

CONGRESS CONVENES AND PREPARES TO TAKE UP SEVERAL NEW MEASURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The 74th congress reconvened today and after a burst of partisan debates, recessed until this evening to hear President Roosevelt deliver his annual message.

Expected fireworks over the president's unprecedented night speech developed but were confined to oratory and a charge by Bertrand Russell that the "New Deal slipping."

Bonus and neutrality questions came to the fore immediately, with opening of the two houses. The neutrality bill was formally introduced in both houses.

Bonus leaders, confident of enacting a measure this year, debated if they should unite behind the Patman "united front" or Brynes-Steiner method of paying the soldiers certificates.

Threats of Representative Robert Rich, Rep., Pa., to block an administration consent to recess for Mr. Roosevelt's address, did not materialize.

Approval of majority leader William Bankhead's request was forthcoming only after Schnell charged that the president planned to turn his annual message into a "purely political speech."

"If it were not for an overwhelming spineless majority you would not attempt to do this," Schnell shouted. Democrats hooted.

In contrast to the disorderly house scene the senate met for only a few moments. Almost the only business was the swearing in of Sen. Elmer Benson, farmer-laborer, Minnesota, to replace the late Senator Thomas Schall, Rep., Minn.

A flurry arose in the house when Rep. Marion Ioncheck, of Washington yesterday at a New Year celebration, sought to put a record opposition to the plan.

"Down," shouted Democrats. "Up," he said.

Baseball Recruit Consults the Stars For His "Workout"

HASKELL, Tex.—A scheme to save baseball managers a great deal of work and worry, and club owners needless expense, has been thought up by a Texas farm boy, who may someday be another Dizzy Dean.

Dot Pittman, 22, of Haskell, who pitched for the Alexandria, La., team in the Evangeline League last season, feels sure he can make good in Class A-1 baseball, but believes in satisfying his curiosity, and, perhaps a verification of his own judgment.

When spring training opens in the spring, Pittman will journey to Beaumont, Texas, where he will try out with the Exporters of the Texas League. But before he goes the young pitcher wants a little comfort from the stars.

He has written an astrologer regarding his chances of making the Beaumont club, and additional comment as to whether he will pitch for one Mickey Cochman of the world's champions Detroit Tigers.

Cochman refuses to say whether he will continue farming or go to training camp just to prove heavens wrong in the event an adverse decision is received from the astrologer.

CASE DISMISSED Case of Jarecki Manufacturing Company vs. L. Teatsworth was dismissed by 91st District Court on motion of the plaintiff Thursday.

Will Report Sunday On Church Meeting Miss Ina Ruth Hale, who recently returned from the young people's conference in Memphis, Tenn., will give a report on the trip Sunday morning at services of the Methodist Church, it was announced Friday.

The pastor, Rev. Rosemond Stanford, will preach on "Companions of the Heart." Following the services, communion will be held. Sunday evening, Rev. Stanford will speak on "Seeing God's Vision." Miss Hale also will speak the evening at 6:15 to members of the young people's department.

That reminds me...

Noting the figures of the Literary Digest Poll of January 4th as to question of the new deal and against the new deal... the total figures thus far tabulated out of 1,370,774 votes tabulated the score is three to two against the new deal. It is particularly noticeable that the south is staying with the president and voting for the new Deal... but East and west are scoring points against his policies.

Returning three indictments charging aggravated assault, grand jurors for the December term of 91st District Court recessed Thursday until the latter part of this month. The Thursday indictments brought to a total of nine the number returned this week.

Budget Hinges On Sum For Relief WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt's budget balancing plans were endangered as a political congress, worried over its re-election chances, prepared to convene.

Despite hopes of administration congressmen that the ordinary budget could approach balancing for the next fiscal year, there was widespread doubt that in view of relief costs such could occur.

Chairman James N. Buchanan of the house appropriations committee, where all appropriations must originate, served notice that he would fight for complete abolition of new relief expenditures and would strive to keep the ordinary budget within $400,000,000 of revenues.

On this basis a total appropriation, according to Buchanan, for departmental needs, of $5,000,000,000 would occur, with revenue balancing it exactly. Should the white house ask for $1,500,000,000 for relief aid in the next fiscal year, the entire budget, but not the ordinary budget, would be short that amount. Buchanan has said he hopes that no extraordinary budget needs of this type will be requested.

Army and navy expenditures for the next fiscal year are expected to be around $300,000,000, or somewhat of the size of the amount appropriated for the present fiscal year. Other government departments, with their necessary expenditures, are expected to bring the aggregate of ordinary expenditures—that is, exclusive of relief appropriations—to around $5,000,000,000.

Buchanan has held that total government appropriations by congress should not exceed $7,000,000,000 maximum. This would be on the basis of an ordinary budget of $5,000,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 for relief, including public works.

He has maintained that hope that none of the "extraordinary expenditure" of $1,500,000,000 would be necessary. Republican members of the committee, including Rep. John Taber, Rep., N. Y., have announced they would fight for a total budget appropriation of $4,500,000,000, on the grounds that any further appropriation by congress would materially increase the present deficit.

Eastland Court's Judgment Affirmed Eighty-eighth District Court's judgment in the case of Edgar Garrett vs. J. F. Stillwell et al. was affirmed by the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals Friday.

On a jury's answers to special issues, judgment of $2,500 was rendered Oct. 8, 1934, for Garrett in the trial court. The case was styled Edgar Garrett vs. J. F. Stillwell et al. in the trial court while in the appellate court it was styled Desdemona Gasoline Company of Texas vs. Edgar Garrett.

Garrett alleged he was injured Feb. 23, 1934, while making adjustments preparatory to welding a 925-barrel tank when the affair exploded.

NEUTRALITY BILL GIVEN BOTH HOUSES WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Chairman Sam McReynolds of the House foreign affairs committee, introduced the administration's permanent neutrality bill designed to prevent the U. S. from becoming involved in foreign wars.

Senator Key Pittman, Dem., Nev., chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, followed by introducing the same measure in the senate.

The bill provides: Upon outbreak or during the progress of any war between or among two or more foreign states, the president shall proclaim such a fact and an embargo placed on arms or implements of war to such country.

Sun Queen

Radiant as the Texas sunshine is this belle of the Lone Star state, chosen as queen of the Southwestern Sun carnival at El Paso. Elected by popular vote, Miss Ruth Staten will reign over this opening event of the Texas Centennial fete.

Local politics are not as active as most folks expected and candidates are holding back for several offices. There are lots of rumors that all offices that are up for election will have several candidates in the field for each individual office.

Tom Haley, tax collector and assessor and Sheriff Virge Foster have intimated that they would not be candidates for re-election to their offices. This leaves the field open for new competition in both offices. Clyde S. Karkalis and C. H. O'Brien have already placed their hat in the ring with their definite announcements for Tax Collector and Assessor.

Good old sunshine with stimulating cool southern breezes makes for more pleasant weather these days but Lord knows when another one of those cold drizzly northers will hit again. But we're getting used to anything now as to winter time weather.

It is noticeable that folks are heeding the traffic signals and speed limits to a much greater extent than ever... however there are some that seem to get by and disregard them... The eagle eyes of Chief W. J. Peters and his efficient police force are watching for them and in time a little ticket and a forth coming of a check book will be the result. The city officials have declared war on traffic violators and they mean business.

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 3.—Official studies reports from the northern front, today believed the Italian army had evacuated all of Tigre province excepting narrow lines from Adigrat west to Aksum and from Adigrat to Makale.

These reports strengthened by admissions of Italian withdrawals, indicated that the Italian scouting columns which once branched out from the main lines, had been largely, if not entirely, driven back on the main communications systems.

ROME, Jan. 3.—Newspapers goaded public opinion to anger against Ethiopia today in apparent preparations for an aerial bombardment in East Africa.

The closely controlled press "demanded" that Mussolini use every available method of warfare in reprisal for the alleged beheading of a captured Italian aviator, Lt. Minniti.

County Is Voting For, Against 3.2 Beer, Wine Today Eastland county voters went to the polls in their respective precincts Friday, voting for or against the legalization of sale of beer and wine.

A ruling on what poll tax receipt to be used in the election was received when Earl Street, assistant attorney general, telegraphed county officials Thursday afternoon that voters must have the receipt paid prior to Jan. 31, 1935.

The assistant attorney general stated that "he poll tax bearing the date of 1-5 was not sufficient to entitle the holder to vote unless he also held the 1934 receipt."

T. M. Collie, county clerk, was preparing to receive the returns, which expected to start arriving at 7 p. m.

"Let everyone who is interested in the welfare of the people in this community arrange to attend this meeting."

TESTIMONY IS HEARD IN GAS TEST TODAY HOUSTON, Jan. 3.—A college professor lectured in federal court today to explain the difference between solid liquids and gas and how gases react to pressure and what makes them so resistant.

The lecturer was B. B. Boatright, professor of petroleum production at the Colorado School of Mines.

He was called as a witness for Texoma Natural Gas Company and the Texas Panhandle Gas Company in a suit against enforcement of Texas proration laws.

An injunction is sought by the two companies to prevent enforcement of proration orders for the huge Panhandle gas field, issued by the Texas railroad commission.

A three-judge federal court heard testimony.

Boatright said the commission orders would cause the gas to migrate from the pipe line company wells to those of other owners in the large field.

NEW DEAL FACES VITAL TESTS AS CONGRESS IS CONVENED FOR SESSION

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The second Roosevelt Congress convened today for its last session, with the New Deal in retreat.

As Congress met, the nation is facing a presidential election year providing the first real referendum on Roosevelt reform and recovery since March 4, 1933.

President Roosevelt remains the best bet for 1936. But good Republican political breaks could upset all January political calculations long before the polls open next November.

New Dealers are ready to take a licking from this Congress on the question of paying the war veterans' bonus.

The best Mr. Roosevelt can expect from the bonus battle is compromise which will avoid issue of printing press money. Neutrality is a vital question. A neutrality bill which hit only the high spots and which expires Feb. 29, was forced through by compromise last year.

New Legislation generally is considered desirable, but there is dispute over the scope and form of the bill to keep the United States out of war. The Senate munitions committee, which laid the groundwork for last session's bill, is going to work again in an effort to inform and arouse public opinion by testimony of witnesses to be summoned here. One of the first will be J. P. Morgan, whose famous film was fiscal agent for the Allies during the World War.

White House policies have swung from spending toward economy in an effort to bring the budget more nearly into balance before voters decide who shall preside over the nation during the presidential team beginning next year.

Republican presidential booms are swelling in the Senate, where William E. Borah of Idaho and Arthur H. Handenberg of Michigan, are counted among the front rank contenders for preference when the G. O. P. nominates in Cleveland next June. Sen. L. J. Dickinson, of Iowa, Sen. Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, and a few others are possible Republican choices.

Half Billion Limit Set Mr. Roosevelt has announced plans for a 1936 public works appropriation of not more than $50,000,000 and, with the remainder of the $4,880,000,000 lump sum appropriated last year, hopes to meet relief requirements without further draft upon the treasury.

Only Seven Bills Listed As Likely 'Must' Legislation WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The following bills are viewed as "must" legislation for the new session of Congress:

1. A new form of soldiers' bonus legislation—possibly an administration compromise from the present cash payment proposal.

2. A relief—or a series of relief bills—embodying the administration's program for continuing relief activities.

3. A food and drug act bill sharply revised from original proposals, but giving the federal government some control over advertising.

4. A ship subsidy bill designed primarily to end the long reign of subsidy aid by the government after March 1, and at the same time keep the American Merchant Marine ships on the seas.

5. A neutrality act to supplant the present temporary legislation which expires March 1st.

6. A substitute for the NRA—possibly along lines of broadening the powers of the Federal Trade Commission.

7. A bill forcing companies bidding on government contracts to have certain wage and hour regulations for labor.

"OUT OUR WAY" By William S

The Senate has agreed to consider early in January the $2,000,000,000 Patman bonus bill, which would raise the required sum by printing new money. The Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm mortgages by printing $3,000,000,000 of new money remains an active and unpredictable issue in the House. Borah sponsored both of those bills during the closing days of the last session. Silver states are eager for a free silver market, but would be content with price fixing legislation which would peg silver at 70 cents or more and guarantee that it would remain there for some years. Cotton states Senators and Congressmen were not satisfied with the compromise cotton loan announced as Congress drew to a close last summer. That issue may be raised again in proposals that the Government lend more to cotton farmers. The Senate passed and the House now has custody of the Bankhead bill to create a $1,000,000,000 corporation to purchase farms for share-croppers and tenant farmers. A 30-hour work week bill will command large support in both Houses this session if leaders are unable to avoid a vote. The Roosevelt food and drug bill, considerably modified, awaits Congressional approval. The New Deal ship subsidy bill also is a hold-over from last session. There is pending a bill which would require companies bidding for Government contracts to maintain certain wage and hour standards for labor.

This Lamp Is Both Modern and Practical

Lounge Lamps, sometimes called "floor reading lamps," are not as tall as floor lamps, and are designed to be placed by a chair or lounge to provide the proper light for reading. These lamps have translucent glass bowls which prevent glare. Lounge Lamps $6.45 and up. Floor Lamps $9.95 and up.

Penny Wise Says:

Less than one cent an hour is all it costs under your low electric rate to have enough light to make reading or studying easier.

There Are Fashions in Lighting, Too

Women keep abreast of the change of fashions in home furnishings, but sometimes they overlook the fact that lighting has improved, too. Just as home equipment has turned practical, comfortable, and more attractive within recent years, so has home lighting. New lamps must add to the beauty of the home, and also must provide the right amount of light to protect eyesight.

You can bring the lighting in your home up-to-date by placing Better Sight Lamps in the living room, the bed rooms or other rooms where you and members of your family read or study. At the same time you will add to the comfort of your home and save members of your family from the troubles caused by reading under a poor light.

(Continued from page 1) sage to Congress and his budget message will dispose of preliminary business and establish the general outline of administration legislative and financial plans for the presidential year. Politics will have more than the customary effect upon the manner in which Roosevelt policies are developed by the legislative branch of the government. Not only is the White House at stake this year but every House seat and one-third of those comfortable, well-upholstered and much envied leather Senate chairs. Political anxiety to please greedy constituents may drive the House toward spending and currency projects far beyond White House plans. But in opposition to any runaway spending spree is the determination of a powerful group of House Democratic leaders to impose severe economy upon administration of government.

With All My Love by Mary Ryan

DANA shook her head. "No, we'll go. How could it matter to me now?" She turned and looked at Ronnie with a queer, detached expression. "Paula was looking fit," Ronnie said, trying to make his voice sound casual. "This man who is visiting her is a cruise trophy. Rather interesting fellow. He's an explorer who has seen and done about everything, chased bandits in Nicaragua, hunted in Africa, lived among remote Indian tribes. A hard-bitten, restless type. "An adventurer," Dana said. "In a way, though I understand there is a bona fide title that he has democratically discarded. Tell me about yourself." "I've been going places again, lots of places," Dana said. "Doing things." A car whirled by and Mrs. Weatherly leaned out to bow and smile. "There's Ronnie Moore!" she said to her companion. "Well, now it won't be long, I guess, before Dana Stanley will be Mrs. Millions. Maybe Ronnie would sidestep if he knew how scandalously she's been behaving." "Scandalously?" the other woman said. "I never heard a word of scandal." "If it isn't scandalous to turn night into day, to be here, there and everywhere with a flock of men jumping after her like a lot of trained clown, I don't know what you would call it! But I guess Ronnie will jump higher than any of them." PAULA and Dana met at the edge of the lake. Paula was in a motorboat that was about to leave the shore. The man with her had blond hair that had been tinged bronze by many suns, and an interesting, weatherbeaten face. Dana stood for a moment without speaking, watching a lambswool leap to Paula's somber eyes. "Lo, Dana!" Paula cried then. "It's grand to see you. Excuse me for not getting out of the boat and properly greeting you, darling." "Excused," Dana said in an even voice. "How are you, Paula?" "Never better," Paula said. She turned to her companion. "I am about to introduce you to Dana Stanley with the warning that, to my knowledge, she always gets her man. The best thing Dana does is to strew the local green with discarded hearts. Dana, Cyril Lancaster." "Do I look like that?" Dana asked Paula's companion. "Yes," he said. "You do. But I never run from danger." Paula's expression was none too pleased. Dana saw, as the boat moved away. Why had Paula invited this Englishman here? Was he to be the lever to pry Scott into a proposal? No, that was absurd if Scott loved Paula—and of course he did—such tactics would be unnecessary. Cyril Lancaster was probably merely a cruise acquaintance with a flexible itinerary and Paula was carrying on the much heralded tradition of southern hospitality.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

CRISP salad accompanying a meal of hearty winter foods contributes in a pleasant way the saltiest minerals and vitamins which we are constantly striving to get into our meals and adds color besides.

Apple, Cabbage and Raisin Salad
Two cups finely shredded cabbage, 2 red apples, 1-2 cup seedless raisins, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 4 tablespoons salad oil.

Mix sugar, salt and pepper with lemon juice. Slowly add oil, beating it in with a fork or a beater, eat until smooth. Wash apples, cut in quarter and remove cores, cut in dice without peeling and drop at once into dressing to prevent discoloration. Add cabbage and raisins and toss lightly with fork until thoroughly bleached, serves four to six persons. No lettuce is needed for this salad, which makes it a boon to the woman who lives in the country and can't get fresh greens for sale as easily as her city sister.

Baked Bean and Bacon Salad
This makes a hearty dish for family luncheon.

Two cups baked beans, 4 thin slices bacon, 4 tablespoons minced onion, 1-3 cup tomato catsup, French dressing.

If beans are not dry, drain thoroughly. Cook bacon until crisp and cut in small dice. Combine beans, bacon and pickle with catsup and serve on a bed of crisp curly endive. Pass French dressing. Serves four.

LUNCHEON: Tomato bouillon, toasted crackers, baked beans and bacon salad, iced-box rolls, chocolate brownies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Baked liver and bacon, baked potatoes, creamed onions, apple-cabbage and raisin salad, lemon meringue pie, milk, coffee.

1 cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons shredded green pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, French dressing.

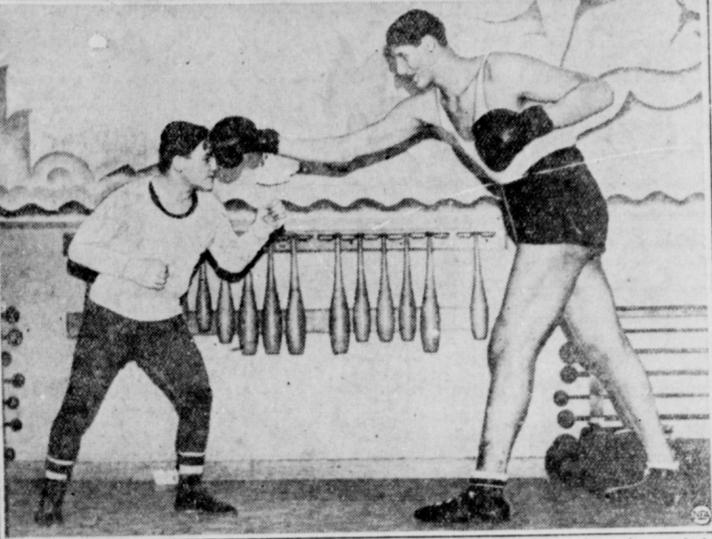

The green pepper can be omitted but gives a nice touch of color. A vivid yellow cheese is attractive, too.

Mix beans, celery, onion and pepper, tossing lightly to avoid crushing beans. Pour on French dressing and arrange on crisp romaine. Garnish with grated cheese and serve more French dressing in a separate sauce boat.

A good raw salad uses equal parts of minced green pepper, finely shredded cabbage and grated raw carrot. Each vegetable is mixed with enough mayonnaise to bind and then arranged in layers on a lettuce leaf, making the last layer of pepper. Serve with French dressing to which four tablespoons catsup has been added.

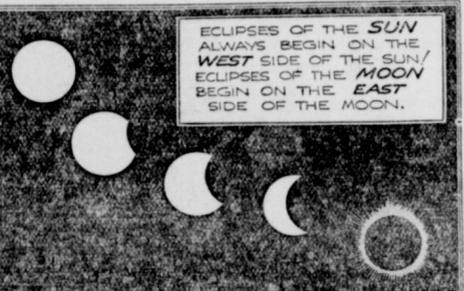

A salad of shredded red and white cabbage is very effective. Serve it with a tart French dressing made with lemon juice in place of vinegar and well seasoned with celery seeds.

If Carnera's an Alp, What's This Giant?

The search for a white hope to repulse the threat Joe Louis offers the heavyweight throne has reached as far as Europe. Jeff Dickson, London promoter, has unearthed Gogeo Mitu, a Rumanian giant who soars into the sky something like the Eiffel Tower. Shown here at right, boxing with Lou Brouillard, former middleweight champion, in Paris, Mitu stands 7 feet 8 inches tall, and weighs 330 pounds. He may be imported for duty in the United States soon.

ON TEXAS FARMS

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will soon offer the farmers of the South a four-year cotton acreage adjustment contract. The details are not known, but presumably the program is much in the same as the present one with certain improvements.

Whatever the faults of the county adjustments of the last three years, few will deny that the vast improvement in Southern prosperity is due largely to the increased buying power of the cotton farmer.

The cotton income has been doubled since 1932. One bale of cotton now buys almost twice as much as one bale bought in 1932.

Census figures now being released by the states credit the adjustment programs with making possible the greatest strides toward balanced farming ever known in the South. The use of rented acres has enabled the cotton farmer to live at home on a scale hitherto unknown.

The South has led the nation toward business recovery. Countless figures and testimony can be produced to show that the towns have richly shared in the benefits accruing to farmers in the cotton program.

With a new cotton program coming up, the cotton farmer will have to decide whether he will follow

Brucene Gibson, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Wollam canned 100 cans of tomatoes, 75 cans of tomato juice and 53 containers of tomato products. She sold $3 worth of fresh tomatoes and supplied a family of 10 with fresh tomatoes for the season.

VICTORIA—Terracing of 75 acres of land last fall meant a 15 per cent increase in corn yield this fall, or a gain of five bushels per acre, to Alonzo B. Dentler of Victoria county, he reports to J. L. Moore, county agricultural agent. The terracing was done with the county grader at a cost of $1 per acre. The five-bushel increase yielded per acre at 50 cents per bushel meant $2.50 gain per acre due to terracing, leaving a net profit of $1.50 per acre.

CANYON—Crooked rows made the difference between a feed crop and a failure on 150 acres of grain sorghum on the W. W. Kuehn farm in Randall county this year, according to W. H. Upchurch, county agricultural agent. Kuehn has about 320 acres of his farm worked on contour this year. He lost his wheat crop in the drouth and high winds last spring. Contour lines were run and the entire field was listed with level rows and planted to grain sorghum late in May.

A field with similar slope across the road was listed up at the same time and worked in a similar manner, except that the rows were run in the usual way. The field not contoured was hardly worth harvesting, Kuehn says, while the contoured field had a splendid yield of both grain and forage. Kuehn estimates that the level rows made a difference of at least 20 bushels per acre.

DUMMIT—Accurate records kept throughout the year show that the flock of 140 white leghorn hens belonging to D. H. Allmon of Castro county made a net profit of $2 per hen for the year, according to E. W. Thomas, county agricultural agent. This record was made in spite of the fact that Allmon was located in the worse blown out part of the county and every pound of feed that the hens consumed had to be purchased.

State School Tax On Several Items Will Be Proposed

McALLEN, Tex.—A state school tax on oil, sulphur, cigarettes and other commodities will be sought by John H. Gregory, McAllen public school superintendent, recently elected president of the Texas State Teachers' Association.

Gregory made the announcement in a talk before the McAllen Lion Club. He asserted that real estate and personal property at the present time are bearing a large part of the school tax burden, and that during his term as head of the teachers' association, he expected to develop public interest in other sources of school revenue.

He told his audience that a school tax on sulphur would bring money to Texas from all parts of the world, since four-fifths of the world's supply is produced in Texas. Likewise, Gregory asserted, about 92 per cent of Texas crude oil is marketed outside the state and hence any direct tax on this item would be borne by the purchasers and would not come entirely from Texans.

Gregory said he would seek to have Texas citizens impress their representatives in Austin with the necessity for new school revenues and in the manner combat lobbying he believed would be launched to prevent consideration of new taxes for school support.
