land, accompanied by Guy H. Linson of San Angelo, supervisor in district 7, 10, 11—which is an area—and 12, had arrived here with FSA District Director Bert Fisher of Eastland on a tour of his area to arrange cooperation of county FSA supervisors and farmers in the debt adjustment work.

Gregg explained that the farm adjustment is a free government service which acts as a mediator between debtor and creditor. He added that under the new plan, which will be in effect in the near future, the government will hire some people known as Resettlement Agents, who will be in charge of the work of the debt adjustment. Records of farmers' debts are being adjusted to be kept in the office of the county FSA rural supervisors.

Farmers desiring debt adjustment were invited, whether clients of the FSA or not, to contact the supervisor in their district. In addition to each county there is a voluntary committee which the FSA and debt adjustment division are helping the farmers' members of the Eastland county committee are Felix S. Boland of Anton, W. ## November Demand For Crude Oil Is Estimated Lower AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—An estimate of the U. S. Bureau of Mines that November demand for Texas crude oil will be 55,000 barrels a day less than present allowable production was announced at today's statewide oil prorator hearing of the Texas Railroad Commission.

REV. STEPHENS' RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED

Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Ranger, tendered his resignation to take effect Jan. 1, 1938, at a meeting of deacons and church officers, held Tuesday night. At the urgent request of the entire group, however, the pastor agreed to defer his resignation indefinitely.

The monthly meeting was called by the pastor in order that reports from the chairman of the different committees of the church might be made. Dr. A. K. Wier, chairman of the board presided.

John McKinney, trustee, reported the re-roofing of the building was completed at a cost of approximately $100. A. L. Stiles, treasurer reported all current bills paid and a balance of $150 in the treasury.

Those in charge of the re-roofing of the church building reported all papers had been signed, all releases made and the entire debt on the building of property was only $4000. This to be paid at the rate of $35 per month. All reports were received and committees discharged.

The pastor reviewed his work with the church during the eight and one-half years that he has been in Ranger, in which he stated that during his ministry more than 500 had been received into the church, about 300 of these coming for baptism. The church debt when he came to Ranger was $14,000 has now been reduced to $4000.

A committee was appointed to recommend to the church the ordination of five new deacons.

The pastor was instructed to leave today for Fort Worth and secure a choir director to take charge of the music.

All present expressed much optimism for the future work of the church and pledged themselves to renewed activities and interest in the ongoing of the program as outlined.

MONETARY AND CREDIT CHANGE URGED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt today declared that only by perfecting the nation's monetary and credit machinery can the disaster of extreme booms and depressions be avoided.

He presented his views in ceremonies dedicating a new federal reserve bank building.

Mr. Roosevelt avoided any mention of the precipitated stock market decline and talked in general terms.

He described the goal of the federal system as and declared the achievement was dependent upon "proper functioning of our monetary and credit machinery."

"That machinery," he said, "must be steadily perfected and coordinated with other instruments of government to promote the most productive utilization of our human and material resources."

"Only in that way can we hope to achieve and maintain an enduring prosperity free from disastrous extremes of booms and depressions."

SAN PERLITA, Oct. 20.—Indicating that a solution may be near in the mysterious disappearance 11 months ago of Luther and John Blanton, justice of the peace Thomas Heath called additional witnesses today to testify before a secret court of inquiry, appointed to solve the mystery.

"We're making a lot of headway," he said, "the present testimony seems to be an important link in the mystery."

Corn Loans Are Urged By O'Neal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Edward R. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told President Roosevelt today that government corn loans of 60 cents a bushel are an "immediate necessity."

O'Neal said corn now is selling at 38 to 44 cents for December delivery against an 80 to 84 cents parity price.

"The condition of farm crop prices," O'Neal said, "is one reason for the stock market being so jittery."

YOUTH HELD AS CAR YIELDS BODIES

The weird odyssey of an 18-year-old boy who for more than two days drove through five eastern states with the bodies of two 64-year-old murder victims—in their own car—was told by Paul Dwyer, left, of Paris Hill, Me., after he was held as the slayer at North Arlington, N. J. Police said he confessed that he killed Dr. James G. Littlefield during a medical examination, then, after luring Mrs. Littlefield from her on a pretext, strangled her because she suspected him. With the woman's body in the car and her husband's corpse stuffed into the trunk, right, Dwyer said he drove aimlessly until he fell asleep and was arrested on a roadside.

Cooperation of farmers in whose boxes have been placed questionnaires on acreage in this season's planting was asked Tuesday by Postmaster Frank A. Jones at Eastland.

The 1937 acreage survey is conducted by the post offices of the nation in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

Jones explained that farmers who have received forms should answer them as rapidly as possible and return to their mail carrier or the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The necessity of immediate filling and returning cards was pointed out by Jones who explained the tabulation on this year's acreage survey cards will be closed in the next two weeks.

Purpose of the survey, the questionnaire shows, is that government crop reports are valuable to the farmer in furnishing a basis for the exercise of intelligent judgment in—

1. Planning his future production program.

2. Deciding upon the disposition of his crops when an alternative is possible; that is, whether to harvest the crop or pasture it, whether to market the crop or feed it to livestock, etc.

3. Determining whether the market situation warrants sale of his products immediately or later in the marketing season.

"If there were no government reports," it is explained, "farmers would be compelled to depend almost entirely on crop reports prepared by dealers in farm products."

Japanese Offense In North China Is In Difficulty

Reports continued that there was something wrong with the Japanese drive in the north. It was known that the Japanese had made astonishingly rapid progress on all northern fronts. So rapid that foreign military experts had wondered about the safety of communications with their main bases.

The reports today were the Chinese troops of all sorts were harassing the Japanese mercilessly and winning considerable successes.

The supreme court enlargement plan the appointment of Justice Hugo L. Black, the NRA, the social security program, the Wagner Labor Relations act, relief and tax policies, the president's position on neutrality, government reorganization, all were assailed.

As soon as Landon concluded Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former administrator of the NRA, spoke from Washington and said that Landon's address failed to give the country a "middle course" with sufficiently vigorous and convincing leadership to follow.

FUNDS URGED FOR PENSIONS IN THE SENATE

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—A bill to appropriate $2,000,000 from the general fund for old age assistance was introduced today by Sen. Joe Hill.

The bill sets out that prospects for additional taxes to relieve the critical old age assistance situation were uncertain. The house yesterday asked Gov. Allred to allow them to give board of control members the power to borrow money for pensions, if necessary.

The senate passed a resolution criticizing all attempts of congress to take the federal government, that part of the coastline between high and low tide. Texas has considerable oil resources in that area.

Senators also adopted a resolution to investigate the state game, fish and oyster commission. The inquiry was requested by the commission itself to quiet rumors of mismanagement and favoritism. The bill was adopted to permit the state park board to accept donations for the proposed Big Bend National Park.

The house asked the governor to submit the topic of an appropriation for county and district officers for fees due in 1938. A bill was introduced to give them $790,000 in salary deficiencies in case the subject is submitted.

District judges were ordered to restrain its movement if necessary, while litigation is in process.

How We Help Japan to Conquer China

If there is one American who is entitled to be heard in connection with the tangled situation in the Far East, it is former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson. Mr. Stimson was some six years ahead of President Roosevelt in the belief that this country should take peaceful but effective measures to restrain the Japanese militarists. Unfortunately, the British let him down with a dull thud when he tried to translate his belief into action, and his effort to preserve peace and the sanctity of treaties in the Orient failed.

But he knows the Chinese-Japanese situation as few Americans know it; and when he wrote a lengthy letter to the New York Times the other day, setting forth his ideas on the course America ought to follow, he said some things which all Americans ought to ponder.

No one, says Mr. Stimson, can argue that we should send troops and warships to the Orient to restrain the Japanese invasion by force. The American people would never consent to such a step; even if they did, China must work out her own salvation, and her problem cannot be solved by outside intervention.

But that, he continues, does not mean that we must fold our hands and passively watch the Japanese complete their program of aggression. For as a matter of fact, Mr. Stimson says, we are right now actively helping Japan—giving her the help without which she could not carry on the war.

Japan, he points out, depends on the outside world for her ability to attack China. She has ample manufacturing facilities, but she lacks vital raw materials—oil, iron, rubber and cotton. These she must buy abroad; she can pay for them only by selling enough of her own products to obtain the requisite foreign exchange.

The principal product that she has for sale is raw silk. Keeping that in mind, says Mr. Stimson, note that America buys upwards of 80 per cent of Japan's silk exports, with Britain buying almost all of the rest. Furthermore, Japan buys most of her essential raw materials from America and England—5 per cent of her oil and 50 per cent of her iron from America, practically all of her rubber from England, 80 per cent of her cotton from the two nations combined.

It is this trade that makes her war possible. As long as we carry it on we are helping in the assault on China. And Mr. Stimson asks:

"Is the condition of our statesmanship so pitifully inadequate that we cannot devise the simple means of international cooperation which would stop our participation in this slaughter?"

We might profitably study our government's present foreign policy in the light of Mr. Stimson's statement. It is a reminder that we do not now face a choice between keeping absolutely clear of the imbroglia or getting into it up to our necks. We are in it already, and we must shape our course in the light of that fact.

Franz Blom, director of Tulane's Middle American Research department, explained that it is no longer the intent of this institution to keep behind stone walls and barred doors of its own museum buildings the marvelous art and archaeology Tulane has collected over a long period of years by research and excavation in Mexico, Guatemala and other countries.

"The purpose of this policy is to create pride in the ancient civilizations of the Western Hemisphere, to show how these cultures affect and influence the art and ethnology of modern times; and to prove that the Aztecs, Mayas, Incas and other peoples of ancient times on the American continents were more interesting, were greater artists and craftsmen, and in certain instances, more advanced socially than were those of

CHAPTER XXXI

It was the following Sunday, Cilly was preparing tea in her room. She expected Sergeant Dolan. And Jim, of course. But she had not expected them to be married. They had married the previous afternoon, with Sergeant Dolan, ironically, serving as best man. Just at this minute, Jim was taking his bags to the airport. He was to leave tomorrow for Utah, to welcome Jim's new bride.

Cilly peeked into the oven, to see if the biscuits had browned. "There's nothing I can do," Dolan had told her, "but hot biscuits for Sunday tea are not often, you know, that high old bachelor like myself in the church, anybody willing to bake Rev. Henry."

Rev. Henry was willing. If she was chosen a thousand years, she could go to the Protector of the Church at the convention of the Episcopalian Synod.

She was not less than a miracle, only once, but twice that day, when Dolan had appeared at the door, she had been Harry Hutchins. He had been Harry Hutchins, the superior Harry. She saw the stream of tears dripping from his hand, the one on the floor where he had stepped it. And behind her, the shattered glass of Ames Wakefield's front door, stood in his service revolver still in his hand.

And behind her, the shattered glass of Ames Wakefield's front door, stood in his service revolver still in his hand.

She didn't stand a chance. The cards were stacked against her. ## "OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By Williams

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—No single reason suffices to explain why Roosevelt and the State Department have suddenly and completely reversed the previous national policy of isolation and so-called neutrality which Congress in its wisdom was commonly supposed to have enacted into law.

The Roosevelt "Quarantine" speech at Chicago and the subsequent government statement branding Japan as an aggressor nation in China were no part of a plan of positive action aside from the administration's willingness to consult with other signatories of the nine-power treaty which theoretically guaranteed Chinese sovereignty.

Sanctions and provisions for economic boycott or similar action are omitted from both the nine-power and Kellogg treaties. The administration's only recourse is to exhortation of the American public. Unless it applies the neutrality act to both China and Japan, in effect, the neutrality has been completely repudiated.

The violent contrast between the new policy and previous policy is indicated by the fact that an administration-backed embargo on arms to Spain, a duly recognized nation invaded by Italy and Germany, flashed through the House last January by a vote of 406 to 1, and through the Senate by 80 to 0.

Behind recent developments are these facts, although not necessarily in the order of their importance:

- 1—Roosevelt and Secretary Hull are emotionally on the side of the "Democratic" peace-seeking nations, sometimes called the "Haves," as distinguished from the dictator-led, aggressive and warlike "Have-nots." Their fear of dictatorships and the ultimate menace threatened by fascism if it should sweep the rest of the world is genuine and widely shared.
- 2—Roosevelt's instincts although peaceful—impel him to step out on the world stage in a star role, although these instincts have been somewhat restrained by healthy regard for the popular desire to avoid steps which might lead toward war.
- 3—The State Department, which was unalterably opposed to neutrality legislation and successfully labored to prevent it from being made mandatory, clings to the old traditions which have kept it deep in Far Eastern politics for 40 years or more. The "Open Door" policy as to China is a dead letter and there is still a vague but strong belief that America's destiny is more or less wrapped up in Asia.
- 4—Domestic considerations cannot be ignored. Although this government's leap into the international situation tends to rally support behind Roosevelt and to blur memory of the Black-Klan incident, it is more to the point to reveal herewith that Roosevelt has persistently contemplated use of the sour internal state of Fascist nations to point an object lesson to Americans in aid of his legislative proposals. ## READY TO BRING YOU RELIEF IN MINUTES

THE REASON BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a tumbler of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. This speed of disintegration enables genuine BAYER Aspirin tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

YOU can pay as high as you want for remedies claimed to relieve the pain of Headache, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc. But the medicine so many doctors generally approve—the one used by thousands of families daily—is Bayer Aspirin—13 1/2 dozen tablets—about 1 1/2 apiece. Simply take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions.

Usually this will ease such pain in a remarkably short time. For quick relief from such pain which exhausts you and keeps you awake at night—ask for genuine Bayer Aspirin.

NEW YORK.—There are alarming reports from the Germantown, Pa., home of Connie Mack. The famous manager of the Athletics, who will be 75 on Dec. 23, is suffering from a gall bladder condition and has been bothered by a pelvic bone that has been out of place for years.

Mack lost considerable weight trying to get out to the park the last couple of weeks of the season, and has fallen away to 132 pounds.

His friendly face was missing at a world series for the second time in memory. He was taking a club to Japan when he failed to put in an appearance at the big fall show of 1935.

ANOTHER prominent baseballer was Willam Boyd McKechnie, the most sought man in baseball at the moment. McKechnie rushed to his home at Wilkinsburg, Pa., when his 5-year-old daughter, Carol, was stricken with pneumonia.

Cleveland and Cincinnati seek McKechnie, who wants a three-year contract at $25,000 per year making the switch from the Boston Bees. He drew $18,000 in his eighth consecutive campaign in the Hub.

Bob Quinn, head of the Bees' business office, dislikes to lose McKechnie, but will not stand in his way. Both the Indians and Reds have Quinn's permission to dicker with the man who is considered by many to be the finest manager in baseball.

THOSE closest to the situation assert that the Brooklyn club can't miss being peddled this winter. It seems that the bank demands more than the squabbling owners can pay.

It is said that the Brooklyn property can be acquired for $1,500,000, half cash, and it would be a splendid buy at that price. Some group had better act before

FRANK O'DOUL, manager of the rival San Francisco Seals, was so daffy about Williams that he gave the youngster batting pointers calculated to knock the blocks off Lefty's own pitchers. O'Doul made a great progress with another DiMaggio, too. Dominic, 18 and bespectacled, hit more than 300 in his first season on the coast wheel. A center-fielder like Joe and Vince, Dominic should out-hit the latter.

It was too bad but just as well for major league pitchers that the oldest brother, Tom, hurt his arm. They say that he was the best ball player of the lot.

Q. How large do watermelons grow in Texas and what county leads in melon growing?
A. A Cass County farmer grew a watermelon this year that weighed 183 pounds and sent one that weighed 145 pounds to Gov. Allied. Many Texas-grown melons weigh over 100 pounds, but the best commercial size is from 35 to 45 pounds. Parker County leads in growing watermelons for market.

Q. What freighter made the first outgoing foreign trip from the Houston port and with what cargo?
A. The first transatlantic freighter to leave Port Houston was the Merry Mount, which left Nov. 15, 1919, for Liverpool, with 23,319 bales of cotton and 13,512 oak staves.

Q. What is the volume of production of precious metals in Texas?

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BEES make honey, whereas sugar is the son of cane. Remember that difference when you decide to use honey in a cake recipe instead of sugar. They cannot be used interchangeably. Furthermore, all cakes and quick breads made with honey must be baked in a moderate oven, otherwise your cake will brown too rapidly and the aromatic oils in the honey be driven off by a hot oven.

The Bureau of Home Economics has experimented with honey recipes and the interchange of sugar and honey for sweetening. The following rule has been tested thoroughly under practical circumstances. Better paste it up on the kitchen wall.

When medium thick honey is substituted for 1-2 the sugar in a cake or quick bread recipe, reduce the liquid 1-4. If honey is substituted for all the sugar, reduce the liquid 1-2.

Here's a seasonable Honey White Cake recipe perfected by the Bureau of Home Economics. All available honey of this year's crop will be out of the hands of the bee keepers by Thanksgiving, this being a very light honey year, according to reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. So get your share of honey early and try this recipe.

Note that this cake recipe was originally for sugar, but honey is used here. Therefore, for 1-2 the sugar in original recipe, honey has been substituted and the mill which was originally 1 cup has been reduced to 3-4 cup.

Honey White Cake

Three-quarter cup butter, 3-cup sugar, 3-4 cup honey, 5 egg whites, 3 cups flour, 4 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 3-4 cup milk.

Cream butter until soft, add the finely granulated sugar, stirring gradually until the mixture is high and fluffy. Combine the honey with the milk. Add this mixture alternately with the sifted dry ingredients. Beat in dry ingredients, stir in the milk. Last of all fold in the well-beaten egg whites. Pour into a lightly greased pan and bake in a very moderate oven (325 degrees F.) until done.

Fight colds! Protect yourself and your family against becoming overheated or chilled. If you do "catch cold" consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

ONLY "a cold" . . . but serious disease may follow

YOUR doctor will tell you that "common colds" are dangerous. Fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with this all too frequent winter illness. Many "colds" result from sudden changes of temperature such as occur to occupants of the home as they go from a warm room into an unheated part of the house. Unless every room is comfortably warm sudden changes of temperature are unavoidable.

Winter months, more than any other season of the year, require careful protective measures against "the common cold." If YOUR family is constantly "catching cold" HEAT YOUR ENTIRE HOUSE THIS WINTER FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE—it's a simple precaution to avoid the dangers of sudden changes of temperature.
