Lighthouse Keeper Takes Food To Aides

Rough Seas Prevent Return With Supplies Three Days

GALVESTON, Dec. 3. (UP)—E. K. Wakefield, keeper of the South Jetty Lighthouse, this morning started in a small boat with provisions for two assistants marooned in a lighthouse three days by heavy seas. It was believed that Wakefield had reached the lighthouse safely, as the gulf was calmer today. Coast guards operating out of this port were unable to deliver food yesterday because of rough seas. Wakefield came to Galveston three days ago for supplies. He reported that his assistants had nothing to eat but a little flour.

Home Town Talk by Betty

Will, come on down and see the bright lights tonight. The old town's going to bloom at night. Yeah, going to get all lit up.

In other words the formal opening of the holiday shopping season and unveiling of window displays of the stores is going to be held. The band's going to play. Everybody is going to have a chance to vote on the best window display in town. The Settles is going to put on a real function afterward.

Be downtown at 7:30 o'clock sharp. It's going to be the biggest window-shopping, expedition a town ever went on.

And, in the morning all the stores will be set to fill your Christmas needs—or any other kind of needs.

Word from San Angelo has it that those of the Concho town who came over for the game a week ago certainly had a good time. The Crawford, their headquarters, was jammed all day, and Cal Boykin did his stuff as best—which he does in a big way every time.

A lot depends upon the hotel men when it comes to making victrols go home with a kindly feeling toward the town. Our hotel men certainly do their parts.

Rockne Six Makes Appearance

Above is a view of one of the Rockne Six models announced to the American motoring public Tuesday by Rockne Motors Corporation, headed by Albert E. Erskine, Studebaker chief executive and George M. Graham. The car is named in honor of Knute Rockne, noted football coach, who was a sales representative for Studebaker when he was killed in an airplane accident.

DETROIT, Dec. 1.—The mystery Rockne, the man, should be so brilliantly reflected and recalled Subjected to intense speculation by as fine an automobile as the since its veiled announcement to the trade by George M. Graham several months ago, the car was revealed as a project of the wealthy, successful and eighty-year-old Studebaker Corporation.

Concurrent announcements from Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker chief executive, and Mr. Graham, vice-president of Rockne Motors Corporation, made known the reason for the name, the sponsorship of the project, a roster of executives and complete specifications and details of the product.

"This new car will be called the Rockne Six in honor of a man who was our business associate," said Mr. Erskine. "Knute Rockne had been associated with Studebaker's sales organization for several years. He was to have been vice-president of Rockne Motors Corporation, had he lived. It was his intention to give up active football direction after the 1931 season.

"It seems to be highly fitting that the finest qualities of Knute

Rockne, the man, should be so brilliantly reflected and recalled that augur for quick success, it was declared.

The fundamental principle of the Rockne Six is the introduction of quality in the low price field. The car includes features that either are unavailable in competitive automobiles, or can be had only at additional cost.

Beautiful, aerodynamic styling, predicting tomorrow's motor fashions, mechanical advances never before grouped in an automobile of its price class and an astonishingly low price are outstanding features. The car is expected to be a sensation at the New York Show.

"We know that no other automobile at anywhere near the price of the Rockne Six has been so generously endowed with beauty, roominess, performance and mechanical perfection," said Mr. Graham. "The cars at the show will substantiate our claims beyond all doubt. We are confident the American motorist will make a revision of his ideas of motor car values.

"The Rockne Six enters a highly competitive field. Our product must have distinct advantages over its competition if it is to be a success. We have abundantly supplied these advantages.

"Not only will this car represent a value triumph over its price class, but it will offer the motorist practically every feature found in cars priced around $1,000. Thus, the depression-hit owner, who has $1,000 price class demands, but a purse that is somewhat depleted, will find nearly everything he wants in a line of cars in the $600 and $700 class."

80 Per Cent of Disease May Be Traced Directly to Mouth, Teeth

Local Dentist Tells Rotary Club

The following address was given before the Big Spring Rotary club at its regular meeting held Tuesday noon at the Settles Hotel by Dr. E. O. Ellington, well-known dentist of this city:

Sir William Osler, several years ago, stated that more human suffering was caused by defective teeth than by alcohol and he never minimized the suffering caused by that drug. The Mayo Brothers, famous surgeons of Rochester, Minnesota, are quoted as having said that 80 per cent of all diseases that the human body is heir to are directly traceable to mouth and teeth. Booker T. Washington, the colored educator, once said: "If I can teach the negro the gospel of the tooth brush I feel that I can make a man of him."

The general practitioner of medicine will concur in the statement that all general disease has as a fundamental factor, malnutrition. The significance is that defective teeth and malnutrition are almost invariably, a hand-in-hand proposition. Specialists in the treatment of tuberculosis constantly say that it is almost impossible to arrest or cure this disease if the mouth is not in good condition. The mouth is the "gateway" to the body and the teeth perform the first step in digestion. If, due to lack of teeth or to the presence of abscessed or broken-down teeth, this first step is not properly accomplished it is readily understood that the rest of the digestive processes are overburdened either by lack of thorough mastication or by contamination by the poisonous products of the diseased mouth.

Figures gathered as a result of medical inspection in Pennsylvania

during the last several years have told us that 70 per cent of the school children in Pennsylvania have dental defects. This 70 per cent dental defects is more than all other physical defects combined which include flat feet, bad eyes, ears, nose, throat, heart, lungs, etc. These figures bear out a statement made long ago that dental caries or tooth decay is the most prevalent disease to mankind.

The above facts are not new and have resulted in the establishment of dental clinics in large numbers throughout the United States. Some of these clinics have been in existence for twelve or fifteen years or long enough to judge as to their efficiency and those in position to know make this assertion—"That while the dental clinic has been of great service; it is entirely adequate to meet the problem at hand." Preventive service rather than corrective is the real solution of the dental defect problem and education is the logical method of prevention.

There are a number of methods that are practical to use in educating both children and the general public. Experience in Bridgeport, Connecticut, where in a period of five years the number of cavities found in school children's mouths was reduced 50 percent by the use of a special trained worker called a "Dental Hygienist" (they now employ 25 dental hygienists in the Bridgeport schools) and from the experience of about 75 local school dentists in Pennsylvania where the Dental Hygienist has been employed, this method seems to be the most practical. The dental hygienist is a young woman trained to clean teeth. She does not extract nor does she fill. She does not even make a definite diagnosis. She simply cleans teeth, but she is more than a scrubber of teeth in that she teaches the child both individually in the classroom, the HOW, WHY and WHEN of the toothbrush and fundamentally what to eat and how to eat it, also giving some instructions on principles of general hygiene. A dental hygienist having, first, the spirit of service to humanity, and, second, vision to see her possibilities as a general health worker, has a greater opportunity to improve general health conditions of a community than any other class of social service in existence.

Children
The dental hygienist has an approach to the child which is entirely different from any that other health and welfare workers have. First, she has the child alone, often for his first experience in a dental chair. In the hands of a tactful and careful hygienist, the child has the surprise of a pleasant experience in the dental chair instead of one of suffering, as anticipated from intuition and hearsay. This pleasant surprise wins the child's confidence. The hygienist then can exert an influence over the child along dental and general hygiene lines, as well as in giving instruction in proper diet.

The dental hygienist has proved herself to be not only a cleaner of teeth, but also a molder of good habits in children.

The dental hygiene demonstration unit of the Pennsylvania department of health sometime ago was giving a demonstration in a town of about 5000 population. The first child presenting himself for a prophylaxis was one of the dirtiest urchins imaginable. He approached the dental hygienist in a rather fresh and insolent way saying, "I want my teeth cleaned." The dental hygienist upon observing his general contribution of uncleanliness said in a tactful way, "I cannot work for you, you are too dirty," but she took the lad by the ear and lead him to a convenient washstand and began to talk to him about cleaning up. It wasn't long before the boy grabbed the nail brush and soap and tried to remove the dirt from underneath his finger nails. He shampooed his hair and washed back of his ears. It was an unusual procedure I assure you. He came back and sat down in her chair and she cleaned his teeth talking to him all the while trying to interest him in himself. His teacher came into the room during this operation to observe what was going on. When the boy was dismissed from the chair, he turned to the hygienist without being prompted and said "thank you." Without exaggeration that teacher's eyes became saucer-like. She turned to the director of the demonstration and said in these words, "that kid has been in my room nine months and that is the first sign of courtesy I have ever seen him show." The above example proves that boys and girls will behave better if they have clean teeth. This statement was made once before a group of dentists. One of the dentists present said after the hearing this statement, "I think I have been well repaid for coming tonight. I have learned something worthwhile. My own boy has been talked to and punished in every conceivable way and still I cannot make him behave. I am going home now and clean his teeth."

Volunteers
Another method of educating, especially the children, is by local dentists volunteering to give lectures and make examination of the teeth for the local school children. Still another method of doing educational work along this line is by stimulation of the teachers to promote interest among the children under their charge in regular brushing of the teeth and the practice of other hygiene principles. An example of this is given by the work of Rotary club of McKeesport, where, during a six weeks period members of the club after having been given proper instructions were assigned to the various school buildings of the city and spent, at least, one-half day a week in giving instructions in toothbrush drills and general hygiene to both teachers and pupils. In an inspection of 2800 school children of McKeesport made by a member of the state health department recently but four pairs of dirty hands were found. During his tour of inspection as he left each room he was given a chatauga salute by the children an done hundred per cent of the handkerchiefs were clean, and the condition of the children's hair and clothing was excellent. The teachers interviewed were enthusiastic over the results of this campaign by the Rotary club and without exception made the statement that the department and application to studies was very much improved. As a result of the work of the Rotary club, the school board of this city is planning to put on a specially trained paid worker to carry on in this service permanently.

There is another method of educating which is being used quite successfully particularly in Virginia which applies to the rural districts. There the state department of health operates a number of corrective dental clinic units on a cooperative basis with the local rural school districts, these clinics charging a minimum fee, which is possible, for all service rendered and, by this means, they are carrying dental service to otherwise practically inaccessible localities. The fundamental principle involved in assuring children of future generations good teeth, and healthy bodies is in the teaching of proper diet. If we eat exactly what we should the way we should, it would not be necessary to talk about the care of the teeth nor would we be much concerned over general disease. Animals do not have tooth brushes nor do they have toothache and again living in their natural environment, animals do not suffer from general diseases; they die a death of either violence or of old age, and when they die of old age, they do not give out in any one part or junction, but rather break down simultaneously all over just like "The One Hoss Shay" of poetic fame. The modern human machine does not go that way and that it is usually the chewing apparatus that gives out first.

Mr. Hoover And 1932

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON of California, the non-conformist Republican, was quoted by Chicago reporters the other day as having suggested that President Hoover
step out of the election race.

"The decision of Mr. Coolidge not to become a candidate next year,"
said Senator Johnson, "will be the highest praise of the American people. If Mr. Hoover were to make a like decision, he would have the undying gratitude of the rank and file of the republican party."

Senator Johnson was not a supporter of the Coolidge administration.
Indeed, it can almost be said that Senator Johnson never supported any administration. He is strongly in favor of Hiram Johnson of California.

But what he says about Mr. Hoover undoubtedly strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of millions of a publican voters. Mr. Hoover never has been an open party man for years. It was an open debate whether he was a republican or a democrat. Developments of the past two years in the economic condition of the country have not helped Mr. Hoover politically. Whether he is guilty or not guilty of contributing to the depression, it is a fact that he gets the blame for it all the same, and that blame will be expressed in action at the ballot box next year.

About the only way Mr. Hoover could hope to be re-elected would be for the country to stage a retrogressive evening recovery of the demerit to put a monumental blunder and nominate someone who would not have the united support of the democrats and would not be able to carry the nation out of demerit. It is a fact that are anxious to desert the Hoover banner.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Teachers

SAN ANGELO STATED:
TEACHERS here at once expressed their opinion on the question of whether they should oppose the proposed bill for prohibition.

They thought sports centers publicizing individuals on football teams
might be one of the reasons for too much emphasis on football. They are in assuming that the sports editor
is merely a by-product of the emphasis that is placed on athletics.
He might contribute something to popular recreation, but does not the sports part of the athletic situation.
Rather it lies with those who want to commercialize the game and are doing it by hiring football players.
It is common practice and is bad for the schools and the cause of education. Athletics has been overdone in that emphasis has been laid on football. Proper development of intellectual spirit and of physical systems would be highly beneficial
under the present system, the best method that is physically best is taken for the football team and is overdeveloped. The boys and girls that need the development haven't been getting it. Schools need some of the old army system, where everybody
would get regular setting-up exercises and proper physical development. Athletics should not be for certain boys only, but for all. School might get away from the strenuous
in athletics to develop a moderate program that would be far more helpful.

The present system of football
emphasis even in dulling moral values when these are overdone to develop the team regardless of the price and questionable methods.

Education toward peace and prohibition is the only hope of our schools here. Schools have overemphasized war about as the public has emphasized football, and the result in either case has been to popularize the thing not the most desirable.

War is costly, peace is profitable.
It should be the duty to incite
the study of peace when its results
are fully understood.

The check of prohibition and yet propaganda. Sunday morning

all, let alone the youth who did not have opportunity to see the beneficial effects of the saloon. Impartial consideration of this problem throughout the facts that are everywhere available ought to leave prohibition to the same minds of developing youth.
The issue can't be settled now, it will be settled in the hands of the generation now reaching voting age.

HOW'S your HEALTH

TATTOO MARKS

Beauty and tattoo marks are only skin deep, but even so the first is hard to acquire, so in the second hard to get rid of.

The youthful adventurer may think of the bleeding heart, the full rigged ship or the hissing reper as an essential decoration of the free roaming soul.

Time, however, has a settling effect upon most things.
And so, later when the glitter of adventure has been somewhat tarnished by experience, the erstwhile adventurer is liable to find his tattoo marks as bright as ever.

The bleeding heart or full rigged
ship, once the badge of the roving soul, may become an embarrassment at the seashore, or wherever bravary arms are bared.
Effects will then be made to remove the tattoo marks. However,
the task is not a simple one.

Each particle of color originally deposited must now be removed,
one by one.
The task is trying both to patient
and physician.

It is a somewhat hazardous job,
and should not be entrusted to anyone but a skilled dermatologist.
Even so, there may be left at the site of the tattoo marks minute
white scars in the place of the color grains.

Thus, even when the color has been removed, the design may be revealed under a close inspection,
though not as brilliant as before.
Sometimes it may prove easier
and less objectionable to obliterate
the tattoo picture by added markings than to attempt its removal.

One must guard against some of the tattooing solutions, or ligands
sold for self application.
Particular care should be taken of corrosive substances which when used destroy all the underlying skin.

These solutions are liable to give rise to ulcers, which in healing
leave scars that are unsightly scars.

His new seat of the political future

It is fairly safe to say that the Texas race is sure for him about one of the noisiest years work he has ever done if he starts to re-

The race for the Wurzbach seat
was something of a scramble.
Seven names were pitted against one reputation on election day.
Kilberg won over the field.
But present, the man who could have been the closest rival withdrew for the sake of party harmony. That man was County Judge

Kilberg's term is for only one fight which existed in the special election just held.

LADY with a PAST

BY HARRIET HENRY

SYNOPSIS: Venice Blair finds herself in a predicament, as she is playing a careful game of living an innocuous life in Paris while she collects sufficient information about the city to return to New York with tales of an adventurous trip. Years of being considered an attractive have given her a suppressed desire for popularity. She meets an American, Guy Bryson, whom she engages in a friendly
way to take her about the city.
He introduces her to persons of importance, among them the Marquis de Thénardier. In the midst of her construction of an exciting
"past" Lola Ward, a New York friend, arrives unexpectedly. To impress Lola, Venice invites her and her husband to dinner, with herself and a friend. She is distressed when she tries to secure Guy for the evening, to find him
not at home.

Chapter 22
LOLA IS AMAZED
She thought of Rene de Thénar-dier and asked the concierge to find his number. He had an apartment in the Faubourg St. Honoré.
"Oh."
"Hello, Venice?"
"Mais oui."
"It's Rene Mair."
"AB over the telephone I had your hand. How are you, Venice?"
"Excellent. Some American friends have just turned up and I wondered if you'd dine with us tonight?"
"It would be a great pleasure."
"That's nice. Will you stop by for me at the Louis-Le-Grand at quarter of eight?"
At twenty minutes of eight
Lola and Jerry were waiting.
"Le Marquis de Thénardier, Mr.
and Mrs. Ward."

She hoped she had introduced Rene properly. She was not quite sure about this. Lola looked subtly impressed. She kissed Venice and was able to whisper as they walked towards her table ahead of the men, "Is he a heavy beau?"
Venice nodded indifferently.
Rene ordered a delicious dinner.
He lit it off splendidly with Lola and Jerry. And he paid marked and graceful attention to Venice.
Here she had something to be sure of. There was no cause to belittle him. She was sure she was the most natural and brightest. Lola looked so frankly happy at the metamorphosis that for Venice the earlier prick was eased. It was a merry evening. Afterwards they went to cinema and she allowed Rene to hold her hand in the concealing dark. The wee small hours found them at Harry's Bar sipping whiskies and soda.

"I am having a little party tomorrow night. Will you and Mr. Ward honour me?" Here asked Lola.
"I wish you could. We're going to Le Touquet at four something."
"You must stay over," he begged.

Her cheeks were deep pomegran-
ate. She felt stupid and embarras-
ed. Colour crept into his olive face.
He seemed uncomfortable and shy
about it, too.
"But he Venice?"
"Please, you must."
"Well, it is very odd. But I will do as you wish. She felt sure that he could not have afforded to pay for the dinner anyway and was she embarrassed with the fact that she had not said so."
"Thank you. It means it all much to me."
"The taxi she had nothing to say. The old diffidence, clutching her in her hand, as if he had said, "I hope you'll be thoughtful and bring me home at night." He said, "I hope you'll be thoughtful and
bring me home at night."

The two brothers were an officer of the Confederation army, the Civil war and led troops into battle respected from accounts of that under.

Politics must make a showing in the next year if he hopes to hold his seat. He had no money. And there is hard thing for a freshman in congress to do.
"I told them to get constructive assignments and the obscure position but naturally the lot of a new comer to the house is a set of
"You must usually the true story than the exception it is a common man's first lesson."

Venice is coming with her American.
Lola felt that the heavens were about to fall.
"Who?" she asked, astonished.
"Guy Bryson," said Venice coolly.
"I don't know whether you ever met him at home or not. He's from Washington."

"No," returned Lola. "Is he a great friend of yours?"
"They are inseparable," said Rene, and he made it quite plain that he was envious of Guy Bryson.
"Oh," was all that Lola could manage. Jerry stared at Venice. He noticed for the first time that her hair was a lovely copper colour and that her grey eyes had short black lashes that stood out in a way that was somehow alluring. Venice saw his scrutiny.

"Do I need powder on my nose, Jerry?" she asked maliciously.
"You need explaining," he laughed.
"A person always needs explaining when you see them for the first time," she retorted. She was astonished. It was the sort of remark which she had never been able to summon naturally. The lid of the box did not invariably stick now.

At the curb Lola and Jerry looked at each other.

INCREASE, SAYS SCIENTIST
FREMONT, Neb., (UP)—Southpaw
are on the increase, says Dr. Geo.
Mendenhall, psychology professor at Midland College here.
Mendenhall attributes the increase in left-handedness to the recognition of the theory that children forced to become right-handed after starting as left-handers often become stutterers.
Educators, he said, no longer advocate that children be broken of left-handedness.

Left-handed children being forced to use their right hands, Dr. Mendenhall says, often start doing something with their left hand,
catch themselves, stop and start over,
using the right hand. This stopping and starting carries over into the speech act.

West Texas Sport Hash

Attention of football fans in West Texas now centers on the Lubbock-Amarillo game in Lubbock this afternoon for the championship of district 1 and the bi-district scrap in Abilene tomorrow between the Mustangs and the Eagles.

The way things have been going in district 1 this year Lubbock ought to win. First Pampa beat Lubbock; then Lubbock beat Pampa; then Amarillo beat Lubbock. Now Lubbock has whipped Pampa again. To finish the cross-word puzzle playing of the trio the West, Lubbock ought to take the Golden Handcuffs. Except, it looks over-head like it'll be a snowstorm instead of sandstorm.

Personally we're for the Lubbock boys. Both Chapman and Blair Cherry of Amarillo are fine coaches and fine fellows. But Amarillo has tasted district championships before while Lubbock has not. And the latter city is a lot nearer neighbor to us than Amarillo.

At Abilene we hope to see the Mustangs win. It would be a fine feather in the cap of district 4 if the Hennigmen got over. The team that wins that game is liable to go to the state final and maybe to the championship.

Sweetwater's club is the kind that can get by with murder two ways. It can monkey around three-fourths of the game always about to be scored on and escape somehow or other. And it also gets by with just one good play that pays off. The Mustangs are dangerous from any point on the field. On any play they're liable to score. Equally true, they're liable not to score on any play.

If the Mustangs win they'll very likely do it not by a consistent drive down the field on a series of hard-earned first downs but on one grand spurt.

If Abilene wins she'll very likely pound along for a few first downs, then skip across on a short pass or something. And if the Mustangs don't score early they're liable not to score at all.

Sweetwater has a fine line—a fighting line. Abilene's line potentially is considerably more powerful but is liable not to scrap as intensely as its adversary.

The difference is this: Abilene long has been used to winning. Playing in bi-district games as well as state championship games is not new to the gang over there.

Sweetwater is new to the big-time in high school football. This is her grand chance. To win the district championship was great.

POWERS OPENS FIGHT FOR LIFE

A plea of not guilty to a charge of murder opened the fight of Harry F. Powers to escape the gallows for the killing of two women and three children, whose bodies were buried near his garage at Quiet Dell, W. Va. He is shown (center) leaving the court house under heavy guard after his arraignment in Clarksburg, W. Va. He was arraigned on only one of the five indictments returned against him.

To win the bi-district championship would be greater.

But to beat Abilene of all teams in the world would be greater than any thing that could happen for Sweetwater.

Over there they print 'Abilene' on their babies' teething rings to teach 'em Sweetwater's traditional Abilene complex early.

The complex used to exert itself in all lines of Sweetwater endeavor, including football. Of late years, however, the fever has fallen somewhat except in football. A few years ago a group of up-and-going young Sweetwater business men awoke to the fact that their town had been spending all its time cussing its neighbor city and none on building its own town.

Those few years have found Sweetwater advancing rapidly and now she's a real fine town.

Yep. We hope the Mustangs win. If they do they'll have to play inspired football.

The greatest danger will be having the Mustangs over-keyed. They may be a little nervous—long enough to lose the ball game.

If they'll forget they're playing Abilene and just get out there and do their stuff as they have been taught it by Hennig they'll get somewhere.

We used to spend a lot of time in the fall helping to 'key up' football teams; you know, great pep rallies, bon fires, heart-to-heart talks and that sort of thing.

We've just about decided this fellow Bierman who coaches Tulane has the best idea. He never puts on a 'fight talk.' Recently his boys got excited of their own accord before a game. They were jerky, nervous in the dressing room. In a minute one of 'em yells 'Let's go' and the squad starts to run out on the field.

Come back here. You're going to walk out on that field. Keep your wits with you so you can get out there and play like you ought to," he told 'em.

Have they played this year, we ask you? It's just the national championship team.

Bierman yelled an order. "Stop.

60 Years Old, It Has Been On 10 Bridal Tables

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—A wedding cake 60 years old that has been on at least 10 bridal tables and has not yet been cut is in the possession of Mrs. William Snell. It was made for the wedding of Mrs. Snell's parents in 1871 and among the wedding dinners it since has graced were those of Mrs. Snell in 1902 and her brother, R. J. De Voe of Rochester, in 1908. A fruit cake, it still has the original decorations of silver roses and leaves.

 Mrs. E. O. Edington was the hostess for a very pleasant afternoon of contract bridge. Mrs. Hilliard made high score for the club members and Mrs. Temple for the visitors.
 An attractive plate luncheon was served to the following members and guests: Misses John Clarke, Dee Hilliard, J. Y. Robb, C. E. Blomfield, M. H. Bennett, R. C. Strain, J. B. Teung, V. Van Gieson, Barcus, Spence, E. M. Temple and Ralph Sherman.
 Mrs. Blomfield will be the next hostess.

Football Squad Samples 24-Egg Anglefood Cake

The big, beautifully-iced anglefood cake which was awarded to Mrs. Chas. Koberg at the West Ward P-T. A. benefit party Tuesday afternoon, traveled from the LaFrance Cooking School at the Crawford Hotel, to the Big Spring High School and ended as a treat for the football squad.

Mrs. Koberg and Miss Mary McElroy put their heads together and as a result Mrs. Koberg took materials for hot chocolate and the big cake to the school Wednesday afternoon.
 Miss McElroy and her domestic science girls made the chocolate and invited the boys, who were in the midst of the "E" association initiation, to drop in for a bite. And did they bite? Mrs. Koberg said that not a crumb big enough to feed a very small mouse was left of that super-delicious anglefood cake, which was as good as it was big.
 She told the girls about the LaFrance Cooking School now being conducted at the Crawford Hotel and how Mrs. Standifer had given the P-T. A. the cake. The boys concluded the program with singing "How Dry I Am."
 Those who assisted were Catherine Smith, Muriel Grace Choate, Gladys and Lela Mae Phillips, Mildred Vaughton and Maurice Smith.

Public Health Notes

MRS. E. S. SHOWALTER.
 Since August 1st 12 anti-diphtheria conferences or 24 meetings have been held. Every school in Howard County has been notified and many of them have received several notifications, as something that can be put off until a later date, then wait just a little too long. This is a county program, reaching more homes than any other class of work. It gives to all parents an opportunity to purchase health at a minimum cost.

Every child should be protected against diphtheria; if parents are not able to give their children this protection they should consult local health officers; many children receive immunization this way. To cut expenses is often necessary, but surely it is safe economy when parents fail to have children protected against disease.

Two deaths in Howard County within the past two months from diphtheria; yet in Auburn, New York, (with a population of some 27,000) not one death from diphtheria has been reported in the entire city since March, 1924, not one absence from the public schools on account of sickness from diphtheria. It has been entirely eliminated. Health authorities estimate that on this item alone the city has saved ten thousand dollars a year.
 Thirty-five years ago or more—before any of the modern methods of control and prevention of diphtheria were known, this disease was rightly considered the most dreaded

Triangle Bridge Enjoys Games

Mrs. E. E. Fahrstrom entertained the members of the Triangle Bridge Club with a jolly little two-table party at their regular session Wednesday afternoon.
 Miss Jordan made club high score. Mrs. Mae Battle was the only visitor.
 A dessert course of devil's food and coffee was served to Misses Robert Currie, Omar Pittman, Jas. Little, W. B. Hardy, Monroe Johnson, Estelle and Miss Jean Jordan.

Rev. R. E. Day drove to Abilene today on business. He was to return late in the day.

The True Meaning Of Christmas as seen by Albert M. Fisher Company

Christmas, with its reds, greens and tinsel, spreads its cheer abroad in our store and windows. Friends meet here, chat and pass on to the exciting business of the day—Christmas Shopping at Albert Fisher's.

To our way of thinking Christmas means more than just the giving of gifts... It is a season of thoughtfulness... Of understanding... given expression through presents. In choosing for your friends... stop and consider: to some people (especially this year) a practical gift, such as a coat, dress or gloves... may be ever so welcome... while to others, a frivolous gift of jewelry, perfume, negligees... may mean happiness because this past year might have brought self-denial. Whatever the gift... whatever the cost (and smart things here by no means need be expensive)... If it comes from ALBERT M. FISHER'S... it is priceless

STUDENT PAYS TUITION WITH JUG OF SILVER

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (AP)—Virl Jones, Leon county youth seeking admittance to Texas A. & M. college as a freshman, must have heard about the movement to popularize silver as a medium of exchange.
 He reached the campus from his home town of Buffalo, bringing a suitcase which contained, in addition to his clothes, a half-gallon jar filled to the rim with silver dollars.
 There were 218 of them, weighing about 20 pounds, so tightly packed that the college cashier's office had a busy half-hour extracting and counting them.

How One Woman Lost 47 Lbs of Fat In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.
 "Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say."
 A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 25 cents at Collins Bros. Drugs. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.
 Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat. Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back—Adv.

Experienced Demonstrator In Lectures

Cooking School Offers New Methods And Short Cuts

Attendance is increasing at the Cooking School conducted at the Crawford Hotel Ballroom by Mrs. Lenore Standifer, well known demonstrator, for the La France Flour mills, under the local directions of Wilson and Clare. Mrs. Standifer retains the good old methods of cooking, combining them with the best of the new and her talk was filled with hints and short cuts which the audience appreciated as much as her recipes.

A stage has been arranged for her in the Crawford Ballroom fitted with kitchen equipment from the Rix Furniture Co., a refrigerator from the Faw Co., and a gas stove from the Empire Southern Gas Co. Mrs. Standifer was very ably assisted by Mrs. Ruth Helms.

The aims of cooking school are to teach the women to make such new dishes as colored bread, and infallible rolls, good pie crust, delicious angelfood, and cakes of various kinds under the competent direction.

Various forms of entertainment are provided for the visitors during the refreshments hour when the cake, bread, and dishes of the afternoon are passed around and gifts are distributed. Wednesday afternoon, Brock Haven and two of his singers entertained. This afternoon pupils of Mrs. Billie Gill Frost rendered several selections.

Friday's lesson will include ice box cream rolls, meats, a silver cake recipe and secrets of angelfood making and baking.

Every visitor is given a souvenir recipe book.

Mrs. Frazier will be the next hostess.

Herald Patterns

7343. Clever seaming makes this model attractive. It may be developed with or without the tie yoke.

The waist blouses slightly above the belt. The collar lies flat on the neck over the back, and extends over the shoulders on the front. Yoke sections at the sides of the skirt are lengthened by flare portions. Low placed plaits add fullness. Canton crepe or velvet is suggested for this style. It is an excellent design for contrasting colors. The sleeve is wide below the elbow and is finished with an under cuff.

Designed in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 38 if made as shown in the large view will require 4 3/8 yards of 58 inch material. If made without the tie yoke 4 1/8 yards will be required. The tie yoke, cuffs and belt of contrasting material will require 2 3/4 yard 39 inches wide. To finish with bias binding 1 1/2 inch wide or with braid will require 5 5/8 yards. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2 1/2 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps. Send 15c in silver or stamps for our up-to-date Book of Fashions, Winter 1931-32.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Have You Been Reading The Big Spring Daily Herald Regularly During 1931?

Have you kept up with the news of the day as it happened? Have you known what was going on in your town, in your community, in your state, and in the world while it was real NEWS? Have you kept up with these things? Has your family kept up with them? Have you read about the current events over the world every day? If you have been doing this very long we feel safe in saying that you will not stop now. If you have not been reading and keeping up with the things that happen over the world and in your own town or community we feel safe in saying that you are missing a lot that would mean pleasure, entertainment, and real savings to you.

Just think of several men whom you know and who have done real well, who amount to most in your community, in your town or state. Those men read. They read daily papers that keep them well informed about what is going on all over the world. And on second thought, can you name any man or woman who has stepped higher and higher in his standing in the world socially, politically, in his business, or otherwise, who is not a regular reader of current events? Perhaps you have not done as well as you would have liked to in the past and perhaps it is just because you did not keep up with just what was going on around you—things that affected you in a social, business, or other way.

It may be that had you known something earlier you could have saved money. Perhaps you could have bought things you bought at a better time and then maybe you would have known better when to sell. Maybe your trip would have been more pleasant if you had kept up with the weather by reading a daily paper. And perhaps you could have saved a few dollars on last month's grocery bill if you had known who sold for less. Maybe you could have saved a few dollars on that suit you bought or on the dress your wife bought. Or perhaps you could have enjoyed the visit with your neighbor more if you had been as well posted on the happenings of the day as he was. Maybe now you would know more about whether to hold your products to sell in the future or whether you should sell them now.

All these things mean money or pleasure to you. And money saved now means independence in the future for you. If a few cents spent to buy your paper can give you information that will save you many dollars, is it not a wise thing to buy that paper and read it? If all those you know who have done well in life are readers of daily papers, is that not sufficient proof that it is the right thing to do? And where can you find a successful man who does not read daily papers? Try to think of one?

Let's just check up a little and see how much reading you have done and what you know about things that have happened in the past. Could you carry on an intelligent conversation about things that have happened? If you can it is very well; if you cannot, it is safe to say you would like to be able to do so. Did you know that right here in Big Spring during the first half of the year 1931 there were 22 cars stolen, 15 of them recovered? There were 63 marriages and 33 divorces. Some of these things affected people you know.

Did you know that on July 1 a man in East Texas had a 35,000 barrel oil well but could not sell the oil? On the same date there was a man in another state who was fatally hurt but kept on working. His neck was broken and his skull was fractured. Did you read about "Grappling With the Truck Market Problem" in the Herald of July 1? The story was very interesting and informative. There are daily sketches of men in official life at Washington. Did you know who attended a certain party at a certain person's home on a certain date? Did you know where those whom you knew went, what they did, why they did it, and what the result of it all was? Did you keep up with it all as it happened?

Would you like to know what you do not know about all these things? Anyone would. Did you know that on July 2 you could have bought lettuce in Big Spring for 7c per head, tomatoes for 5c per pound, three pounds of sugar for 15c? Maybe if you had known this you could have saved some money for you had to buy these things somewhere for some price. Did you pay more? Did you know that on July 2 there was a rich baron 30 years of age who sighed and wished he were poor? Did your little boy or girl read "Regular Fellers" on July 2? He would have enjoyed it a lot.

Did you know that there were 31 violent deaths in Texas during the week ending July 6? Did you keep up with the Schmeling-Stribling fight? It was great. Did you read about the Republicans opening their fight on Communism on July 7? And did you know when Germany closed her stock exchange and did you realize what the effect would be on you? Did you know when the Howard county tax rate was reduced twenty-one cents? July 14 Herald told all about it. Did you know about the "Downtown Day" in Big Spring on July 16? Did you save on that day? You could have saved money on many things. Did you know where the new postoffice will be located? Do you know now?

Have you kept up with Governor Murray of Oklahoma and all his work? It is very interesting: Did you know why a court order closed a Westbrook church? The Herald told all about it. Did you read all about the Old Settlers in the Herald of July 23? Did you see the pictures and read of Howard county's first two settlers? This was in the Herald of July 24, 1931. The first settler was Mr. Roberts and he settled at Moss Springs in 1879. Do you keep up with the doings in all the oil fields and at Austin and all over the world? Did you know about all that was going on during the Oklahoma and Texas oil trouble? Could you carry on intelligent conversations about all this without being embarrassed? Or did you have to take a back seat and let the others tell you all about it. Were you the one that had not kept up with it all? Did you wish you had read all about it in your daily paper?

Do you know about the cotton law? Do you know all about the oil situation? These things interest you and have much to do with the welfare of you and your family. Are you keeping up with the Chinese and Japanese troubles in the Eastern Hemisphere? Are you thinking about what all this may mean to you and to the world? Do you want to watch the outcome of it all?

1932 What Will Happen In 1932

1932. What will happen in 1932? What will it all mean to you; to all of us? Don't you think you would know more about just what to do about many things if you would keep up with the happenings all over the world? Keep up with the market prices of the things you have to sell, and with the cost of the things you have to buy, always buying where it is cheaper for you in the end. These things and many, many others are in the Herald every day it is printed. The Herald is your own paper printed right here in Howard County and is put out by men who spend their earnings here with you and who have their interests here with you. They are helping to build the town and work for the things that help you and help themselves. They fight for what they think is right and will help the people in this territory. This paper is your mouthpiece and is here to serve you and yours always doing what it can for the most benefit to all.

Now since you have read above just a few of the topics that have appeared in the Herald (and those mentioned are just a few when compared with those written every day), don't you think it is better to read your own home DAILY paper, The Big Spring Daily Herald, than to pay the price of two papers to get the world news and the Big Spring and surrounding country news? There is no other daily paper printed in Big Spring, so if you get much news from over the world you must take a daily printed out of your territory and then you do not get your local news. So then you have to take a local paper to get your own news and news about your own community. Why not get it all from all over the world and from your own territory, all the news that is important and that interests you in one daily paper every day (except Saturday)? In the Herald you get the world and local news for much less than you can get it any other way delivered to you. The special rate by mail now is only $3.95, and by carrier in Big Spring only $4.95 per year. This is just a little more than a penny a day and if you were to mail a copy to a friend the postage alone would cost you at least a penny. Just think of it! Any other paper would cost you that much or more and then you would have to take a Big Spring paper to get your local news. Read over some of the things mentioned above again. Wouldn't you like to have some of the stories mentioned above with you now? Why not subscribe for The Big Spring Daily Herald, your own home daily paper now, while the Special Rate of $3.95 by mail or $4.95 by carrier is on and then each day after you have finished reading the papers, file them away so you can get them for future references. It is real interesting and often it is worth real money to you and your friends. What would you give for a certain paper containing a story about something of much importance to you? The thing to do is to take your home town daily paper and then after you read them each day file them away. You will want them again. Resolve today to do this while the Special Rate is so little.

Fill in the coupon and send in your remittance and you will have the news of all the next year, election year, and one that promises to be filled with important happenings, brought to you every day (except Saturday). Both your own news and world news for only

One Dies, Second Near Death After Drinking Spree

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 3.—Charles H. Butts, 23, is dead, Theodore Cloud, 20, is near death as a result of drinking anti-freeze solution. Cloud said they had sent a man to buy a half gallon of radiator alcohol, but he brought poisonous solution. They later divided the liquid, drank it while they were engaged in shucking corn.

Lutheran Ladies Aid Holds Business Meeting

Committees Of Hoover's Home Session Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The housing and community committee to the Hoover Home Building conference has recommended establishment in cities of the country of neighborhood units, meaning the grouping of single family houses around schools, churches, and recreational centers. The committee said home ownership makes better citizenship for the country. Thirty other committees are now studying various problems that affect the country's economic well-being.

Potash Deposits In West Texas Due For Early Development Says University Chemistry Authority

(Early development of the vast deposits of potash which are known to exist in West Texas is forecast by Dr. E. F. Schoch, director of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry at the University of Texas as a result of a new and economical process for refining the potash mineral which he has discovered. His discovery is regarded as being of tremendous commercial importance.)

Scrivner Asks For Lower Bond

AUSTIN, Dec. 3.—Shilo Scrivner, held in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones of Houston, has filed an habeas corpus application in the court of criminal appeals asking to have his bond reduced to $25,000 in each case. Scrivner was arrested at Des Moines, Iowa, after a companion, Des McCabe, was killed by a detective after a chase.

with just enough lime and hot water to produce an 8 per cent to 10 per cent potassium sulphate solution. The mixture is then filtered rapidly, or "centrifuged," and the solid residue is further extracted cold—for an hour—with enough water and lime so as to extract all the remaining potassium sulphate from the ore to produce a 3 per cent potassium sulphate solution. This is filtered and the 3 per cent potassium sulphate solution is then used in turn—for the hot extraction.

The potassium sulphate is then merely to be evaporated to dryness to obtain this material in crystalline form. This evaporating can be carried out in the simplest manner possible—hence it is proposed to be done in such a way as not only to economize heat but also so as to produce power at an unusually low figure. Namely, the solution is first evaporated partly to produce steam for an engine, and the steam rejected by the engine, then to be used to evaporate the solution further and to dryness.

Solid Residue

The solid residue left from the potassium sulphate extraction is composed of 30 per cent of gypsum and 10 per cent of magnesium hydroxide. The latter is readily removed by dissolving it in water saturated with carbon dioxide (from fire gas); the gypsum is then filtered off, and the solution containing the magnesium carbonate is then used as the condensing water for the hot extraction of the potassium sulphate solution; as this solution gets hot, it precipitates the magnesium carbonate as a white fluffy or bulky mass. The latter after being filtered and dried, is the material known as insulating magnesia—and very costly product used in boiler and pipe insulation.

The Truth About Rheumatism

The truth is that with 24 hours after you start taking the efficient prescription called Allenru ure acid poison starts to leave your body. Within 48 hours pain, agony and distress are gone—you're happy again—and back on the job. You're simply fooling yourself when you stick to makeshift pain-killers and relievers—unless ureic acid goes—rheumatism stays with you. Allenru is positively guaranteed by Collins Bros. Drugs and druggists everywhere to do just as this notice states or money back—a generous bottle for 85 cents.—Adv.

counterbalanced by the fact that in this process the magnesium is converted to a commercially more valuable form than that of the sulphate in which it was obtained in the former process.

The second great saving is due to the fact that the solution obtained contains essentially nothing but potassium sulphate; the amounts of calcium sulphate and common salt present amount to less than 10 per cent and hence the solution merely needs to be evaporated in any way to produce direct the commercial "90 per cent" potassium sulphate, where previously fractional crystallization was necessary to separate the potassium sulphate from the magnesium sulphate. The saving in cost of installation and of operation obtained in this connection again is obvious.

Finally, it should be realized that all of the potassium sulphate is extractable by this process while obtaining a residue from which basic carbonate of magnesia and wall plaster can be manufactured at costs much below those by which these products are now manufactured because these residues present the respective raw products with more than half of their regular manufacturing operation already spent on them. To be specific: In the regular manufacture of the light basic carbonate of magnesia, raw dolomite must be calcined and shaled, and then it presents a mixture for carbonation which contains over 60 per cent of lime, and which entails a waste of carbon dioxide for the removal of the latter, while the mixture here obtained presents only the magnesia for carbonation. In other words, the use of the above by-product from polyhalite saves the roasting and slaking and also does not entail the waste of carbon dioxide for removing the lime which the mixture obtained from dolomite entails.

The other by-product, gypsum, is delivered as by-product in the form of a filter cake. Except for the cost of drying, this material is identical with the material in a gypsum plant after it has been quarried, brought to the plant, and finely ground. Hence it merely requires dehydration to convert it to "setting" plaster. It is evident that the complete conversion of the ore into salable products, and this by a simple cheap procedure, puts polyhalite into a wonderfully advantageous position. Furthermore, it must be realized that the potash is obtained in the form of the sulphate, the market value of which is now $45.00 per ton at New York, while that of potassium chloride is only $35.00 per ton. While the price of both may come down, yet it is likely that the sulphate will always command a correspondingly higher price because there is always a distinct and large need of the sulphate in agriculture, and aside from the above proposed production of potassium sulphate from polyhalite, otherwise it is manufactured from the chloride and thus entails an extra cost over the chloride. For all these reasons, the splendid polyhalite layers in Texas are likely to be developed almost immediately.

Clothing Budget

Howard County Women Handle the Hose and Shoes Problem.

Each of the nine home demonstration clubs of the county selected a wardrobe demonstrator at the beginning of the year. These demonstrators kept accurate accounts of all clothing purchased and all garments made.

All of the women of the clubs kept an account of shoes and hose purchased. From past records, women have been spending for high a per cent of money spent for clothing and on shoes and hose. There were some clearance sales where shoes were sold as low as ten cents a pair. Some women reported purchasing some of these and cheap cotton hose, using other shoes and hose already on hand. Thus this is not really a fair average of amounts spent annually. However it is interesting to know just how these figures ran for the past year.

The following report is a total for 95 women reporting on their purchases. Number of cotton hose purchased, 178 or an average of nearly 2 pairs each, at a total cost of $54.68, and a average of 57 each for cotton hose.

Sixteen women at Vincent reported 74 pairs of cotton hose, while R-Bar reported that 10 women bought only 4 pairs. The 85 women reported 289 pairs of silk hose, at a total cost of $340. This gives them an average of 3 pairs, purchased, and $3.57 spent for silk hose. There were 112 pairs of everyday shoes and 131 pairs of dress shoes purchased. Everyday shoes cost $171, or $1.80 per individual, and the dress shoes $555, or $5.82 per individual. This makes a total of $1,122.51 spent by 95 women for shoes and hose from Nov. 1, 1930, to Nov. 1, 1933. They spent an average of $11.80 for shoes and hose.

R-Bar reports the smallest amount to be spent by one woman, 45 cents, with Elbow second with $1.85 the smallest amount spent by one of their cooperators, while Oyster club reports the greatest amount spent by one woman, which is $35.
