SOMALIS ARE DESERTING THE ITALIAN ARMY

(Copyright 1935 by United Press)
 ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 27.—Reports here today said more than 12,000 Somalis, chiefly troops and equipped with machine guns, had deserted the Italian army and offered their services to Haile Selassie.

Upwards of 15,000 natives of Somaliland, including native troops, have crossed the borders of the Italian colonies into Ethiopia.

The latest exodus occurred several days ago and they have been arriving in groups of 100, safely within Ethiopia.

The reports aroused high interest in diplomatic circles, waiting to see which way the native tide would turn.

The soldiers are said to have crossed the border proclaiming allegiance to the emperor.

Many diplomats here predicted such difficulty for Italy, saying that the borderlands were controlled by the Italians, French and British, and Ethiopian remains a subject of his emperor.

Reports that Italian nationals were evacuating Addis Ababa were declared groundless.

Tabernacle At Kokomo Taxed To Its Capacity At Eastland Good Will Trip

Eastland good-will trippers found an audience taxing the Kokomo tabernacle to capacity when they made their fourth fair advertising trip Monday night.

Over 200 were entertained and invited to the fair by Eastland speakers and amateurs.

New attractions will be seen this year at the county fair to be held Sept. 25-28. County Agent C. Metz Heald stated, urging that a good community exhibit be sent from Kokomo.

New attractions to the fair this year will include the livestock show and many entertainment features, Heald stated.

Additional reasons quality exhibits are wanted this year is that the Texas Centennial will be in progress next year when Texas will show its capability of producing the best, Heald stated.

Some of Eastland county's products will be taken to Dallas from this year's exhibitions, the agent said.

Stating that he observed a co-operative community spirit, the Rev. Charles W. Estes urged Kokomo residents to attend the educational and fellowship fair.

R. L. Ferguson, who with John A. Burke, was in charge of the program, assured the audience that Eastland appreciated business of the community and that it was with sincerity they were cordially invited to the fair.

Earl Francis, Ferguson and Bud Ferris were presented in several skits. A string orchestra composed of Eastland youths played throughout the program.

The following Kokomo residents received prizes from Eastland merchants: Mrs. J. D. McNeley, Alfred Shagar, Mrs. G. F. Bennet, Mrs. Claud Miller, Mrs. C. E. Bennett, Stan Miller, Aaron Bryant, Dalton Reynolds, Alta Everton, Sam Bennett, Wanda Lee Thurman, Mrs. D. M. Drivers.

ROOSEVELT TO CONFER UPON FINANCE PLAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Roosevelt called a conference of congressional leaders and Comptroller General McCall at the White House today to consider means of meeting the crisis resulting from blocking the deficiency bill.

Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes said the social security program could not be financed from PWA's $700,000,000 revolving fund.

The money received from the sale of securities, taken in as collateral on federal construction loans, can only be loaned in accordance with congressional law.

Those close to the social security board held that failure of the deficiency bill barred any activity by the board before the next session. This would bar the board from making grants of funds to states, which at present have old age pension laws and are eligible for federal aid. The act provides the federal government shall match state pension funds dollar for dollar to a maximum of $15 per person per month.

Resentment against Long for his blockade of the vital appropriation was apparent among congressional leaders and was reported to extend to the White House.

In one quarter suggestions were heard that President Roosevelt take to the air in a series of addresses to put the situation before the people.

Braly of Eastland, at the 19th summer graduation exercises of Texas State College for Women (CIA) on Aug. 24. Over 100 students received their degrees, making a total of 321 awarded this year.

President L. H. Hubbard delivered the commencement address choosing as his subject, "Lessons from the Life of Alice Freeman Palmer." Miss Braly received her degree with a major in business administration.

LEGISLATORS WANT TIME TO STUDY PLANS

Governor Not Sure What Topics Will Be Submitted to Session.

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—September 15 is under consideration as the day to convene a special session of the state legislature for liquor regulation and tax, Gov. Allred said today.

"Most of the members of the legislature from whom I heard believe it will be best to wait two or three weeks before attempting to legislate. A few suggested a session within a week but most want time to study legislation," he said.

The governor said he has not determined what topics will be submitted beside liquor and old age pensions. Substitution of salaries for fees is made obligatory in the amendment whether or not the governor submits the topic.

Old age pension legislation may be deferred. It was unknown if failure of the appropriation bill in congress will stop the government set up its old age pension plan, with which it was planned to have the state cooperate.

Submitting the topic of liquor Allred did not consider a submission of taxation generally as the liquor tax would be incidental to regulation.

Grand Jury May Consider Poker Game Case On Saturday

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—Sheriff Smoot Schmid said today the Dallas county grand jury would probably consider the cases of Fred Batson, Cleburne, and Jack and Buck Terry, brothers, of Fort Worth, charged with murder in connection with the poker game killing of one of the players.

The sheriff said Batson made a statement detailing his version of the slaying. He is still too ill to appear before the grand jury. He was arrested in Cleburne last week and is now confined in the hospital ward of the jail.

Suspect May Not Be a Kidnap

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 27.—Butte police officers, Chief Jerre Murphy and Detective James Mooney today failed to identify a man here as William Mahon, fugitive kidnaping suspect.

The man who gave the name of Les McGowan, former inmate of the Montana penitentiary, was arrested last night.

The arrest was made because of a resemblance to the kidnaper, officers said.

He was with three other men in a sedan when arrested. One ran and the other two were not arrested.

"It's pretty definite he is not Mahon. We are holding him, however, until we can get his fingerprints checked at Washington. He admits serving a term in Deer Lodge prison for burglary," officers said.

Cisco Peeping Tom Causes Commotion

CISCO, Aug. 27.—A peeping Tom caused a lot of disturbance in West Cisco at midnight when he was discovered peering through a young woman's bedroom window.

The occupant of the room made known her discovery in a loud voice and the police were called. Meanwhile, however, the prowler had fled to the front porch next door, it was reported, and the occupants fled to the house of the original disturbance.

When police arrived, they were unable to find the window-watcher, but the frightened midnight callers preferred not to return to their home.

James Walker Tax Suit to Be Dropped

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The department of justice announced today that an exhaustive study had failed to show evidence justifying the prosecution of James Walker, former mayor of New York, on charges of income tax evasion.

The Walker case had been under study for months, during which time the former mayor of New York remained abroad. Frequently he indicated he was planning to return home.

Short Change Gang Runs Afoul of Law; Pays Fine In Ranger

Chief of Police Jim Ingram of Ranger has received a telegram from John Watt, chief of police at Oklahoma City, stating that a man held for a short time in the Ranger city jail was not wanted in that city, though his record showed 21 arrests in 14 years on con game charges.

The man, who was arrested in Ranger Saturday afternoon, was accused of being a member of a gang of short-change artists who were caught working in the city.

A woman, working the $10 bill change racket, escaped from the officers, but her alleged companions were captured. They were fined $15.70 in city court and returned the money obtained from J. C. Smith in the short-change transaction.

The man who was jailed in Ranger, and whom Oklahoma City police said had been arrested 21 times, gave his name as R. B. Evans.

Cotton Loan Plan Is Worked Out

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A revised AAA cotton program calling for a 10-cent loan and 12-cent guarantee emerged today as the result of a battle between southern senators and the department of agriculture.

The plan evolved at a white house conference in an effort to break the congressional deadlock on the third deficiency bill, applies to all cotton produced under Bankhead allotments on AAA adjusted acreage. Farmers must sign up for the 1936 program, which the AAA warned would provide for a sharp reduction, to receive benefits under the plan.

Football Coach, Team Captain Are Heard By Rotary

Football this year in Eastland—the plans of Johnny Kitchen, coach, and Bob Sikes, captain—was the main topic of discussion at the Rotary Club's meeting Monday.

Kitchen stated he welcomed suggestions, but would not promise their adoption. He promised to devote his greatest effort to the maverick team this year.

Taking cognizance that grades are the paramount concern of team members, Kitchen stated "brains and brawn" are a desirable combination in the game which is each year becoming more intricate.

Sounding praise for the coach, Bob Sikes, team captain, promised a hard working aggregation, who are appreciative of a softer field this year.

Suggestion that other entrances be made for the field was made by J. E. Lewis.

Following solicitation of Ralph Mahon of the Hi-Y club that members be aided in attending a Hi-Y officers and sponsors training school at Camp Crockett, near Granbury, Sept. 7-8, the club voted to pay half or all expenses of those unable to attend.

Resident Hamner authorized a member to contact the Lions club and ascertain if they would follow similar action.

A project committee was appointed in Albert Taylor and Jim Horton to work with other agencies on a farmers market.

Carl Springer and J. E. Lewis were program committeemen.

Visitors were Sikes, Kitchen, Mahon, Eastland; and F. T. Hindman of Dallas, guest of F. Mundy.

Liquor Still Being Sold Openly Over Bars In the State

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—Although Texas still was legally and technically dry, those who like their liquor might stand up to the bar and enjoy it today.

After 16 years of drought the state voted Saturday to repeal constitutional prohibition. But Attorney General William McCraw said the Dean law still is in effect and would be until the vote was canvassed officially in about two weeks.

After that, he said, counties will be wet or dry individually in accordance with local option laws.

But the technically barely caused a ripple in the state-wide gush of intoxicants.

Mrs. Connally to Be Buried In Texas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Sen. Tom Connally planned today to accompany the body of his wife, Mrs. Louise Connally, to Texas for burial.

She collapsed in an elevator and was carried to her husband's office.

Uncle Sam Is Master Mind of American Republic

Howard C. Hopson is the "elusive master mind" of the Associated Gas and Electric system and a very remarkable individual, to say the least. He set at defiance the Black investigating committee of the senate and the O'Connor house investigating committee of the second branch of the legislative department of the government.

Now he is in the custody of the government. He certainly led the congressional lobby investigators a wild chase for weeks. This in line with his performances of two years ago when Col. Pat Hurley located the very brainy individual in the city of Chicago.

They also want to know if Hopson knew anything about the mysterious fire which destroyed messages in a telegraph office in the State of Pennsylvania. Howard C. Hopson is the brainy head of the Associated Gas and Electric system. He is a very wise and very thoroughly trained individual.

Uncle Sam is a very important and very powerful personage. When thoroughly aroused he handles the Hopsons, indeed all citizens, high or humble, without fear or favoritism. He went on the trail of Hopson and he brought him in, and why not? No man, public official or private citizen, should be above the government or its laws or those who enforce the laws of the people.

Vivid Picture of Meteorite Is Told

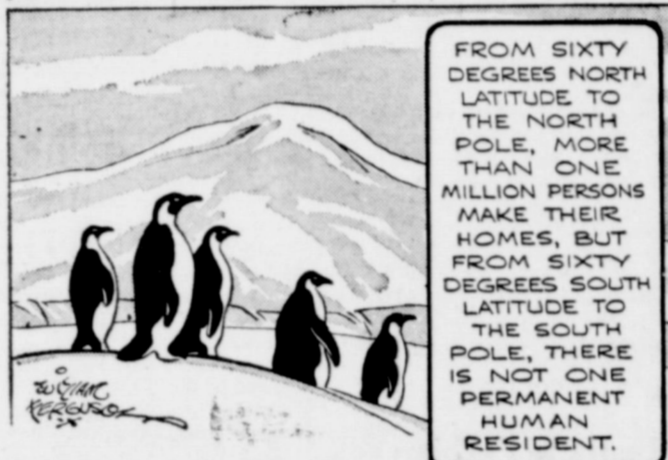

MONTREAL—McGill university meteorological experts are attempting to determine the exact composition of a fragment of a meteorite which fell during an electric storm here.

The fall of the meteorite, which measures about 10 inches in diameter, was witnessed by Dr. I. A. Schlessinger. The fragment, described as "a white streak of light which changed to blue after it struck," fell with such force on a metal drain cover that the concrete pavement was cracked for several feet.

Land which has been terraced by the extension service has cost from 40 cents to $15, but the average has been $2.25 per acre, Bentley pointed out, saying that the increased value of the land was $10.54 per acre, on the average. The values were arrived at by averaging figures from Texas farm mortgage institutions. A certain amount of terracing has been done in all except 33 counties in Texas. Since 1916 more than seven million acres have been terraced.

'Maybe it will be,' Jo said dragging her bag from the closet shelf. 'Would you telephone and find out what a ticket to Crestmont costs?' She raised her head from the open bag where she had flung her slipper and dressing gown. 'Please hurry won't you? There may be a plane I can catch this morning.' When the woman returned she brought the welcome news that Jo could catch an air transport at noon. But unfortunately a survey of Jo's purse revealed that she was not within $28 of being able to purchase the ticket. Quaint Railroad, Owned by Woman Sees Its Last Days

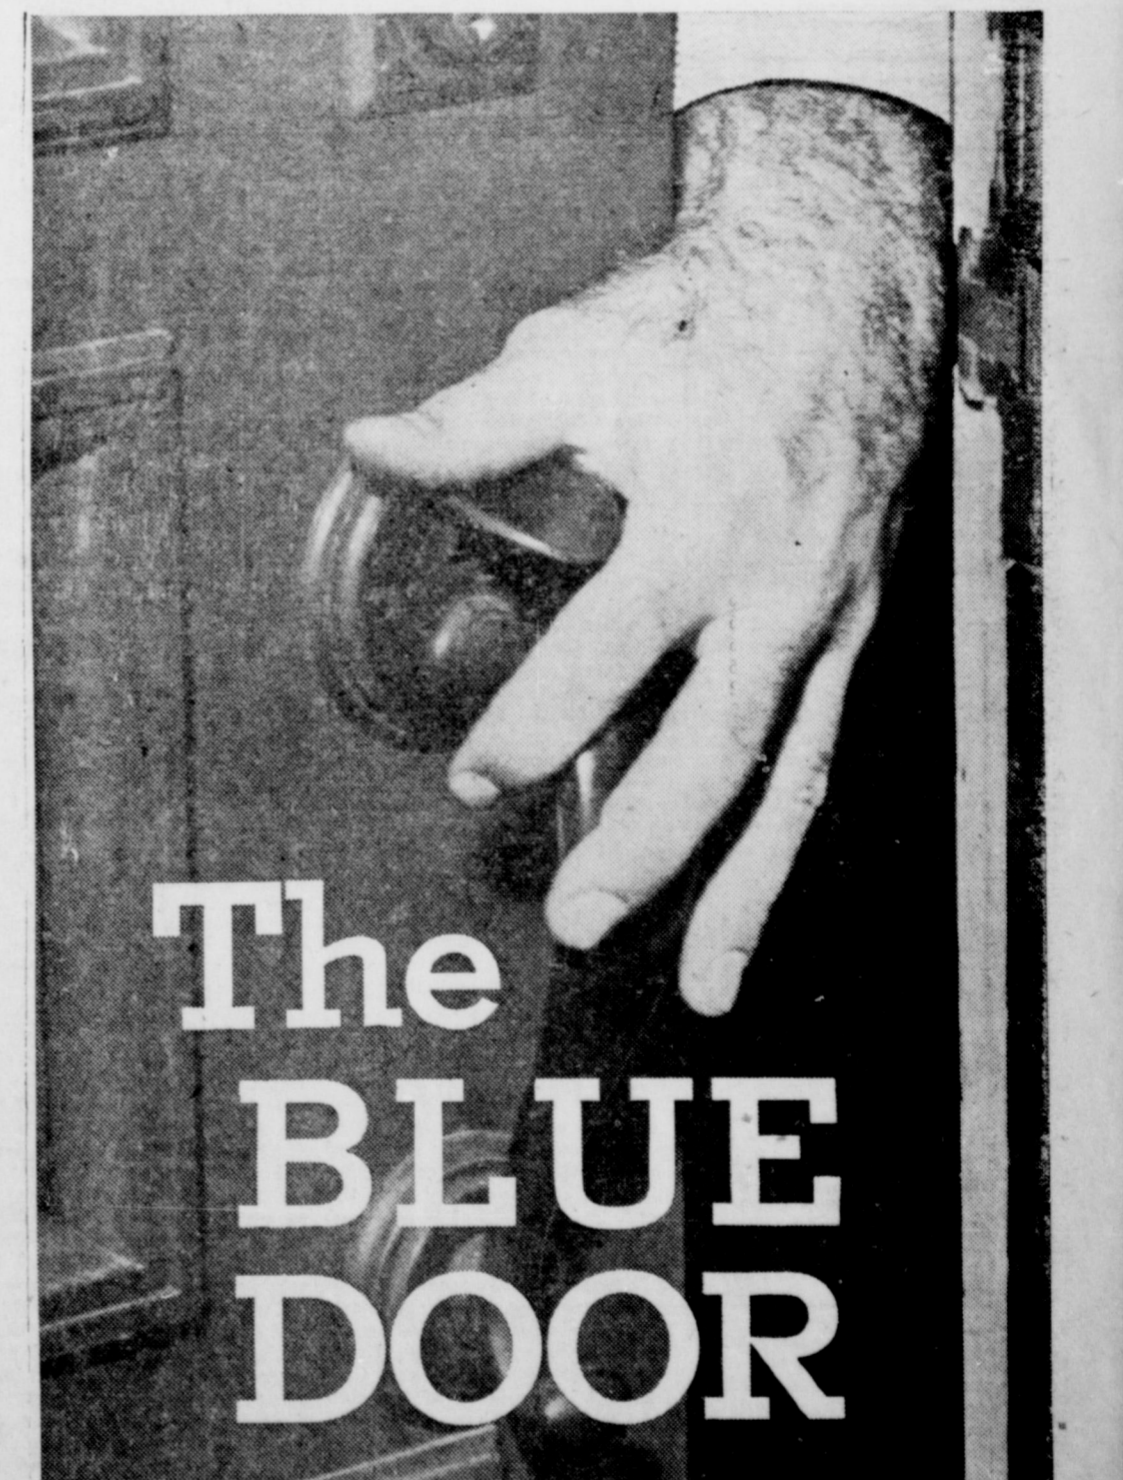

TEMPLE, Tex.—The Bartlett Western, one of the quaint little railroads in the country has seen its last days. Floods last spring put the finishing touches to the 22.2 miles of track and the owner, Marie Cronin who inherited the road and has operated it for many years, has decided to abandon it. For years her road has hauled freight past several rural stations, among them being St. Matthew,

St. Mark, St. Luke and St. John. Miss Cronin is an artist and, she admits, only the ownership of the little railroad has kept her away from "Gay Paree." Apparently she now faces the opportunity of going to Paris. In late years since good roads have come into the territory, the railroad has not done a land office business, but during the years of dirt roads and especially in muddy weather the railroad was a godsend to farmers of that territory. But good roads and trucks have won, and the old railroad must be relegated to the role of an old landmark. In her petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission Miss Cronin declared that the road had been declining in revenues for the last several years because of truck

MONTANA BUYS MORE AUTOS By United Press GREAT FALLS, Mont.—New automobile sales in Montana for the first six months of 1935 were just one less than double the number sold in the corresponding period of 1934, according to A. J. Breitenstein, secretary of the Montana Motor Trades Association. Sales for the period in 1935 were 9,881 new cars; in 1934, 4,940 new cars.

It was a startling color and a startling door. A defiant old woman guarded its secret. Through the doorway one girl found romance. To another girl it brought only despair. An escaped convict sought it for refuge. A young man entered and gained a bride. ALL IN ALL, the curious happenings and delightful romance woven into the new serial, "The Blue Door," make it top-notch fiction. You'll like it! THURSDAY, AUG. 29 IN THIS PAPER

Emergency Fund to Rebuild Highways Ruined in Floods

By United Press

BEAUMONT.—An emergency allotment of $300,000 in federal funds is available to Texas counties for repair of bridge and highway damage wrought by floods early this summer, District WPA Director W. E. Biggs, said today.

Counties desiring to participate in the special appropriation are requested to submit the usual WPA applications, Biggs advised. Jasper, Tyler and Newton counties were hard hit by early summer floods and their roads and bridges are in urgent need of repairs, Biggs said.

States' Rights Group Being Organized In Texas Counties

By United Press

CROCKETT, Tex.—Organization of the States' Rights Democratic Group, sponsored by Joe Bailey Humphreys, Crockett City Attorney, is now under way and individual set-ups are being made in every county in the state, Humphreys said today.

At present temporary organizations have been set up in more than 40 of the most populous counties and other groups are likewise being formed in other counties, he said.

Humphreys scored President Roosevelt for having endorsed the Cole-Disney compromise oil bill, saying that action on the part of the president is merely another example of how the current administration had dominated private enterprise and taken from the states their rights to govern their own industries.

"Government interference in this gigantic business would seriously injure all oil producing states and would be especially detrimental to Texas," Humphreys said.

"The federal government is determined to get control of Texas' most valuable natural resource. Everybody knows that we have more than half the world's supply of oil in Texas and they had better begin to find out that we are going to lose control of it unless we wake up and fight federal encroachment upon the rights of states."

"Texas derives thousands of dollars annually in taxes from production of oil and its associated industries. Thousands of dollars go to the school districts where adequate facilities are now made possible for the children who otherwise would be deprived of the privilege of attending a well equipped school. All these would be lost when the Federal Government steps in and the taxpayers will be called upon for more and heavier taxes."

"The New Deal is a constant threat to our oil industry. Although a most vicious bill was killed by committee action through the efforts of one of our outstanding congressmen last year, there has been made a part of the so-called 'must program'. As long as these ego-maniacs crave power, we people in Texas have more to guard than any other state in the union."

"It is interesting to note that many are coming to life and certainly by the time we are to select delegates to the national convention everybody will be clamoring for a real Democrat. Opposition to the New Deal is manifest on every hand, and if the democratic party is to remain in power, we will have to make some drastic changes in our policies."

"I am interested in seeing the Democratic Party remain in power but that is impossible under the present set-up."

"I am now organizing Texas, county by county, to carry on the defense of local self-government. We will send delegates to every convention, from the precinct to the national, who will not be intimidated and who will cast the Texas vote for a real Democrat. Many county organizations are already well established and report solid opposition against federal encroachment upon the states' rights of self-government."

Humphreys said he has received much encouragement from various parts of the United States and that he is especially encouraged over the enthusiastic response with which he has met in Texas.

Asked what he thought of being dubbed a "one man revolt," Humphreys said, "Don't they wish it really were only a one-man revolution."

annual tournament of the Eastland Golf and Country club celebrating their 15th anniversary of the event. It is the oldest tournament in the Oil Belt. Plans have been made for a good representation and everything is in readiness both for play and entertainment. Eastland has always been favorite of the sport and many real good golf players got their start here. Carl Angstadt is president of the club and knows how to arrange for the sport to make everybody happy.

Another unusual event that will come off Friday and Saturday, August 30 and 31st, is the big rodeo to be pulled off at Frankell, on the Ranger-Caddo highway under the direction of Guy and Frank Stoker. Whenever there is a rodeo there is a Stoker, and whenever a Stoker has anything to do with it the folks can bank on seeing a real jam-up good rodeo performance.

There will be two performances daily—at 2:30 p. m. and at 8 p. m. For the night performances special electric light systems will be installed that will enable all those who take it in to see the show in all its glory. BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON.—Few realized that the trim, dashing figure of former Secretary of War Pat Hurley, standing before the Black lobby committee and making a lot of fuss about the questions, was that of an earnest presidential candidate in whose stout heart hope never dies.

Mr. Hurley's protests that he was being singled out because of his Republicanism reflected that inner ambition. He is a conspicuous example of the way the presidential chigger burrows under a man's skin, there to remain through the host's last stages of decrepitude and senility. As in many similar cases, even his best friends can't persuade attractive Pat Hurley that he has no more chance of being nominated by the Republicans than has the caretaker on his Virginia estate. Pat still thinks the lightning may strike.

WHAT makes the idea so startling is that Hurley is all loaded up with political liabilities. He became inextricably associated with the prize political boner of the century when he called out his troops to drive the bonus army from the capital before it reached the nervous Mr. Hoover in the White House. Feeling about Mr. Hurley on that account was still so strong last fall in his home state of Oklahoma that G. O. P. leaders ganged together to keep Pat from following his announced intention of going down to campaign for the party ticket.

And, to crown it, here's Pat adding payments—as a lawyer, of course, and not as a lobbyist, as Lucas and Hurley, incidentally, have something in common. They're still remembered here as two men who very conspicuously took the so-called rap for Mr. Hoover.

Hurley's political career was blasted by the bonus army episode and his subsequent attempts to defend it, wherein he acted as Hoover's best.

Lucas was all set to become Republican national chairman until, at Hoover's wish, he covered himself with mud by a secret, underhanded attempt to defeat Senator George Norris in Nebraska. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

ON TEXAS FARMS

Home makers may yet come to a fuller appreciation of beautiful wood through the surprising medium of clothing work. At least there are signs of that.

Take this story from Dickens county for instance: "Buttons made of mesquite roots trimmed the natural color linen crash dress which Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Red Top home demonstration club member entered in the recent county clothing contest. Mrs. Harrell dug the root, sawed it and carved the buttons herself. Each button showed two shades of wood, the only trimming needed on the dress."

On this story from the same county: "Large walnut buttons, made by her husband, trimmed the pink lace dress exhibited by Mrs. Jim McDaniel, member of the Twin Wells home demonstration club."

The McCrosky home demonstration club members of Wharton county hung up a record in their rally day report when it was revealed that with three-fourths of the membership reporting they had to their combined credit 10,259 cans of food.

G. A. Knowles, Goldthwaite, Mills county, plants each year eight acres of golden rod and seeded ribbon cane which this year is turning out 200 gallons of syrup per acre. This syrup is readily marketed at 75 cents per gallon. Mr. Knowles always turns under the fodder and other vegetation as soon as the cane is harvested and last year gathered eight bushels more of corn from the cane land than from other adjoining land.

SANTA ROSA.—By changing the diet of her 275 hens to mash in the morning and grain in the afternoon, Mrs. Ellebrecht of Santa Rosa county reports production of eggs doubled in less than three weeks.

the occasion. Frank Stoker states that the calves that will be used have been purchased specially for the event and are of Brahma stock and have never been roped before. This naturally adds interest and excitement and it will take some ropers to get the job done for the prizes. Guy and Frank Stoker state that nobody is barred from entering not even the best roper of all, whoever he may be. Both Guy and Frank Stoker have participated in the regular trades day programs of Eastland and each have a world of friends who appreciate their fine sportsmanship manner of doing things worth while. That's going to be some rodeo, and those who love the spirit of the west will no doubt be there in droves.

There is real sorrow in the heart of Senator Tom Connally today. Just at closing time of the present congress death struck in his life and took away from him his dearest treasure, Mrs. Connally was stricken with heart failure as she came to watch the closing hours of Congress. Such grief is hard to bear, and man must be strong to look the future squarely in the face without his dearest companion who no doubt has been by his side in all his trials as well as successes. All Texas mourns with Tom Connally in this his darkest hour of sorrow.

McKinney.—Fall gardens are being planted this month by 4-H club girls. Last week, Ruby Nell Harlin, member of the Bloomdale 4-H club in Collin county, planted black-eyed peas in her garden.

The preparation of the soil is different from the spring garden in that all vegetation was taken off before the plowing was done, according to Ruby Nell. "The vegetation," she explained, "causes the soil to heat, and thus makes the soil dry."

The soil was plowed about three or four inches deep before the seed were planted. Since germination of seed does not take place as well in the summer as in the spring, Ruby Nell planted about one-fourth more seed.

GOLDTHWAITE.—"The best paying patch of ground on my place," said C. C. Wesson of Mills county, "is a three-quarter acre plot I planted to tomatoes, black-eyed peas and cantaloupes, from which I have already sold $37 worth of products, and if it rains I will soon market several dollars more."

Mr. Wesson stated that he spread three tons of well rotted barnyard manure on this patch and the sufficient rains in May and June made a bumper yield of the crops planted.

BUDA.—John Howe, whose farm is in Hays county, said recently that he had found curly mesquite grass one of the finest pasture crops that he had ever grown.

His pasture of 450 acres is well sodded with grass and carries 450 head of sheep and goats and 75 head of cattle a large part of the year. "The grass spreads rapidly," he said, "and can be easily introduced on sandy or heavier soil."

PLAINS.—Some calves being fed by G. W. Cleveland, a 4-H club boy in Bledsoe community of Youkum county, have each been making a gain of three pounds per day.

G. W. Cleveland placed his calves on feed June 1. They were placed on a special nurse cow and fed all the oats and hay that they would eat at night. They were allowed to run in the pasture all day.

This 4-H club boy believes that part of the gain is due to the fact that the calves have access to fresh water at all times during the day.

School Believed Most Modern and Complete for Negro Students In West Texas Is Completed Tuesday

What is believed the most modern and complete school for negroes in West Texas was completed Tuesday at Eastland when laborers put the finishing touches on the Frederick A. Douglas building.

The school, completed by relief labor, will be officially opened next week when K. B. Tanner, president of the Eastland school board, makes an address. Open house is planned for several days.

Frank Evans, who has been principal of the Douglas school for as long as 20 years, will continue as head of the school which occupies the entire 3C block in Eastland. The school faces on East Patterson street and measures 74 by 30 feet.

High school work will be offered at the school, only one in Eastland county in which the higher subjects are available for colored students. An enrollment of 37 is expected in the elementary grades. Fifteen high school students will attend, six coming from Ranger and three from Cisco.

The building has an office for the principal, cloak room, two class rooms, drinking fountains and a stage. The class rooms which extend across the length of the building are convertible into an auditorium.

The class rooms have a new type of blackboard which eliminates the glare found in the usual type, it was stated.

Swings and other playground equipment, furnished through civic organizations and citizens in Eastland, are available for recreation of the colored students.

Lumber for the school was used from the old Scripture Lumber company building. The material was obtained by the Eastland school board, which also furnished supervision for the project which has given $1,800 in wages to relief clients.

The Eastland board and Eastland school board views the completion of the project as one of its major achievements.

"NICE FALL" PREDICTED By United Press

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Now Frank N. Schue, 74, whose consistently accurate weather forecasting over a period of 40 years has been based on markings on caterpillars' backs, predicts a "nice" fall.

American soldiers moved to New York training camp for maneuvers by train. When the bills come in, we'll have a public debt that is a public debt.

Don't Be Stingy Buying Medicines, Doctor's Warning

AUSTIN.—In these times no one can be blamed for economizing. In fact, thrift is commendable. The reckless spending of the speculative era is no longer possible for most of us. Nevertheless, there are limits even to one's thrift.

Commodities must be purchased and money must be circulated if business is to improve. Consequently, the present tendency to hold the purse strings less tightly is a hopeful economic sign. Unfortunately, however, an entirely unwarranted caution is being exercised by many where expenditures involve medical services, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Even in the days when money was plentiful, there were numerous persons who were disinclined to incur doctors' bills. No one can deny that such an attitude is false economy.

While it is true that the medical and surgical sciences never have been so highly developed as they are today, they only will be of minimum value to those who, because of illogical sense of value,

"--as advertised" How many times you see those two words in the course of a day's shopping? "This article for sale—as advertised." And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a bond of confidence between the merchants and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value. Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know how it fits into your needs. And when you buy it, you know you are getting not some unproved substitute but the specified article—as represented. It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make. It Pays to Read the Advertisements
