TidBits Forest Expert Speaks For Thursday Club

By HVO

A COMPUTER CLOGGER (one of those people who delight in fouling up things for others) in Eastland shared with us the reply card he's returning to an advertising questionnaire he received unsolicited through the mail. It sorta reminds you of one of those television survey things, but this guy filled in answers, the likes of which will have the Madison Avenue people scratching their heads for years. They'll probably come out here to interview such an unusual person. Innocent enough was the mailing piece: it is a beautifully printed 12-page booklet of color advertisement for various instant foods, cosmetics, dog food and the like. The idea is: you read the ads, then use the enclosed return-mail card to answer some questions about the various products, plus some bonus questions about yourself and your family.

In return for all this trouble the company that printed the booklet will send you 100 trading stamps of your choice or cash equivalent.

Well, this Eastlander took the time to make it interesting. For example he took the negative option in most cases; and the tabulators will at least get a laugh. On an instant coffee, he marked: "We don't use coffee at our house, but all these things are interesting to know."

On a frozen orange juice ad, multiple choice answer for five different questions got this response for each from the local: "None of the above." They'll think this guy never heard of orange juice.

On instant oat meal: "No, the information was not sufficient to interest me." On cold cereal box sizes available: "I do not know but will find out." Question: Do you consider it important that Such & Such soap improves the skin's ability to hold moisture? Answer: "No, I don't think it's important." "No, I do not use a special purpose detergent. On Pepto-Bismol: "No, we never have upset stomach, nausea, indigestion or diarrhea in our family."

On hair coloring: "No, I would not consider using it." On hair spray: "No, having a good looking hair style is not worth the extra cost to me." My family does not use syrup.

On the bonus questions, he really got wound up: "I do not use a fabric softener; there are three or more children between 2 and 6 living with me; whipped topping is never served at our house; my hands are in poor condition; I do not own an automatic dishwasher; no one in my family suffers from Arthritis; No, I've never tried Bayer Timed-Release Aspirin; I have no regular brand of tooth paste; No, I've not had a home permanent in the past 12 months and I don't plan to have one; I would describe my hair condition as all of these (normal, dry and oily); I'm over 50; married; male; finished grade school; we have five or more children; with a household income of $15,000 or over; yes, we have both dogs and cats; there are five or more children under 12 in our house; there are four or more children under two; no I don't own a sewing machine, but I use some one else's machine; I sew all of our wardrobes; no, we do not smoke and don't care to divulge our other vices.

Can't you just imagine the computer digesting all that. The Eastlander closed by asking "Send no salesman." He even found where there were five answers and only

Wards Store Opens In Eastland

A store with over 100,000 items to choose from is now open in Eastland, with the opening of Montgomery Wards Catalog Sales Agency at 214 W. Main St.

No new entry to Eastland County, Wards is virtually a county institution having a giant retail store in Ranger for some 42 years, and order store there since. Owners of the new Eastland store are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibson, who are also owners of the Ranger store.

Mr. David Cozart of Carbon is manager of the Eastland store, assisted by Geneva Freeman of Ranger.

Pipkin Attends Workshop

New laws affecting the state's multi-million-dollar automobile business will be a principal subject of discussion at the Texas Automobile Dealers Association fall workshop, to be held at the Inn of the Six Flags in Arlington on Tuesday, October 19th, according to Dallas Buick dealer, Finley Ewing, President of TADA. Several other new car dealers are planning to attend along with their key personnel. This year the TADA workshop is featuring "Laws, Legislation, and Legalities."

A former Eastland attorney, William R. Crocker of Austin, Executive Director of the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission, will give a major full explanation of the new Dealer-Manufacturer Licensing Law. President of Eastland district is Bruce Pipkin of Pipkin Motor Company.

personnel. "We want to emphasize our telephone number in Eastland for the convenience of all," Mr. Cozart said. "It's 629-2618 and we invite all Eastland Countians to use it."

Grand opening bargains are available at the store now with a sign-up for free gifts, and much merchandise is on display for sale at the catalog store, and this will be expanded. To be found on the store floor for immediate delivery are tires, batteries, refrigerators, freezers, stereos, television sets, furniture and much more.

With a gigantic selection of over 100,000 items to choose from in the Wards catalog, most orders arrive from Fort Worth within 48 hours.

Also to be featured here will be the auto service center which will offer tire and battery installation and wheelbalancing.

To Present Assembly Program

The Eastland High School has announced that they will have a Southern Assembly program, Tuesday, Oct. 26 at 9:00 a.m. This program will feature Mr. Don Comfort, well known musician from California.

Don started to study the accordion at the age of eight, and majored in music in high school. He earned an Associate of Arts degree in music, and made further studies in music composition and orchestration at the University of Redland in California.

The agency will be equipped to repair and service appliances and devices, by qualified technicians.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Mr.

Cozart and Miss Freeman joined in extending a welcome to the public to come in and get acquainted with the new store and its services.

A couple of weeks ago when the Mavericks traveled to Comanche I had the opportunity to drive the Football Boys Bus. I believe we met at the gym about 4:30 to leave. All the uniform and other paraphernalia was packed in big army supply bags. Each boy has his own bag. The managers are to see to it that everything is loaded on the pickup for each trip. Everything seemed to go OK on the trip down except when we started to unload the pickup. Seems that one of the starting Mavericks did not have a uniform and another Maverick had two left shoes.

Coach Fraizer tried in vain to telephone someone in Eastland but to no avail. So as a last resort he sent me and one of the managers back to Eastland to fetch "one uniform and two right shoes". Upon arriving in Eastland we loaded the missing equipment in the pickup and started the bus back to Comanche. The second time that afternoon.

In the meantime at Comanche the boy without any equipment "Mr. Boles" had given the spectators quite a fright, according to Mrs. Shirley Fraizer wife of the head coach. She said that Boles came out on the field in regular clothes, and "limped" around on the field. Well to say the least Rexroat with 2 left shoes and Boles without a uniform didn't look too good for the Mavericks.

When we arrived at the football field in Comanche the second time, with the uniform and shoes the Mavericks had just started on to the field for the opening kickoff. We rushed the uniform in to Boles and the shoes to Rexroat. Ironically before these two boys were to take the field for in their regular positions they were dressed and on the field on time.

The final outcome well we already know that from the score a good 61 to 14. And another trip back to Eastland...

The Maverick band at halftime of the Hamilton Game sure looked good. They are working on parts for their U. I. L. marching show contest at Brady which will be November 20th.

Another new business? No just an old one in a new place in Eastland. Montgomery Wards Catalog Store has moved in the Pontiac Showroom next to Harelk Department Store. At 4 p.m. Wednesday afternoon not one piece of merchandise or furniture was in the building and at 8 a.m. Thursday, the day they opened, everything was in place. This was a quick move and we are happy to have them in Eastland.

Mike Stutts won the football contest last week with Clyde and Steve Haynes and Linda Hammer are co-winners this week

"Conservation and its relationship to ecology was explained to the Thursday Afternoon Club meeting Thursday p.m. in the Woman's Building with the president Mrs. F. Francis presiding. The meeting was opened with the American's Creed and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, given in unison by those present.

Mrs. Charles Terrell, program chairman, presented Mrs. Maren Johnson who gave Joyce Kilmer's poem "Trees" with Mrs. Donald Kinnaird at the piano.

The speaker for the afternoon, Mr. Dan L. Childress was introduced as a hometown boy, gave a very interesting and informative talk on "Conservation". Mr. Childress, Forester N. S. Department of Agriculture Employment Development Office, Rtd. served Region 3, the states of New Mexico and Arizona.

He said that man had tilled the land since the time of Creation. That America had not been kind to its resources and the time has come when we must care for our land, water, forests for the present and future generations.

Now a communications school for all new employees in the Forest Service is in progress. A brush-up school is held for two weeks each year for employees.

He compared what is happened to the land of America much to what happened to Cannaan. The Pilgrim Fathers found this land full of natural resources but by the early 1800s most of the buffaloes were already gone. Then the silver and gold were greatly depleted during the early rushes, along with timber, cattle, and other natural resources. Finally, what was happening to our land, dawned on some and in the early 1900s the Forest Service was started. LAND was set aside as forest preserves, where the land was not used, but in its original state.

Soon the people realized that this was not the solution, since even this land was needed and could be used for production. He explained that was where conservation differs from preservation. Conservation uses and improves the land and water and preservation only maintains it in its original state. (Conservation is a relatively new term in our dictionary -- only 30 to 40 years old he said.)

IN the early 1930s conservation got its start President Franklin D. Roosevelt's grazing, ranching, and farm laws.

Then the Rehabilitation was established to move people off of unresourceful land. These lands were and some are still being rebuilt and protected. Many still exist even in Texas.

He said there are over 180 million acres in forest reserves in the nation compared with the state of Texas which has 170 million acres total land area. HE listed the following things that the forest service does: protects soil, preserve the water, preserve the timber if possible, protect the wildlife, clean and make room for the people who visit each year. Rangers are now managers of the forest.

Most timber comes from private property and only a small portion of timber comes from forest preserves.

The difference in the National Forest Conservation Service and the National Park Service is that the park service preserves and protects such places like Grand Canyon. They don't conserve, they leave it in its natural state.

Concerning the air pollution problem, people and comedians don't joke about it like they used to because of the seriousness of the problem. He blamed automobiles as the chief cause in the heavily populated area, which many people are going up because they do not have room even for parking. He said can expect more and more control on automobiles and industry to improve our environment.

And he urged everyone to support such legislation. He told of entertaining fammers of the Mediterranean countries who visited America, and of training the young Foresters who came to them from colleges with all kinds of degrees.

After a question and answer period, the hospitality committee composed of Mrs. Maxey, Mrs. Ernest and Mrs. Terrell served refreshment of fruit cakes, nuts, mints, and coffee from a Halloween decorated table to the following club members and guests: Mesdames, D. L. Childress, Turner, Collier, Cecil Collings, Pat Crawford, Fred Davenport, J. O. Earnest, J. F. Francis, Cyrus B. Frost, Ben Hammer, James Horton, Maren Johnson, D. L. Kinnaird, Fred Maxey, Gladys Milner, Guy Patterson, Gray Pipkin, Floyd Robertson, Charles Terrell, E. R. Townsend, and Roy Young, and Guests: Mr. and Mrs. Marquis DeGordon, Mrs. Gene Johnson, Mrs. Henry Van Geem, Mrs. H. V. O'Brien, Miss Louise Terrell of El Paso and Hon. Dan L. Childress.

TUESDAY TO BE CANDY DAY

Tuesday will be CANDY DAY in Eastland! That's the word from Darwin Miller, chairman of the Lion's Club annual Halloween Candy sale to be conducted on that day.

Some 300 bags of candy suitable for Halloween Trick-or-Treaters will be offered by members of the Lions Club--so be prepared for the Halloween Goblins, Miller suggests.

All proceeds from the sale will go directly to the Texas Lions' Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerrville, he added, pointing out that the purchase of candy will not only prepare citizens well for the Halloween night visitors, but will also contribute to a very worthy cause. Blind and crippled children, blind adults and others are treated annually at the camp, and Eastland has sent several to the camp over the years.

What it means to be a Lion was pointedly expressed by District Governor James Wheeler of Abilene for a visitor-packed meeting of the Eastland Club at noon Tuesday. The distinguished guest was introduced by Deputy District Governor Earnest Sneed of Eastland. President De Gordon presided and Candy Sale Chairman Darwin Miller reported that the club will hold its annual Halloween candy sale next Tuesday evening.

Guests included: Don Barron, new Eastland resident businessman and prospective member; Jerry Pruitt, O. L. Stamey, E. F. Sparks, Hiram McCaneilus and Tom Stark, all of Cisco; Wayne Matthews, Ben Lancaster, Joe Dennis, Bill Terry and Lloyd Bruce, all of Ranger; Eastland Scouts Lee Johnson and Mike Glazner; Jackson King of Brownwood; and Gale Prather.

EASY SHOPPING IN EASTLAND

The development and growth of our nations shopping centers grew out of the need for convenient facilities for the family, but in the last 10 years, they have become more inconvenient than the original shopping areas they were built to supplement.

In a study of the business areas of Eastland, it has been found that the families of this trading district are closer to any business than they want a visit than to any shopping center. Store-side parking makes shopping comfortable and easy. The availability of products and merchandise is as great or greater than in the average shopping center. Credit services lay-away policies, personal interest of businessmen and salespeople all combine to make it easy to shop in Eastland. "EASY SHOPPING IN EASTLAND" is a natural theme for this week's campaign of the Eastland business community. These businessmen urge you to consider the time and cost of traveling to a giant shopping center. They urge you to consider the convenience of distance between the actual parking place and the store you may want to visit. The long and tiresome walk from store to store and the lack of personal attention and interest of each business. You will truly realize how convenient, comfortable and pleasant it is to shop here. Check the special advertising in this newspaper for easy shopping at home this week and every week of the year.

In further carrying out the theme of the day, Mrs. Emory Walton, dressed as a newsboy, handed out copies of the "Duff Reporter-News" edited by Mrs. Earl Conner. The special edition carried news of local interest, i.e., "The lady members of the Leon Village Bird Watchers Society have merged with the Weight-Watchers Club under the name the Feather-Weight Watchers Club."

Miss Duff, introduced by Mrs. Austin McCloud, provided everyone present with a "pressman's cap." During her address before the Club, Miss Pork producers have been on the short end of the stick. While production cost have continued to rise the price of hogs have been on rock bottom. Now they are going to get together and try to organize a feeder pig sale. Pork producers in the cross timbers area are having an organizational meeting to discuss a feeder sale Thursday night, Nov. 4. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the agriculture building, Tarleton State College, Stephenville. The program will be presented by Dr. Bill Thomas, Extension Swine specialist and Gayle Finch, county agent of Henderson County. I would like to encourage producers and buyers of feeder pigs to attend this meeting.

Ward Wilkerson, a former president of the Lone Star Pioneer Chapter, looks on while Gov. Preston Smith proclaims Telephone Pioneer Week in Texas.

Pioneer Week Proclaimed

Gov. Preston Smith has set aside the week of October 24-30 as Pioneer Recognition Week to salute more than 13,000 veteran telephone employees in Texas who are celebrating the 60th anniversary of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Telephone Pioneers of America is a service organization made up of active and retired telephone company employees with more than 21 years' service, according to Mrs. Bettie Jo Hart, president of the West of the Brazos Club of Cisco.

In signing the proclamation, Gov. Smith recognized the service which Pioneers provide by their programs aiding the handicapped and underprivileged throughout the state.

According to Mrs. Hart, members of the West of the Brazos Club will celebrate the anniversary with special ac-

30 Hear Beef Talk

About 30 beef cattle producers heard L. A. Maddox, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist from Texas A & M, discuss crossbreeding of beef cattle Thursday night in Eastland. Maddox said crossbreeding of beef cattle is a management tool that many producers are taking advantage of to increase production efficiency. He advised Hereford and Angus breeders to use bulls of another British breed and take advantage of the demand for Black bald face calves, but he told them to maintain their good purebred herds. There will be a continued demand for purebred bulls and replacement cows to use in crossbreeding programs.

The advantages of hybrid vigor, according to Maddox, is increased percentage calf crop, increased weaning weights and increased lifetime production of crossbred cows. Maddox said one disadvantage of crossbreeding is increased cow size. Smaller cows are more efficient because less feed is required for producing 100 pounds of weaned calf.

County agent De Gordon said Maddox is known throughout the nation for developing performance testing procedures for the nation's beef cattle industries. He has pioneered several new techniques in the use of production records and performance testing in Texas.

activities including a coffee for all telephone employees on Thursday, October 28.

"The Pioneers began as a social organization in Boston back in 1911," she said. "Today there are nearly 350,000 Pioneers in the U. S. and Canada and it's the largest organization of its type in the country."

"Although the social aspects of the club have continued, increasing emphasis has been placed on the Pioneers' community service efforts," she pointed out. "Each year, Pioneers in the Lone Star Chapter, which includes most of North Texas, put in more than 10,000 man-hours working on community service projects. Last year, for example, all the clubs in the Chapter raised money to help decorate and equip the new adolescent center at the Terrell State Hospital."

"We're not the kind of group that makes a lot of headlines," Mrs. Hart said, "but we're here trying to help people who need it in Cisco, in Texas, and across the nation."

Bell Telephone Employees of Ranger are: Mrs. May Carr, Mrs. Frances Woodruff, and Mrs. Lucille Gray.

Bell Telephone employees of Eastland are Mrs. B. E. Gray, Mrs. Reffie Cramer, Mrs. May Woods, Mrs. Esther Lovier, Miss Susie Naylor, Mrs. Laura Lou Trammell, Mrs. Bertha Freeman, Mr. Bill Walters, Jr., Mr. W. A. Wright, and Mrs. Betty Jo Hart.

Banks To Kickoff CJC Current Affairs

Dr. Murray Banks, famous New York Psychologist, will deliver what is one of the two most frequently-given talks in the world at Cisco Junior College when he kicks off the CJC 1971-72 Current Affairs Series on Monday evening, October 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium. Dr. Banks' speech, "What To Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes," has been delivered by him in person more than 5,000 times, and he will make it one more in Cisco on Monday evening.

Dr. Leland Willis, Cisco Junior College President, stated in a recent interview that Dr. Banks' Monday night lecture would undoubtedly be the best speech to date from the CJC Current Affairs Series platform. "Dr. Banks' popularity throughout the world is due to the fact that he entertains royally while he subtly instructs," Willis said. He continued, "His observations on personal adjustment are so great that we keep several copies of his speech in the form of record albums in our library's media center, and listening to 'What to do until the Psychiatrist Comes' is required listening for all of our Freshmen Orientation students."

The phenomenal success of Dr. Banks is more than amply documented. When he appeared at the Princess Theatre in Melbourne, Australia, he outsold the hit show of the day, "Hello, Dolly," even though he was the only one on stage in his presentation. An outstanding

Dr. Banks has appeared all over the United States and in every English speaking country in the world, and is of course one of the very top platform speakers in the entire world today. He has served as a professor of psychology at the New York Institute of Technology and has also been a visiting professor at several other universities in the East. He has published six books: "How To Live With Yourself," "Things My Mother Never Told Me," "How to Overcome an Inferiority Complex," and three others. He has recorded seven long-playing record albums, which include "Just In Case You Think You're Normal," "The Drama of Sex," "A Lesson in Love," and "How to Quit Smoking in Six Days or Drop Dead in Seven."

Tickets for the program by Dr. Banks are on sale now at the CJC Business office at $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for all students. All seats are reserved, and may be reserved or secured between the hours of 8:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 4:00 weekdays and 9:00 to 12:00 Saturday morning. How many times have you dreaded seeing washday roll around—because of rain, blue northers, dusty winds or hundred-plus sunshine?

These are hang-ups you wouldn't have to face if you owned a flameless electric clothes dryer. You'd just move the clothes from your washer into the dryer, turn a dial and forget about the weather.

And you could dry clothes any time of the day or night.

If you were drying permanent press clothes, many would come out ready for wearing. Which could save you lots of ironing.

An electric dryer really makes sense. It costs less to buy. Only one energy source is needed. And it saves you hours of work for pennies a load.

Creel Trial Goes Into 3rd Week Monday

Witnesses for the prosecution will continue in 91st District Court Monday in the third week of what is proving to be longest trial held in the local court in many years.

Jury selection began Monday, Oct. 11 and was completed Tuesday, Oct. 19, when testimony beginning Wednesday of this week. The prosecution had put on 38 witnesses through Thursday.

State witnesses in the Murder trial testified Thursday that they saw Creel and his dog near where 10 year old Tona Worthington was apparently abducted March 15, near where her body was found stuffed in a culvert nine miles away the following day, and at several points between.

Forty-one state witnesses had testified, some police detectives several times, by the time 91st Dist. Judge Earl Conner Jr. recessed court and released the seven-man, five-women jury to go to their homes for the weekend.

Testimony in the trial — already two weeks' old — will resume at 9 a.m. Monday with Criminal Dist. Atty. Ed Paynter of Abilene, the chief prosecutor, expected to put on a Department of Public Safety chemist and a Dallas blood expert to try to identify and match up some of the state's circumstantial evidence.

According to Dr. B. B. Trotter, an Abilene pathologist, the autopsy performed on the body of Tona showed that she had been strangled or choked to death, and that she had been criminally assaulted.

Her body showed no evidence of an unnatural sex act as a preliminary autopsy had indicated, according to the pathologist's testimony.

Dr. Trotter said that tests conducted on the swabs used in the autopsy led him to say that "highest medical probability" was that the assault was committed by "a male who had had a vasectomy."

The testimony by the pathologist came about an hour after Col. (Dr.) Billy G. Gant, commander of Dyess AFB Hospital, had testified that Creel's official Air Force medical records reflect that he had had a vasectomy in 1964.

In comparison, to the 20 witnesses who testified Wednesday and 18 Thursday, only six witnesses were called Friday by Paynter, and three of them had testified previously.

The lone new witness was Criminal Investigations Sgt. Jack Dicken, who identified most of the physical evidence which he said he took to Austin to the DPS's criminal laboratories for analysis.

Outside the presence of the jury, one of the re-called witnesses, Police Lt. W. T. (Bill) Davis testified that one of the reasons he arrested Creel without first obtaining an arrest warrant was "because I had heard he had been involved in the rape of an 11-year-old girl in Germany."

The word "Germany" was all but drowned by the vociferous objections of all three of Creel's court-appointed attorneys, Jim Robinson and Jim Cross, both of Abilene, and Bill B. Hart of Eastland. All three jumped to their feet at the same time and objected that information was "hearsay" and not involved with this offense.

Judge Conner sustained the objection and the alleged incident was not mentioned again either before, or out of the presence of the jury.

After the jury returned, the following physical exhibits were brought into the standing-room-only courtroom one at a time and identified by the police officers.

—The trunk deck lid to Creel's red, flower-covered, Volvo sedan, showing what Detective Leonard Dodgen said were "blood spots in several places."

—Two bottles containing samples of Tona's blood, drawn by Dr. Trotter during the autopsy, and its type not yet mentioned in testimony.

—The front wheel and tire off the driver's side of Creel's car, showing what Detective Sgt. Harold Emerson says are "cactus thorns" consistent with those found in the area where Tona was abducted near Reagan Elementary School.

—Two samples of hair taken from a "red and white dog" belonging to the Worthington family. One sample was clipped from the dog's coat and one "pulled out by the roots," according to police.

—Two samples of hair taken from the Worthington's "brown and white dog," (one clipped and one pulled).

—Two samples of hair taken from Creel's female German shepherd, black and brown (one clipped and one pulled, also).

—A sample of animal hair recovered from the rear seat of Creel's car, according to Sgt. Dicken.

A sample of hair removed from Tona's coat after her body was found stuffed in a culvert northwest of Abilene on March 16, the day after she disappeared.

—A "Snicker" candy bar recovered from the right front seat of Creel's car shortly after Tona's body was found, the same brand other witnesses have said Tona was carrying when she left school the afternoon of her death.

—A small rock taken from the culvert where the body was found, apparently bearing bloodstains, according to Lt. Davis.

—Dirt samples taken from inside the culvert.

—Samples of hair cut from Tona's head after her death.

—A pair of black handcuffs found in the right door pocket of Creel's car, according to Lt. Davis.

—A key ring containing the key to Creel's car, and also a key fitting the handcuffs found in the car. The ring was taken from Creel when he was arrested, Lt. Davis said.

—A blood-stained bedspread taken from the back seat of Creel's car when he was arrested.

—A portion of a slit bicycle tire taken from the trunk of Creel's car. The state contends the lengthy piece of rubber may have been the "weapon" used to strangle Tona.

—A tool box and some tools taken from the trunk of Creel's car. The box contains "what appears to be a bloody spot on it," according to Dodgen.

—A handkerchief taken from Creel when he was arrested.

—The latch mechanism of the trunk of Creel's car.

—A sample of "what appears to be blood, scraped off the tool box," according to Dodgen.

—Samples of a substance, apparently blood, removed from the rear floor mat of Creel's car, according to Dodgen.

—A strand of hair removed from the latch mechanism of the tool box found in the Creel car's trunk.

—A piece of upholstery cut from the back seat of Creel's car, and "apparently having blood on it," according to Dodgen.

—Hair pins found in the pocket of Tona's coat, folded neatly and left in the culvert with her body.

—Kernels of what appears to be popcorn taken from the floorboard of Creel's car, according to Sgt. Dieken. Dr. Trotter had testified that the autopsy showed some undigested "peanut" and corn in Tona's stomach.

Paynter had Dieken read the ingredients from the Snicker bar found in Creel's car, and one was "peanuts," he said.

—A large entanglement of "baling wire" found stuffed in the culvert with Tona, and containing stems of "haygrazer" feed not common to the part of the country where the body was found, according to Sgt. Emerson.

—A sample of Creel's public hair, given Sgt. Emerson by the defendant the day following his arrest.

After testifying that Tona was "strangled or choked to death," Dr. Trotter said that, in his opinion, the strangulation was caused "by a rope-type instrument or a flexible piece of material or clothing wrapped around the neck and pushed or pulled."

"Could it also have been caused by a bicycle tire?" Paynter asked him.

"Yes, sir," the doctor said.

"And it was probably accomplished in this manner?" Paynter said, wrapping Tona's training bra around his own neck, crossing it in front, and pulling the ends of it upward in front of his face with both hands.

"That's correct," the pathologist said, adding that a "noticeable crease mark" behind Tona's left ear caused him "to think it (the force) would be from the front."

Dr. Trotter said that he performed the autopsy at 7:45 p.m. on March 16, about four hours after Tona's body had been found. He could not pinpoint the time of death, but said it "probably" occurred about 18 hours prior to the autopsy.

Dr. Trotter said that the autopsy showed a non-lethal, deep laceration on the back of her head, abrasions on the upper left forehead and left cheek, and several scratches on the right cheek and "on the inside of her elbows." She had "clotty blood" on both hands, he said.

In his opinion, he said the "ripping kind of laceration" on the back of her head could have been caused by "a sharp blow struck with a piece of wood."

He said the bruises and lacerations of the child's pubic area were consistent with a forced criminal assault.

He added that the child's body had "grass type material" on the area of the body usually covered by the underclothing. Other witnesses have testified that Tona's body was fully clothed when it was found.

Sgt. Emerson identified colored photographs of the underside of Creel's car and said he identified "haygrazer" feed — the same type as found in Tona's hair — hung on the axle and other parts of the car.

After the jury had been dismissed for the weekend — with an admonishment to read or listen to nothing about the case — defense attorneys objected to their being allowed to separate during the two-day recess Judge Conner overruled the objection.

As he has done all week, Creel used a small cassette tape recorder to record the testimony of all witnesses. His attractive wife, Sharon, has arrived early enough each day to get a first row seat in the courtroom. She was not sworn as a witness.

During recesses, she has been allowed to visit with him in a room just off the courtroom. On Thursday, one of their four sons also visited with his father.

He said that there was grass present in Tona's hair, and "considerable clotty blood."

Scrapings from beneath Tona's fingernails turned up nothing of significance, just some unidentifiable, superficial layers of skin, he said.

Defense attorneys did not object to the introduction of the photographs of Creel, but objected strenuously to the admission of any evidence taken from the car, arguing that it was "the fruits of an illegal search and seizure."

Dr. Trotter said that "some people in our population are secreters," explaining that these persons' bodily fluids, including saliva, contain a material which can be typed and matched with a blood type.

He said he considers Dr. Ruth Guy, who is in charge of the blood bank at Parkland Hospital in Dallas and on the faculty of Southwestern Medical School there, as an expert in the field. Dr. Guy is under subpoena to testify for the case next Monday.

Dr. Trotter said that specimens of the fluid taken from Tona's body were taken to Dr. Guy for analysis.

Col. Gant, a medical doctor, testified that official Air Force medical records show Creel's blood type to be A-positive, setting the stage for anticipated chemist testimony on where blood of that type might have been found.

The doctor also testified that the records show that on Dec. 11, 1964, Creel complained to Air Force physicians of tenderness in his groin "off and on since a vasectomy in August."

Dr. Gant then explained to the jury extensive details of the reproductive process and sex act.

A vasectomy is "normally done for the sterilization of a male," Col. Gant said.

As a rule, he added, a vasectomy does not interfere with a male's sexual potency but does render him incapable of fathering a child after a variable period of some 28 to 30 days.

Defense attorneys cross-examined Col. Gant closely on certain details concerning the effects of a vasectomy on a male.

The records also show that on Sept. 15, 1964, a sperm count was requested by Creel. The lab report on this, as well as a copy of Creel's blood type and the medical report mentioning the vasectomy was admitted into evidence.

Sgt. Dieken said he could lift no fingerprints off the culvert because the galvanized metal and wood were too rough, and that the gravel shoulder and the blacktop road were too hard to show any tire tracks to make plaster casts of.

Lt. Davis testified that he arrested Creel at his trailer home in Live Oaks Trailer Park or Arnold Blvd. at 5:10 p.m. on March 16. He said he was basing the arrest on the knowledge that Creel had told him the night before that he talked to two classmates of Tona; that they said he had a dog with him, and that apparent dog hairs had been found on Tona's body when it was discovered two hours before.

Some of those witnesses testified that they saw a man they identified as Creel, his small red, flower-covered car, and German shepherd dog at the following locations and times on the afternoon of March 15.

—Near a wooded area behind Reagan Elementary School, where Tona was a student, about 4:30 p.m.

—On Farm-to-Market Rd. 2404, the old Anson road, near the Texas Highway Department between 6 and 6:30 p.m.

—On a paved county road off of FM 2404, and leading to the road where the body was found, about 6:30 p.m.

—Stopped beside the same county road, within two miles of where the body was found, a few minutes later.

It was on the latter occasion that Betty Ann Barnes, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ray Jefferson of 5101 Congress, said she saw the car identified as Tona's in the front seat of the red foreign car she said Creel was standing beside.

Although he was not able positively to identify Creel, T. Sgt. J. C. Hinojosa of 750 Ballinger, an artist and photographer, produced a 12-by-18 inch watercolor painting of a small red Volvo which he said he saw parked just off S. 7th St., east of the Little Elm Creek bridge at "5:03 or 5:04 p.m." on March 15.

"Next to the driver, there appeared to be a child about the age of my elder child," he said, adding that he has a 12-year-old son.

"To the best of my recollection, the object appeared to be a girl's head, with medium brown hair," he said. "The head was bent forward in the middle of the front seat."

Sgt. Hinojosa said he painted the picture about three weeks after he saw the car but informed Paynter that he had it only Wednesday.

The sergeant had testified earlier, in Creel's examining trial, that he thought he had taken a photograph of the car, but said Thursday that "I raised my camera... attempted to take a picture, but my shutter was not cocked."

He said he painted the driver from his recollection as a "Caucasian with light-colored hair, wearing something white." Other witnesses have testified that Creel was wearing a white, V-neck T-shirt.

Hinojosa said that there was a "large object in the back seat behind the driver," but he was concentrating on the driver and was not sure what the object was. Other witnesses had said that Creel had a large German shepherd dog in the car with him.

"As I passed, it (the car) turned left (on S. 7th St.), accelerated and left at a high rate of speed, going toward Arnold Blvd.," Hinojosa said.

Court-appointed Defense Attorneys Jim Cross, Jim Robinson and Bill B. Hart objected to the painting after Hinojosa testified that he "vividly recollects" only the interior portion of the car, and that the rest of the picture is not meant to be accurate, Judge Earl Conner Jr. overruled the objection and admitted the painting into evidence.

Cindy Mann, 11, of 5358 Questa, testified that she and Elizabeth Tamas, who testified Wednesday, were walking through a wooded area north of Reagan School when they saw the man she identified as Creel.

"We were remarking about his dog, and he said it was a coyote," she said. She added that one of the girls mentioned something about Tona leaving her softball glove at the school and that Creel then asked, "Who is she?"

When they answered with Tona's name, Creel "asked her age and where she lived," Cindy said. "Elizabeth told him she lived in the last white house on Hartford Street." She said Creel got in his red car and left going east toward Clark St.

Mrs. Dorothy Fay Johnston of 4634 Edgemont testified that she saw "a man in a red car with flowers on the sides" driving slowly south on Clark at 3:40 p.m.

Beside the car, she said, "a little girl was backing up like somebody was trying to get her in the car." She added, "Before I got over far enough to stop, he had driven off."

She said the red car turned west on Hartford and she went on. She could not identify Creel nor tell if there was another occupant in the car, she said.

Mrs. Ida Belle Coffey of 59 Hartford testified that she saw Tona walking west on Hartford toward her home, at 4:35 p.m. She said Tona was just east of the Little Elm Creek bridge and was alone at the time.

She said that nothing appeared amiss, and that she did not see any red foreign car, she drove to work at S. 8th and Clark.

Oscar Villalobos, 29, of 2324 N. 20th, identified Creel as the driver of a "small, red foreign car" that he saw on the old Anson road near the Texas Highway Department just inside the northwest Abilene city limits between 6 and 6:30 p.m.

Villalobos said he and his two cousins were traveling in a westerly direction, looking for a place to hunt rabbits, when they met the eastbound red car traveling at a slow rate of speed.

Villalobos added that the car "had brush hanging down from underneath it... like he had got too close to something and the grass and sticks hung on there."

He and his cousins, Pedro Rocha of 2150 N. 18th, and Bonifacio Valdez, 29, of 2134 N. 17th, all said that the red car made a U-turn and followed them until they reached a Y in the road and continued on to Hodges. They said the car did not follow them.

Rocha and Valdez identified pictures of Creel's car as being the one they saw, but only Villalobos was positive in his identification of Creel as the driver.

The men noticed the car because they had seen the "big dog" and "thought it might be a game warden," Valdez said.

The state is contending that Creel took the left fork at the Y, turning back almost due west, and the next three witnesses placed him on that paved county road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson and their daughter, Betty Ann, testified that the red car driven by Creel "passed us going real fast," going west on that country road between 6 and 6:30 p.m.

"He ran off the left-hand side of the road when he passed me," said Jefferson, the driver.

Jefferson said that they turned back to the south and were continuing down the road when they "saw the same car pulled off to the side of the road. I slowed up and was gonna stop, but my wife didn't want me to," he said.

The Jeffersons said the man "had the turtle (trunk) up and the hood up," and they identified the man "standing at the side of the car" as Creel when they drove past.

They said he was wearing a white T-shirt, "soldier's fatiguer pants" and tall boots.

Under cross-examination Mrs. Jefferson said that the red car had no flowers on it. Jefferson and her daughter said it did.

When she was cross-examined, Betty Ann said Creel was wearing glasses. Her parents said he was not.

Betty Ann also said that she saw the same car drive by Reagan Elementary School about 3:15 p.m. on March 16, about the same time that Tona's body was found out near where she and her family had seen Creel the afternoon before.

Sunday, October 24, 1971

Betty Ann said she would tell anyone until Tuesday that she had seen the coat in the Creel car when they passed it, and Paynter called to the stand his first assistant DA, Lynn Ingalsbe, who testified that the girl mentioned the coat first when he and Police Sgt. Harold Emerson were asking her what she remembered about the car.

Mrs. Worthington said that she last saw her daughter alive before she left for school on the morning of March 15. She said she dozed back to sleep after giving Tona her lunch money, then awakened and saw Tona standing at her dresser. "She was spraying on my cologne, rinning from ear to ear," she said, fighting back the tears.

Minutes later, she sobbed. Minutes later, her head in her hands when Paynter asked her to identify the red-and-brown checked coat with a white fur collar.

"The next time I saw her," she said after the recess, "was at the funeral home" two days later.

Mavericks Blast Bulldogs 59-0

Mavericks total 338

Flea the Bulldogs, and that is exactly what the Eastland Mavericks who are ranked No. 1 in the state in Class 2AA and have been for the past 5 weeks did Friday night in Hamilton, with the final score in Hamilton Friday night of 59-0.

Hamilton took the kickoff and could not move the ball so had to kick on fourth down. Randy Rexroat of the Mavericks took the kick on about the 10 yard line and returned it 90 yards for the first Maverick touchdown. Howard King made the two point conversion, and immediately the score was 8-0 in favor of the Mavericks.

On the next power move King ran 48 yards to the two yard line and Rexroat scored from the two with Eidson's kick off to the right and that made a total of 14-0.

A fumble recovery set up the next series of downs with runs by Howard King and Thomas and a pitch out brought the ball in for score with Eidson's kick good. The Score 21-0.

Eastland took the punt at the Hamilton 44 yard line and Lund passed to Mace for 55 yards and a touchdown. Eidson's kick was good and at the end of the first quarter the score was 28-0.

At the start of the second quarter the drive started on the Mavericks own 39 yard line. Runs by King and Thomas and a pass from Lund to Eidson to the nine yard line set up the score. Lund took the snap from center and kept from the five yard line to score. Eidson's kick was good and the score stood at 35-0.

Another fumble recovery by Lopez at the Hamilton 30 yard line made for another drive as a pitch out from Lund to King at the 20 yard line went in for a score. Eidson kicked good and the score with 1:36 seconds left in the first half of action with the Mavericks leading the Bulldogs by a score of 42-0.

In the third quarter Hamilton tried an inside kick but the alert Eastland line came up with the ball on the Eastland 46 yard line.

Again runs by King and a pass by Lund to Mace carried the Mavericks to the Hamilton 15. On the next series of downs Lund took snap from center and with a very good blocking passed to Eidson for the score and again Eidson kicked the PAT with the score 49-0.

During the second half the Mavericks had a couple of fumbles which were attributed to several things such as a wet ball, bad snap, and quarterback pulling out to fast after the call.

The Mavs took the ball on their own 35 and with several runs, one long run by Thomas, returned it to the Hamilton 35 where Boles carried to the 15 and then Thomas went in for the score as Eidson kick was good. With 11:25 left in the 4th quarter the score was 56-0.

Hamilton tried several times to move the ball with out success. With Jimenez quarterbacking most of the second half the Mavericks took the ball and made handoffs and pitchouts to Boles, Thomas and McClesky carried the ball down to the 20 yard line of Hamilton. With first and 5 yards to go the Mavericks sent in their field goal unit and Eidson kicked a 20 yard field goal to make the final score 59-0.

Howard King had the most yards rushing with a total of 185 for the Mavericks.

Other district scores Friday night included Coleman 48-Cisco, Ballinger 19-Clyde 6, and Winters 34-Comanche 8.

BOWLING NEWS AND RESULTS

by LLOYD MANLEY

I believe we have some... going for us. I heard many nice comments about our bowling news. Everyone seems to like the idea, and we have already received some proposed names for the article. So put your thinking caps on and send us some more. Remember, 25 free games to the winner. You can submit as many names as you like. Mail them to us, P.O. Box 663 Eastland or drop them off at the bowling lanes deck.

I would like to clean up what seems to be a misunderstanding about high school and college student bowling leagues and student eligibility to participate in school athletics. All student league bowling is sanctioned by the American Junior Bowling Congress (AJBC). No money or merchandise prizes are awarded in these leagues, only trophies. There is also a limit on the amount that may be paid for each trophy awarded in these leagues. This is strictly controlled and any proprietor, coach, or instructor violating the rules of the Texas State Junior Bowling Association, or the American Junior Bowling Congress is subject to severe penalty. Therefore, student league bowling, properly sanctioned does not affect student eligibility to participate in school athletics. In many parts of the country and here in our state of Texas, bowling leagues are a part of the school athletic program, with awards, team and individual, being presented along with baseball, being presented along with baseball, football, track and other sports awards. Arlington and San Marcos, Texas are two of the cities where bowling is a part of the school athletic program.

Okay Given for PLANNING Public RC&D Programs

The go-ahead has been given for what could be the development of some very fine resources for residents in this area, according to Cong. Omar Burleson, and E. E. McAlister, supervisor for the Soil Conservation Service office here. Cong. Burleson notified this area Friday that the SCS and other Agriculture Dept. agencies are now authorized, with authority and resources, to proceed at once with assistance to sponsor Leon-Bosque Resource Conservation and Development Project. This is the authority that could see the development of public parks, city garage handling, and other citizen-helping projects. The Leon-Bosque RC&D district is made up of Eastland, Comanch, Erath, Bosque and Somerville counties, and the program calls for mass cooperation between USDA agencies and local municipalities and government subdivisions for extensive planning, to pinpoint needs and formal application to the appropriate governmental agencies for help. On the drawing boards now are plans for refurbishing or building new public parks in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger. Marion Porter of Stephenville, SCS District Supervisor, heads up the planning section, and will be instrumental in helping groups identify the needs that exist and helping see the projects come to culmination, it is reported. Conceivable, there would be state and federal monies available for such projects, with the local entities providing land, labor and other assistance as their parts of the overall projects. "We see this a giant step forward," Mr. McAlister said.

Olden Baptist Church To Hold Singing Convention Today

The Eastland county quarterly singing convention will be held in the Olden Baptist Church, Sunday October 24. Singing will begin at 11 a.m. and continue on through the afternoon. Lunch will be served on the church grounds, so everyone is encouraged to bring a lunch basket. Two quartets from about 100 will be present. Solos, duets, trios, and quartets of beautiful gospel music will be enjoyed by

In Cisco, an eight-acre park is envisioned on school property near the new high school, to include a swimming pool, ball park, tennis courts, petting zoo, etc.; at Eastland long-range planning is being done on re-vamping the present city park; and at Ranger extensive planning is on.

FIESTA BOWL EASTLAND

The bowling spotlight this week is on Sara Peel, Leo Singer and Clyde Benton. In addition to winning the Bowler of the Week Tournament last Sunday with a total 3-game score of 641, Sara Peel received an award from the Texas State Women's Bowling Association. Mrs. Lazelle Johnston President of the Eastland County Bowling Association, presented Sara with a beautiful trophy for a three game scratch series of 658 which she bowled with the Koen Salvage Company Team during the 1970-71 season. Sara's average is 163. Clyde Benton, one of our top bowlers, won the Bowler of the Week Tournament in the Men's Division with an excellent 631 set. Two weeks ago, bowling in the Wednesday Nite Men's Scratch League, Leo Singer performed a rare feat, and will receive an award from ABC. The 2nd game of his 3 game series was an outstanding 265. This is 100 pins over his 165 average. Most of us would have been nervous after bowling a hundred pins over our average. Didn't seem to bother Leo at all. He came right back with a 234 game to finish the series with a total of 660. Congratulations to these three fine bowlers for their outstanding performance.

We talk about our bowlers, their high game scores, high series scores, averages, etc. However, we have one group of people that never seem to receive the proper recognition. These are people that we cannot do without. Bowlers, if you haven't guessed, I'm talking about your team sponsors. These are the Merchants and business people that, each year, give their time and money to sponsor your bowling team. When you go shopping, remember the firms that sponsor our teams. Buy from them, or just drop in and say hello. Give them the support they so richly deserve the same support they give you. Each team sponsor is listed in the League Standings. Let them know that we appreciate them.

MAYBE YOU DON'T NEED INSURANCE---

If you don't own a home, furniture, jewelry or a car, you can get along without the services of an insurance agent. But for the most of us, life is not that simple. Modern living has become so complex that the protection of property and personal liability is a major problem and we must be insured. The individual you can always depend on for accurate solutions of your insurance problems is your local agent.

WMU to Meet Thursday

The WMU, Bethel Baptist Church, Bible study and prayer group, will meet Thursday, October 28, at 7:30 in the Bethel Baptist Church.

Theme for the evening will be "Church made for Missions." Matthew 16: 13-20, taken from the Royal Service Magazine.

Mrs. Otis McDonald will be leading the program. All ladies of the church are invited to attend. Visitors are welcome. An important business meeting will be conducted.

Sunday Topic

True life, and goodness have no end, according to the Bible Lesson-Sermon, on "Probation After Death," at Christian Science churches, Sunday, October 24.

One of the passages to be read from Psalms affirmed "Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

A hint of what this can mean in terms of today's life style is given in this citation from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight."

Services in Eastland will begin at 10 a.m., Sunday, October 24, in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on the corner of Plummer and Lamar.

Thanked By Governor

Eastland Police Chief John Morren has received a letter of commendation from Gov. Preston Smith for having attended a three-day traffic Records Workshop last week.

The Governor said in part: "I am advised that the workshop was stimulating as well as informative, thus confirming my faith that meaningful progress can be made in the accumulation, analysis and use of traffic data to prevent traffic crashes."

"I consider your participation as a genuine contribution to the well-being of the citizens of your community. I hope you will utilize to the fullest extent the information you have received. By working together and by making the most of our training opportunities, we can, and we must, be successful in saving the lives and property of our citizens."

"Please accept my congratulations and kindest personal regards."

Fellowship Enjoyed at Meeting

In a certain play, a young boy is portrayed as one who was always having a lot of good ideas, but his problem was how to carry them out.

It seems that Mrs. Cecil Ellis has a lot of good ideas on how to improve life in Eastland.

She has set about to do something about one good idea - A fellowship period for some of the older, active, citizens of the town.

Feeling that there was a need for fellowship and an opportunity for the New Corners to get acquainted with some of the people of the town, she secured the Community Room at the Eastland National Bank for a meeting Thursday night. At her invitation and that of other interested persons, 20 people experienced an enjoyable period of fellowship playing "42" and just visiting with one another around the table at refreshment time.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Denny, Mrs. Zelma Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Bee Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowell, Mrs. G. L. Wingate, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Geem, Mr. B. B. Blair, Mrs. Ima McBee, Mr. and Mrs. Young Wright, Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Ellis.

There will be another meeting Thursday, October 28, in the Community Room of the Eastland National Bank at 7 p.m.

Any person, or persons, who would like to get acquainted with others in the town are invited to attend. The time will be spent playing various games and in fellowship around the refreshment table.

Those present last Thursday express their gratitude to the Eastland National Bank for making the room available for such a delightful occasion. The decor of the room contributed much to the friendly atmosphere that prevailed throughout the evening.

A NEWSPAPERMAN'S LOVE AFFAIR

Why do I love the newspaper so much?
Because of the spirited and dedicated people who make it - because of the people who buy it and advertise in it and read it - but most of all because of the people of every kind and class and color who must tell the world about it.
I have an entrée to everybody. I can walk into the office of the President of the United States, the operating room where a doctor is performing a miracle of surgery into the death house at the penitentiary.
Almost everybody will talk with me if I am humble and discreet and know how to ask questions for the answers I seek.
Every human activity is on my beat and I am interested in everything that happens in the world for everything is my concern.

WALTER R. HUMPHREY

Has Meeting

The members of the Fidelis Matrons S. S. Class of First Baptist Church met in the Fellowship Hall, Thursday Oct. 7, for a social & dedication for the new year of service.

Mrs. Ed Layton gave a very timely talk on "Planning Ahead." Mrs. Carl Timmons closed the program with a dedicatory prayer.

Those present were: Mrs. Fannie O'Brien, president, Mrs. Mmes. Siebert, Layton, Owen, McFarland, Timmons, Brown, Wright, Beene, and Hazard. Their next meeting will be a Christmas Dinner at the Fellowship Hall, time to be announced later.

Senior Citizens
Bazaar

The Senior citizen's Fall Harvest Bazaar and Fair will be held on November 3, 4, and 5, in the Rebecca Lodge in Eastland. If you are 60 years of age or older, you are welcomed to show any handmade article at the Bazaar. Money from the sale of articles will go to the exhibitor.

Last Year's Bazaar was the first one ever held in Eastland County. Forty eight (48) exhibitors participated in 1970 and earned $374.15 from the sale of their articles. Last year's bazaar was a big success. This year the Bazaar has been extended to a three day sale.

The Bazaar is being sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs. The Cisco, Gorman, and Eastland Senior Citizens Clubs are cooperating and assisting in sponsoring the event. It's anticipated that this year's bazaar will be the biggest and best exhibition of talent and skills ever.

The building this year's bazaar will be held in is adequate for the large number of people all over the county that are planning to participate.

The Home Demonstration Clubs will sponsor a snack bar along with a cake and pie sale.

Veteran's Day - How It Was Named

By changing one word in a 28-year-old resolution, the United States Congress in 1954 renamed the day this Nation had traditionally set aside for honoring its war veterans.

On June 1, 1954, Congress, acting on a proposal made by Representative Edwin K. Rees, of Kansas, changed Armistice Day to "Veterans Day."

Additional significance was added to Veterans Day in 1958, when two more unidentified American War dead were brought to Arlington Cemetery from overseas and interred beside the World War I soldier. One was killed in World War II, the other in Korea. To honor the three, symbolic of all Americans who gave their lives, a U. S. Army honor guard - the First Battalion, Third Infantry (Old Guard) - keeps day and night vigil. The tribute honors the more than a million who have died in all U. S. Wars. This includes the 4,000 who died during the American Revolution and the more than 43,000 who have died during the Vietnam Conflict.

Fighting in World War I had ended at 11 a.m. on November 11, 1918. Two years later, France and England chose November 11, then known universally as Armistice Day, as the time for placing an unknown soldier of that war in each nation's highest place of honor. France chose the Arch de Triumph. England selected Westminster Abbey. The following year, on November 11, 1921, an American SM-1 soldier whose name was "known only to God" was buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

Arlington Memorial Amphitheater built around the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery. The site, established in 1864 and now operated by the Department of Defense, lies on property that once belonged to Gen. Robert E. Lee. The late President John F. Kennedy is among the more than 150,000 buried there.

At 11 a.m. on the fourth Monday in each October, a combined color guard representing all military services, presents arms at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The Nation's tribute to its war dead is symbolized by the laying of a Presidential wreath. The bugler sounds "Taps" The balance of the ceremony, which includes a brief address, takes place at the Amphitheater. Six flaming torches are carried down the aisle by military representatives of six embassies and presented to representatives of American veterans organizations as a symbol of veterans of the free world.

Veterans Day ceremonies at Arlington and elsewhere in the Nation are coordinated by the President's Veterans Day National Committee. Chaired by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs - the group has an executive committee which includes representatives of 9 national veterans organizations.

The Governor of each State appoints a Veterans Day chairman who works in cooperation with the National Committee in planning and projecting appropriate ceremonies within his State.

The 90th Congress passed Legislation in 1968 to change the observance of Veterans Day to the fourth Monday in October. The President signed PL 90-363, into law on June 28, 1968.
