SEVEN WERE SLEEPING IN SAME ROOM

Parents Barely Escape By Jumping From Window, Leaving a Baby.

ALEXIS, N. C., Nov. 13.—Eight children, seven of them sleeping in one room and the other a baby sleeping with its parents, were burned to death today when fire gutted the frame home of Herbert Cunningham.

The dead, ranging in age from one to 19 years, were burned beyond recognition. Cunningham and his wife escaped. In their excitement they left the baby sleeping in their room.

The victims were Robert 19, Thomas 15, Nellie 12, Grace 10, Louis 7, Juanita 4, Jack 2, and Ruth 1.

Cunningham, who was burned in escaping from the house, and his wife, were taken to the home of relatives.

The seven children were huddled in a downstairs room. The parents according to sheriff's investigators, occupied an upstairs room with the baby.

Clyde Burke, brother-in-law of Mrs. Cunningham, quoted her as saying the parents narrowly escaped death.

"We just discovered the fire and jumped out of the house," Burke quoted her as saying. "And when we tried to get the children there was nothing we could do against the flames."

Alexis has no fire-fighting organization and the house was gutted.

ALL IS QUIET IN COLUMBUS AFTER HANGING

COLUMBUS, Tex., Nov. 13.—Unusual quiet settled over Columbus today after a wild night during which a mob of 300 men and women seized two negro boys and lynched them for attacking and slaying a 19 year old white girl.

The negroes, Ernest Collins and Bennie Mitchell, both about 16, were hanged from a limb of a large liveoak tree a mile from here and three miles from the scene of their crime.

The mob ignored the plea of Rev. E. B. Marrison, Columbus, Episcopal minister, to "let the law take its course" and hanged the negroes as he pleaded.

A third negro, called the ringleader in the slaying of Miss Geraldine Coleman, on Oct. 17, in a last minute confession by one of the lynching victims, narrowly escaped the same fate by fleeing from his home before members of the mob could reach it.

The defendant is pretty Edith Maxwell, school teacher whose trial opens in this little backwood county seat Nov. 18. It will be a story of the struggle between the family code of the mountaineers and the infringing freedom of modern youth.

Miss Maxwell has been held in the Wise county jail since the slaying last July 21. The mountain girl learned the soft feel of "store clothes" while she attended normal school in the "outside world."

She experienced life that was directly opposite to the code of "the Pound"—a tawdry, spluttering of mountain shacks where she resided. She could not reconcile herself to accept again the hill code that it was indecent for young girls to be out after dark.

She is charged with beating her father, Trigg Maxwell, 52, to death with a shoe, at their cabin near the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," when he attempted to spank her for staying out until nearly midnight.

But that is only the technical points in the case. The true battle when Edith goes on trial before H. A. W. Skeen, the spectacled mountain judge, is between the 8 o'clock curfew of "the Pound" and the right of modern youth to come and go as it pleases.

Miss Maxwell says she killed in self-defense. Her attorneys, W. W. Dotson and A. A. Skeen, will base their case on doctrines of the modern world. It will be a stubborn

MEETING OPENS GASMEN'S WAR ON COLD GERM

Dangers of improper heating and ventilation were pointed out to employees of the Lone Star Gas Company and Community Natural Gas Company and their families from Eastland, Cisco and Baird when a campaign was launched against the common cold germ, said to be America's public health enemy No. 1, at the Connellee Hotel in Eastland Tuesday night.

The session was one in a series being conducted by the Lone Star Gas System to educate the public on dangers to health that come from improper heating and ventilation.

M. L. Bird, superintendent of the western division, Community Natural Gas Company, presided. Mr. Bird, like other speakers, pointed out that leading doctors say that 50 per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold."

Mr. Bird introduced W. G. Wiegand, advertising manager of the Lone Star Gas System; L. B. Denning Jr., general superintendent of the Community Natural Gas Company, both of Dallas, and L. D. Black, manager of Eastland district; H. L. Dyer, manager of Cisco district, and W. B. Cooper, manager of Baird district, Community Natural Gas Company.

Each of the gas company representatives pointed out proper methods of heating in relation to health and combatting the common cold.

"On cold winter days many families 'huddle' in one or two rooms around a small open flame heater with the doors and windows tightly closed," Mr. Denning said in his address. "This hibernating habit during winter is contrary to all rules of personal hygiene and good health."

"Under such a condition all the air you breathe comes in contact with an open flame. Without adequate circulation it may become as foul and unhealthy as that of the tenement slums of large cities even though the home may be the most beautiful in the neighborhood."

"The unhealthy habit of 'huddling' has developed because most homes have not been constructed for proper heating and ventilating during the severely cold days that we may expect every winter season. Many of these homes have been constructed with only two flues for accommodating vented types of heating equipment—one in the kitchen and another in the living room fireplace. Some homes have none at all. This condition would be impossible in any climate where coal or wood is used as the major heating fuel."

Mr. Wiegand pointed out that when open flame type heaters are used exclusively it is of utmost importance to have adequate ventilation and a circulation of heated air of healthful conditions are to exist. Proper ventilation of fresh air should be provided through window openings and a free movement of pure warmed air should be kept circulating through connecting doors or all rooms, he said.

It was announced that a booklet containing 16 pages of scientific discussions of causes and prevention of common colds, titled "America's Public Health Enemy No. 1," is available at Community Natural Gas Company offices.

Naval Talk Again May Make U. S. the Goat

There is going to be a handsome new naval disarmament conference in London on Dec. 1, and the statesmen of the world are pulling back their cuffs so as to be ready for another round of the grand old game of dealing Uncle Sam three small ones off the bottom of the deck.

A disarmament conference right now would seem to be a prodigious waste of time, since there is not a government on earth that has the remotest intention of reducing its armament. But back of the scenes some interesting things are due to happen, and if the American delegates aren't careful they are likely to come home wearing barrels in place of pants.

Great Britain, the world's pre-eminent naval power for some two centuries, is all set to make enormous additions to her fleet. The coming elections are expected to result in victory for the Conservative party, and this party is all for a great naval building program. It is reported that fully a billion dollars will be spent on British warships and airplanes in the immediate future.

Japan, likewise, is all for building. The Japanese insist on parity—in simpler words, they are going to have a fleet as big as America's no matter who says no—and between Tokio and London the American delegation is apt to have some uncomfortable and interesting moments.

For London and Tokio are likely to work together. The British want the world's greatest fleet. For selfish purposes? Bless you, not at all—for the sake of world peace, international justice, and the rights of small nations. The British will point out that neither America nor Japan is a member of the League of Nations.

The League may need naval power to carry out its program—as, for instance, in the case of Italy. It will be up to Britain to supply the ships. Therefore, Britain must have the greatest of all fleets, and it will be sheer selfishness for America to want one equally large.

Tokio can be expected to support that argument—for the Japanese are interested in parity with the United States, not with England. In return, the British can support the Japanese position. And the American delegation will have to play a lone hand if it tries to argue for continuance of the existing fleet ratios.

However the cards fall, he is due to lose. Under the circumstances, it is a little hard to see why he should bother to go to London at all.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Writer
TODAY came a card announcing an auction sale of antiques to begin at ten o'clock in the morning with "lunch served on the premises." I can't miss it and there's no telling what time I'll get home with an uneasy conscience and a careful of things I probably had no business to buy.

Fortunately the date of the sale is far enough ahead for me to make necessary preparations. The best way to overcome my sense of guilt is to serve my family an unusually good dinner that night, but it takes advance planning to get dinner on the table in half an hour after you step into the kitchen.

This is the way I shall do it. In the morning I'll get my salad ready so that all I'll have to do will be to take it from the refrigerator and put it on the table. The dessert will be made and put in the ice-box to chill.

Quick Cooling Vegetable
I'll have a vegetable that will cook in twenty minutes, such as cauliflower or I'll cook one in the morning and reheat in its sauce or season it at the last minute.

If I have potatoes I'll cook them in the morning and reheat in a cream sauce.

Fish, as it is packed and shipped these days, can be cooked with practically no preliminary preparations. Oysters are a standby for last minute dinners. Oyster stew, escalloped oysters, creamed on toast, en brochette, baked with macaroni, pigs in blankets—all these oyster dishes are delicious and nourishing and can be on the table in thirty minutes time.

Liver, link sausages, pork tenderloin, beef tenderloin, broiled hamburger and other chopped meats, thinly sliced veal and the smoked pork products that can be

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Halves of grapefruit, cereal, cream, shirred eggs, crisp oven toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Liver and bacon sandwiches, head lettuce with French dressing, fruit, tapioca pudding, milk, tea.
DINNER: Veal stew with dumplings, cabbage and pepper salad, mince pie, milk, coffee.

broiled or pan-broiled all can be quickly prepared and cooked. And there are always steaks and chops. Here's the menu for a quick meal:

Tomato juice cocktail, savory macaroni, creamed cauliflower head lettuce with Parisian dressing, caramel custard, vanilla cookies, milk, coffee.

The savory macaroni is prepared and put in its baking dish all ready to pop in the oven just long enough to be heated through.

The lettuce is washed and put in the vegetable pan in the ice-box and the dressing is mixed and put in a bottle for a final shaking before serving.

Savory Macaroni
Five ounces macaroni, 3 quart boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 pound cheese, 1 cup chopped Brazil nuts, 2 cups canned tomatoes, salt, pepper, sugar.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and blanch. Arrange in a buttered baking dish, baking in alternate layers with nuts and thinly sliced cheese. Rub tomatoes through a coarse sieve and season with salt and pepper and sugar. Pour over macaroni mixture and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.), or until the cheese is melted.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED TOWNS AND CITIES IN THE UNITED STATES HAVE NAMES CONTAINING THE NAME OF THEIR NATIONAL BIRD, THE EAGLE.

AFRICA IS NORTH OF EUROPE! THE SOUTHERN PART OF SPAIN IS FARTHER SOUTH THAN MANY POINTS ON THE COAST OF NORTH AFRICA.

BEEES WILL FLY EIGHT MILES AWAY FROM THE HIVE IN SEARCH OF FOOD. BEEES fly no farther for food than is absolutely necessary, and usually they confine their foraging to an area within a mile or two of the hive. But a scarcity of honey producing plants will induce them to travel almost unbelievable distances, and each time they return with unerring accuracy to their homes.

ALAMEDA

The farmers have been busy taking up their peanuts. Some have thrashed but the rainy weather is causing some delay. Harry Deal and L. B. Cozart and Shelley Tucker and G. W. Pilgrim and son, Grover, and Claude Belue were in Eastland Friday. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. James, Mrs. J. H. Wheat, Mrs. L. B. Cozart and Mrs. J. L. and J. S. NIMROD

A cold norther is blowing which reminds us that spar-ribs and sausage will soon be gracing our tables. There is quite a bit of sickness here at present. Mrs. A. B. Hall is quite sick with lumbago. Her daughter, Mrs. Dottie Marshall of Lorraine, is visiting her. Mrs. W. H. Hall is suffering from a sprained wrist. Junie Brown stuck a pitchfork in his foot Saturday and has been suffering considerably. Miss Vena McBeth is still confined to her bed in Cisco following an appendix operation five weeks ago. A. J. Thomas has been in a Ranger hospital about two months with blood poisoning in his foot. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harrelson and son, Teddy Mae, of Romney, visited his mother, Mrs. A. E. Harrelson, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Doss Cozart were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown. We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Townsend and family our deepest sympathy in the death of their twin babies, a boy and a girl. A large crowd was present Sunday afternoon at their funeral. They were buried in Pisgah cemetery. Our school is progressing nicely under the leadership of Misses Elsie Sharp and Lucille Stansell. A supper was given last Wednesday night and $23.82 was cleared, which is to be used in buying school equipment. The first six weeks has just closed and following is a list of the highest averages in each grade. Third Grade—Billie Jean Hall, average 92.8 per cent. Second Grade—Viola Threet, average, 92.4 per cent.

GRANDVIEW

Elbert Denton is very ill at this time. We hope him a speedy recovery. The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Duggan is a victim of pneumonia but is better at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Westmoreland and son, Billie Guy, of Hamlin, spent Thursday night and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Brown. Mrs. C. M. Prestidge and Edna Earle were dinner guests of Mrs. Emmie Thurman Sunday. Georgie and Frankie Stacy of Alameda have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stacy. Blanton Moseley of Alameda spent Friday night and Saturday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Prestidge. Mr. and Mrs. Echols of Gorman attended church here Sunday night. J. D. Pilcher, principal of the Grandview school, spent the weekend in DeLeon. The Halloween program given by the expression pupils of Mrs. J. C. Brewer was highly entertaining and enjoyed by all. The falling weather and cold wind which we are having is doing a lot of damage to row feed, cotton and peanuts. Rev. Mont Manchester of Desdemona will fill his regular appointment here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Everyone is invited to come.
