RELATION SAME AS INDIA'S TO GREAT BRITAIN

Foreign Diplomats Told They No Longer Accredited to the Court.

ROME, May 9.—Italy formally annexed Ethiopia today and created a new Roman empire as cheering millions greeted the announcement by Premier Mussolini of a triumphant political maneuver based on victories of her armies in East Africa.

ADDIS ABABA, May 9.—Foreign diplomats in Addis Ababa today were informed officially that the imperial courts of Ethiopia, to which they were accredited, no longer exist.

The move marked formal annexation of Ethiopia by Italy. These developments coincided with Italian steps to give Ethiopia a status in relationship to Italy identical to that of India to Great Britain.

Foreign diplomats were informed that their positions had been altered since the courts to which they were accredited no longer exist. As long as they remain here they will be regarded as "distinguished gentlemen and guests."

Arrangements were made to name Marshal Badoglio as viceroy of Ethiopia. Such a proclamation by King Victor Emanuel would make the king emperor of Ethiopia.

An Italian spokesman said Ethiopia would be given a new name and treated as a dependency.

AUSTIN, May 9.—Col. H. C. Carmichael, Austin, assistant adjutant general, was appointed today as director of the State Department of Public Safety to succeed L. G. Phares, who resigned as director, and will be chief of the motor patrol and drivers' license bureau.

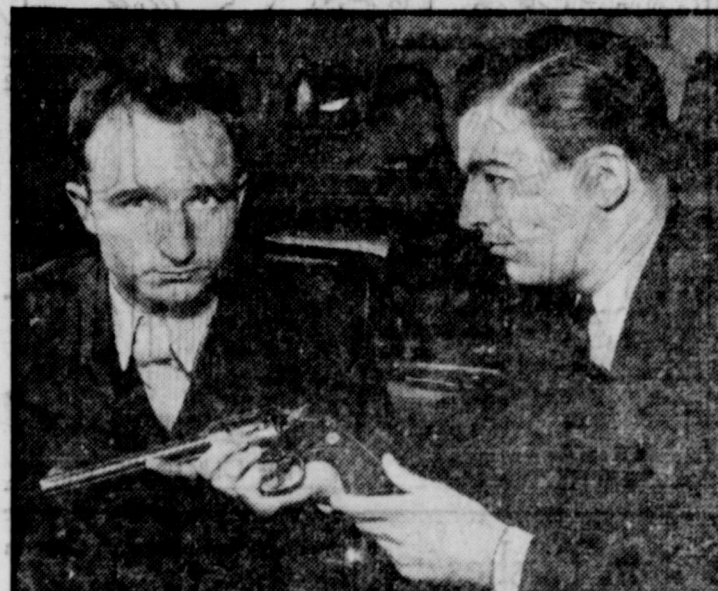

The announcement ended a storm over the organization, which reached a climax when Phares was named permanent director.

One safety commissioner then resigned and Ranger Capt. J. W. McCormick threatened to resign. McCormick now says he has no intention of resigning.

Announcement of the change was made by Albert Sidney Johnson, chairman of the safety commission, who heard the protest of Texas sheriffs' Friday against Phares continuing as director.

After that conference Johnson said he did not think the sheriff's contention that Rangers were being subordinated under Phares was well founded. Later all the commissioners conferred with Governor Alford. Then they met secretly and today their announcement was made.

Mothers of Texas May Get Pensions By Next Mothers' Day Some Believe

AUSTIN, May 9.—Mother's Day, next year, may see Texas mothers entitled to a pension more generous than that extended to any other group. A slight change in the present law will make this possible and efforts are shaping to ask the next legislature to take the step.

Texas now has a mothers' pension law. At one time, 30 counties granted mother's pensions under it. Today, it is estimated by the Child Welfare Division of the State Board of Control, that not more than six or seven counties make such payments.

Politics Can Destroy All Good of G-Men

It isn't exactly news, any more, that the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice is one of the most efficient police organizations ever set up anywhere.

The G-Men, in short, have justified all the fine things that have been said about them, and have demonstrated that they are a national possession of great value in the war on crime.

But we might just as well recognize right now, before we begin indulging in the kind of hero-worship that will exalt this outfit into a superhuman creation that cannot err, that along with this power goes an equally weighty responsibility.

If this efficient bureau is to meet this responsibility, it must be kept forever divorced from politics.

That does not mean merely that congressional job-hunters must keep their noses out. It means that no federal administration must ever be permitted to use this organization for anything but the prevention of punishment of actual felonies.

There must never be even the faintest suspicion that its activities are directed against any personal or political enemy of a president or a member of his cabinet or political party.

To understand why this is important you need do only one thing; imagine the late Huey Long in the White House, with the matchless organization of G-Men lying ready for his hand to pick it up and use it for his own ends.

Dwell on that picture briefly and you will see that an unscrupulous executive with dreams of a dictatorship could make of this Bureau of Investigation a terroristic instrument of repression which would make OGPU, Okrana, and Gestapo look like something the Boy Scouts invented.

There is, fortunately, no need to lie awake nights, worrying about it. There has been not the slightest hint that the present administration would dream of trying to pervert the organization in such way. There is no reason to suppose that any of the presidential candidates now on the skyline would harbor such dreams.

All we need do is recognize that the machinery is there, and that a president who wanted to be dictator would find it infinitely useful.

Keeping that fact in mind, we ought to understand once and for all that the continued usefulness of this splendid organization depends on its remaining permanently divorced from politics.

Valuable as the outfit is, the moment any administration begins trying to use it for its own ends, it will become a curse instead of a blessing.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

QUEEN BEES AND WORKERS HATCH FROM IDENTICAL EGGS, YET IT TAKES ONLY SIXTEEN DAYS TO PRODUCE AN ADULT QUEEN WHILE TWENTY-ONE DAYS ARE REQUIRED FOR COMMON WORKERS.

ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE RESULT OF A 40-FOOT LAYER OF FEAT BEING PRESSED DOWN INTO A ONE-FOOT LAYER.

THE VALUE OF THE WORLD'S ANNUAL FISH CATCH IS ESTIMATED AT EIGHT HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS.

IT rests with the worker bees to decide whether a queen is to be produced. If the newly hatched larva is fed continuously on a food known as "royal jelly," a queen will result. But, after the third day in the larval stage, if the diet is changed to nectar and pollen, a worker will be developed.

POST MORTEM?

Centennial To Be First World's Fair Air Cooled

DALLAS.—The Texas Centennial Exposition will be the first air-conditioned World's Fair in history.

"For the first time, an exposition has been designed and is being built with the comfort of its visitors primarily in mind," said William A. Webb, general manager of the $25,000,000 show which opens in Dallas June 6.

"More than $1,000,000 is being spent to provide fresh, cool air throughout every major building. The temperature and humidity of the atmosphere will be kept constant over more than 10 acres of floor space in 29 buildings. This is 60 per cent of our floor space.

The air over all other floor space will be changed completely every eight minutes or less, thus lowering the temperature 10 degrees or more and insuring fresh, clean air at all times.

"With two exceptions, our exhibit buildings have been erected without windows. This makes it much easier to control the temperature.

Radical changes in design include a round, cruiser type stern, and three decks with accommodations for 22 men.

Power is to be furnished by 550-horsepower direct-reversible Diesel engines, with auxiliary 115-horsepower Diesels. Each of the auxiliary motors will be connected with electric generators.

The "baby clippers" will vary from 68 to 75 feet in length. Each will be equipped with 150 horsepower Diesel engines.

"OUT OUR WAY" By Williams

Britain Rushes Vast Air Fleet

LONDON.—Great Britain today is at work on the biggest aviation construction program in the history of the nation calling for an expenditure of $132,500,000 during the next year.

Modernization and huge increases to the military aviation force and speeding up of civil airlines are responsible for the aviation construction boom.

The government is spending $90,000,000 for the Royal Air Force expansion plan.

Expenditures already approved for Imperial Airways machines to be used on the trans-Atlantic service total $10,000,000.

Orders placed for fast, light airliners total $15,000,000. Britain hopes to regain lost postal and passenger business with these machines.

Another $5,000,000 is to be spent in airport construction and improvements.

All of these expenditures would be increased, according to aviation authorities, if more skilled workers were available.

Most plants have increased their quarters during recent months and many are operating two shifts. A third shift would be added in many cases if technicians could be obtained.

To speed production and meet both civil and government demands work is divided. Numerous small plants have been established to provide specific parts or materials for large manufacturers.

One of the greatest demands is for light airplanes to train R.A.F. pilots and for aviation clubs.

Another boost to British aviation has been the granting of 2,500,000 pounds in subsidies. These grants have opened up new

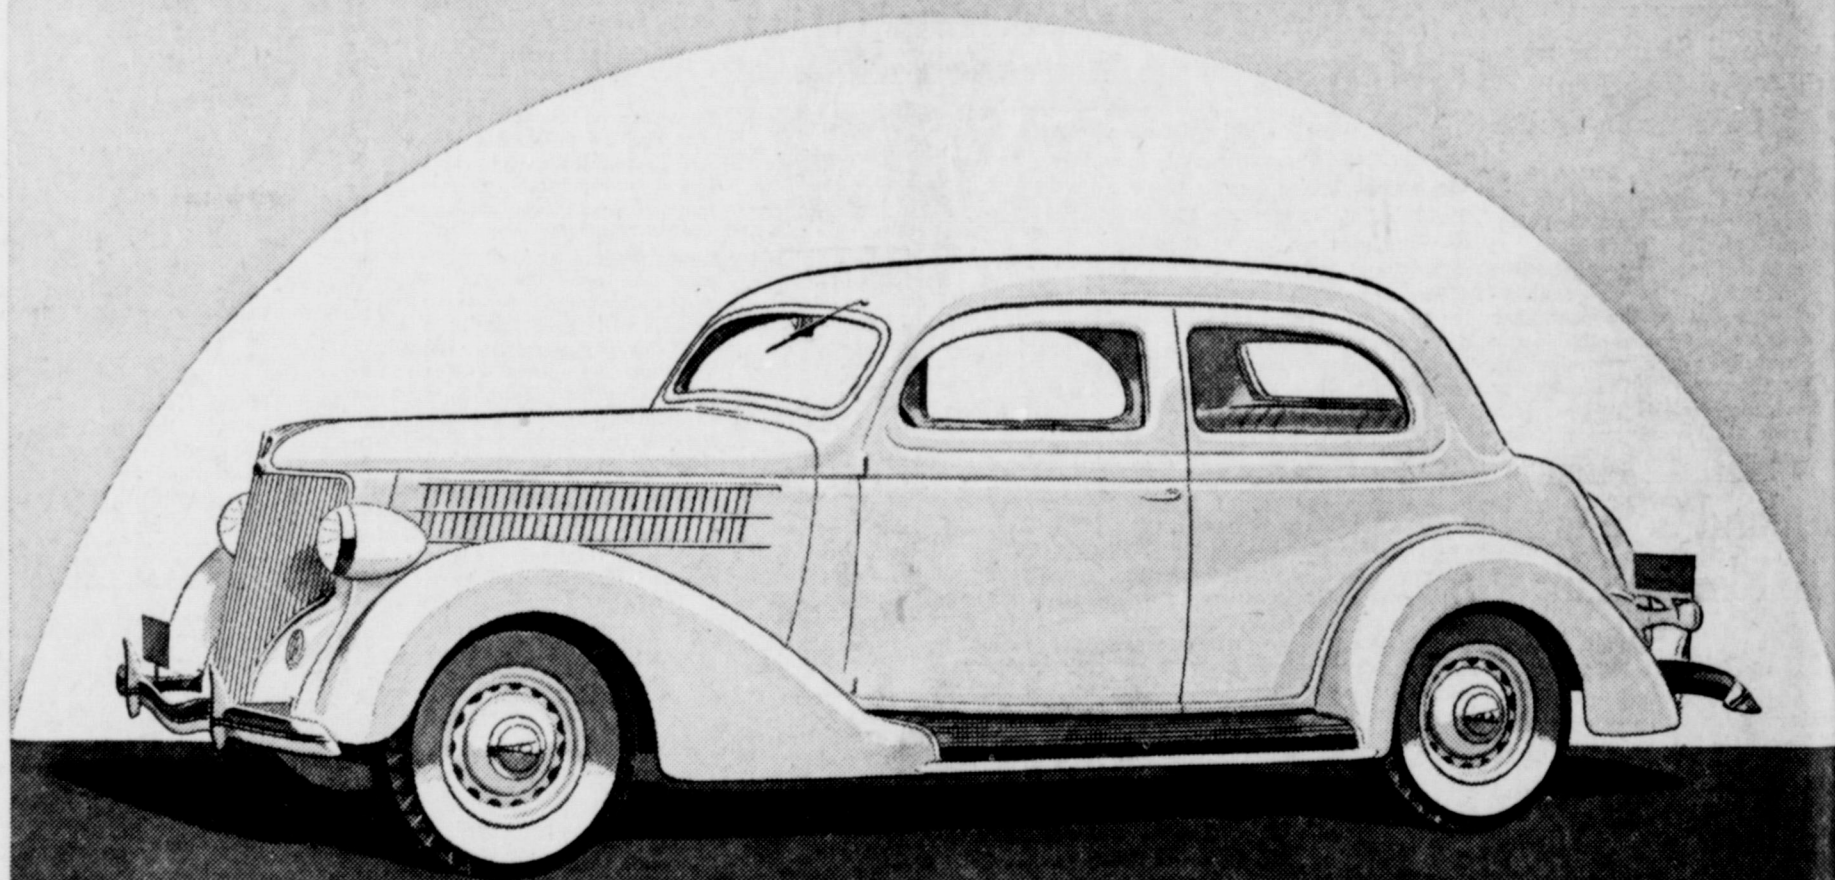

Spain Coins Of 1648 Are Found

MOHLER, Ore.—August Grab dug up 12 Spanish coins on his dairy ranch, all dated around 1648 and stamped with the head of Queen Isabel.

The find revived interest in an Indian legend that a Spanish galloon once was wrecked on the Nehalem coast during a fight with pirates, and a fabulous treasure was buried somewhere on Neah-Kah-Nie Mountain.

The mountain is pitted with the diggings of hopeful treasure hunters, but none has found the chest, although several have lost their lives looking for it.

Ford - FOR ECONOMY

MORE MILES PER GALLON IS GOOD... MORE MILES PER DOLLAR IS BETTER

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better.

The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost, and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile.

Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor.

Here are the big items that make the Ford an economical car: More value for every dollar you pay. Lower cost for repairs and service. Long life. Slow depreciation.

The up-keep cost of today's Ford V-8 is the lowest of any Ford ever built. Quality means economy and the 1936 Ford V-8 gives you more real quality than any other low-price car. Made to closer precision limits and of better materials, there is no waste anywhere. Many dollars are saved by Ford production methods and low-profit policy.

You pay a thousand dollars more for any other car with the power and performance of a V-8 cylinder engine. No other low-price car gives you modern Center-Poise Riding, safe, sure, dependable mechanical brakes with 186 square inches of braking surface and Safety Glass all around at no extra cost.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE, NEA service Staff Writer. LIGHT, fluffy sponge cake, made with butter and the center filled with hot, creamy rum sauce, that's Savarin with Sabayon sauce, superlatively light and fluffy. In preparing Savarin, you may use any favorite recipe for sponge cake, but Chef Mueller's own recipe probably will appeal to you because his cake goes perfectly with his Sabayon sauce. Save the egg whites left from making this dessert and bake an angel food cake. If you cover them and store them in the refrigerator, you can keep them several days. Savarin. One cake compressed yeast, 1-2 cups milk, 1-3/4 cups bread flour, 3-8 cup (6 tablespoons) melted butter, 1-4 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 4 egg yolks, 1-4 cup finely chopped almonds, 2-1/2 cups bread flour. Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Soften yeast cake in milk. Add the first amount of flour slowly and beat until smooth. Cover closely and let stand in a warm place for fifteen minutes. Add rest of the ingredients and beat well. Again cover and stand in a cozy place until double in volume. Bake for twenty minutes at 400 degrees F. Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Shredded fresh pineapple, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs with bacon, crisp toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Asparagus shortcake, beet pickles, orange jelly with whipped cream, nut cookies, milk, tea. DINNER: Platter of cold cuts, potato chips, stuffed tomato salad, Savarin with Sabayon sauce, milk, coffee. (hot oven). Unmold onto a warm plate and serve immediately with Sabayon sauce. Serves 12 to 16 persons. For six or eight persons, use half the amount of each ingredient. Sabayon Sauce. Eight egg yolks, 2-3 cup sugar, 1-4 cup butter, 1-4 cup rum. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, turn into top of double boiler, add sugar and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture begins to stick to the sides of the pan. Remove from heat, add butter and rum and beat until well blended. Sufficient for 12 to 16 Savarin servings. This dessert is fine to serve with a buffet meal of cold cuts and salads. You can have the Savarin ready to put in the oven to bake while the supper is being served. The sauce will keep perfectly if made and kept warm over warm water while the cake is baking.

The University of Hawaii and the University of Puerto Rico were the foreign teams engaged. Out of state schools represented many parts of the country, from the College of the Pacific in California to the University of Pittsburgh in the East. Most of the debates were non-decision affairs. However, T. C. U. won 62 per cent of those on which a decision was rendered. The question used throughout the season, T. C. U. having sometimes the negative, sometimes the affirmative side, was: Resolved, that Congress, by a two-thirds majority vote, should have the power to over-ride decisions of the Supreme Court declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional. While he was down in the bowels of the earth, the Toronto surgeon might have passed his time studying mineral veins. Kansas City thieves stole a stairway from an apartment house. The situation seems to call for the police taking steps.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
LINDA BOURNE, 20 years old, pretty, is left almost penniless by the sudden death of her father.
PETER GARDNER, newspaper reporter, helps her. Linda is in love with DIX CARTER, but he goes abroad to study singing. When Peter asks Linda to marry him she agrees, but postpones the wedding.
HONEY HARMON, film star, comes to Newton, making a "personal appearance" tour. She buys a scenario written by Linda. Later Linda goes to Hollywood and, by expressing ideas that are really Peter's, secures a reputation for being able to discover new stars. Soon she is a celebrity.
At a party given by Honey Harmon, Linda meets BASIL THORNE, director. Attracted by him at first, she later avoids him, and goes into films as an actor. Linda tries to help him. She hates, however, when he asks her to introduce him to Basil Thorne. At last, she agrees.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVI

Linda hated herself when she had hung up after making an engagement to dine with Basil Thorne the next night but one. This time she didn't agree to meet him at his home. They were dining at the Continental. She dreaded it and planned her evening.
And she came very near to disliking Dix. She knew that he had deliberately planned to have her telephone Thorne. She excused him because she knew how badly he wanted to get his chance.
She prepared herself for that night, knew the note that she was going to strike and hold. Nevertheless she found herself nervous, not with anticipation such as she had felt the last time she had an engagement with the director, but with fear that she could not be able to carry it off.
But she did. She wasn't flirtatious, but she was charming, flattering and if her manner didn't say yes, it didn't say no.
Thorne was sincerely impressed with Linda. He felt that he had made a blunder and was grateful that it was not an unforfeitable one. He was flattered that she had finally called him. He rearranged his tactics, adjusted his intentions, was suave, courteous, and charming. They dined and danced and talked of pictures in the making. Linda was careful not to mention Dix Carter's name.

THORNE took her home, kissed her hand gallantly, and asked if he might see her the next day. Linda refused. When he telephoned the next day and she thanked him for what was practically a blanket of white violets, she said she would have cocktails with him the following Saturday.
Linda was mistress of the situation. She knew it couldn't go on forever, but she banked on Thorne's acceptance of the genre of their companionship she had created. As a matter of fact, he was rather enjoying it. Linda was a girl worth trying to get. He liked her wit and her wits, her manner and her manners. He liked being seen with her.

Invitations to her parties were sought after. Her intimates were the more conservative members of the colony, and she, numbered among her closest friends three unapproachable stars of true greatness.
Yes, Linda Bourne, in any way, at any price, was a feather in Basil Thorne's cap. That was the time that Hollywood was beginning to realize its social strata. Linda brought the same elegance to Hollywood that had made her president of the Newtown Junior League. She was invited to Pickfair, met visiting royalty and was not unknown in Pasadena society.
With Thorne, she couldn't recapture the mood that had made her fight banner on the occasion of their first meeting.
"How are the love-letters piling up?" he asked, going back to it.
"I told you I didn't save them," she said.
"Does the same thing go for saving old loves?"
She looked at him in complete surprise, wisely assumed.
"Where did I hear it?" He drew his brows together in simulated thought. "An idyll about a boy and girl romance? Girl comes to Hollywood, makes good. Boy goes to Europe, doesn't make good. Follows girl to Hollywood and . . ."
SHE was surprised out of her role. Linda said hastily and hotly. "That's ridiculous! It wasn't a romance. Dix did make good in Europe, and would here if he had a chance."
"So you're playing lady patroness?"
"Hardly. He comes around to see me. If I were playing lady patroness, I should have sent him to you first. That ought to prove my point." She appeared to be elaborately patient.
He was thoughtful. "That's quite true. Would you like me to meet him?"
That was exactly what Linda wanted him to say. She didn't want to ask him for the favor. She never wanted to be indebted to him, but in her fondest hopes she had never expected the idea would come from him.
She appeared to be thinking it over. "How did you know he was a singer?" she asked after a while.
"I didn't," he answered. "Is he?"
"Yes. Baritone and sweet-voice. I mean. He's done some excellent things in England. I think you might be interested to see and hear him."
"Give him a card and he can see me at the studio," Thorne called for his check.
That wasn't what Linda wanted.

"Will you dine with me, Sunday, a week? We'll dine alone and I'll ask some people in. You can hear him then. I think he will come."
"I'd like it better if we spent the evening alone," he said.
She smiled and that was all. No answer.
Dix was elated. So was she. Doing something for him at last made her happy. She would dispose of Thorne in due time. She had gotten herself into it and she would get out. The only difficulty at the moment was being entertaining to Thorne and thinking of Dix.
SHE had more to think of in a few hours. Gretchen Morgan was giving a stork shower for Hilda Howe. Every movie-goer in America knew "a little stranger" was expected in the vivacious, dark-haired star's menage.
The girls were talking about meeting. "Glasgow is a hen party. Gretchen, who had been engaged to practically every unattached male star, sighed wistfully. "Ronald Colman is still my dream man."
"I have a new dream man! Have you seen Gardner, the playwright? Metro brought him out last week and women are swooning all over the lot. There was that strong, silent man with a pace like a panther and a smile that breaks suddenly and—Whoops!—hearts are broken!" Gilda De Lyse looked toward heaven.
Linda, hiding her face back of her tea-cup, remembered that smile. So Pete Gardner had come to Hollywood!
"And, my dears, he has already been annexed," Cora Jarrett contributed. "Glasgow is a hen party, and then there was the slightest pause before someone changed the subject. In that pause Linda caught one short, exchanged glance and knew that they had stopped because of her. Already they were linking her name with that of the director.
There was Dix, Thorne, and now Pete!
She unbuttoned the violet corsage on her coat and left it in the dressing room. Violets always reminded her of Pete Gardner and the first time he had brought them to her.

Variety of Cacti Is Collected By Jim Horton at His Eastland Service Station

Big cacti, little cacti, cacti that grows horizontally, others that grow vertically—those type and others native to Texas and Old Mexico have been assembled in a plot at the Jim Horton Tire service.
Pity the tourists, many of whom might investigate too closely. For there are several types whose prongs are believed poisonous.
Variety of the cacti assembled—50—by Jim Horton, operator of the Jim Horton Tire Service, is shown in an expert's estimate that there are only 300 species.
The display occupies a 30 by 40 foot space. Lime dirt is used for the cacti cultivation. Walls of the plot are of sand stone. Rubble rocks surround the varieties of the plants.
Occupying the highest portion of the plot is a Buckhorn cactus which is 35-year-old. It was obtained in Old Mexico.
A type of cacti that grows horizontally was obtained from near Cisco. It is called "Hell's Half-Acre."
A "Devil's Pin Cushion" was transplanted from south of Strawn. Various types of cob cactus have been planted.
Strawberry cactus was obtained from Callahan while the "Candle Flame" cactus was transplanted from near Pecos.
Sotol cacti which is said used in Old Mexico in an intoxicating drink was gotten from near Marfa, Texas.

Women Buyers of Life Insurance Showing Increase

Feminine purchases of life insurance have quadrupled since 1915 when war-time emergencies began to open new fields of employment to women. Today life insurance companies are securing up to 15 per cent of their total new business on the lives of women and have 10 per cent of their total insurance in force on the lives of women.
This rapid increase of women's life insurance investments was revealed today in a survey prepared for Life Insurance Week, which is being observed throughout the nation May 11 to 16.
Extra charges for the insurance of women have been eliminated by companies, the survey showed. Today a number of statistical studies indicate that women show better than average life expectancy. A number of companies have installed women's departments in their agencies, devoted to special promotion of sales among business and professional women. There is no longer doubt as to the insurable interest of the woman risk.

Insurance to provide for retirement and old age security was reported to be the most popular with policyholders. This was attributed to the fact that women ordinarily do not have the family responsibilities that men have.
The actual insuring of women is not new, but a hundred years ago there was a substantial extra charge for insuring women which discouraged this type of business. The real development of life insurance for women began with the turn of the century and, by 1915, women had increased their share of total policies to 3 per cent of the total number of lives insured. In the period since the war this

Many Tourists to California Broke

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—More than 50,000 of the persons who entered California by automobiles the last six months of last year were destitute and unemployed, and three-fourths of them were from the so-called "drouth states."
Records of the state department of agriculture border checking stations revealed that Oklahoma furnished the largest number of unemployed visitors, sending 7,183 into the state. Texas sent 3,560, Arizona, 3,467; Arkansas, 2,786; Missouri, 2,425; Kansas, 2,257; Colorado, 1,659; New Mexico, 1,597; Nebraska, 1,292; and Idaho, 1,188.
The combined itinerant labor and refugee migration to the state constituted only about 5 per cent of the total number of passengers of all classes who entered California by motor vehicle during the six-month period.

Eleven Teams Have Entered Eastland Loop
Schedule Cards Games Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:15.

Play in the Eastland softball league begins Monday night at 8:15 in the lighted field at North Seaman street, according to a schedule released Saturday by officials.
Eleven teams will compete in the league play and games will be held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8:15 p. m.
The lights were installed at the field through cooperative efforts of merchants, softball enthusiasts and the fire department, sponsors. The field represents an investment conservatively estimated at $1,000.
Formal opening of the field was held last week with teams from Ranger, Eastland and Albany participating.

Teams in the league are firemen. Hi-Y, Highway, Baptist, States Oil, Magnolia, Piggly Wiggly, Carl Johnson, Pleasant Grove, Texas Electric Service company and Lone Star.

Indications Saturday pointed to the most successful season of the sport, which became popular here several years ago. Stringent rules have been adopted to preclude what in recent years would now be classified as infractions.

"Switching" of players from one team to another, it was said, without consent of an executive committee will be barred.
Differences which may arise during the season will be taken before the committee for its rulings.

Many of the teams have held practice games the past weeks and it was impossible to rank any of the club in strength.
Since the opening was delayed Friday, two games scheduled then will be played Tuesday night. Teams to play then are Firemen vs. Hi-Y and Highway against the Baptist.

The schedule for the season is as follows:
Tuesday, May 12—Firemen vs. Hi-Y; Highway vs. Baptist.
Monday, May 11—States Oil vs. Magnolia; Piggly Wiggly vs. C. Johnson.
Wednesday, May 13—Pleasant Grove vs. T. E. S. C.; Lone Star vs. Firemen.
Friday, May 15—Hi-Y vs. Baptist; Highway vs. States Oil.
Monday, May 18—Magnolia vs. Piggly Wiggly; C. Johnson vs. Pleasant Grove.
Wednesday, May 20—TESC vs. Lone Star; Firemen vs. Highway.
Friday, May 22—Hi-Y vs. States Oil; Baptist vs. Magnolia.
Monday, May 25—Piggly Wiggly vs. Pleasant Grove; C. Johnson vs. TESC.

Sh-Sh-Sh! That's our ACE IN THE HOLE!

YOU can't keep good news from spreading—so the word is out that the handsome Series 40 Buick Special is not only big, but amazingly thrifty to boot!
One fellow, for instance, writes that he is getting three more miles per gallon than the salesman promised—why, asks he, don't we print such important news?
The fact is, we don't advertise specific miles-per-gallon figures because you simply can't set a figure that could be right for all drivers under all conditions.
So instead of following the popular custom of claiming the world, on such matters we prefer to play safe and "talk small"—leaving Buick's really surprising frugality to be one of those nice things you discover after you've driven one awhile!
It works out fine, too! Owners are constantly coming in to brag about high mileage averages, low costs on oil, long trips without a penny for service or attention.
With all of its style, and comfort, and standout performance—at prices beginning at $765* list—Buick's a winner and its thrift is all plus. Ride in one and see if that's not the truth!
