PRIMARY ELECTIONS SHOW MIXED TENDENCIES IN FIVE STATES IN VOTING TUESDAY

The results of primary elections in five states yesterday, summarized as follows: Michigan—Frank Murphy was called as highest commissioner of the Philippines to campaign for the new deal apparently won the democratic gubernatorial nomination from George Welsh.

Sen. James Couzens, republican who endorsed President Roosevelt, trailed in the republican primary, where he sought renomination and former Governor Wilbur Brucker seemed a probable winner.

Gov. Frank Fitzgerald was assured of renomination for governor in the republican primary.

Rep. Trentis Brown, supported by the national administration was head of four competitors for the democratic senatorial nomination.

Massachusetts—Gov. James Curley, campaigning as "the original Roosevelt man in Massachusetts" won the democratic senatorial nomination.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., grandnephew of the U. S. Senator of the same name, won the republican material nomination.

New Hampshire—Gov. Henry Hiles Bridges apparently won the republican senatorial nomination over former senator George Boss.

Wisconsin—Gov. Phillip LaFollette, unopposed progressive and Roosevelt, drew more votes than the combined republican total on the basis of early returns.

The GOP only party to oppose the new deal, led the democratic vote total.

New York—Congressional candidacies of the old line parties tumbled, Cox, independents running under the Townsend and Coughlin banners.

GERMANY OR RUSSIA ARE NOT YET READY FOR WAR AS EUROPEAN WAR SEEMS LIKELY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Europe is closer today to the outbreak of a general war than at any time in the last 15 years, administration leaders feared.

Officials are watching developments closely. Defiance between the leaders of Germany and Soviet Russia set new records in international discord. World peace hangs in the balance.

It is the consensus of leaders here that neither Germany nor Russia desires war yet. Neither is believed to be ready for such a struggle. It is believed, however, that only an unhappy "incident" is needed to ignite the powder magazine built up in the past 18 months.

The Spanish government fought for its life on the Talavera front today. The outcome of the civil war may be decided there. Despite heavy reinforcements from Madrid, loyalists have been pushed back.

The rebels made a strong flank attack northeast of Talavera to force the loyalists back. The rebel objective was to cut through the line and isolate the main body of government troops from the capital.

The American state department apparently feared some such outcome and Americans were given only 48 hours to leave Madrid.

On the north coast the loyalists were in a precarious situation. A starvation blockade of Bilbao, Santander and other ports was in effect. Rebels from San Sebastian began advancing westward on the start of a new offensive.

FIRST PROGRAM DUE BY CISCO THIS EVENING

General Chairman Says Rain Might Slow Schedule, But Not Cancel

Despite rain which started Monday, the county's tenth annual fair will open today at Eastland. This assurance was given this morning by general chairman, H. C. Davis, who stated the rain "might slow the schedule, but won't cancel the fair."

Officials and workmen this morning began the placing of exhibits in the buildings one block east of the courthouse square. It was stated exhibits were numerous despite the rain which in some parts of the county delayed exhibitors arriving with their products.

Most pronounced of the results of the heavy rains was in the number of livestock arriving in that department, under the chairmanship of Rev. Charles W. Estes of Eastland.

An extension in time for arrival of exhibits was announced by Davis. County Agent Elmo V. Cook's stated judging in the agricultural department was postponed until Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Cook stated community exhibits had arrived from Flatwood and Morton Valley. Others were expected from Kokomo, Shady Grove and Seranton.

Workmen were to begin at noon in the erection of equipment for the midway to be established off the square.

Cisco is scheduled to present the formal opening program tonight at 8 o'clock. It was announced by secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce that the high school band and Harry Schaefer's orchestra will be featured in musical and novelty numbers. There will be brief addresses by Cisco citizens.

Officials were unable to determine whether the rain was heavy enough to necessitate the postponement of a free rodeo Thursday afternoon.

Rain insurance carried by the fair association is effective from 7 to 10 o'clock each night of the fair.

ENROLLMENT IN SCHOOL HIKE AT DESDEMONA

100 pupils were added to the Desdemona school by the recent contracts with Lowell and Robinson Springs schools.

A contract transferring the scholastics out of Robinson Springs in Comanche county has been made for two years and another with Lowell, four and one-half miles in Crath county for one year.

Robinson Springs transferred 104 students and Lowell 44.

The transfer of the students of the schools increases the staff of the local school from 11 to 15 teachers.

For the first time commercial courses have been added to the study of the high school here.

Negro Is Held In Stabbing of a Man

HOUSTON, Sept. 16.—A 19-year-old negro was held on a murder charge here today in connection with the fatal stabbing of Howard Guinn, 22, amateur baseball player.

Guinn died within a few minutes last night after a fight resulting from a traffic dispute.

With assurance of a permanent home for the exhibits, officials of the exposition and departments of the university cooperated in constructing permanent exhibits. Cases, which are later to go to the university museum, were bought and moved into the gymnasium.

Now, with completion of the permanent structure at least one year away, university officials have two alternatives. They must either continue their occupation of the gymnasium, keeping the show open, or move the whole thing into storage to await completion of their new home.

Regents at the university said they had not considered a course of action at this time, but indicated that the people would be considered at an early date.

Eight Brick Houses Stolen, Says Owner

MONTREAL—William Budge, Baikie, wealthy houseowner, reported to police that thieves stole eight of his houses in Rosemount, a suburb of Montreal.

Baikie said the flats were unoccupied for several months, and the thieves apparently demolished and carted them away brick by brick.

University Exhibits Form a Problem

AUSTIN—University of Texas officials here are wondering what to do with the exhibits of the University Centennial exhibition after December 1.

In selecting the site for the exposition, Gregory Gymnasium was found to be the only place large enough to house the exhibits. The large auditorium of the gymnasium was converted into an exhibit hall. It was necessary to close the gymnasium to athletic competitions, but assurance was given that the exposition would move out Dec. 1. Basketball, which is played in the gymnasium auditorium, will be in full swing then.

A drive for a permanent University Memorial Museum has been successful, with state and federal funds amounting to $525,000 allocated to the project. Contracts for the permanent museum structure have been let, with work to start in about two weeks. It will take approximately 217 working days.

Now, with completion of the permanent structure at least one year away, university officials have two alternatives. They must either continue their occupation of the gymnasium, keeping the show open, or move the whole thing into storage to await completion of their new home.

Regents at the university said they had not considered a course of action at this time, but indicated that the people would be considered at an early date.

RESETTLEMENT AID IN COUNTY SAVES THE FARMERS

Guion Gregg, State Farm Debt Adjustment Supervisor, here today, reports that 19 farms have been saved from foreclosures during the Government's Resettlement Administration program in Eastland County since Sept. 1, 1935. The properties were saved by either refinancing or extensions of farm debts.

Farm debts in the state have been reduced $1,020,487 during the year by the Administration. The agency has arranged for payment of $179,238 in taxes, involving 597,252 acres of land.

The Farm-debt adjustment program was instituted at the request of President Roosevelt in October, 1933. It was formed to bring the distressed farm debtors and their creditors together to discuss their mutual problems and arrive at adjustments which would prevent wholesale foreclosure of farm homes, and to aid in agricultural rehabilitation. It arose out of a crisis in agricultural credit which had been aggravated by weather and crop conditions. Thousands of farmers found themselves hopelessly unable to meet their obligations, and the number of farm foreclosures was mounting rapidly.

The purpose of the Resettlement Administration is to aid the distressed farmers in adjusting their problems, whether on their personal property or on their land holdings. The service of the department is offered free of charge to the farmers. A committee of civic-minded citizens for each county in the United States serves as a board to investigate cases which are referred to the Administration.

The Eastland County committee acted upon 26 cases which were presented for consideration. The local committee is composed of F. S. Boland, Seranton; Milton Newman, Eastland; and Dick Weekes, Ranger. Rural rehabilitation Supervisor, Mr. George L. Lane, and the District F. D. A. Supervisor, Mr. Guion Gregg, are in charge of the Resettlement Administration work in Eastland County.

The program was originally sponsored by the Farm Credit Association, but since Sept. 1, 1935, it has been under the supervision of the Resettlement Administration. President Roosevelt allotted $2,000,000 to provide salaries and necessary expenses of the full-time personnel, but at the end of the 10-months' period ending June 30, 1936, only $1,000,000 of this amount had been spent. The total cost of farm-debt adjustment activities from Sept. 1, 1935, to June 30, 1936, amounted to approximately one per cent of the amount of indebtedness involved in cases adjusted over the same period.

Mr. Gregg says that due to protracted dry weather which has greatly curtailed the money-crop in the county, or completely destroyed it, many farmers will find it impossible to meet their interest, much less their principal obligations this fall, and he suggests that such farmers begin in time to negotiate with their creditors for the necessary extensions of time. He further suggests that they call upon our local Farm Debt Adjustment Committee to assist them in the adjustments of their debts with their creditors, and with the procuring of such extensions of time as are reasonable and fair to both parties under the circumstances.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16.—Attorneys expected today that new veniremen would be needed to complete the jury to hear charges against O. D. Stevens, on trial in criminal district court here for the murder of Harry Rutherford at Handley in 1933.

Lawyers had selected five jurors from 69 prospects questioned at noon today.

District Attorney Will Parker said he would demand the death penalty for Stevens. A previous conviction on the same charges brought a death sentence which was reversed by the court of criminal appeals.

Liberty, Law's Dignity Are Not Incompatible

The line between liberty and license can be an almighty hard one to draw. The American solution usually is to allow a good deal of leeway on the side of license so as to make sure that liberty is not infringed; if somebody abuses the privilege that's just too bad.

But it isn't entirely impossible to draw the line, even when such an extremely important abstraction as the freedom of the press is involved; and it wouldn't hurt either the press or the bar of the United States to give a little sober attention to some remarks on court procedure recently made by Chief Justice William M. Maltbie of the Connecticut supreme court.

Justice Maltbie proposed that the courts draw up rules to govern press coverage of trials so as to avoid such threatening circus affairs as the Hauptmann trial.

With the rules which he proposes a great many newspaper editors will doubtless quarrel. Steering away from license, the justice may have a tendency to cut into liberty a bit. But with the general idea that press and bar can and should head off repetitions of such affairs as the Hauptmann trial, there can be little dissent.

Justice Maltbie urges that the only reporters admitted to a courtroom be those from the state and city directly involved, and from the great press associations. He would prohibit all picture-making in court and ban all movie and radio equipment. He would have the trial judge exercise supervision over the giving out by court stenographers of transcripts of the evidence.

Now the point to bear in mind, in any such proposal to reduce the hippodrome aspects of a sensational trial, is that one right is paramount—the right of the public at large to know precisely what goes on in its courtrooms. It is of the highest importance that the war-time trial of a Eugene Debs, for instance, be given the fullest kind of coverage. Once set a limit on the right of the press to tell what happens in court, and you provide an entering wedge for star-chamber sessions, judicial tyranny, and the very negation of democracy.

No set of regulations, then, can be approved by the American press if it in any way cuts off from the people a full and untrammelled knowledge of the facts.

Beyond that, however, there is a good deal that can be said for the justice's ideas.

Sensation-mongering is not an integral part of the essential reporting of the news. No judge need turn his courtroom over to the tabloids. The photographer need not exactly perch on the rail of the jury box. The radio and the movie, certainly, can properly remain outside the door.

For a criminal courtroom needs dignity and decorum, if for no other reason than that it is the arena for a supposedly passionless and unbiased search for facts. The rights of the man on trial and of the society which is trying him must be preserved. They are apt to get lost in the shuffle, in a trial such as that of Hauptmann.

Siberia Yielding New and Rare Ore

MOSCOW — Discovery of new coal and oil fields, reported frequently by Soviet geologists, has been augmented by location of a number of rare mineral deposits. In eastern Siberia, near Shakh-toma, new deposits of tungsten and molybdenum were discovered. Quicksilver deposits were found in the Kosh-Agach region in western Siberia and in the Orenburg province in the southern Urals. Tungsten deposits have been located in two different places. Lead ore with a 25 per cent content of lead was found in the Leninabad region of the Tadjik republic, and the boring of an artesian well in the Ukraine near Irgen disclosed a vein of nickel 15 meters in thickness.

(Posed by Mildred Shelley and J. M. Seymour of United Airlines.)

They stood in the dusk, watching the Mariner wing her way into the bay.

It was a little dark before the Mariner reached Ship Harbor and suddenly the lights were switched on in the 50 portholes. It looked as if a flying hotel were coming down out of the skies. They heard the roar of the four 800-horsepower motors as the Mariner glided down toward the waters, still speckled with the glint of the parting sun.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII

KAY saw to it that Monte Blaine caught the afternoon plane for Oakland. She was on duty on his ship. Monte sat back in his passenger's seat, watching her fly and grinning when she passed him in the aisle.
