Annual Livestock Show Plans Given For Cisco's Event

Notice has been received here of the annual Eastland County Livestock Show at Cisco Friday and Saturday of this week, at the lot in front of the Cisco city hall. The chamber of commerce at Cisco is offering prizes for all first and second place animals. Ribbons will be given to first, second and third place animals and also champions of each breed. Free entertainment has been planned for Friday night and Saturday afternoon. R. M. Mihollin, San Angelo, and Leon Hanson, assistant county agent of Taylor county, Abilene, will be judges. Judging will start at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Sheep, goats and hogs will be judged Saturday, beginning at 2 p. m. Friday morning at 10:30, has been set at the deadline for animals to be in their places at the showgrounds. Cash prizes total approximately $100.

LABOR ENTERS PROTEST UPON WAGE SCALES

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Feb. 22.—Proposed wage scales for the Possum Kingdom dam project today were criticized by Fort Worth labor leaders on the eve of award of a contract for the huge construction job Thursday in Temple. Telegrams of protest were directed to Congressman Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth; C. Z. Crain of San Antonio, state director of WPA's division of employment, and John Norris of Temple, general manager of the Brazos district. Wage specifications call for a maximum $1 an hour for skilled labor, 55 cents for semi-skilled, and 30 cents for common labor, union agents were informed by John Luttrell, president of the trades assembly. "The common labor scale is the lowest for any federal project," Luttrell said.

Senate Votes Down Attempt to Raise WPA Relief Funds

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The senate today rejected an attempt by Sen. Homer Bone to increase the administration's $250,000,000 deficiency relief bill to $400,000,000. Consideration of the relief measure was the only major congressional activity of the Washington Birthday session, which both houses heard by hearing Washington's farewell address. The Bone amendment was defeated 22 to 53 after the senate was assured the funds would be sufficient to meet the need between now and June 30. The senate completed congressional action on the bill extending the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium for two years. The act would have expired March 3.

French Cabinet Votes To Support League

By United Press
PARIS, France, Feb. 22.—While Prime Minister Chamberlain, in London, was criticizing the League of Nations and collective security, the foreign office issued a communique tonight declaring France remains faithful to her alliances and to the league.

Jane Carter Agrees To Stand Trial

By United Press
HOUSTON, Feb. 22.—Marcilla Fay McDaniel, 23, alias Jane Carter, agreed today to return to Charleston, W. Va., for trial on charges of concealing $11,300, alleged loot in a bank robbery Jan. 29. Mrs. McDaniel, mother of a six-year-old boy, pleaded not guilty before a U. S. Commissioner, who set her bond at $50,000. JUDGMENT GIVEN Judgment of $909.98 was rendered Monday in 88th district court for R. N. Grisham against Carbon Peanut company, Inc. Sale of property securing the amount was ordered sold.

Rampaging White River Floods Area Around Newport, Ark.

NEA Service
Thousands of residents have been forced to move to high ground as a result of breaks in the Stephen-Keel levee on the White River near Newport, Ark. NEA's photographer flew over the flooded district to make these vivid shots of the high water. Picture No. 1 shows one of seven breaks in the levee about three miles south of Newport flooding over 40 sq. miles, while No. 2 is also an arial view showing water flowing over the top about 12 miles south of Newport.

CHAMBERLAIN FEARS LEAGUE HAS WEAKNESS

By United Press
LONDON, Feb. 22.—Prime minister Neville Chamberlain warned the house of commons today that Britain is in danger of being forced into war unless she acts independently of the enfeebled League of Nations. Chamberlain, having deposed Capt. Anthony Eden, league champion, as foreign secretary, decried the weakness of the league. It was the first time a British prime minister had confessed publicly the league's ineffectiveness. He did not repudiate the league, but expressed hope that someday it might be reconstituted so the "teeth" can be applied against aggressors. Obviously seeking to allay French fears that Britain is deserting her old time ally, he reiterated Britain's determination to continue cooperating with France. Chamberlain scoffed at talk of Britain's surrendering to the dictatorial powers, and declared that Britain still is a great country, which can do what smaller and weaker powers cannot do. The unrest which has prevailed Europe since Hitler's surprise move into Austria, was exemplified today when Hungarian police raided Nazi headquarters in Budapest, announcing they had found a plot for an uprising to seize power. It was significant that when Hitler forced Austria to recognize the Nazis political observers predicted the next move would be to extend Nazi influence in Hungary as a preliminary to bringing Czechoslovakia under the domination of the Rome-Berlin axis. France was greatly upset and the cabinet met in Paris without deciding what to do, beyond approving its plans for strengthening French defenses.

Congressional Hearing Upon Gulf Coast Submerged Oil Lands One of Most Important to State of Texas

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—A hundred million dollars worth of oil land, incalculable costs of involved litigation, and a principle which cannot be evaluated in dollars and cents will be the stake of Texas and Texasans, at a congressional hearing Wednesday, at which Texas will be represented by Attorney General William McCraw. The hearing will be on the Nye Resolution, which attempts to transfer federal title to all coastal submerged land, by the roundabout method of instructing the United States Attorney General to file suit for its recovery. Particularly interested will be the State's permanent school fund, which owns these lands. McCraw, who left for Washington Tuesday by plane, pointed out that in the event of House approval of this resolution, extended and almost endless litigation would be inevitable result. "I cannot believe," he said, "that any court in the land would hold that Congress has the power to take over the public lands of Texas, lands which Texas specifically reserved to herself when she was annexed to the Union; but in the event this Resolution should pass, Texas and Texasans might be forced into the longest and most expensive litigation imaginable." His argument to the House Judiciary Committee, McCraw said will be based wholly upon legal points, in an attempt to show the Congress that the Resolution proposes a vain and futile thing. Texas will offer two reasons why the Nye Resolution should not be passed; First, McCraw said, the State will avail herself of the plea common to all the states, that tidewater control was ceded to the Federal Government only for the purpose of controlling and regulating navigation and commerce; and, second, that Texas, alone of all the states, retained her public lands when entering the Union and those public lands included submerged areas within three leagues of the shoreline. "It would be a strange about-face," he commented, "if the Federal Government, which has always recognized Texas' ownership of her public lands to the extent that the Federal Government bought and paid for the numerous military reservations in Texas, should now contend it has the power to seize the tidewater areas. "The United States Senate, back in the days of the Texas Republic, thought it was driving a sharp bargain with Texas when it refused to accept all of Texas' public lands with the Republic's debts. Texas kept her debts; she kept her lands. It is too late now for the Federal Government to claim those lands simply because they appear to be oil producing territories — nearly a hundred years too late." It was emphasized by McCraw that the conjectured oil reserve along the Texas coastline do not constitute the only value of those areas. Fishing industries would be endangered, as well as every other enterprise now operating under a state grant or sanction. "Passage of this legislation would endanger the titles of many holders under state leases. At least one oil well has been brought in on a state lease and others are drilling. Uncle Sam proposes now to take over all these. It is a threat much greater and more vital to more people than the threat of Federal control of the oil industry over which many Texans grew excited a few years ago. And, fundamentally, the issues are the same—the issue of a sovereign state retaining its sovereignty."

IS TRANSFERRED
J. B. Matlock, formerly of Olden, has been transferred by the Magnolia company to Midland from Eastland. Matlock and Mrs. Matlock have already left for their new location.

SUNSHINE IS SEEN IN MOST OF STATE TODAY

By United Press
Sunshine covered most of Texas Tuesday. Only the eastern and southern portions were overcast. Flooding streams, which since last mid-week, have taken several lives, were receding. West Texas, the weather bureau said, will continue to have fair weather that followed snow and rain of the week-end. Snows that fell Monday night were melting in North and West Texas Tuesday. Sleet, snow and rain fell in Missouri and Kansas, adding another layer to the blanket of snow that already covered the states. The threat of flood damage in southeastern Missouri increased.

Part Peanuts Will Play In Program To Be Determined

To obtain information on 1938 regulations for peanut growers under the federal farm program, County Agent Elmo V. Cook and members of the Eastland County Conservation committee will be in College Station for a conference Wednesday morning. The county committee, composed of R. R. Bradshaw of Cisco, J. D. Guy of Carbon and E. E. Blackwell of Ranger, and Mr. Cook, are to confer with the state agricultural conservation board, which will administer the Texas program, at the same time of a Comanche county committee. The Eastland county group will return Wednesday night.

Wallace Says Trade Is Cause of War

By United Press
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 22.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace said today "there can be no doubt that at least part of the present day war mongering is due directly to the clogging of the channels of world trade."

Journalism Students To Meet at Baylor

By United Press
WACO, TEXAS — Baylor University will host March 25-26 to 200 journalism students and teachers at an annual meeting of the Southwest Journalism Congress. Invitations have been sent to students and instructors of all colleges of this region offering Journalism courses. Member schools scheduled to send delegates include the University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, Louisiana State University, Tulane University, Texas Technological College, Texas State College for Women, Texas Christian University, Texas A. & M. College, Mary Hardin, Baylor College, and Hardin-Simmons University.

ORDER VACATED

Eighty-eighth district court has set aside a judgment rendered previously in the case of Employers Casualty company against J. W. Cummins, an order of the tribunal showing granting of the defendant's motion disclosed Tuesday. The judgment was rendered Jan. 14.

Over $150,000 Is Received by Aged In Twelve Months

In the past 12 months, a survey showed Tuesday, 10,492 checks, totaling $152,807, have gone to Eastland county's aged from the State Old Age Assistance Commission. Record of payments each month are kept in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway. March, 1937, is the first month for which there is record in the county. The following table shows how the aged roll varied and the amount of checks.

FRENCH SHIP IS ATTACHED; TERUEL FALLS

By United Press
PARIS, Feb. 22.—The radio reported today that the French steamer Prado had sent an SOS call that she was being attacked 15 miles off Valencia. A destroyer went to the rescue. It was reported an airplane had machine gunned the Prado, wounding a member of the crew. HENDAYE, Spain, Feb. 22.—The nationalist forces of General Francisco Franco recaptured the strategic and ruined city of Teruel today, thus once more they drove a spearhead into Spanish loyalist territory which they hoped to divide and isolate Madrid from Valencia and Barcelona. The insurgents were driven out of Teruel three months ago in a surprise loyalist offensive. They won it back in one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

Kokomo 4-H Club Has Successful Meeting Sunday

Through the cooperation of club members, club leaders, both local and county and patrons, the Kokomo 4-H club members had a very successful club Sunday. According to our knowledge Kokomo is the only 4-H club in the State and probably nation that has ever had an event of this particular kind. The purpose of the event which was an all day affair was to inspire the Spiritual side of 4-H club members as well as other club workers. Rev. L. R. Higginbottom conducted the morning services. Hugh F. Barnhart officiated at the afternoon exercises. The Kokomo 4-H club members voted on Monday after the club Sunday to make this event an annual affair. The club members, club leaders and patrons invite others to attend this event in 1939. There were a number of visitors from other counties, and one visitor from California. The club workers are looking forward to a greater and more successful club year.

Road Work Awaits Federal Approval

By United Press
AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—Awaiting approval of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads today was $3,700,000 worth of road work planned by the Texas Highway Department for letting on March 22. Included was a feeder road from Highway 66 to Whitt in Parker and Palo Pinto counties.

Army Bombers On Way Back to U. S.

By United Press
SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 22.—Five United States Army bombers flew over the Andes today and landed here on their way back to the United States from Buenos Aires. The sixth plane was left behind in Buenos Aires for repairs.

BORAH SAYS BRITAIN SEEKS NEW ALLIANCE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Sen. William Borah of Idaho, the senate's leading authority on foreign relations, said today that the European crisis had resulted from the abandonment by Great Britain of all hope for an alliance with the United States. Borah said he was convinced that the purpose of Britain's move to seek an agreement with Italy was to weaken Germany and delay her efforts to regain colonies lost in the world war. "I believe the British government has come to the conclusion that an arrangement with the United States is impossible because the American people won't allow it," Borah said. "As a result, she has undertaken to make friends where she can."

Ranger Man Tells About Home Safety

Giving the final address on a series of safety talks, L. H. Taylor of Ranger discussed prevention of accidents in the home at a meeting of the Rotary club Monday at Connelie hotel in Eastland. Judge W. P. Leslie was program chairman. Carl Springer, club president, presided.

Cotton Gin Meeting Is Tuesday Evening

The public has been invited to a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 Wednesday night when discussion of securing a cotton gin for Eastland will be discussed. The meeting will be in the C. of C. office. Albert Taylor, chairman of the C. of C. gin committee, will explain a proposition submitted to the organization.

'Boot Hill' Shadow Is Now a Rainbow For a Kansas Town

DODGE CITY, Kan.—It used to be that residents of Dodge City were ashamed of "Boot Hill," at the edge of town. Now they see it as a tourist attraction. "Boot Hill" is the cemetery where hundreds of victims of pioneer day shootings were buried with their boots on. A chuck wagon rests on the hill as another memento of the days when Dodge City was a rip-roaring, wide open town at the edge of the westward advance of civilization and outside the influence of law and order. The Boot Hill Memorial Association has been organized in an effort to attract 100,000 visitors in 1938. More than 500 visitors registered weekly at the chuck wagon in 1937.

HOME PURCHASED

J. D. Barton of near Eastland has purchased the home at 508 South Dixie street in Eastland from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Day of Graham, records showed Tuesday in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway.

Relief Rolls Don't Grow Any Smaller

In case you think that government spending for relief is something which originated along about 1932 and is exclusive to the last few years, look over some figures compiled by the Works Progress Administration.

Since 1911 the government has been paying a large share of the aid furnished the jobless and the destitute in the United States. As early as 1929 public funds were paying more than three-fourths of the national relief bill.

And if you believe that the ever-mounting governmental expenditures for aid to the needy is a comparative recent thing and blamable upon economic events of the last six or seven years, there are more figures.

Since that same 1911, relief expenditures have grown steadily in the United States. In fact, in 16 of the country's largest cities they increased elevenfold between 1911 and 1929, despite the flourishing prosperity during the latter part of that period.

Another significant portion of the WPA report was the fact that with each successive depression, serious or slight in the last 20 years, relief spending has climbed to a new high level.

And as each succeeding era of prosperity followed, the amount of aid given the unemployed and the destitute did not return to its former plane, but remained almost static until a new depression came along. Then expenditures were boosted again.

All of which tends to prove that the problem of relief provisions from public funds is not as new as many have thought and further, that there is comparatively little if any chance that it should ever return to private organizations again.

This does not mean that private groups, Community Funds of a dozen different aims and methods, will not continue to function in their own specialized courses. But it does mean that relief as a state and national business, so to speak, is or soon will be as permanent and as important a governmental function as departments of commerce, labor or state.

The study of relief problems will be included in the curriculums of universities, sometime may hold cabinet hours in the federal government, will open new careers to students of charity—in short will become a national industry all its own.

Report that 6000 Italians have been killed in Ethiopia in the last two months indicate the African spot may become another Black Hole, as far as the Duce is concerned.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

"COLUMBIA CREST," CROWNING PEAK OF MOUNT RAINIER, WAS NAMED AT A TIME WHEN IT WAS BELIEVED TO BE THE HIGHEST POINT IN THE UNITED STATES.

MOUNT RAINIER, according to geologists, once towered to an altitude of 16,000 feet, judging by the steep incline of lava layers on its sides. Then a great explosion, or a succession of explosions, carried off the top of the cone, and reduced it to its present level.

Hears Her Family Tragedy Recited

Hearing her father tell how she had at first hidden her knowledge of her mother's friendship with a Meriden, Conn., barber because she feared her parents might separate, Virginia Ladd 14-year-old daughter of Duncan Howard Ladd, who is on trial for the slaying of his rival, became hysterical and was led from the courtroom in New Haven, Conn., where the trial is in progress.

Sport Glances.

BY HARRY GRAYSON Sports Editor, NEA Service

It will be interesting to watch the result of the experiment of Warren Wright, who last year reserved some of his best 2-year-olds from racing.

As long as anyone can remember there has been a steady howl against 2-year-old racing on the ground that it ruins horses.

"They race on gristle," many horsemen contend.

There has been plenty of basis for the complaints, for plenty of great 2-year-olds go on the shelf at 3.

Anyway, Warren Wright decided to try the matter out. It is a risky test, requiring courage, for 2-year-old stakes are numerous and rich, but, then, Warren Wright also is rich, and can afford probes of this kind.

Regardless of the outcome, it will be difficult to get away from the old rule that you have to race a horse when he is ready. If you have a precocious juvenile, it should pay its way in its junior year.

Warren Wright knows this, for it was he who came up with Nellie Flag, which rewarded him so handsomely as a 2-year-old.

HIALEAH PARK may provide the first tip on Wright's experiment, for his Calumet Farm has named the untied 3-year-olds, Gallant Stroke, Sir Eagle, and Ted Eagle for the Flamingo Stakes.

The untied Calumet 3-year-olds will be battling such experienced campaigners as Martell, The Chief, and uncertain Bourbon King if they prove themselves.

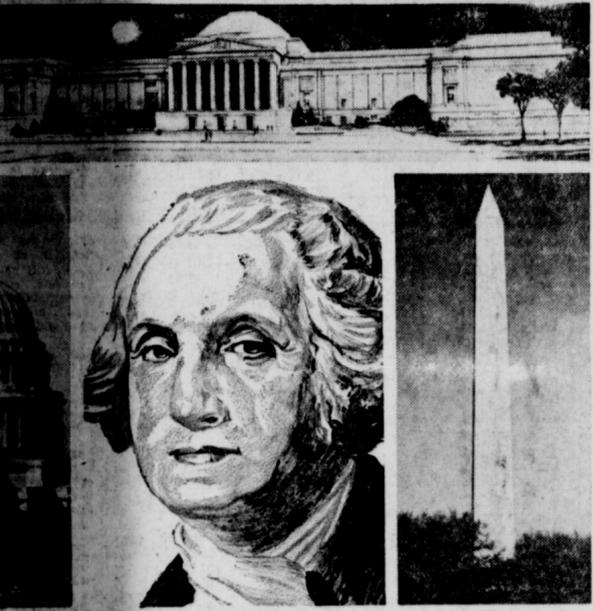

J. W. Fox of Olden was in town yesterday making plans to give publicity to his registered stallion, "Sign-o-Time" which is now serving daily at Olden.

WASHINGTON, MOST HONORED AMERICAN

His Name Given to Many Things in Many Countries -- But One of the Most Ambitious Memorials Has Just Been Abandoned

once-proposed George Washington Memorial in Washington, D. C., has been all but given up. The drawing at top is the artist's drawing of which is shown at top. At left is the dome of the national city to which Washington gave his name. At right is the Washington monument. In a sketch of the Father of His Country. The lower picture shows the great George Washington bridge across the Hudson river in New York City.

thing named after the first U. S. President. George Washington's name has been given to every sort of thing in almost every country, and has been thus honored more than any other American in history. In the United States there are more than 125 cities and towns called Washington, and the townships called Washington, and the townships named after the great man's name are more than double that number. There are countless schools, buildings, parks, streets, monuments, etc., named Washington, not only in America but all over the world. But in Washington, D. C.—the city that the great man planned—one of the most ambitious attempts to commemorate the Father of His Country has fizzled after more than forty years' struggle. It is the George Washington Memorial, begun in 1898 to obtain

Love of Polly

Could I trouble you to put your mind on it now? "Yes," said Jerry, coming back to earth. "Well, there's a place between here and Deal known as Clitte's cove. Jean Clitte puts in there after he's stopped at Corly, further south. Clitte's cove is where we must go. . . . How are your feet?" "They agreed to set out at once, on foot. Somewhere in the neighborhood of the cove they would wait for the smuggler to come in. They might take lodgings at a farmhouse, or, if this seemed incautious, they would hide out in a wooded ravine. Cabell invested in a pair of pistols for them and in knives of a serviceable sort. This equipped and with money in their pockets they had no fear of starting. They turned their faces southward on the King's Highway where the road roughly followed the sea. A signpost pointed the way to Deal; the road stretched levelly before them. The necessity of walking all evening and most of the night did not disturb them. They were intoxicated with their new-found freedom. After the long dark hours in a ship's hold it was rather like heaven to feel the wind in their faces. They continued to be of that mind even after they grew tired. They had brought food with them, and now and then they would crawl onto a stack of hay for rest and refreshment. Yet the night had its drawbacks. Once they were stared at suspiciously by a farmer in a cart, and questioned. And once they passed a hanged man dangling from a gallows, left there as a horrible warning to "All that pick pockets and live thereby." (So said the painted sign.) . . . Near midnight they hid in a cove as several men went past on horseback. Often the deep ruts and loose rocks sent them sprawling in the road, tearing their clothes and scratching their shins. But the going became even harder after they had to leave the highway. When the road turned inland they kept to the shore, for the cove they sought must be recognized by its relation to the sea. They came upon it unexpectedly, recessed in a curve of the shore line. Jerry would have known it from the description he had had of it, but tonight he was surer signs to mark it. An ugly two-masted lugger lay off shore, and in the ravine, lanterns bobbed in the darkness. "God in Heaven!" said Jerry reverently. "Can there be luck

"increase of opportunities for higher education as recommended by George Washington." Today workmen are busy clearing away the foundations on Pennsylvania Avenue that were all that ever existed of the memorial. Rising soon on the site will be the new National Art Galleries, a gift to the nation from the late Andrew Mellon. The memorial association, unable to raise $2,000,000 for completion of the building, has asked the U. S. District Court to allow it to dissolve and give the $232,000 remaining in its coffers to George Washington University. At one time the association had more than $800,000—made up largely of dimes and dollars contributed by American citizens to honor Washington. But the contributions stopped coming in, the association gave up the ghost, Congress rescinded the land grant, and busy Washington has forgotten all about the George Washington Memorial. HILLCULTURE GOES TO COLLEGE By United Press BERKELEY, Cal.—The University of California has added a new course to its curriculum. It is called hillculture and is expected to develop means for preventing soil erosion on hillsides and increasing the fertility of the soil.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Mr. Roosevelt is more optimistic than most of the other New Dealers when he leans back on the serene assumption that business will pick itself up again this spring and go hopping along without any particular help from government. Some of his closest advisers are convinced that he will have to yank a big bouncing bunny out of his hat within the next two months if the country is to avoid the danger of a resumption of the downward spiral which began last fall and lately has tended to level off—at least for the time being. They think that the recession is inevitable unless Roosevelt and Congress administer a pumping shot in the arm. The big bouncing bunny, according to these same advisers, may be an expensive program of government home building under auspices of WPA and largely using WPA labor. WPA officials are making a secret, intensive study of the possibilities. In addition to ordinary building operations it is figured that WPA labor would be especially adaptable to the erection of pre-fabricated houses. Early inside reports indicate that a thriving new industry might be built up in a very short time if the government decided to enter the pre-fabricated house field. Housing experts admit that a pre-fabricated housing boom could be set going within six months if real steam were put behind it. But most of them privately expressed the opinion that the combined pressure of banker, insur-

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox NEA Service Staff Writer LENT'S ahead, so let's go fishing for unusual meatless recipes. Did you ever hear the story about the pickle that became wrapped up in a salmon? Baked Salmon Croquettes (10 croquettes) Four tablespoons butter, or other fat, 4 tablespoons flour, 1-4 cups milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 cups salmon, cooked or canned, broken into small pieces, 10 sweet pickles, 4 tablespoons fine bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon water, 1 egg. Melt fat over very low heat. Add flour, stirring to form a smooth paste. Gradually stir in milk and cook over hot water until all starchy taste has gone. Remove from heat and cool. Beat egg slightly, and add to mixture. Then add lemon juice, parsley, salt, soft bread crumbs and salmon. Divide into 10 portions, using pickles as centers, shape the mixture into cone-shaped croquettes. Roll each croquette in fine bread crumbs and then in mixture of water and the other egg, beaten slightly. Place croquettes in a greased, heat resistant glass utility dish. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) for about 25 minutes or until golden brown. Then there's also the fish story about the sweet little gherkins who were all cut up when they met a bright red salmon. Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Texas pink grapefruit, mixed hot cereal, Canadian bacon, popovers, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Lentil soup, raw vegetable salad, French bread, chocolate cookies. DINNER: Clear tomato soup, baked salmon croquettes, creamed Chinese cabbage, beamed beets, steamed marmalade pudding, coffee, milk. Salmon Gherkin Loaf (Serves 4 to 6) One can best salmon (1 lb.), 3-4 cup bread crumbs, 3-4 cup milk, 1-2 cup chopped sweet gherkins, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 tablespoons minced onion, 1-2 cups medium white sauce, 2 hard cooked eggs. Remove bones and skin from salmon, then flake with a fork. Add bread crumbs, milk, chopped gherkins, unbeatens eggs, salt, mustard, Worcestershire, and melted butter. Mix thoroughly, then pack into greased loaf pan. Set pan in hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for about 30 minutes or until loaf is slightly browned and firm. Turn out on platter, keeping very hot. Have white sauce hot and to add the finely minced onion. Pour at once over the loaf. Then arrange slices of hard-cooked egg over top and serve with conviction. It's a grand fish story.

Retailers Report the "Country Woman" Is Gone As a Buyer

By United Press ST. LOUIS—The "country woman" customer has vanished from the Middle West, according to officials of the American Retailers' Association. In her place is a style-conscious woman, fully informed by cinema, newspapers and radio of the latest mode of fashion. The result, according to the association's report, has been a boom in the dress and clothing trades.
