the Upper Leon SWD, has seedbed prepared on 142 acres.

Raymond Beck has seedbed prepared on 60 acres.

J. P. McCracken and Elizabeth Donica has cleared some 80 acres of brush and are in the process of getting it ready to sprig to coastal bermuda.

Others in the process of preparing seedbeds are Paul Norris, W. A. Hill, D. V. Rodgers, J. L. McDaniel, John Holdridge, Dean Kirk and H. N. Sherman.

Club Members Told Idea For Central Library

Miss Vanita Lee, Field Consultant for the Texas State Library, met recently with the Library Board members of the Thursday Afternoon Club at the Library. Miss Lee has recently been appointed Field Consultant for the Ft. Worth-Abilene area and has offices in Stephenville. She commended the Thursday Afternoon Club for maintaining a library in Eastland for over fifty years, saying that the value of young lives was inestimable. We know not how many lives have been inspired by something gleaned from a book.

Miss Lee told the group long range plans could be made for a central library in every County seat with branch libraries in the other towns of the county and Book-mobiles at the Cross-roads of the rural areas. "Too much to dream for? Other counties do it. When enough concerned people get behind the movement, it can happen in Eastland County."

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of Thursday Afternoon Club; Mrs. J. F. Francis, vice-president; Mrs. Esco Walter, treasurer; Mrs. C. C. Collings, chairman of the Library board; Mrs. Ben Hamner, Mrs. Jas. Horton, Mrs. W. D. R. Owen, board members; and Mrs. A. E. Cushman, librarian.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beene returned home Thursday after staying with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Speigle, who underwent major surgery in an Andrews Hospital.

THE GORDON SPOT

Agricultural chemicals that are used to control diseases, insects and weeds are beneficial to both producers and consumers. They help the farmers and ranchers by enabling them to produce a larger quantity of food and fiber. The chemicals help the consumers because the results are a higher quality food and cheaper food at the grocery store.

When the chemicals are used according to directions and for the purpose they are intended they are safe and beneficial. The one thing that usually causes tragic results with chemicals is human error.

I am sure most of you have heard of the mercury poisoning of three members of the Huckleby family near Alamogordo, New Mexico. They ate pork from hogs that had been fed grain treated with a mercury base fungicide.

Almost all seed that are to be planted are treated with fungicide to prevent seedling diseases. This includes peanut, grain, corn, and even vegetables seed. The fungicide protects the seed and young plants from soil borne diseases.

Hardy Browder, a 4-H member at Gorman proved the value of planting seed that are treated with fungicide. In his demonstration peanuts that had been treated with a fungicide made 537 pounds more per acre than those that were not treated. So you see the fungicide is very necessary for seed that are planted.

Under no circumstances should fungicide treated grain be fed to meat or dairy animals. Not only is there the possibility of killing the animals, but also the fungicide material can be deposited in the tissue of the animal, and if the meat is consumed, poisoning will result as it did in New Mexico.

I urge all livestock producers, feed dealers and seed dealers to make sure that grain is not treated with fungicide unless it is going to be used for planting only, since consumption of meat or milk from animals fed treated grains can cause poisoning in humans.

Now is the time to spray fruit trees with a dormant oil spray to control scale. Hundreds of fruit trees die in Eastland Co. each year due to scale. If you had trouble with leaf curl on your peach trees last year, I would suggest you add Ferbam of Bordeaux mixture to the oil solution. Peach leaf curl is a disease that causes leaves to look thickened, curled or distorted with a yellowish or reddish tint.

The Eastland Co. peanut committee composed of D. B. Warren and Durwood Burgess of Gorman, Edwin Scheafer of Cisco, D. D. Jackson of Nimrod and Lee Starr of Cisco met Jan. 26 to plan educational activities to help the peanut growers.

Among the activities planned is an irrigation short course in Rising Star, Feb. 17 and 18, and a peanut production short course in Gorman March 11 and 12. They also helped develop peanut production guidelines to be mailed to every peanut grower in Eastland County.

Sunday Subject Is Announced

"Would God that all the Lord's people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his spirit upon them!" These words of Moses in Numbers are part of the Lesson-Sermon titled "Spirit." The lesson will be read this Sunday in Christian Science churches.

A passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy in the lesson is: "Anciently those apostles who were Jesus' students, as well as Paul who was not one of his students, healed the sick and reformed the sinner by their religion. Hence the mistake which allows words, rather than works to follow such examples. (p. 348)"

Sunday services begin at 11 a.m. in First Church of Christ Scientist, Garner Lamar and Plummer Streets, Eastland.

It was on Feb. 10, 1926, that Mrs. Penn, the former Eunice Slatten, began working for the telephone company.

Valley, Pleasant Hill, Word, and Desdemona.

Delegates to the meeting at Glen Rose will be as follows: Mrs. Guy Sherril, Flatwood Club; Mrs. Jack White, Lake Cisco Club; and Mrs. Lester Barker, Desdemona Club.

Mrs. Penn has held supervisory positions temporarily on several occasions and has declined opportunities to receive permanent work of this nature, preferring to be an operator.

She married John C. Penn, also a native of Cisco, on Feb. 12, 1938. They own their own home at 1702 Avenue D, moving there soon after their marriage. She is a member of the First Methodist Church, the Order of Eastern Star and the West of the Brazos Pioneer Club for telephone veterans.

Mrs. Penn has four sisters—Mrs. Lela Swart, Mrs. R. D. McCrary and Mrs. A. F. Miller, all of Cisco, and Mrs. R. M. Sneed of Eastland. She has three brothers, H. L. Slatten of Dallas, Burret Slatten of Lamesa and Stewart Slatten of Sonora.

Mrs. Penn took early retirement because her husband is retiring at the end of the month from the J.C. Penney Company. This will allow them to "see Texas" and take extended vacations. They plan to continue looking after their stock farm near town. The Penns enjoy a wide friendship in this area. Both enjoy good health and are looking forward to many more years of "the good life."
