

Immediate Appeal On Oil Proration Cases Ordered

Commission Stays By Decision To Carry Issue To Supreme Court

AUSTIN, Feb. 29 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today stuck by an earlier decision to appeal from a federal court conclusion invalidating the method of prorating production in the East Texas oil field.

Chairman Lon A. Smith, who called a conference for possible revocation of the previous decision, announced the attorney general would be requested immediately to appeal from a decision given in the cases of Humble Oil and Refining Company and Rowe & Nichols.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson and Smith favored the appeal, while Commissioner Jerry Sadler, commenting he did not believe in "guesswork," continued to oppose it.

The court which found the present method of distributing the East Texas allowable penalized better wells gave the commission until tomorrow to determine whether to appeal or write a new proration order designed to overcome objections.

Garner Lined Up Too Strong Against FD?

By W. B. BAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—The laggardly filing of other democratic candidates for president has helped to put Vice President Garner in the position of a sore thumb which may get hurt before the convention scramble ends.

Thus far, he is the only candidate listed in competition with President Roosevelt in any of the preferential primaries. A few of his backers are beginning to wonder whether the reaction will work for or against the vice president.

They are somewhat fearful that the Garner name will become so closely identified with the Roosevelt opposition as not only to lessen the possibilities of getting presidential backing for his candidacy but also to help promote a bitterness inside the party which they are anxious to avoid.

Already the stress is being laid on the vast amount of work which Garner did to help get new deal legislation enacted. His arguments with the president are being given less attention. Few of those who have followed closely the course of legislation during the last seven years have any doubts of the strong force that the vice president brought to bear for many of the new deal measures. His supporters say the part he played was so important that they cannot conceive of Mr. Roosevelt failing to campaign for him if the Texan gets the presidential nomination.

But some of the disagreements between the president and vice president have been edged with bitterness. In spite of the personal friendship between them, it is none too certain that the president would support Garner.

ITALY DEALING FOR COAL IN THE U. S.

ROME, Feb. 29 (AP)—Italy was reported in commercial circles today to be negotiating in the United States for the purchase of approximately 3,000,000 tons of bituminous coal to replace imports she usually receives from Germany by sea and which Britain has threatened to blockade.

The negotiations were said to have been conducted by private interests. A government decision concerning them is considered likely within a few days, either approving or rejecting terms. This decision, it was said, probably will be influenced largely by credit facilities which might be extended by the Import-Export bank.

Board's Fuss Flares Anew

AUSTIN, Feb. 29 (AP)—A controversy between members of the Texas liquor control board threatened to flare anew today when member E. W. Crouch of McGregor accused Chairman W. D. Bradford of Dallas of contradicting himself.

Bradfield, a prohibitionist and former Methodist minister, said yesterday enforcement personnel of the board should be increased or the duties returned to city and county authorities.

"Just 16 days ago," Crouch declared in a statement, "Dr. Bradford in a public statement expressed a complete lack of confidence in local officers."

Asserting that Bradford either had a change of heart or "a very poor memory," Crouch continued "I do not understand why he now wishes to impose exclusive law enforcement responsibilities upon agencies he so recently condemned."

Finns Are Forced To Retreat Before Red Onslaught

Defenders Claim, However, To Be Inflicting Heavy Casualties

HELSINKI, Feb. 29 (AP)—Finnish troops have fallen back again before Russian forces hammering toward Vilpuri along the western edge of the Karelian isthmus, but the Finns said they had dug along new defense lines to inflict heavy losses on the enemy.

(A Russian communique said soviet forces were within four miles of Vilpuri.)

Fighting was concentrated at the two extremities of Finland. While the communique of the Finnish high command said "enemy pressure continued" yesterday in the southeast, on the isthmus, fighting also continued at the Nautil river, in the far north about the Arctic Circle.

The Russians were trying at all costs to push their advances on the western flank of the Mannerheim to encircle and capture strategic Vilpuri, Finland's third largest city.

Russian forces also attacked at the other—or eastern—end of the isthmus front "in great force" at Taipale, according to the high command's communique which covered yesterday's action. The communique was unusually brief.

Russian planes meanwhile were sighted over Helsinki today. The capital was subjected to three air alarms up to mid-afternoon.

The Russians lost "heavily" in men in the attacks along the Bay of Vilpuri and the Finns also destroyed 14 tanks, the communique said, while on the eastern front, northeast of Lake Ladoga, four tanks and one armored car were destroyed.

The high command said the Finns had captured "a few enemy strong points" at Kuhmo, on the eastern front below Finland's "waist," while in the far north, in the Petsamo region, "fighting continues at the Nautil river."

HOOPER ASKS FUND FOR POLISH RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—Former President Hoover recommended today that congress appropriate $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 now for Polish relief.

"The whole of Europe will be a spot of starvation when the war is over," he told the house foreign affairs committee, in declaring that the hardest hit of all today is dismembered Poland.

Hoover has been active lately in helping raise funds for Finland. An appropriation now for Polish relief, Hoover testified, would help greatly in expediting the work, since the relief agency details could best be worked out with knowledge of what money was in sight.

Leap Year Child Is Four Today But Observes First Anniversary

Jan Dee Arthur Honored With Several Parties

All this to-do about having only one birthday every four years because one happens to be born during Leap Year seems sort of novel to Miss Jan Dee Arthur, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Arthur, and regardless of tradition she felt very much four years old today. And furthermore, insisted on four candles on her birthday cake instead of one. Jan, who was born in Abilene, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Grisham and Mrs. Lou Arthur, all of Abilene, but former residents here, and is to be included today in the Leap Year Club birthday party sponsored by the Abilene Reporter-News. She was Abilene's only little Leap Year girl in 1936. The four-year-old is blond haired and blue eyed and is the only one in the family born on February 29th as far as the family can determine. She was made an honorary member of the Abilene club at her birth. She later became a pledge and at the meeting today will be a full-fledged member.

Wednesday was a full day for the Leap Year child as she was honored with a birthday party at the pre-school operated by Mrs. Amelia Farrar and was featured on the chamber of commerce program Wednesday evening with the school when she sang a song. Wednesday night she and Mrs. Arthur left by plane for Abilene for the other affair.

The birthday honoree, however, just got in under the wire as she was born just thirty minutes before March 1st. A younger brother, J. Van, is several birthdays up on Jan with two already and another one coming in June. The party held Wednesday at the school was featured with a red, green and white cake with the four red candles as requested by the honoree. She was presented with a gold locket from the other pupils and other gifts.

Miniature planes were favored and white roses decorated the table covered with a red paper cloth.

Last week a new era began in the Texas citrus fruit industry when Engleman Gardens association, packers of Won-Up, shipped the first solid trainload of canned grapefruit juice ever to move from the Rio-Grande Valley. The solid trainload of 24 cars, consigned to a Houston warehouse, consisted of 47,000 cases of Won-Up, which, packed 72 cans to the case, totaled 3,484,800 5-cent cans of grapefruit juice with a retail value of $175,000.

The shipment weighed 1,688,018 pounds and is, according to officials of the Missouri Pacific Lines, the largest single outbound shipment of freight ever to originate in the Lower Rio Grande Valley in the 38 years the Missouri Pacific has been operating in this section. The 24 solid carloads of canned grapefruit juice represent just one week's operation of Engleman Gardens' huge juice plant, according to G. O. McDaniel, the association's vice-president and general sales manager. This is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that Won-Up, the first 5-cent can of grapefruit juice, has been on the market but one year.

Twelve months ago the association began packing grapefruit juice in soft-drink cans for sale at nickel drink outlets. Did the idea of selling grapefruit juice at a nickel a can "take"? McDaniel reports "And how! Our franchise and associate dealers now

COTTON SHIPMENTS GAIN IN JANUARY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)—Increased cotton shipments were an important factor in boosting the margin of American merchandise exports over imports during January to $126,569,000.

The commerce department said last night that January exports totaled $368,550,000 and imports $241,981,000. The margin was one of the largest in recent years. In January, 1939, it was only $34,665,000.

January cotton shipments totaled 1,125,000 bales, compared with 327,000 a year ago. Other important exports during the month included airplanes, machinery, metals, canned vegetables and semi-manufactured goods. Imports increased on silk, wool, nickel, wood pulp, diamonds and burlap.

Higher Stock Of Gasoline Is Reported

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 29 (AP)—For the second successive week gasoline stocks in the United States reached a record high despite a decline in refining operations. The American Petroleum Institute reported gasoline stocks at 96,719,000 barrels for the week ended Feb. 24.

Refiners apparently are pointing for a spring and summer demand which they expect will set new consumption records. The gasoline market still was soft, but some marketmen noted spotty improvement. Good weather, they said, would be the greatest help factor.

The Sun Oil Co. announced it was returning to operation of service stations and said it would improve and extend its distribution facilities.

In Louisiana and Arkansas, the Standard Oil Co. topped off a half cent on gasoline prices.

The Cole bill did not diminish the size of the industry's legislative bogeyman. Many oil executives say the fight against it probably must be carried to the floor of the house.

The crude market continued unchanged. Texas and Louisiana have issued March allowable orders above the bureau of mines estimate of market demand.

Production in Illinois, which had no proration law, continued upward, with some sources predicting it would top 500,000 barrels daily by late in March. In the Finley Dome area of Tazewell county, Mississippi, the Union Producing Co. has announced plans to drill 80 tests.

The Oil and Gas Journal reported 805 completions in the United States for the week ended Feb. 24, compared with 446 the previous week, and 399 a year ago.

North Texas got what it believed to be its largest discovery well, a Montague county wildcat that flowed 425 barrels in three hours. The Wade City distillate pool in Jim Wells county, Southwest Texas, got its first oil well. The King pool in Pottawatomie county, Oklahoma, was extended, and the Cement field, Caddo county, got a 2,887 barrel well.

A fourth producing horizon was opened in northern Eddy county, New Mexico.

THAT'S A LOT OF LOBSTER—Veteran fish dealers in New York markets agreed to a man that they'd seldom seen as hefty a lobster as this two-foot-long, 14-pounder being held by J. Arthur White. Note starlike claw (right).

Applications Received For Census Work

Although numerous applications have been received for census work in the forthcoming population-agricultural census, it is believed that in some counties more enumerators will be needed than have applied to date, it has been announced by A. G. Boarden of Lamesa, district supervisor. With this in view it is desired that all who may be interested in working as enumerators write or call for official application forms and file applications with the district supervisor before March 10th.

For the benefit of all applicants the following information regarding the 1940 census and enumeration work is given below:

1. The census of population, agriculture (including irrigation) and housing will start on April 2, 1940.
2. All enumerators will be required to give their full time to the job until their district is completed, and will not be allowed to resign if they decide the work is too hard or does not pay enough.
3. Enumerators in city districts will be expected to complete their district in two weeks, and enumerators in rural districts will be expected to complete their district in four weeks.
4. Enumerators will be paid on piece work basis, at so much per name or so much for each completed farm and ranch schedule, and so much for each irrigation schedule. The rate has not been determined so far as I know, but I am authorized to advise that a reasonably industrious person can earn from $4 to $5 per day. However, no allowance is made for use of one's car.
5. Enumerators will be paid upon satisfactory completion of their assignment.
6. A preliminary selection of enumerators, equal to about fifty per cent more than the number estimated as being required, will be made during the early part of March (probably). These preliminary selections will be made upon the basis of the applications submitted, and other pertinent information obtained from other sources. These preliminary selections will each be forwarded material for study, and later required to assemble at convenient points for tests upon that material. Ultimate selections of enumerators will then be made from those making the best grades in the tests, and otherwise indicating their ability to make good enumerators.
7. Enumerators ultimately selected will then be required to fill out a training schedule and sample farm and ranch schedule (if selected for a rural district) and return them to district office. Later, all such enumerators will be assembled in convenient sized groups and have additional tests administered to determine that such enumerators are properly instructed and trained. A few more enumerators may be trained than will actually be used.
8. It is not known at present the number of enumerators that will be needed for any county, but roughly, there will be an enumerator for each 1,200 people in the county. Hence, the number in the district will be quite large.
9. There are no clerical positions open.
10. All schedules must be made out in ink. They will not be acceptable, and the enumerator cannot be paid for obtaining them unless they are legible. Therefore, it is imperative that all enumerators have at least a fair handwriting.
11. Enumerators must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of eighteen and sixty-five, and must not be retired employees of the federal government receiving

Applications Received For Census Work

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today postponed from April 1 to May 1 the effective date of its order in the long-fought southern rate case. It was the second such postponement.

While the order gave no reason for the commission's action, it was understood it was to give additional time for consideration of numerous petitions urging and opposing reopening of the case, and to give the railroads more time to prepare their tariffs in the event the commission refuses to reopen the case.

The commission's decision, regarded by the south as an opening wedge in its fight for more favorable freight rates, prescribed reduced rates on a dozen commodities from the south into the north to a level approximating the rate basis within the north.

No 'Glamor' In Film Version Of Grapes Of Wrath

To develop completely the human, every-day warmth and power of the most widely discussed novel of modern literature was the primary concern of all those connected with Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath," John Steinbeck's sensation best-seller which was wildly acclaimed at its world premiere run at New York's Rivoli theatre and which 20th Century-Fox will present at the Ritz theatre in Big Spring for four days beginning Sunday.

As soon as Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson had completed his screen play of the Steinbeck story, all the resources of the studios were put at the disposal of Academy Award Winner John Ford, who directed the picture.

From the outset Director Ford impressed all his players, from Henry Fonda, who plays the part of Tom Joad, down to the lowliest extra, with the essential simplicity and power of Steinbeck's widely acclaimed novel. Ford forbade the use of make-up in the set. He also used the candid camera technique in shooting scenes. Thus, for the first time in the history of Hollywood, players were filmed without benefit of glamorizing lights.

Whenever possible, Director Ford used real "Okies" as extras. More than one of these "Okies" families made more in the few days they were on the 20th Century-Fox lot than the Joad family was able to gather together after selling all their earthly possessions to finance their now historic journey from the dust bowl.

Moore Cagers Are Honored At P-TA Meet

MOORE, Feb. 29—The Parent-Teacher Association gave a program on "Preparation for Marriage and Home Life" Monday night before a large audience.

Mrs. E. M. Newton discussed the subject "Attitudes Towards Marriage and Home Life." Preparation for Homemaking" was discussed by Mrs. W. H. Ward, and Mrs. D. W. It not only won all of its fourteen games on the league schedule, and a beautiful engraved 12 inch trophy, but compiled a total of 175 points to its opponents' 74.

Other honors won by the team were as follows: A runnerup trophy in an invitational tournament at Moore, being defeated in the final game by Center Point by one point; and a runner-up trophy in an invitational tournament at Center Point, being defeated by the same team by one point.

The Consumer Pays

Stanley Andrews, editor of The American Cotton Grower, a magazine published in Atlanta, Georgia, and owned by members of some of the various cotton associations over the South, presented in a recent issue of the magazine the proposed certificate plan for providing a higher price for the cotton to the producer. The plan also is proposed to include wheat and rice, and if adopted for all these presumably would be made to include corn, potatoes and other staple commodities.

Mr. Andrews believes a good thing about the plan would be that it would get financing of a farm program away from a year-to-year congressional vote. Also he thinks it would obviate the commodity loans and thus allow the markets to operate freely; and the farmer would get his money when he sold his product and not have to wait as now on parity payments. All these Mr. Andrews considers good.

Then he presents the other side, as any fair-minded person should. He says it places the cost of equalizing the income of a producer on the consumer of that product and he thinks, if the problem of agriculture is a national one, all people should help pay and a general tax should be levied. Second, if effort is made to bring farm products to parity, it would require a high value on the certificates, this making the price of the processed commodity to the consumer so high that he might buy less or buy substitutes.

The text of the proposed certificate plan, like that of all the other plans designed to overcome the law of supply and demand, is so complicated and involved that only persons familiar with such documents can understand it. Boiled down, however, it is like all the others, and like the law of supply and demand—the consumer ultimately does the paying. The only difference in this particular case would be that inflation of the certificate plan would make the consumer pay more. That much is certain.

HOLLYWOOD—Except in tone of voice, there is so much similarity between Glenn Frank's republican committee report and the democratic platform of 1936, as enlarged upon since, that the likenesses are at least as striking as the differences.

FOREIGN POLICY
 Republican—"Scrupulous neutrality." Democratic—"True neutrality." Republican—"Defense of the hemisphere." Democratic—"Sufficient military force to resist aggression. Both urge keeping out of war by avoiding inciting incidents, commitments, or dangerous emotions.

AGRICULTURE
 Both hunt increased markets for agriculture at home and abroad. Both are for reciprocal trade negotiations, although the republicans would subject each agreement to congressional ratification. Secretary of State Hull says that would kill the program. Both would keep down excess production by acreage control, and both would boost farm returns by subsidies so long as necessary.

BUSINESS
 Each lambasts the other spiritedly for numbing relationships with business. The republican program would foster private enterprise by "protective" rather than "restrictive" governmental measures. The G.O.P. calls for a "socially protective framework of regulation." The democratic platform says business is its own worst restriction, and urges ending monopolistic restrictions on trade.

GOVERNMENT FINANCE
 Republican—"20 per cent reduction in federal spending. Balanced budget by 1942. Democratic platform—"Reduce expenses," and bring a balanced budget "at the earliest possible moment."

TAXES
 Republican—"Cut high personal income surtax rates, abolish certain business levies, make future federal and state bonds taxable. Democratic—"Tax on ability to pay." Not too friendly to reducing business levies, although they imposed, then cut out, the corporate surplus tax.

CURRENCY
 Republican—"Abolish presidential emergency monetary powers, restore gold standard when a competent committee says it is wise. Democratic—"Keep essential monetary powers. Very much in a cither whether; when, or how to restore gold.

RELIEF
 Both are for relief for all in need. Republican—"Administer relief in states with federal grants in aid. Democratic—"Keep control in federal hands.

SOCIAL SECURITY
 Republican—"Expand and improve administration of social security—pay as you go. Democratic—"Keep step with ever-increasing ability of America to provide high standard of living. "Big reserve" scheme modified.

POWER
 Republican—"No more yardstick TVA's. Recognize right of municipal ownership. That could mean something akin to the new deal's rural electrification program. Democratic—"Continued yardstick—carrying policy into Bonneville and Coulee dam area.

LABOR
 Republican—"Amend labor relations act—safeguard employers. Separate its administrative and judicial functions. Fully protect organizing and bargaining. Democratic—"In 1936 fairly contented with labor act. Still insists upon protecting labor position but giving way to fever of amendments.

Chapter 34
OUT OF DANGER

As I turned to leave I heard the Sergeant calling me from the stairway. Explanations were getting to be second nature, so it took me only a few minutes to tell him the little I knew. I said I wasn't at all certain when I first heard the sound of the engine. I was afraid to ask who had been found in the garage.

"Well, that's that," he said. "It's a good thing you heard it. He'll pull through."

So the man was alive. "Who is it?" I finally said.

"Whitefield."

"Why—how—?"

"That's what I'd like to know." The Sergeant shook his head angrily. "His car wasn't in the garage at six o'clock. There's supposed to be someone watching this house every minute, yet he drives in, leaves his motor running to commit suicide and no one sees him."

He stamped down the stairs, leaving me in a ferment. Whitefield had tried to commit suicide. And for what reason? And where was Dirk? And when I thought of him, I knew why Bermuda had lost caste. New York with its murders, blizzards and mysteries was better with Dirk than fields of fragrant Easter lilies and sunshine would be with Toby.

And then I thought, "That lawyer has a high regard for you, Miss Howarth. He goes dashing off, leaving you to the mercies of people who break into rooms and room around fire escapes."

That Wednesday night, the third evening I'd spent in the house, was the longest I've ever put in. I sat up in the wing chair by the fireplace with the lights on, alternately furious at Dirk and then melting. I got snatches of sleep, I suppose, but the little I had was interrupted by dreams, and I would start up, my eyes going first to the fire escape and then to the door.

In the morning about eight o'clock Dirk appeared without a word of explanation, looking as though he'd been up all night. After breakfast with him at the Knife and Fork he brought me back to the house and left again. He had said nothing except to ask me how I'd slept.

The shop was still closed, of course, and Ishi wandered around the house following the reporters who had arrived in droves. The attempted suicide seemed to make more impression than the murders. Mary Ann and Adrienne were both out and Mrs. Evans was among the missing for a change.

Sarah finally showed up and gave my apartment more of a lick and a promise than the thorough cleaning that it needed. She went about her work in sullen silence and departed with a backward glance of disapproval.

Mr. Kimball called me about half-past ten. He asked me if I minded sitting in the shop for a little while in case anyone called. The reporters had nearly driven him mad and he wanted to take a short walk. Ishi had to stay with the reporters while they were in Whitefield's apartment.

The reporters subsided a little after he left and the house was fairly quiet and desolate, though the day was clear and the sun shone brightly on the snowy street. I had the feeling you have after a funeral when the shades are still drawn and voices are muted.

About eleven o'clock a woman came to the shop and asked for Miss Wells. I called up the stairway, but neither of the girls had come in yet. And the woman, I took her to be about Mr. Kimball's age, asked if she might wait. She took a chair by the window and sat there until Mr. Kimball came back, and then I took her up to my apartment.

She took a chair by the window, sitting on the edge of it and looking at me timidly from time to time without speaking. I tried to talk a little, but she didn't seem to be listening, and suddenly she interrupted me in the middle of a brief survey of New York weather.

"Do you know Miss Wells?" she asked.

"Yes," I said. "Not very well, though. I've lived here for only three days."

She was silent again and I looked at her curiously. She was rather attractive in a faded sort of way. Her clothes were unpretentious, but she held herself with a quiet pride.

"I wonder," she said after a moment, "if you would mind describing her—Miss Wells—to me?"

I was surprised. It seemed odd that she had come to see the girl without knowing her. But when I finished a very lame description the woman nodded her head vigorously and a smile lighted her face.

"You don't know what this means to me," she said, drawing her chair closer to mine. "I've worried for months not knowing where she was or what she was doing. Then I saw her name in the papers. Adrienne Wells, it said. Her name is really Ada. But I said to myself, maybe she's changed her name. I hoped and prayed this Adrienne would be her."

I was confused and she must have noticed it, for she said, "You see, I'm Ada Wells' mother."

I murmured something inaudibly. There was nothing that I could think of to say. It seemed almost incredible that this pleasant, home-like person could be the mother of a girl like Adrienne Wells.

"Is she all right?" she asked eagerly. "Well, I mean?"

"I'm not sure," I answered. "I'm afraid that much." She hesitated. "I read all about it in the papers and I was so worried. I couldn't leave him—her father—to come here yesterday. He isn't very well. She isn't... I mean, she faltered, "the police don't suspect her, do they? It didn't sound right in the papers."

"No, of course not," I told her quickly. "They question everyone in the house. That's just a formality."

The woman was intensely relieved. I could tell, although she said hastily, "Of course, I knew she'd never do anything wrong, but not hearing from her and not knowing where she was living worried me." She took a handkerchief out of her worn leather bag and wiped her eyes.

"You must have been upset," I said. The woman leaned forward con-

How The States Will Choose Delegates To National Conventions

By MORGAN M. HEATLY
AP Features Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Significant among the political signs of the times is the fact that the presidential primary tussles are crashing Page One in mid-winter—and in competition with war news.

The front-page positions of headlines like "Dewey Enters Illinois Race," and "Farley Slate in Massachusetts," may mean that rank-and-file voters will have a chance to play an active, practical role in selecting nominees for president.

If the "average voters" do, it will be the first time that John Q. and Mary Jane Citizens have definitely participated in the presidential preliminaries on a nationwide basis in 28 years. For it was in 1912 that the popular voice played hob with republican primaries and gave Teddy Roosevelt's backers the courage to set up their candidate as an independent.

VOTERS' INFLUENCE VAGUE

Before 1912, and since, the influence of the rank and file in the trial heats has been indirect, vague, inconclusive.

The reason for their impotence during the candidate-hunting phase of presidential politics lies in the fact that the democratic way of nominating and electing is unsuited to smoking out candidates for office.

It works smoothly only after the candidates have been picked and the final race is on. For instance, you can't actually draft a man who doesn't want to be drafted, in so doing, you deprive him of the liberty to run or not to run, a liberty guaranteed by the democratic form of government.

That automatically leaves the selection of candidates to political parties, and, more especially, to the people who make a profession of running parties.

CAUCUSES USED FIRST

Party leaders first adopted the secret caucus system because it was already in practical use as a town-council method of picking candidates. Out of the national party caucuses in Washington candidates suddenly and mysteriously appeared. Voters had no choice but to pass on the caucus selections of both parties.

About 1825, the caucus died the death of a political villain and the convention system supplanted it. In the convention, the parties were supposed to select their candidates openly. But soon the evils of the caucus appeared in the form of the "smoke-filled back room," and cliques were charged with manipulating conventions like Punch and Judy shows.

Around the turn of the century the political primary idea evolved, almost spontaneously, as a remedy for the evils in the convention system. Under the primary system, the idea was to control political parties under state laws, and make them quasi-public organizations.

PRIMARY A PROGRESSIVE IDEA

But from the very start, the primary movement was doomed to failure as a nationwide institution. In the first place, each state has a right to do as it pleases about political parties, and in the second place, professional politicians usually distrust gusts of popular opinion. They fought the primary idea from the word go.

The result: only 14 states, albeit the more populous ones, have presidential primaries. In three others, Arkansas, Georgia and Alabama, the voters may have a primary if the powers that be in the parties will let them. Alabama leaders have decided to hold a primary this year. The others are making up their minds.

That means 15 states—Alabama, California, Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, West Virginia, and Wisconsin, will elect their candidates to the national conventions. However, eight of the Illinois and New York delegates are picked by party committees. The District of Columbia also elects their delegates, but the republicans do not.

Those 15 states will have a total of 492 delegates at the 1940 democratic convention out of 1,100 and 460 delegates to the republican convention out of 1,400—less in each case than a majority.

All except three of the 15—Alabama, Florida, and New York—also give their voters a chance to directly express a preference for president, in addition to electing delegates of known preference. But the delegates aren't very seriously bound by that preference.

Furthermore, most of the primary systems in operation are compromises between the progressive elements in the two political parties, and professional political leaders. This means that the delegates elected to vote for certain candidates in the national conventions, may not do so beyond a few ballots. It also means that the expression by the voters of a presidential preference, where it is required under state laws, is not mandatory preference.

POPULAR WILL IGNORED

In 1912, the primaries got out of bounds in the republican pasture. They brought out a strong popular expression for Teddy Roosevelt. This reason was the fact that Roosevelt gave the republican party a clear-cut issue between conservatism and progressivism. The votes indicated they were thinking in progressive terms, but these signs were ignored with disastrous results at the polls.

Similarly—in 1940, the high pitch of interest in the spring primaries as reflected in the prominence of the headlines and the keen discussions everywhere by voters, is an indication that the primaries may again furnish high-powered spontaneous combustion within both parties.

Despite the fact that all the candidates in the field are traveling under liberal banners, most of them have been in public life long enough for the voters to have made up their minds about each candidate's particular shade of liberalism; i. e., whether he's straight-away, left-wing, conservative, or what-not.

If the voting in both parties in the spring primaries should establish the fact that voters in primary-holding states are all thinking either in conservative or liberal directions, then the primary vote will have an important effect on the national conventions. For party leaders these days don't ignore popular signs as they did in 1912.

Likewise, the fact that the primaries are developing into free-for-all races giving them the atmosphere of a political testing ground. In short, more than a crop of favorite sons may appear. And, even though some of the more prominent candidates won't enter some of the primaries, the voting may show which candidates the voters do not want. And that's a very important item.

Kimball invited both of us down stairs, and Mary Ann passed them on her way up.

"What does he want with her? What did she do?" she gasped to me.

I shook my head. If Whitefield was connected with Joan's and Richard's deaths, Adrienne would be mixed up in them too. She'd been with the artist that evening.

Leap Year

woman from proposing. She can do so any time she likes. Age-old experience has taught her that it is not worthwhile. If she is not clever enough to maneuver a man into a position where he will propose to her — thereby feeling that he is keeping the highly-prized masculine initiative in his own hands — she might not be clever enough to keep a husband after she got him. Of course, there are exceptions. Some men are dependent by nature. They want strong, aggressive, dominating wives. If that is the kind of a wife a man wants, he will have no trouble whatever in getting one. He may be entirely happy with her.

Study of thousands of marriages by the Los Angeles Institute of Family Relations reveals that marriages in which the husband is boss are 30 per cent happier than those in which the wife is boss. Even at that, it is evident that there are many happy marriages in which the wife is boss — one husband out of every eight in the United States is in this happy-but-bossed-by-his-wife group. The wife, in such a case, may be less happy than the husband.

But the average girl, who admires a strong, dependable man and wants such a man for a husband, will be ill-advised if she proposes to him. Leap Year or no Leap Year. There are plenty of other ways of getting a man!

Formation of a civic bowling league is expected to result from a meeting called for 8 p. m. Thursday at the local bowling alley. The league, according to plans, will be composed chiefly of beginner bowlers who are service club members. Expected to be represented at the meet are the Lions, A.E.C., Rotary, and Kiwanis clubs, the Elks lodge and the American Legion post.

With indications that the Lions club may furnish as many as three teams, prospects are considered bright for an eight team loop. Other organizations than those named are urged to send delegates to the party if interested.

Organized for recreational purposes, any proceeds resulting from competition will go to charity.

County's Gin Total 18,471

Howard county gins turned out a total of 18,471 bales of cotton from the 1939 crop to Feb. 1, figures at the county AAA office showed Thursday.

Production by Howard county, however, stood to be considerably less than this amount, possibly three to four thousand bales under it. Cross-county ginnings were figured in the report.

To Feb. 1 the gross poundage by local gins was 9,094,241 and the net 9,283,982.

Howard county producers ginned 2,100 bales in Martin county, a gross poundage of 1,110,740 or a net of 1,095,590 pounds. Howard county cotton ginned in Dawson county amounted to 144 bales or a gross of 74,030 pounds and a net poundage of 70,862.

In both instances, it was predicted, the amount of cotton from the two counties ginned in Howard county would exceed greatly the total produced in this county and ginned in Martin and Dawson. Likewise, the cross-county balance in other surrounding counties appeared likely to be in favor of Howard county.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—A group of stocks headed by the steels broke away from the herd today and headed back up hills in the direction of greener pastures. The buoyant action of these selected issues lifted the whole market level toward the close. Transfers, although limited to around 800,000 shares, still were the best for any day this week.

Closely allied to steel in the rise were rails. Both benefited by a variety of industrial reports which included a less than seasonal decline in freight carloadings and announcement that class 1 railroads in January had a combined net operating income of $48,566,633, compared with less than $33,000,000 in January 1939.

Baseball Loan Is Approved By Club
The Big Spring Barons were $250 nearer a rebuilt ball park today as the result of a Kiwanis club vote at noon. The club voted to make a loan in that amount to Skipper Tony Rego when the plant is completed, the money to be repaid from the proceeds of a Kiwanis Night when West Texas-New Mexico league play gets underway.

Principal speaker, presented by Harry Hurt, program chairman, was Rev. G. C. Schurman, pastor of First Christian church.

Jack Hodges, for several years scoutmaster of the Kiwanis sponsored Boy Scout Troop No. 3, who returned early this week from a New York training school for scout executives, was a club guest. Nat Shick, in "exposing" Hodges' record at the school, revealed the fact that "the home town boy had made good." Hodges, according to Shick's report, had the highest grade in all phases of the course of the entire class of 21 members.

Next week's program will be in charge of Dr. Lee Rogers.

J. Merrill Patterson, the newspaper publisher, quit Yale to be a war correspondent in China during the Boxer uprising.

Roy Lays' Daughter Reported As City's First 'Leap Year' Baby

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lay at the Big Spring hospital at 6:35 a. m. Thursday apparently was the city's only "leap year" baby reported at noon.

She weighed but six pounds and six ounces at birth, making her the youngest and smallest member of the select group which observes Feb. 29—leap year day—as a birthday.

Announcements are entitled to celebrate the day which comes only once in four years as a birthday were M. R. McFarland, Jack King, Mrs. Bill Donald, H. R. "Happy" Hatch, Mary Lou Buckley, Jan Dee Arthur, now observing her first birthday in four years. Also sharing this honor were twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Reeves in the Lorton Wells community of Glascock county Feb. 28, 1936.

Physicians reported no births Thursday other than the one to Mr. and Mrs. Lay, but at least two admitted that it would not be surprising if the stark left other babies to celebrate the day four years from now with the Lay child.

HANK GOWDY HAS LONG BEEN KEY MAN IN M'KECHNIE'S CAMP

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP)—For more than a decade they've been calling him "Old Sarge" and for almost that long Hank Gowdy, the lean, sandy-haired baseball hero of 1914, has been an actual top sergeant for Manager Bill McKechnie, first at Boston and later at Cincinnati.

"The 'Old Sarge'—he'll soon be 61—is still at it after 22 years in professional baseball and is a sort of vice president in charge of pitchers in the Cincinnati Reds camp.

The fans and the press give Deacon Bill credit for doing wonders with pitching material, for curing Johnny Vander Meer's inherited wildness and squeezing out additional victories from the arms of veterans. But McKechnie himself won't accept all the credit.

"I've got the best top sergeant in the business," McKechnie said today. "Hank has forgotten more baseball than most players will ever know, and he's a No. 1 troubleshooter when it comes to ferreting out the finer points which can improve a pitcher's delivery.

CAA Ground Course Going On Schedule
Now heading down the home stretch, the Civil Aeronautics Authority ground training class for non-college students continues to hold interest of more than 50 people.

Harvey Morris, instructor, said that of the number now keeping up regular attendance possibly 30 would be in line for the competitive examinations for selection of 10 ranking students for CAA flight training. The others, he continued, are taking the course for informational purposes or with the idea of qualifying for a private pilot's license.

Operating on schedule, the course is due to be completed by April 2. After that time 10 high members will be designated for the flight training, financed by the CAA at a nominal cost to the student.

Navigation and meteorology remain yet on the course calendar before studies can be called complete.

DIFFERENT LICENSE
BALTIMORE, Feb. 29 (AP)—A smiling young man stood in a line of gloomy-faced individuals in a two-hour session in the municipal building lobby.

When he asked a question, the sad-looking man in front of him replied: "Sure, we're all waiting for licenses—auto licenses."

"Oh," said the cheerful one. "That's why everyone looks so gloomy. I want a marriage license."

He was sent to the court house, where there was no line.

Tech Band To Play Monday

With 74 musicians selected from a group of 185 members, the Texas Tech band will be presented in a concert at the high school auditorium at 11 a. m. Monday.

Now recognized as one of the outstanding college bands in the nation, the Tech unit is fresh from triumphs at New Orleans. Although a perfected marching unit, the band is particularly noted for its concert music.

It does not always hold to the strict classics in music, however. Director D. O. Wiley has found many musical gems in the field of better popular music and in the field of lighter concert pieces written for the modern band.

Appearance of the Tech band here for the single concert is under the auspices of the municipal high school band. The public is invited to hear the program, admission for which will be 10 cents.

Masonic Rites To Be Conducted For Harold Whipple

Masonic rites will be performed at the graveside for the burial of Harold K. Whipple Friday, following funeral services at the Eberly chapel at 3 p. m. Mr. Whipple, whose wife is the former Miss Gladys Read of Big Spring, succumbed Monday in San Antonio. He was a 32nd degree Mason.

Rev. G. C. Schurman, pastor of the First Christian church, will conduct the funeral service. Active pallbearers will be Nat Shick, W. Inkman, Shine Phillips, Roy Milner, Harold Homan and Dr. Charles Deats. Honorary pallbearers include: J. M. Morgan, Fred Stephens, B. Reagan, J. R. Creath, J. L. Moreland, Dr. E. H. Happel, Bernard Fisher, Joyce Fisher, Lester Fisher, J. R. Collins, Fred Leeper, John Biles R. T. Piner, Watkins Leeper, Will Hayden, J. W. Dabney, Roy Carter, Harry Lees, R. W. SCOUT EXECUTIVE TO BE STATIONED HERE
Stanley A. Mate, Odessa, field executive for the Buffalo Trail, is expected here this weekend to establish residence, Carl S. Blomfield, district Boy Scout chairman, said Thursday.

Mate will replace Jack Penrose, who resigned two months ago to accept a position with an Oklahoma council. In turn, Mate will be succeeded by Jack Hodges, Big Spring, who recently completed the national training school and entered the ranks of professional scouting.

Hodges is a former Big Spring scoutmaster and a native of this city. He is in Odessa at the present time covering the western area with Mate.

A. A. Baroni Is Confident Of Specify's Chances In Santa Anita Handicap

SIX-YEAR OLD ODDS LISTED AT 6-1

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP)—Turf history may repeat itself in the sixth running of the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap Saturday, and the outcome should provide another smashing climax to the world's richest horse race.

The 1939 cast which sent shivers of excitement up the spines of the masses thousands crowded along the stretch, is back again, with an additional member of who might ring the victory bell.

Looking over the probable starters, there are the two who burned up the track, and themselves, in setting a sizzling pace—Whichever and Specify. The battle these put on stands out as a vivid part of that 1939 hundred grand.

Then there is Kayak II, the C. S. Howard Argentine who came up from behind, caught and passed the tiring setters, and went on to win.

Ranked with him is his illustrious stablemate, Seabiscuit. Whichever defeated Kayak II on last New Year's Day, but backers of the Latin-American declared he wasn't ready for that initial stake on Santa Anita Park's 1940 meeting.

The story, they say, will be different Saturday. A. A. Baroni, Specify's owner and the man who saddled Little Top Row for his triumph in the 1936 Santa Anita, is high on his six-year-old's chances.

"Specify," said the usually taciturn Nevada horseman, "is definitely the horse to beat."

Price-makers have installed the Howard entry a 6-5 favorite. Whichever is 4-1 and Specify and Heifly 6-1.

Horse Loses Life In S' Anita Spill

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP)—A spectacular three-horse spill at Santa Anita park cost the D. F. Lazarus racehorse Zor his life and brought slight injury to three jockeys.

Zor's back was broken when he and Autumn Color fell over Silversweep in the third race yesterday.

Ralph Neves, riding Silversweep, suffered a deep cut over one eye. Lloyd Knapp and Eugene Rodriguez were bruised and shaken.

Phillips, Oilers Tie For Major-City League Lead

Three Texans In Q'finals At Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP)—Survivors of an original field of more than 20,000 hopefuls, 22 amateur boxers will trade punches next Wednesday night in the semi-finals of the 13th annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament.

They earned their spots at amateur ring glory in almost booby last night.

Impressive among the heavyweights was Cornelius Young of Chicago, who outpointed Charles Jordan of Centralia, Ill., in the third round and then stopped Ed Koehler of Burlington, Iowa, in the third round of a quarter-final skirmish.

Detroit's strong team placed four men in the semi-finals. Chicago and Fort Worth, Texas, each qualified three boys.

The qualifiers from Fort Worth were Dick Menchaca, 118 pounds; Morris Corona, 147 pounds; Tom Attra, 160 pounds.

Whale Meat for Foxes

SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I. (UP)—If whale meat is a treat, the foxes are having one. An 800-pound mammal popped up through a hole in the ice near here and was harpooned. The carcass was sold to fox ranchers.

Oilers Trounce Ackerly Quint, 40 To 19

Phillips Tire and the Coahoma Oilers scored easy triumphs in Wednesday evening games at the high school gymnasium to finish in a deadlock for second half honors in Major-City cage league play. Each team holds five victories against one reversal.

The Tiresmen romped to a 34-34 victory over R-Bar while Coahoma was soundly spanking Ackerly, 40-19.

Playing most of the game without the services of their star forward J. E. Harland, the Tiresmen went out in front early when Ray McKinnon, sub forward, and Alvis Chapman found the range.

McKinnon counted four field goals in second half play after Chapman had contributed handsomely to Phillips' cause with eight points during the first two periods.

The Wranglers could tally but three field tosses throughout the initial half but played an improved brand of ball after the rest period.

Take Quick Lead

After the Vaughn's team had disposed of the Montgomery-Ward team in the second exhibition, 29-22, the Oilers came onto the courts and quickly ran up a lead that the Eagles never threatened to overtake.

Playing without the services of C. Bristol, star forward, the Ackerly quint was hopelessly outclassed from the start.

Lewis Heuvel and Bobby Asbury each had five field goals in the slaughter.

Montgomery Ward played its best game the season against Vaughn's but was denied victory when the Piemen put on a late rally to win.

The lead changed hands a half dozen times during the first three periods.

The Retailers were leading, 8-6, at half time, thanks to Davis Fish.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may cause sagging, backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up night, swelling, whitening under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with irritating and burning sometimes show there is poison being worn with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Kidney Pills immediately by means of their 25c trial. They give longer relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes that pass poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Spectacular Shot Aid In Victory

Possibly the best feat of the present season and surely destined for Big Spring's Hall of Bowling Fame was the spectacular shot turned in by J. L. LeBlou of the Lee Hanson bowling team at Billy Simons' Bowling Lanes last Tuesday night. The big rooster contributed a four-six pin split, which requires a perfectly timed shot coupled with accuracy and a superior amount of good luck. On top of that, it was made in league competition, and he had to make it in order to take top honors for the evening with 220-612.

The Lee Hanson team still were pacemakers winning three straight games from the strong R&R Theaters squad. The sweep put them three games ahead of Douglass Hotel who was in second place after winning two from White Swan in spite of Jimmy Eason who fired 235-904 to boost his individual average to 193 which is high average for the Classic league. Club Cafe kept the Big Spring Motor team in the lower division by thumping them in two games. Ward Hall of the league leaders also fired a 224-611 to put him in third place in average standing.

Savold Fight Is Postponed By Jacobs

Had Been Booked To Meet Pastor In The Garden Friday

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—For a long time the breaks have been good for Mike Jacobs, the fabulous boxing promoter, but today Heavyweight Lee Savold is in a hospital and Uncle Mike is confronted with the loss of his second big bout in less than a week.

Savold, a rugged Des Moines, Ia., corn belter being groomed for Champion Joe Louis, was booked for a 12-round bout with Bob Pastor tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Yesterday he had a cold and didn't go to the gymnasium to work out. So the boxing commission sent Dr. William Walker around to the fighter's hotel and he sent Savold around to a hospital for a rest.

When Savold's temperature reached the 100-degree mark and the medics pronounced his illness influenza, Dr. Walker said that even if Savold improved today he ought not fight.

So the bout seemed to be off, even though the official announcement awaited the arrival of Jacobs by plane from Florida, where a light heavyweight title scrap between Champion Billy Conn and Gus Lesnevich set for last night had just folded up on him.

In that case it was an abscessed gland under Conn's right armpit, first believed to be a boil, that struck down the fight.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Baseball Coming Back Into High School Sports Picture

At the recent District Five basketball tournament at Sweetwater, the idea of sponsoring interscholastic league baseball in this sector was approached.

One of the mentors in harmony with the proposed move is Pat Murphy, local athletic director, himself a former baseballer of some note.

Baseball is coming back into the high school picture through the state. Last year a state tournament was staged. Another planned for this spring.

A local experiment could be conducted at a minimum of expense and it is believed that practically every able bodied boy in school would respond if invited to compete for places on the team.

Last year, the Barons' skipper, Tony Rego, said he hoped that more interest would be taken in the game among the schools here, that he would cooperate in creating interest.

Garner Cage Meet, Slated This Week, Is Cancelled

The Garner independent basketball tournament, scheduled to open this evening in the north Howard county school's gymnasium, has been cancelled.

Most of the teams of the Major-City cage league will compete in Floyd Burnett's meeting at Sterling City next weekend.

R-Bar Wranglers manager, Roger Miller, will probably file an entry notice today, listing among others as eligible to compete Bobby Savage, the high scoring Street forward, and Davis Fisher, Montgomery-Ward ace.

Burt Cramer's Coahoma Oilers, beaten in first round play of the Klondike independent tournament, went on to win the meeting's consolation prize, beating E-Bar, 44-18, after trimming Dawson, 37-21, to get to the finals.

Phillips Tire of Big Spring captured the title by trouncing Earnest Motor of Lamesa in the finals, 28-27.

For the first time in Major-City league competition, the Phillips quint's ace forward, J. E. Harland, was held scoreless last night but the former Garner high school athlete played under a terrific handicap.

In warming up for the clash with the R-Bar quint, J. E. was battered unintentionally by an unknown assailant in a scramble for the ball, came out of the mix-up with a real black eye. He started the game but played only a short time.

Harland easily won the blue ribbon in the race for the league's individual scoring honors with a total of 112 points in nine games.

BETTY JAMESON WINS, 4 AND 3

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP)—Mrs. William M. Zech of Chicago drew the assignment today of trying to halt Patty Berg in the quarter-finals of the South Atlantic Women's Golf tournament.

It began to look more and more as if Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., was the only one likely to give the Minneapolis star a run for her money. They are expected to meet in the finals.

Patty defeated Elizabeth Wing of Evanston, Ill., 7 and 5 yesterday.

Miss Jameson meets Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., who eliminated Jane Cochran of Greenville, S. C. Miss Jameson won from Mrs. Miriam Phipps Lyon of Orlando, Fla., 4 and 2.

Cards Get Trio Of Pitching Aces In Promising Texas League Hall

By DILLON GRAHAM Sports Editor, AP Feature Service

The St. Louis Cardinals apparently tagged the Texas league's brightest rookies.

Ray Blades' Cards, driving for a National loop pennant, have seven Southwesterners on their squad, including the circuit's biggest game-winning pitchers and the earned run leader.

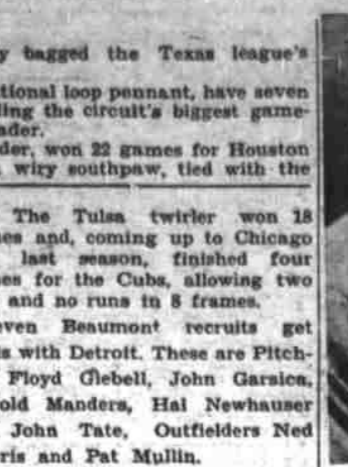

Dick Dickson, 155 pound right hander, won 22 games for Houston to top the twirlers. Harry Brecheen, a wiry southpaw, tied with the veteran Ray Starr in the percentage column with 18-and-7 for .720.

He set a new league record by tossing four straight shutouts and pitched 38 consecutive scoreless innings. St. Louis took two more pitchers from Houston. These were Ernie White, who pitched a no-hit game against Ft. Worth, and Francis Joe (Red) Barrett who won 13 and lost 7.

Dead-Eye Lake

Eddie Lake, a shortstop whose record of 153 bases on balls proves he is hard to pitch to and has a good eye; Infielder John Hopp, and Outfielder Hal Epps are other Houston grads now Cards.

Three Of Garden City Cage Lettermen Return In '41

Wheeler's Quint Won 11 Games During Season

GARDEN CITY, Feb. 29—Only three of the seven players who gained basketball letters at Garden City high school the past season will be eligible next year.

The returning numerical wearers are Charles Bell, Fern Cox, Carol Alsop and Earl Cook. East will be Lee Swindall, playing his third year under Coach Herschel Wheeler, Shirley Medlin, a second year man, and Ellis Daves.

In winning 11 of 23 games, the Bearcats managed to outscore the opposition, 477-409.

Wheeler's team completed its season last weekend, losing to Courtney in first round play of the District Seven cage tournament at Midland, 21-23.

The season record: Garden City, 19, Sterling City 23, Coahoma 16, 17, Forsan 29, 23, Forsan 22, 13, Westbrook 17, 29, Ackerly 16, 14, Coahoma 17, 18, Westbrook 22, 27, Klondike 29, 8, Forsan 21, 18, Sterling City 16, 12, Courtney 17, 30, Courtney 22, 8, Stanton 5, 24, Stanton 11, 23, Garner 29, 28, Coahoma 17, 21, Iran 25, 32, Lomax Independents 24, 23, Garner 23, 23, Big Lake, 23, 21, Courtney 23.

Canyon Clouts Silver City

EL PASO, Feb. 29 (AP)—West Texas State and Stephen F. Austin clash tonight for the championship of the southwestern intercollegiate basketball tournament.

The Texas teams won their way to the finals with victories over New Mexico State Teachers of Silver City and Kansas Wesleyan respectively, meaning a title battle in which none of the four seeded quintets will appear.

Nebraska State Teachers, Texas Tech, New Mexico State Teachers and Kansas Wesleyan all had been ranked above West Texas and Austin but the former team blasted New Mexico State 63-49 and Stephen F. Austin pushed aside Kansas Wesleyan, 59-49, in the semi-finals last night.

The ornate marble tomb of General U. S. Grant on Riverside Drive, New York, was built by popular subscription.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 29. (AP)—Holding a one-stroke advantage, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., headed a field of golf's best shotmakers today into the final 36 holes of the 54-hole St. Petersburg open tournament.

Harrison shot a three-under par 68 yesterday, a stroke less than Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas, leading money winner of the winter campaign. Sammy Snead of Shawnee, Pa., the defending champion, trailed with a 70.

Brought to You by FIRST NATIONAL BANK In Big Spring

WORSE THAN EVER CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (AP)—Peter Nowak, 32, thought he got a "bum rap" when he was sentenced to 15 years in prison for rape after a bench trial.

He appealed to the state supreme court for a new trial. It was granted. Yesterday a jury convicted him. The new sentence: 199 years.

LEAVE 'EM WHERE THEY LIE

When an Arm is Broken—Simple Fracture—Leave 'Em Where They Lie

How can you tell when an arm is broken? The arm hurts badly and any attempt to move it increases the pain. The patient can't lift it though he may bend his elbow or use his hand. It may appear crooked.

By gently taking hold of the elbow you may feel motion between the elbow and shoulder. What should you do? TREAT SHOCK FIRST! Then arrange to put on a splint.

Something firm to be tied in place to prevent the broken ends of bone from moving. Motion increases pain and pain multiplies shock.

How should you make a splint? Take three or four branches the size of a thumb, or a tightly folded newspaper, or the back handle which all cars have, or anything rigid and long enough and fasten the what-have-you to the arm from the shoulder to the finger tips with handkerchiefs, neckties or strips of shirt, snugly enough to prevent any motion, but not too tight.

If he complains of numbness as the hand swells, loosen the splint a bit, as the blood supply has been cut off too much.

These conditions apply just the same to a broken elbow or broken forearm. Splint them the same way—treat them the same way.

In case of a broken WRIST or HAND, it is not necessary to apply a splint above the elbow.

SPLINT 'EM WHERE THEY LIE—TREAT SHOCK—SPLINT 'EM RIGHT. Then keep them warm and bring them in—DON'T HURRY—TREAT SHOCK.

(Prepared by the Fracture Committee, Texas State Medical Association; sponsored by Texas State Highway Department and Texas Public Safety Commission.)

BASS, CRAPPIE FISHING IS OUTLAWED

AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—Bass and crappie, the elite of Texas game fish, become illegal prey for the angler's art for two months beginning tomorrow.

The closed season prevails for the two species by authority of general law. Other types of fresh water fish may be taken in some counties but study your local laws before attempting any March-April fishing.

Kimble, Uvalde and Zavalla counties which beat the rest of the state to closed bass and crappie fishing on January 1 prohibit the taking of any kind of fish until May 1.

Calico perch and bream are added to the taboo list in Live Oak, San Antonio, Jim Wells, Live Oak, Gonzales, McLennan, Bosque and Hamilton counties but other species are legal.

Counties which prohibit catching all types of fish before June 1 are Bandera, Kerr, Edwards, Real, Sutton, Mason, Menard, Blanco, Kendall and Gillespie.

Bass, crappie, perch and catfish may not be caught in Comal, Guadalupe, Medina and Wilson counties.

Harrison and Marion counties prohibit all fishing between Feb. 15 and April 15. However, state law applies as to bass and crappie which do not become legal until May 1.

The game department has advocated—unsuccessfully—a four month closed season because many fish spawn in Texas waters earlier than March 1. Officials said thousands of fish recently caught have been filled with eggs. They complimented counties which by special law end the season before the general closing on last day of February.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 29. (AP)—Though Many Stings is a clear favorite in Saturday's $20,000 Widenor challenge cup at Hialeah Park, there will be a wealth of support for Dolly Val, a little brown mare owned by James Emery of Chicago.

Dolly is the dark horse in the probable field of 15 starters for the richest prize of the Florida racing season.

It would place a strain on the friendship of Trainer Ben Jones and Herbert M. Woolf, owner of Woodford Farm, if she should pull it off. Woolf owned the hoyden originally, and Jones, his trainer at the time, tried his best to make a bad one at the post, ran only when she felt like it, and Jones finally gave up on her. He sold her to Emery for only $1,500, little more than it takes to feed her for a year.

That was a couple of seasons ago. Last Saturday Woolf and his former trainer were standing near each other in the Hialeah grandstand when Dolly Val came streaking home in front of eight other Widenor candidates, including The Chief and Sir Danion, in a mile one eighth "rehearsal" for the big event.

Those standing for fifty feet around heard Woolf yelling to Jones: "So that's the mare you sold on me for $1,500, Big Trainer? How do you like her now, Big Trainer?"

It isn't safe even to guess what the Kansas City sportsman would have to say if Dolly, by some off chance, should feel like running that kind of a race again on Saturday.
