LATIN WINNERS Big Spring students gathered in major honors at a Latin tournament staged Saturday in San Angelo, winning two team cups, a trophy in each the first-year and second-year divisions. In the second-year group, Grover Cunningham, Jr., was awarded first place and Billy Melr second; while in the first-year group Bennett Reeves was ranked first and Charles Harrell got third.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

Perhaps too little has been said and done locally toward cooperating in a complete and accurate census. Unless everyone takes it upon himself to make sure that he and his family have been enumerated, the count which must be completed by the end of this week, may not reflect a true count of the number of people in Big Spring.

Encouraging was the report by S. G. Merritt, manager of the local office for Texas State Employment Service. For the first quarter placements were up 47 per cent over last year and the amount put in private industry was considerably larger.

If It Isn't Cloudy, You Can Study Sun Eclipse Today; Darkest At 3:43

Eclipse-minded citizens of Big Spring this afternoon will find an ordinarily-normal appearing sun taking up a queer disguise—that is, if cloudy weather doesn't mar the whole show. Beginning at 2 p. m., the sun goes into an annular- or ring-eclipse. At that time the moon, will begin to nip into the face of the sun, from the lower part. The celestial circus will end for this area at 5:13 p. m., according to report from Dr. Otto Struve, director of the University of Texas McDonald Observatory, and the central phase, at which time the largest portion of the sun will be obscured, will occur at 3:43 p. m. and will last approximately six minutes.

McDonald Observatory will record the phenomenon from the very center of the belt, working with specially-designed infra-red recording apparatus in the heart of the Chisos Mountains in West Texas' Big Bend area. Center of the 160 mile-wide eclipse zone lies along a line falling just north of Beaumont and Houston, south of Austin, north of Del Rio, across the bottom tip of the Big Bend and thence into Mexico. Only along that line, according to Dr. Struve, will the eclipse be seen as a complete ring.

Pressure Of Economic War Shifts To Northern States

General Motors Labor Vote Complex Affair

DETROIT, April 6 (AP)—The national labor relations board is getting ready for the biggest election job in its history—polling nearly 135,000 employees of General Motors Corporation for their choices of bargaining agencies. The election has been set for Wednesday, April 17. There are more eligible voters in the 58 plants in 12 states than there were ballots cast for major presidential candidates in 1936 in any one of several states.

School Vote Totals Small

Light voting was noted over the county Saturday as 21 common and independent school districts selected 27 trustees for three year terms. In Big Spring, J. Y. Robb and M. M. Edwards, unopposed for their second terms, drew the largest local school vote since 1937.

Johnson Hits At New Deal

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson elaborated the Roosevelt administration tonight before a group of high democratic leaders, and inferentially urged that the party nominate for president James A. Farley, John Garner, Cordell Hull or some other "old-school democrat."

POPE VOICES A NEW HOPE FOR PEACE

VATICAN CITY, April 6 (AP)—Pope Pius again today voiced his hope for peace among men. In a brief speech after attending an orchestral concert at the Vatican, he said: "In the same way as there was much music on the program, composed from various nations, all united in the same harmonious tunes, we hope that all men between whom today there is discord may finally join their souls in divine harmony—the harmony of peace of the soul."

Big Spring Netters Lose At S'water; Plangman Stars

Tennis Matches Not Completed, Track Events Delayed A Week

SWEETWATER, April 6.—Bad weather necessitated postponement of track and field events of the district interscholastic league meet, originally set for today, and slowed down the tennis play to such an extent that final results will not be known until next mid-week.

Due to the rain, the athletic events were set for next Saturday. Tennis play went ahead today, in the gym, but it was impossible to complete the play, and semi-finals and finals will be played next Wednesday, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Although Big Spring went out of the tourney in matches today, it furnished the "favorite" of the tournament, in the person of diminutive Jewel Plangman looking not much bigger than his raquet, the little Plangman boy was all over the court in taking out Trust Rowan of Aspermont, 6-7, 7-5, 6-1; but he was defeated in the next round by E. B. Gallagher of Jayton, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The Big Spring doubles team of Lawrence Robinson and Roy Collins, was beaten in their first go, by Swenson and Kinnard of Stamford, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

Results through Saturday afternoon matches:

Distinctive features in appearance, economy and more efficient operation are claimed for the 1940 line of Westinghouse electrical refrigerators, being shown at the Gibson Household Appliance store in Big Spring. The new models are said to provide a maximum of conveniences, with complete foodstoring facilities, ample ice-making equipment, flexible storage space and smooth operation.

The line features the "Tru-Zone" cold, with five degree zones to provide the right refrigeration for each type of food. This is an exclusive feature with Westinghouse. This product also has a new insulation called Fiberglass, a spun glass material which is said to cut heat loss 10 percent, and is of permanent nature.

Other Westinghouse features are the new meat keeper, humidrawer with glass sliding top, quick cube release trays, and sliding shelves. The unit is powered with a hermetically sealed economizer power-house, that features a built in "watchman" to prevent motor trouble of any sort. The Westinghouse refrigerator is backed by a five-year guarantee.

Rotary Talk To Be Given At Lamesa

The economic aspects of the present war and prior developments will be discussed by a nationally known writer at Lamesa Monday night. The address, "The Struggle for Raw Materials," by Dr. Allen D. Albert of Chicago, is the fourth and concluding one in a series sponsored by Rotary clubs of this district as an "Institute of International Understanding."

The talk will be given at the Lamesa high school, beginning at 8 o'clock. Dr. Albert has had an interesting career as a newspaper man, having begun as a reporter in Washington, D. C., and New York. He was a war correspondent in the Spanish-American war, chief editorial writer for the Washington, D. C. Times from 1900-1910, publisher of the Columbus, O. News from 1910-1911, and editor and associate publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune from 1912-1919. As assistant to the president for the Chicago Century of Progress, it was his responsibility to visit many of the European capitals on diplomatic missions relative to the exposition, and also to be commissioner of the exposition to Japan and China. For a number of years Dr. Albert has been especially interested in the causes of city growth and programs of city development, having been consultant to many city development bodies. He is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and was special lecturer of the departments of English and Political Science in the University of Minnesota from 1912-1913. He received the degree of Sc. D. in sociology from Evanston College in 1922.

Colorado Authority Checking Rainfall

AUSTIN, April 6 (AP)—The far-flung weather reporting system of the Lower Colorado River Authority went into operation today as heavy rains fell over a wide area west and northwest of the series of dams on the river. Observers began reporting from 134 rain gauge stations, giving a thorough official information on which to base operation of the reservoirs, which include the huge Lake Buchanan, about 100 miles by river northwest of Austin. Officials said rain over most of the area averaged two to three inches and more was forecast. They estimated that, because of near drought conditions, and the steadiness of the fall, most of the precipitation would soak into the ground before an extensive runoff.

The Ford way of doing business

• Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. • In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a workman for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are gratifyingly high.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. The materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the civilized world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family, for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in a 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Despite intensifying German-British air-and-sea skirmishing, current political developments on both the Franco-British and the East home fronts hold first attention. In Britain and in Germany moves not only to press the war rigorously but to stiffen public morale against any turn the conflict takes for the worse were highlighted. Against the political background, fresh incidents of the war in the North Sea accompanied by a fresh crop of claims and denials of damage done to shipping had small significance. Of far greater immediate interest was the new assignment of Winston Churchill as the potential British captain-at-arms, and the fresh Berlin rumblings of impending Nazi attack in the west. Those events started new jitter for neutrals in the west, but abated a little the nerve tension of their fellows in southeastern Europe. The Balkans, Germany's most vital bread basket and oil reservoir, had a variety of reasons for reviving hope that neutrals there could escape being drawn into the war. Germany, Russia, Britain, France, Turkey, even Rome inferentially, raised a chorus of official reassurances. The Hitler-Mussolini conference in Brenner Pass had that implication. It was obviously Berlin-en-

Market Strong At Finish Of Its Best Week Since October

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Buying in shipbuilding and steel stocks touched off another rallying push in today's market that put favorites up fractions to more than 2 points and enabled the list to finish its best week since the latter part of October. Recovery from yesterday's profit taking setback appeared at the opening, but prices hit their top marks in the final hour when new highs for the year or longer were posted for a number of issues. While the upturn was selective—gains in rails, utilities, oils, rubbers, coppers and mail orders were relatively small—Wall Street interpreted it as confirmation of recent signs that business was preparing to get back on the forward swing. Activity picked up as the brief session drew to a close, with transfers totalling 710,470 shares, largest Saturday turnover since Nov. 4. It compared with 571,880 a week ago. For the six days 7,269,520 shares changed hands against 4,837,558 in the preceding week, making it the liveliest period since the week ended Sept. 30. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .3 of a point at 51.4, a net gain for the week of 1.1 points, or the best advance for this composite since the week of Oct. 21. A month ago the average stood at 50.1 and a year ago at 41.6.

Business School In New Location

Mrs. Doris Ross, manager of the Big Spring Select Business School, announces removal of the school from its Crawford hotel quarters to 507 Main. The change, Mrs. Ross said, was because of the need for more room to care for an enlarged enrollment. Although the school has been open in Big Spring only a few weeks, the manager reports placements in many instances, a number of the students making business connections as soon as they qualified. Mrs. Ross, a teacher in West Texas for the past three years, conducted schools in Sweetwater and Midland before coming to Big Spring, and has been connected with H. E. Byrne and Byrnes colleges since 1918. The public is invited to visit the school at its new location at any time.

ALASKANS GUESS AS TO TIME OF ICE BREAKUP

NENANA, Alaska, April 6 (AP)—A tripod, carrying the wire to a guarded electric clock, stood on the Tanana river ice here today, challenging all Alaskans to fatten their purses by guessing what day, hour and minute the clock will stop. When the ice moves, the wire will draw taut and trip a mechanism stopping the clock. The prize money in the 23-year-old contest will go to the persons whose guesses most nearly approximate the time of the spring breakup. The ice is thick, but riddled by cracks, and the thousands of guessers from all over the territory are using everything from just simple, unscientific "hunches" to elaborate mathematical and meteorological formulas in Alaska's most popular indoor winter sport.

Nino Martini Will Appear In Abilene

ABILENE, April 6—Nino Martini, handsome tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, will provide one of the season's musical highlights in West Texas, with his concert in the Hardin-Simmons university auditorium, in Abilene, on Friday night, April 12.

NINO MARTINI

Martini's repertoire includes a wide range of classical and contemporary music, with Italian, Spanish, French and English songs and arias, but he believes that programs should be shaped to please the listener.

"When I sing what pleases me, the audience applaud, but perhaps only politely," he explained. "But when I sing what the audience enjoys, they are happy, and I am happy because I have pleased them."

Martini cannot understand why some concert artists refuse to sing encores. "It is a great honor when people like you well enough to ask for more. The least you can do is to give it to them. I often have to double my printed program with encores."

PUBLIC DEBT COMMITTEE NAMED BY WTCC AS NEW TYPE OF PUBLIC SERVICE

ABILENE, April 6—A West Texas chamber of commerce sinking fund investment commission, an original plan for assisting local political subdivisions in improving public debt incurring and debt paying methods for the benefit of the taxpayer, has been named.

Chairman of the commission is W. J. Fairwiler, Abilene business man and financier.

Other members are W. H. Patrick, president, First National bank, Clarendon; C. E. McCutchen, vice president, First National bank, Wichita Falls; C. N. Bassett, president, State National bank, El Paso; M. C. Ulmer, cashier, First National bank, Midland, and H. C. Custard, vice president, Cleburne National bank, Cleburne.

Organization of the sinking fund investment commission is a part of the WTCC program for helping the taxpayers of West Texas. This program includes organization of local public expenditure and taxation committees in affiliated towns.

A budget analysis staff to work with these committees in making comparative, analytical studies of proposed budgets already has been organized with Berry Brown, budget expert, as research director. The sinking fund investment commission will work from reports made by budget analysts staff members in recommending sinking fund improvements.

The commission is an entirely new idea in the field of study of local government and will focus attention on a great portion of the tax dollar never heretofore scrutinized, and its work will bring far-reaching, constructive benefits, WTCC officials declared today.

"It shall be the purpose of this commission," D. A. Bantzen, WTCC manager, said, "to study and ask for improved debt paying methods as practiced in our local governments, to the end that the taxpayer may be benefited both by the best possible terms in incurring debt and by the maximum earnings of sinking fund assets. It is not the plan to go into details by recommending good interest bearing securities, but to confine the program to the enunciation of standards for good administration, and perhaps to improve our basic laws on debt incurring and debt paying."

"As around 45 cents of every local tax dollar is consumed by debt service charges, and since this field of local government has never been thoroughly studied and treated, it is believed that here is a field of activity from which some constructive results may be obtained," Bantzen declared.

'Windbreak' Planting Is Extensive

STANTON, April 6 (Sp.)—Among the new farm programs being put into effect in Martin county is that of planting trees—thousands of them—to use as windbreaks and protection for fields. Farmers all over the county are taking advantage of this part of the AAA Soil Conservation project, which was first introduced here last February.

Several thousand trees were bought and set out by farmers interested in the program. Since the start, over 100,000 trees have been planted in the county. This program represents about 75 farms, with approximately 1800 trees to each. They have been planted as windbreaks, bordering fields for protection and around the houses and barns. AAA regulations require that the trees be planted at least ten feet apart, although as many as 400 may be planted per acre. The government allows all who plant trees in accordance with their requirements, $1.80 per acre for the number of acres planted in trees, this amount being exclusive of all other subsidies and allowances. Each farm is allowed up to 4 acres of trees, all of which are Chinese elm seedlings, probably the hardest and most commonly used trees in this vicinity.

Use Of Fertilizer In West Texas May Not Be So Far In Future

By JOE PICKLE

Blessed with an abundance of soil—and good soil at that—West Texas may not be long in coming to the use of fertilizers to increase production.

It may sound like blasphemy, but Howard county may well be included in the group which would be benefited by use of soil supplements.

This may sound wilder than it is for there is no authority to come right into the open with an assertion. West Texas still has and will have for years to come some of the most fertile soil in the world.

But reading between the lines of a parley between M. K. "Duke" Thornton, state extension service agricultural chemist, County Agent C. P. Griffin and George Bond, Martin county agent, one gets the impression that while fertilizers are not at all necessary, they might pay dividends in increased production in some areas.

on hand, but call it what you will, it is fertilizing the soil. Those who have chemical minds have a hunch more of this should be done now, because West Texas weather is too arid to be readily adaptable to intense use of commercial fertilizers.

Court In Session This Week At Garden City

Having concluded a six week stand at Odessa late Saturday, the 70th district court moves to Garden City on Monday for a one-week session before returning to Big Spring for the second local term of the year.

Comfortably filled civil and criminal dockets will await the court's attention when Judge Cecil C. Collins convenes the five weeks' term here at 9 a. m. on April 15. Civil filings have been comparatively light since the January term terminated, but there is enough holdover business to keep the court busy. Criminal complaints have been steady if not heavy.

Plans are to impanel the grand jury as soon as court is convened and to plunks at once into the business at hand. Listed as grand jurors are C. M. Adams; Paul Adams, C. E. Anderson, A. J. Stallings, F. W. Hardin, Glenn Cantrell, G. W. McGregor, Leroy Echols, L. H. Thomas, Glenn Smith, Harold Homan, H. H. Hurt, R. E. Martin, L. W. Croft, and Sidney Smith.

Help Asked To Send Youngsters To State Salvation Army Meet

An appeal for public help in sending a Big Spring group to a Salvation Army young people's gathering in Dallas is being made by the local commander, Major L. W. Canning.

Each year, the Army sponsors a Young People's Congress, at which boys and girls of teen age from points over Texas gather in Dallas for a three-day period instruction and training. Some 500 or 600 young people usually attend the meetings, which are presided over by the territorial commanders, Commissioner and Mrs. Wm. C. Arnold of Atlanta, Ga.

Brigadier Wm. Geo. Gilks, Army commander for the state of Texas, is making elaborate plans for this year's gathering, Major Canning said, and young people themselves are looking forward to the affair. Major and Mrs. Canning are arranging to take 10 delegates to Big Spring. The cost for each delegate, he said, will be about $10, and since none of the young people are able to pay their own way, an appeal is made for public help.

"We believe there are enough people in Big Spring sufficiently interested in the boys and girls who want to make this trip, to pay a small share of this cost," said Major Canning. "It will mean a contribution of much happiness and inspiration for these young people."

Donations may be sent to Major Canning, or The Herald will be glad to transmit gifts to him.

Palominos To Be Shown At Horse Show

Palominos, those blond beauties of the horse world, will be shown extensively at Big Spring's first annual horse show on April 21, if plans develop according to expectations. Several classes for Palominos have been arranged, it was announced by M. H. Bennett, director of the show who is being assisted in this division by Roy C. Davis of Sterling City, one of the founders of the Texas Palomino association.

The April 21 event—with shows afternoon and night at the rodeo grounds—will be for the benefit of the Rotary club's crippled children's fund, and is expected to bring representatives of many of Texas' major stables. In addition to the Palominos, there will be gaited classes, plantation classes, divisions for harness-and-saddle horses, for Hackney ponies, and classes for cowboys, cowgirls, park riders and children. A $500 championship five-gaited stake will be the climaxing event of the show.

Gaining phenomenally in popularity in recent years due to their marked coloring and other outstanding characteristics, the Palomino horses are expected to attract wide interest. There will be showings of 1939 foals (stallions) and 1938 foals (stallions), a showing of three-year-olds and up, a class for geldings of all ages, and a class for mares of all ages. Bennett said this division of the show would be run under rules of the Texas Palomino association.

Meanwhile, interest was growing in the show, as evidenced by seat sales. Individual tickets may be purchased from Rotary members, and in addition box seats are on sale by Bennett. Among purchasers of boxes for the two shows are the State National bank, the First National bank, Grover Dunham, C. T. McLaughlin, J. Y. Robb and M. H. Bennett, Obie Bristow, Bill Tate, R. T. Piner and Carl Strom, Jess Wilbanks, and Frank Kelly of Colorado City. Many local firms are contributing trophies for class winners.

HORSES, HORSES—An indication of the variety of horse types to be seen at the Charity horse show scheduled in Big Spring on Sunday, April 21, is given in the photos above. At top is Gray Dawn, a three-gaited animal belonging to C. T. McLaughlin of the Diamond M ranch, which will be one of the entries in the gaited class. McLaughlin's daughter, Jess McLaughlin, is up. Below, Miss Ann Mary Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Y. C. Gray of Garden City poses on her well-fed pony, Sybil. Ann Mary is expected to enter her mount in the children's class of the show, which is being staged by the Rotary club of Big Spring for the benefit of its crippled children's fund.

CENSUS TAKER ASKED TO HELP WITH SOME INFORMATION

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—A census enumerator, still slightly flustered, reported this one today: The woman householder being interviewed answered all questions without hesitation, even eagerly, but with something apparently weighing on her mind. It came out at the end. "Now I'll ask you one," she harried the enumerator. "Where's my husband? I haven't seen him for 15 years."

AROUND THE COFFEE POT

By Newton Robinson

And the rains came... Most of the county received a light though beneficial rain this week with precipitation varying in intensity from "light showers" to an estimated one inch or better. Small amounts of water stood in borrow ditches but very little was caught in stock tanks. Grass and weeds on range land that has already started greening will provide a good pasturage. The weather bureau at Big Spring reported .51 inch total.

Thirteen-year-old Nellie Mae Barnett of Marfa took top honors at the Southwest Livestock show at El Paso last week when her calves won both Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion. This is the first time that these honors have been won by a girl. The calves were bred by George and Bill Jones of Marfa.

Guy Novinger, local produce man, returned from El Paso Friday night. He reported heavy rains from Monahans to Midland. Novinger received 16c per pound for a load of hens there. El Paso dealers were paying 32c for fryers, he said.

E. S. Mayer of San Angelo termed Texas' 7,000 pound load limit "economically unsound" at a statewide conference of private truck owners and operators at Austin Wednesday. Mayer is president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association. State Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald discussed the relationship of farming and transportation of farm products at the meeting.

Kay Brooks, who has a place 11 miles northeast of town, says that he has only one weather rule to go by and that is that a hard winter usually is followed by a good crop year. Kay intends to hold off his planting for a while, believing that planting immediately after the rains might cost more than it is worth in the long run.

The annual Farmers Short Course will be held at Texas A. and M. from July 8 through the 12th, according to H. M. Williamson, director of extension service. Fred Keating, superintendent of

Stanton's Park To Be Popular This Summer

STANTON, April 6 (Sp)—With spring at last on its way, and warmer weather just around the corner, citizens of Stanton, especially the children, are casting their eyes longingly to the new city park. Located in the northwest portion of town, it is situated on a 1.2 acre tract of land, which until one year ago this month, was merely a barren space with weeds grown high.

Work was begun on terracing, landscaping and constructing playground equipment last March 27—and one more of the ambitions of civic minded citizens of Stanton was realized. Last summer the park was used very little, due to the fact that it was completed so late in the summer. But this year it is expected to be a popular meeting place for family groups and parties. Already any number of picnic parties have braved the cool evenings to enjoy steaks barbecued on one of the park's various pits. Any number of people may be accommodated during one evening for picnics, for picnic units, of tables and benches, are scattered throughout the park, as well as three large barbecue pits, constructed of stone. In only one year, the park has become a beauty spot. Approximately a hundred trees, planted at vantage points, already are budding and casting shade across the wide spacious lawns. Much evergreen shrubbery although still small, adds a decided note of beauty. Added to the restful qualities for the grownups are many playground facilities to delight the heart of any child. Swings, merry-go-rounds, see-saws, sand pits—and probably most popular of all—a wading pool. The population of South America is 87,815,000.

Why not make this year your "Big Moment?"
Business is Good, Thanks—so you'll find a swell deal waiting for you at your Buick dealer's
Above is the Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $996*
WE'RE talking here to those thousands who have not yet achieved a lifetime ambition. That is to say, they don't yet own a Buick.
We want to point out a few facts about the Buick SPECIAL pictured here—show how it swings wide the door on a golden opportunity.
Step into this sleek sweetheart. Your treadle foot touches off a trigger-quick Dynaflex straight-eight engine that's just about the smoothest thing that runs, thanks to micro-poised-balancing after assembly.
Swing through the gear changes and you find the same easy, finger-flick shifting as in the most costly Buick. And the same recoil-mounted Knee-Action soaking up bumps before they reach your hand on the steering wheel.
Take a rough road in stride. You'll find that stout BuCoil Springs muffle out the bumps—and they'll never need lubrication.
Look out through the easy-vision Safety Plate Glass in every window. Check up on the equipment: Two-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off, built-in automatic choke, high-capacity water pump—they're all there.
Here's the smart style, the blithe performance and the solid, substantial Buick quality that make this the car you've been looking forward to.
And, when you count in the included equipment, the SPECIAL costs no more than some sixes with lower advertised prices.
So look into the Buick SPECIAL and "step up" to the car you've always wanted.
You can take a trial drive any time just by asking your Buick dealer.
Prices begin at $895 for Business Coupe—Sedan prices start at $955—*delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Clark Gable, Joan Crawford Top Notable Cast In 'Strange Cargo'

Adventure Melodrama At Ritz Today, Monday

Called one of the greatest "name" casts since that assembled for "Dinner At Eight," is that appearing in the Ritz theatre's offering for today and Monday. It is "Strange Cargo," in which Clark Gable and Joan Crawford are co-starred for the sixth time.

The cast includes such screen personalities as Ian Hunter, Peter Lorre, Paul Lukas, Albert Dekker, J. Edward Bromberg, Eduardo Ciannelli, John Arledge, Frederic Worlock, Bernard Nedell and Victor Varconi.

Gable is seen as Vernie Andre, convict in a South American prison, a mocking and crudely magnificent iconoclast whose creed is force. Miss Crawford, who won new critical acclaim for her work as Crystal Allen in "The Women," portrays Julie, cafe entertainer in the penal colony of cynical mind yet fundamental virtue, forced to become Vernie's companion when a band of desperadoes launch a scheme of escape. To Ian Hunter falls the most unusual role of his career. In extreme contrast to his former leading man and character parts is his portrayal of Cambreau, a mild, mystical figure hated by all at first, yet finally a compelling influence in the lives and deaths of all around him. Peter Lorre forsakes his familiar Mr. Moto and returns to his weird characterizations of the past, as Cochon, commonly known as Monsieur Pig, a contemptible and repulsive "libere" who is Julie's persistent admirer. Paul Lukas plays Hessler, the wife-murderer, a highly intellectual personality who has suffered complete spiritual degeneration and is supercilious and cynical in the extreme. Albert Dekker is the gorilla-like safe-cracker, Moll, a brute who also relies on force and who is Vernie's continual antagonist for leadership. J. Edward Bromberg is Flaubert, a deluded, fear-ridden murderer who imagines himself surrounded by persecution and is on the verge of complete insanity. Eduardo Ciannelli is Telex, in whom religious faith lies dormant. John Arledge is the weakling, Dufond, protected by Moll. Victor Varconi is the fisherman forced to aid the last of the fugitives, and Frederic Worlock is the prison governor, Grideau.

"Strange Cargo" carries a subtly interwoven spiritual theme of regeneration, as each of its principals undergoes a radical change of character through the influence of the stranger, Cambreau. Dead souls, escaping from one prison merely to find another, they finally find something for which to live, or for which to sacrifice their lives.

Chemical Operations In Oil Development Outlined To Class

Chemical operations in oil production were discussed by Bill Campbell, Midland, before the oil field production practice class at Coshoma Friday evening.

He was the first of a series of speakers to address the class—and visitors—on specialized subjects. He discussed acidizing, formation plugging, paraffin solvents and use of developments such as Downmetal and the acid jet gun. Charlie Bryant, Midland, a research engineer, elaborated on some of technical details of Campbell's talks. With them were Ed Anderson, Midland, also with Boswell.

H. C. Stipp, division engineer for the railroad commission, will address the class Wednesday evening, said W. T. Wynn, instructor. Visitors are welcome to attend. About 20 were present for the Friday evening session.

Hardy Family Returns To The Lyric

Andy Has More Problems In Finances And In Romance

The Hardy Family adventures in its own home town of Carvel where Andy gets into hilarious financial trouble and plays detective—the family facing the near loss of their mother—Andy helping his father the Judge to find courage in a time of stress and even proving himself a hero—these are among the dramatic highlights of "Judge Hardy and Son," eighth of the popular Judge Hardy Family series which returns here for Sunday-Monday showings at the Lyric. Lewis Stone as the Judge, Mickey Rooney as the irrepressible Andy, Cecilia Parker as Marian his sister, Fay Holden as the mother, and Sara Haden as Aunt Milly, as usual, comprise the family. This time it even has its old cook, as played by Marie Blake, back in the fold. Added to the population of Carvel is a new family played by Maria Ouspensky, noted stage star and former Moscow Art Theatre member, who recently scored in "The Rains Came," and Egon Brecher, who appear as a couple whom the Judge befriends in a foreclosure, and for whom Mickey turns detective. Three charmers enter Mickey's life and complicate it in Martha O'Driscoll, June Prentner and Margaret Early. Surfeited by too many charmers, Mickey eventually returns to his first love, Ann Rutherford.

Laughs start from the moment Andy, expecting to win an essay contest, orders tires for his car and a white tuxedo on credit, then discovers that the prize is for girls only. His efforts to use the three charmers as "blinds" through which he can win the contest with his brains and their names, his dismay when one of them demands he take her instead of Polly to a party as a price of silence, his "detective" investigations to uncover a missing relative and solve his father's foreclosure problem, are tempered by the dramatic scenes when the mother of the family is near death, when Andy assumes the cloak of manhood to give courage to his father, and when he braves a raging flood to bring his sister to their mother's bedside.

150 REGISTRATIONS WANTED FOR GARNER GOODWILL DINNER FRIDAY NIGHT

A plan of action will be drafted Monday at 9 a. m. at a meeting of the chamber of commerce trade extension committee for securing 150 local registrations for the Garner (Knot) goodwill dinner scheduled for Friday.

D. D. Douglass, chairman of the committee, said Saturday that workers would be secured for soliciting registrations and the program arranged for the event scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Garner gymnasium.

Already reports from the host community say that 150 of the area men will be on hand for the affair. Big Spring men have yet to be outnumbered at one of the functions, so there must be heavy registrations if the record is to be kept intact, said Matt Harrington, assistant chamber manager.

The practice, as in former meetings of this sort, is for local business and professional men to make reservations for themselves and one guest. In this case, proceeds from the event will go toward furnishing the stage for the Garner gymnasium.

Martha Raye, Chas. Ruggles In Comedy

'The Farmer's Daughter' Playing At The Queen

Broadway's new summer tryout system which transforms barns into theatres, replaces benign bovines with cute chorines and lays its eggs behind the footlights in the theme of Hollywood's helter-skelter comedy, Paramount's "The Farmer's Daughter," which is appearing with Martha Raye and Charlie Ruggles in top roles, today and Monday at the Queen theatre.

The action begins when Broadway Producer Charlie Ruggles manages to land an "angel," who agrees to furnish the necessary capital for a new production, provided a faded love is made the star. Another condition which the banker imposes requires that the show be kept out of New York for three months.

The troupe invades a quiet little farm where Martha Raye, in the title role, proceeds to commit jinx after jinx. Richard Denning, the show's leading man, goes for Martha, but on orders of Ruggles keeps Gertrude Michael, the banker's headcheer, happy.

All goes well until the eccentric playwright finds he cannot finish the production away from Broadway. Charlie straightaway imports New York noises and smells, and the writing goes forward.

On the eve of the pasture premiere, Gertrude learns her boy friend has slipped with another girl. She quits the show, and Charlie, in sheer desperation, permits himself to be persuaded that Martha can do the part. Bringing the show down around her ears, Martha also brings the house down. Her unconscious awkwardness provides comedy that wows the audience. The success of the show without Gertrude is assured.

During the swift progress of the film Martha gets opportunities to sing "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," which she does with unsuspected sweetness. Her more familiar swing style gets over in "Jungle Jingle," a new toe-tapper.

MONEY TO SCHOOLS

Taxes totaling $238 were distributed Saturday to school districts by the county superintendent's office. Of the amount $178.50 for local maintenance and $8.91 for interest and sinking fund purposes were from current sources while $50.59 was from delinquent taxes, of it $43.66 going to local maintenance.

Tax Groups Being Formed

ABILENE, April 6.—Instant and enthusiastic response has been received by the West Texas chamber of commerce to its call for organization of local public expenditure and taxation committees in its affiliated towns.

Organization of the committees was urged in a series of six district meetings conducted at Olney, Plainview, Pampa, Stephenville, San Angelo and Odessa by Judge Jas. D. Hamlin, Farwell, chairman of the WTCC public expenditure and taxation committee, and D. A. Baudeen, WTCC manager.

Attendance at the meetings clearly indicated that West Texans—both taxpayers and public officials—are ready and anxious to do something about the ever-growing problem of public expenditures. Delegates, representing all parts of the far-flung Westex territory, attended the meetings from 113 towns.

The WTCC plan is to organize a local committee in each town and thereby control taxation by controlling public expenditures. The WTCC budget analysts staff will assist the local committees in studying proposed budgets and in formulating constructive recommendations. The WTCC sinking fund investment commission will assist local political subdivisions in improving public debt incurring and paying methods.

First local committees organized was at Knox city, members being chosen from the Lions club there. Personnel of the committees includes S. N. Clonts, chairman; E. D. Jamison, secretary; Guy E.

Steen, T. P. Feinzel, Sr., and Roy Baker, WTCC director. Within two days after necessary blanks were sent out by the WTCC for organization of the committees, local groups had been formed in four other towns. These are Waco, Ranger, Tahoka and McCamey. Scores of other committees will be organized within the next few weeks.

Dallas Group To Visit Here

On April 23

Details for the reception of the 39th annual Dallas Business Tour which will bring 75 business executives from the northeast Texas city here April 23 were outlined here Saturday in a conference between J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and Bob Bourdaine, manager of the Dallas Manufacturers and Dealers association.

The Dallas delegation will be made up of 75 representatives of the Dallas group. The band and radio entertainers will stage a 15-minute show while visitors distribute a 16-page booklet in which Dallas will "salute" Big Spring.

"The Dallas Business Tours asks nothing of this city except that the people of Big Spring come out and meet us and be our guests at the entertainment which we will provide," said Bourdaine.

Thirty-one cities in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma will be visited on the 39th tour. The trip will be made in an 11-car deluxe special train equipped with public address system, baths, valet service, two baggage cars and two observation cars.

Largest in the history of the tour, made annually since 1930 with the exception of 1918, is the delegation to be on the current trip. Several national magazines have described the Dallas tour as the finest of its sort conducted by any city in the nation.
