Kisses Fighter a Bon Voyage

When Enzo Fiermonte, the marrying ex-prize fighter, sailed for Europe the other day with a reported $150,000 settlement from his wealthy wife, Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor Dick Fiermonte, he bore with him a tender bon voyage kiss from the lips of society girl and aspiring actress, Caroline H. ### CHINESE ARMY IN GREATEST VICTORY BID

Chinese armies made their greatest bid today to smash the Japanese invader of North China. The Chinese Communist army of Gen. Chu Teh, known as the "Red Napoleon," reportedly penetrated far into the Japanese controlled north for an attack on Peiping, a climax to guerrilla fighting which has spent the Japanese force.

Gates of Peiping, provisional Japanese capital, were closed. Far to the south where the Japanese lines had spread too far, opposing troops battled to control the canal trenches where the Japanese offensive had halted.

Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek ordered five more divisions to the front. Meanwhile Adolf Hitler's visit to Italy continued through a series of military spectacles without indication of the effect on the Rome-Berlin axis.

Elsewhere:
Spain: Rebel troops blasted through some of the strongest loyalist lines on the Mediterranean coast and again bombed Valencia.

Pulitzer Prize Winners

Meritorious service in their respective fields won for the men pictured above 1937 Pulitzer prize awards of the trustees of Columbia University. Left to right in the top photo are: Raymond Sprigle, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reporter, whose series exposing Justice Black's Klan affiliations won the prize for the distinguished reporting; Paul Herman Buck, winner of the award for the most distinguished book on American history with the "Road to Reunion"; J. M. Murie, managing director of the Edmonton (Alberta) Journal, whose paper was given a plaque for leadership in defending freedom of the press; J. P. Marquand, author of the prize American novel "The Late George Apley"; Thornton Wilder, lower left, scored as a dramatist with the Broadway success "Our Town"; Arthur Krock, lower right, New York Times Washington correspondent, was honored for his authorized interview carrying President Roosevelt's political philosophy. Among the other Pulitzer awards was a $500 gold medal to the Bismarck, (N. D.) Tribune for its campaign to restore the confidence of the state's dust bowl victims.

RAILWAY LOANS ARE URGED BY JESSE JONES

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation indicated today that 25,000 to 40,000 men back to work under liberalized RFC loans. Jones estimated to the house banking and currency committee, which is considering a bill to authorize the emergency loans, that 150,000 railroad employees were laid off.

The committee decided not to report the bill today. Further hearings will be held Monday.

The bill would permit loans to railroads without certification that they were not in need of reorganization. Jones said no applications had been received for such loans.

"All the railroads have cut employment to the bone to avoid bankruptcy," Jones said. "I don't know whether the railroads will borrow to put men back to work, but we would like to persuade them to take part of this money."

SUCCESS FROM DRIVES TOLD BY OFFICIALS

Leaders in safety work, men who realize the task presented in reducing the annual toll from accidents, and others converged Friday on Eastland for the fourth annual Oil Belt Safety conference. Bands from the area, Boy Scouts in uniform, state political candidates, the city in decoration all added a dash of color to the meeting.

That accidents can be reduced and have been in the state and city this year was the message brought by Capt. B. B. Smith, in charge of traffic enforcement at Dallas, and Capt. Homer Garrison, assistant director of the Department of Public Safety, at the opening session at the Connellee hotel Friday morning.

Earl Conner, Jr., criminal district attorney for Eastland county, presided at the session. Conner declared that safety is undoubtedly the most important problem faced by officials and the public.

Capt. Smith declared that in the first quarter of this year there were 11 fatal accidents in Dallas compared to 18 in a similar period during 1937. Captain Smith declared this reduction was brought about by crystallization of public opinion through newspapers, the radio, speakers, rigid enforcement of traffic laws and corporation court.

He stated that analysis of accidents can play a great part in determining the steps to take in reducing car accidents. When the place, time and cause of accidents is determined then corrective steps may be taken to forestall continual repetition.

A traffic commission at Dallas is the backbone of safety work in that city, declared the captain. He stated that many books have been written on the toll of crime but he has no knowledge of any being written telling the widespread destruction of life and property resulting from the carelessness of "good christian citizens." He declared that undoubtedly the results of accidents have been more widespread than criminal acts. He termed accidents "a social and economic problem."

Captain Garrison stated that further study of accidents and rigid enforcement of laws has brought about a slight accident reduction in Texas this year. At the present rate, he declared, the lives of 240 citizens should be saved this year.

That enforcement is the answer to accident reduction was illustrated by the speaker. Last year 19 persons were killed in automobile accidents between Georgetown and Temple. Recognizing the situation, officials assigned special men to patrol the road. The result so far this year: No deaths.

Cooperation of grand jurors in finding indictments and district court jurors in convicting in driving cases was urged by the officials. He stated that speed last month was the big factor in accidents.

L. H. Taylor, program chairman announced that the safety conference organization will be perfected and the site of next year's meeting chosen at a session Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce at Eastland.

A parade with over 100 entries was a feature of the conference this afternoon. Safety contests, movies, speaking, band music were among features set this afternoon.

Corpus Christi Is Planning Seawall

CORPUS CHRISTI, April Protection from the devastating hurricanes of the Gulf might come to Corpus Christi in the near future if plans, which have lain dormant 15 years, for the construction of a seawall materialize.

The city council at a special meeting recently received an offer from the Ranson-Davidson Co. for the purchase of approximately $650,000 of seawall and breakwater bonds. A tentative contract stipulates that the firm will buy the bonds at a 4 1/2 percent at par and accrued interest payable semi-annually.

The State of Texas in 1923 granted a special concession to counties of Nueces, Kleberg, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Duval, Brooks and Willacy to remit a portion of their taxes to a breakwater and seawall fund here. While some of the bonds still are outstanding, the discovery of oil and gas in the counties has increased their remittances considerably.

Need for additional buyfront protection has been a problem in various former administrations. The plan submitted would furnish adequate protection to the downtown and waterfront areas of the city.

THOUGH dealing with angel cake, let's get on a firm foundation at once.

Have eggs at room temperature. The whites will whip up more quickly to greater volume. Be sure there is no bit of egg yolk left in the whites.

Mixing must be done gently and quickly in order not to lose any of the air beaten into the egg whites. Better use the meringue method of mixing angel cake: put the salt in with the whites at the start. When the eggs have been beaten until they are frothy, add the cream of tartar. The salt and cream of tartar help to keep the foam stable. Cream of tartar also helps to make the cake more tender, greater in volume and whiter.

Beat whites with cream of tartar until they form soft rounded peaks. Beating eggs beyond this point will make the cake coarse-grained. Next fold in half the sugar. Then fold in flour mixed with remaining sugar. Use a gentle, folding motion.

Pour into ungreased pan and put in low oven (about 325 degrees F.). When baked, remove by inverting pan to cool, then, before cake is entirely cool, take it out.

If you want a plain sponge cake instead, you can substitute liquid and baking powder for some of the egg whites required for angel cake.

Two tablespoons milk or water and 1-2 teaspoon baking powder can be substituted for each egg.

Falling of a meteor in the area was reported in 1933.

The specimen sent to the university is composed largely of iron. It was contributed by E. T. Varnell.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, codfish cakes, hot muffins, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, crisp bacon, French toast, raspberry jam, tea, milk.
DINNER: Creamed green shrimp, new potatoes, fresh beans, lettuce and parsley salad, angel cake with strawberry sauce, coffee, milk.

omitted from angel cake recipe. Sift the baking powder with flour and add liquid before folding the egg whites into batter. Bake at slightly higher temperature (about 340 degrees F.). You may want this basic recipe for plain sponge cake.

Plain Sponge Cake
One cup sifted soft-wheat flour, 1 cup (4 or 5) eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon lemon rind grated, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Sift the flour three times. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; gradually add half the sugar, beating thoroughly, then add lemon juice and rind. Beat until thick. Beat egg whites and salt until they start to peak but will still flow.

Foam in remainder of sugar to make a meringue. Pour yolk mixture over whites and fold it into them gently. Then fold in flour. Pour into an ungreased pan and bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) from 50 to 60 minutes.

To Distribute Coupons and Rinso

The young women shown in the picture will distribute coupons and a package of the new improved Rinso absolutely free to every householder in Eastland. One of the young women will call personally on every housewife and invite her to a demonstration where she will be given a package of the new improved Rinso and her coupons. These coupons will enable her to buy one and get one free, one Lux, Lifebuoy, Rinso, Lux Toilet Soap and another coupon good for 10 cents on the purchase of a one or three-pound can of Spry, the new all-vegetable shortening. The new Spry cook books will be given free at the demonstrations. This campaign has been supported by Eastland dealers and they will gladly redeem your coupons. Spry is the biggest forward step in shortening manufacture that has been made in years. It is a purer, whiter, creamier, all-vegetable shortening that makes all your baking and fried foods doubly delicious and easy to digest. Spry does not need to be kept in the refrigerator because it is absolutely pure. It will stay sweet and creamy right in your pantry shelf. It never develops off flavors to spoil the food you cook even in your hottest oven. Spry is economical because it can be used over and over for frying. The four famous soaps satisfy every household need. Rinso soaks clothes whiter by several shades than ordinary soaps. Clothes last longer when washed with Rinso because it saves the wear of scrubbing by soaking out the dirt. Women have found that by thoroughly cleansing the skin with Lux Toilet Soap that they may use all the cosmetics they wish without any danger of getting cosmetic skin. Lux is so gentle for your fine stockings and underthings, it will preserve the live elasticity of stockings so they will stretch under the strain instead of breaking into pieces. For a fresher and clearer complexion try a facial with Lifebuoy, purifying lather mild, yet deep cleansing. Rinso cuts out pore-clogging impurities.

Pa's Private Title of Nobility

The last few years have been pretty tough ones on Father.

The world has gone drifting off to nowhere like a Kansas corn-crib before a cyclone, and Father knows no more what it is all about than any other citizen. The job of supporting a family—in a world where jobs keep getting scarcer—is growing tougher and tougher; and to occupy his traditional position as the symbol of wisdom and the source of earthly security is getting to be an impossibly difficult task.

Nevertheless, Father still rates pretty well. Optimist International, a service club organization, recently polled some 5000 American boys, asking them (among other things) to list "the greatest person now living."

The majority vote in this strange election was won by President Roosevelt; which, considering youth's natural bedazzlement by the White House, is only natural. Second place went to "Mother"—which, once again, is quite to be expected. But third place, high above people like Lindbergh, Joe DiMaggio and Buck Jones, went to Father.

Which ought to be heartening news for all the battle-weary dads of the land.

No one has ever taken the plain, ordinary, humble citizen of this country aside and put him under the microscope to find out just exactly what it is that he is fighting for. If the job is ever done, the investigators will undoubtedly discover that the most compelling motive he owns is the desire to look like a somebody in the eyes of his son.

That isn't the easiest thing to do, because the ordinary man has a pretty clear conception of his own unworthiness. Even if he happens to be a boss man, sitting behind a big desk and rejoicing in a gaudy title and a fat paycheck, he is all too conscious of the fact that he is only a cog in the business wheel after all, and that he could be replaced without too much trouble. And if he is one of the hired hands, as he usually is, hardly a day passes without reminding him of his insignificance.

But at home it is a little different. There someone actually looks up to him, relies on his wisdom and his knowledge of life, trusts that he can do the impossible, and creates a private title of nobility for him.

Which makes all the difference in the world.

Life isn't easy, for most people. It is an eternal struggle in which the chances of victory are never very bright and it gives every man a terrible, tragic load of disappointment and disillusion to carry.

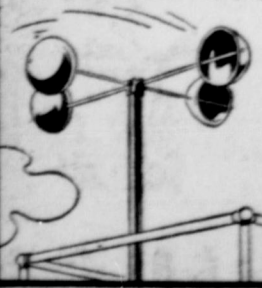

Unless a man can draw strength from some outside source, he is apt to fail. And that source of strength, in most cases, is nothing else than the love and the trust in the heart of a youngster at home.

Which brings us back to the straw vote taken by Optimist International. Times may be hard, but junior still sees Dad as a winner. And because there is, after all, a scale of values which transcends the world's workaday scale, it is probable that ultimately junior is quite correct.

CHICAGO, KNOWN AS THE WINDY CITY, HAD ONLY TWO DAYS IN 1937 WHEN THE WIND REACHED 32 MILES PER HOUR

CHICAGO was far down the line of windy cities for 1937. While it had but two 32-mile-per-hour winds, Buffalo had 105 days on which the wind equaled or exceeded that velocity. New York City had 89 such days, and Cleveland 81.

THE LITTLE DARLINGS

Author Discusses Vacation Jobs to Give Boys, Girls

"Should my child work this summer?" Margaret Calkin Banning, famous author asks parents whose children will soon be out of school on summer vacations.

Mrs. Banning, one of America's outstanding women, and mother of two children, discusses this important and highly controversial question in the May issue of WOMAN'S DAY. Not seeking to lay down hard and fast rules, but rather to give some friendly advice to parents, Mrs. Banning proceeds to answer her own question.

"The answer is yes, if the money is necessary. If the amount that a boy or girl can earn during the summer vacation is so needed that otherwise the family will be uncomfortable or suffer, the young person should be allowed to carry his share of the load and find a job if he can. The answer is also yes in cases where the summer job is not just a time-killer but will increase the earning capacity and usefulness to society of a boy or girl when he or she becomes a full-time worker."

"But educators say that students need the long vacation for relaxation. Some psychologists say that a young person who enters the working world with its disciplines and responsibilities too early, or while he is still studying part of the year, will be left with an unfortunate mark. A summer job may force his maturity or stunt his natural growth, mentally or physically.

"Such statements frighten the parent, who is eager to protect his children almost into maturity. But sometimes we are apt to be too soft about our children, to their disadvantage. This is a very serious and far from ideal world at the moment. If ideal economic conditions do not exist we cannot bring children up as if they did exist. And American parents can also remember this to their comfort: all over Europe, in China and Japan, boys are being taught at an incredibly early age to bear arms, sever family connections, encounter danger to life. Even if the healthy American boy or girl has to take on responsibilities a little sooner than we might wish, he is still lucky compared to the young people in other countries."

Accompanying the article is a list of suggestions for pin-money odd jobs, which should prove useful in helping young people select summer occupations. The list follows in part:

For Boys
Painting: Fences, porch furniture, etc.
Tending: Gardens, lawns, driveways, hedges. Raking and burning backyard trash; destroying tent caterpillars and other harmful insects; exterminating poison ivy.
Delivering: Parcels for steam laundry, dry cleaners, etc.
Selling: Vacuum cleaners, washing machines, magazines, newspaper subscriptions.
Teaching: Sports and studies to younger boys. Taking children swimming or hiking at regular intervals.
Cleaning: Cellars, yards, lawns. Collecting and selling old newspapers, bottles, etc.
Washing: Autos, windows, dogs.
If in large city, walking dogs may be profitable.
Serving: As caddy at golf club; as attendant, ball-boy or ground keeper at tennis club.
Repairing: Radios, lawn mowers, etc.

For Girls
Tending: Flowers or lawns by the month.
Serving: As companion or reader for invalids or younger children; helping half days in tearooms run by women.
Making: and selling hooked rugs, sweaters, dresses, candy, cookies, jellies.
Taking orders: from neighbors for such things as subscriptions, stockings, aluminum ware, books from leading libraries, etc.
Telephoning: prospective customers for beauty parlors, etc., on a commission basis.
Assisting: at community park or playground; working at small paid job for summer with Youth Administration, Y. W. C. A. or other welfare agency.

STORIES IN STAMPS

GALLOPING MAIL

OUT of pioneer St. Joseph, Mo., galloped a flashing rider early in the morning of April 3, 1860, first of a chain of horsemen who would carry the mail to San Francisco in eight days.

Three transcontinental mail lines were already in existence but the bulk of the mail was dispatched by Panama in 22 days. This was entirely too slow, so the "Daily Express" was organized.

Stations about 45 miles apart were established. Riders were expected to cover 75 miles a day. Eventually there were 190 stations, 200 stationkeepers, 200 assistants and 80 riders on the hazardous, Indian-plagued route to the Far West. The riders got $100 to $125 per month. Charges were $5 for each half ounce, later reduced to $2.50.

The quickest trip was that made in delivery of Lincoln's inaugural address: St. Joseph to Sacramento, 1400 miles, in 7 days, 17 hours. With the completion of the Pacific Telegraph line in 1861 the regular pony express was discontinued. A rider is shown below on the recent U. S. 1969 stamp, light brown, reproduced slightly more than one and one-half times actual size.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The WPA, whose federal theater project productions have attracted widespread attention, is likely soon to start producing a movie or two.

Representatives of 14 labor unions, representing workers in the motion picture industry, were here recently to report that many actors, actresses and technicians were unemployed and that something ought to be done to keep them from starving.

Assistant Administrator David K. Niles told the union people to go back to Hollywood and submit proposals for possible projects. WFA will take the attitude that men and women who make movies when employed are as much entitled to work relief as actors, writers and musicians who have been employed on special projects in the last two or three years.

No government-sponsored love thrillers, gangster or cowboy films are in prospect. The productions are expected to be documentary films and dramatizations of government activities which will be sufficiently interesting and artistic to have box office pull.

Heated argument developed the other night after dinner at the Russian embassy, between isolationists and "collective security" advocates among a group of American legislators, officials and private citizens who were guests.

Suave, popular Ambassador Trotskyanovskiy started it by deploring anti-Russian propaganda and saying that he wasn't seeking American aid for Russia, since Russia was almost as isolated as the United States and historically had no need to attack. But Russia wanted world peace, international trade would be necessary for world. Others took up the chief champions of isolationism—Congressman Murray and SEC Commissioner Jerome Frank. Maverick demanded how the United States to get chummy with a nation—saying that he had been quite willing to see Spain and China aggressor nations, that he had in bad shape and that could tell about Russia dinner. If she had killed off so many generals and statesmen, it began with a wry grin, "I don't think you should be afraid of the kid with Mr. Roosevelt on the other end, from Roger."

"I think we ought to be afraid of the kid with Mr. Roosevelt on the other end, from Roger." "Let's make sweethearts of it," replied Trotskyanovskiy, "I don't think you should be afraid of the kid with Mr. Roosevelt on the other end, from Roger."

"That's just talk about," he said, "I don't think you should be afraid of the kid with Mr. Roosevelt on the other end, from Roger."

"Plans . . . sweethearts of it," replied Trotskyanovskiy, "I don't think you should be afraid of the kid with Mr. Roosevelt on the other end, from Roger."

Jackie had been through alone with Evelyn. "That's all right," she had not sent Roger any word look this time, but he came to her rescue, anyway. "Ask me anything you like," he said to Mr. Scott.

MR. SCOTT put down his fork in his deliberate manner. "Well, now let me see, just what are your plans, Roger?"

"Plans? Nothing very definite, I'm afraid," Roger answered. "Aside from what I'm doing now, instructing, some test flying, a bit of mapping, now and then."

"Nothing else?" Mr. Scott did not look impressed.

"He hopes to do something really big some day," Jackie broke in eagerly. She saw a chance to interest Mr. Scott, who certainly had plenty of what-it-took for such matters, in Roger's secret ambition. "Roger would like to make some stratosphere flights," she explained. "Tests for altitude. That's the coming thing in aviation. Only, of course, and now Jackie gave Mr. Scott a smile almost equalling Evelyn's in sweetness, "he'll have to find a Santa Claus."

"Santa Claus?" Evelyn looked completely bewildered at the turn the conversation had taken. "But I thought we were discussing plans for your children's future!"

"So we are," Roger assured her. "Jackie means I'd have to have a backup," he explained to Mr. Scott. "Someone especially interested."

"The future of aviation is one thing I am not interested in," Mr. Scott said concisely. He slid down about 25,000 feet, as though he had fallen from the stratosphere, in Jackie's estimation. "The main thing," he said to Roger, "is whether you can provide adequately for Miss Jacqueline."

"If you mean can I take care of her," Roger began.

"I guess I can take care of myself, thank you!" Jackie flashed.

"THERE, there, children," Evelyn gave them each a placating smile. "Paul is merely trying to be helpful. It might be he could do something to help you."

"Why, I could, though, it's a pity," Mr. Scott murmured, "that you haven't had any training along any other line except flying."

"I'm not looking for any charity, thank you," Roger replied stiffly. And his estimation soared upward. As though Roger would give up his beloved flying for material gain!

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
 NEA Service Staff Writer

CUPPER is a friendly word. Think of the number of times mother stood in the kitchen door and called out "Come in to supper."

For Mother's Day, next Sunday, why don't you do the calling for a change. You can send mother off to the movies and when she returns, you will have supper ready in the garden for her to enjoy.

Ask a few of her dearest friends, and you and your sisters and brothers do the serving in the best and most affectionate way you can. Then "Mother's Day" will have meaning. Select a very simple but delightful menu. Try these tested recipes.

Tuna Fish Casserole
 (Serves 4-1 1-3 quarts)
 One and one-half pounds fresh peas, 1-3 pound noodles (about 1-3 package), a No. 1 can tuna fish (about 1-3 cups), 1-2 cup drained crushed pineapple.
 Shuck the peas and then cook them in the salted water; use 1-2 teaspoon salt to 1 pint of water. Cook noodles in rapidly boiling salted water in 1 1-2 quart glass saucepan. Drain noodles and arrange them in a dish to form a nest.

Sauce
 Four tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper. Melt butter; add flour, stirring to form smooth mixture. Add milk a little at a time, and stir constantly to form a creamy sauce. Add seasoning. Cook 5 minutes or until no starchy taste remains.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Prunes and apricots, dry cereal, corn bread, clover honey, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Cheese and vegetable salad, hot biscuits, fresh strawberry gelatin, tea, milk.
DINNER: Chicken fricassee, steamed brown rice, buttered broccoli, sliced tomatoes, maple wainut cake, coffee, milk.

Add drained peas, flaked tuna fish and pineapple to the white sauce and pour over the noodles. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 20 minutes or until heated through.

Cheese and Vegetable Salad
 (Serves 9 to 12-3 quarts)
 One large head lettuce, 1 large sweet onion, 1-2 green pepper, 1 package (8 ounces) snappy cheese, 1 cup diced celery, a No. 2 can green string beans (2 1-2 cups), a No. 2 can diced carrots (2 1-2 cups), a No. 1 can peas (1 1-3 cups), 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup French dressing.

Shred lettuce, cut onion and pepper into thin slices. Dice cheese. Toss lightly together with celery, beans, carrots, peas, salt and pepper. Chill. About 10 minutes before serving, add French dressing made with a dash of tabasco sauce.

With either of these main dishes, serve either hot muffins or biscuits, or else some interesting baker's bread well warmed just before serving.

Candidate Speaks Here On Thursday

Declaring that Texas must have a rebirth of the fundamental tenet of equality of opportunity, G. A. Jerry Sadler, Longview, candidate for Railroad Commissioner of Texas, addressed a crowd of citizens here Thursday.

Sadler, colorful young attorney, called attention to what he said was discriminatory administration of certain functions of the public service, stressing the "kind of promotion" that the Railroad Commission exercises in employing its personnel.

He said Eastland county has only six representatives employed by the commission while Gregg county has 18 and Tarrant county 35. More than half of Texas counties have no representatives among the personnel, Sadler said.

"Sadler's Cowboy Stringers," a four-piece band, which furnished music. He is the only known candidate carrying a band on tour.

Judge Yarborough Makes Two Talks In Eastland County

Nearly a thousand Eastland Countians heard District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin, candidate for Attorney General, in two speeches yesterday and last night, the first address being in Ranger late in the afternoon with several hundred present and the second appeal for votes being made on the courthouse square in Eastland before an even larger crowd.

Reviewing his record of almost four years as Assistant Attorney General, Yarborough told of winning $1,073,500 in cash for the public schools in a single lawsuit and of gaining many more millions of dollars for the schools in other cases.

"Every school child, every school teacher, every school trustee, confronted by the financial problems of our educational system benefitted by these recoveries," Judge Yarborough declared.

"Every taxpayer profited, too, because we have set our faces forward on education and if these millions of dollars that rightfully belong to the people had not been recovered, then higher taxes would have had to be imposed."

"Promising to maintain the rights of the people as Attorney General just as he did while an assistant, Yarborough said:

"The people are not going to elect as the 'people's attorney' a man who has never been on the people's side in any courtroom. There is no substitute for experience. The land laws, for example, are intricate and a knowledge with which to cope with the shrewd attorneys on the side of entrenched privilege can be gained only by months and years of hard study, often past the midnight hour."

He quoted a West Texas cowpuncher as having said to him recently:

"Yarborough, you can't expect a man who has never had his hand on a rope to throw and brand a steer," and then the speaker added:

"By the same token, you can't expect a man who has never had his hand on a hard lawsuit to throw some maverick despoiler of the people's rights and burn into its thick, monopolistic hide the brand of Texas."

Yarborough cited the May, 1935 issue of the Texas Outlook, official magazine of the Texas State Teachers Association, as giving him credit for gaining mineral rights for the public schools by a series of lawsuits, with a minimum value of $20,000,000.

New district judge in Travis County on leave of absence without pay, Yarborough earned money by working as a harvest hand in the wheat fields and as a tank-builder in the west Texas oil fields. He is a former West Texas Ranger, having practiced law in El Paso for three years and a half. In Ranger, he spoke of the nationwide fame of this area for its great oil boom and in Eastland he referred to the great reputation of Old Rip, the horned from. Yarborough was accompanied by his friend, Boyce House, ex-Eastland County newspaperman.
