The People's Interest in Coming Elections

Despite other evidence to the country, the "next election" campaign is on. And it is gathering momentum so fast that from now until 1940, the electorate is going to have to be the best read, the best informed and the keenest in the nation's history if the vote follows the real

This is assuming, of course, that campaigns generally will follow the course indicated in Pennsylvania and New York City. Political quarrels which already have attained robust proportions in those places provide cues for what may be coming in other localities.

Just what the issues will be is as much a problem to the politicians as to the voters. Maybe they will all develop as nicely as the issue in Pennsylvania, which was handed to the home of the mayor's secretary.

In reprisal for this attempt to "ruin him politically," and to meet the "challenge" from the New Deal governor, George H. Earle, Mayor Wilson announced that he would reverse a previous decision and run for governor. So, although the election is about 15 months off, Mayor Wilson immediately opened his campaign in the coal area, That's how simple that was.

Kathleen realized this irst when she saw a black and white terrier go pelting past her up the stairs, and heard him scratch at a door which was promptly opened for him. Soon a typewriter, a steel filing cabinet and a big table were carried in. These seemed to belong to a tall, young man, with fair hair and ice unturned smile, who adlressed the dog as Schmatz.

Kathleen became quite absorbed ratching the moving from her indow, wondering who he could e and what kind of work he did.
