Rivers were rising all over northern Texas and by noon the snow, sleet and rain caused the Red river to overflow. Farmers of North and Northwest Texas worked to save livestock.

The freezing line that had extended from Lubbock to Oklahoma City moved toward East Texas' blossoming fruit trees. The weather bureau said all of North, East and Central Texas would suffer a freeze Thursday night.

Sleet and snow that fell Wednesday night throughout the Panhandle continued Thursday. Rain, cloudy and unsettled weather prevailed over the rest of the state.

Select Location For Deep Well In Ellenburger Area

G. Willard Rich of Albany has announced plans for the drilling of a 4,250-foot or Ellenburger lime wildcat test in the extreme southwest corner of Stephens county, about five and a half miles east of Moran, which is slated for spudding with cable tools this week-end.

The wildcat will be on a block of about 2,000 acres assembled in the northwest corner of Eastland county and including land in Stephens and Callahan counties. It was taken by R. N. James of Eastland.

Location for the No. 1 M. and J. W. Andrews is staked 330 feet from the west and 450 feet from the south line of the northwest quarter of section 39-7-T&P survey.

The projected test follows an Ellenburger lime play which has extended from the Van Farmer deep discovery north of Cisco in Eastland county where two wells have been completed.

It will be north of the Hickok Producing and Development company No. 1 Van Farmer and adjoining a block of acreage held by Lone Star Gas company.

Rich also plans a 300-foot shallow test in the same section which is to be drilled simultaneously with the deep wildcat. It will be the No. 1 Mrs. J. E. Previtt.

Destroyers in Full Dress Drill

With the attention of the entire world centered on new armaments, Uncle Sam sends five of his newest destroyers churning through Pacific waters, as shown above, serving notice that America can protect her own. The new vessels, most modern in design and equipment, look as grim as though bound on abominable mission. Actually, they are engaging in annual practice maneuvers off the west coast.

SMITH TELLS VETERANS IN DISTRICT OF TWO DANGERS FOR NATION

Two "enemies" of the United States, "without and within," were described by John Lee Smith of Throckmorton at a gathering of 170 veterans of the district at a meeting Wednesday night in 88th district courtroom at Eastland.

Smith, prominent in veterans' affairs many years and himself a veteran with overseas service, was principal speaker at the meeting, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Cisco post, which was in observance of national defense week and in commemoration of the sinking of the Maine in Havana Harbor, an event which precipitated the Spanish-American War in 1898.

Japan, "with millions of efficient men," was pointed as the "without" menace. Smith asserted that Japanese plans are threatening the world's peace. He stated that Japan has challenged the United States (by bombing of the Panay and other events) and Great Britain (shooting of an ambassador) in recent months, "things which would not have been tolerated 20 years ago."

The speaker pointed out that Japan has aptly demonstrated its desire to rule Asia by already making a puppet state of Korea. Smith declared that pacifism as preached by some will not stop by Japan has aptly demonstrated its 2,500 years had been a peaceful nation.

Smith stated that it was the belief of many that Japan intends to attempt to control the world and industry of the world and prophesied that the next 20 years will show the truthfulness of the assertion.

The enemies within the United States were described as the profiteers of wars, both in peace-time and warfare. He stated that in times of war the rich and poor should share alike the expense. Reminding that class hatred should not be flared, he stated that the rich should give their share and "nothing more." Taking profit out of peacetime defense would be remedied somewhat by the government building its own ships, Smith recommended.

The greatest sacrifice of all in wars is given by the soldiers, "the rank or file of whom never declared war," he continued.

Smith paid glowing tribute to the veterans at the meeting—Spanish-American, World War and Veterans of Foreign Wars—and stated that by their sacrifices and those who died the U. S. had gained much.

"I don't know why it is, you don't know why it is," said Smith, "but no liberty or privilege of life was ever vouchsafed without the shedding of blood."

Austrians Lose Hope of Blocking Nazi Influence

Austrian leaders lost hope Thursday of blocking German Nazi influence, which was expected to bring domestic and foreign policy under Berlin's direction, after receiving information that London and Paris will give no assistance.

Leaders of the Austrian Fatherland front strove with little hope to resist German demands. Capitulation to demands, it was foreseen, would lead to an Austrian state similar to the Nazi-dominated Danzig.

Great Britain will make no attempt to interfere with Hitler's moves in Austria, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden indicated in London.

White, at 70, Tosses a Kiss to the Future

When William Allen White, the famed Emporia editor, was 65, he wrote: "Lady Luck has been good to me. I fancy she is good to every one, only some people are dour, and when she gives them the come-hither with her eyes they look down or turn away and lift an eye brow. But me, I give her the wing and away we go."

And now, at his 70th birthday (Feb. 10), the Kansas sage is still giving Lady Luck the wink, for Lady Luck to William Allen White is the world and all its precocities. He has lived almost all his life in Emporia where he was born, yet no figure in newspaper life has ever gained a greater or wider fame. He began "speaking his mind" through his editorials before he was 30; he has been doing it since and that mind has never been bound by the limits of Emporia. He has liked to think of himself as a little bit crazy, for he always held that there was no insanity in a man's life so devastating as utter sanity. "Logic," wrote White, "is an addiction that drives men into acute melancholia and makes dumb bunnies of its devotees."

If William Allen White is insane then this country needs more dementia. A staunch Republican, he has broken with his party only when that organization became, in his views, too sane. He fought for Theodore Roosevelt and against Franklin Roosevelt, and when the latter won, wrote:

"We are going on a great new adventure. . . . The dam gave way which has been lowly filling for 49 years, fed by the waters of Bryanism, of La Follette's Wisconsin insurgency . . . the waters of the New Deal cover the earth."

White's faith in Kansas and the United States has marked his writing, but simpler things than politics more often take his attention. He prefers to write placid, quizzical editorials on the town drunkard, a quarrelling married couple, a girl in trouble, or the roast that wouldn't brown properly. He is the epitome of Main Street, if Main Street means the everyday things of life in the everyday fashion of meeting them.

At 65 Editor White remarked that he was giving the past a shameless, characteristic gesture, while he threw kisses at the future. After 70 he will probably continue to toss his kisses as long as he has a Kansas-bred arm to raise and a world in audience.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM CONGRESSMAN
CLYDE L. GARRETT

Federal Housing Bill
The Administration's housing bill recommended by the President as the special session in November last, is now a law. Both houses of Congress approved the joint conference committee report on the bill.

Equal Rights
The Senate committee on judiciary will hear a proposal for a constitutional amendment declaring "men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction," and that "Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation." While the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution provides equal suffrage for women it does not go far enough and so the new amendment is proposed.

Highways
President Roosevelt recently recommended that the federal aid to states for highways be cut down to $125,000,000 annually. House committee on roads has been hearing debates on a bill continuing present federal program of $218,000,000 annually. The arguments against curtailment of federal aid is that it would disrupt state plans, affect safety, retard farm-to-market transport, curtail road construction generally, cause diversion of gasoline and registration fees away from highway use and menace war-time communications.

Bridges
Those bridges of 1937 and 1938 who had social security account cards before their marriage should send their new names to the Social Security Board in order to prevent confusion in keeping of their wage accounts for federal old age insurance. From any of the board's 323 field offices, a card for this purpose designated as "Employee's Request for Change in Records," may be obtained. Corrected account number cards will be sent to anyone who reports her change of name.

Widow Pensions

Under a bill reported favorably to the House by the committee on pensions, widows and orphans of World War veterans would receive pensions based on service of veterans, regardless of whether they were disabled or not. Eligibility of a widow would depend on marriage to the veteran before 1941; if childless the marriage must have been by July 3, 1931. Veteran must have served at least 90 days between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, and at the time of the signing of the armistice, he must have been in uniform. A widow would receive $22 a month and $6 a month for the first child with $5 a month for other children under 16 years of age.

Credit Basis

A plan to put the country's existing money supply to work on a credit basis is being studied and devised by President Roosevelt. He believes that this is a better method than one of borrowing and spending by the Government in order to create more money.

Wheat

Another wheat crop in excess of domestic needs is likely in 1938. This opinion is based on the assumption that the winter wheat crop will not be materially less than indicated on Dec. 1, and that the spring wheat crop will be no lower than the small harvest of 1934. Winter wheat production was tentatively indicated at 630 million bushels. Weather conditions between Dec. 1 and harvest time, however, may cause production to differ considerably from this indication. If the winter wheat crop should turn out to be 630 million bushels and if the spring wheat harvest should approximate the 10-year (1928-37) average, the total wheat crop would amount to about 820 million bushels. Even if the spring wheat crop should be as small as in 1934 the total harvest would still be about 720 million bushels.

Social Security

Approximately 890,000 men, women and children received public assistance at some time during the past fiscal year in states cooperating under the Social Security Act. The analysis indicates that the social security program is taking over, to a significant degree, obligations formerly borne by relief agencies, and in some instances is complementing other forms of public aid to hold homes together and protect the integrity of family life.

Woman Judged as Dead In '98 Lives For Forty Years

FREMONT, Ohio.—The death of Mrs. Lulu Codrith Sturdevant at the age of 66 brought out the story of her "first death" 40 years before.

In 1898, Mrs. Sturdevant was pronounced dead of typhoid and spinal fever. She was laid out in a casket.

Shortly before the funeral hour her husband—the late Warren A. Sturdevant—noticed a movement of her body. He hastily pressed a spoon on her tongue. Her normal breathing was restored and she lived to tell her story for 40 years thereafter.

Mrs. Sturdevant, in telling her experience, said she could hear her husband and relatives talking and mourning her death. But she was powerless, unable to move, speak or otherwise indicate she was alive.

She lived in fear of a repetition of the experience and shortly before her death insisted every precaution be taken the second time to prevent a recurrence of a "living death."

Tiny Silver Engine Made from Spoons Remains Unique

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA — The tiny steam engine which 16-year-old Cyrus Chambers, Jr., built of silver melted from two of his mother's teaspoons back in 1849, occupies an honored place in the Franklin Institute's Hall of Prime Movers.

The engine, which runs so fast that its motion scarcely can be seen, is fashioned of more than 150 pieces, most of them silver but some of gold. The microscopic screws which hold it together are only slightly larger than grains of sand.

The cylinder is 1-16th of an inch in diameter and the stroke 3-16ths. Weight of the engine, boiler, stack and the plate on which the engine is mounted is less than a half ounce.

Operated now with compressed air, the tiny mechanism will run at a speed of 3,000 revolutions a minute. Chambers was said to have refused a fabulous offer for the engine from a representative of P. T. Barnum.

Before he made the steam engine which later was exhibited at the Centennial Exposition Exposition here in 1876, Chambers had built a miniature telegraph set, a delicate model of a paddle-wheel boat and a threshing machine that would thresh a single grain.

Chambers' family persuaded him to become a dentist, but most of his time was devoted to making machines. He invented a folder for newspapers and when Horace Greeley told him he never would be able to invent a machine to fold books, Chambers went to work and built one.

The inventor's manufacturing plant converted flintlock muskets into percussion guns during the Civil War. Another invention was a brick-making machine.

Chambers became a member of the Franklin Institute in 1856 and served on its board of managers from 1876 to 1890.

Victims of 'Living Death'

These young women, all believed slowly dying of radium poisoning, heard Mrs. Catherine Donohue, who worked with them in a plant of the Radium Watch Dial Co., describe at an Illinois Industrial Compensation hearing at Ottawa the "living death" that doctors say is certain to kill her. Fourteen women are seeking compensation. Nine already have died. The women pictured above, who were to be questioned during the hearing, are Frances O'Connell, Margaret Glacinski, Helen Munch and Marie Rositer.

Unicameral Plan To Be Argued at Debates Tonight

Merits and demerits of a unicameral legislative system for Texas as against the bicameral system will be argued by Eastland and Baird high school debate teams tonight in the Eastland high school auditorium beginning at 7:30.

School officials announced that the public is urged to attend. Eastland and Baird debated last week at Baird, boys' and girls' teams splitting honors.

Members of the Eastland girls' team are Ruby Pritchard and Mildred McGlamery, while Bobby Leslie and Robert Childress are members of the boys' team.

An interviewer asked Cornelia Otis Skinner, who changes her costume 14 times a night, what she does for exercise.

I AM AN ADVERTISING MAN

For over thirty years I have been writing advertisements for national advertisers — shoes, soap, cereals, automobiles, radios, tobacco, blankets, tooth powder.

To me it is the most fascinating work in the world — learning about the merits of merchandise and then telling people about them — bringing greater comfort, and enjoyment, into people's lives — introducing people to new pleasures, helping them to get the most for their money.

Besides being fascinating, it is satisfying! My intimate experience with advertisers has shown me that, except for rare exceptions, the manufacturers and merchants of this nation lean over backwards to be sincere and honest.

The law of advertising is simple once one understands its working — the more people know about the merit of a product, the more people buy it. The greater the volume of sales, the less the cost to manufacture. Savings in making mean either lower prices to the consumer or greater value put back into the merchandise.

As an advertising man I can sincerely affirm that it pays to read the advertisements in the newspapers — for news of new things, for bargains and savings.

There are thousands of other men — and women — devoting their lives to advertising writing, who will tell you the same thing. THEY KNOW!

STOP LOOK.. AND LOOSEN

Sandy McHoots knows a bargain when he sees it. He's Scotch through and through—and "doesna like to spend a muckle." Yet he lives in elegance and comfort. How can this be?

The truth is, Sandy reads the advertisements. Where he has to buy, he buys wisely!

Scotch or not, make a point of looking up advertisements in this newspaper. Things you need are spread before you (perhaps reduced!) . . . luxuries you've always wanted are here at prices within your reach. You'll get the values you're after if you'll stop and look before you loosen!
