Lawyers, the Law and Public Confidence

It isn't hard to understand why the American Bar Association convention at Kansas City had a field day attacking President Roosevelt for his criticisms of the law and lawyers. The President has been a bit rough with lawyers, on occasion; turn about his only fair play.

But the speech of President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago was a timely warning that the legal profession has a little job of soul-searching to do—a job which can't be evaded by a simple assertion that Mr. Roosevelt is biased and vindictive.

President Hutchins put it up to the lawyers in plain words:

"If they continue to accept what is done as the standard of what to do; if they continue to seek large fees under the impression that they are the common good; if legal ethics mean little more than a protective tariff in favor of the bar; if we are regarded as the spokesmen of special privilege; if our chief claim to public admiration is our agility in making the worse cause appear the better, the new are lost; then we cannot hope to make the community accept our moral leadership."

There is no use pretending that a great many plain citizens nowadays are not pretty well disillusioned about lawyers. This has nothing whatever to do with the Supreme Court fight; it antedates it by a good many years and it is due very largely to the points touched on by President Hutchins.

Our laws are made principally by lawyers. They are interpreted by lawyers. When we discover that a certain law does not mean what we had supposed it very clearly did mean, or that its force is nullified by the existence of gaping loopholes or cleverly legalized non-observance, we know that some lawyer has been at it.

It is this sort of thing which has led to public disillusionment. The Bar Association gets nowhere by charging President Roosevelt with bias. The charge may be perfectly correct, but it is beside the point. Self-questioning along the line laid down by President Hutchins in what is called for.

Perhaps a good part of the trouble comes because lawyers and laymen alike have been confused as to whether the practice of law is a profession or a trade.

If it is a profession, it carries with it certain ethical standards and entails a definite duty to society. Its members are obligated to live up to certain ideals—at the cost, if necessary, of cash in the pocket. If it is a trade, on the other hand, then anything goes, and the annual profit-and-loss statement is the only criterion of success.

The best thing the lawyers could do would be to decide once and for all what sort of league they are operating in.

Hostage Is Held By Fleeing Bandits

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13.—State and county peace officers searched South Texas highways today for two bandits believed to be holding Cecil Carr of San Antonio as hostage in Carr's automobile.

The bandits, who caught a ride with Carr at Houston yesterday, held up two other hitch-hikers and sped away with Carr asleep on the rear seat.

Slugging of Man By Woman Probed

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—A. M. Reilly, 37, official of a wholesale jobbing firm in Dallas, was removed to Dallas from a hospital here today while police investigated an attack on him by two women he met here last night at a night club.

Reilly told police that the women took $15 and a $500 diamond ring from him, stabbed and slugged him, and left him lying in a lane not far from a highway near Fort Worth.

A passing motorist found him in a semi-conscious condition and took him to a hospital.

IPA Delegates In Meeting In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—Delegates to the convention of the Independent Petroleum Association opened meetings today in connection with the Oil World Exposition.

Early arrivals of the Oil Pact Commission were expected this afternoon headed by Col. E. O. Thompson, Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma and Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico.

Court of Honor

A court of honor for all Brownwood scouts is to be held at 7:30 p. m., Oct. 19, in the First Presbyterian church. A board of review for this will be at 4 p. m., on Oct. 15, in the scout office, courthouse. After the court of honor the various troops represented will enter into inter-troop contests.

17 Scouts in College

The following list is from troop 33, Lampasas, which is scoutmastered by Eric Matthews: Frank Dickason, Willis Moses, Earl Lindsey, George Gartman, Harry Goodman, Kenneth Brown and Don Dunklin, University of Texas; Charles Bailey, George C. Taylor, James Spann, Texas A. & M.; La Vaughn Perry, Sul Ross College; Leslie Landrum and Durwood Watson, Draughon Business College; Howell Gaddy, Southwestern University, T. R. Hunter, Westmoreland College; Harry Easters and Edward Andrew Easters, San Marcos Academy.

City People Told of Fire Alarm Boxes

By United Press. FORT WORTH.—Despite the annoyance of Halloween pranksters, Fire Chief Ferguson declared as Fire Prevention Week opened that a review of fire hazards for the last two years has revealed that many citizens do not know how to turn in a fire alarm.

"It's simple," the red-haired chief pointed out. "Just break the tiny square glass on the call box and pull down the key."

DEAF PLAYERS IGNORE REFEREE'S WHISTLING

BUCHAREST.—Asked to referee a football game here, a Bucharest man was a little put out when he discovered that none of the players paid the slightest attention to his whistle. No one had told him that the teams came from two deaf and dumb homes.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox, NEA Service Staff Writer

WE used to have to wait for Thanksgiving time for cranberries. Now Thanksgiving seems to have to wait until American cooks have tried out a few cranberry recipes before the turkey can get itself basted for the "BIG EATING DAY." Steamed or baked puddings made with the tart red berry of American fame belong in the better living group.

Steamed Cranberry Pudding (4 to 6 servings)

One cup suet, 1 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 1/2 cups buttermilk, 1 cup cranberries, 1 3/4 cups bread crumbs, 1 3/4 cups flour, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt. Chop suet fine. Dissolve soda in buttermilk. Mix all dry ingredients. Beat egg, add milk and molasses and flour and cranberries alternately. Put in small greased baking powder cans and steam 2 hours. Serve with supreme sauce.

Supreme Sauce

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup cream, 1 tablespoon sherry. Beat egg yolks, add sugar, beat and add whipped cream, then sherry. Lastly fold in stiffly beaten whites.

Baked Cranberry Pudding (4 to 6 servings)

One box zwieback, 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 4 cups cranberries, 1 orange, 3-4 cup sugar, 1-4 cup melted butter.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapes, mixed hot cereal, cream, bacon, rolls, marmalade, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Shrimp custard, green salad, orange and coconut cup, sweet wafers, tea, milk. DINNER: Pineapple juice, grilled hamburger cakes, mashed potatoes, brussels sprouts, green salad, steamed cranberry pudding, coffee, milk.

Cranberry Conserve

Four cups cranberries, 1 cup cold water, 2 large oranges, 1 lemon, 1-2 cup seeded raisins, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 1-2 cup pecans. Wash cranberries and chop. Add water, juice of oranges and lemons and grated rind of one orange and raisins. Cook 15 minutes. Add sugar, boil 3 minutes and add nuts and pour into glasses.

"OUT OUR WAY" By Williams

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—The current widespread practice of waging war without declaring war is actually just an old-fashioned custom. The United States is still technically engaged in one such war, insofar as any treaty of peace or formal ending is concerned.

In July, 1816, U. S. troops invaded what was then the Spanish territory of Florida and blew up an old fort, killing 270 Indians and Negroes with what would appear to have been as effective atrocity as lately has been demonstrated in China and Spain.

Later the Seminole Indians managed to massacre a band of about 40 white men and women and you had the First Seminole War, with Andrew Jackson and his troops burning and killing through the Seminole country until a treaty signed in 1818.

The Second Seminole War, according to records here, was caused by refusal of the Indians to give up land guaranteed them by the treaty. It blazed up in 1835 and in six years 1500 U. S. soldiers were killed and $20,000,000 spent to annihilate Seminoles.

The army hunted the Indians with bloodhounds and violated flags of truce. Osceola died in prison and most tribal leaders were dragged out of the swamps, but there were always enough tribesmen left to resist and about 800 Seminoles are on a reservation in the Everglades there today.

Some of the survivors, it's believed at the Indian Bureau here, never saw a white man. No treaty of peace was ever signed. Some civilization has penetrated the swamps to the Seminoles.

but old men still pass on stories of the white man's many broken promises. The Indians stopped raising cows some time ago, they say, because white men stole them.

An Indian Bureau agent recently penetrated the reservation to do various kinds of good for the Seminoles and had a hard time battling down rumors that he was there to take 2500 names in a program of putting them all in a stockade and selling them into slavery. At last reports some of the more remote Seminoles were going to be shown their first movie by the bureau agent. The unsigned treaty of peace probably will go unsigned.

There are 1700 other Seminoles over in Oklahoma and a few of them are well off because of oil discoveries. Lately there has been some stir among them because it appears that President Cardenas has invited them to come to Mexico and settle there.

Some of the facts aren't any too clear, but it all dates back to the late 1840's when the forebears of these Seminoles went down, by invitation, to help the Mexican government of that day fight the Apaches. They received a promise that there would be land for them whenever they wanted to come and settle.

Just why Cardenas wants these Indians isn't clear. Perhaps because he only has about 8,000,000 Indians in his own country. Anyway, the Indian Bureau says the Oklahoma Seminoles, like the Florida Seminoles, don't want to move.

NEW YORK.—The stars stride, the goats stumble across the stage in our world series cavalcade.

Those glum fellows heading the parade are the Red Sox—the original series goats. They won the first inter-league tournament back in 1903 against the Pirates, but got only $1182 apiece, which is about one-sixth what the winners will get this time.

Here comes Christy Mathewson. You know they're comparing Carl Hubbell to Christy—but will King Karlos pitch three straight shutouts like Christy did back in 1905 against the Athletics?

Probably never heard of this fellow behind Mathewson, huh? Name's George Rohe. The White Sox needed a sub third baseman against the Cubs in 1906, shoved him in, the fans groaned in distress—but then, so did the Cub pitchers. The unknown guy blasted three triples which won three games. Dropped back to the minors next year.

You know this fellow, of course—Babe Adams. They say Cliff Melton can't win against the Yankees because first-year men never do, but they forget that Babe, a Pirate rookie, gave the Tigers a skippy total of 18 hits in three games he won in 1909. The last one was an 8-0 game which gave the Pirates the series.

Look at poor Heinie Zimmerman. He thought he could beat Babe, a Pirate rookie, gave the Tigers a skippy total of 18 hits in three games he won in 1909. The last one was an 8-0 game which gave the Pirates the series.

Look at poor Heinie Zimmerman. He thought he could beat Babe, a Pirate rookie, gave the Tigers a skippy total of 18 hits in three games he won in 1909. The last one was an 8-0 game which gave the Pirates the series.

Added to the disillusion of cynic's claims that the Constitution is not sacred, someone now has a cruel theory that Cinderella's slippers actually were not glass.

there's one fellow who was really a hero—little Dickie Kerr. Remember how he won two games pitching for a team that was trying to lose?

LOOK at Bill Wambansang strut. Bill's the only fellow who ever made an unassisted triple play in the series. Did it in 1920 when the Indians beat the Dodgers.

The fellow with the acowl is Roger Peckinpaugh. He was voted most valuable player in the American League in 1925 and then made eight errors to keep Washington from beating Pittsburgh.

Ah! . . . Here comes Old Alex, a good old Grover Cleveland Alexander. Nobody'll ever forget that day when Alex was roused from a warm snooze out in the bullpen, shuffled into the pitcher's box, and fanned Tony Lazerri with the sacks loaded to give the Cardinals the 1926 series.

Sure, sure, that's the Babe—the one and only Babe Ruth. He went crazy wild in 1928—got 10 hits, six of them for extra bases, hit three homers in one game, and drove home nine runs, just one less than the Cards got together.

That fellow who just tore by was Pepper Martin. That's the way he went in 1931. Mickey Cochrane and the other A's will never forget the wild Cardinal.

Folks say nobody will ever call his shot better than the Babe did in 1932 when he wig-wagged his finger at the centerfield fence and then bashed . . . now and says he wasn't aiming at any homer at all. . . . "I was trying to slice a foul into the Cub dugout just for fun," says the Babe.

Maybe that's how a lot of heroes are born.

Q. How many missions were established on the San Xavier (Gabriel)?

A. The San Xavier mission group of three log structures and accompanying efforts was erected in 1745 and 1746.

Q. What disposition was made of the Mexican prisoners captured at San Jacinto?

A. They were taken to Galveston Island and kept there until August, when they were removed to Liberty, in charge of Judge William Hardin, where they were held in nominal captivity, until April 25, 1837, when all were released.

Q. What have been the various locations and names of the Alamo?

A. The mission was founded on the Rio Grande about 1700-03 and called San Francisco Solano; was moved into the interior and called San Ildefonso; then back to the Rio Grande about 1710 and renamed Solano; then to San Pedro Springs (San Antonio) in 1716 and called San Antonio de Padua, the name being changed to San Antonio de Valero when it was moved across the creek in 1718; then to Military Plaza in 1732; then to its present location where it was given the name of Alamo Mission (Poplar Church) when the corner stone was laid May 8, 1744.

New Corporations Show a Decline During Past Month

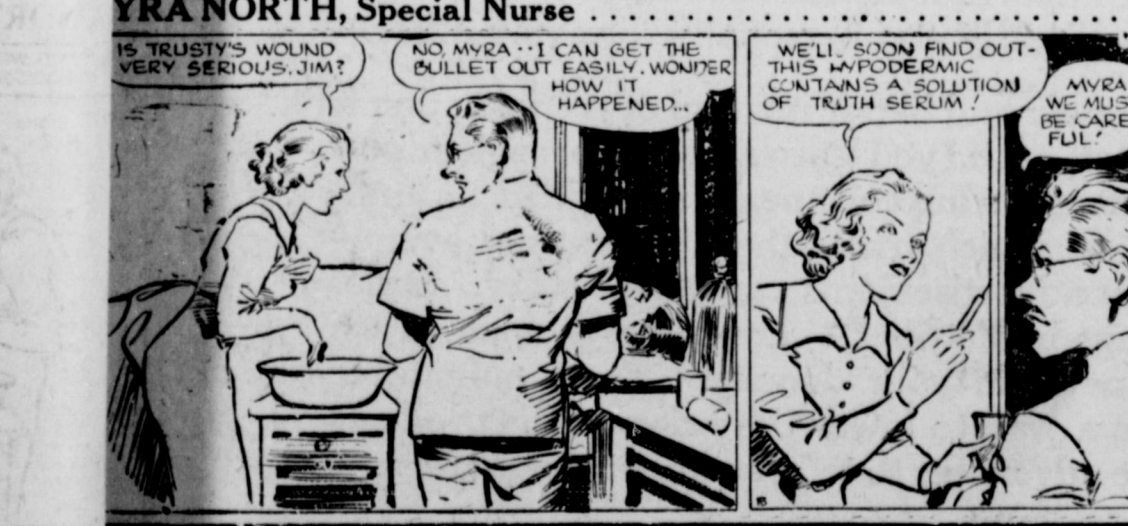

AUSTIN.—The number of new corporations chartered in Texas during September declined sharply from the preceding month, and moderately from the corresponding month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Capitalization of the new corporations dropped off even more sharply from August to September, but increased substantially over September last year.

Reports from the office of the Secretary of State show a total of 103 new charters, a decline of 27.5 per cent from the preceding month and 16.5 per cent from the like month last year. Capitalization of the new firms totaled $2,034,000, a decline of 49.6 per cent from July, but an increase of 24.1 per cent over September last year.

Groups showing increases in new charters granted over last year were banking-finance, public service, and real estate-building, the bureau's analysis showed.

There were four corporations chartered with capitalization of $100,000 or more, against ten in August and three in September of last year.

Added to the disillusion of cynic's claims that the Constitution is not sacred, someone now has a cruel theory that Cinderella's slippers actually were not glass.
