EASTLAND IS fortunate in so many ways. One good thing about this town is that you can get things done. You just have to marvel at the skills that abound here. You'll find craftsmanship in so many areas. People who take pride in what they do, and who are just tickled to death to help someone.

And it's a characteristic that marks well, you'll agree, the American way. Taking pride in true craftsmanship is a hallmark of doing what man was put here to do, and personally we always marvel when we see someone creating or fixing something with their hands.

This age has been dubbed "plastic" by the youth and chances are we'd all benefit if more took the time to do a job right.

Several Eastlanders come to mind, and omission here certainly is no indication that there shouldn't be many named.

Take O. Z. Keller over at his Fix It Shop. Right now he's snowed under in lawn-mowers in for repairs, and though his shop appears to be a mass of confusion, he confidently goes about repairing and mending and turning back to owners, running machines. And if you've ever pulled the string on a stubborn lawn mower for two hours without it's once firing, then you can appreciate a man who can coax such a monster of a machine to run again. His skills include a bit of metal work, and we know of a $2,500 machine that was out of commission until Keller drilled a nine-cent bolt out of a shaft to get it going again.

Course, he probably doesn't do anything that anyone else couldn't do - if they knew how, and maybe had his patience.

Take Charley Williams over at Quality Shoe Shop. He can do things with leather that does amaze. You'd be surprised too, at what he can do with the man-made materials, but his real love is leather, and he does know how to process it. Seen shoes and boots that appeared to have no life left in 'em - Charlie just puts new life right in 'em.

And when it comes to wood. Well, Charlie Harp is a man who knows how to turn it. Funny thing about Charlie, he can take the me rest suggestion of what his customer wants, and left to his own devices, with a bit of imagination on his part, can come up with some real whiz-bang cabinets, bookcases and the like.

There's many more craftsman in this town: automobile repair men, servicemen of all types. What about salesmanship? That's a craft too, that deserves attention. A good merchant in operation is a sight to behold. You could just go around the square and up and down the streets and talk about people who like to do their thing and are doing it well - for the betterment of Eastland and the people who live here.

With Labor Day around the corner, we might remember to say "thank you" to these people who fix our machines and repair our shoes and make us a table or something.

But they'd appreciate knowing that we do appreciate them.

Saturday Fire Claims Home

A fire of undetermined origin Saturday destroyed the ranch-style home of Tom Tucker at Bell Hurst Ranch located east of Eastland on Hwy. 80. The alarm was turned in at 11:40 a.m. and shortly after, 2 trucks and 15 firemen from the Eastland Department battled the blaze for over an hour. Constable Bill Hunter called the house a total loss. There were no injuries.

Mavericks Look Sharp In First Scrimmage

The Mavericks had to travel all the way to Rotan to find a dry football field Thursday night. A scrimmage with the Rotan Yellowhammers originally scheduled for Abilene was cancelled by Abilene officials because of wet fields. Unable to find a dry field anywhere the Mav's finally had to go to Rotan.

The first scrimmage of the season showed some strong points for the Mav's as well as bringing out some weaknesses. Depth in the offensive line continues to be a major problem but there were several individuals who showed promise. Reserve strength at the defensive end and left back spots also continues to be a problem because of injuries and sickness.

The Mavericks scored several times in the controlled scrimmage and on occasion looked very sharp for this time of the season.

A scrimmage with Stephenville is tentatively set for Thursday. More information will be available on this in the Thursday edition.

5 Birthday Honored at Hickman

The Hickman Nursing Home Volunteers sponsored the monthly birthday party Thursday, August 19, celebrating all residence having birthdays in August.

The patients honored were Jose Castro, 70; Lula Fox, 85; Wylie Harbin, 82; Ira Howard, 79; Ada Turner, 84.

2 Injured In Head-On

There were two persons in the Pontiac station wagon which was traveling West into Eastland. The car has Michigan Licenses plates.

Occupants were Rene Jackson, 18, from Palm Desert, Calif., and William Author Bordeau from Rancho Mirag, Calif.

Both were hospitalized in Eastland and the Jackson girl was then transferred to a Abilene Hospital. It was reported that she had received a possible fractured neck. The Bordeau Boy's condition was not reported.

The other car contained 4 people from Palmetto, Fla. They had been to California on a 2 weeks vacation and were returning home.

The occupants in the car were Mrs. Edwen Felske, her son, Raymond Felske, driver of the car, Carol Felske, daughter, and Mrs. Edna Tauriainen, mother of Mrs. Felske. The Felskes all received scratches and bruises. Mrs. Felske also received a cut on the head.

The station wagon was reported to have had a blow out as it rounded the curve.

After the impact, the station wagon traveled approximately 200 yards narrowly missing 2 other autos and came to rest on the service road of the new Interstate 20.

On the daily trip around the square, I find that Durel Reid at Eastland Drug is not only a pharmacist, but an artist as well. When you walk in the front door, you have to stop and think before going any farther. Durel has designed a beautiful arrangement of lead cut crystal as well as regular crystal in pressed glass. Upstairs he has just opened a room which consists of crystal, china, pottery, iron stone china and Silver. It's called the Director's Room.

Friday afternoon I heard a loud yell from across the square, and upon investigation, learned that Don Stoner of Central Drug had just received a phone call. Not just an ordinary call, but from STHS Southwest Drug Co. in Dallas. Seems he registered Aug. 1, in Dallas at the gift show and the Grand prize was a paid vacation to Hawaii. You guessed it. He won.

In visiting with Chief Johnnie Morren the other day, we were discussing the recent visit of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. While talking, he handed me a letter which read, "Just a brief note to tell you how much I enjoyed my recent trip to Eastland. I would also like to take this opportunity to tell you how much I appreciate your help in providing transportation and seeing that everything went so smoothly. You and your Police Department in Eastland did a great job of seeing that everything went on schedule. Warmest personal regards, Ben Barnes."

We would like to add our thanks to that also.

Friday morning it was reported that a trailer truck had overturned about 2 miles east of Cisco. At press time the only information we could get was looking at the dug up right of way. Highway Patrol officials reported no accident at this time or place.

MAYBE YOU DON'T NEED INSURANCE--
If you don't own a home, furniture, jewelry or a car, you can get along without the services of an insurance agent. But for the most of us, life is not that simple. Modern living has become so complex that the protection of property and personal liability is a major problem and we must be insured. The individual you can always depend on for accurate solutions of your insurance problems is your local agent.

Congratulations to two Eastland County girls who bring state wide attention to two of our most important crops. As you already know Kay Hoffman is the Texas Peanut Queen. On July 20 Lynne Phippen of Cisco was named first runner-up in the Texas Pecan Queen Pageant. She is the Eastland County Pecan Queen and competed in the state pageant in Austin, Lynne, a former Eastland County 4-H girl, attended Cisco Junior College and is now attending Texas Tech. An Angus bull gain test has been established at Ranger. Angus breeders have entered 84 young bulls in the 140 day gain test which will begin September 1. James Ratliff will be conducting the test for the Leon Valley Angus Association and other breeders over the state. This is the first for bull gain testing in this county.

There will be a sale held during the Ft. Worth Stock Show for the consigners to sell their bulls if they desire. The bulls selected for sale must pass a sifting committee. Body conformation, rate of gain, soundness, and weight per day of age will be considered. This testing service should help local cattlemen in selecting herd sires that have the ability to gain rapidly and pass this characteristic on to their calves.

Available moisture makes the prospects for small grain planting look good. Planting time is at hand and next year's grain harvest or the amount of grazing this fall and winter form the crop may well depend on the variety planted.

The best seed available of varieties adapted to this area should be planted. The choice of a variety is influenced by whether the crop is seeded on dryland or irrigated, low or high fertility conditions, whether used for grazing or grain or both, and its resistance to diseases and insects. Shattering and lodging characteristics and quality especially in the case of wheat should also be considered.

The recommended wheat varieties for this section of Texas include Tascosa, Caddo, Sturdy, Scout 66, and Improved Triumph. Sturdy wheat should be planted only on irrigated land.

Recommended oat varieties include Norwin, Wintok, Cimarron, and Bronco. Other varieties that are recommended but are less winter hardy are New Nortex, Ora, Nora, Alamo-X and Moregrain.

Army worms and other insects may become problems in early planted pastures, but they can be safely and economically controlled with insecticides; so the advantages of early planting far outweigh the threat of insects.

A Family Business Institute is being planned by the Agricultural Extension Service in Eastland County. This is planned to be of benefit to every family in the county that desires to participate.

The topics to be discussed during the five night sessions are as follows: (1) Family Income Budgeting (2) Investments (3) Insurance (4) Estate Planning and (5) Retirement Planning. Several outstanding speakers have already been secured. The institute begins on September 21 and there will be one night session per week for five weeks. Time and place of the sessions will be announced later.

Selective Service System Executive Secretary Mrs. Ann Lynn, of the Eastland Local Board No. 36, says the current Congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among draft age men. Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse in the Congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted.

Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men and to order preinduction physical examinations those men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months. Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the Defense Department has asked Selective Service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by Selective Service headquarters pending final Congressional action on the draft bill. Local Boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship, and student deferments and to take other classifications actions.

"Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," the Secretary said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men." Please visit our office or call if you have any questions about your draft status and we will try to help you. Our office is located at 208 Petroleum Building, Eastland.

TEXAS HISTORY BUFFS will have a field day with the 1971 edition of the Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers. They should pause a moment in their browsing through this book to think kind thoughts of Truett Latimer and his able staff at the Texas State Historical Survey Committee offices who got it all together.

There's a tremendous amount of information assembled in this little book, with more than 100 pages devoted to listing 8,000 historical markers by city and giving directions to each site. The book should prove a winner at Highway Department tourist bureaus where many tourists who are interested in Texas historical sites stop for information. The book may be obtained free at Highway Department tourist bureaus or from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, P. O. Box 12276, Austin, 78711.

BY THE WAY - The smallest state park in Texas is Acton State Historic Site, six miles east of Granbury in Hood County. It measures .006 acre and contains the graves of Davy Crockett's second wife and two of his children.

IT'S EASY TO GET LOST IN THE BIG THICKET, but the Big Thicket Association now has the solution to that problem. The association is sponsoring guides and for $15 (minimum) to $25 (maximum) a group can see the Thicket and stay overnight. The guide will plan the tour to include the group's special interests - champion trees, giant palmettos, insectivorous plants, orchids, bays, or baygalls - and the Thicket is guaranteed to provide a rich and rewarding experience. It's best to give three days notice for guide service, which can be arranged by writing or calling the Big Thicket Association, Saratoga, Texas 77885. When you're in Saratoga, set aside enough time to enjoy the association's Big Thicket Museum on Farm to Market Road 770.

YOU ALL SURPRISED I SPEAK YOUR LANGUAGE! Two recent visitors from India were amazed when travel counselor Charles Stuart at the Texarkana bureau greeted them in their native tongue. (Charles studied Hindi at the University of Texas last year.) The travelers commented jokingly that this was his first time they had ever heard their language spoken with a Southern drawl.

WIDE, WIDE WORLD OF TEXAS

WIDE, WIDE WORLD OF HISTORIC TEXAS was the title of a double-page spread feature in the June 25 Pacific edition of Stars and Stripes. The article is a Texas tourism man's dream. Here's a line or two: "In Texas the vacationer or student of American history can find almost everything he desires. With over 26 million acres of forests and woodland and 624 miles of shimmering, inviting coastline, Texas is the vacationers paradise." The article is illustrated by five of the most spectacular pictures Texas Highway Department photographers have ever made, of the Alamo, a Padre Island surfer, Santa Elena Canyon, the River Road and cowboys at round up.

AMONG THE MOST ATTRACTIVE new folders we've seen lately is one entitled "Life in Kerr County" and published by the Kerr County Chamber of Commerce, Kerrville. In addition to a wealth of information which will be of inestimable value to those who want to live in Kerr County, as well as those who seek vacation pleasure by the splashing Guadalupe River, the folder is replete with inviting color photographs. And that brings up the moral of this tale: Many of the photos in this beautiful folder are from the Texas Highway Department's file of 18,000 black and white photographs and color transparencies. This file is open to all chamber of commerce and other interested persons who would like to use the photos in their publications. Write the travel and information

OPENING DATE IS SEPTEMBER 3 for the brand spanking new Gladys Porter Zoo in Brownsville. The multi-million dollar project built and stocked by the Sams Foundation, will be given to Brownsville on its completion and operated by the Valley Zoological Society. It is expected to provide a major tourist attraction for South Texas and Northern Mexico. In addition, it will be a major repository for holding and preserving rare species of the world's animals under conditions of natural freedom in company with man. The Foundation has emphasized that the concept of conservation of the animals and education of the public about them took precedence over all other considerations in building the zoo. It was constructed as an architectural exercise in sculpture by hand labor on a former river lake bed, the original meandering stream of the Rio Grande. The moulded, rock-faced, natural-appearing cliff and cave shelters, adapted to the terrain of the old river bed, divides the 26.5 acres into four different "worlds," each with its own native animals and birds.

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IT, JUST ASK JOHN MARSHALL - One small ad in the regional edition of a national magazine quickly brought 500 requests for information on Fort Worth from 29 states, reports John Marshall, manager of the Tarrant County Convention and Visitors Bureau. "It pays to advertise," John says. As a part of its campaign, the bureau has distributed more than 50,000 special self-tour brochures through direct mail and through the Highway Department tourist bureaus. In addition, the bureau keeps special visitor information racks in more than 50 locations throughout Tarrant County where visitors are likely to stop. Fort Worth is benefitting mightily from this advertising campaign and so are the visitors who discover more to see and do in Tarrant County, thanks to the bureau's attractive brochures.

Mark Lindsey, 34, his wife Beth Lindsey, 27, and Bobby Beal, 31, all of Coleman, pleaded guilty in Eastland Friday to "robbery with the use of firearms" in connection with the Nov. 19th holdup of the Gorman First National Bank, according to 91st District Clerk Joe Gray.

Gray said 91st District Judge Earl Conner Jr. will formally sentence the trio at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Gray said the trio asked for leniency and requested that the prison terms run concurrently with terms already meted out in U.S. Federal Court in Abilene on the robbery.

Sunday Subject Reported

What underlies today's interest in divine healing? This is a question to be explored at Christian Science church services Sunday, August 29, in a Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus."

The restoration of sight to the man born blind is one of the healings of Christ Jesus included in the Bible readings. It contains this insight: "If this man were not of God, he could do nothing."

Commentary from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy relates such healing to today's demands. One citation states: "It is possible, -yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, -to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

Services in Eastland will begin at 10 a.m. in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on the corner of Plummer and Lamar.

Bell System Among State's Economy Leaders

In spite of a generally dull performance of the economy during 1970, four Bell System companies posted a record $718 million contribution to the economy of Texas.

leading contributor among the four companies operating in the state was Southwestern Bell Telephone Company with expenditures of more than $491 million. The company serves about 80 per cent of the state's telephones. Other associated companies operating in Texas are Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System; Mountain Bell Telephone Company, providing telephone service in four El Paso exchanges; and AT&T's Long Lines Department, which maintains much of the system's long distance network.

Payroll for the four companies accounted for the largest single expenditure - nearly $323 million of the $718 million total, according to H. D. Schodde, vice president of Southwestern Bell's Texas operations. The four companies employ more than 40,700 Texans.

Commenting on the increasing amount of construction being undertaken by the Bell System, Schodde said that construction expenditures in Texas for buildings and outside plant hit a record $157 million. He pointed out that this represented six per cent of the total non-residential construction in the state.

Schodde also noted that the Bell System's Texas payroll and construction program, when coupled with a state and local tax bill of more than $75 million, had substantial impact on nearly every community served by the system. This local impact was typified by Western Electric which alone made purchases from 1,740

Mr., Mrs. Talley Report Exciting Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Talley, of Olden, have just returned home from a fascinating as well as educational vacation. The vacation began with a visit with a sister, Mrs. Mackie Duckworth, who is a nurse at Knox city. The couple also visited with a sister, Mrs. Hazel Mulling of Spearman, who is a nurse, there in Spearman. From Spearman, the couple went enroute to Colorado Springs, where the Talley's visited friends and took in a great deal of sight seeing. Among their adventures they visited the "Garden of the Gods," the "Seven Falls," a pottery plant, a ghost town, and also saw an old Barber Shop, "of yesterday." (Which was especially interesting to Mr. Talley, being a barber himself.) The sign over the bathroom read: New Soap, .06, Old Soap, .03, Hair cuts, .25, Bald Heads, .15.

In Colorado Springs, according to Mrs. Talley, there were all kinds of antiques, so very old. The most priceless one, was the limousine that President Roosevelt rode in: bullet proof windows, and wind shields, with a screen over them on the inside. The body of the car was very thick. The Talley's recognized the car as one they had seen in another town, when president Roosevelt was in a parade there, wearing his big white Texas hat.

Leaving Colorado, they visited Mr. Talley's aunts in Portab. The Talley sisters and brothers, with two cousins, all drove by to see their grandfather's old home in Portab.

The Talley's then went to Eunice, New Mexico, and to Mr. Talley's brothers home. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Alford. From there the couple went to Del Rio, staying all night in Sanderson, a railroad founded town, which also contains the largest natural gas fields in the world.

Stopping at Gangsly, near the Rio Grande River, the couple saw the original office and saloon of Judge Roy Bean. According to Mrs. Talley, if you don't know about the judge, you don't know about the "Law West of the Pecos." The Talley's then visited Fort Davis, which is made of 47 acres of land. This fort played a major role in the History of the Southwestern frontier. From 1854 to 1891 (at the time it was built), the fort was named after Jefferson Davis. Davis was secretary of war, but later became president of the Southern Railway.

The Talley's saw many beautiful wild flowers, whose fields being one color, sometime. They say there are over 5,000 species. Mrs. Talley says, "This would be a challenge to any group of botanist who would try to name all of them."

Crossing the Rio Grande River over in Old Mexico to Ciudad Acuna, the Talley's saw a border town of beautiful pottery, and lots of pretty hand work of all kinds.

From Del Rio the Talley's returned home, still thinking Eastland County to be very beautiful!
