Don't Let War Chorus Deceive You Again

If you put your ear carefully to the ground these days you can hear the first faint squeakings and twitterings of a great propaganda chorus that will presently be in full cry.

The same phenomenon was noticeable in 1914, and Americans failed notably to devise the right kind of defense against it. Before so very long we were lending the Allies money to buy our own goods, going to war to protect the loans, and then learning that the loans weren't to be paid anyway.

Right now the propaganda noises have Geneva as their base.

The League of Nations has imposed "sanctions;" member nations, in other words, are asked to put trade and financial penalties on Italy, in the pious hope that Signor Mussolini can thereby be persuaded to see the light of reason.

Through it all we hear a great deal of talk about "enforcing peace," and about the challenge which the war presents to the world's collective machinery for averting war.

This makes fine reading, but we should beware of taking it all too seriously. For it leads to a long lane which has no turning, and at the end of the lane there is another fight to make the world safe for democracy, or something in which American troops and warships would be greatly appreciated.

Italian imperialism has provoked a new war. That much is undeniable. What we can easily overlook is that the shouting at Geneva comes principally from a rival imperialism whose toes are about to be stepped on.

Britain is the moving spirit in this action for sanctions; and Britain, you may remember, has the greatest African empire the world has ever seen. It goes this empire in precisely the way that Mussolini is trying to get one—by walking in and hitting the original possessors of the soil on the head.

Africa is a large continent, but it does not contain room enough for two rival empires, both interested in the same territory. If Mussolini achieves the empire he wants, the British empire in Africa will be threatened. Hence Downing street is anxious, British warships are concentrated in the Mediterranean, and Britain is prodding the league into action.

It is up to Americans to refuse to be fooled. The league action is less a move to enforce peace than a move to protect England's African possessions against the designs of a rival power.

If we let ourselves get swept off our feet by emotional talk about America's duty to the cause of peace, we may yet find ourselves sending troops across the sea to preserve the British empire. And while that empire may be well worth preserving, it is hardly our job to do it.

As far as we are concerned, now at least, the one at Geneva just isn't in it with the American and National Leagues.

Pupils Are Graded On Citizenship In addition—and this is the important feature of the new system. Cody says—pupils will be rated on citizenship. Six headings are provided on the new type report card, listing the following attributes: adaptability, self-control, initiative, co-operation, reliability and courtesy.

If the spaces beside these qualifications are left vacant, then the parent knows the child is not deficient in any one of them. But, if one or more is checked the pupil has been found to need improvement in that particular essential. The new type report card is favored because it eliminates the fine distinctions necessary in numerical and other methods of marking. Then, too, Cody pointed out, it provides the item of citizenship, because the record of promotion is included on the new card, and because it closely approximates the personal letter from teacher to parent regarding the child's work.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Near Writer 'T's unbelievable that anything so good as pot roast can be made from such inexpensive cuts. And pot roast gravy is, I do believe, the best of the gravy species. Only be sure to see that it starts in the meal.

Don't serve it with creamed potatoes, good as they are, but with plain boiled, mashed or ricad potatoes to be slathered in gravy. All the fall vegetables combine well with pot roasts. They may be cooked surrounding the meat or separately. The only difference is that when vegetables are cooked with the meat, the gravy becomes flavored.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Grape juice, cereal, cream, soft, cooked eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Peanut butter and tomato bisque, bread sticks, graham fig pudding, milk tea. DINNER: Pot roast of veal, mashed potatoes, scalloped parsnips and pineapple, Chinese cabbage and olive salad, quince pudding, milk, coffee.

Historical Committee Lists Major Projects Listed For The Centennial; Two Eastland County Projects Listed

AUSTIN, Tex.—Major projects recommended by a majority of the Texas Centennial Board of Historians to supplement appropriations for the Dallas exposition, the Alamo, San Jacinto, Fort Worth's cattle memorial, Gonzales and Goliad celebrations, include: James Bowie statue at Texarkana; Thomas J. Rusk statue at Henderson; rebuilding stone fort at Nacogdoches; monument to Dick Dowling and his men at Sabine Pass; Pilgrin Church monument in Anderson county; replica of Camp Ford, Tyler; monument to Robert Baylor on Baylor University campus; replica of Parker's Fort, Limestone county, and a statue of Sidney Sherman at Galveston.

A statue in honor of the women of Austin's colony to be placed upon the state capital grounds was recommended; improvement to the Elizabeth Ney statue and a monument at Georgetown to Jones Rivers, early settler of Williamson county and great grandfather of Admiral Richard Byrd. A proposed Rangers monument at El Paso was center of a dispute in the board. At one time the historians had agreed on a $25,000 allocation for it. The majority then voted for two monuments—one for rangers and one for the men of the U. S. Army and selected Alpine and Canyon as the sites. J. Frank Dobie favored a $30,000 Ranger memorial at El Paso which was allotted only a $1,000 memorial tablet by the majority report. Dobie's recommendations included a bird bath at Temple in honor of early Texas naturalists.

SHOOTING THE MAVERICK

Odds are even on the Ranger-Eastland game Friday than they have been in years. And you can, providing you're in the group that find amusement in backing your judgment with a wager, find some in Ranger who would bet on Eastland.

Ranger is favored, however, by the majority. With plenty of beef, Ranger should be able, by sheer power alone, to push its way to the goal line enough times to win. A good game can be expected from the Mavs. They have demonstrated that no matter the weight and experience disadvantage. Officials announce time for the fracas at 3:30 p. m. Friday.

On opening on the season, fans looked twice at newspaper reports of Ranger being trounced by over a half-hundred tally by San Angelo. However, with scores that again approved gigantic proportions, Ranger's defeat is considered only a matter of the time elapation from the kickoff to the end of the fourth quarter.

Milton Newman: "I stopped off at Westbrook and Sweetwater where I had business." J. B. Johnson: "Ben Hamner has been in Temple for the past week." Earl Bender: "I want everybody to know we're going to have a good program next week."
