Marion Carter Shows Champion Fine Wool Lamb At Garden City

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Marion Carter's lightweight entry was named grand champion fine wool lamb, while John Daniels exhibited the champion steer and Kenneth Smith the champion capon at the 17th annual Glasscock County Livestock Show this morning.

Eugene Davee's heavyweight entry topped the championship in the class of crossbred lambs, while a lightweight entry of John C. Daniel was reserve champion in that class. Carter's lightweight fine wool lamb entry had topped a field of 28 in its class to advance to the finals in the fine wool division. The reserve champion in that division was a heavyweight entry shown by Gary Mitchell.

lamb show had not been completed shortly before noon today. Hundreds of people were on hand to witness the judging of 4-H club and FFA livestock and capons. Judge of the show was M. B. Inman Jr., agriculture instructor at San Angelo College. Immediately following the judging, the traditional barbecue was to be served at the Garden City school, which is site of the show. The annual auction sale, with Dub Clark of San Angelo as auctioneer, was scheduled to start around 1:30 p.m. The champion steer shown this morning was one of three dry-lot animals were entered by Ralph Schaffer and Jimmie Smith. Way Is Cleared For Nat'l Guard Armory

Action taken by city commissioners in special session Thursday afternoon cleared the way for the Texas National Guard Armory Board to go ahead with plans to construct an armory in Big Spring. Commissioners, by a unanimous vote, pledged to provide a sewer line provided the county pays half the cost up to $1,000. County commissioners had, earlier in the day, decided to pay their share of the cost. Installation of the sewer facilities was the only item holding up progress on the armory; plans as the Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as being willing to provide a title guaranty policy. Request for funds to be used in armory construction has reportedly been held up because the armory board did not have assurance that sewer service or a title guaranty policy would be furnished.

Crack B&O Train Derailed With 6 Crewmen Injured

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's St. Louis-New York flyer, the National Limited sidwinder, a freight train five miles south of Wilmington today, derailed 10 of the 13 passenger cars. A B&O spokesman in Baltimore said the engineers of the shifted freight train, W. A. Jackson of Philadelphia, was killed and six train crewmen were hurt, but no passengers were injured.

Prior to action in Thursday's session, commissioners had agreed to furnish water facilities for the proposed armory. The city also joined the State Parks Board in deeding a five-acre tract just east of Webb Air Force Base for the armory site. Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmie Greene is to be in Dallas this weekend, and he will inform General Carl L. Phinney, armory board member, of the action. General Phinney is to leave for Washington Saturday in support of a request for federal funds for the proposed project. Information obtained by Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Chamber president, is that $134,000 will be asked to construct the armory. Indications are that the armory can be used for civic functions and public gatherings, although Gen. Phinney has not been quoted on the matter. The general did say that if the $134,000 is granted for the construction that it would probably be big enough for National Guard activities and other functions. However, he said it was possible that only enough funds to construct a building to house the Guard materials would be appropriated. City Manager H. W. Whitney told commissioners Thursday that sewer facilities can be installed for approximately $2,000. It is estimated that the title guaranty policy will cost about $50.

Lane Fears Fight Over Amendment Will Weaken GOP

DALLAS (AP)—State Republican Chairman Alvin Lane says squabbling over the Bricker amendment could weaken the GOP enough to allow another New Deal to take over. Agitation for the amendment which would limit the President's treaty-making powers was brought about by abuses of the Truman and A. Roosevelt administrations, Lane said. Lane stated he was in sympathy with the Ohio senator's proposed constitutional amendment but that he wished the issue could be settled without so much controversy between President Eisenhower and Bricker. Lane said he thought both sides in the controversy should do some yielding so the Republican family fess could be settled quickly.

Pope Continues To Weaken, His Physician Says

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius' difficulty in taking food has continued to weaken him, said the first official bulletin issued on his condition today by his private physician. The bulletin, issued by Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, said it is hoped "as soon as possible to repeat particular X-ray examinations to determine the condition of both of the (Pope's) gastric area as well as of other organs in that area."

The bulletin said that "since Jan. 25, the Holy Father has shown, together with a light fever, symptoms of gastritis, preceded by insistent hiccupus." "Objective clinical examinations," it added, "excluded any other peritoneal (abdominal lining) reaction whatsoever and laboratory examinations resulted normal (excluding the possibility of abnormal blood count or of cardiac lesions.)"

The bulletin said the 77-year-old Pope has continued to weaken. "The general state, weakened by excessive, prolonged labor, both mental and physical, has suffered a further weakening because of the fatiguing gastric disturbance and the difficulty of feeding," the bulletin said.

The bulletin underlined the anxiety felt for the Pope's condition. The bulletin said previous X-ray examinations had shown "the Pope's gastric area and organs in that area to be normal. It did not, say, however, when these examinations had been made."

"The hiccupus," the bulletin said, "have vanished for three days." The official bulletin was preceded by a brief announcement that it was made in reply to anxious queries from many authorities and members of the Roman Catholic Church from all parts of the world.

The Pontiff has now been ill for more than 10 days. The Pope's private physician, Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi, spent more time than usual at the Pope's bedside today, contributing to increased worry. The doctor's office said he had telephoned he would not be able to get in to his office this morning, as he usually does after visiting the Vatican.

Jet Trainers In Collision

WACO (AP)—Two jet T33 trainer planes collided over Connally Air Force Base as they approached for a landing today and three airmen were killed. Two students and a pilot instructor were killed in the collision 1,500 feet over the base. Air Force officers said. The names of the victims were withheld until next of kin could be notified. Mrs. Bertha Levey, Waco, a witness, said the two planes were in a group of four. The lead plane peeled off from the formation to make a landing and exploded, she said. The second plane then collided with the first aircraft, already in flames. Mrs. Levey was in a car near the base watching the planes.

Two Houston Persons Questioned In Death

NACOGDOCHES (AP)—Officers are questioning two Houston residents in the poison death of 66-year-old Herbert W. Berger Jan. 5. Peace Justice Tom Lilly told yesterday Berger died from strychnine poisoning administered by person or persons unknown. The state crime laboratory reported Berger died of poisoning. Night Police Chief H. C. Roebuck Jr. ruled out robbery as a motive.

Parr Tax Returns Listed As One Object Of Probes

AUSTIN (AP)—Att. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said today his plan for criminal proceedings in the alleged misuse of public funds in Duval County does not include "at this time" his appearance before that county's grand jury. State officials sought to step up the probe of the Parr political empire yesterday with Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Texas asking federal officials to send more investigators to South Texas to look into Parr's tax returns. Parr, the dominant figure in stormy South Texas politics, had not publicly commented following Shepperd's action in Washington. Shepperd told Washington reporters, before he left by plane last night for Texas, that he had discussed Duval County with Department of Justice officials. "We already have gathered some interesting information," the Texas attorney general said, adding: "We need more people down there before the courthouse burns down." Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell said at a news conference that income tax agents were investigating the South Texas political leader. Brownell said no Justice Department investigation was under way,

HELP SOUGHT FOR FAMILY

The Salvation Army has issued an appeal for clothing and household goods to help rehabilitate a family whose possessions were destroyed by fire. "These people do not even have a place to sleep," said Mrs. Robert Hall of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Hall said articles of clothing are needed for the woman, who wears size 12 dresses, the father, who wears size 28 trousers, and for a baby seven months old, a daughter two years old and a daughter seven years old. They also need furniture and other household items. Persons who have articles they wish to contribute have been asked to get in to his office this morning, as he usually does after visiting the Vatican.

Nine Desperate Escapees Hunted By 'Bama Posse'

ATMORE, Ala. (AP)—Nine desperate convicts escaped through a tunnel under Atmore Prison last night and are still free despite an all-night search by a posse with shoot-to-kill instructions. Heavily-armed lawmen, led by bloodhounds, concentrated on an area five miles south of the prison and were reported close behind the fleeing criminals. The tunnel under the prison is used for electrical equipment running between the prison and a powerhouse outside the fence. An employe found the tunnel door in the powerhouse open and notified guards. All the desperadoes are long-termers who had been placed in a special security cell block. It is not known if any are armed.

City Okays Water Line

City Commissioners voted Thursday to install a two-inch water line on North 11th Street between Gollad and the Snyder Highway. Policy in the past has been not to install water lines unless there was 75 feet or less per customer, and City Manager H. W. Whitney pointed out that footage per customer is more than the minimum. However, Whitney explained that a number of undeveloped lots in the area will be improved and that a water line will eventually be necessary. He also said that the line will tie into a larger water line at each end. A change in the plat for Stanford Park Addition was also approved Thursday. A "turn-about" corner on Steakley Street was changed to a regular angle turn at the Southeast corner of the addition. Both actions were taken by commissioners following discussion of a National Guard Armory, for which a special session was called. It was voted to install sewer facilities for the proposed armory.

$12,500 Paid For Houston Champion

HOUSTON (AP)—Edgar Brown of Orange today paid $12,500 for "Shorty," the 940-pound Hereford which last night was judged the grand champion steer of the 22nd annual Houston Fat Stock Show. Brown submitted the highest bid shortly after the prize steer's 16-year-old exhibitor, Dayton Creveling, Fredericksburg FFA youth, paraded the champion into the auction ring. It was the lowest price paid for a Houston show grand champion since C. Rampy of Montgomery paid $12,500 for the 1948 champion. Last year's top steer brought $18,800 from Bill Williams, Houston restaurant owner.

Fort Worth Champ Sells For $6,000

FORT WORTH (AP)—The grand champion steer of the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock show was sold at auction today for $6,000, equalling the show record. Purchasers were Sid Richardson and Amon Carter for Hotel Texas. The champion, an Angus named BPR Billy B, exhibited by the Black Post Ranch of Olathe, Kan., weighed 1,015 pounds. The reserve grand champion, 1,050-pound Hereford owned by Billy Bruce Hereford of Colorado City, was sold for $3,500 to the Amon G. Carter Foundation and then donated to the Lena Pope Orphans Home here. The champion shorthorn sold for $1,800, the reserve grand champion of the junior show brought $1,600 and seven other champions were sold for $1,400 each.

Hall Says Left Asks Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—National Chairman Leonard W. Hall told Stevenson, Paul Douglas and fellow Republicans today "the left wing in America regards a depression as its one-way ticket to power," but that it talks less confidently now. The toning down Hall said was noticeable in Democratic and wing predictions of Republican defeat in the 1954 congressional elections has been caused, he continued, by the legislative program President Eisenhower sent Congress. Hall said Walter Reuther, Adlai Stevenson, Paul Douglas and Wayne Morse are spreading "gloom and doom" across the land, though the nation has enjoyed the most prosperous year in history under President Eisenhower. The American people "cannot condone the reckless utterances of a mere handful of reckless men," he said, referring to the CIO president, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, the Democratic senator from Illinois and the independent senator from Oregon. Hall's remarks were made in a speech prepared for the 146-member Republican National Committee. The GOP chiefs were called in for a two-day try at charting a winning course for the crucial November congressional elections. The party's National Finance Committee yesterday approved a budget of $3,800,000 for the 1954 campaign, a record for a non-presidential year and nearly double the sum for 1950.

YOUR SCHOOL PROBLEM More Pupils Hike Classroom Needs

The public housing problem facing the Big Spring Independent School District is simply one of mathematics and masses. Reduced to its simplest terms it is this: More and more children require more and more space. Today there are 54 per cent more children in the elementary grades, one through six, than there were at the end of school of the 1947-48 term. Translated to flesh and blood, this means 1,000 more children, and this translated into classrooms required to house them is 40. In 1948 the district began to try to catch up with housing needs by adding 14 units. This, together with 18 more units in 1951, reduced classes on half-day sessions to four. But increases have continued and today there are 29 classes on half-day sessions. Next year, if this year's figures are repeated let alone increased, there will be 44 classes on half-day sessions. Of this year's total, 26 of the classes on half day are in Washington Place, Airport, and North Ward schools. These are the targets for the Tuesday bond appeal for more classroom money. In 1947 the war baby crop began to show up, and elementary enrollment was 1,288. The next year it climbed to 1,560, then soared up in 1949 to 2,191. By 1950 the total was 2,381, and in 1953 it was 2,675. Last year the ending total, reflecting a levelling of the birth rate, was 2,627. But this year the post-war baby crop showed up. Instead of 367 in the first grade, there were 530 first graders at the end of the first week. With more people moving into the district, today that first grade figure is 702. Correspondingly, the elementary figure today is 2,896 pupils as compared to 2,627 at the end of the 1952-53 term. Aggravating the press represented by these figures is the fact that children are entering school faster than they are being promoted. For instance, while 254 in the sixth will go into junior high this spring, you can only assume that the present 702 in the first grade will be duplicated at the start of school next fall. That means a net gain of 248 for elementary grades. That's 14 classrooms in standard terms. Another school which is a target for enlargement as well as replacement is Lakeview. Total enrollment there has grown from 122 in 1947-48 to 222 last year, or 78 per cent. Will the $500,000 bonds up for a vote on Tuesday solve all the classroom space problems? No, simple mathematics show they can't be spread thin enough to cover all the need. However, they represent about the extent of the district's ability to finance additional bonds at this time—and they will reduce the number of classes on half-day sessions to a manageable figure. There's no record that the old lady in the shoe ever caught up with her housing problem, but she probably kept trying as she was able.

'Tragic' Pattern Feared In Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, denouncing the Russian plan for German unification, told the Berlin conference today Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov is trying to extend the Kremlin's power to the Rhine. Dulles said Molotov had rejected a Western plan for unification of Germany through free elections because he is afraid that the 18 million Germans in the Communist zone "would overwhelmingly reject" its present Red regime. "Mr. Molotov has good reason to be afraid," the American Secretary said. Dulles led off the Western attack on the Molotov plan, which he said follows the "tragic pattern" by which the Soviet Union has spread Communist control over Eastern Europe since the war.

Dulles said Britain's Anthony Eden, France's Georges Bidault and he had come to Berlin two weeks ago hoping that solutions would be found to the problem of German unity in a conference which at the outset carried the promise of easing world tension. But, he said, the Molotov program which the Russian minister put before the conference yesterday shows that "he has no intention of seriously seeking German unity with freedom."

"I would say to Mr. Molotov," Dulles declared, "that it is late, but not too late to redeem the promise of Berlin." The cornerstone of the Russian program, Dulles said, is the Communist government of East Germany which he declared was put in office and kept there by Soviet power. It would have been "forcibly ejected" by the workers of East Germany last June, Dulles asserted, had it not been for "the armaments of 22 Soviet divisions, including tanks and armored cars."

He referred to the workers' rebellion in which two million East Germans defied their government and the Russian occupation itself to show their resentment of Red rule. The Western delegation blamed Molotov had pierced his own bubble by insisting that Germany could be united only as a defenseless, neutralized nation in which Communists would hold high posts ready for a final Red takeover later. But they wanted to make sure all this was spelled out for the public to understand clearly.

American officials said they felt sure Molotov had to block free all-German elections to avoid setting off a chain reaction in the powderkeg Soviet bloc. In the American view, Molotov could hardly grant the Germans democratic rights which the Kremlin has consistently refused its vassals.

Bricker Plan Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today there will be no key test votes on the Bricker amendment dealing with treaty powers until Feb. 16 or later.

The hotly controversial issue is being put aside to simmer all next week while the Senate turns to other matters. Knowland told newsmen he thought the delay would be healthy in giving the country a chance to be heard from further.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), author of the original proposal sought determinedly by President Eisenhower, appealed to his followers to make known their backing for a modified plan he unveiled yesterday. This revised proposal makes big concessions but still is far more sweeping than anything the administration has indicated it would accept.

Knowland had been trying to dispose of the Bricker proposal this week. It has been before the Senate for two weeks of debate while repeated efforts were made—without success—to compromise. Knowland said in advance of today's session it might be possible to adopt two minor amendments to the Bricker proposal at this afternoon's session. But he added there will be no important rollcall test until week after next.

The week's delay is forced by the plans of many GOP senators to leave Washington for Lincoln Day speeches next week.

Fraternal Order Of Eagles To Observe Its 56th Anniversary

The Big Spring aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will join some 1,600 similar groups throughout the nation Saturday for observance of the 56th anniversary of founding of the organization.

The program here will start at 2 p.m. at the Aerie home, 703 W. 3rd Street. The observance will include the reading of an anniversary message from Robert W. Hansen, grand worthy president and the lighting of candles for members of the local aerie who are 56 years of age.

At 7:30 p.m., the Eagles and Auxiliary will serve a buffet dinner to which the public is invited.

The 56th anniversary of the F.O.E. formation almost coincides with fifth anniversary of the chartering of the Big Spring aerie. The local club received its charter on Mar. 9, 1949.

The Big Spring aerie was organized in January of 1949 with 100 members, many of whom are still active in Eagle affairs. First president of the organization was Leonard Miller, and he has been followed in the position by the following elected presidents: G. A. (Ken) Barnett, W. N. Cochran, Paul Jacoby and Bill Boadle, the present president.

The local Eagle auxiliary was chartered on May 15, 1950, also with 100 members. Past presidents of the auxiliary are Jackie Johnson and Ellen Mae Rutherford, while Maudie Jones currently is president.

Present officers of the Eagles Club, in addition to Boadle, are Lloyd Bowen, vice president; Raymond Bennett, chaplain; Paul Conley, secretary; J. E. Fern, treasurer; W. N. Cochran, conductor; Dee Weatherly, inside guard;

Sixty-Nine Wetbacks Deported At Laredo

LAREDO (AP)—The Immigration Service yesterday deported 69 wetbacks, mostly first-entry cases, after they pleaded guilty and got suspended sentences.

Terms of four to six months were given six others who had slipped across the Rio Grande illegally from Mexico. They were repeaters. Another nine repeaters got 30 to 90 days in jail.

Federal Judge James V. Allred heard the cases.

Doyle Millhollon, outside guard; and C. E. Watkins, W. W. Arant and J. B. Matthews, trustees.

Eagle activities include support of such community projects as March of Dimes, Scouting, Little League Baseball, Red Cross, Crusade for Freedom, etc., according to officials of the organization.

Starting from a paid membership of some $1,300, Eagles here have grown to ownership of their own lodge building at 703 W. 3rd. Elections are held in May of each year and officers are installed in June.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles was founded on Feb. 6, 1898, by six men who met on a stack of lumber in the Seattle shipyards. Its membership now exceeds a million.

The Eagles lay claim to being pioneers in the field of social legislation, such as the Federal Social Security Act, and old age pension acts. Current activities include annual campaigns in support of the Runyan Cancer Fund, the fraternity's Memorial Foundation, which provides medical services and college education for the children of Eagles killed in military service, and for youth guidance programs.

Balloons To Cite Freedom Crusade

Big balloons—up to 16 feet in diameter—of the type allowed to drift with messages behind the Iron Curtain will be sent up here Feb. 12 as a part of the local Eagles observance of "Crusade for Freedom Week."

The balloons will carry messages in English identical to those being released along the borders of the various European Communist nations, according to Ben Boadle, president of the local Eagle Aerie. The messages are carried by the big balloons for distances up to 700 miles, depending on atmospheric conditions.

Crusade for Freedom Week is to be observed Feb. 8-15. The "Crusade" is one of the projects supported by Eagles.

Lie Detector Test Set On Rape Story

DALLAS (AP)—A lie detector test was expected to be given today to Tommy Lee Walker, 19-year-old Negro charged with murder in the rape-stabbing of Mrs. H. C. Parker.

Walker has repudiated a signed statement which said he robbed the 29-year-old dime store clerk at knife point and that she "jumped into" his knife. Mrs. Parker was slain near Love Field the night of Sept. 30.

Her death, during a series of prowlings and attacks on women here, put the city on edge.

Walker also might face a grand jury today. The panel was to start hearing witnesses and weighing evidence in the charge against Walker.

Marilyn Monroe Visits In Hospital

TOKYO (AP)—In a quick tour of Tokyo Army Hospital today, film star Marilyn Monroe chatted on the floor with one patient and autographed the cast of a homebound G.I.

In order to talk to Pvt. Albert Evans, Canton, Ohio, she had to lie on the floor and look up. Evans suffered a broken back in a jeep accident in Korea on Jan. 11 and has been immobilized in a face down position.

Homeward bound Cpl. Donald L. Wakehouse of Iowa City, Iowa, will wear an autographed cast. Wakehouse is a former prisoner of war who was wounded in the final stages of the war, captured and then returned by the Communists.

Goodbys Are No Pain With Marilyn Around

TOKYO (AP)—Goodbys are often painful—but not for Cpl. Donald Wakehouse of Iowa City, Iowa, the last man in Japan of former war prisoners repatriated by the Communists.

Wakehouse leaves for home by air today and Marilyn will tell him goodbye. Marilyn Monroe, that is. Wakehouse was wounded and captured in the last days of the Korean War. He has been in Tokyo Army Hospital since August, shortly after his repatriation.

Faith

Our Forefathers believed in it. And lived it. And fought and died to foster it.

They wrote it, too—in the Declaration of Independence... that all who followed in their footsteps would never forget these words...

"With a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honor."

These were words shaped by men who faced the future with a confidence born of unshakable Faith in their Fellow Men.

Today—no less than long ago—we must seek the strength such Faith in our Fellow Men will yield.

We must pledge to each other "our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honor"... in working to revive the spirit of brotherhood upon which the foundation of our great nation rests.

We must renew our faith in each other for upon this faith rests our best hope of peace and security.

Union Fight To Keep Plant In North Is Walkout Cause

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—A union fight reflecting the frequently expressed concern in New England over the shift of its industries to the South has produced one of the longest strikes in recent Connecticut history.

Heart of the dispute, now seven months old, is a union demand for a contract guarantee from the Hat Corp. of America that it will shift no more of its Norwalk operations to another state.

Local 15, United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union (AFL) calls the strike, involving some 1,400 workers, a battle for job security.

Says a union spokesman: "We have no objection to plant expansion, provided no jobs are lost to Norwalk."

The corporation contends that to yield to the demand would make it a captive industry.

W. P. Morin, corporation vice president puts it this way: "The company insists it must be free, on occasion arises, to make what ever changes are necessary to preserve its business."

The corporation has offered to give severance pay to any displaced workers. That's not enough, says the union.

Behind the strike lie three years of union-management jockeying, beginning with a corporation announcement in 1950 that it planned to move part of its straw hat operations from this industrial center of 50,000 to a new plant in Winchester, Tenn.

The shift cost 100 Norwalk workers their jobs. The union demanded and received in its 1952 contract, however, an "employment stability" clause guaranteeing, for one year, that no more workers would lose their jobs.

With 1953 came a management announcement in the midst of new contract talks that the corporation planned to move more of its operations to a site "west of the Mississippi." The site was disclosed recently as Nevada, Mo., a community of 8,000.

Editor's Note — In this third and final exclusive interview, the commanding air general in Korea tells what might happen if fighting breaks out again—U. S. planes ranging beyond the Yalu.

By ROBERT EUNSON
TOKYO (AP)—If the Korean armistice is scrapped and fighting breaks out again, American bombers may range far north of the Yalu River and hammer Chinese factories in Manchuria—possibly with atom bombs.

Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, won't say they will. He did say in an interview, however: "It is my understanding that the Yalu River might no longer be the boundary, if the war is resumed in Korea, and we might strike the enemy wherever we could hurt him the most and with whatever would do the most damage."

China proper could also come into its share of bombing, it would be assumed.

"The Far East Air Forces would be reinforced," Weyland said. "The Strategic Air Command (SAC) is prepared to operate anywhere in the world and could extend its range to this theater."

SAC is the outfit which packs the big wallop. Bombers of this command specialize in atom warfare.

There are at least five planes in the U. S. Air Force which can carry the atom bomb and bases in Weyland's command can accommodate all of them. The five types are B29, F84, B47, B50 and B36.

B29s, B50s and F84s already are based in the Far East. "We could get the B47 jet bombers here in 12 hours if we needed them," Weyland said.

Whether there is a stockpile of atom bombs in some lead cave in the Far East for those atom carriers already here is a matter of conjecture, but 12 hours would be pretty swift retaliation if the Russians attacked Japan.

"In case of attack from the Soviets, FEAF is in a flanking position to strike advancing Communist air forces," said Weyland. "Notice our positions on the map and you will see that we are just offshore from all Communist territory in the Far East—China, North Korea, Manchuria and Russian Siberia."

"We could strike to the north, east or southeast from our positions in Japan, Okinawa, Korea and the Philippines."

The Air Force is keeping up a secondary chain of bases just in case they are needed. Although there are few planes on them now, the fields are in good shape and long enough to land anything that will fly.

"We would have to fight hard again to get back the initiative," Weyland says. "But it can be done if hostilities are renewed."

"We had air supremacy so thoroughly during the war in Korea that some people got the wrong idea. Do you know our front lines never had a real air attack and the area back of our lines looked like Los Angeles or New York from the air at night? I've never seen so many lights," he laughed. "Imagine riding around like that, with all lights burning at night, in Europe during the last war."

"The Reds had about 200 planes in North Korea within striking range of our lines, but after the first five days of the war hardly used them outside of Mig Alley."

Weyland said that in the early days of the Korean War there were two opinions as to how the Air Force could be best employed.

Gen. MacArthur's staff was made up of a group of fine men, but predominantly ground officers who thought predominantly in terms of ground warfare," Weyland said.

"They wanted to use the Air Force in close support of the infantry all of the time. I had quite a time explaining to some why we should operate behind lines to bomb strategic targets and interdict (or hammer at) the flow of supplies."

"I pointed out that if we did only close-support bombing and

Efforts To Revive Dental Patient Fail

CLEVELAND (AP)—A physician slit open the man's chest and massaged his still heart while a dentist applied oxygen in an unsuccessful attempt to revive a 52-year-old businessman who died in the dentist's chair after removal of six teeth yesterday.

Police said the man, James M. Smith, had been given an anesthetic and had regained consciousness briefly. Then he lapsed into a coma. The dentist summoned the physician. The man died an hour later.

Kiwanis Slate Ticket Sale For Pancake Supper

Ticket sales for the Kiwanis Club's second annual pancake supper will go on sale next Tuesday, club members were informed at their regular luncheon meeting Thursday.

Dick Clifton, chairman of the ticket committee, said that club members would be divided into two competing sales teams, one headed by Bill Holbert and another by Otis Moore.

The tickets will sell for 50 cents each. A ticket will entitle the purchaser to "all of the pancakes he can eat" when the event is held on the evening of Feb. 19 at the Senior High School cafeteria. Coffee, milk, sausage and bacon will be served with the pancakes.

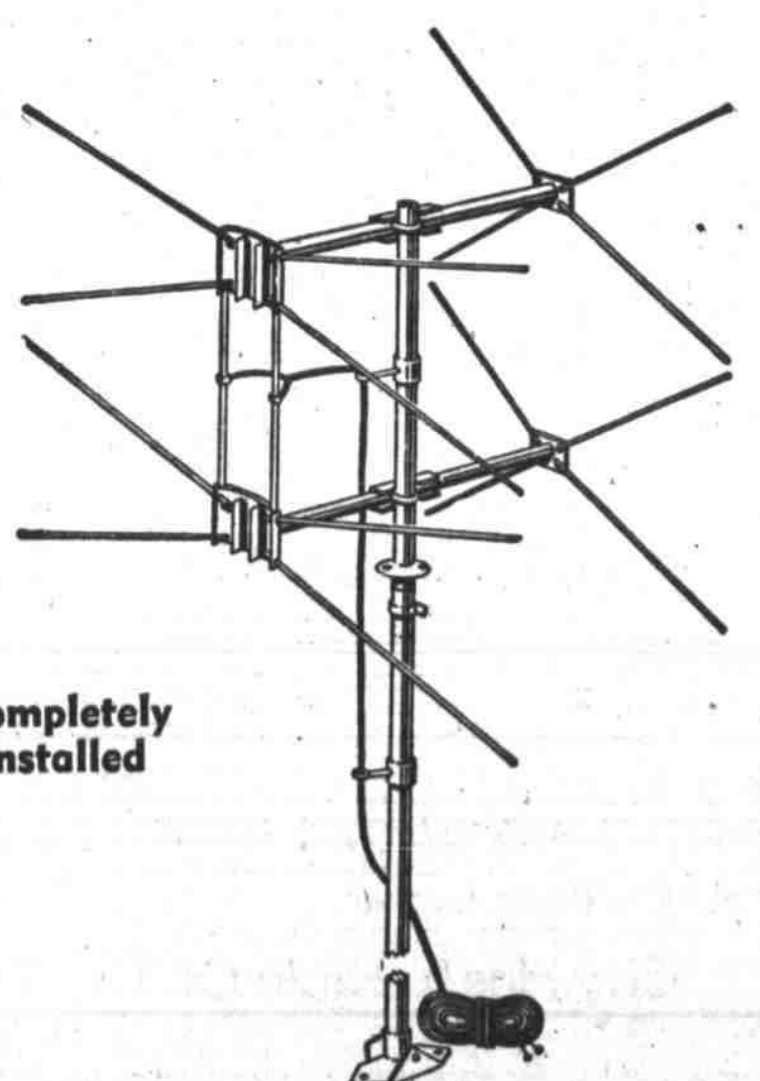

Clyde Nichols, general chairman of the arrangements steering committee, reported that all committees had started their work preparing for the event.

The local Kiwanis Club held its first pancake supper last spring, and nearly 800 persons participated.

"We hope to serve more this year," said Wendal Parks, club president. Money from the ticket sales will be used by the Kiwanis Club in its welfare and civic program for this year.

Headaches Of 20 Per.Cent Are Honest To Goodness Headaches

Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, notes that eight out of every ten persons at some times in their lives have a headache. "Most of them attribute them to something they have eaten or drunk, take a couple of aspirin, and in 24 hours have forgotten them."

But for "an unfortunate 20 per cent or so, headaches are not anything to shrug off. The intensity and frequency seriously interfere with their lives and well being. These sufferers are the 12 million Americans who know they have migraine headaches, and estimated 18 million who have migraines but don't know it, and a smaller group who have muscular headaches."

The 'Which' Clause Crux Of Most Fuss Around Bricker Amendment

All the way down through our history since the Constitution was adopted there have been periodic controversies respecting its need of revision, or the meaning of various provisions, phrases and even words. The current squabble over the Bricker amendment is in the best tradition.

The so-called Bricker amendment which is kicking up such a fuss now was first introduced in 1937. It was re-introduced in 1952 and 1953, and again in 1954.

Diversity Of American Press Makes 'Gag' Pleas Fall Flat

For quite a bit, judges and lawyers have been quarreling over the right of the people to know what is going on about them, particularly as regards criminals. Louis Waldman is chairman of a committee of the New York State Bar Association which has issued a recommendation to gag the press on pre-trial reporting that could be interpreted to mean that the press should be silent until a case has reached the United States Supreme Court, four or five years away.

right and wrong to do with respect to the reporting of litigations. "It seems that in some fields, rights which have been given by law are being so abused that the time may come when the people who make the laws abridge these rights."

Waldman does not deny the rape, the confession, the guilt or anything about the case. He only says that Americans get emotional when their daughters or their neighbors' daughters get raped by hoodlums. He objects to the publication of such news because the rapist thereupon faces an irate public. Does he wish the fathers of the community to form a re-education committee for the rapist and present the bear's with bouquets of roses?

True, newspaper reporting makes it tough on lawyers whose interest is to get their clients off, to have a sentence reduced from first-degree murder to manslaughter, to have him imprisoned instead of executed, to get him a parole or a reprieve or a pardon. But that is not the public interest.

Wife Can Take In Wash To Show Love For Mate

NEW YORK (AP)—Many thoughtful wives today are asking themselves, "What can I do to show my husband how much I appreciate him?"

I heard of one wife recently who surprised her husband on his birthday by handing him the paid-up deed to a lot in an ultra exclusive cemetery—a lot with a fine view and plenty of sunshine, all for his very own self.

Views On Writing May Differ Sharply, Even Among Writers

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

The art, trade or profession (take your choice) of writing holds a peculiar fascination for many people, and there are many who capitalize upon it.

If he knows but little of what he sets out to write about, he is likely to get but little of it over to the reader. This is particularly true of newspaper writers and usually you can find them in all regions who have some problems.

Compromise Could Not Conceal Deep Rift In The GOP Ranks

WASHINGTON — Even though a compromise is finally agreed to on the Bricker amendment, it cannot conceal the deep split in the Republican party. There is nothing new about this split. A fundamental difference over foreign policy has divided the party for at least two decades.

this emotion. For these unhappy Republicans feel the need to put a restrictive ring around the power of the Chief Executive to make treaties and executive agreements just as strongly as do the Republican Senators comprising the hard core of support for the Bricker amendment.

But today the Republicans control the national government and they must muster at least enough unity to demonstrate that they have a program, and that they can put it over. This is the point at which the damage done by the Bricker controversy must be appraised.

This is certain to be a factor in the election next fall. Eisenhower Republicans will be discouraged from participating. The Old Guard wing of the party will find it hard to crusade for a Congress to "support our President" when they do not themselves in all conscience support him.

Any assessment should take into account the fact that most of the machinery of the party is still in the hands of Republicans who did their best to prevent the nomination of President Eisenhower. These are state and county chairmen, members of the Republican National Committee, the faithful workers in the vineyard through the long famine when the Democrats won victory after victory.

Because of the discussion in Democratic ranks over the liberal-labor Americans for Democratic Action, with some Democrats suggesting it should dissolve, Senator Herbert Lehman of New York in a recent speech in Boston warmly championed ADA. ADA, said Lehman, is here to stay.

The burden of Kelland's complaint is that Eisenhower is not behaving like a Republican President. He has placed in positions of power men such as Charles E. Wilson, whom Kelland describes as "stubborn to the point of arrogance."

But opposition, plus the continuing charge of treason brought against Democratic leaders and, in fact, against the party itself, has done much to unite several factions. Adversity seems to be achieving for the Democrats what prosperity failed to achieve.

Forgetter Works Well

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—One man seeking a job with the Harrisburg City police was stopped at the finger-printing stage. He asked why.

"You probably have a record," he was told. The applicant protested he didn't. "Oh, I forgot about that," said the applicant.

Dulles Sits On Reply To Red Korean Note

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of State Dulles in Berlin has stalled an American reply to Chinese and Korean Communist demands for renewal of preliminary peace talks at Panmunjom.

Dulles reportedly is waiting to sound out Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, as well as the British and French.

The State Department last Saturday cabled to Dulles the draft of a note to serve as the U.S. reply, it was learned, but thus far the department has received no word on whether he approves the suggested text.

The foreign diplomats who approved a proposed draft at a State Department meeting 12 days ago expected the note would go out last weekend in time to reply to Red demands the Korean talks be resumed Feb. 1.

The State Department news division has refused to shed any light on this minor diplomatic mystery despite repeated questions by reporters during the past week.

It was learned that top department officials believe Dulles will hold up approving the proposed reply until after he holds secret meetings, tentatively scheduled, with Molotov and the British and French foreign ministers about Asian peace questions generally.

In the note as drafted, the United States, speaking on behalf of the United Nations, expresses readiness to resume the preliminary peace negotiations. But it stands firm on its position that the Reds must apologize or retract in some way remarks which special Ambassador Arthur Dean has labeled accusations of "perfidy."

He broke off discussions last Dec. 12 because of what he described as insults.

WAS HUNTED MAN

Triumphant Young American Free From Czech Red Ordeal

MUNICH, Germany (U)—A triumphant young American named John Hvasta heads home by plane today, the winner in a grim cat-and-mouse game with the Communist regime of Czechoslovakia that lasted five fantastic years.

First a prisoner, then a fugitive, then a refugee sheltered for four months in the U.S. Embassy in Prague, the 26-year-old Czech-born U.S. Navy veteran started catching up on freedom when a State Department car whisked him through the Iron Curtain at the Czech-German border yesterday.

The full story of at least one phase—how he bounced from pillar to post as a hunted man in Czechoslovakia for 21 months, always one step ahead of his Red pursuers—may never be publicly told. It could touch off a reign of terror against the anti-Red Czechs who sheltered him.

Like AP Correspondent William N. Oatis, freed from Czech imprisonment last May 17, Hvasta was accused by the Red regime of espionage. He was sentenced to 10 years. He had served 2½ years when he took part in a five-man break from Leopoldov Prison near Bratislava early in 1952. Then came his 21 months as a fugitive and four months in the Prague embassy, technically American soil, while diplomats dickered over his fate.

The Prague radio, skipping the details, reported he had been "released" and ordered expelled.

U.S. military policemen stood guard as Hvasta slept overnight at the Grand Hotel in Nuernberg, 85 miles north of Munich. His final stepping stones to safety were all arranged by a jubilant U.S. government: three commercial airlines—Munich to Zurich, to London, to New York. He arrives at New York's Idlewild Airport tomorrow.

He looked forward to the reunion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hvasta of Hillside, N.J.

like him naturalized citizens of the United States. The family came to the United States in 1939.

Their joy at his release was reflected in the tumbled words of Mrs. Hvasta in Hillside: "We waited for this day; oh, how we waited for this day."

Hvasta returned to Czechoslovakia in 1948 as a student under the GI Bill of Rights at the University of Bratislava. He worked four months at the U.S. consulate general in Bratislava. But Czechoslovakia still considered him a Czech citizen. He was arrested in October that year as a spy. The conviction came the following May.

There was no immediate news about Hvasta's wife, a beautiful young Czech he married while in prison. Ironically, the wedding was five years ago to the day on which he left Czechoslovakia a free man.

Gabriella Danis Hvasta, wracked with tuberculosis and harried by Czech police, has been in and out of sanitariums and jails ever since her wedding Feb. 4, 1949. There has been no word of her whereabouts since late 1950.

The State Department revealed the carefully guarded secret of Hvasta's successful flight in an announcement yesterday after Prague radio issued its account. The State Department labeled the Prague account as phony as it had called the charge of espionage on which Hvasta was arrested.

AWOL Count Cut For Jersey Soldier

FT. JAY, N.Y. (U)—A Jersey City, N.J., soldier, listed as AWOL for almost a year because the Army forgot about him, was found guilty yesterday of being AWOL for only three days and was fined $40.

A six-man court-martial board cleared Pvt. John H. Reiner of charges he deliberately stayed away from the Army for 11 months.

Reiner missed the ship which was to take him to Germany because his father became ill. He reported to Ft. Hamilton in Brooklyn three days after his official leave ended. He said a clerk told him to go home and wait for orders from the Army.

When no orders arrived by 11 months, Reiner wrote to a New Jersey newspaper and with its help, reported here to settle his case. He has been in the stockade here since Dec. 17.

Stratford Farmer Cites Cost Squeeze

WICHITA, Kan. (U)—A Texas wheat grower says farmers are caught now in the worst price-cost squeeze since 1932.

The statement was made by Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford, Tex., vice president of the National Association of Wheat Growers in convention here.

Kendrick said American business and industry have enjoyed a protective tariff, laborers have a minimum wage law and collective bargaining—"yet, during all the history of America, except the last 20 years, the farmer has had no protection."

Kendrick said that farm subsidies take only 50 cents of each $100 in federal subsidies paid.

There's Joker In War Over Coffee

ST. ANTHONY, Idaho (U)—There's something of a cold war over coffee under way in St. Anthony.

The Thrifty-Way Drug Store advertises in its window that coffee is 5 cents a cup, with refills free. And two doors away, the sign in a cafe window reads: "Coffee still 10 cents, but aspirin and all other drugs in stock free."

Beneath the cafe sign are the drugs "in stock": one box of aspirin, one box of bandages, a bottle of antiseptic.

Truman To Address New York's ADA

NEW YORK (U)—Former President Harry S. Truman is in town tonight to discuss "The Real Issues in American Politics."

That's the subject of his talk tonight, at the annual Roosevelt Day Dinner of Americans for Democratic Action.

Truman flew in from Kansas City yesterday and said he would skip his customary morning walk today to work on the speech.

Christ, the Living Bread

JESUS TELLS HOW TO SATISFY SPIRITUAL HUNGER

Scripture—John 6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
THE MIRACLE of feeding thousands with a few loaves and fishes is the only one told in all four gospels. It occurred at Bethsaida, on the Sea of Galilee.

Jesus went up into a mountain and His disciples were with Him. Multitudes followed them, and Jesus recalled that the feast of the Passover was near, and asked Philip how they could feed over 5,000 people. Philip answered that they had only two hundred pennyworth of bread which was not nearly enough. Andrew said, "There is a lad here which hath five barley loaves and two small fishes; but what are they among so many?"

"Make the men sit down," Jesus said, so all sat upon the mountain's grassy slopes, and Jesus took the loaves and fishes, gave thanks for them and distributed the food to the disciples who gave it to the people. Not only was there plenty to feed the multitude, but 12 baskets were filled with what was left.

Those who were present said: "This is of a truth that prophet the works of God? Jesus' answer was, "This is the work of God, believe on Him whom He sent."

They then asked Jesus for a sign, saying, "Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat."
"Verily, verily," Jesus said, "Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but My Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world."
"Then they said unto Him, Lord, evermore give us this bread," and Jesus answered, "I am the bread of life: he that cometh to Me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst."

This annoyed the Jews who repeated His words, and they said, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that He saith, I came down from heaven?" These were the same doubting words that were spoken in the synagogue at Nazareth when Jesus talked to his former neighbors in His home town.

MEMORY VERSE

"I am the bread of life: he that cometh to Me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst."—John 6:35.

that should come into the world." Seeing that these people might force Him to go with them, possibly to make Him king, Jesus slipped away and went into a mountain.

His disciples went to the sea and boarded a boat. A storm arose, buffeting them about, and then they saw Jesus walking on the water toward them. They were afraid, but He calmed them. "It is I; be not afraid."

They gladly received Him in the ship, and immediately they went.

The people whom Christ had fed missed Him, as they did not see Him leave Bethsaida. However, they found Him on the other side of the sea at Capernaum. They asked Him, "Rabbi, when camest Thou hither?" Jesus said to them: "Verily, verily I say unto you, ye seek Me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves and were filled."

"Labor not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for Him hath God the Father sealed."

They asked Him then what they should do that they might work

Then Christ went on to explain that the bread of life He meant was His flesh, and the drink was His blood. The flesh was crucified for our sakes and the blood shed for us. If we believe in Him, remembering His sacrifice and suffering, for our sakes, that would save us for life everlasting.

This talk mystified His listeners, and many who had been His disciples "walked with Him no more."

Jesus asked His twelve disciples, "Will ye also go away?" Simon Peter answered, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life, and we believe and are sure that Thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God."

Jesus said to him, "Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?"

"He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon; for he it was that should betray Him, being one of the twelve."

There is enough material in this lesson to interest all ages of young people. Teach the younger children to think of the Lord calming the fears of His disciples when He was walking to them over the stormy water: "It is I; be not afraid," when they are afraid.

Brucellosis Cleanup Held Possible Soon
DALLAS (AP)—A cattle disease that can cause undulant fever in people can be cleaned out of Texas dairy herds within five years without serious loss to farmers, a veteran dairyman said Wednesday.

D. T. Simons of Tarrant County, secretary of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club, said the cleanup of brucellosis must have the cooperation of all involved agencies and livestock owners.

Simons addressed a meeting of Southern dairymen, public health workers and others interested in brucellosis control. The meeting, which continues through tomorrow, is sponsored by Progressive Farmer Magazine and the Southern Agricultural Workers Conference.

Under a new milk code adopted by Texas last year, dairymen have five years to free their herds of the disease, frequently transmitted to human beings in raw milk.

EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT

If a man ties a string around his finger every Saturday night, will it remind him to go to Church on Sunday? Hardly! The man who needs that kind of reminder to care for his soul would never go to the trouble of tying the knot. No one ever forgets to go to Church! But some folks just stay away intentionally.

And it's not that they forget to set the alarm on Saturday night! Those folks have made it a habit not to set the alarm.

The decision to worship God is not one to be made every Saturday night, or every Sunday morning. It is a decision that Christians make once and for all! Make that decision today! Plan to worship every Sunday. Bring your entire family to Church every Sunday. Pledge your constant faithfulness to God—with no strings attached.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AF Wives Urged To Enter Civic Activities

There is a need for women citizens to take part in the betterment of a community—including temporary citizens like Air Force wives, was a point made by Robert W. Whipkey, publisher of the Herald in a talk before the Officers' Wives Club of Webb Air Force Base Thursday at Ellis Hall.

Whipkey's talk covered women in the news and the relationship between the newspaper and community. He suggested that capable women could become "Women of the Year" right here in their own community just as "Women of the Year" are selected on a national and international basis.

He was introduced by Col. Fred M. Dean, Webb Air Force Base commander.

A Valentine theme was prominent in decorations for the business meeting and luncheon. A centerpiece on the speaker's table was formed of a bouquet of red carnations framed with a white styrofoam heart and interspersed with small styrofoam cupid. The luncheon tables were centered with red Valentine boxes of candy trimmed with crisp white pleated paper. White styrofoam cupid were also placed on all the tables.

Mrs. Newton Hagins presented the third in a series of talks on Air Force protocol.

Two new board members announced were Mrs. Gerard W. Rooney, second vice president, and Mrs. John E. Erb, assistant secretary.

Mrs. Odie Green was introduced as Guest-of-the-Month and was presented a corsage. Guest-of-the-Month for March will be Mrs. Darrel A. Clark.

Guests and new members were introduced. The main centerpiece was won by Mrs. J. L. Wiggins. Candy centerpieces went to Mrs. R. K. Graham, Mrs. Gordon W. Benn, Mrs. Lucien Bouthiller, Mrs. Donald H.

Nelson, Mrs. Charles W. Weber, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Eve Dulmage, Mrs. Kenneth Clapham and Mrs. Claude T. Driskell.

Hostess chairman was Mrs. Ingvor Jacobson and her assistants were Mrs. Scott Norris, Mrs. Milvory Benish, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. George H. Butler, Mrs. Benjamin W. Terhune, Mrs. Warren L. Odierk, Mrs. R. H. Kinney and Mrs. L. C. Ficklin.

The March meeting of the club will feature a "Mad-Hatter's" contest with prizes going to members wearing the "maddest" hats.

Activities announced at the meeting are as follows: The Chapel committee will hold a bake sale Saturday at Piggy Wiggly. Proceeds will go to furnish the new chapel annex. Those wishing to donate cakes and pies should contact Mrs. Wiggins at 3-2469.

Square dancing will be conducted at Ellis Hall Feb. 12 and a free buffet will be served to members. Members interested in joining a golf group should contact Mrs. Guy Collins at 4-2719.

An informal dance will be held at Ellis Hall Feb. 13. Bridge and canasta will be played Feb. 15 beginning at 1:30 p.m. at Ellis Hall. Mrs. G. P. T. Howell will instruct bridge beginners.

On Feb. 27 a formal will be sponsored by Maintenance and Supply Group.

A reception following the graduation will be held at Ellis Hall Feb. 25.

A dance to raise funds for a new nursery and a guest house will be sponsored at the base March 13.

Miss Houser, a junior voice major at NTSC, has been a member of the choir for three years. She sang the role "Marguerite" in the recent production of Faust by the workshop.

Mrs. Hunt To Review Hale Book

How a church pastor, faced with the delinquency of his own daughter, fought against corruption in his community, is the theme of the book Mrs. W. A. Hunt will review Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

The book is "The Everlasting Arms" by Garth Hale. Admission to the review, to be sponsored by the Philatelic Class, will be $1.

The Rev. Gordon Prang, main character in the book, was the pastor of a run-down church in a poor neighborhood. Discovering that his daughter had become a delinquent and a dope addict, Rev. Prang began a battle against the evil forces that had influenced his daughter.

The conflict in the story is between a family whose ideals represent the highest and the web of crime and dissoluteness which causes delinquency.

Hale is also the author of "Substance of a Dream," "One Big Family," "After the Storm," "Legacy for our Sons" and "The Founding Wheel."

Last year Mrs. Hunt gave "The Silver Challenge" at the class-sponsored review.

Religion: Is It On The Sissy Side?

Is it "smart" to go to Sunday school and church? Or is it maybe just a bit on the sissy side? You know there are some things that are fine for old folks and children that aren't quite fitting for active, able bodied young people. Is religion one of those things?

This is one of the major questions every young person ponders regardless of whether he has never seen the inside of a church or has practically been reared in one. What would you say if I told you all this confusion and unrest over religion is normal? It is, and perhaps knowing it will help some of you bide your time until this "storm and stress" period levels off and you again come to know what you think—for sure.

In the past all your opinions were handed to you on a silver tray and you accepted them rather matter-of-factly. This is as it should have been. Sound reasoning and good judgment must be learned and until they are any child needs guidance.

When you became a teen-ager, nature not only started to remake you physically into an adult, but mentally as well. The doubts that crept upon you and left you confused, especially about religious matters, are for a purpose. They give you an open mind and make you find out for yourself what's what.

As Tenyson said, "There is more faith in honest doubt, Believe me than in half the creeds."

Often, rejecting everything, beginning with a fresh slate, analyzing anew every old, accepted belief and deciding whether or not it is worth accepting leads to believing with real conviction most of those things which have been taken for granted since childhood. The difference is that this time you will believe them with a great deal more certainty because you yourself will have thought them through and arrived at conclusions which are your very own.

Just look around you at the grass, trees and flowers. Ask yourself how they came to be—originally. What about people—living human beings composed of such an intricate network of cells, veins and organs for thinking, reasoning, digesting food and so forth?

Then look at the sky and realize that there are more galaxies (groups) of stars than there are single grains of sand on all the beaches of the world. Then ask yourself, "Is there a God?"

Is recognizing Him any more classified than recognizing the truth of science in biology, chemistry or physics class?

Sure, you may be teased by some for going to church and you may feel alone and different because of it. You aren't. The fact is that 78.5 per cent of America's high school students go regularly.

Can you stand a couple more statistics? Think this one over. The Bible has been translated into 1,034 languages and has never missed a year being the best seller over all other books wherever it was sold.

Do you know that 97 per cent of the American people believe in God and the power of prayer? This was the finding of a recent survey. On the basis of this alone I think you can safely conclude that religion is "smart."

From heroes of the grid iron to class beauty queens, the trend is churchward. Let's "get with it."

Education, Business Travel Hand In Hand, Says Jones

COLORADO CITY — Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas Tech, told Colorado City Chamber of Commerce members at their annual dinner Thursday night that "Studies made by the United States Chamber of Commerce indicate that education and business go hand in hand—and where more money is spent on education, business is proportionately improved."

He also added that education was important in developing human adaptability—noting that in prehistoric times the dinosaur faced problems that he couldn't solve and "they didn't adapt and they're extinct."

Dr. Jones was introduced to the 300 members and guests by Charles Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of the Board of Regents of the City National Bank in Colorado City.

Foreign Policy Not All Bad, Historian Tells Local Group

The United States' foreign policy is not all bad, and with continued hope and courage and foresight in our dealings with other nations, permanent peace can come, even if it is in the distant future.

McGee felt that the United Nations is serving its designated purpose in relieving international tensions, and that Russia's actions there had possibly brought other nations closer to us.

It was his major theme that foreign policy is a matter of national security, and that it has no place in the realm of party politics. He was encouraged that in many cases, the best minds of both parties have joined together in developing U. S. foreign policy to a stronger status.

Wins Draw From Dog Catcher

Sol Kramer, 42, wearing a bandage on his cheek, appears to be comforted by Puncty, one of his dogs, after Kramer was "netted" by a dogcatcher who sought to toss a net over Kramer's second dog. Seems the dogcatcher and Kramer each reached out for the dog at the same time and the rim of the net injured the dog owner. Kramer went to a hospital, then to jail on a disorderly conduct charge and the dog went to the pound. Kramer later was released and went home to the other dog, which escaped the dogcatcher. Kramer's other dog was impounded for being on a street unattended, which is against a Philadelphia city law. (AP Wirephoto).

Democrats Provide 'Truth Kits' Ahead Of McCarthy's Speeches

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today it is sending "truth kits" ahead of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to editors and party workers in the cities along his present speaking route.

The committee said in an accompanying letter it is providing the material because of indications that McCarthy "has been considerably more careless with the truth while speaking away from Washington than he has been in the capital, where he is under the scrutiny of reporters who have the facts readily available to enable them to check on his claims."

McCarthy opened his Lincoln Day tour last night in Charleston, W. Va., with a charge that the era of recent Democratic administrations was "20 years of treason."

The Wisconsin senator said the "label Democrat (is) . . . stitched with the idiosyncrasy of a Truman; rotted by the deceit of an Acheson; corrupted by the Red slime of a White."

He said there were Democrats "who hold their heads high and who refused to yield," but they were not numerous enough to "hold the lever that controlled the political destiny of a nation for 20 decades" and the result was "20 years of treason."

Speaking about the same time in Cheyenne, Wyo., Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell accused the Republican party of giving up its scruples and making "a new and massive attempt to win a national election through the systematic use of slander."

Mitchell said there was a "calculated, deliberate, nationwide campaign launched by the Republicans to try to paint the Democratic party as the party of communism—as the party of treason and disloyalty."

He denounced also what he called the philosophy of "what is good for big business is good for the country."

There was no immediate comment on McCarthy's statements from the two living persons he singled out for special mention—former President Harry S. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Harry Dexter White, who died in 1948, was the central figure in a furor that began last November when Atty. Gen. Brownell charged Truman promoted White in the face of FBI warnings he was a spy.

In his speech last night McCarthy predicted that a number of witnesses he has called in his Senate investigations subcommittee probe of security at Ft. Monmouth, N. N., "will go to jail for contempt."

Detailing, as he has before, what he termed the technical difficulties of bringing espionage charges, he said it is probable that no espionage cases will be developed from the investigation of the New Jersey radar center.

The Democratic committee said its "truth kits" contain material on Democratic officials' activities against communism and "a Democratic Digest article showing how Sen. McCarthy has smeared many innocent persons, including Gen. George C. Marshall and President Eisenhower, himself."

U.S. Firm Is Given Egyptian Oil Rights

HOUSTON (AP)—A concession for oil prospecting in Egypt was announced yesterday by the Colorado Petroleum Corp., composed of the Continental Oil Co. of Houston, the Ohio Oil Co. of Finlay and the Amerasia Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla.

At Houston, a Continental spokesman said the concession will be for 30 years with an option for a 30-year renewal.

The 75,000-square mile area—larger than the state of Oklahoma—was described roughly as extending from Alexandria on the Nile to the Libyan border and inland about 200 miles, including territorial waters in the Mediterranean.

The Continental spokesman said exploration crews are expected to be sent into the area as soon as possible.

Conorado was organized about four years ago for the purpose of acquiring exploration and operating areas outside North America.

Sand Springs House Destroyed By Fire
A small house at Sand Springs was demolished by fire Thursday morning. Big Spring firemen were called to fight the blaze, but it had raged out of control by the time they arrived.

The fire occurred about 11:30 a.m., and firemen said a Lattin-American family resided in the house. The structure was written off on reports as a complete loss.

Bromfield Squabble Will Go Before Jury

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A dispute over an experimental farm between gentleman Louis Bromfield and the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce goes to jury trial here Monday.

Bromfield's attorneys asked a continuance yesterday. Dist. Judge Alan B. Haley denied the motion after a 2-hour hearing.

The wrangle centers on Malabar Farm, acquired several years ago by the chamber as an experimental spread.

In 1949 the chamber leased the farm to Bromfield, the Pulitzer Prize-winning author who has a model farm with the same name in Ohio. Bromfield, in partnership with Robert W. Hoge, took over Malabar. In 1951 R. F. Fuller joined the partnership.

In May, 1953, the chamber of commerce filed suit against all three, charging the farm was operated negligently. It claimed the farm reverted to the chamber under a provision in the deed that said negligent caretakers forfeit title.

The chamber also asked $50,000 in damages.

Last November the defendants filed a court suit against the chamber and 13 prominent Wichita County citizens. The cross-action asked $22,500 damages.

Bromfield's attorneys, Roy Calahan of Dallas and Larry Taylor of Fort Worth, said their client needed the continuance because of commitments. They said Bromfield will be in Brazil from Feb. 10 to March 10 in connection with another agricultural project.

H. W. Fillmore, attorney for the chamber, told the court: "I personally don't think Mr. Bromfield should be able to make this appearance in court at his convenience. Why, he has the effrontery to tell the court he has to go to Brazil and that when he returns he has some lectures before he will appear for trial."

He said there were Democrats "who hold their heads high and who refused to yield," but they were not numerous enough to "hold the lever that controlled the political destiny of a nation for 20 decades" and the result was "20 years of treason."

Exchanges Mark Income Tax Case

DALLAS (AP)—Sharp exchanges between government witnesses and defense attorneys marked the tax evasion trial of former Tarrant County Sheriff J. R. (Sully) Montgomery today as the case moved near the jury stage.

The former sheriff, tavern operator and night club bouncer is on trial before Federal Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson on charges of attempting to evade $5,515 in income taxes.

An earlier conviction and 7-year sentence in the same court was reversed by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

Revenue Service Agent Robert E. Baskett testified yesterday after a heated cross-examination that he built most of his evidence against Montgomery on records that the ex-sheriff furnished.

Montgomery's counsel contends that Baskett and other agents obtained the records through deceit and misrepresentation by assuring the former official they were making only a civil investigation.

A similar point was a factor in last week's acquittal in the same court of A. L. Wardlaw, former assistant district attorney in Tarrant County.

Baskett, regarded as the government's star witness, told Defense Atty. Clyde Hood he couldn't answer when Hood asked: "Would you say that you could have proved that Montgomery spent more than his reported income without the leads which he furnished?"

But Hood ticked off expenditures which the government says Montgomery made in the three-year period under question.

With the recitation of each expenditure, Hood asked: "Did you get your lead on this item from Montgomery's records?"

Finally Baskett testified: "I believe it would go over the 50 per cent mark—the majority mark."

Baskett heatedly denied he ever told Montgomery his investigations involved only civil matters. Once, after he asked Hood to repeat the same question several times, Hood angrily asked: "You can understand Mr. Floore's (U.S. Dist. Atty. Heard Floore) questions better than mine, can't you?"

"Yes, I have gone over Mr. Floore's question with him," answered the Internal Revenue Service agent.

"That's what I thought," Hood retorted.

IT HAPPENED

Too Hot To Handle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two bandits invaded a Chinese laundry last night. Proprietor Song Lee, 37, effectively resisted the intruders and gave police a clue which speedily led to an arrest.

Officers picked up Henry Leong, 19, dazedly running through a vacant lot six blocks away, carrying in his hand a .32 pistol. On his forehead was the unmistakable brand of the hot flat iron Song was using when interrupted.

Way Too Aroused

WHEELING, W. V. (AP)—Two months ago while trying a difficult pool shot Walter Floto broke his cue and the splintered end cut his hand. Five stitches were required.

Last Sunday Floto became excited when a member of his bowling team missed a triple-header strike by one pin. He grabbed hold of a wall coat hanger, somehow got entangled and pulled the hanger loose. He fell and broke a wrist.

"I guess I'm just too exuberant," Floto said.

Example Not Good

DETROIT (AP)—Alabama Deputy Sheriffs John E. Pitts and John H. Franklin, here to take home a robbery suspect, were tagged for illegal parking in front of the city jail. After explanations, they were forgiven.

Big State, Big Sample

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Secretary of State Howard Carney had an out-of-state request today for a "sample" of Texas from Miss Andrea Michalk of Minneapolis. She said she would prefer a horse.

"There must be some rancher who has so many he can spare me one," she wrote.

She enclosed 10 cents for postage.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—In one of this city's private kindergartens the teacher asked the students to write all the words they could think of that begin with "M."

Wrote 5-year-old Diane Ligon first: "Mmm-good."

Honesty Appreciated

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I'm writing this letter with great apology and hope you will understand."

An unsigned letter with $15 attached began with those words. Received Wednesday by the Seymour Warehouse Furniture Co., the letter continued:

"My son came home with a birthday gift for me. I couldn't understand where he got the money to buy such an expensive gift for me.

"He is a good boy and has never lied to me yet. So after questioning him, he told me he got an (electric) iron at your store and didn't pay for it.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

None of the members of the Klondike (Dawson County) chapter of the FFA have any livestock going to El Paso or the other major shows, but the boys have been plenty busy with their livestock-for-market program.

As we have mentioned before they have hog pens on the school grounds where they're engaged in feeding out hogs for the market using home grown grain and slop from the school cafeteria. Most of the grain they get is given them in the field by farmers in the area and the boys take off time after school to go out and head it and haul it in.

This market feeding is a chapter business project.

They are now feeding out 10 head of hogs and have 2,000 pounds of milt in their storage bin. Adrian Huckabee, the vocational agriculture teacher, says they have also ordered 100 baby chicks they're going to raise. They have added $375 to the chapter treasury from the sale of market pigs since September.

All over Dawson County the trend is toward the famous mortgage lifter -- market hogs.

W. T. Snellgrove, chairman of the Dawson Soil Conservation District, has signed the annual report of that SCD.

It shows 73 conservation plans written during the year of 1953; 440 co-operators applying for one or more practices; 7,388 acres contour farmed; 54,740 acres of cover crops planted; 7,506 acres of stubble mulching; 51 acres of pasture seeded; 40 farm irrigation systems installed; 3,007 acres irrigated by sprinklers; 140 acres put into level borders; 5,144 irrigated acres on which SCD and SCS assistance was given; seven irrigation reservoirs installed; 101 acres planted to rotation hay or pastures, and 105 miles of terraces built during the year.

25 In Special Voting Races

AUSTIN (AP)—The deadline for filing of candidates in five special legislative elections set for March 6 was passed at midnight Wednesday with 26 candidates in the five races.

Gov. Shivers called the elections to fill vacancies before the mid-March special session.

Candidates for two of the places apparently will be unopposed.

Charles D. Kirkham Jr. of Cloburne is the only entry in the election to name a representative from Hood, Somervell and Johnson counties.

Miss Maud Isaacks, an El Paso school teacher, is the only candidate for the House seat vacated by her father, S. J. Isaacks, who resigned last week because of poor health.

The possibility of new candidates remained, as filings post-marked to midnight last night will be accepted by the secretary of state's office.

Four candidates will bid for election to the House from Dist. 3, which includes Red River, Titus and Camp counties. They are George Ford of Bogota and Phene Williams, Vern Davis, and C. T. Neugent, all of Mount Pleasant.

A three-way race is scheduled between Martin R. Teichert of Walburg and Oliver D. Harris and O. H. (Muggie) Schram, both of Taylor, to become representative of Williamson County.

A mad scramble is in prospect in the election to fill Place 2 for Tarrant County. Seventeen candidates have filed.

Leukemia Patients To Try New Cures

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Patients hopelessly ill with leukemia in Dallas and Oklahoma City will get new anti-virus compounds being tested by the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

Dr. Max N. Huffman of the foundation said yesterday that use of the drugs will be based on the assumption that cancer may be a virus disease. Leukemia is known as cancer of the blood.

Two Boys Stabbed At Houston's Show

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Georgetown youths were stabbed in a fight between FFA boys who brought steers to the Houston Fat Stock Show and a group of Houston youths.

Officers said last night a 14-year-old boy has admitted the stabbings. Police said the melee started at the Houston Coliseum shortly before Wednesday midnight after an exchange of name-calling between the Georgetown group and the Houston boys. The latter wore their hair ducktail fashioned.

Officers said the visitors called the Houstonians "city slickers" and "quack quack." The Houston boys called the Georgetown youths "moo moo" and "brone busters."

Don Parker, 16, was stabbed in the back. The knife penetrated a kidney. He is hospitalized here. Mike Kilpatrick, 14, received a minor chest wound.

Girl Dies Cheering Brother's Cage Shot

PORT LEYDEN, N. Y., (AP)—Tumult shook the packed gym when David Sessions, 16-year-old sophomore, sank the basket that gave the Port Leyden Central School junior varsity a 27-26 win over West Leyden.

In the happy hysteria that swept the Port Leyden cheering section last night, a 17-year-old girl collapsed.

Sally Sessions, a senior, cheering her brother's winning shot, was given artificial resuscitation on the 45-mile ambulance ride to Watertown.

At the hospital she was pronounced dead of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Moscow Sees Imperialism In Superman And Buddies

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—Take it from the Soviet press, Captain Video, Buck Rogers, Flash Gordon and the rest of the U. S. space boys are up to no good. They're the vanguard of a new and greater "American imperialism" aimed at conquering other planets.

This is the judgment of one G. Avarin, writing in the Soviet periodical Art of the Cinema. His article is entitled "Hollywood Looks to the Future."

Even if the Americans can't get to those other planets yet, says Avarin, they're meanwhile using the space films to scare the U. S. taxpayer so badly he won't mind paying the bill for rearming. According to the Soviet writer, the destruction of New York shown in the movie "When Worlds Collide" is an attempt to give "the common American man a deadly fright and to justify the armaments race."

At least one space man isn't even a good actor in the Soviet view. Avarin described swimming star Buster Crabbe as "one of the nine pseudo-actors who played Tarzan in the Hollywood films." He told his readers Buster played Flash Gordon "quite colorlessly."

Avarin reported that Flash, Buck, Video, Superman and Bruce Gentry all "defeat the terrible 'Atom Man' and the 'superkiller' Cain who try to gain control of the world." Their films, he continued, "show all kinds of atomic, electric and thermo weapons, explosive flying discs, atom eyes, stratosplanes, cosmovibrators and other weapons of mass destruction."

The critic said such "atomists" as Bernard Baruch and the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal ordered Hollywood to launch the space campaign when America thought it had a monopoly on the atom bomb. The purpose: "to do everything possible to frighten the forces of peace and democracy with the United States atom bomb monopoly."

But when Russia exploded her bomb, Avarin continued, Hollywood entered a new phase. The movie men "foretold the inevitability of interplanetary wars and propagandized the idea of conquering the universe."

Scout Program Is Reviewed At Kiwanis Meet

Leadership is the key to success in any program, and especially in Boy Scout work, Kiwanis Club members were told at their luncheon meeting Thursday.

Speaker at the luncheon was W. T. McRee, now field executive of the Lone Star Boy Scout District.

He touched briefly on the history of the Scout movement in America, pointing out that interest in Scouting in this country gained rapidly when the frontiers as they were known in earlier days disappeared.

Many people were concerned, he said, because they feared that their children would not have opportunity for experience like those of the country's pioneers. Consequently Scouting grew rapidly in America.

McRee described leadership as all-important to the Scout program. Scoutmasters in particular must set an example for members of their respective troops, he said.

"Any man should regard it as a high compliment to be called upon to serve as a Scoutmaster," McRee declared.

At the outset of the program, McRee asked leaders of the Kiwanis sponsored Troop No. 3 to stand for special recognition.

The speaker was introduced by W. D. Berry, former Scoutmaster who currently serves as the Kiwanis Club's institutional representative in Scouting.

Indian Finds Treaty Doesn't Mean Scalps

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The secretary of state has forbade a St. Regis Indian from engaging in scalping operations without a barber's license.

Thomas J. Curran reported yesterday that Peter Lazore of Hogsburg, near the Canadian border, had been fined $50 for barbering without a license.

Lazore based his defense on a 1790 treaty between his tribe and the federal government permitting braves of the St. Regis tribe to hunt and fish without licenses.

The State Department insisted that the pact did not apply to operations on the scalp. Peace Justice Nigel Leclair of Bombay agreed and Lazore was fined.

Hawks Face Rugged Going This Week

Critical times are immediately ahead of the HCJC Jayhawks. The Big Spring collegians departed this morning on a two-game road trip that will decide how long their season extends.

Harold Davis' Hawks play Amarillo in Amarillo tonight, then move on over to Clarendon Saturday for a second West Zone game.

The Hawks are tied with Odessa and Amarillo for second place in Zone standings, each with a record of two wins and two losses.

HC has lost to Frank Phillips and Odessa while winning from Amarillo and Clarendon. The latter game was played under protest by Don Loyd, Clarendon coach, who based his claim on the failure of the appointed referees to show up.

Amarillo has always been tough for the Hawks to handle at home. The Hawks beat the Badgers by only two points here last month and Coach Davis figures they'll have to really be "on their game" to keep pace with the Amarilloans.

Amarillo will depend principally upon tall Tom Boyd and Cecil Holloway to fence in the Hawks. Boyd tossed in 42 points in a recent game against Odessa.

Jerald Farmer, HCJC captain, is ailing but made the trip. He was treated for the flu Thursday morning.

The Hawks have been strengthened by the addition of Jack Williams, a 6-1 speedster from Clovis, N. M., (by way of Sayre, Okla., J.C.), however, Williams joined the locals at mid-term.

The Hawks need wins over both Amarillo and Clarendon to retain their chance to finish first in the Zone, a spot now occupied by Frank Phillips of Borger.

They need to finish either first or second in the standings in order to win a trip to the State Meet, which takes place next month.

Often Billy is on the sidelines in the third period reserving his sledge-hammer blows while teammates carry the burden of the Longhorn attack. Then when the going gets roughest, he deserts the bench to tag on the telling blows in the tough games.

This status has been attained through these feats:

1. Against Alabama, Powell came off the bench in the second half to score 16 of his 17 points and to break the game wide open.

2. The following night Arkansas forced the Longhorns into overtime. With only a few seconds left in the extra period and the Steers trailing by two points, Powell drew a pair of foul shots. He converted the first but missed the second. The ball bounced right back to him, however, and he jumped and fired the winning basket.

3. Texas was having exceptional difficulty with Texas A&M at College Station until Powell swung into action. In the last four minutes, he scored six points and provided the Longhorns with a working margin that enabled them to outlast the stubborn Aggies.

4. Billy sank Rice in the last six minutes and 20 seconds with 11 of the last 18 points Texas scored.

5. Although he wasn't around for the climactic finish, Powell tallied eight crucial points against Houston last week in the final 2:25 of the third period and the first two minutes of the fourth quarter.

To confuse opponents, Powell occasionally alters tactics as he did against SMU this week, hitting the first three points of the game and adding three more before the first quarter was completed. Afterwards, he got in trouble on fouls and eventually was forced to the sidelines.

What strategy he will use in the Baylor game a Waco Saturday night is a moot question, but one thing is certain, he wants to beat the Bears more than any other team, for Baylor has defeated the Longhorns two years in succession at Waco. Too, he regards the contest as a crucial game for the Steers' championship quest and he knows the Bears will be fired over last fall's football loss to the Longhorns.

As a junior last season, Powell was Texas' second leading scorer with 214 points. His performance rated him a berth on the all-Southwest Conference team. Currently, Powell is hitting a little over his 1953 average. He has 162 points for a 10.8 mark.

Billy loves rebounding, and although the statistics don't show it, he is a tremendous value to Texas in obtaining possession of the ball. He ranks a close third in that phase, but as in his point-making, he gets the rebounds at the crucial times.

A co-captain this year, Billy's play has been a major factor in Texas' success. His performances against Alabama and Arkansas in the pre-season WSC tournament rated him a second team berth on the all-tournament team.

Powell finishes his career this season and obtains his degree in education in June. If he is not called into service, he plans to launch a coaching career. It is easy to predict success for him, because he has been so successful as a player at Brackenridge High School in San Antonio and at Texas.

Steers' Billy Powell Makes Shots Count

AUSTIN (SC) — He counts at the finish! That is the best way to describe the contributions Billy Powell has made to the University of Texas' basketball success this season.

D. X. Bible, Texas athletic director, coined the now-famous phrase that "it's the finish that counts," and the San Antonio redhead is living it.

Often Billy is on the sidelines in the third period reserving his sledge-hammer blows while teammates carry the burden of the Longhorn attack. Then when the going gets roughest, he deserts the bench to tag on the telling blows in the tough games.

A co-captain this year, Billy's play has been a major factor in Texas' success. His performances against Alabama and Arkansas in the pre-season WSC tournament rated him a second team berth on the all-tournament team.

Powell finishes his career this season and obtains his degree in education in June. If he is not called into service, he plans to launch a coaching career. It is easy to predict success for him, because he has been so successful as a player at Brackenridge High School in San Antonio and at Texas.

west Conference team. Currently, Powell is hitting a little over his 1953 average. He has 162 points for a 10.8 mark.

Billy loves rebounding, and although the statistics don't show it, he is a tremendous value to Texas in obtaining possession of the ball. He ranks a close third in that phase, but as in his point-making, he gets the rebounds at the crucial times.

Alex Monchak, who owns up to having been around three score and five years but who probably aged ten years the last season he managed Roswell (1952), will mastermind the Portsmouth entry in the Piedmont League this season.

Last year Al boosed the Lexington club in the Tar Heel League. At Portsmouth, he succeeded Bob Ankrum.

One thing that probably hastened A. D. (Shadow) Ensey's departure as general manager of the Odessa baseball club was the fact that the Oilers didn't realize a thing out of two of their star pitching graduates, Ray Knoblauch and Al Sokolowski.

Had the two stuck around last year, the Oilers would probably have finished in first place again rather than bring up the rear, as was the case.

The Lincoln, Neb., club of the Western League will condition in Corpus Christi this spring.

Corpus' Big State League entry has, by the way, been renamed the "Clippers."

I'm hoping the powers-that-be select a new nickname for the local baseball club.

In the past, local pro teams have been identified as Bombers, Barons and Broncs. Sports writers around the state often thought you were referring to the Odessa entry when you called them the Broncs, simply because the Odessa High School athletic team go by that name.

Didja know? The Cincinnati Redlegs of the National League tramped in Cisco in 1921 and in Mineral Wells the following year.

The Chicago Pale Hose used Mineral Wells as a spring base both in 1918 and '19.

The football equipment of the Big Spring High School Steers is being repaired by the Lubbock concern headed by Pat Pattison, until recently the Lubbock High School mentor.

Recently, the basketball coach of the Los Angeles State College had his players write essays on "What Is Wrong With Basketball." He found they all agreed there should be a limit on the height of players.

One boy set the limit at 6-foot-7. How tall is he? Why, 6-7.

Brick Johnson, the Big Spring High School grizzer, says he has astigmatism and may be forced to wear glasses next fall. He allows as how the cheaters will help him find his way in a broken field.

Buddy Baer, who fought Joe Louis a couple of times, says he's deserting the film colony to become a wrestler.

Going to take a real course in dramatics, huh?

Bobby Maines Ranks Third In Rebounds For Miners

EL PASO (SC) — The Texas Western Miners put their two-game Border Conference win-streak to a severe road-test this weekend in a three-game swing through the rugged Texas end of the league.

On successive nights, the Orediggers will meet the two teams expected to battle it out for the BC basketball championship. They tackle West Texas State Friday in Canyon, then move into Lubbock Saturday to try their luck against Texas Tech.

Next Monday, George McCarty's inexperienced—but rapidly improving—squad will meet what shapes up as more equal competition, tangling with the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in Abilene.

The Miners dropped a 57-56 decision to the Cowboys here several weeks ago in a scramble which pointed up the relative inexperience of the two quintets. Both of which have demonstrated marked improvement since.

In Canyon, the Orediggers will be out to avenge a 60-52 setback. They'll be meeting Tech's Red Raiders for the first time this season Saturday.

New standing 2-2 for their four conference games to date, the Miners will be out to build an impressive string of wins over BC foes. In their last two outings, they've defeated the University of Arizona (75-57) and Arizona State (83-69).

Coach McCarty expects to take a 13-man squad on the West Texas jaunt. Included will be Gene Majors, Bobby Maines of Big Spring, Billy Gregory, Jim Babers, A. J. Mason, Dick McAlpine, Ned Moore, Chuck Gallagher, Alvis Glidewell, Ray Stevens, Harlan Cansler, Herbert Slaughter and Elwin McDowell.

Majors, junior transfer student from Eastern Oklahoma A&M Junior College, still leads Miner scoring for the season. Maines, dead-eye transfer from Howard County Junior College, has bettered his second-place position in recent games.

BRYANT TAKES AGGIE POST

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—Paul Bear Bryant, noted re-builder of football fortunes, comes here next week to start doing a job on the sagging Texas Aggies at the highest salary ever paid a coach in Aggie-land—$15,000 a year.

The handsome, personable coach of Kentucky yesterday accepted a six-year contract and will succeed Ray George as head man of football and also will take over the job of athletic director.

A & M obtained Bryant after a month's search during which it raised its sights from a three-year contract at $12,000 a year to the proposition that could lure the big fellow from a top job at Kentucky. He had nine years to go on his contract there and Kentucky was paying him as salary variously placed at $12,000 to $17,000 a year.

George, who in three years as head coach at $10,500 a year won 12 games while losing 14 and tying 4, resigned Jan. 4 amid rumblings of discontent from the alumni.

A&M hasn't won a Southwest Conference championship since 1941.

Bryant pulled Maryland from the doldrums in 1945 with a 6-2 record, then moved to Kentucky where, in eight years, he won 60 games, lost 23 and tied 5, and had his team in four bowl games. His first year at Kentucky saw him compile a 7-3 record—the best at the school in 34 years. He won the Southeastern Conference championship in 1950.

All told some 45 men were considered for the job here but most of them eliminated themselves from consideration. When it was offered to Bryant yesterday, there was only one applicant on the list—Mike Michalske, line coach of the Aggies.

Bryant was given a free rein in naming his assistants and he also will say whether Barlow Irvin, the present athletic director, stays in the athletic department.

Assistant coaches are Michalske; Bill Duncan, end coach, and Willie Zapala, freshman coach. Two assistants—backfield coach Gil Steinkamp and offensive coach Dalton Faircloth—have quit in the past six weeks. Steinkamp became coach at Texas A&I College and Faircloth coach at Greenville, Tex., high school.

At Lexington, Ky., Bryant, in resigning as Kentucky coach, said he was coming to A&M for two reasons:

"When we played at A&M (in 1952) I was tremendously impressed, particularly by the spirit of the student body" and "I think it presents certain challenges that appeal to me."

Kentucky was one of four teams A&M defeated last season. The Aggies beat the Wildcats, 7-6, in an early season game.

Bryant is due to arrive here in about a week. Spring football has been scheduled to start Feb. 15 but he may postpone it so he can contact high school athletes during the Southwest Conference's "letter of intent" or contract period.

George had a 5-3-2 record in 1951, 3-6-1 in 1952 and 4-5-1 last year. His most notable accomplishment was beating arch rival, Texas, in 1951—the only time A&M has won over Texas in 14 years.

Giardello And Cartier Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—The fight in the Garden tonight suggests that old bromide about "the kid with a future" and "the vet at the crossroads."

The "kid" in this case is 23-year-old Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, the No. 2 challenger to middleweight champion Bobo Olson. The "vet" is 29-year-old Walter Cartier of New York, no longer listed among the top 10 of his division.

Both radio (ABC) and television (NBC) will carry the 10-round match nationally at 10 p.m., EST. Giardello is a 2 to 1 favorite. Giardello showed unexpected punching power in his last start, Jan. 8, when he stopped Garth Paater, who never had been stopped before. Joey claims he used to be "chickens" about putting away an opponent but has now turned into a real "tiger." He has a record of 13 knockouts in 62 bouts.

TEE TIPS

Champ - Rainwater made 13 straight pars on a recent round at the Big Spring Country Club, despite the fact that he hadn't played in several weeks because of a sore shoulder. . . Or, perhaps his score could be credited to the lay-off. . . Some of the best scores turned in at the Country Club last weekend were James Underwood's 75, Billie Dillon's 79, Jack Cook's 80, Marvin Wise's 80 (although he had two out-of-bounds shots), Bud Purser's 83 and Avery Falkner's 83. . . Stormy Edwards turned up with a 40 for nine holes.

Rev. Cecil Rhodes, Rev. Warren Stowe, Rev. Carlos McLeod and Dr. P. D. O'Brien are among the golfing persons who play regularly at the country club at the Munny Course. . . Dr. O'Brien and Dr. J. E. Hogan, are making plans to attend the Texas Open at San Antonio. . . Billy Maxwell, the one-time National Amateur links champion and a member of a prominent local golfing family, is due to get his release from the Army sometime this year. . . He's at Camp Hood. . . His twin brother, Bobby, is at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Tris Reed, Big Spring Country Club member, is sporting a new set of woods, irons and bag while Obie Bristow has equipped himself with new clubs and a bag. . . Country Club Pro C. A. DeWees says the high school is going to field a fine team this spring, picking from the ranks of such lads as Charles Long III, James Underwood, Roland McKenzie, Bobby Bluhm, Stormy Edwards and Frank Powell. . . He says Edwards has cut his score from the high 80's to the low 80's in four months and says Long is developing equally as fast. . .

The Country Club plans to water its fairways next summer, which, all agree, will make a big difference in the entire course. . . Members also hope to have a swimming pool by the time the hot weather comes on. . . City maintenance men are helping improve the Munny Course by raking the fairways and hauling off the rocks every chance they get. . . Many officials say the recently-opened front nine is being patronized a lot more than the back nine. . . Due to the many white rocks on the Munny Course, linksters lose their share of balls but schoolboys organize hunting parties and retrieve most of them from time to time, using the finds as practice balls.

Pro DeWees' word for the day: "You will never look up and see a good shot, so keep your head down."

Sooner A&M Gains New Stature After 59-51 Win

NEW YORK (AP)—The Oklahoma A&M Cowboys are making certain they won't be left on the sidelines when the Western Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament opens at their home court in Stillwater next month.

Eighth Graders Lick Crockett

Big Spring Junior High basketball quintets split two games with aggregations from Crockett Junior High of Odessa here Thursday night.

The Eighth Graders won, 24-23, in a real thriller. In order to finish in front, the Yearlings had to outscore the visitors by five points in the final period.

Playing without Jimmy Bice, the Big Spring Ninth Graders lost, 55-40, in the other game.

Jan Shuren paced the Big Spring Eighth Graders with 15 points. Merle Dean Harter led the Ninth Graders with 12.

The Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Grade clubs visit Midland for games with Cowden Junior High this afternoon. The first game is down for 4:30 p.m.

Texas Seeks Sixth In Row

By The Associated Press
All members of the Southwest Conference roll into action on basketball courts Saturday night with six schools engaged in loop competition.

Leading Texas, with five straight conference victories tucked away, meets the challenging Baylor Bears on the Bruins' own court.

Texas will be favored, but the Bears will be out for an upset.

Resurgent Texas Christian, in the midst of a drive after a mediocre start, plays host to the once-promising Arkansas Razorbacks in Fort Worth. Not many persons will pick the Hogs to win against Buster Brannon's crew.

Southern Methodist, playing winless Texas A&M at Dallas, will be an odds-on favorite in the other conference game.

Rice, ranked as high as 11th in nation earlier in the season, is expected to have little trouble against Stephen F. Austin State in a non-conference go at Huntsville.

Track Meet Carded For Aggie Field

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Mexico's national trade team meets Texas A&M College in a dual meet here Feb. 20.

All regular events plus the 400-meter hurdles and hop, step and jump will be run. Competition will be in metric distances under Olympics rules.

struggle. The victory was the Aggies' fourth without a loss in league play and put the second black mark against the Wheatshockers' conference hopes. Wichita has lost only three times in 22 starts, but two of the defeats have come against Missouri Valley foes.

Wichita made it tough all the way for the Oklahomaans and led Layups by Clayton Carter and V. R. Darnhouse helped decide the issue in favor of the Aggies.

Cleo Littleton of the losers was high man with 24 points against 21 by Bob Mattick of A&M.

The Aggies, ranked fifth in the latest Associated Press poll, now have an 18-1 record.

Kentucky and Western Kentucky, along with Duquesne the nation's only remaining unbeaten teams, both extended their streaks last night. Kentucky, No. 1 in the country, trampled Georgia, 106-55, for its 120th consecutive home victory with Frank Ramsey scoring 20 points. Kentucky has won 15 games this season.

Walters found Stetson of Florida unexpectedly tough but triumphed, 81-63, for No. 21, equalling the school's longest winning streak. Tom Marshall scored 17 points in the final quarter to assure the verdict.

Eighth-ranking Duke was held to its lowest total of the season by North Carolina in winning 63-47.

Furman's Frank Selvy increased his own all-time major college basketball scoring record to 1,946 points with a 42-point display in New York as his team defeated Manhattan, 92-80. Selvy broke the all-time Madison Square Garden record for foul shooting as he sank 16 of 19 and his total was high for the current season.

Defense-minded Maryland Washington and Lee to seven field goals in scoring a 51-25 decision, one of the lowest one-team totals in a major college game this season.

Woman Wounded By Berserk Husband Dies

Mrs. Jack Strachan of Simms, Tex., mother of eight children, died of a bullet wound in the head.

Faculty Frolics To Delight Of Audience

Faculty members cast off the restraints of dignity and austerity Thursday evening and packed the house for the first showing of the Faculty Frolics of 1954.

Final round of the varied entertainment will get under way at 7:30 p. m. today in the high school auditorium.

The frolics turned out to be a cavalcade of corn, but the product was well roasted and delightfully seasoned. There were "meller-dramers," music, pantomime, and a flock of skits along with a male style show. The latter, using high school faculty members as models, got the intended reaction, so much so that Mrs. Nancy Annen's fashion commentary over the speaker system was at times drowned out. Coach Carl Coleman, sporting a figure that shouldn't happen in female clothing, was given a rousing ovation.

In all there were 15 parts to the program, not counting announcements by Dell McComb, commentaries, etc. While several of the sequences might have been trimmed sharply to advantages, the over-all length of the program was not such as to be wearing. Teachers packed a bargain night package into two hours—a considerable achievement.

Half the fun was in seeing personalities one recognized, but who were in totally different roles. Of course, the children got a tremendous bang out of it, and parents went away with their quota of smiles.

There was a "recording" string band with costuming colorful enough to carry pantomime, and a gay ninety duet by Avon Wilche and Betty Joyce Gray which was dubbed in well. Central Ward had a melodrama that had amply mellowed but brought back memories; Junior high had a lively square dance.

East Ward came up with some wonderful costuming for its wedding routine, and West Ward had an unusual twist to its Hypo-Psycho Analyst skit. John B. Hardy dreamed, sometimes with animation, as his reveries were paraded in the Washington Place stunt. South Ward came up with the old favorite, imperishable "Little Nell." Another oldtimer, but with good settings and costuming, was the "No Trains Today" by North Ward.

Joann Thompson turned out to be a fancy twirler who was ambidextrous with her antics as she performed against a "Dark Town Strutters" group for West Ward. The flivver routine of Park Hill was combined with a dialogue with Betty Gray and got a good hand. Kate Morrison schools did a Sunday afternoon plaza scene with Frank Marin's band furnishing music and teachers and pupils the strollers and folk dancers.

'Most Wanted' Man Finds Neighbors Take Up For Him

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alex R. Bryant, 48, was listed as one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives before his recent capture. But now nearly 100 neighbors and business associates want him.

They want him to stay here with his wife and baby in the suburban cottage on Mt. Washington, where his attorney says Bryant has led an exemplary life for nearly two years.

The wife, Mrs. Gladys Lawson, says the 100 friends and neighbors have signed two petitions to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight asking him to deny a request for extradition.

Mrs. Lawson married Bryant 18 months ago under his assumed name, Edward Lawson. She still insists on using the name Lawson. They have a daughter, 5 months old.

Bryant escaped from Michigan State Prison in January 1952 after serving 22 years of a life sentence for a series of robberies committed in 1929, when he was 24 years old. Prior to that he had served a reformatory term on a rape charge.

Mrs. Lawson said yesterday a lot more signatures are anticipated, and added: "I think he is beginning to feel a little hope. He was so hopeless, before."

"We the undersigned," reads one of the petitions, "believe that Ed Lawson should go free after he has been free for two years and has obeyed all the laws. We are the people he would have to live among and feel he is perfectly safe. We are all mothers and fathers and we feel our children are as safe around him as in our own living rooms or our own arms."

Bryant, after his escape, came west and got a job as a truck spotter for a trucking firm. He met Gladys and married her in Las Vegas, Nev. He never told her anything about his prison past. The first she heard of it was from newsmen, after the law caught up with him Jan. 26.

Federal officers arrested him on a fugitive warrant from Michigan. He was arraigned Wednesday and remanded to the sheriff to await extradition.

It is estimated that the population of the Roman Empire about 30 A. D. was about 55 million.

Kite Flyers Are Cautioned

Texas Electric Service Company appealed today to parents to caution their children about flying kites near electric wires.

"The windy season brings kite flying time and this traditional sport is one that is lots of fun for children if it is done safely," R. L. Beale, Texas Electric Service Company manager, pointed out. "Many youngsters don't realize the dangers in this innocent pastime if certain safety rules are not observed, the most important of which is to never fly kites where there is the possibility of them getting tangled in electric power lines."

Other dangerous practices in connection with kite flying include using metallic cord or wire for the kite string, making the kite frame of metal, flying kites in the rain when even a cotton kite string can become a dangerous conductor of electricity and trying to retrieve a kite in case it does get caught in electric wires, Beale stated.

"Local youngsters who fly kites have been careful and cooperative in the past and we've had no serious mishaps in several years, but each year, over the nation, there are many cases of injuries to kite flyers," Beale said. "If kites are made right and flown right, kite flying is an enjoyable, wholesome sport."

To further impress children that safety is all-important in kite flying, Texas Electric Service Company is providing posters for all school bulletin boards and announcements for school principals.
