Guiding Blind on Way to a Brighter Life

Helen Keller Tribute Year, a period devoted to honoring blind teachers of the blind...

So the nation honors an outstanding woman whose perseverance and courage stand out as a guideposts to the infirm...

Sharing in spirit the honors which are to be conferred upon her extraordinary pupil will be the late Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy...

Helen Keller was not born deaf, dumb and blind. A normal child at birth, the daughter of an editor of North Tuscumbia, Ala., she was stricken with brain fever at the age of 19 months...

Years of constant, patient training followed. Years of failure and disappointment, finally climaxed in success marked by a single spoken sentence: "I am not deaf now."

At the age of 20, she and her tireless, constant companion and teacher matriculated in Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., from which the blind prodigy was graduated with an A. B. degree in 1904...

Her case attracted the attention of international scientists who marveled at the attainments of the Alabama girl and her mentor.

Chief activity during the major portion of her life has been Miss Keller's devotion to the American Foundation for the Blind, and its $2,000,000 fund.

Living proof of what teaching and care can accomplish, Miss Keller well deserves all the honors that a nation may pay her.

SISTER MARY'S KIT

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox NEA Service Staff Writer

"I'm sure we can fight rising meat prices if you help us with good recipes for cheaper cuts," writes Mrs. Edward Lloyd of Sacramento, Cal., who asks for some beef heart recipes.

Beef heart can be really delicious. Not only is it inexpensive and nutritious, but it also makes a pleasant variation for the home dinner. Hearts usually weigh from 6 to 8 pounds, depending on the size of the steer.

Stewed Beef Heart

One heart, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1-2 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons water, 1 2 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon chopped celery, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons flour. Prepare the heart as described.

Sautéed Beef Heart

Use 2 cups left-over butter, 2 cups mushrooms, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 cups water and 1 2 cup salt. Dice left-over beef slice mushrooms and in butter, add flour.

Mr. J. O. Calver, meat hogs. He says he pen to another sale hot. That's sure so they were about ready.

Chemicals Seen As Natural Industry For State of Texas

DALLAS.—Chemical industries are seen as an advantageous and "natural" field for Texas industrial expansion in a report of the All-South Development Council which, in noting many physical qualifications of the Lone Star State for this type of wealth production, urges a stable state policy toward industry to accelerate the logical trend.

Not only is Texas in a favorable position for attracting these industries by reason of its wealth of leading mineral raw materials used in chemical manufacturing, processing and by-products, the report points out, but it also ranks high in non-mineral raw products—such as cottonseed, peanut oil, pulpwood—which are gaining importance in the fast-growing field of creating new materials by chemical processes.

Recognizing the growing economic significance of recent chemical "miracles" in industry, and the deep interest in farm chemistry, the report reviews salient "facts and figures" set forth in a special issue of "Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering."

That this type of industry would be eminently worth cultivating here is shown, the report says, by these general indices cited by this leading journal: Employment in chemical industries is regular, well paid and under favorable conditions of hours and safety, intensive research being largely responsible for this stabilization (the chemical industry is spending $20,000,000 in research this year); 82 per cent of workers are in plants of less than 1,000 workers, 56 per cent in plants of less than 500; there is an average of $8,260 in capital investment behind each worker.

The ratio of salaries to hourly employes is high (18.1 per cent salaried against 12.7, the general average for all American industry), despite rapid increase in output of chemicals per worker—which is the essence of technology—there has been no technological unemployment; and these industries beget new industries, the "offspring" of discoveries of new processes and new products and by-products.

Despite Texas' favorable raw material status—her petroleum, sulphur, gas, salt, lime, clays, carbon black, coal tar and potash are among the most essential bases of the chemical industry—the state now holds a relatively insignificant place in actual chemical manufacture, accounting for little more than one-half of one per cent of United States chemical values in the 1935 census. Her output of $3,849,071 was almost doubled by that of Louisiana, with $7,324,936; it was about one-seventh as large as Tennessee's ($24,870,886), and was even topped by little Connecticut and Alabama, each of which bettered the six million figure. Such industrial states as New Jersey and New York, of course, were the leaders with $138,128,726 and $123,496,822, respectively.

"Facing these facts," the report declares, "Texas should redouble its efforts to develop its latent advantages. The first step, already being taken in many other states, must be the establishment of stable state policies toward industry, warranting long-term planning by industrial interests."

Among southern states, Louisiana, whose oil, sulphur, carbon black and salt raw materials most nearly parallel Texas' assets, has made conspicuous progress in the last 18 months in attracting chemical industries which, had Texas been able to present an official attitude of "welcome" to counteract the Pelican state's tax-exemption bait, might as well have settled here, the report says. A recent Louisiana coup brought to Baton Rouge a $5,000,000 ethyl plant, first plant for making this fluid commercially outside its Deepwater, N. J., "birthplace."

Texas pine forests, her capability for growing any of the new rich-in-cellulose plants now finding industrial utilization through chemistry, her undeveloped lignite, potash, fluorspar and kaolin are "potentials" for putting the state on the fast-changing chemical industries map. Conversion of these into cash assets, the report concludes, would seem to depend on vigorous merchandising, combined with an official state disposition to encourage rather than antagonize industry.

El Paso Will Be Host to Baptists' General Convention

EL PASO, Texas.—This picturesque border city was speeding preparations today for welcoming 5,000 Baptists expected to crowd Liberty Hall, Municipal Auditorium, during the annual session of the Baptist general convention of Texas, Nov. 8-13.

An elaborate program of entertainment for the delegates from 3,018 churches and additional thousands of visitors was planned, its climax coming at an unprecedented underground convocation, Nov. 14 at Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico. Baptists of New Mexico will join in the impressive services to be held underground.

Outstanding leaders of the denomination will report on foreign missions—now disturbed by war in the far east—Home Missions, Civic Righteousness, Christian Education, Hospital, Hospitals and care of orphans. A special report will be made on the summer evangelistic campaigns held throughout the state in which denominational leaders estimated 100,000 members were added to Baptist churches in Texas.

Dr. Wallace Bassett of Dallas, two-fisted, hard-hitting pastor will crack down on gambling and the liquor traffic in his speech on civic righteousness. Texas Baptists during the past year joined anti-gambling forces, leveling their fire especially at horse racing.

One day preceding the general sessions, pastors and laymen will meet in their annual conference to thresh out problems of special concern to them. This meeting annually provides a forum in which ideas are exchanged and plans formulated for future effectiveness.

E. D. Head, Houston pastor, will deliver the convention sermon, keynoting the program of the denomination which includes 650,000 members in Texas. George W. Truett of Dallas, President of the Baptist World Alliance; F. M. McConnell, Editor of The Baptist Standard; R. C. Campbell of Dallas, Executive Secretary; L. R.

Feather Costumes for Turkey Day

Scarbroth, President of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, and other denominational leaders will speak.

Dr. J. B. Tidwell, head of the Bible Department at Baylor University, Waco, for many years an outstanding leader among Southern Baptists, is president of the convention.

Baptist women of Texas will meet in their annual session Nov. 8-19. They will hear addresses by Mrs. Eugene Saltee, Missionary to China; Mrs. George W. Truett, who will tell of her tour of foreign mission fields; and reports on the manifold activities of the Women's Missionary Union during the past year.

Building Permits In Texas Show a Slight Increase

AUSTIN.—Building permits in Texas during September increased slightly over the like month of last year, but were moderately below those of the preceding month, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research stated in its survey of the building industry. Permits granted during the entire third quarter of the year were slightly below those of the like period last year.

Reports from 39 states show total permits in September of $4,353,000, of 1.4 per cent over last year but a decline of 1.4 per cent from August. Permits for the third quarter were $13,121,000, a decline of 1.4 per cent from the corresponding quarter of last year.

Cities in which permits both September and quarter were above corresponding periods were Abilene, Amarillo, Spring, Brownsville, Dallas, Del Rio, El Paso, Gen. Tyler, Waco, and Graham.

IT'S IN THE News!

There are two classes of news in these columns every day:

(1) Interesting stories about events all over the world; and (2) The advertisements. Yes, the advertisements are news, and in many ways the most important of all, because they affect you more directly and personally than any other.

A new and better method of refrigeration is devised—and you learn about it through advertisements. Improvements are added to automobiles which make them safer than ever—again advertisements carry the story. Styles change in clothing—and advertisements rush the news to your doorstep. A manufacturer finds a way to lower the price on his products—he advertises to tell you about the savings.

You'll find that it pays to follow this news every day. Reading the advertisements is the sure way to keep abreast of the world... to learn of new comforts and conveniences... to get full money's worth for every dollar you spend.

Advertisement for 'EXTRA EXTRA EXTRA'. Features a large illustration of a man's face with a wide, joyful expression, shouting. The text 'EXTRA EXTRA EXTRA' is written in large, bold, stylized letters above his head.

Here is good news—A WANT AD in the columns of this paper will sell some piece of furniture, will buy what you need, will help you find a job, will help you hire some one to do housework, washing, etc., the rate is very cheap. Phone today and a solicitor will call and help prepare your copy.
