Too Much Talk Not Boot, But You Can Altogether Ignore The Facts

The best interests of this country can hardly be served by refusing to admit that some state of recession is under way. You can't lose several billion dollars of the income of U. S. farmers and not expect a reaction to the loss of so much buying power. You can't starve 2,000,000 jobless people in the face and say there has been no recession.

That was the prevalent attitude of leaders in the late 1920s and early 1930s. That was the quibbles of laissez-faire. Mr. Eisenhower is much more alert to the situation than some of his subordinate party leaders. In effect, he has announced that if there isn't a leveling off by mid-March he is going to take steps to end a situation which Senator Ferguson says doesn't exist.

Lesson Of Red China Bloody One For All Of The World To Behold

It is bad enough to have to fight off Communist armies to keep them from gobbling up neighboring peoples, or out of our own backyard; it is worse to fall victim to successful Communist aggression and become the slave of Communist government.

troops from North Korea and China overran most of Korea, under the auspices of the Kremlin. Robertson estimated there are a million trained troops in South Korea and on Formosa. These pose a constant threat to the Red mainland, and as such deserve the support of the American taxpayer.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann - Senate Committees Are Leading Nation Down Into Lawlessness

Last week the country was treated to a double dose of humiliation. The Chief Justice of the United States was defamed by the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and Senator McCarthy insulted and tried to intimidate an honorable and gallant officer of the United States Army.

against any legal redress because the Senator is a privileged man. This is an intolerable outrage. It violates the first principles of our law. The Senator has a power to injure other men in deadly ways while he himself is subject to no rules of law or evidence when he does it.

This is said advisedly. Mr. Warren, nominated by the President to be Chief Justice, has been accused by the chairman of the Judiciary Committee on ten counts. Of these at least seven are accusations which, if they were true, would call for criminal indictment, trial, conviction and a prison sentence.

It is no adequate remedy or sufficient compensation for the offense that Earl Warren should be promptly confirmed by an overwhelming vote. He should be confirmed by an overwhelming vote. But the Senate of the United States has a responsibility in this matter which it will not have discharged merely by confirming Earl Warren.

McCarthy-Stevens Clash Could Have Resulted In Serious Splitting Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) - No matter who won the skirmish between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and the Eisenhower administration's secretary of the Army, Robert T. Stevens, the Republicans as a party were bound to lose if the fighting became a public, televised clash.

Stevens said later he is not a man who surrenders. No matter what name is placed on his action, the fact is he gave McCarthy just what McCarthy wanted. McCarthy wanted the names of the Army people who handled the case of Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist, who received an honorable discharge this month after refusing, 14 months before, to answer questions about membership in subversive organizations.

House Swap Plan Leads To Perplexing Problems

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle) NEW YORK (AP)—I have a problem which is as perplexing and much more annoying than the question of which came first, the chicken or the egg.

Reluctance To Walk May Be Big Threat To The Nation's Health

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

If there's a bigger threat to this country's well-being than crime and communism, it's our reluctance to walk anywhere, even out to the garage to get the automobile. (We're now building our garages onto the house, so we can step out of the kitchen into the car.)

Going home was a different matter. It seemed like everybody in town was driving up Main Street that day, and they all stared like I must be suffering from a stroke or something.

West Must Not Relax Its Vigil, Even If Shooting Is Curtailed

munists all over the world will do everything they can to encourage that kind of disintegration. Various explanations have been current for Molotov's persistence in bringing Red China into an Asian conference.

West Must Not Relax Its Vigil, Even If Shooting Is Curtailed

Another theory that fits with the new Russian tactic is that Moscow is directly and even urgently concerned with ending the war in Indochina. As the immediate spur of the war is withdrawn, America will lose interest. Communist infiltration and intimidation can achieve what Ho Chi-minh's guerrillas have failed to achieve.

Whether a negotiated truce will come out of the Geneva conference no one can say at this point. The French are pressing very hard for such a truce. If the West means to go to sleep as soon as the noise of the shooting stops, then this will be a disaster and the loss of Southeast Asia is at least probable.

Neutral Zone Vetoed For Hose This Season

"Gone are the days," girls, when you just walk into a shop and buy a pair of hose "to wear with black or brown." With the new spring shades—and such delightful names!—it is going to be a pleasure to make a wardrobe of hose.

Not only are hose made in colors especially for certain shades of frocks, but there are colors to go with different leathers and shoe materials. Colors are lighter, of course, most of them having a basis of beige with pink or bluish tones.

For your navy blue, black or gun metal shoes, you will choose to wear a color like "Blushing Taupe" or grey mist. With this, a dress in white, fragile pink, water color blue, mauve, new blue or black would be quite stunning.

If you prefer more brown in your hose, choose one in "Rose-touched Beige"—a brown taupe. With it go your group, naves and pinks. "Sunny Beige" will also accompany navy as well as brown, black and pastels.

"Barely There"—and the shade is well-named—is a perfect complement to blond shoes in tangerine and pale beige, especially when worn with dresses of gold or summer brown.

With dark prints, with mauve, pale blues and blacks choose

"Misty Light"—which really resembles a wisp of fog. Light prints will take "Taupe Light", as will greys, reds and blacks. A multi-color print will be best with "Tint Light," and with it will go avocado greens, mauve and the new blues.

Two shades which add spice to your reds are "Pink Canary" and "Noesgay". Both may be worn nicely with various blues, but the former prefers pinks, while the latter is better with lilac and mauve.

Shoes of avocado green, black or beach brown call for dresses in antique gold, beige, henna or frosty grey. "Shell" is the perfect shade for this combination.

If your shoes are navy, wedge-wood blue or cyclamen pink, you will be a knockout in frosty beige, frosty blue, pink or grey—especially if your hose are "Ball Rose". "Ice Coffee"—as sunny as shade as it sounds—is to be worn with medium browns, dark browns and tweedy browns. It, as the name implies, is the color of café au lait.

A good old stand-by? Well, about the only one on the market so far is a shade that has been called "Love Letter"—A mauve taupe which is good with earthy browns, greys, blacks, white, and black and white combinations.

A chronic worrier who used to make her life miserable with her complaints tells me that she's nearly cured herself of the worry habit by saving up until 8 at night everything that bothers her during the day. Then she concentrates on it "until exhaustion" on all her troubles.

"I can't quite believe it but the device actually works," she marvels. "I read about it in a book and was sure that it wouldn't do anything for me. However, I was sick of my constant misery and thought any change would be for the better. So I began carefully deferring gripes, anxieties, terrors. I save a lot of time, of course, and get a good deal more work done during the day. Then when my worrying period comes and I sit down to inspect my terrible wounds at leisure, I usually find they are mostly minor scratches and I am so tired that I just go calmly off to sleep."

Another woman I know who lived for two years in France evolved a similar plan for getting rid of the antagonisms that were building within her. She loves Paris and the French, but she used to get into rages because of certain incidents, some silly, some important.

Among her beefs were: the French telephone system; three-hour lunches; the determined individualists who don't care what they do to other people; the attitude of cultural superiority towards Americans; the crazy way French men drive automobiles, and finally, the fleas that bite in the subway.

"After the first year of near-apoplexy, I set aside 'I hate the French day' every week, and held everything until then," she told me. "The idea began to seem funny and I giggled about it to myself. It was too good a joke to keep and I explained to a few choice French friends what I was doing. They enjoyed the idea almost as much as I was beginning to, and when I couldn't think of subjects to beef about, they suggested some. We all got gripes off our chests and ended by laughing heartily. It sounds wonderful and I intend to try it as soon as I am strong enough to shove my troubles aside until an appointed time. It occurs to me to wonder, though, how any one could effectively put aside the annoyance of a flea bite for four or five days!

Stresses Importance Of Proper Food

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Texas Star Puts Stress On Nutritional Values

HOLLYWOOD — During World War II Dorothy Malone used to go to the hospital with me to visit the soldiers and I remember how hard she was working at that time to lose her Southern accent. Now there is not a trace of Dallas in her voice but the other day at lunch at the Beverly Hills Club Dorothy explained that though she has made 16 pictures here, she still considers Texas her home.

"You've remained remarkably unchanged," I commented. "I consider that a compliment," she said with a smile. "I've tried to feel that working in Hollywood was a way of earning a living like any other job. I've seen too many kids believe their own publicity and that's sure death. "I believe a girl should do all she can to make herself attractive but if she is self-conscious about the results, everything is spoiled. And again I say that this applies to all girls, no matter where they live or work," she added.

Dorothy ordered a health plate of cottage cheese, slaw, sliced tomatoes, and carrot and raisin salad. "It's delicious," she explained, "and, nutritionally, it has everything."

"When I was at the Ursuline Academy at home I had a teacher who was ahead of most in appreciation of nutritional value of food," Dorothy explained. "She was the first person I ever heard say such things as, 'you are what you eat,' and 'every day you should eat something yellow and something green.' Some people used to laugh at this but I am grateful to her for starting me out right.

"Learning about the nutritional value of food not only means extra energy and health but it means extra beauty too. I never have any trouble with my hair, nails or skin. "Take for example the lunch I ordered today," she continued. "Cottage cheese offers calcium, which means good teeth, nails, and as my teacher used to call it, nature's building blocks. Cabbage is high in vitamin C and if you don't have enough of this vitamin you'll have lots of trouble looking attractive. You get iron in raisins and carrots give you vitamin A."

As Dorothy talked she buttered a piece of pumpernickel bread. "My weight never varies more than a pound or two and I never have a cold," Dorothy confessed. "And I give all of the credit to proper eating. "I'm with you all the way," I commented. "Learning to take care of your body with delicious but nutritious food is the best health and beauty insurance a girl can buy."

Sand Is Good For Yards, Agent Says

Even our West Texas sand is good for yards, Durward Lewter, county agent, told members of the Big Spring Garden Club Tuesday in a talk on soil. The group met in the home of Mrs. Robert Stripling. He recommended using soluble sulphur or iron sulphate (copperas) on yards or flower beds to counteract the alkalinity in the soil as well as the chlorine in the water.

Our soil is deficient in nitrogen and even more so in phosphorus, he said. So when buying chemical fertilizers it is important to have them high in these two elements. In commercial fertilizers he recommended a chemical content of 16 pounds of nitrogen to 48 pounds of phosphorus. There should be no potash as our soil doesn't need it.

Mrs. D. M. Penn was in charge of flower arrangements to be criticized. Mrs. Obie Britton, Mrs. H. M. Compton, Mrs. A. D. Webb and Mrs. A. A. Marchant brought standing arrangements using foliage. Biggest Spenders Need Lesson In Finance

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

If more American husbands would teach their wives the ABCs of finance, there would be fewer divorces, in the opinion of Margaret E. Kennedy, one of the few women in the country in active partnership in a New York Stock Exchange member firm. "I'm constantly amazed," says this pink-cheeked petticoat tycoon "at the number of otherwise intelligent, capable women who haven't the faintest idea where the family money comes from, how much there is of it, or what they would do if their husbands suddenly dropped dead."

Mrs. Kennedy, a young and feminine-looking widow and mother of two children, has established many financial "firsts" for women. She was the first woman accountant executive of the investment counsel firm of Van Strum and Towne, first woman to be appointed a vice president of a large mutual fund sponsor and several years ago became the first woman wholesaler of mutual funds in the country when she formed her own firm, Margaret Kennedy Co. Last year she was admitted as an active general partner in the Stock Exchange member firm of Seligman, Lubetkin and Co.

A specialist in finance management, she makes frequent lectures tours around the country explaining her "woman's dollar" program. She explains: "This all came about when I realized the awful paradox that, although women spend most of the family money, they often know little about the family's future planning, and aren't hep to the best ways of investing for the future." She says: "There are too many men who say to their wives—'Go ahead and buy what you want; I'll pay for it.' Often the wives have no idea how much the family can afford to spend, whether their husbands have unlimited funds or whether they are on the edge of bankruptcy. "There was, for instance, the case of the wife of a client of our firm who called frantically on Christmas Eve to say that her husband had just had a heart attack and was in the hospital. Although there was a $5,000 diamond bracelet under the Christmas tree for her from her husband, she didn't know whether the family had money enough for the hospital bill. When her husband's firm reassured her, she still was worried. "But as soon as the husband recovered, do you think he explained

Art From Nature
SANTA FE, N. M. (U.S.) — When artist Pansy Stockton gets ready to do a picture, she doesn't have to go to the art store for tubes of paint. Her so-called "sun paintings" are made entirely from bits of coral, fiber, cork, milk-week fluff, dried vegetation and native materials, none artificially colored.

Compact Shapes
Odd shapes are the Paris trend in compacts. There are mandolin, violin and harp shapes in tooled gold metal and black enamel. Some shapes just miss being square.

You'll get best use of your electric mixer if you give it a permanent space on a work table or counter in your kitchen. It should be near an appliance outlet so it is always ready for use.

Service The Way You Want It

This is the Relfer Jones Humble Station located at 401 Scurry Street in Big Spring, where attendants make every effort to please all motor vehicle owners with their service. The firm handles Humble products.

Complete Auto Service Is Offered At Jones Station

Relfer Jones, who has spent a quarter of a century catering to the needs of motorists as a service station operator, has acquired the Humble Station at Fourth and Main Street again.

In making public the announcement, Jones—a resident of Big Spring and vicinity more than 15 years—said he was looking forward to greeting all his old customers and making friends with the new ones.

The station, which offers all kinds of the famous Humble products from Esso gasoline to the finest motor oil, will be open seven days a week.

Only on Sunday will personnel work a curtailed schedule. Week days, the station will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sundays, the establishment will close at 5 p.m.

The concern specializes in complete servicing of automobiles, from washing and greasing to the changing of crankcase motor oil.

The station is located so near the business district of Big Spring that customers will find they can shop anywhere downtown while their cars are being serviced.

Jones also maintains a pickup truck for the purpose of offering emergency service to stranded motorists anywhere within the immediate area.

Dial 4-9261 for such service.

Circling Auto Is Cause Of Big Fuss

DETROIT (AP)—An automobile running in a circle kicked up an awful fuss at a street intersection last night.

After hitting the rear of another car, it zipped through a service station driveway, knocking over two gasoline pumps and a 15-foot light pole.

One pump caught fire. Station owner Joseph Jones' clothes caught fire from it. His hair and arms were singed.

The car kept going, carrying the flaming pump with it. Across the street it ripped off a fender while knocking over an air pump at another filling station.

It finally came to a stop back at the first station, narrowly missing Jones.

The driver, Mrs. Helen Ball, 37, Packing Co. complained rustlers were unharmed. Police booked her for investigation of drunk driving.

Rustling Suspected

DALLAS (AP)—The Greenhorn Packing Co. complained rustlers took four cows from its pens here.

Safe Moving Is Assured By Wooten Firm

Safe moving by people experienced in handling furniture is assured when the services of Wooten Transfer and Storage Company are obtained.

The firm, which is located at 505 East 2nd, is the Big Spring agency of Rocky Ford Van Lines, one of the most reputable of the nationwide operators.

Furniture can be shipped from Big Spring to any point in the United States and Canada by the national company. All that is necessary for such service is to contact the local firm, which is operated by Harvey P. Wooten.

Service is on a 24-hour basis, and Wilson himself makes sure that calls are answered promptly. Day phone is 4-7741 and the night number is 4-6222.

No job is too small for Wooten to undertake. Moving of any type, local or otherwise, will be tackled. "We have experienced personnel who can pack and crate with the best of them," Wilson said.

Care is taken with all furniture moved by Wooten Transfer and Storage. "We treat the furniture like it was our own," the owner explained. All furniture which is moved is covered by insurance.

Wooten urges all Big Spring residents moving from one house to another to contact him for free estimates on cost. Those having items to store will also find Wooten cooperative, as he has plenty of room in his warehouse for such service.

Demonstration Set For Necchi Machine

The new 1954 Necchi sewing machine, which performs all stitches and makes buttonholes without benefit of attachments, will be demonstrated Wednesday at the Landers Eleventh Place Cleaners.

A. F. Gilliland, Big Spring distributor for the famous Necchi machines, invites all residents to inspect the sewing machine and see it in operation. The demonstration in the Eleventh Place Shopping Center was arranged especially for the convenience of persons residing in that area.

Anyone interested in seeing the machine work is invited to drop in at any time during the day, Gilliland said. Or if it is more convenient, Gilliland will demonstrate the machine in his establishment, the Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, at 112 E. 2nd Street.

The 1954 Necchi has several new features not found in older Necchis or in any of the machines put out by other concerns. And even without the latest improvements, the Necchi had become famous for its ability to perform all types of needle work without troublesome attachments of any kind.

The latest models feature a two-speed motor, a built-in light which shines directly on the needle and numerous other new features, including the "wonder wheel."

This latest development enables the machine to operate itself.

The operator simply puts the work in place, starts the machine, and it then performs the selected stitch automatically. The operator doesn't have to touch a thing.

Gilliland has announced that the Necchi, as well as the Elna and Domestic sewing machines which he also distributes in this area, may be purchased on a time-payment plan with small down-payment.

In addition to making these three popular makes of sewing machines available to residents of this area, Gilliland provides repair service on all brands of machines. He has a large stock of parts for all brands and is skilled through years of experience in all phases of repair and service.

For more detailed information on any of the Gilliland services, residents may dial No. 4-5011.

TESCO Manager Graduates Again

R. L. (Jimmy) Beale, district manager for Texas Electric Service Company, "graduated" again at Texas A&M on Saturday.

He had completed the three-weeks course for executives of Southwest Industries. The 19 "students" went to school every day from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and came back for two-hour sessions at night. Some of the 13 graduated the previous year came back for a reunion and to sit in on a few of the classes.

Beale is a graduate of Texas A&M College, and the special course was a sort of homecoming for him.

Instructors for the course were more than two score of the top executives of industries over the state as well as in the Southwest.
