

is human; to forgive, divine.
Alexander Pope.

Eastland Telegram

United Press Leased Wire in Our Office Connects Eastland With the World Every Minute of the Day.

VI. On the "Broadway of America"

EASTLAND, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1929

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NO. 212

THE WEATHER
WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably showers west portion.
EAST TEXAS—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; local showers near coast.

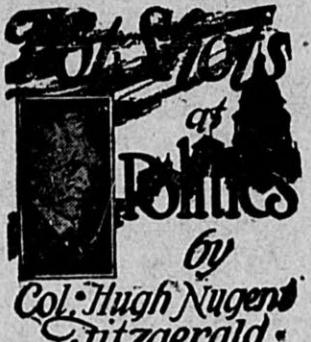

EVEN FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL HERE Pathfinder Plane Is Reported Landed In Rome

00th HOUR OF FLIGHT APPROACHED BY "ANGELENO"

Songs Gather
At Flying Field
To Greet Fliers

Reported by Ships As
They Fly Over Mediterranean

OME—Pathfinder lands.

Constitution Given Recognition

BY UNITED PRESS July 10.—The hour approached today for the silvered, greenbodied Pathfinder to dip down out of Mediterranean sky, completing its one-stop flight from Old Orchard, Me., to Littorio airdrome there was a scene of intense excitement.

Government officials, envoys far-off lands, and prominent men from near and far began meeting as early as 1:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m., EST) although the conservative expected the plane to arrive much

ARIS, July 10.—Several ships in the Mediterranean sea reported by radio the sighting of a plane, presumed to be the Pathfinder, four miles south of

The log of the monoplane Pathfinder's trans-Atlantic flight Eastern standard time, told:

7:48 a. m. (Monday)—Took off from Old Orchard Beach, Me. 4:50 a. m.—Disappeared east into foggy weather 75 miles of Portland lightship. 4:50 p. m.—Sighted over Com Spain, where French monoplane Yellow Bird landed last night.

50 p. m.—Landed at Alber emergency field, five miles Santander, Spain, because of bad shortage.

18 a. m.—E. S. Wednesday—off from Albericia emergency field, Santander, for its hop of approximately 1,000 miles to Rome.

plane was flying too high to markings to be identified. report was confirmed uniformly at 6:40 p. m. (12:40 p. m.) by maritime officials here.

By JULIO VALIN Press Staff Correspondent TANDEM, Spain, July 10.—American trans-Atlantic fliers Q. Williams and Lewis A. A. flew with their monoplane from here for Rome, at A. M. today.

They had been forced down near late yesterday with their fuel tanks short and thus cheated of what they had hoped would be a stop flight from Old Orchard to Rome, Italy.

halted here, the pair practitioners had duplicated the experience of their friendly rivals of French plane Yellow Bird who down in the same vicinity.

now on what they had planned non-stop Old Orchard-Paris

Hains and Yancey found their fit condition, and decided refueling today to push on for Rome goal.

ME. July 10.—Preparations completed early today at Rio airport for the reception American monoplane, Pathfinder and its fliers, Roger Q. Williams and Capt. Lewis A. Evans.

large groups of Romans gathered with newspapermen, photographers, motion picture operators, officials at the air field. They pronounced everything in line to greet the fliers.

Officials were confident Williams and Yancey would land at Rio inasmuch as it is in the line of the fliers.

The aeronautical ministry was setting the Pathfinder's arrival about 7 p. m. (1 p. m. EST) calculating the flying speed of plane at about 110 miles an hour, inasmuch as reports indicated fair weather all along their Mediterranean route.

Air force commanders received

Texas Topics

Marriage Slump—
Biggest Reunion—
Sacrifice—
Fall On Way—
Did He Scratch?

Rev. B. F. Milam, Fannin county's "marrying pastor," disapproves of the "gin mating law," or whatever it is that has caused a sudden slump in weddings. "Must have more marriages," he declared.

Five hundred relatives and friends make the Henrich Kothmann family reunion starting July 10 at Mason the biggest in the country.

MARSHALL: William Atterbury, farmer, lost his life trying to save dog's life. He jumped off a reaper, and one of his legs was severed, from which death resulted.

Fall is coming. This item is in the news: "Farmers offer $100 per hundred this week for cotton picking."

Greenville headline: "H. W. Kilman writes article on bank head."

Irene Briggs, 12, of Fruitland already has entered the eighth grade far ahead of most children her age.

(Continued on Page 2)

County Attorney Shoots Four-Foot Rattler At Home

When County Attorney Joe Jones arrived home about 11 o'clock at night with his family, after an automobile drive, he was alarmed at the rattling of a snake in some shrubbery at the rear of his residence. 411 Pershing.

The family rushed into the house, and Mr. Jones turned his car so that the headlights would play upon the shrubbery. Then he secured his shotgun and blazed away upon a big four-foot rattler, coiled and ready to strike, killing the snake instantly.

Lights in surrounding houses were turned on after the shooting, and neighbors were concerned about the nature of gunplay going on in the Jones family yard at that hour of night. Mr. Jones says—but their fears were relieved when the slain reptile was revealed.

Every boy and every girl should be compelled to make a study of the constitution, including the bill of rights.

This is a constitutional government. There are millions of men and women voters in America who appear to be in ignorance of the important fact.

They flout the constitution, they kick it aside when it suits their purpose, they ignore many important provisions and there are teachers in the schools of the country who need the instruction given to the pupils.

They flout the constitution, they kick it aside when it suits their purpose, they ignore many important provisions and there are teachers in the schools of the country who need the instruction given to the pupils.

And the Axe Fell.

Governor Moody wielded the axe just before the close of the second special session and vetoed 18 bills increasing salaries of public officers in various counties.

Twelve of the measures had been introduced in the senate and six in the house. District attorneys, court reporters, deputy county officers, school superintendents, sheriffs, county commissioners and county auditors were the beneficiaries of the bills vetoed. This excerpt from a veto message tells the story as well as covers all the group:

"It may be therefore said that the bills, with one exception, are general bills but of local application. They are all salary increase bills. I do not believe these salaries should be increased in this manner.

A hint to the lawmakers: take new sources of revenue. This will be a $4,000,000 state next year. Texas is not a poverty stricken commonwealth and millions of Texans who are creators of wealth are not being pauperized as the case of progress moves along.

Texas Topics

Marriage Slump—
Biggest Reunion—
Sacrifice—
Fall On Way—
Did He Scratch?

Rev. B. F. Milam, Fannin county's "marrying pastor," disapproves of the "gin mating law," or whatever it is that has caused a sudden slump in weddings. "Must have more marriages," he declared.

Five hundred relatives and friends make the Henrich Kothmann family reunion starting July 10 at Mason the biggest in the country.

MARSHALL: William Atterbury, farmer, lost his life trying to save dog's life. He jumped off a reaper, and one of his legs was severed, from which death resulted.

Fall is coming. This item is in the news: "Farmers offer $100 per hundred this week for cotton picking."

Greenville headline: "H. W. Kilman writes article on bank head."

Irene Briggs, 12, of Fruitland already has entered the eighth grade far ahead of most children her age.

(Continued on Page 2)

Make New Mark Each 60 Minutes

California Fliers Winging Way On Ninth Day of Endurance Test.

The family rushed into the house, and Mr. Jones turned his car so that the headlights would play upon the shrubbery. Then he secured his shotgun and blazed away upon a big four-foot rattler, coiled and ready to strike, killing the snake instantly.

Lights in surrounding houses were turned on after the shooting, and neighbors were concerned about the nature of gunplay going on in the Jones family yard at that hour of night. Mr. Jones says—but their fears were relieved when the slain reptile was revealed.

Flight low and with its motor apparently working perfectly, the Angeleno started its ninth day in the air at 7:29:30 a. m. At that time it had been in consecutive flight for 192 hours, some 18 hours beyond the previous record.

CULVER CITY, Calif., July 10.—The world's refueling endurance flight rose and fell today with each revolution of the worn motor of the biplane "Angeleno" as it roared onward toward the 200-hour mark with its tireless crew of "two hard-boiled bachelors."

Flying low and with its motor apparently working perfectly, the Angeleno started its ninth day in the air at 7:29:30 a. m. At that time it had been in consecutive flight for 192 hours, some 18 hours beyond the previous record.

CULVER CITY, Calif., July 10.—The world's refueling endurance flight rose and fell today with each revolution of the worn motor of the biplane "Angeleno" as it roared onward toward the 200-hour mark with its tireless crew of "two hard-boiled bachelors."

"We are two hard-boiled bachelors and if you think we are coming down, you are foolish," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

The new record-holders challenged, "Stick around and we'll give you a real mark to shoot at," messaged Loren Mendell and R. M. "Pete" Reinhart as they piloted the "Angeleno" into its 157th hour in the air, bettering by the required one hour the week-old record of Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell of Cleveland.

Citizen Coolidge, At 57

For the first time in 30 years, former president Calvin Coolidge celebrated his birthday in private life. But he was reminded of his public career by scores of telegrams congratulating him on his 57th birthday. After two trips to his office, Mr. Coolidge posed for the photographer on the front porch of his private "White House" at Northampton, Mass., where he is pictured above with Mrs. Coolidge and their dog. It was the birthday of the nation, too, for Mr. Coolidge was born on July 4.

Lose Hope Of Saving Sub Crew

Searching Vessels Withdraw In Heavy Irish Sea.

By UNITED PRESS

LONDON, July 10.—Raging weather on the Irish sea today blasted whatever hopes had been entertained of rescuing the lives of the crew of the British submarine H147 which was rammed yesterday morning by the L-12 and sank within a few seconds.

The 10,000 spectators who watched the veteran Texas barnstormer and his novice companion break the old record of 174 hours yesterday were augmented today by many more who came to see if the fliers would succeed in their attempt to remain aloft 400 hours.

The fact that the "Angeleno" had been flown approximately 45,000 miles before Mendell and Reinhart took it up on the present flight combined with the unique history of the pilots to offer an attraction to the visitors at the airfield.

But the worn motor of the black and red biplane appeared to be functioning like a new motor as the pilots swooped low over the fields on breaking the record yesterday afternoon. And, as the new record holders, Mendell and Reinhart bore little resemblance to the two fliers who ten days ago were virtually unknown.

Reinhart is 29 years old and for

(Continued on Page 2)

Pecan Growers Consider Points About Industry

By UNITED PRESS

TYLER, Tex., July 10.—Continuing their efforts to get at the vital points affecting the present day pecan industry, 250 members of the Texas Pecan Growers' association convened here today in the second of the three-day convention.

The Twelfth Annual convention, with its commercial orcharding, its central theme, will close tomorrow night.

Yesterday they heard recommended the establishment of an experimental station under either state or federal control, which would obtain impartial results in the pecan field, irrespective of grower or variety. The station would also carry on extensive experiments in budding and grafting.

Speakers also suggested a campaign for the general public so it would understand all phases of the pecan industry.

Word was received from Washington yesterday that a new board has been created to study the pecan growing industry with a view to working out a program of research which will prove to be maximum service to the growers.

Three Injured In Collision

By UNITED PRESS

DALLAS, July 10.—Three persons were hurt when a loaded trailer attached to a large truck collided with a sedan on the Fort Worth pike near Dallas last night. C. E. McCullough, 70, of Colorado, received several broken ribs and severe lacerations; L. O. Franklin also of Colorado, suffered minor abrasions and his daughter, Mattie Helen Franklin, 6, received a compound fracture of the jaw, a broken leg and numerous lacerations.

The injured were brought to a Dallas hospital.

W. A. Rudd of Fort Worth was driving the motor truck, officers who investigated the crash said.

"I Can Smoke In Peace In Dallas," Lady Announces

By UNITED PRESS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 10.—"I'll go back to Dallas then—Dallas is a rotten place—but a lady can smoke in peace there." was the retort of a lady reprimanded by a youthful employee in a cafe here for smoking at the counter.

A system has been perfected whereby the user of the plane may read his business letters into the dictaphone, and drop the dictaphone records to the ground by small parachutes, to be mailed.

Three of the planes will be built each month.

Grave Strike Threat Faces New Orleans

45,000 Union Men Resolve to Strike in Southern City

TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY
Publishers
EASTLAND TELEGRAM
EASTLAND COUNTY WEEKLY INDEX
MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE

Published every afternoon (except Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Eastland, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Single copies $.05
One week, by carrier 20
One month .75
Six months 4.00
Three months 2.00
One year 7.50

TEXAS' STORY IS BEING TOLD

Texas is being advertised to the world as it never has been before. Not only are several of the larger cities expending thousands of dollars in advertising themselves in notable media throughout the country, but sectional groups also are being organized to help direct attention to Texas as a whole and to those sections in particular.

Thirty-six Panhandle-Plains counties are carrying on the work of the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., begun last year, and in even a larger way. Exhibits at fairs in the north, newspaper advertising and informative literature are being used, and the movement has the substantial backing and help of the railroads of that section.

South Texas, Inc., has been recently formed to promote the welfare of that part of the state, with a board of directors representing 10 different sections within that area. Data are being gathered from all counties and communities interested and will be put before the people of the north and east with the purpose of selling Texas to them.

Mellon on the War Path
Sec. Andrew W. Mellon is on the war path. He said that the published report that the treasury was considering erecting a seven-foot barbed wire fence along the Canadian border to stop rum runners was an outrageous falsehood as well as a senseless invention.

Asst. Sec. Seymour Lowman was responsible for the story. That is, he and a newspaperman that dry members of congress had "brought up the subjects months ago." Undoubtedly is the head of the treasury department. He does the official speaking for his department. If necessary he mows down his assistants and their interviews, which is as it should be. A cabinet officer should be the voice of his department. He is responsible for his department. He is held responsible for his department. Now who should a little understand do the talking for the big voice or the head of any department of government.

1 Billion Dollar Utility Corporation

Wall street hints at the merger of the public utility interests of the Insuls of Chicago and the North American company. They say that the union would create a billion dollar corporation with combined net income of more than $125,000,000. Wall street announced the formation of the South State Utilities company to take over telephone and gas properties in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. This appears to be the age of big business as well as a big business civilization.

STRONG GATHERS AT FLYING FIELD TO GREET FLIERS

(Continued from page 1)

Instructions to dispatch three airplanes to meet the Pathfinder and escort it to Littorino airport.

Alexander C. Kirk, first secretary of the American embassy, left the embassy for Littorino field to welcome the fliers in behalf of Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, who is staying at Monte Catini taking a cure.

LAVONNE, France, July 10.—The commissary of police reported that a plane believed to be the Pathfinder passed over Bayonne at noon (6 a. m. EST) heading eastward over the Pyrenees. The plane was flying too high to ascertain search.

Bayonne is approximately 110 miles east and slightly north of Sanmander. If the plane sighted was the Pathfinder and the time reported was accurate, the monoplane had made the distance in 32 minutes.

The fliers at 8:30 a. m. today went by air to Albericcia field, five miles away, where the natives' surprise they landed yesterday.

The aviators said they would

OUT OUR WAY

had any knowledge of the smuggled narcotics. She denies she had. Her trunk, she says, was packed by friends in China.

Counsel for Mrs. Kao announced a court order compelling the return of the two suitcases and a trunk, seized in Mrs. Kao's stateroom aboard the liner Tenyo Maru, would be sought.

BELIEVE ARREST TO LEAD TO SOLUTION OF THEFT OF GOLD

By UNITED PRESS
LAREDO, July 10.—With the arrest here of Enrique Gonzales on a warrant charging theft, authorities believed they were approaching a solution of the mysterious disappearance last January of 58,000 pesos of Mexican gold from an automobile.

Gonzales was alleged to have smuggled the gold to the American side for safekeeping in a local bank. He arrived with the gold after banking hours and left it in a car in a garage during the night. Later it was discovered the gold had been removed from the car and Gonzales disappeared.

He was taken in custody by sheriff's officers this week and placed in jail awaiting examining trial.

WENT TO SEE MONKEYS; KILLED BY HIGH VOLTAGE

By UNITED PRESS
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 10.—Kenneth Wilson Brown, 6-year-old orphan, visited a park the other day and spent hours watching monkeys play.

His playmates told him to look into the back end of a garage and he would see some monkeys inside. Kenneth walked to the window and put his chubby hand on an iron bar. He slumped to the ground dead. The bars carried a 110-volt current from electrical apparatus in the machine shop of the garage.

Today police are attempting to learn who turned the electric current through the bars.

BATTLING TYPHOON

By UNITED PRESS
McKinney, July 10.—Local physicians are urging residents here to aid in further preventing the spread of typhoid fever in this city by vaccination. Several cases of typhoid have been reported and physicians are doing their utmost to stamp out the disease.

Rob Hotel Guests Of $750.00; Escape

By UNITED PRESS
GALVESTON, July 10.—Hundreds of guests thronged the lobby, two floors below, two unmasked white men entered the room of J. P. Graves, of Parsons, Kas., at the Buccaneer hotel Tuesday, produced a pistol, and after binding Graves and a companion with strips torn from the bed-linen, escaped with money and jewelry amounting to almost $750.

The thief consisted of about $290 in cash, a diamond ring valued at about $500, and a watch. The two men finally were discovered when a small child in the corridor outside heard their muffled cries for help and notified the office.

MILK'S NEIGHBOR'S COW: PAYS $25 AND COSTS

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va.—It means a fine of $25 and court costs to milk a neighbor's cow.

At least it cost Clark Connors, farmer of Scott Ridge, that much following his conviction on charges of stealing three and one half gallons of milk from a cow owned by Walter Clark, a neighboring farmer. Squire W. C. Clayton ruled that Connors' act constituted pettiness.

Working all day yesterday the house and senate took approximately $1,000,000 from the judiciary, eleemosynary and rural school aid appropriations that were passed at the last session and vetoed by Governor Moody. This leaves more than $2,000,000 to be sliced from the departmental appropriation.

Cuts made yesterday took $2,000 from the judiciary appropriation, $500,000 from the rural school aid and $400,000 from eleemosynary institutions.

Fifty thousand was added for better fire protection at the Terrell State Hospital. The senate also added $173,000 to the educational appropriation bill that the governor vetoed. It will reach the house probably today.

The senate spent the morning discussing an amendment to the law providing for state school per capita aid. Governor Moody requested such an amendment to prevent possible attack on the validity of the law as it now exists.

The house appropriations committee reported favorably a departmental appropriation bill $500,000 more than the one passed at the recent session and vetoed by the governor. The increase comes partly from including in the departmental bill appropriations that were made at the last session in separate bills.

Among the additions was $200,000 for purchase of property about the Alamo. Another was an appropriation of $40,000 for survey of underground water courses.

The senate concurred in the house amendment reducing the judiciary appropriation $2,000. It refused to accept house changes in the rural school aid appropriation bill and conferees were appointed to seek an agreement.

VOTE "FULL FAITH" IN REPRESENTATIVE WHITE

AUSTIN, July 10.—A vote of "full faith" in the honor and integrity of Rep. John H. White of Borger was given by the Texas house of representatives today. The vote was: 70 ayes, five nays and 20 present and not voting.

The vote was taken after Representative White made a statement to the house in reference to a complaint made against him at Borger. This complaint charged him with forgery of a name to a waiver in a divorce suit in which he was the

Committees Of Legislature Are Busy With Bills

House Committee Would Increase Departmental Appropriations $500,000.

By UNITED PRESS
AUSTIN, July 10.—Appropriations for state departments are scheduled to go under the knife today for a major operation in the Texas legislature's attempt to cut former appropriations to a $48,000,000 maximum.

"Hello, everybody! The success of our trans-Atlantic flight in great measure is due to the cooperation of the United States weather bureau, particularly Dr. James Kimball, and the United States coast guard," Commander Kaufman having placed the facilities of the base at our disposal. Also Lieut. Metka followed us to sea for 200 miles with an airplane at a preconvening measure."

Williams said he understood that the Pathfinder had broken the over-water record.

"We covered 3,400 miles over water," he said, "while the Southern Cross between Honolulu and Australia covered 3,180 miles, and, of course, we flew 30 miles further than did the Yellow Bird."

"Yancey showed great energy and remained at the wheel for a total of 20 hours, while keeping good track of the route on the map. This enabled us to reac the exact point on the peninsula which we had figured to reach."

Williams' oft repeated remark to the congratulations that showed upon the fliers was:

"I am glad we are here. I am glad we made the crossing."

Yancey's was: "We will do it next time, revealing that Bellanca already has in preparation the construction of another plane with bigger gasoline storage facilities as well as a wider landing gear."

SOUTHERN CROSS LANDS AT LONDON

LONDON, July 10.—The airplane Southern Cross, piloted by Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, arrived here at the end of its Australia-to-London flight at 3:20 p.m. (9:20 EST).

The plane landed at Croydon airdrome. It had beaten Bert Hinkler's London-to-Australia flight of 15 and a half days by approximately two days.

The Southern Cross thus completed its second attempt to fly from Sydney, N. S. W., to London, the first ending in near disaster when the plane was forced down in the jungles of northwest Australia in a tropical jungle where it was the object of search for weeks.

With Kingsford-Smith were Capt. C. T. P. Ulm, who made the California to Australia flight with him in the Southern Cross, and T. H. McWilliams and H. A. Litchfield.

MAKE NEW MARK EACH 60 MINUTES

(Continued from page 1)

Stepmother of Clara Bow

By UNITED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Letters found in the personal luggage of Mrs. Ying Kao, cultured wife of the Chinese vice consul here, were being translated today for customs authorities investigating the finding of $500,000 worth of opium in seven trunks she brought with her when she returned from a visit to the Orient.

Through the epistles the agents sought to learn whether Mrs. Kao had been held in the Orient.

The Senate spent the morning discussing an amendment to the law providing for state school per capita aid. Governor Moody requested such an amendment to prevent possible attack on the validity of the law as it now exists.

The house appropriations committee reported favorably a departmental appropriation bill $500,000 more than the one passed at the recent session and vetoed by the governor.

The increase comes partly from including in the departmental bill appropriations that were made at the last session in separate bills.

Among the additions was $200,000 for purchase of property about the Alamo. Another was an appropriation of $40,000 for survey of underground water courses.

The senate concurred in the house amendment reducing the judiciary appropriation $2,000.

It refused to accept house changes in the rural school aid appropriation bill and conferees were appointed to seek an agreement.

VOTE "FULL FAITH"

IN REPRESENTATIVE WHITE

AUSTIN, July 10.—A vote of "full faith" in the honor and integrity of Rep. John H. White of Borger was given by the Texas house of representatives today. The vote was: 70 ayes, five nays and 20 present and not voting.

The vote was taken after Representative White made a statement to the house in reference to a complaint made against him at Borger.

This complaint charged him with forgery of a name to a waiver in a divorce suit in which he was the father of Robert Bow, father of Clara Bow.

She has announced she will seek a divorce in Los Angeles, giving

"I'm 21 and he's more than 45," as sufficient explanation.

(Adv.)

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white shoes—a neutral polish for others.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE

SHOE POLISH

One touch of the dauber and scuff disappears.

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded

shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white shoes—a neutral polish for others.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE

SHOE POLISH

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded

shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white

shoes—a neutral polish for others.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE

SHOE POLISH

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded

shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white

shoes—a neutral polish for others.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE

SHOE POLISH

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded

shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white

shoes—a neutral polish for others.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE

SHOE POLISH

Smooth, uniform color comes back to faded

shoes. More than 50 marvelous shades—so many colors for black, brown, tan and white

Marconi Predicts Wonders Yet to Come From His Use Of a Mirror 40 Years Ago

Reflection of Italian Sunlight. He Feels, Will Lead to Less Transmission of Light, Power and Heat.

HENRY T. RUSSELL, Staff Correspondent—July 8.—A ray of light struck a small boy in the hands of a youth some 40 years ago in a result of this seeming occurrence, 10 years or the first time, a shipwreck was enabled to him with an S. O. S.

was told to the United States by a quiet, unassuming Italian whose name is now synonymous with wireless. It was an exclusive interview in predicting almost fanatical in the science of wireless transmission over and heat, moving television, he, Senator Marconi, described how to discover wireless telereally quite simple," he said as though, instead of one of the greatest inventors in the history of the world relating the story of "why it crosses the road."

almost every boy that ever continued simply, "I used to see rays of sunshine on a rope and . . . he paused and significantly, then added,

"you know as well as I do that one can have with wire and a little sunshine, don't

But to me there was something in it than sheer amusement in this reflection of light in the form of the sun's rays an ideal way to transmit to my friends. I put the into practice. Soon I was to converse' with my friends distance by means of flashing

Cloudy Day's Effect

on one day clouds hid the sun view and as a result my signal activities were temporarily stopped. Indeed I realized then first time that this method communication was imperfect.

that it on I set my on the problem of discovway to make up for the de-system.

such as clouds or darkness

the transmission of light caused by the sun, I deto use Hertzian waves which available at all times, night or whether the sun shines or as you probably know,"

simply, "is what resulted invention of wireless telecommunications spoke in perfect En-

tance is gentle. His man-

HOCKEY AND SLIDES By Henry L. Farrell

For Pitchers?

RY time a pitcher goes to the box these days he is life into his hands," was timely offered the other one of the leading pitchers National League.

I hope the ball manufacturer won't wait until one of us before they take that man who they've been pulling our eyes so long, out of it."

Pitchers have plenty to at the liveliness of the ball this year. It seems even resilient than last season. something like two runs per nine inning game. The topnotchers are giving per game.

pitcher quoted above says when he broke into the big the fielders were sup-to do a little work. Now

he bad ones the pitchers come back at the infield ills, and curve balls go over the wall.

• • •

ham's Views

LES A. STONEHAM, president of the Giants, substithat the pitcher says. Stonegrets the passing of the old battles when one run

everything and teams used time, bunt, steal, hit-and-

squeeze to get that tally

J. McGraw concurs. He looks like a rubber ball

bouncing around out

• • •

Larkspur's Boy

K. GARNER, who brought

Blue Larkspur in the Bel-

and the Withers recently, the mount is as gentle as a

and a bearcat for speed and less.

the Belmont," says the forontana boy, "I allowed him along the first mile, figurrun it 1:41. We did it

41-2-5 while the leaders along in 1:39. When they to feel the rapid gait I on Blue Larkspur and the history."

These are all different, says

Some require babying others hustling. Some insist

To Germany in a Motor Boat

In the 26-foot steel motor boat pictured below, these five men from Bronson, Mich., started through the Great Lakes toward the Atlantic ocean on a proposed voyage to Kraf, Germany, near Hamburg. Left to right above are Captain Joe Leppich, 31, German war veteran and head of the expedition; Konrad Kubatko, Henry Schnittger, Arlow Sowers and Rudy Bantle. The boat was named the Kraf in honor of Leppich's birthplace.

at the same time enables us to obtain the utmost use of available ether space.

Asked whether he thought he would ever succeed in making wireless transmission absolutely secret, the Senator declared that already, owing to the great speed (about 100 words per minute) at which messages were transmitted at the present time, unauthorized persons received only a "formidable jumble of sounds," which was quite unintelligible. Amateurs, he explained further, would be prevented from installing the proper apparatus enabling them to disassemble the jumble. (1) On account of the prohibitive cost of the apparatus involved. (2) Because governments only were empowered to license such stations, and would not do so. (3) Because this apparatus would be very difficult to work unless the user secured information from the sender enabling him to "tune" his set to the right pitch.

"In fact," he added, "I would go as far as saying that today it is easier to tap landlines than it would be to tap the wireless."

He was not so interested, for the present at least, in the problem of secrecy he said, as he was in the improving of transmission:

"Now we have succeeded in transmitting the waves across oceans, we must get them to work uninterruptedly, regardless of atmospheric conditions."

Greatest Benefit

Asked what in his opinion was the greatest benefit that had accrued to humanity through the use of his discovery, he said it was the fact that by means of wireless and broadcasting the peoples of the world had been and were still being brought closer together.

"Man's great superiority over animals," he said, "is that he can communicate with his fellows by speech. And anything which tends to increase this facility for instant inter-communication tends, to uplift human nature."

He added that if only on account of thousands of spontaneous demonstrations of gratitude which many people, including humble seamen and their families, had sent him after their lives or the lives of some loved ones had been saved at sea by wireless, he was "optimistic as to human nature."

He has, he said, filed all these "touching tributes" away "for keeps." He said that perhaps among the tributes he has received, the one which he values most, is the gold tablet which was presented to him in New York by the survivors of the "Titanic."

"Such acts of gratitude," he said, "have always touched me profoundly and have made me feel good."

RADIO FEATURES

Thursday's Five Best Features Copyright 1929 by United Press.

WABC network 6:30 CST—United States Marine band.

WJZ network 6:30 CST—The Ghost Hour, with Dunnigan.

WEAF network 7:30 CST—Historic trials.

WJZ network 8:00 CST—Mid-week dance program.

WJZ network 8:30 CST—Round-the-World concert tour.

CHARTERS

BY UNITED PRESS

AUSTIN, Texas, July 10.—Port Ice and Cold Storage company, Corpus Christi, capital stock, $50,000; incorporators, C. D. Anderson, Beatrice M. Anderson and H. C. Wegener.

The First National company, building, Del Rio, capital stock, $45,000; incorporators, E. E. Sawyer, H. B. Ross and A. Madison.

Native Oil company, Austin capital stock, $2,000; incorporators, R. L. Batts, Otto Strolley, and W. V. Brenizer.

Oak Grove country club, Terrell, capital stock, $25,000; incorporators, Homer W. Garrett, B. F. Henderson and Bourke Cartwright.

Catalo stock of the Citizens'

Bridge company of Del Rio was increased from $7,000 to $420,000.

At the same time enables us to obtain the utmost use of available ether space.

Asked whether he thought he would ever succeed in making wireless transmission absolutely secret,

the Senator declared that already, owing to the great speed (about 100 words per minute) at which messages were transmitted at the present time, unauthorized persons received only a "formidable jumble of sounds," which was quite unintelligible. Amateurs, he explained further, would be prevented from installing the proper apparatus enabling them to disassemble the jumble. (1) On account of the prohibitive cost of the apparatus involved. (2) Because governments only were empowered to license such stations, and would not do so. (3) Because this apparatus would be very difficult to work unless the user secured information from the sender enabling him to "tune" his set to the right pitch.

"In fact," he added, "I would go as far as saying that today it is easier to tap landlines than it would be to tap the wireless."

He was not so interested, for the present at least, in the problem of secrecy he said, as he was in the improving of transmission:

"Now we have succeeded in transmitting the waves across oceans, we must get them to work uninterruptedly, regardless of atmospheric conditions."

Greatest Benefit

Asked what in his opinion was the greatest benefit that had accrued to humanity through the use of his discovery, he said it was the fact that by means of wireless and broadcasting the peoples of the world had been and were still being brought closer together.

"Man's great superiority over animals," he said, "is that he can communicate with his fellows by speech. And anything which tends to increase this facility for instant inter-communication tends, to uplift human nature."

He added that if only on account of thousands of spontaneous demonstrations of gratitude which many people, including humble seamen and their families, had sent him after their lives or the lives of some loved ones had been saved at sea by wireless, he was "optimistic as to human nature."

He has, he said, filed all these "touching tributes" away "for keeps."

He said that perhaps among the tributes he has received, the one which he values most, is the gold tablet which was presented to him in New York by the survivors of the "Titanic."

"Such acts of gratitude," he said, "have always touched me profoundly and have made me feel good."

RADIO FEATURES

Thursday's Five Best Features Copyright 1929 by United Press.

WABC network 6:30 CST—United States Marine band.

WJZ network 6:30 CST—The Ghost Hour, with Dunnigan.

WEAF network 7:30 CST—Historic trials.

WJZ network 8:00 CST—Mid-week dance program.

WJZ network 8:30 CST—Round-the-World concert tour.

CHARTERS

BY UNITED PRESS

AUSTIN, Texas, July 10.—Port Ice and Cold Storage company, Corpus Christi, capital stock, $50,000; incorporators, C. D. Anderson, Beatrice M. Anderson and H. C. Wegener.

The First National company, building, Del Rio, capital stock, $45,000; incorporators, E. E. Sawyer, H. B. Ross and A. Madison.

Native Oil company, Austin capital stock, $2,000; incorporat-

ors, R. L. Batts, Otto Strolley, and W. V. Brenizer.

Oak Grove country club, Terrell, capital stock, $25,000; incorporators, Homer W. Garrett, B. F. Henderson and Bourke Cartwright.

Catalo stock of the Citizens'

Bridge company of Del Rio was increased from $7,000 to $420,000.

At the same time enables us to obtain the utmost use of available ether space.

Asked whether he thought he would ever succeed in making wireless transmission absolutely secret,

the Senator declared that already, owing to the great speed (about 100 words per minute) at which messages were transmitted at the present time, unauthorized persons received only a "formidable jumble of sounds," which was quite unintelligible. Amateurs, he explained further, would be prevented from installing the proper apparatus enabling them to disassemble the jumble. (1) On account of the prohibitive cost of the apparatus involved. (2) Because governments only were empowered to license such stations, and would not do so. (3) Because this apparatus would be very difficult to work unless the user secured information from the sender enabling him to "tune" his set to the right pitch.

"In fact," he added, "I would go as far as saying that today it is easier to tap landlines than it would be to tap the wireless."

He was not so interested, for the present at least, in the problem of secrecy he said, as he was in the improving of transmission:

"Now we have succeeded in transmitting the waves across oceans, we must get them to work uninterruptedly, regardless of atmospheric conditions."

Greatest Benefit

Asked what in his opinion was the greatest benefit that had accrued to humanity through the use of his discovery, he said it was the fact that by means of wireless and broadcasting the peoples of the world had been and were still being brought closer together.

BABY CHICK INDUSTRY

IS GROWING IN SOUTH

MARLIN, July 19.—Growth of the Texas baby chick industry was stressed in a talk by Dr. J. J. Johnson of Sulphur Springs before delegates attending the annual convention of the Texas baby chick association here. He said opportunities for the industry to succeed were greater in the south than any other place.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends in Eastland and Olden for their many kindnesses and beautiful floral offerings shown us during the illness and death of our father and grandfather. Signed:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horn, Mr. G. M. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brittain.

NO. 1546

In Re: Guardianship of the estate of Olema Lee May, a minor, 14 county court, Eastland county, Tex.

Notice is hereby given that I, Mrs. Emma Phillips, guardian of the estate of Olema Lee May, a minor, have this day filed my application in the above numbered and entitled cause, for an order of the county judge of Eastland county, Texas, authorizing me, as the guardian of the estate of said ward, to make a mineral lease upon such terms a state court may order and direct, of the following described real estate situated in Eastland county, Texas, in which said ward has an undivided interest, to-wit:

Being the E. 1/20 acres of the R. W. Mason survey, which Mason survey is described as follows: Beginning at the SW corner of the B. G. Ridens survey at a rock pile; thence S. 1096 yrs to a stake for the SW corner of said Mason survey; thence E. 824.5 yrs to a rock pile for the SE corner of said survey; thence N. 1096 yrs to rock pile for NE corner of said survey; thence W. 1096 yrs to place of beginning, said Mason survey containing 160 acres.

Said application will be heard by the county judge of Eastland county, Texas, at the court house in the City of Eastland, Texas, on the 18th day of July A. D. 1929.

Witness my hand this 9th day of July 1929.

MRS. EMMA PHILLIPS,
Guardian of the estate of said ward.

CLASSIFIED ADS
BRING QUICK RESULTS

RATE: 2c per word first insertion, 1c per word each insertion thereafter. No ad taken for less than 3c.

TERMS: Cash with order. No classified ads accepted on charge account.

No ad accepted after 12 noon on week days and 4 p.m. Saturday or Sunday.

1—LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Suitcase on North Seaman street Sunday. Call 60J or 291. Reward.

7—SPECIAL NOTICES

GUARANTEED $5.00 permanent wave. 40th Texas State Bank Building. Phone 491.

ELBERTA PEACHES—Headquarters for past 19 years. Ripe after Monday, 15. Busy Bee Farm, H. F. Short, proprietor, De Leon.

9—HOUSES FOR RENT

FOR RENT—South side duplex house. Five rooms and bath. 201st Oak street.

FOR RENT—5-room house. Call at 165 East Valley.

FOR RENT OR SALE—Small furnished house. South part of town. Phone 622-W.

II—APARTMENTS FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Three and two-room furnished apartments with private bath, desirable location. See Mrs. Lucy Gristy, 701 Plummer Phone 343.

FOR RENT—Three-room furnished apartment. 310 South Lamar, phone 261.

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment, 310 S. Lamar street, phone 261 after 5 o'clock.

308 N. WALNUT, three room apartment, unfurnished, or partly furnished and garage.

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment, 312 S. Seaman.

13—FOR SALE—Miscellaneous

FOR SALE—Small iron safe cheap. Eastland Telegram.

FOR SALE—600 head of good angora goats. A. G. McBee, Cedar Valley Rd. 1.

15—HOUSES FOR SALE

WHY pay rent? Comfortable home for sale reasonable. Attractive neighborhood. 679-J.

23—AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE—1929 Buick master coupe sport model driven three months. Will sell for half price. Bida Top Shop.

DIRECTORY of service stations dispensing TEXACO Gasoline and Motor Oils—

Horned Frog Service Station
Hurt Gasoline Station
Eastland Storage Battery Co.
States Service Corporation
Carbon Motor Co., Carbon
Mutual Motor Co., Station
Pennant Service—Station
Eastland Motor Co.

R. J. Raines
Midway Station, 4 miles west
Joe F. Tow, 5 miles north.
Kellott Serv. Station, S. Seaman
TEXACO Jones, phone 123.

BASEBALL

WEDNESDAY'S STANDINGS

Texas League	Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Wichita Falls	6	3	.667
Waco	6	4	.600
Houston	4	3	.571
Fort Worth	5	5	.500
San Antonio	4	5	.444
Shreveport	3	4	.429
Dallas	3	5	.375
Beaumont	3	5	.375

American League

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Philadelphia	54	20	.730
New York	46	26	.630
St. Louis	45	30	.560
Detroit	43	38	.519
Washington	29	43	.403
Chicago	28	51	.354
Boston	23	55	.295

TUESDAY'S RESULTS

Texas League	Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Ft. Worth	6-1	Shreveport	4-3
Wichita Falls	9-1	Dallas	6-0
Waco	2-0	Houston	0-3
Beaumont	10-7	San Antonio	4-6

American League

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Pittsburgh	47	26	.644
Chicago	44	26	.629
New York	45	32	.584
St. Louis	38	37	.507
Brooklyn	33	40	.452
Philadelphia	32	42	.432
Boston	31	46	.403
Cincinnati	26	47	.356

MOM'N POP

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

tallied once. Shreveport won, 3 to 1.

Watching the Scoreboard.

Yesterday's hero—Herb Pennington, who relieved Waite Hoyt in the ninth inning with the bases filled, stopped a dangerous rally and enabled the New York Yankees to beat the St. Louis Browns 8 to 7, and move within 7 1/2 games of the Philadelphia Athletics. Babe Ruth hit home run No. 18 in the fourth.

With Red Faber on the mound the Chicago White Sox beat the Athletics, 6 to 4, and annexed the series, three games out of four. The White Sox drove Jack Quinn out of the box in the fourth.

Holding the Tigers to four hits Garland Braxton pitched Washington to a 2 to 1 victory over Detroit. Myers' triple and West's single accounted for the winning run.

After blanking the Pirates for seven innings, Clise Dudley, Brooklyn recruit, faltered in the last two innings and the National league leaders beat the Robins, 3 to 1.

Ben Cantwell held the Cubs to five hits and the Boston Braves broke even in a four-game series with Chicago by winning the final game, 6 to 2. Hack Wilson returned to the Cubs' lineup after three days' suspension and hit a double.

The New York Giants moved within 2 1/2 games of the second-place Cubs by beating Cincinnati, 8 to 5, sweeping the four-game series. Kindstrom and Cohen drove in all but one of the Giants' home runs.

Jim Rottomley's homer in the tenth with two mates on base gave the St. Louis Cards a 7 to 4 win over the Phillies. He also hit a Homer in the fourth with one on.

A direct air mail connection between Ranger and points to northern, eastern and western sections of the United States is now available as the result of the addition of a daylight schedule between Dallas, Fort Worth, Tulsa and Kansas City on contract air mail route No. 3, operated by National Air Transport.

The extent to which air mail is used by banks to cut down the time of clearing negotiable paper, by produce merchants and livestock dealers and commission men in obtaining detailed market reports and the sending of manifests, and mailing checks to clients and producers, as well as scores of other business uses, has resulted in a general speeding up of business transactions.

The use of air mail for social correspondence has also shown a leaving here at 4:35 a. m. will reach Fort Worth in time to make connections with the N. A. T. northbound plane leaving there at 9:35 a. m., Postmaster Meroney said. Air mail dispatched on this plane arrives at Kansas City at 2:20 p. m. Connection is made at Chicago for the overnight service to New York, thus enabling a letter leaving here one morning to be in New York and other eastern cities the next morning. Similar connections are made at Chicago for western and northwestern points.

The new daylight schedule of National Air Transport in the southwest provides air mail service to cities both on and off the direct air line, and is the result of the postoffice department's desire to extend the service and make it available to additional communities.

To that effect was the decision of a Randolph county jury in circuit court here. Although interest centered about the trial, and the court room was crowded at every session, the facts were simple. Frank Owens, a mail carrier out of Cario, swapped a mule for Jackson Toles' mare. Frank said the mare was represented as gentle, free from blemishes and would haul the mail cart over the dirt roads of Randolph county with dexterity and the requisite energy.

But a trial showed the mare had a broken hip, was short of wind and inclined to demonstrate fiercely when he tried to hitch her to a vehicle, the plaintiff told the jury. She just wouldn't do at all, Frank said, and he wanted the deal called off.

Jackson Toles denied any warranty. He said that he and Owens sized up the two animals and agreed to swap. He wanted a mule and Owens wanted a mare. Each trader risked his judgment, and was to take what he got. He didn't know any more about Owens' mule than Owens knew about Toles' mare.

At first trial the court sustained a demurrer. Owens appealed to the higher court, which sent the case back for trial, and the parties went at it for two days.

The crowd of spectators followed the examination of the witnesses with unabated interest. It was like old times to bear witnesses describe eyes and legs and wind and blemishes and other

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS

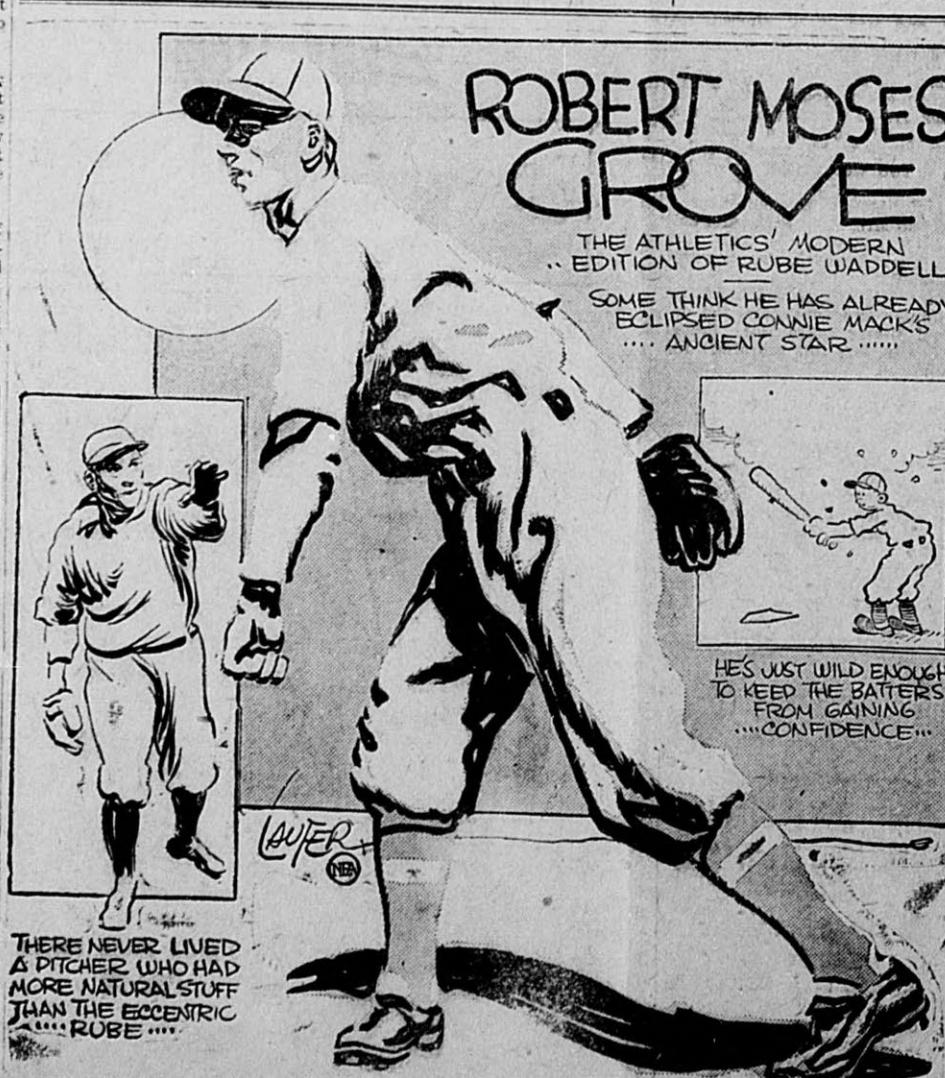

County of Eastland:

To Mrs. Leonora Crutcher, deceased, and the unknown heirs of the said Leonora Crutcher and G. W. Crutcher, deceased, and the unknown heirs of such unknown heirs of the said Leonora Crutcher and G. W. Crutcher, and to all persons owning or having or claiming interest in the following described land delinquent to the City of Eastland, in the County of Eastland, State of Texas, for taxes, to wit: Lots 7 and 8 in Blk. B-3 in the City of Eastland, Eastland County, Texas, which said land, or lots, is delinquent for taxes for the amount of $705.75, for City Taxes for the years 1912, 1918, 1919, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, and you are hereby notified that suit has been brought by the City of Eastland for the collection of taxes, and you are commanded to appear and defend such suit on the first Monday in the August term of the 91st District Court of Eastland County, and State of Texas, same being the 5th day of August, A. D. 1929, and show cause why judgment shall not be rendered condemning said land, or lots, and ordering sale and foreclosure thereof for said taxes and costs of suit.

Witness: W. H. McDONALD, Clerk of the District Courts, Eastland County, Texas. Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in the City of Eastland, Texas, this, the 13th day of June, A. D. 1929.

W. H. McDONALD, Clerk of the District Courts, Eastland County, Texas. By Thos. Haley, Deputy.

(J-3-10-17-24)

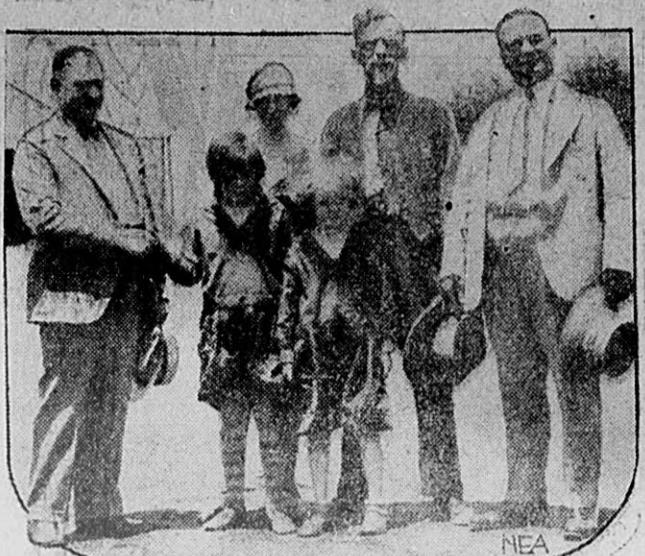

IVAL WIVES

© 1929 NEA SERVICE, INC.

*by Anne Austin
Author of
The Black Pigeon*

Jack Dalton and His Bride

Memories of 40 years ago when the notorious Dalton brothers and their outlaw band terrorized the southwest were revived when Jack Dalton, 60, nephew of Emmett Dalton, the sole survivor of the band, married a woman said to be "Cattle Annie" Burke in an airplane ceremony above Albuquerque, N. M. Jack Dalton said he was not a member of the gang, but that his wife, a childhood sweetheart, is the "Cattle Annie" Burke who carried food to the Dalton brothers while they were hiding out. Pictured here, left to right, are Judge C. L. Ritt, who performed the ceremony in the clouds, the Daltons, and Mayor Clyde Tingley and the two children of Mrs. Dalton by a former marriage.

John Curtis Morgan's wife returned home that Friday in December she went room to room of her husband's house and viewed, with eyes, the havoc wrought by first wife's pillaging. The presses had been ruthlessly naked of their finest treasured.

Only the plainest, most plain of the sheets, towels, clothes and napkins remained shrugged and passed on—drapery missing library, drawing room and room; pictures gone from every wall; great gaps in shelves.

Her emotions numb, a cold anger, Nan forced to enter the big bedroom had once been occupied by the man who was then dead.

Expected to find the room Certainly Iris could claim only that all its furnishings to Vividly Nan the occasion of the room's an eighth wedding day present from John Morgan to his wife. It had Nan's lot, as Morgan's to total the exorbitant write checks for them. The contents of this room were certainly Iris to do with as she pleased, the threshold Nan stopped, incredulously at with a dawning comprehension which made her childish smile. A cynical smile, room was exactly as Iris nearly a year ago. The and blue-green teffeta still hung at the windows; few beds of inlaid Chinese were still dressed in their teffeta spreads, as if awaiting their rightful

At half-past five his telegram came. Nan had not yet left the office. There was no need now for her to rush home to Curtis, for the child, obeying his mother's command, was spending his afternoons in the little house across the street. Nan had not dared issue a counter order to the child to stay at home. If such an order was to be issued, it must come from the father.

She opened the telegram. "Leaving 5:10. Arrive 11:15. Lost. Please meet me. John."

Lost! Nan stared at the word. How sore his heart must be! He had so counted on winning this case. Lost! Not very many times in his career as a criminal lawyer had John Curtis Morgan been forced to make that confession.

She was about to turn back into the house, as Morgan started across the street, when the thought of the neighbors whom Iris scorned to consider stopped her. If any community gossip was watching from behind a curtain, let her also report that John Curtis Morgan's wife had sanctioned that interview to take place across the street. As she forced herself to look on, she was rewarded for the effort it cost her to stay by seeing Morgan firmly and definitely refuse his former wife's invitation to enter the house. Whatever was said between them—and the interview was brief, due obviously to Morgan's impatience to be gone—was said on the porch. Faintly across the street came the tremulous cadences of Iris' voice.

When she met him at the train, his effort to be casual and philosophical over his defeat made Nan want to press his head against her breast and murmur broken little words of love and comfort.

"Well, Nan—that's that!" he said, his mouth quirking downward in the smile she knew so well. But there was no smile in his deep-set black eyes. "Guess we were about due for a tumble. Morgan & Morgan were getting too cocky."

Relief so exquisite that it squeezed happy tears out of her eyes swept over Nan's heart. He was the first wife's bed-had not failed her, God bless him! Now she must not fail him.

"What? Sell this place, when I've just had so much fun redecorating? Not if I have anything to say about it, John!" Her voice was gaily indignant, but her steady eyes said something very different: "We mustn't run, John. We can't win this fight by running away from it."

And it was what her eyes said that he answered. "Thank you, Nan." Then, not looking at her: "I have given my permission, Nan, for Curtis to visit his—mother every afternoon. I—could not refuse. He is—all she has left."

"I have not kept him from her," Nan answered evenly.

"I know," he agreed quickly. "And—thank you again, Nan. . . . Now I've got to make a dash for the courthouse. We're lunching together, aren't we? . . . Fine! Goodby, dear, and don't worry!"

During the week that followed Nan had many occasions to recall his futile advice, "Don't worry!" And every time she remembered, her lips twisted in that new, cynical, bitter smile that set so oddly upon their young softness.

CHAPTER XLV

Looking back upon that hideous week, Nan Morgan realized that it was the Blackhull case which made it possible for her to endure the miseries which Iris Morgan inflicted upon her. Hours spent in the office were not so bad, were even almost happy ones, for she was serving the man she loved as no one else could serve him.

There Iris as a rival ceased almost to exist for the man as well as for the second wife. From 10 to 11, whether Morgan was in the courtroom or at his desk, the junior and senior partner of the firm of Morgan & Morgan were united by bonds so strong that she seemed absurd that a red-haired, green-eyed woman who cared nothing for the career of the man she had been married to and deserted could dissolve them.

But the longest, most intensely exciting work day inevitably came to an end, and the two who had been in one work had to return to their home and become two tragically divided creatures.

Not that Morgan did not try. His efforts to play the role of devoted husband were even more painful to Nan than the spells of black depression to which he invariably succumbed before the terrible evening was over. The breakfast and dinner hours were the hardest of the day, for it was then that the alarming change in Curtis was most obvious. The child whom Nan in less than year had transformed into a cheerful, sturdy little boy, reverted with the suddenness of black magic to the whining, obstreperous, sickly Curtis he had been under his mother's care.

Nan knew, and was fiercely writhed that she could not say so to the father, that Iris was deliberately using the child as one of her most powerful weapons in her fight against her successor. She knew, and did not see how Morgan could fail to see, that the child was acting under orders from the woman across the street when he petulantly refused to eat the wholesome vegetables set before him, when he said bitter, ugly, unchildish things to the girl who had been more than a mother to him; when he dragged in his real mother's name at least three times during every meal; when he asked precocious, searching questions as to why his own mother could not come home again to live and be with him nights, as well as afternoons.

"If you don't eat what Nan tells you to, and speak to her with courtesy, you will have to leave the table and go right to bed," was a remark which the harassed, tragic-eyed father was forced to make at least once during every dinner that was served in that miserable home.

"Won't eat spinach! Hate it! Won't drink milk, neither!" Curtis would scream, his pale face going livid with rage. "Won't be nice to Nan! Hate her! She won't let my mother come home!"

And Nan, white-lipped nauseated, would have to sit wordless before her own scarcely touched plate and witness the dreadful finale: Curtis' banishment to his own room, howling, kicking.

"Perhaps, under the circumstances, a private school WOULD be better," Morgan said somberly after his return to the table from one such scene.

"Does—his mother wish it?" Nan asked coldly.

"Yes," Morgan answered. The flush on his thin, drawn face ended. "She—Iris stopped me on the street yesterday. She—seems very much concerned about the boy, thinks boarding school might be a more—wholesome atmosphere if—since—" He floundered to a stop, and Nan saw that the hand which held his fork was shaking like a sick, old man's.

Nan did not answer aloud, but her lips twisted with that cynical, bitter smile which came so frequently now, as she finished his sentence mentally: "IF I won't acknowledge myself beaten and make way for her to come back."

In the meantime, Iris took care that Morgan should not forget her beauty, the weapon which, after all, was the deadliest in her possession. Regardless of swirling snow or bitter winds, she appeared upon her front porch every morning just before time for her former husband to quit his own house for the office. Invariably she waved him a gay greeting. And every evening of that first week she hit upon a new pretext for being conspicuously in evidence when he returned from his work.

The third day of the Blackhull trial Nan overheard Blake, the young lawyer who served the firm on salary, remark disgustedly to Evans, the clerk: "Guess who's suddenly developed a violent passion for courtroom drama? None other than the fair Iris—the boss' exfrau, you know. Fact! Had a front row seat this morning and yesterday morning. I heard she tipped that new dumbbell of a bailiff to fix it for her. . . . Was the boss fussed? Don't ask!"

"She ought to be ridden out of town on a rail—coming back here and gumming up the works just when Nan had—"

The sound of her own name, in Evans' answering growl, roused the eavesdropper from the lethargy of despair which Blake's news had brought upon her. She turned back into her own office, and for an hour David Blackhull on trial for his life and in need of every atom of help she could give him, was completely deprived of her services.

The tedium of court-room procedure must have bored Iris, however, for on Monday she resorted to more direct and dramatic methods. Nan, accompanying her husband to the front steps to tell him goodby until noon, glanced across the street and saw the slim body of her rival staggering out of the door, bent under the weight of the heavy stepladder she was carrying.

She knew that Morgan saw, too, for he took a quick, involuntary step as if impelled to go to his former wife's aid. Deliberately, Nan kept on with what she had been saying, so that the man's force must wait to hear her out. Just as she was concluding her remark—something about the Blackhull case—Iris stationed the ladder directly beneath the globe of the porch light, and started to climb, an electric bulb in one outstretched hand. On the third step she apparently lost her balance, and with a shrill scream, toppled to the floor.

Almost before the bulb shattered, Morgan was on his way. Nan watched, with curious detachment, as she saw her husband kneel and gather his divorced wife into his arms; watched as he kicked the front door wide and disappeared into the house with his burden. Then, very deliberately, she turned and re-entered her own house, even to allay gossip in the neighborhood could she force herself to cross the street and enter that other house. If Iris was badly hurt and needed more help than her husband could give her, let him telephone for a doctor or a nurse. If the tumble from the ladder had been just a clever bit of acting, and Iris was not really hurt, certainly her—Nan's—interference was the last thing Iris deserved.

It was half an hour before Morgan returned, and because it was almost time for court to open he was in too great a hurry to give Nan more than a few words of explanation:

"She's twisted her ankle—rather badly, I'm afraid, but she wouldn't let me call Dr. Black. I bathed it in hot water, and then bandaged it tightly with liniment. You might send Estelle over with luncheon tray, dear. Curtis will be there to do little things for her this afternoon. . . . Now I've got to make a dash for the courthouse."

When he had gone, Nan wondered if he had emphasized his need for hurry to excuse his not kissing her goodbye.

Quietly, she gave the necessary instructions to Estelle, cut short the maid's sullen protest at being called upon to "wait on that woman," and left for the office in her own car. At one o'clock, just

(Continued on Page 6)

PROTECT
Your Car—Have It Painted
NOW. Let us give you an estimate.

VIDA'S SUPERIOR
Auto Paint, Top & Body Works
East Commerce Phone 14

MORE THAN QUARTER OF MILLION USERS OF GETS

And they haven't spent a single dollar for service!

HAIL BATTERY CO.
Exide Battery

Refrigerators
HALF PRICE
CORNELIUS FURNITURE CO.
260 E. Main Phone 285

PIGGY WIGGLY
ALL OVER THE WORLD

Resources Over
ONE MILLION DOLLARS

TEXAS STATE BANK

Strong—Conservative—Reliable

Who Does Your Washing?

It is quite safe to say that the average housewife in Eastland has a real dislike for wash day. It means not only disagreeable work, but it takes up precious time, and when it's all over she's entirely worn out.

And mother isn't the only one who dreads wash day. She bears the brunt of it—it's the real ogre of her week—but wash day meals have become a tradition.

Even with improved equipment, wash day means an entire day in the housewife's week. The average home can't have all the equipment wash day requires, and what is lacking in equipment must be made up in hard work.

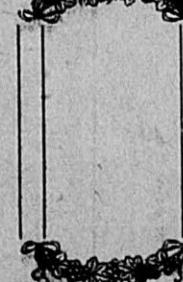

Our laundries on the other hand, wash hundreds of clothes every day in the week. They can install the best and most modern equipment because their business is washing clothes.

Eastland women are coming to depend more and more upon the laundry for their weekly washing. It means a great saving in both time and disposition.

Pretty Sponsor

Why wear a Ball & Chain?

EASTLAND TELEGRAM

Read and Appreciated in Every Home

SOCIETY

Mrs. W. K. Jackson

THURSDAY
Demonstration, "Return of Children of Israel," 4 p.m., Church of Christ. Mrs. Tom Harrell, lecturer. All children invited.

Baptist church choir practice 8 p.m., A. M. Hearn, director.

W. M. S. AND FIDELIS MATRONS CLASS OF BAPTIST CHURCH AU REVOIR PARTY

Mrs. Vernon Lancaster, assisted by the Womens Missionary society and the Fidelis Matrons class of the Baptist church, entertained their membership and several other close friends in honor of Mrs. C. H. Colvin, and Mrs. Earl Dick, yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lancaster, with an informal program of contests, terminating in a flower story, in which the names of flowers were filled in on the slips. Fortunes and following the path of the rainbow to the "pot of gold" brought beautiful handkerchiefs shower to Mrs. Colvin and basket heaped with dainty gifts, in pink and blue ribboned parcels, to Mrs. Dick.

The W. M. S. and Fidelis Matrons presented Mrs. Colvin a costume set in cut-crystal rose marie tint, the presentation made on behalf of donor, by the vice president of the Fidelis class. Mrs. Wilbur Irons. Mrs. Colvin responded with a tribute to the friends she has made here and Mrs. Clyde Garrett, president of W. M. S., very gracefully expressed appreciation on behalf of herself and the society, of Mrs. Colvin's work in the church societies. Dainty refreshments of apricot sherbet and rose-iced angel food squares were served to Mmes. J. B. Overton, A. O. Tindall, R. L. Young, Jess Siebert, V. Cornelius, Charles Smith, J. E. Richardson, A. J. Campbell, Wilbur Irons, Walter E. Brown, Lee Utz, C. Roman, A. O. Cook, Raymond Webb, Lon Horn, E. W. Gourley, Lee Horn, S. S. Brawner, W. C. Freeman, R. L. Hand, Frank Lovett, Eugene Tucker, T. J. Pitts, Colvert J. Mead, Fuller, O. A. Horn, Mmes. Earl H. Dick, and C. H. Colvin, honorees; Mrs. C. L. Garrett and Mrs. Lancaster, house hostess.

MRS. LON HORN, MRS. RAYMOND WEBB, ENTER-TAIN AT HORN HOME

Mrs. C. A. Horn of Olden was the honoree of a pretty gift-shower party, tendered most charmingly by Mrs. Lon Horn, and co-hostess, Mrs. Raymond Webb, on Tuesday afternoon at the Lancaster home.

Roses and sweetpeas adorned the rooms, emphasizing the color motif of the appointments in pink and white. An interesting contest "A Musical Romance," engaged attention and the high score favor, an embroidered towel, was awarded the honor guest. The game of modeling objects in chewing gum was awarded Mrs. John Hart, Hilton, Peggy Langford, Virginia Garrett, Fayannette Campbell and Catherine Garrett.

MRS. C. R. HEARD RETURNS FROM BRAZIL

Mrs. C. R. Heard, until recently of Bahia, Brazil, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. A. Horn of Olden, while on her way to another equally interesting location in old Mexico. Mr. Heard has been engaged in construction work for several years in Bahia.

Mr. and Mrs. Heard's former home was in Dallas, the birthplace of Mr. Heard. He will continue his line of work in Old Mexico and will soon be in Mexico City, his headquarters. Mrs. Heard will join her husband in Mexico following the termination of a few weeks' visit with Texas relatives.

Chiropractors To Meet In Ranger

SAN ANGELO, July 9.—An address by Senator Renfro featured the meeting Sunday of the Chiropractic Oil Belt Society in Brownwood, according to Dr. Ruby Otopaulik.

There were about 60 members at the meeting, which was held in Lakewood park, and the program of talks was followed by a picnic supper, and rousing games, under guidance of their director, Mrs. A. J. Compbell, assisted by Judge and Mrs. Eliza Been and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Garrett, who provided the ice cream treat.

Ranger was chosen as the next meeting place of the society, to be held the first Sunday in August, with Drs. G. S. and M. W. Bronson as hosts.

Hosts at the Brownwood affair were Drs. Bessie Renfro, daughter of the senator, and Van Buckner.

LONDON, July 10.—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Tokio reported today that 30 persons were killed by a landslide which pushed a whole Kagoshima fishing village into the sea. The landslide was caused by excessive rains during recent weeks.

The Job That Launched A Famous Career

Molly Burnham, just out of college, walked into a Boston newspaper office, asked for a job and got it. In a few years everyone in the country had heard about her. She wrote a play, and then another, and then a famous novel. She seemed always to be in the newspaper headlines.

But the world did not know all about Molly Burnham. It did not know that she had lost in love. The story of Molly Burnham, the heartbreak and triumph of her career, in

THE SHINING TALENT IT STARTS SOON IN THE TELEGRAM

RIVAL WIVES

by Anne Austin
Author of
The Black Pigeon

1929 NEA SERVICE INC.

all by herself, and because the music was loud she didn't hear me knock, and I—"

"All right, Estelle!" Nan interrupted crisply. "Anything else?"

"Goodby, then."

At dinner that evening Curtis remarked, in the sullen, belligerent voice he had adopted since his mother's return: "Mother's ankle is awful bad. She said she wished you'd come over and stay with her this evening, father. She said she knew you wouldn't, but she wished you would."

"It's awful to have two mothers," Curtis sobbed on. "And I thought it would be swell, before mother came back. Two oughta be twice as good as one, and I guess it would be that way if they didn't hate each other—I don't WANT to be mean to you, Nan, but—"

"I know, I understand just how hard it is for you, darling. Now kiss Nan, and go to sleep."

As she groped her way down the stairs, Nan told herself fiercely, "This can't go on! It can't!"

At midnight the next night her despairing question was answered, in a way, for borne in on the wings of tragedy, Iris Morgan returned to the home she had deserted a year before.

(To Be Continued)

"Curtis!"

"Can't I even say what mother told me to say?" Curtis burst into tears.

"You have delivered your mother's message," Morgan retorted sternly. "Now stop babbling and eat your dinner."

"Don't want any dinner!" Curtis sobbed. "Not hungry! Sides, I feel sick."

"What did you eat this afternoon, Curtis?" Nan asked quietly.

"Didn't eat nothing but some caviar sandwiches, in some mango pickle, 'n some ice cream and nut cookies," Curtis sniffed, caught off his guard. Then he glared at Nan.

"Who wants to know? It's none of YOUR business! I didn't eat nothing—anything, I mean."

To Nan it seemed so like old times to hear the child correct his grammar that she smiled, in spite of her dreadful anxiety for his health. He did look sick.

"If you're sick, you'd better go to bed immediately," Morgan suggested coldly.

The child slipped from his chair without protest, but stood swaying dizzily. Nan sprang to her feet and ran to him, her heart pounding with fear.

"Here! Don't try to lift him!" Morgan commanded. "I'll carry him upstairs."

"Want Nan," the child whimpered.

After he had been very sick indeed, with Nan holding his head over the bathroom basin, Curtis weakly urged his father out of the room.

"Want Nan," he repeated.

"Want Nan all by herself." When he had his wish, Curtis hid his clammy pale little face against the girl's breast and whispered gaspingly: "I—don't hate you, Nan. Honest—I don't! I'm awful mean."

"No, no!" Nan soothed him, tears gushing out of her eyes.

"You're just ill, darling."

Randolph Clark Elected As The Senate Chaplain

RANGER, Tex., July 10.—The Rev. Randolph Clark, venerable Ranger citizen, has been honored by unanimous election as chaplain of the Texas senate for the special session.

A telegram telling of his election has been received by Dr. Clark from Senator Carl Hardin of Stephenville.

Owing to plans that he had already made for the summer, Dr. Clark has had to decline the appointment with regret. The noted educator and minister, who is 83 years old, has twice served as chaplain of the state senate.

Llano river near Mason. Hickey will supervise marksmanship contests at the camp.

WILL NAME A DELEGATE TO PORT ARTHUR

Legion Meets On Thursday Night—40-and-8 To Have Big Time Soon.

RANGER, Texas, July 10.—One of the peppiest meetings of the year is being planned by the Carl Barnes Post No. 69 American Legion post for their regular weekly meeting, Thursday, July 11.

A contest is to be arranged to select one member to attend the state convention at Port Arthur Aug. 26-28.

All members are urged to be present, as there are several important business topics to be discussed.

The 40-and-8 will hold a district wreck in Ranger on Saturday, July 20, at which time the Fort Worth wrecking crew will have charge of the initiation. All prospective goofs are asked to place their applications with Buzz Johnson. Some 30 applicants have already placed their applications.

The new trophy and war relic display case and the clubrooms equipment have been installed and are ready for the use of the members.

Jackson Family Holds Re-Union

RANGER, Texas, July 10.—A family reunion was held near Nacogdoches, Montague county. Dr. Walter Jackson of Ranger and his eight brothers and three sisters, as well as their families—attended. Dr. Jackson's parents were hosts to the large gathering at a great feast and the entire group attended church.

The camp is located on the

MANY SIGHTS TO BE VIEWED BY TRIPPERS

Will Play Golf 9,000 Feet Above Sea—Will Explore Cavern.

STAMFORD.—The privilege of visiting a mile high fort, playing golf on a course nine thousand feet high, and exploring caves 900 feet below the surface of the earth will be granted to the 60 or more persons who will make the fourth annual motorcade sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, starting July 10, disbanding July 20.

The story of Fort Davis, saved from destruction at one time by the love of an Indian girl for one of its officers will be recalled, as will the battle with the Indians who swarmed like ants out of the natural pallisade of rock, bent on destroying the pale faces with their primitive weapons of warfare. The rare atmosphere of Cloudcroft, the city above the clouds, 9000 feet altitude, will be day of July 10, 1929.

MRS. LAURA E. MURRELL, Guardian of the Estate of B. Murrell and Mattie Murrell, minors.

RECEIVED

Fagg

Dry Goods

Clothing

General Practice

J. H. CATON, M.

401-3 Exchange Nation Bank Bldg.

Phones: Office 301, Res.

CONNELLEE

"Where Cool Breezes Blow" TODAY and TOMORROW You Have Been Waiting to Hear

RECEIVED

MARY PICKFORD IN "COQUETTE"

A SAM TAYLOR PRESENTATION

RED EIGHTY 100% TALKING PICTURE

YOU ARE HEARD AND SEE MARIE IN HER SUPREME TRIUMPH

Prices:

Matinees . . . 10c-35c

Nights . . . 10c-50c

COMING - SUNDAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY - COMING The All Talking, Singing, Dancing Sensation "BROADWAY MELODY" With BESSIE LOVE, CHAS. KING and ANITA PA

Here It Is-The Unexpected MOLDAVE'S

Nameless Sale

Starts Promptly 9 a. m.

Fri. July 12th

$20.00 Gold Piece Given Absolutely Free to Any Person For An Appropriate Name

For This Sale

A sale unsurpassed in the memory of the oldest Citizen

Store Now Closed WAIT!

MEN'S DRESS SHIRTS

Very fine collar attached, the latest kinds.

25c

LADIES' CHIFFON HOSE

Famous Eiffel kind, silk from top to toe.

10c

Read our circular or ask us how.

Read our circular or ask us how.

Read our circular or ask us how.

MEN'S UNDERWEAR

Shirts or Trunks, nice kinds, and plenty of it.

15c

BOYS' UNDERWEAR

Shirts or Trunks, the kind they like.

10c

Read our circular or ask us how.

Read our circular or ask us how.

Read our circular or ask us how.

EASTLAND
TEXAS

MOLDAVE'S

"It's Smart to Be Thrifty"

EASTLAND
TEXAS