MAVERICKS TO PLAY BOBCATS AT SAN ANGELO

The Eastland Mavericks, having won and lost one conference football game this season, will journey to San Angelo Friday, where they will meet the strong San Angelo Bobcats in the third game for the Eastland County entry in the Oil Belt and the second for the Bobcats. Last week the Mavericks won from Big Spring by a score of 18 to 13 and are primed up to win their second conference game Friday night. The Bobcats, after losing to Stephenville by a score of 8 to 0, are reported to have polished up many of their weaknesses during the past week and will present a much stronger front than they did against the Yellow Jackets last Friday night. Injuries have cut into the Maverick lineup to some extent, it has been reported, though the team that meets the Bobcats tomorrow night will be one of the strongest that has represented Eastland in several years.

Monthly tax returns must be filed as usual.

Desperado Caught By Dallas Police

DALLAS, Sept. 30.—Robert W. Campbell, 52, former East Texas oil field desperado and companion of the late Gerald Hairston who was slain several weeks ago in a gun fight with police in Gulfport, Miss., was arrested here today in the company of two other criminals. Police arrested the trio in a stolen automobile. The three men were wanted for questioning in the robbery, two days ago, of a salesman.

Chinese Leader of Opinion America Is Aiding Japan

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Dr. Heng Chih Tao, Chinese liberal leader, asserted today that shipments of American scrap iron and oil from Port Houston means death to women and children in Shanghai. Speaking before a branch of the League Against War and Fascism last night, Dr. Tao said that China was dismayed by application of United States shipping rules against the far east, which favored Japan.

Indians' Bones Revive Legends

SANDUSKY, O.—Discovery of powdery, brittle fragments of human bones in a shallow grave on nearby Kelley's Island in Lake Erie has produced one of the region's richest mysteries. The bones apparently were those of Iroquois Indians who died two or three centuries ago. Part of eight skeletons have been removed from the excavation, less than 3 feet deep, and about 5 feet long and 4 feet wide. Dr. Wilton M. Krogman, professor of anthropology at Western Reserve University, said the grave contained the bodies of an unborn baby, a child about a year old, a boy of 12, a youth of 18, a woman, and three men. First clues to the presence of the grave was found by telephone linemen who accidentally turned up a skull. Hasty excavations then revealed the skeletons had lain untouched for years while plows furrowed the ground over and around them. Nearby stands a great stone house, once inhabited by the settler for whom the island was named, now the summer home of the Dominican Sisters of Adrian, Mich. Parts of the skeletons had been collected for Dr. Krogman by Sister Marie Lambert. From them, when he arrived soon after the first discovery, he attempted to piece together the story of the Indians. He explained that the Indians may have been members of a family, buried together. Skull fragments were insufficient for measurements to establish racial identity, but he thought it likely that they were Iroquois who roamed the territory more than 200 years ago. "This one," he said, holding up a fragment, "was a sub-adult, about 18. This is part of the arm bone of an unborn child. And here was a child that must have been about a year old." Discovery of the grave revived a host of island legends, based on previous finds of Indian knives, tomahawks, and bones. A populous Iroquois village is said to have stood on the island centuries ago. The small size of the grave, led Dr. Krogman to believe it was a case of "bundle burial," in which bodies were left in the open until all but the skeletons had wasted away. The bones were then gathered up and buried. The Iroquois were known to have followed that custom.

CONVICT ESCAPES

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Ed Rodriguez, 24-year-old convict, escaped from the Blue Ridge prison farm near Hobby, Harris county, today.

"NO NEW TAXES ARE NEEDED" SAYS REPORT OF ECONOMY GROUP

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—"No new taxes are needed" said a majority report of the economy committee filed today. The report, viewed as a formal answer to Gov. James V. Allred's call for additional revenue, made five specific recommendations. They were: 1—Recall all appropriation bills to reduce them at least $3,500,000. 2—Take steps to collect $10,000,000 delinquent taxes. 3—Re-allocate all occupation taxes in conformity with the constitution. 4—Administer old age assistance to the needy only. 5—Levy no new or additional taxes at this time. If aid is needed by blind people the report said, it could be furnished out of savings and an estimated $1,500,000 needed for aid to destitute children can be financed the same way. Another $1,500,000 requested by the governor for the teachers' retirement fund is not a pressing need, the committee concluded. Teacher retirement will not begin for several years and the money would only be invested in bonds. Reduction of the state deficit was also found not to be a pressing need. It has been accumulating over a seven-year period, the committee reported. Under proper administration of state affairs, they believe, the deficit will be reduced more rapidly than it was created.

FIRST FIGHT FOR ECONOMY STARTS TODAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Economy minded senators today drove an opening wedge for reduction of the appropriations made by the Texas Legislature at previous sessions. Gov. James V. Allred had declined to submit that as a topic for this tax session. Senators announced they will accomplish it, regardless of the governor's refusal, by revising past appropriations when they pass a final bill to pay expenses of the present special session. Led by Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo today, they blocked passage of a $100,000 session expense bill. They forced its reduction to $50,000. They admitted $50,000 will not be enough but voted for that much to pay mileage expenses and immediate needs of employees.

Striking Norwegian Sailors Get Bonus

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Striking Norwegian sailors of the steamer Destzard won their war bonus demands of $250 each today and sailed immediately with a cargo of scrap for Japan.

JAPANESE PLANE FALLS—A PLUME OF DEATH

The plume of smoke and the plane that hurtles earthward out of control mark the spectacular end of a Japanese bomber in a raid over the Chapel section of Shanghai. With two other planes it flew above the city in formation through a hail of anti-aircraft shells. Suddenly it burst apart and fell meteor-like toward the ground near the Markham Road of the International Settlement.

OFFICERS SEEK TWO NEGROES AS KIDNAPERS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30.—West Texas peace officers today were searching for two burly negroes and a car they took from Dallas bakery employees they kidnaped and robbed last night. Frank Lemmon, 30, salesman for the baking company, was released by the negroes shortly before daybreak near Cleburne. Malcolm Huffstutler, 22, was released last night five miles east of Fort Worth on the Dallas highway. Huffstutler said the negroes boarded the car on a Fort Worth street and forced the men, at pistol point to drive from the city. On the highway the negroes took $30 from Huffstutler and forced him from the car. One of them then took the wheel and the two drove away with Lemmon.

Sailor Killed in a Fall From Window

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30.—Edward Lyman Terrill of Denver, Colo., who received discharge papers from the steamer Liberty Bell, here yesterday, plunged to his death today from the 12th floor of a hotel.

Marines' Barbed Diplomacy

The United States' avowed policy to keep out of foreign entanglements doesn't keep the Fourth Regiment of Marines from setting up entanglements to snag any force that might attempt to invade the International Settlement of Shanghai. The "leathernecks" have strung up the barbed wire barricade along Soochow Creek, beyond which Chinese and Japanese forces fight it out.

Humble Oil To Raise Prices On Texas Crude Oil

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Humble Oil and Refining Company announced a price increase of one per cent per barrel for Texas crude oil today, based on purchase of 100 per cent quantity, instead of 99 per cent, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

Sumners' Attack Is Considered a Bar To Any Appointment

DALLAS, Sept. 30.—Congressman Hattin W. Sumners' thundering attack today on the Roosevelt administration at the American Bar association convention in Kansas City was regarded by friends here as definitely eliminating him as a possible appointee to the Supreme Court. As a widely recognized authority on constitutional law, the 52-year-old Dallas congressman was a key figure in the congressional fight which resulted in the court reform plan being blocked. Sumners, congressman from Dallas since 1913 and chairman of the House judiciary committee for five years, was a strong supporter of the New Deal until the President advanced his plan for reorganization of the federal judiciary.

Utility Worker Is Slain By His Wife

NAVASOTA, Texas, Sept. 30.—W. D. Hicks, 42, utility company worker, died in a hospital today from gunshot wounds inflicted by his wife during an insane fit. The 40-year-old wife, Estelle, was confined in a Houston sanitarium after Miss Artie McWhorter, acting county judge of Grimes county, ruled her mentally unbalanced.

Allred Will Speak On Tax Situation

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Governor James V. Allred will discuss the state tax situation in an address at Conroe Saturday afternoon. He has cancelled plans to attend the Texas-Louisiana State football game in order to attend the Montgomery County Fair, where the address will be given.

Aged Bricklayer Sets Stone In Shaft

HOUSTON—Robert J. (Bricklayer Bob) Harley, 87, realized his ambition on the $1,300,000 San Jacinto Battlefield memorial shaft—and was paid $1.25 for it. Undisturbed by the height, the aged man stepped on scaffolding at the 500-foot level of the shaft and steered a huge stone into place. It was his tallest job. Harley retired seven years ago. He refused an offer to "steady work" on the shaft.

OLD EPITAPH IN ROME ILION, N. Y.—This epitaph was found on a tombstone of a century-old abandoned cemetery which was uncovered here: "Death is a debt to nature due; I've paid my debt and so must you." The gravestone was dated 1795, in memory of a William Gorsline.

Price Adjustment For Cotton Farmers Is Now Available

All information and necessary blanks have been received by the Ranger Gin for cotton growers to secure the 1937 cotton price adjustment payments, and farmers who want to take advantage of this program can fill out the blanks at the gin. The following provisions have been outlined for the information of the farmers by Elmo V. Cook, county agent: 1—Original buyer's receipts for all cotton sold from the 1937 crop on or before Sept. 15, 1937, must be mailed or delivered in person to the county office not later than Sept. 30, 1937. Buyer's receipts for cotton sold after Sept. 15, 1937, must be mailed or delivered in person to the county office not later than 15 days after the date of sale. 2—Buyer's receipts must be in the original and must contain: (a) The date of the sale. (b) The name and address of the producer (and at least one of the parties who had an interest in the cotton sold). (c) The number of bales sold and the total gross weight of such bales. (d) The signature and address of the buyer. If the cotton is sold in the seed the receipt must show the number of pounds of seed cotton and the number of pounds expressed for lint, rather than the number of bales and gross weight. Lint cotton sold but not baled should be expressed in terms of lint cotton and the receipt marked "loose lint." 3—After cotton sale certificates have been made available on printed government forms, it will be necessary for the buyer to execute the government form for cotton which is sold on and after the date on which such forms become available. 4—Producers should file buyer's receipts, or the government form when it is available, in chronological order, with respect to every sale from the 1937 crop which is made prior to July 1, 1938. This is necessary in order that evidence of sale may be available on cotton in excess of 65 per cent of the producer's base production if it develops that funds are available to make payment on a percentage of such excess.

Big Spring-Ranger Game Date Changed

W. T. Walton, superintendent of Ranger Public Schools, announced today that the date for the Ranger-Big Spring game had been changed from Friday, Oct. 22 to Thursday, Oct. 21. The change in the date was made in order that the game could be staged as a part of the big 20th anniversary of the discovery of oil and homecoming, that is to be held in Ranger on that day. By changing the date of the game a much larger attendance is anticipated.

Forget-Me-Not Day Proclaimed Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Public cooperation in observance of Oct. 2 as forget-me-not day in honor of disabled war veterans, was asked in a proclamation issued today by Gov. James V. Allred.

CLYDE GARRETT ON STAND FOR OVER AN HOUR

ABILENE, Sept. 30.—Eerstwhile political campaign opponents met here yesterday in the courtroom as counsel and witness. Thomas L. Blanton, Sr., appearing as his own counsel in his suit for damages, alleging slander against Clyde L. Garrett and J. W. Cockrill of Eastland, called Judge Garrett as the first witness in a hearing in 42nd district court on the defendants' plea of privilege. Defendants seek to have the suit transferred to Eastland county, their home, for trial. Judge Blanton, who had represented this, the 17th congressional district nearly 20 years in all, was defeated for re-election last year by Mr. Garrett. Mr. Cockrill, former Gorman newspaper publisher, is now Garrett's secretary. Mr. Blanton seeks damages totaling $100,000. In the plaintiff's petition, 54 pages long, which was read to the jury yesterday afternoon by Thomas L. Blanton, Jr., of Albany, counsel for his father, were listed numerous allegations connected with last year's congressional campaign. For an hour and a half before Judge Milburn S. Long recessed the hearing until 9 a. m. today, Congressman Garrett was questioned by the man he defeated and who, before going to congress, presided eight years as judge of the court in which the hearing is being held. His testimony yesterday was punctuated by dozens of objections by his counsel, Carl Springer of Eastland, to questions asked by Judge Blanton. The state law provides that to overcome a plea of privilege in a suit brought under the laws of slander and libel, the plaintiff must establish as fact that slander or libel has occurred. If the jury, in the light of instructions upon the law by the court, finds in a hearing of this kind, that slander has not been established as fact, it must find for the defendant. In this case finding for the plaintiff would maintain venue in Taylor county and finding for the defendants would change venue, and trial, upon merits, to Eastland county.

JAPAN'S NOTE UPON BOMBING NON-COMMITAL

TOKYO, Sept. 30.—Japan, in a note replying to American protests, against airplane bombing of Chinese cities, made it plain today that she regards her campaign as a military necessity and will continue it. It was denied that Japanese aviators are indiscriminately bombing civilian population and it was intimated that foreigners must evacuate bombing areas if they want to be safe. It recalled the Japanese warning that Nanking, the Chinese capital, was to be bombed and asked the United States government to understand Japan's position and to cooperate in the future. It is advisable, the note said, for foreigners to take refuge when warning is given in order to add a safety factor to the care of Japanese pilots. Japan was inconvenienced, it was asserted, even by giving warning. As regards possible identification for damage to foreign interests, the note was non-committal and said merely that the Japanese attitude remains as before.

America Has No Need for Rabble Rousers

Walter B. Pitkin's plea for "a rabble rouser of the right" would seem to be about the least helpful of all the many suggestions...

Prof. Pitkin voiced this plea in an article in the current issue of Advertising Agency. He was complaining that those who have most reason to want to see the traditional American values preserved...

"The hour has come for words which smelt, for words which set fire to men and things, for words which loosen avalanches back in the mountains..."

One would suppose that a man with Prof. Pitkin's broad outlook would realize by this time that of all calamities which can descend on a nation these days, none can easily surpass that which is embodied in the person of a really gifted rabble rouser.

When you get such a person uttering "words which loosen avalanches back in the mountains," you never know just what those avalanches are going to sweep away.

For the rabble rouser is a man who calls on men to think with their emotions rather than with their minds. His "words which set fire to men" are, by definition, the kind of words which men use when they have grown tired of trying to solve their problems by intellectual effort.

Hitler went up and down Germany for years, his entire stock in trade consisting of just the sort of words Prof. Pitkin is talking about. In the course of time, conditions being bad and the outlook dark, he persuaded the German people to listen to him and to confide their future to his hands.

Hitler is not the only example, of course. Every dictatorship in Europe got its start in precisely that same way. And when you stop to think what democracy really means, the fact is not hard to understand.

Democracy is based on the assumption that people will use their gray matter rather than their feelings to solve their problems. It takes for granted that there will be enough coolness, patience and good sense to permit issues to be argued out, and that things will be settled rationally rather than emotionally.

Of all the things that our America does not need, a rabble rouser—whether of the right, the left or the dead-center—stands at the head of the list.

Sport Glances. . . . . By Grayson

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

LAUDE E. THORNHILL, coach of the Stanford Indians, really belongs to the football immortals. Not because he's a successful mentor, but because he is one of the few truly great grid tutors who actually believe football is a game and that the boys should have some fun out of it.

Considering the big business and show-must-go-on philosophy of other wise men of the gridiron, Tiny's fun-for-the-players borders on rank heresy.

This game stuff is the McCoy with Thornhill. It was evidenced by his associates last year when, after three very successful seasons, his Indians had a losing year.

His general self was the same as when his team was winning, his sole concern being the reaction of the players long used to success.

Tiny's teachings that football is a game were not in vain and this season finds the Californians ready to resume where they left off in 1935 on victory boulevard.

Tiny is a huge, grinning man who likes to talk, and has definite ideas about football, and how to teach it. He's 6 feet 1 1/2 inches tall, but no one, not even his players, believe he tips the Toledo upward of 260.

If you get him in a right mood he'll grinningly tell you 229 or 230 pounds, but his friends and his players believe he tips the Toledo upward of 260.

He's a composite of boyish playfulness, balanced reserve, love for football players and dogs, and unbounded superstitions.

An unusual combination of conviction, persuasiveness, command, and humor runs through the huge Thornhill, whose football arena has been the entire United States.

Thornhill was a star at Beaver, Pa.; an All-America tackle at Pittsburgh under Glenn Scobey Warner; one of the greatest line-men ever on the professional fields of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Texas; and an assistant coach to Charley Moran when the Praying Colonels of Centre College were the sensation of football.

One season at Stanford—just eight months in command of material that Pop Warner himself had said never would be good enough to whip Southern California—and Thornhill landed in the big type all over the country as the coach of the first team to whip the mighty Trojans in more than three years.

This Thornhill team went on to play in the Rose Bowl for three straight years.

It is just a gridironized version of the Golden Rule, but it explains why Tiny has met with such success at Stanford. It is "Never forget you played football yourself."

"I just treat the players like I'd want to be treated," says Thornhill. "We have fun out there. I like to kid with the kids, but always try to maintain a little reserve. I try to draw a line that they can't pass in our relations, but it is so indefinable that I don't know just where it is myself."

"I've found out that kids won't do anything for you unless they like you."

THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Men closest to the Roosevelt "throne" always are subject to sharpshooting from those not so close, but wishing they were.

Conservative hosannas greeted Tugwell's departure as a Roosevelt "let to the right." Promptly, however, it became obvious the President was cooking up the most radical of his programs—the Supreme Court charge plan.

And it took little time for the opposition, the would-be favorites and the ex-favorites to get their fire centered on two lawyers, Thomas G. Corcoran, 36, and Benjamin V. Cohen, 42. "Tom and Ben" are the opposition's latest candidates for the sausage-grinder.

Neither functions as a general adviser of the Tugwell or Moley type. But their scalps, for anyone who would strike at Roosevelt, are well worth getting. Corcoran, ubiquitous, super-energetic, brilliant, is the President's favorite trouble-shooter, liaison man, coordinator, conciliator, ghost-writer and salesman.

Cohen, his teammate and roommate, has drafted laws—none of which has yet been found vulnerable by either Wall Street lawyers or the Supreme Court.

ACTUALLY the "Tom and Ben" team also includes a "Bob and Bill," Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and SEC Commissioner William O. Douglas.

These four liberals, all promoted from obscurity in New Deal ranks because of jobs well handled, are expert in certain fields—Jackson on taxation, monopoly laws and successful arguments before the Supreme Court; Douglas in corporate finance, reorganizations and other Wall Street devices; Cohen

MORE people seem to know about oyster stew than they do about oysters. I recently met the oyster in his own home. He thrives, growing flavor and plump, adding more flavor as the time goes on, beginning with the first of September.

With several other food writers and noted chefs, I sailed out on the twelfth annual inspection of the Long Island Oyster grounds. All day long oysters were fished up from their beds, opened by an expert and we ate them right there out of the shell. Which makes me urge more favor to serve them on the half shell as a first course for dinner. Here's a professional secret for better and more natural flavor: serve your oysters with just a little lemon juice.

Catsup, spiced sauces and such additions are not in favor with the true oyster lover.

Gathered by Machinery
On that cruise over Long Island Oyster grounds we saw a new method of hauling the unsuspecting oyster up nearer the family table. It works much like the snow cleaning apparatus used in most large cities. Instead of the dragnet method which is old as history, this new machine keeps the oysters coming up in a constant stream by a revolving belt.

We were told that this method also helps keep the beds of the "oyster enemies" that make life quite uncomfortable for the little baby oysters on their way to school.

We went ashore long enough to try out a genuine shore dinner. This is what we nibbled at waiting to return to our boat: Olives, clam chowder, radishes, steamed clams with their broth, baked bluefish, cold boiled lobster and live broiled lobster, spring broilers, mixed green salad, corn on cob, sliced melon or ice cream, cheese and coffee. After that we returned aboard and began testing oysters again.

Your oyster dealer will sell you oysters opened in a container, on the half shell packed in a tray of cracked ice, or as they come from the water. In the latter case they will naturally be cheaper. To open them easily, place in the oven for a few minutes and they will open themselves.

Oyster Stew (1 serving)
Six plump oysters, 3 slices butter, 1 cup milk and cream half and half, 1 teaspoon Worcester-shire sauce, 1 cup oyster liquor, paprika.
Melt butter in glass or enamel saucepan. Add drained oysters and cook in butter for 2 minutes. Add oyster liquor and bring to boil. Add milk and cream and slowly bring to boil. Add seasoning. Serve in hot bowl with an extra slice of butter on top and another shake of paprika. That recipe comes from a world famous oyster bar.

Franc Devaluation Worse Than War In Eyes of the French

EL PASO, Texas—Devaluation of the franc is the major concern of the French people, who are more alarmed over this monetary problem than over the possibility of a war with Nazi Germany or Fascist Italy, believes Dr. Richard Olmsted, assistant professor of modern languages at the College of Mines and Metallurgy here, a branch of the University of Texas.

Dr. Olmsted has recently returned to El Paso following a two-months' residence in Paris.

"Americans in Paris are panic-stricken by news of war preparation, whereas the French have a blasé philosophy of ignoring it completely, rarely reading newspaper articles on the subject," Dr. Olmsted said. "No display of military preparation or power is ever flaunted before the French people."

Dr. Olmsted was accompanied to Paris by his father, Dr. E. W. Olmsted, who recently retired as head of the romance language department at the University of Minnesota.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS - By Blosser

SO THEY GOT YOU TOO, EH?

YEAH... THEY NUDGED ME OFF THE TEAM SOON AFTER THEY SLICED YOU! I WONDER WHO SNITCHED?

FRECK MCGOOSEY, IF YOU ASK ME HE WAS THE ONE WHO SAW US SMOKING!

THAT'S WHAT I FIGURED, TOO! SAY... WOULDN'T IT BE TOO BAD IF HE COULDN'T PLAY THIS YEAR!

HE'S THE BIG SHOT, YOU KNOW... AND WITHOUT HIM IN THE LINE-UP, THEY MIGHT INVITE US BACK!

WHAT DO YOU MEAN?

I THINK HE GOT US INTO THIS... AND IT WOULD JUST BE TERRIBLE IF WE DIDN'T DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT! HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF THAT?

NO, BUT I'M WILLING TO DO YOU THINK ABOUT IT!

In the past few years the nation has rapidly expanded its shipping activities, mostly in the line of freight vessels. Nautical schools and technical training institutes have not been able to turn out graduates fast enough to fill available jobs.

Recently newspapers have run stories sharply illustrating the lack of men. Lists of engineering schools and the number of men in their graduating classes were printed, and immediately following the number of graduates who are already spoken for by various concerns. In many cases classes are spoken for, as far as jobs are concerned, as far as three years in advance.

Brain Is at Odds So Voice Stutters

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—A stutterer is two persons when he stutters, according to Dr. Robert Millson, director of the Indiana University speech clinic.

Speaking before the annual convention of the Arkansas Stutterers Association, Dr. Millson explained that in normal people one side of the brain controls the body, but when a person stutters both sides are struggling for control.

Dr. Millson said the most successful method of curing a tendency to stutter was "simply to accept the situation."

Scot Children Play With Big Banknotes

GLASGOW.—Bank notes worth hundreds of pounds were thrown about the streets in Glasgow by children.

The children found the notes in a box in the back yard of a house that had been condemned. Unaware of their value, they tossed the notes into the air and had great fun.

Older children saw the notes and realized their value. Then a procession to the local police station began. In twos and threes, the children brought notes to the value of about $1,750.

Then two problems confronted the police. Who was the rightful owner and, more pressing still, who were the rightful finders, the children who played with the notes or the older children who returned them?

The box is believed to have belonged to a tenant who left the condemned premises.
