"Go-Ahead" Order On Road Building Is Issued Today

AUSTIN, April 22.—The State Highway department today issued a "go ahead" order on 1938 road construction.

Expenditure of $3,674,400 in state funds was ordered to start immediately on an "A" list of projects. A "B" list with an estimated cost of $1,685,700 is to follow.

Projects on the "A" list will be issued shortly.

EXECUTIONS OF TWO IS HALTED BY GENERATOR

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, April 22.—A generator, providing electricity for the death chair at the Texas penitentiary, failed twice today, while two condemned men stood nearby, awaiting execution.

Governor Allred was called out of bed to grant each a week's reprieve.

The men, John Vaughn of San Antonio and Johnnie Banks, 26, negro Baptist preacher, were scheduled to die at midnight. They were walking toward the execution chamber when the generator failed the first time. They were returned to their cells and witnesses were told the execution would be carried out at 2:30 a. m.

Shortly before that time Vaughn was led into the chamber. His face was pale and his feet unsteady. Warden W. W. Waid asked if he had anything to say.

Vaughn read from a slip of paper that he was innocent, that he had been framed and did not kill A. Q. Edwards, San Antonio policeman, whom he was convicted of slaying.

Again there was a disturbance around the generator, shielded by a large curtain.

Warden Waid left the room and returned as Vaughn concluded reading.

"I have just talked to the governor," the warden said. "In view of the trouble he has granted each of the prisoners a weeks stay of execution."

Vaughn smiled.

"Well, gentlemen, you have just seen an honest man and God win again," he said.

Banks was convicted of murdering his 13-year-old sister-in-law.

At Austin, the failure of the electric chair was not regarded by Chairman Bruce, Department of State Pardon Board, as an act of God, to prevent the execution.

"It is more likely the act of convicts," Bryant said.

RAILROAD AID BILL IS URGED IN THE SENATE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Congressional experts, preparing "stop-gap" legislation to aid the railroad industry, considered today a proposal for putting 150,000 furloughed railroad workers back to work at government expense.

Chairman Burton Wheeler of Montana of the Senate interstate commerce committee, said he was preparing legislation for passage at this session and indicated he favored cooperation between the federal government and railway management to provide work on maintenance projects.

Under the plan being considered, he said, the government would pay labor cost and the carriers pay for materials.

Wheeler said the temporary program probably would include: Loans totaling $300,000,000 for new equipment and easing of the present loan restrictions. Fewer restrictions on reorganization.

Payment of full fare by government traffic on land grant roads.

The twenty-third annual convention of the 6th district, T. F. W. C., progressed into the third and final day Friday after business reports and social courtesies marked Thursday's session.

A feature of the convention was the address of Dr. John Potts, M. D., D. C. L., Fort Worth, whose subject was "Suspecting Heart Disease." He was introduced by Mrs. E. Roy Townsend.

Landon Denounces Lending-Spending As Inflationary

By United Press
TOPEKA, Kansas, April 22.—Former Governor Alf Landon today denounced President Roosevelt's lending-spending program as a definite "inflationary course" that can be halted after a year only by "miraculous courage."

"The time may be long or it may be very short before the day of reckoning comes to us," he said.

The people, he said, are confused, because they are unable to forecast the course "the federal government may embark on next."

Appointment of 'Colonels' Is Hit By Yarborough

TYLER—Charging that his opponent had revealed friendliness toward monopolies by the appointment of "colonels," District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin last night formally opened his campaign for Attorney General in a vigorous speech here that was heard by a large crowd that included delegations from more than 20 counties.

"During his various terms as acting governor, Mr. Walter Woodul has issued glittering commissions as colonels to the spokesmen and executives of the monopolies that are draining Texas to enrich a few men in distant states—the very monopolies that the next Attorney General would be called on to fight in the courtroom if he is free of entangling alliances," Yarborough said.

"He has issued these commissions as colonels to officials of major oil companies—the very companies that I forced to turn back to the people rich land that belonged to the school fund—companies that might have to be haled into court again by an Attorney General in a position to perform the duty that he owes to the people."

Yarborough challenged his opponent, "Tell the voters of Texas when and where you have ever represented the people's side in any courtroom anywhere." Reviewing his own record while Assistant Attorney General for almost four years, Yarborough told of winning for the school fund the second largest cash judgment ever collected by the State—$1,073,500, and of winning mineral rights, valued at many millions of dollars, for the public schools.

WAGES-HOURS BILL REPORTED TO THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The House labor committee today favorably reported a bill to establish, within three years, a 40-cent-an-hour wage for a 40-hour maximum work week.

At the start the measure would establish a minimum wage of 25 cents and a 44-hour week.

The labor committee report warned that the "deflation spiral" if allowed to gather sufficient strength, may threaten the foundations of government itself.

It said relief demands will continue until private employers pay wages sufficient to cover the cost of living.

Meantime a move toward compromise between House and Senate conferees on the tax revision bill was believed imminent. The deadlock centers on Senate action in repealing the undistributed profits tax and drastically modifying the capital gains tax.

Wreck Weather Coming

Summer approaches, the pulse of nature quickens, life begins, and shortly the country's motorists will start slowing up one another's pulses and ending their lives.

Traffic cops know that good weather breeds bad accidents. The safest time to take a spin is at the height of a rainstorm or the tag end of a good thick blizzard. Most people are more than ordinarily cautious then. When the sun comes out and the roads dry off, everybody does a little relaxing, lets it out, and turns his car into a kind of traveling nut house.

The season, therefore, is ripe for taking stock . . . of your own assets and liabilities as a driver, the ones that appear to be those of the average driver you encounter, and those of your car as something to entrust your life to.

How long it will take to make the nation's highways as safe as its sidewalks nobody cares to guess, but the problems of traffic have never commanded such concerted, countrywide study as they are now receiving. National organizations, community groups, city, county, state, and federal officials are going after satisfactory solutions from every conceivable angle.

Highway improvement is one idea. The chairman of Connecticut's Highway Safety Commission has recently expressed a hope, as have others, for compulsory car inspection prior to any transfer of ownership of a second-hand automobile. The imposition of driving tests and other examinations on license applicants is growing.

A Chicago traffic court judge has gone to the extent of having traffic law violators examined by psychiatrists, and induced to take treatments whose purpose is the correction of the "personality twists" responsible for their abnormal behavior at the wheel.

The greatest movement, and the most effective one, is the safety education campaign among children and adults. Figures on traffic deaths and injuries in cities all over the country show startling reductions where such campaigns have been pursued.

If present efforts in the direction of highway safety are kept up with continued interest, a traffic death in the future will really be news.

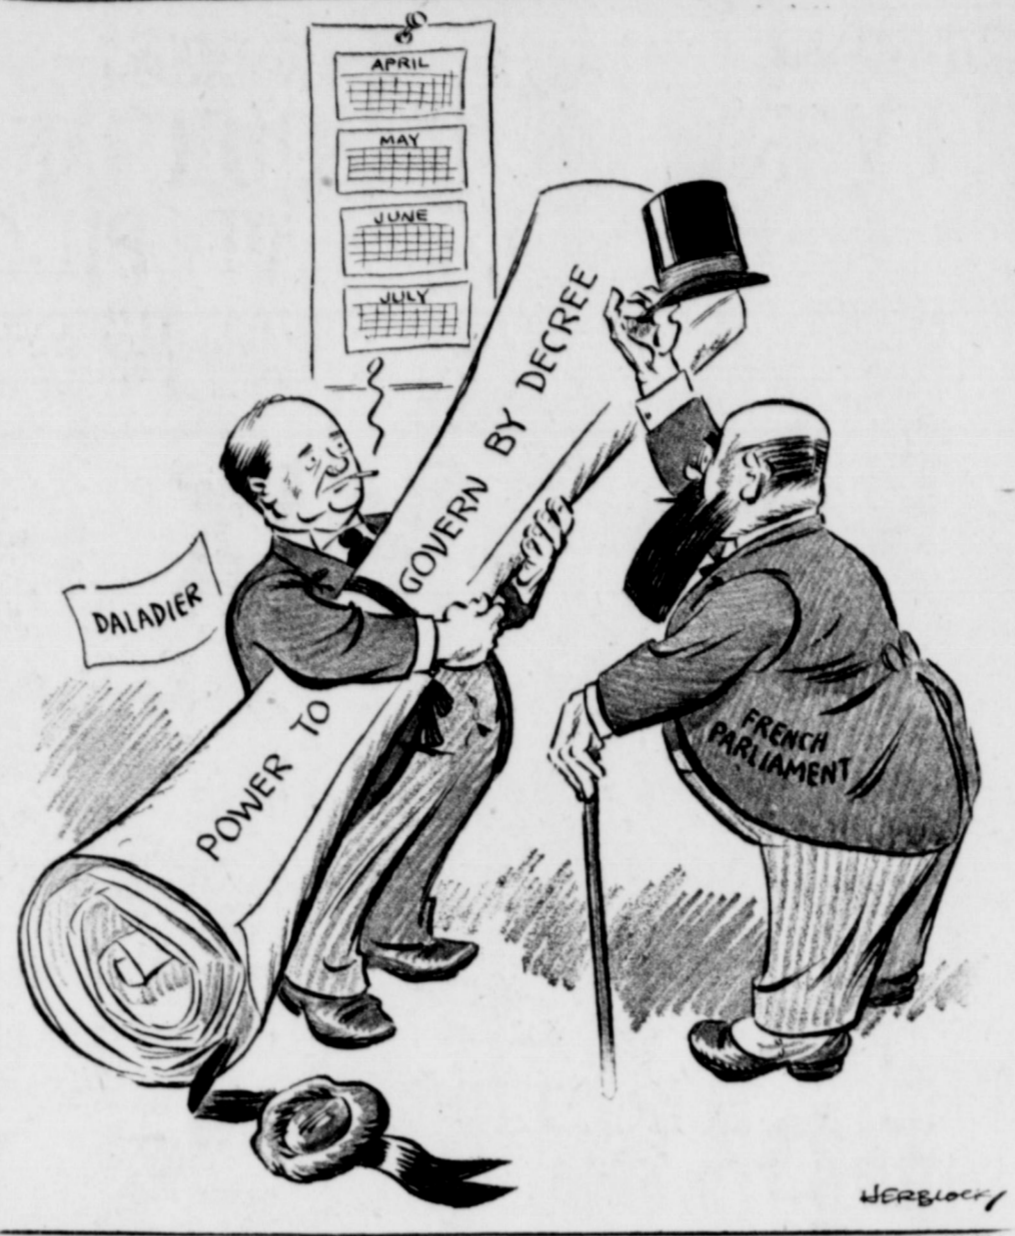

Two psychiatrists believe they have discovered that obesity is a matter of one's frame of mind. "Gosh, I'm feeling fat today; it must have been something I thought."

What do you suppose is the motto of the League of Hoboes of the World now in convention at Altoona, Pa.—"Blessed be the ties that bind" or "Spare the rods and spoil the child"?

noted artist of Eastland, played 'The Swan' by Saint Saens and "Spanish Dance" by deFalla. Mrs. Lola Gibson Deaton, Abilene, head of the voice department of Hardin Simmons, sang "O Sleep," an aria from Handel's Semele, "At Eventide," Deaton; "Twilight Lullaby" by Deaton. She was accompanied by Miss Louise Buckley.

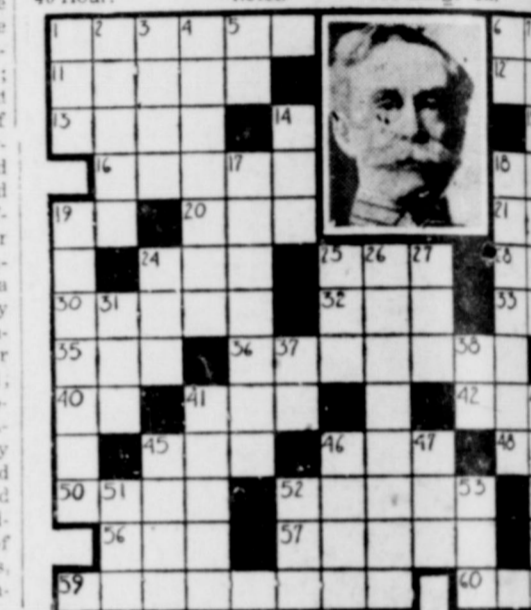

A splendid address was made by Mrs. Morgan Jones of Abilene on Grecian Culture. She brought out in her talk that much of modern culture originated in ancient Greece; the Greeks gave democracy to the world; they also originated modern architecture, and also athletic contests. The Acropolis and the Parthenon are the things which lure to traveler if she is willing to undergo all the indignities and inconveniences of entering the country and traveling through it. Greece has an indescribable beauty, and its architecture has surpassing majesty even though Greece is in ruins today, because her culture was founded upon the sands.

The Sixth District assembly wishes to extend thanks and appreciation to the many who have helped make this conference a success it has been accorded. They are listed as follows: Texas Electric Service company for the lovely April Shower tea given Thursday evening on the Connellie roof; Eastland Floral for the many lovely flowers and decorations used throughout the session; the Ranger Floral for flowers and decorations used; Clamber of Commerce for the courtesy courages presented to distinguished delegates and visitors; Eastland Music clubs, for the morning coffee and favors to board dinner guests; Wilda Drago for her untiring co-operation to make it a remembered convention; Rotary clubs for gladioli for the churches, Community Gas company for dinner for the executive board, Mrs. James Horton and club women of Eastland for entertainment and the Junior Thursday club for the midnight frolic held Thursday; Methodist church and Baptist church for use of buildings; Connellie hotel for use of roof garden; Maurice Harkins, who conducted singing through-

SPRING-CLEANING IN LILLIPUT LAND—This miniature village of Beaconfield has an extensive electric railway system, and neatly timbered shops. An aerodrome, lake with yachts, a port with various ships, a country club and modern inn. It will open at Easter.

GARDEN IN A HAT—Cacti planted in a Mexican hat, one of the prize winning exhibits at the International Flower Show held recently in New York.

ON THE DIAMOND—(1) Lou Gehrig, Yankee's mighty Casey, misses one to everyone's amazement. (2) Buddy Hassett, Dodgers' first baseman, now being groomed for an outfield post, goes up for a high one.

PREDICTS POWER REVOLUTION—Thomas H. Beck, president of the Crowell Publishing Company, who states that newly developed "package power," which comes in units large enough for a train, a ship, a farm, or a group of city blocks, will completely decentralize power manufacture in the United States in the next 30 years. The "package power" plant generates electricity by means of a Diesel engine at very low cost per kilowatt hour.

SCINTILLATING—La Jana, famous European dancer, creates a dazzling effect in her novel star dance.

24 CHILDREN IN 27 YEARS—Fort Lee, N. J.—Mrs. Virginia Marguerite Heil, 41 years old, although married 27 years has had 24 children. She is shown holding Patricia Joan (left), 11 days old, and Alethea, 13 months old. Sixteen of the 24 children are living—nine girls and seven boys.

PAUL REVERE, famous for his midnight ride, was the first American to roll sheet copper in the New World. One of his alloys, Victory Bronze, has recently become very popular with the elite for evening gowns, and also with radio and screen stars.

KINDERGARTEN PLAY-OFFS—Young Earl Roche, 3-year-old son of Earl Roche of the Cleveland Barons, plies his double runners and swings a stick much too big for him as he follows in papa's skatesteps.

RETURNS TO 'BIG TOP'—Mabel Stark, famous wild animal trainer, retired two years ago with serious injuries she received when two of her tigers attacked her. The lure of the "Big Top," however, brings her back again this season.

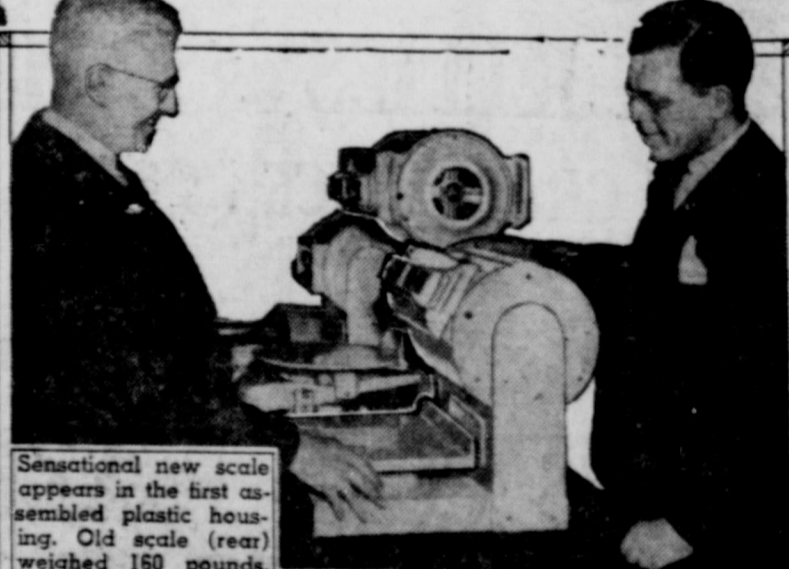

CANINE STARS DO CLEVER TAKE OFF—The photograph shows a canine high jump with Dumpsie going over the bar while his pal Waffles stands by.

NOVEL BEACH SPORT—(Left) Mitz Ushlein and Mary Hutchinson, snapped just before taking off on the six slide of the sand dunes of a California beach resort. (Right) Helen Luff and Jackie Caselboer en route to the breakers on a novel toboggan slide at the same resort.

Sensational new scale appears in the first assembled plastic housing. Old scale (rear) weighed 150 pounds, new one 58 pounds. Housing contains 7 pieces molded of plaskon. G. R. Worried to death. I hunted all over Port-au-Prince for you." She smiled happily. "The car broke down and left us stranded. Then, still doubting her eyes: "But how did you happen to come out this way?"

"Why, I just got back to the wharf when some young boy came running down to say that a mam'selle and a monsieur from the big ship were stuck out here."

Her eyes were wide. "I can hardly believe it!" she declared, her mind still unwilling to grasp the simple fact of such communication. "This—this gentleman sent me a message for us—not more than 10 minutes ago."

Dick looked up at the stalwart Haitian, towering over him, and as Joyce explained he listened in astonishment. Then, impulsively and heartily, he shook the man's hand. "I'm grateful to you, sir. Indeed I am." He spoke in English, but the man understood.

"And in Joyce's heart a new hope stirred, because there was that note in Dick's voice which made her know that she was still important to him."

THE evening dinner on board ship was not a pleasant affair. For one thing, it was the first time they had all been together since the impromptu announcement of Isobel's engagement, and as Joyce met Dick's eyes across the table, she had the gratifying impression that the romance was already beginning to cool.

Mr. Gregory still chafed under the strain of the afternoon; he seemed determined to magnify the incident, until he became a poor tortured victim about whom the voodoo-wishers were already lighting the fires of destiny.

"Haiti's a filthy, horrible place," Isobel observed, "and I don't see why civilized people want to visit it."

She too was irritable this evening. Her lips were pushed out in their old pout, and her voice was edged with sarcasm.

"You seem to run into hard luck, Gregory," Dr. Gray observed. "You go ashore and you walk into trouble. You stay aboard to play poker while the rest of us cavort in Havana, and you lose your shirt."

Dick looked up quickly. "It wasn't as bad as all that," Gregory amended. "I only lost about $12. If I'd gone to the Casino it might have cost me 10 times that much."

Dick's mouth hardened. "You didn't go ashore in Havana?" he asked quickly. "You weren't at the Casino?" He waited intently for the man's reply.

NEWS from the University of Washington isn't encouraging for California and eastern crews as the all-conquering Huskies and the Golden Bears sharpen up for their initial three-mile race on Lake Washington, April 16.

This event is watched closely along the Atlantic seaboard, for out of it usually comes the Poughkeepsie winner.

Al Ulbricksen says the odds against Washington sweeping the Hudson for the third consecutive year, June 27, should be 1000 to 1.

One of the many things that make Ulbricksen a top teacher is that he isn't afraid to make changes. He recently unseated three veterans, putting Don Hume, who stroked two triumphant crews at Poughkeepsie and an Olympic winner; Capt. Gordon Adam, No. 5; and Jack White, No. 4, in the junior varsity shell.

Bad weather, a crew bugaboo, hit Washington. Conditions were perfect the early part of March. The Huskies were improving every time out. Things looked rosy, indeed, in comparison with previous years. Ulbricksen believed that he had the right combination, and began laying ground work for the tugging with California.

"BUT I wasn't figuring on the psychological slump my men were presently to undergo," says the Washington coach. "The first indication was a general lassitude, followed by successively poorer time trials. The California date kept crawling closer and closer."

Then came the unseating of the three stars. There was no result after a week. The trio of Olympic and Poughkeepsie heroes started showing their old form. Kerplunk! They were back in the varsity scow, where Ulbricksen knew they would wind up.

So Ulbricksen announces his 1938 varsity crew as follows: Hume, stroke; Bob Murray, No. 7; Ewen Dingwall, No. 6; Adam, No. 5; White, No. 4; Norman Turay, No. 3; John Carey, No. 2; George Chica, bow; and Johnny Rosenkranz, coxswain.

Ulbricksen feared that his crew became rusty when again handicapped by snow, hail, sleet, cold winds, rain, and choppy water.

But the 1938 Washington crew in its second three-mile test of the season bettered its previous mark by 15 seconds. Ulbricksen once more has two varsity crews, which are so evenly matched that it is difficult to choose between them. They raced a dead heat the other day.

THIS dead heat was reminiscent of a similar race between the varsity and junior varsity three days before the scramble on the Hudson last June.

That was the test that put the first crew at the proper edge to break the four-mile record at Poughkeepsie.

The Washington crews will stop at Madison en route to Poughkeepsie, and race Wisconsin over a two-mile course California crew finished fifth at Poughkeepsie last June, but excellent sophomore material promises to make the Bears more formidable this season. The newer hands were in the boat that finished second to the Washington peagreens on the Hudson.

And crews rarely do better than that against Washington boatloads.

APRIL and May are big party months for youngsters. Times may change but not children. Frosted cake and ice cream remain their favorite desserts.

Make it a rule to serve one hot dish for children and, if possible, a fruit juice before they crash into the sweets. For busy mothers, frosting has been simplified in the following recipes. Each one is colorful and packed with flavor, therefore guaranteed to delight the young hostess and her young guests.

Strawberry Frosting
This recipe makes enough frosting to cover two 9-inch layers or top and sides of loaf cake or about 24 cup cakes.

Two and one-half cups confectioners' (4X) sugar, 1-4 cup sweetened condensed milk, 1-4 cup fresh strawberry pulp, 1-4 tablespoon lemon juice.

Blend sifted confectioners' sugar into sweetened condensed milk. Fold enough strawberries through sieve to make 1-4 cup pulp, add with lemon juice to first mixture. Beat until smooth and creamy. Cool cake before spreading frosting.

Magie Maple Frosting
This recipe makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two 9-inch layers or top and sides of loaf cake generously, or about 24 cup cakes.

One and one-third cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk, 1-3 cup maple syrup, 2 cups confectioners' (4X) sugar, sifted, nut meats, if desired.

Blend sweetened condensed milk and maple syrup thoroughly in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water 10 minutes, stirring occasionally until mixture thickens. Cool. Add sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat until smooth. Spread on cake. Garnish with chopped nut meats.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The big news is that the Roosevelt administration has decided to try to "spend" the country out of the depression.

The decision finally was reached by the President and WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins at Warm Springs. Further developments are rapidly unfolding.

Half a dozen plans for pumping money into the economic system, backed and press-agented by as many groups, are being pushed around in the air. There are plans for pure spending and plans for pure lending, schemes for lending in such a way that only part of the money will come back and schemes for lending so that none of it will come back.

Although mechanics of the pump-priming scheme to be recommended to Congress are not worked out, it is certain that Mr. Roosevelt will call for at least $3,000,000,000 of funds for WPA and public works.

It is not unlikely that the old FWA, whose machinery has been kept oiled for a program such as is now imminent, will be merged with WPA and that the whole works-recovery program will be co-ordinated under Hopkins. In order to get a fast start, the merged organization would begin at once on projects of both agencies which have been proposed and studied but have not been acted on because of lack of funds.

Prominence of Harry Hopkins in the Roosevelt councils and in administration of the spending program makes it certain that comprehensive if not favorable consideration will be given to a large scale housing program, under government direction and financed by government funds. Hopkins always has wanted to build houses with WPA labor.

Various ideas as to housing as a part of the new spending program are as far up in the air as anything else, but a significant amount of attention is being devoted to possibilities of large-scale erection of pre-fabricated homes.

Some government experts insist that mass production of cheap pre-fabricated homes represents the only way to build cheap individual houses. They say several production units are ready to start off in a big way and that WPA labor could be used to lay out sites, streets, cellars and water mains as well as to put the houses together.

According to the pre-fabrication experts, it's largely a question of getting the public used to this type of house and if someone will just get a lot of them up there will be stimulus for a huge new industry.

But this is only one idea among many and opposition from building trades unions, building materials interests and other groups is likely to kill it. Early indications are that pump-priming proposals of whatever type will be closely scrutinized in Congress and perhaps subjected to considerable alteration.

The proposal to turn the public works program over to Hopkins, assuming that Roosevelt decides he wants to do that, is one which conceivably may cause an uproar in Capitol Hill.

Ambling With The Rambler

BY WAYNE WALLACE

THE defeat of the reform bill is at least one thing that Americans are still a democracy and that the people do have a say in the running of the government. All that is necessary is the people show some concentration. As long as our representatives are dependent on the people, they will just so long they strive to satisfy the wishes of the majority. The trouble is that our citizenry is careless in regard and it takes considerable prying by someone before swinging in action. While many reform representatives in Congress or less seemed to favor the reform bill, the many telegrams stating their stand cause many to change their attitude toward it. Whether or not that election time is near at hand was a major factor in their turn of mind might be debatable. One thing noticeable about the defeat of the bill was that immediately after its rejection the stock market rose.

It has been generally admitted that one of the major factors in the present business recession is uncertainty. Men as a whole do not like change. It makes them cautious. They want to feel their feet on firm ground before they will risk anything. The majority of people have passed through some such experience that will give some credence to their statement. A new job or even the same job in new surroundings under new bosses is a common one. Until they become accustomed to their new circumstances they are ill at ease and careful in the extreme of what they do. All reconstruction periods are caused by some drastic change in the welfare of the people. Every war or change of government has been followed by some such period. People must reorganize themselves and they do not like it.

Business is much the same way. While a few hardy souls will take risks, the majority are content to sit back and wait until conditions are more favorable for the enterprise they have in mind. For every Walt Disney there are a thousand men more timid. Few men would have cared to run the risk he took in producing "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." First of all it was something new in the field of entertainment. It took a large amount of money to produce it, money a part of which he had to borrow. Times were bad and at times he was at the theatre, yet disregarding all these risks he took a chance. That it turned out to be such a gigantic success does in no way detract from the boldness of the venture. Still it remains a fact that Mr. Disney must be classified with the exception rather than the rule.

President Roosevelt has kept Washington in a state of turmoil since first being elected, by his experimental ideas, with the exception of a few breathing spells. Such experiments cannot be said to be good for business in its daily routine, even when such measures may be good or beneficial in the end. Why? Because

APRIL SHOWERS TEA AT WOMEN'S MEET CALLED OUTSTANDING OCCASION

BY BESSIE TAYLOR
One of the largest and most beautiful social courtesies extended visitors to the sixth district T. F. W. C. convention was the April Showers Tea given on the roof garden of the Connelley hotel at 6 p. m., Thursday, April 21.

The elaborate decorations of spring blossoms in pastel shades were dominated by a huge rainbow which extended the width of one wall.

The members of the house party were dressed in formal gowns and the lovely color of their attire formed a living rainbow to greet the arriving guests. The state and district officers, all district chairmen and all presidents of local clubs formed the receiving line, which was composed of fifty women, each of whom was presented a lovely favor from the committee in charge, with Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins serving as general chairman. The tea was a courtesy event sponsored by the Texas Electric Service company.

Two lace-laid tables centered with crystal bowls of flowers, flanked by lighted tapers in rainbow colors, held the tea service. The delicious tea plates consisted of chicken salad, wafers, potato flakes, individual cakes iced in pastel shades and iced tea. Plate favors were miniature lace parasols with vari-colored handles.

A musical entertainment was furnished by the Dragoos Harmony Girls under the direction of Wilda Dragoos. The girls were dressed in rainbow-hued dresses and were grouped on the platform in front of the big rainbow, making a colorful setting for the group.

Three hundred women were guests at this affair.

with pheasants are plainly indicated in present state game laws regulating pheasant hunting, as compared with 20 years ago. Only eight states then permitted pheasant hunting, while 26 states recently had open seasons on this species," the foundation points out.

Rearing of Game No Great Secret Foundation States

NEW YORK.—Game breeding, long a closely-guarded trade of European game keepers, has lost much of its mystery, according to the More Game Birds Foundation.

Today almost any farmer or sportsman can successfully rear pheasants, quail and other game birds by using modern methods, the foundation states in announcing new editions of its free game breeding manuals.

"While real restoration of game birds in this country depends upon practical game management—restoration of proper environment and limitation of the take to the annual natural surplus—artificial restocking is a speedy way to repopulate barren areas.
