

APRIL 14
y area
nton offic
of an app
ompleter
in allotm
directors
$400,000
smaller

LY
W SHOW
IDGE
ARDY
ILDR

With
EWIS ST
KEY ROO

Also Selected
Shorts

y t 15

Our Wa

I not lene

one

ram Henley, 16,
Funeral Services
eld Near Kokomo

epends
stem sup
nto wreck

S. to Continue
Purchases of Silver

By United Press
ASHINGTON, April 14.—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., indicated today the U. S. will continue to purchase spot silver offered by Mexico or any other country, despite suspension of its agreement to buy 5,000,000 ounces of Mexican silver each month.

Mexico Ignores Oil
Seizure Protests

By United Press
MEXICO CITY, April 14.—Mexico refused, flatly, today, to turn British oil properties and assets seized in Great Britain's condemnation of the expropriation as a matter of justice, motivated by bias.

Brother-in-Law of Ranger Man Buried

Notices of the death of Neal Donald Greene, 44, brother-in-law of R. H. Hansford of Ranger, Texas, died at Tulsa, Okla., services were conducted at Tulsa, Okla., Hansford attended the services.

Annual Ceremonies
Scheduled Tonight

Annual Maundy Thursday ceremonies of the Oil Belt Scottish club will be held tonight at 8:30 in the Masonic temple at Eastland.

2 DAYS BEFORE
EASTER
Buy and Use
EASTER
SEALS

Help
ED CHILDREN

TODAY'S NEWS TODAY!

Eastland Telegram

10c WEEK
Delivered To Your Home

UNITED PRESS BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TELEGRAM READERS

EASTLAND, TEXAS, THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 14, 1938

PRICE FIVE CENTS NO. 142

Britain and U.S. Take Lead Toward Peace

By United Press
The United States and Great Britain today renewed their moratorium for peace in Europe of the Americas.

President Roosevelt led the Pan-American day with an address at Washington, warning that aggressors from abroad.

The peace of the Americas, he said, shall not be endangered by aggressors within our family. We will not permit it to be endangered from aggression coming in outside. The American relies, nevertheless, face a test. If our good fortune is continued, our will must be strong.

At Berlin, U. S. Ambassador Hugh Wilson, indirectly urged many to abandon efforts for a self-sufficiency and join American campaign for reciprocal trade concessions.

More important to world peace is the virtual completion of Britain's agreement with France, intended to end differences between the two nations and avert the Nazi-fascist combination.

Funeral Services Held Near Kokomo

Funeral services for the late Jasper Henley, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Henley of Eastland, who died Thursday morning in a Ranger hospital following an appendectomy, was being held Thursday afternoon in ceremonies at the Simpson cemetery near Kokomo.

The youth was secretary of the Wood boys' 4-H club. He was born Aug. 24, 1921, in Fannin county, Ga.

Funeral services were held at Eastland in charge of funeral arrangements.

S. to Continue Purchases of Silver

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., indicated today the U. S. will continue to purchase spot silver offered by Mexico or any other country, despite suspension of its agreement to buy 5,000,000 ounces of Mexican silver each month.

Brother-in-Law of Ranger Man Buried

Notices of the death of Neal Donald Greene, 44, brother-in-law of R. H. Hansford of Ranger, Texas, died at Tulsa, Okla., services were conducted at Tulsa, Okla., Hansford attended the services.

Annual Ceremonies Scheduled Tonight

Annual Maundy Thursday ceremonies of the Oil Belt Scottish club will be held tonight at 8:30 in the Masonic temple at Eastland.

Beauty Reigns in Apple Fete

"Queen Shenandoah XV," otherwise known as Adelaide Moffett, will rule over the annual apple blossom festival at Winchester, Va., April 28. The daughter of James A. Moffett, former Federal Housing administrator, she is the widow of the late David Brooks and heiress to Standard Oil millions.

Mothers, Teachers Hear Smith Speak At Tuesday Meet

The Morton Valley Parent-Teacher association met in regular session Tuesday at 4 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

Several songs were led by Mrs. W. B. Peoples, with Mrs. Cecile Eubanks at the piano. The Lord's prayer was repeated in unison by the group.

The high school pupils presented a short play.

Lewis Smith, superintendent, discussed, "The Place of the Family in the Community."

The Parent-Teacher Record book and posters from the school that were exhibited at the conference in Breckenridge were on exhibit in the auditorium at this meeting.

Present: Misses Opal Hearn, Inez Pickett; Meses, Cecile Eubanks, Butler, T. L. Wheat, Ed McCullough, Lora Smith, N. E. Jensen, Josie K. Smith, W. B. Peoples, W. E. Tankersley, J. B. Harbin, W. C. Wheat, Bert Duncan, McMillan, H. Adams, Jake Garrison, T. C. Harbin, Joe Moore, D. B. Woods, Cora Plumlee, Clint Jones, Bill Whately, W. E. Hensley, O. H. Hearn, Florence Davis, H. Tankersley, Essie King, O. N. Ramsower, George Robinson, N. A. Smith, Margaret Maxey, Thad Henderson, Mr. Lewis Smith and Mr. J. C. Koen.

'Hottest Clue' in Frome Case Is Found By Rangers

By United Press
HEBRONVILLE, April 14.—Texas Rangers, trailing a car they believed to be driven by the murderers of Mrs. Weston Frome and her daughter, announced today they had found a handkerchief with the letter "P" embroidered in one corner clinging to a bush at a camp the suspects used in the past two days.

Texas Ranger Pete Crawford believed it was the "hottest clue" yet uncovered. State police at Austin said, however, that the handkerchief differed from that found clutched in the hand of Nancy Frome when her body was found near Van Horn.

Rangers found two campsites in South Texas pastures, believed to have been used by the suspects. The suspects are heavy, swarthy man about 35 years old and a blond woman about 25.

The couple drove to an eating place at Roma last night and purchased food. Then the man pulled a gun on the clerk, who attempted to collect from him, and drove away.

Wheat Crop Losses Are Not Estimated

AUSTIN, April 14.—"It is impossible at this time to estimate loss of wheat resulting from adverse weather since April 1," the statisticians of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported here today.

"The damage is at present more apparent in the area immediately east of the caprock."

Based on April 1 reports a wheat crop of 39,862,000 bushels was forecast. The 1937 crop was 41,690,000 bushels.

Butterfat Tests Conducted by Two

County Agent Elmo V. Cpek and Assistant Agent Hugh F. Barnhart Thursday afternoon conducted a butterfat test on a herd of Jersey cattle owned by S. O. Montgomery, dairyman, who lives southeast of Ranger.

Naked Body of a Holdup Witness Is Found by Police

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 14.—The naked body of Norma de Marco, 22-year-old witness to a Greenwich Village night club gun battle Tuesday, crashed into an alley early today from the 12th floor of an apartment house.

Police said her death was suicide and they found nothing to associate it with the holdup of the club, in which a policeman and three bandits were shot.

A radio patrolman who shot three bandits credited Miss de Marco with saving his life.

Army Pilot Dies In Plane Crash At San Antonio

By United Press
RANDOLPH FIELD, April 14.—Lieut. Robert Hubbard, 26, student air corps officer, was killed today when his plane crashed during training maneuvers four miles west of here.

Hubbard's home was in New York City and he was a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Only witness to the crash was Hubbard's commander, who excoriated his body from the wreckage just before it burst into flames.

Mrs. Perkins Is Leader of Texas Drive Vs. Cancer

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland this year, for the second time, heads the Texas division of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer in the solicitation of funds to fight the disease.

Mrs. Perkins' title is state commander. Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville is vice commander for the state drive.

In requests for funds, a letter of Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Taylor states, in part: "The Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer is building a living memorial to those who have died. The memorial is not an obelisk of stone but a vital crusade with a message of encouragement and hope for our own and later generations.

"The Army honors those who have died by appealing to the living to unite in a movement to fight cancer with knowledge, to spread the message that in its early stages this disease is curable. Probably half of the 150,000 men and women who died last year could have been saved had they known the symptoms of early cancer and acted on that knowledge.

"Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker was the only Texas woman on the National Advisory Board of the Women's Field Army. In memory of her untiring devotion to the women of Texas and of these United States, what could be more fitting than that Texas create a living memorial to her life among us?"

"You are a chosen representative of the largest organization of women in any state. Will you consider it a privilege to enlist in the Women's Field Army and to add your dollar to be one among many to be used for the preservation of life?"

Comeback Trail of Prizefighter Was Not So Hard After All

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas—Jack Hale retired prize fighter, once tried to end his own "comeback" attempt—only the results were not what he planned.

He recently revealed to fellow clerks in the federal district attorney's office the details of the astonishing victory in his last fight. The astonished person was Hale, himself.

That was several years after he had won the featherweight championship of the Pacific fleet and after he had fought more than fifty professional bouts, winning most of them. He fought this "comeback" fight at 27—seven years ago—against a young, vigorous boxer.

"It was the third round coming up," he said, "and I was dead tired. I realized I should have known better than to try to fight again.

"I knew the other fellow was scared, but I decided to let him tap me and then I'd be counted out."

Hale maneuvered his opponent into a corner and stuck out his chin for the finishing blow.

"But both of us had the same idea when we went out for that round," he laughed. "I swung a weak right instinctively. He took it on the chin, and was counted out. It was just a matter of who got in the first blow."

Cop Changed Mind About Giving Aid to Woman In Distress

DALLAS, Texas—Lieut. Louis Spencer, a good policeman, bolted all the windows and locked all the doors when he left his house. Then he slammed the screen as he stepped off the porch—not noticing that the hook jumped back into the eye latch.

Later, as he sat at his desk at headquarters, the telephone rang. "I want you to unlock my door," a feminine voice said sweetly.

"Sorry, lady," the lieutenant answered, "but the police don't perform services like that."

"Well, they better," said the feminine voice. "This is your wife calling. You locked me out."

Will Stump State

By United Press
HOUSTON, April 14.—Joseph King, Harris county's "log cabin candidate" for governor said today he would begin a 6,000-mile campaign tour Monday.

Enjoying One on the House

Jubilant over the Senate's passing of its own version of the $5,000,000,000 tax bill instead of the one previously passed by the House, the happy huddle above shows, left to right, Senators Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona, William E. Borah of Idaho and Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico. They expressed their glee at deleting the controversial undistributed profits tax and otherwise modifying the House measure.

Invitations For Safety Conference Will Be Furnished

H. J. Tanner, director general of the Oil Belt Safety Conference, Friday, May 6, at Eastland, announced Thursday that the chamber of commerce would send invitations to anyone citizens suggest.

Tanner stated that 400 invitations have already been sent to persons from over the state.

Should anyone know of persons who may not have been invited, then the chamber of commerce would send invitations if their names are given to the office.

Besides the personal invitation which would be sent, a complete program also would be forwarded.

Companies to Have Floats or Cars In Parade Are Listed

Police Chief W. J. Peters of Eastland, chairman of the parade committee of the Oil Belt Safety conference Friday, May 6, Thursday announced that the following firms and persons in Eastland have pledged to prepare decorated car or float for that event of the meeting:

J. C. Penney company, Fort Worth Star Telegram, Eastland Drug store, Corner Drug store, Connelley hotel, Burnside Motor company, Joe Lauren's Barber shop, Burr's store, Miller's Variety store, J. O. Earnest grocery, A. & P. grocery, Majestic cafe, Eastland National bank.

Lotief Fry Goods store, Men's shop, Club cafe, Modern Dry Cleaners, W. O. Tyson Furniture company, Hotel Garage, Texas Coca-Cola Bottling company, Frank Roberson garage, Eastland Fire Department, Eastland Lion Auto store, Harvey Chevrolet Motor company.

Economy store, Little Queen cafe, Lucas Service station, Arab Gasoline corporation, Jim Horton Tire Service, Guy Patterson Motor company, J. E. Lewis, Jr., Lyric theatre, Eastland Dairy products, Texas company, Walter's grocery, Chili King, Jack Muirhead Motor company, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company, C. J. Hyatt, George Harper and Harkrider Dry Cleaners and Dyers.

Mission Mill Found After a Century Buried In Dust

SAN ANTONIO — The mill of San Jose Mission, buried under the dust of a century and long forgotten, has been restored to its original state.

Existence of the mill, which historians say was built by the Franciscan monks prior to the erection of the mission itself, was not known until four years ago. It is believed to have been the source of food for the workers who constructed the mission.

When excavators employed by the San Antonio Construction Society stumbled upon a rock sludge pit on the south side of the mission, they believed they had found the entrance of a tunnel connecting San Jose with other missions. Exploration, however, established it as an ancient mill for grinding corn.

Ernest Schuchard, a milling engineer, did research work to establish the mill as one of the type common in Spain in the 18th century. He volunteered to rebuild the mill machinery, and recently completed work on it.

The mill appears now as it did in the days of the Franciscan friars. Its reconstruction is a part of the work of restoring the city's historic landmarks, begun some 25 years ago by the conservation society.

Bond Is Denied to A Bombing Suspect

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, April 14.—The penal court today refused to accept bond for William Fink, mining company executive, held in prison on a charge of conspiracy in the bomb slaying of Mayor Jose Borunda of Juarez on April 1.

Students Strike As Principal Accused Of Playing Politics

By United Press
CORPUS CHRISTI, April 14.—Most of the student body at the new Flour Bluff High School walked out today in protest against alleged political activities of Principal J. W. Hill.

The nature of the objection was not made public, but students called on the county superintendent and urged an investigation to substantiate charges.

The students declared they would not return to classes until a new principal was named.

New Report On Frome Case Is Of Importance

By United Press
EL PASO, April 14.—A report from a Newburyport, Mass., woman and her son that they saw the automobile of Mrs. Weston Frome and her daughter, Nancy, stalled on a West Texas highway, was described by Sheriff Chris Fox today as "of major importance."

Fox said investigators had been handicapped because they have been unable to find anyone who saw a tire on the Frome automobile being changed.

The Massachusetts woman said a dark sedan was parked behind the Frome car and that a "short, chunky man" was standing nearby.

REHEARSALS ON LITTLE THEATRE PLAY TO START

With the cast tentatively selected, rehearsals on the Eastland Little theatre's next production, "Napoleon Junior" by John Hershey, will begin Monday evening at the city hall.

E. E. Freyschlag is director for the play, assisted by Roy Birmingham.

Organization of the Little Theatre, revived at recent meetings, has been practically completed. It is headed by Judge O. C. Funderburk as president. Freyschlag as vice president and Mrs. Roy Birmingham as secretary treasurer. The officers and Mrs. A. H. Furse and James Cheatham Jr., composed the board of directors.

C. A. Hertig is business manager.

Committees of the organization, first named is chairman, are as follows:

Play reading—Mrs. Art H. Johnson, Mrs. C. J. Owen, Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag, K. B. Tanner.

Casting—Mrs. Joe Stephen, Miss Charlton Marx, Birmingham, Freyschlag, Conrad Reeves.

Publicity—Stewart Doss, V. O. Hatcher, Walker Germany and Bill Driehoffer.

Properties—Mrs. James Cheatham, Jr., Mrs. Earl Francis, Mrs. C. A. Hertig, Mrs. A. H. Furse, Charles Lafon, E. Carl Johnston.

Make-up—Dorothy Day, Mrs. Everett Ligon, Mrs. Francis.

Ticket sales—Mrs. Bill Driehoffer.

Eastland Masons Slating Regular Meeting Tonight

A regular stated meeting of the Eastland Masonic lodge is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 in the Masonic temple, it was announced today.

The meeting will not interfere with the annual Maundy-Thursday ceremony being held at the same time in the building by the Oil Belt Scottish Rite club.

Broken Rail Causes Passenger to Wreck

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—A broken rail sent four cars of a fast Union Pacific passenger train into a ditch near the Nevada-California line early today. The railroad said several persons were hurt, but none seriously.

Edmonds to Preach At Church In Staff

Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger will preach at the Staff Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. The public has been invited to attend.

Ball Player at Murder Trial

Shown above in the first photograph, taken since he was charged with murder, Vernon Spencer, former New York Giants outfielder, is shown at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., between sessions of his trial on charges of slaying Miss Helen Grier, Pontiac, Mich., stenographer. The girl was shot to death while she and Spencer were at a hunting camp in the Canadian woods.

88th Tribunal to Receive Jurors In New Week Monday

The following persons have been summoned by Deputy Sheriff Tug Underwood for service as petit jurors the week beginning Monday in 88th district court.

Morris Leveille, Ranger; S. D. Nelson, Pioneer; M. O. Hazard, Eastland; Carl Butler, Olden; I. A. Bailey, Scranton; Roy Tucker, Cisco; H. S. Childress, Rising Star; A. J. Skiles, Cisco; L. E. Clark, Desdemona; J. R. Cox, Rising Star; H. L. Gibson, Eastland; F. C. Williamson, Eastland; Fred Grist, Cisco; D. Lewis, Rt. 3, Gorman; O. D. Carver, Rising Star; H. O. Hearn, Eastland; G. E. Carter, Okra; J. W. Graham, Desdemona.

W. A. Brown, Desdemona; G. W. Mason, Gorman; R. A. Brown, Desdemona; O. M. Bryant, Eastland; J. D. Lauderdale, Cisco; Nick Gallagher, Ranger; Curtis Smith, Rising Star; Oscar Schaeffer, Nimrod; J. W. Miller, Eastland; S. W. Woodruff, Rising Star; M. G. Martin, Ranger; W. B. Statham, Cisco; J. H. Jordan, Carbon; Ed Huestis, Cisco; H. L. Jackson, Eastland; Lee Clark, Rising Star; S. A. Eison, Gorman, and J. S. Davenport, Ranger.

Gorman Pythians At Abilene Meet

Gorman degree team members were guests of the Abilene Knights of Pythias in their regular meeting Thursday night.

Rank of knight was conferred on three Abilene men by the visiting team. They were J. R. Williams, W. L. McDaniel and Clinton Wilson.

About 25 men from Gorman attended, along with two score Abilenians.

Rabbit Drive Held At Cheaney Today

Those who failed to attend the big rabbit drive held at Cheaney community today have missed a lot of sport in the way of quick shooting. Also there was plenty of fun at the church at noon, fixed by the ladies.

Time was allotted to those candidates who were present to express themselves and to get acquainted.

L. H. Gentry suffered a broken collar bone when he was thrown from a truck during the drive.

Promise Entries In Parade Event Of Safety Meet

Police Chief W. J. Peters of Eastland, chairman of the parade committee for the Oil Belt Safety Conference Friday, May 6, stated Wednesday that 47 individuals, businesses and organizations have promised to have entries in the event.

Chief Peters stated that thus far all parade entries are of Eastland, but that Ranger, Cisco and Breckenridge persons will be contacted immediately for entries.

CONGRESS IS GIVEN PLANS FOR RECOVERY

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Roosevelt proposed to congress today in a special message a $4,512,000,000 program of lending, spending and credit expansion to launch the new deal on its greatest expenditures in a pump-priming drive against the recession.

Another important piece of legislation also appeared. The house labor committee agreed to report a new wage-hour bill, providing fixed levels of pay and working hours by gradual adjustment of standards.

Meanwhile conferees on the new tax bill headed into bitter combat committee fight.

The new spending program proposed by the president would boost the federal 1939 budget expenditures to a minimum of $8,881,000 with spending possibly topping nine billions for the first time in U. S. peacetime history. Little legislation would be required for the program.

The president's associates said the net increase in the national debt would not exceed $1,000,000,000. The program would involve loss of a $1,400,000,000 gold "nest egg."

Mr. Roosevelt, working until 2:45 a. m. today to reshape his plans after conference with congressional leaders, will go on the air at 9:30 p. m. CST tonight to rally popular support for the new deal against an economy opposition, which some believe includes Vice President Gorman.

The new plan is designed to increase national income in two years from the present $56,000,000,000 to $80,000,000,000 a year. The plan fell into three general categories: one, maintenance of relief; two, expansion of credit; three, revival of public works and additional funds for certain new deal recovery agencies.

The lending-spending-credit expansion plan includes:

1. $2,000,000,000 of treasury expenditures to make work.
2. $950,000,000 of treasury loans to make work.
3. $1,500,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to aid business and local governments.
4. Debitization of $1,182,000,000 gold, use of $210,000,000 free gold already in the treasury working balance and Federal Reserve reduction of reserve requirements by about $750,000,000.

The house drove the $800,000,000 agricultural department supply bill toward final action. Leaders expected that before passage an amendment would increase federal highway aid to $167,500,000 provided for in the 1938 fiscal year.

Ranger Man Claims Record for Holding P. O. Box Number

"Dutch" Irvin, Ranger school teacher, claims a record for holding the same post office box number longer than anyone else in Ranger.

Back in 1897 Irvin's father secured box number 93. Shortly after that Irvin persuaded his father to let him have that number and he has kept it ever since, a total of 41 years.

In spite of several changes in location of the postoffice, when box numbers were often changed, Irvin has retained old 93. At the time the post office moved into the new building Irvin was assigned another number, but he rebelled.

"I have had 93 for over 40 years," Irvin told post office clerks, "and if I don't get that number in the new post office I just won't have a box."

He got 93.

Governor's Ex-Chef Charged In Robbery

AUSTIN, April 14.—Sidney Dennis, negro, who baked such good biscuits that he once cooked for the governor was charged today for robbing a filling station. Police said he served a two-year sentence on a chicken theft charge from Gonzales county.

He cooked at the mansion as a "trustee."

EASTLAND TELEGRAM

Published every afternoon (except Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning.

Member Advertising Bureau—Texas Daily Press League
Member of United Press Association

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, notices of lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates, which will be furnished upon application.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Eastland, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE

ONE YEAR BY MAIL (In Texas) $3.00

You Go to School to Learn

This is an especially apt time to think a little about what changes in the tides of education are brought about by heightened political rivalries, strengthened economic barriers, intensified international ill-will, and wars.

Deteriorations and perversions in educational systems are not effected by decree alone. The faculty mind, the student mind, the aggregate intelligence of the scholastic field, absorb the emotional colorations of the world at large, and the characteristics of an entire system become so changed in time as to make it unrecognizable. The supposedly cloistered soul is after all not quite hermetically sealed.

The values of liberal arts courses in colleges as opposed to specialized training, general courses in high schools as opposed to technical courses, are the subject of considerable dispute at present in the light of their ultimate practical benefits to the average man. But that there is a place for both . . . that the world needs men of learning as well as men of training . . . is undenied. Education as an instrument whereby a man may enlarge the scope of his cultural experience as a means to attaining simply a greater degree of pleasure out of life is also still accepted as one of the assets of a civilized existence.

The opportunities of this kind of an education are in especial danger of being abridged in periods of widespread international ill-will. The availability of courses in foreign languages, foreign literatures, is particularly subject to destruction. You may remember the disappearance of high school German courses 20 years ago.

The courses were not abolished in some schools, but few students took them where they remained. You read now that the popularity of German rose in New York's schools after the war, to a post-war high point in 1934, and then started going down steadily, and is still going down.

Language is a cultural asset, whether Nazism is or is not. At present the chances for German look as if they're rapidly approaching the vanishing point. Will Goethe be universally unfathomable in this country a few years from now?

Wouldn't it be dandy for the English language if the Americans and British got to despising one another for a few generations!

A Skidmore college student says in test that the North Pole was named after its discoverer, Marco Polo. Mussolini may seize upon this as grounds for a claim to the territory.

With European dictators, the ultimate objective is usually not the ultimatum objective.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

THE EXECUTIVE REORGANIZATION PROGRAM

THE AGONY OF JESUS

BY FATHER S. E. BYRNE
St. Rita's Church, Ranger

The road which Jesus took on His journey to Calvary descended from the praetorium into the Tyropoon valley, and winding westward climbed a steep hillside. Almost along the top ran the city walls, and farther in the distance, hemmed about by gardens and houses, lay the place of execution, Golgotha. This name, which means skull, doubtless in those days designated some bold and lonely rock, rising from the ground and lying skull-like upon this open stretch of land. Golgotha must have been but a short distance from the walls of the city, for it was the custom of the Romans to execute convicted criminals just at the gates of the towns, and near some highway sufficiently used to make the spectacle serve as a public example.

From the account of St. John, we know that Christ was turned over to the Jewish soldiers, but from subsequent events we know that some of the Roman soldiers, with a centurion in command, acted as executioners, for crucifixion was never a punishment administered by the Jews. The high priests were content to merely be present at the execution of this sentence.

The execution followed immediately upon the sentence, for this was Roman usage, and the Jews desired to have Christ put to death immediately, for fear lest the body should be left upon the cross and thereby profane the sanctity of their festival of the morrow. Accordingly the procession was formed forthwith; at its head rode a centurion on horseback, behind him walked four soldiers surrounding Jesus and the two criminals also sent to be executed. Our Savior no longer wore the garment of derision, but had been clothed in His own garments. But His head still bore the crown of thorns, and about His neck they hung a tablet, upon which was written His condemnation.

The instrument of torture, the cross, was not produced, all was ready and the procession marched rapidly toward Golgotha. Stared at by an insolent crowd of heavy-seers, Jesus dragged that heavy

Just at this time a man happened to be entering the town; he was a Cyrenean Jew returning from the country. From his drudge and bearing the soldiers saw at a glance that he was a stranger employed at servile labor; to their minds this was sufficient excuse to make him perform one of those forced services which the whims of the legionnaires were continually imposing upon the Jewish inhabitants. They therefore compelled him to carry the cross after Jesus. It was because of this compulsory service rendered to the Savior that the name of Simon the Cyrenean has been preserved from oblivion. Whether he was a disciple of Christ we do not know, but St. Mark recalls that Simon was the father of Alexander and Rufus, names known among the early Christians as longing to brethren in the faith.

But for Christ, the soldiers had to help Him rise, and at sight of this Man being dragged to execution a shudder of pity swept through the throng, and a group of women who were close to Jesus lifted up their voices in cries of lamentation. Moved by the great grief of these women, Jesus turned toward them, saying: "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for Me; but weep for yourselves and for your children; for soon the days shall come when they will say: 'Blessed are the barren! Blessed are the wombs which have not borne, and the breasts which have not given suck!' Then shall they begin to say to the mountains: 'Fall upon us!' and to the hills: 'Cover us!' For if men deal thus with the green wood, what shall be done in the dry?"

This response surprised the women of Jerusalem, for its tone was so grave and solemn and almost severe, sounding not so much of an exhortation to penitence. Thus indeed Jesus showed greater anxiety for them than for Himself. Forty years later these same maidens who now heard the words of Jesus were to be enveloped in the destruction of Jerusalem. These young mothers were to behold the sword and torch consume the flower of the children of Israel; the underground causeways of the city were incapable of shielding their children against the rage of their conquerors; the corpses of the citizens were heaped therein by famine they would in delirium of famine they would actually kill and eat their own children.

At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.

Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.

Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:

"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.

At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.

Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.

Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:

"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.

At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.

Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.

Canal Builder

HORIZONTAL

1,3 Viscount Ferdinand builder of a great canal.
9 The canal he built.
13 Med.
15 Fence bar.
17 To observe.
18 Schemes.
19 Spaces between infant's skull bones.
21 Italian coin.
22 Throng.
23 To shatter.
24 Hops kiln.
25 Chaste.
26 Musical note.
27 Mountain.
28 Harbor.
29 Sesame.
30 The greatest number.
31 Window part.
32 To rely on.
34 To skulk.
35 Beer.
36 Ulcer.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

WOODEN WEDNESDAY
ORE WHEREON AID
ALS FASED FUR
OLDEN REP. POSES
N TOES STAG U
ES SHAG CAP
EH ALSO LOIR
YE HEART ODE
E W AAM M
DO EXPIATE
RAGE EAR ERGO
ANI REALIST ERE
VALHALLA WISDOM

VERTICAL

1 He was also a
by birth.
2 To enroll.
3 Convulsive tic.
4 Being.
5 Southeast.
6 Irregular.
7 To gasp.
8 To perch.
10 Consumer.
11 Snaky fish (pl.).
12 Relish.

14 To classify.
16 Unstable.
19 Fortified place.
20 Chaos.
22 To wound.
25 Office.
26 Fur.
28 To attitudinize.
29 Net weight of a container.
30 Beast of burden.
31 One who chases.
33 To shower.
34 To lend.
36 Backbone.
37 Loom bar.
38 To carry.
39 To twirl.
40 House covering.
41 Compass point.
42 Narrative poem.
43 Headstrong.
45 Capuchin monkey.
46 Pound.
48 Portugal.
50 Form of "a."

38 To bind.
39 Mineral springs.
40 Thin slice of bacon.
44 Upon.
45 Covered with spines.
47 Father.
48 Ache.
49 Tree.
50 Sloths.
51 He was a world famous
52 He was

NAMES in the News

Names make headlines. Newspapers, today as always, are made up of what people say, think, propose, dissent from. Governments, institutions, businesses—and all their activities—are only the lengthened shadows of men!

What is true on the front pages is true, also, on advertising pages. Advertisements are simply signed statements of men, banded together to form a business who seek your patronage. They back their good name against the products they ask you to buy. They say, in cold black type, that theirs is a name you can trust.

People who get the most for their money in the market-places are people who know the value of familiar, trade-marked products. They buy with confidence. They buy by name—and save time, tiresome searching, and money! Are you doing likewise?

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1935
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the executioners seized Him and stripped Him of His garments; the crucified captive must hang naked upon the gibbet. He was then placed upon the cross and nails driven into His hands and feet to keep Him fastened to the cross when it was raised. Who can imagine what torments Christ must have endured in this suffering, for we know how much it hurts if we have but a pin stuck into us, and to have both hands and feet pierced with large nails must have been terrible; this was not enough, the hole for the cross had been dug, and when the victim was secured to the cross it was raised and left to drop into this hole with a shudder that was flesh-rending.
Two crosses had been set up, one on the right, the other on the left of Jesus, bearing two thieves condemned to death with Him. The soldiers now affixed above the head of Christ the inscription dictated by Pilate. Upon this inscription in Greek, Latin and Hebrew were these words:
"This is the King of the Jews." At this time the Jews were weak and the man hanging there was their man hanging there. He was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name. The man hanging there was showing that he should have a name.
At last Christ reached the place of execution, worn out and utterly exhausted. The soldiers offered Him wine mingled with myrrh and poppy, which the Jews were accustomed to give to condemned criminals, thereby producing a sort of stupor that would lighten their sufferings. Jesus, having tasted it, would not drink, but steered Himself to accept all the bitterness and hardships of His execution.
Finally the execution

"OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By Williams SPORT G.

GOOD NIGHT, NURSE

speedily thinned the ranks of the

All at once another cry was heard: "I thirst," showing that Christ was actually suffering terrible pains, although not complaining in the least. If it was not for this statement, many would have declared that Christ did not actually suffer on the cross, but these words disprove any such belief. One of the bystanders hurriedly dipped a sponge in the soldiers' bitter drink and offered it to the Savior. His deed of mercy drew forth a shriek of hatred from the mob: "Let be! Let be! And see if Elias will come to save Him."

The Savior pressed His lips to the sponge soaked with vinegar, and then with quickened powers, He fixed His gaze upon the world of men below Him. "It is finished," he said; "Everything is consummated—My Passion, My Life, and the salvation of mankind." Having spoken this last farewell to earth, He gave Himself into His Heavenly Father's keeping: "Father," He cried with a loud voice, "into Thy hands I restore My Spirit." It was the voice of a son, throwing himself into the arms of his father, yet it was also the utterance of "Him from Whom no one taketh His Soul, but Whom layeth it down whenever it pleased Him." John was there gazing upon the Savior, and he saw that He had bowed down His head upon His breast and that He was dead.

"Immediately the veil of the Temple was rent from the top clean to the bottom and torn in twain; the earth quaked, rocks were torn asunder, graves opened, and many bodies of the Saints who had slept rose from their tombs." The Roman Centurion was the first to bow down before the evidences of these wonders, and exclaimed: "This was indeed the Son of God." From this consideration of the sufferings of Christ let us, too, fall down and not only proclaim with our lips, but with our heart that Christ indeed is the Son of God, and our Savior.

The candidate for the California governorship who spent a five-day jail term making speeches to fellow prisoners no doubt regrets he can't always have an audience who will be sure to stay with him.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox

WHEN the dinner guest is unexpected, why not do the unexpected yourself, and begin the meal with a sudden soup? The following recipes show you how.

Salmon Bisque (Serves 4) Two and one-half cups milk, 1 tablespoon quick tapioca, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon butter, salt, pepper and paprika to taste, 1 cup minced canned salmon, 1 teaspoon parsley, 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice.

Scald milk. Add tapioca, onion, butter and seasoning. Simmer 15 minutes. Then add minced canned salmon, parsley and lemon juice. Heat thoroughly and serve. If it gets too thick use hot milk to thin it.

Green Lettuce Soup (Serves 4 to 6) One head lettuce, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 2 cups clear stock or canned consommé, 1 cup light cream.

Shred lettuce. Heat butter in saucepan, stir in flour, lemon juice and sugar. Add lettuce and simmer 10 minutes. Then add stock and seasoning. Simmer a

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, parsley omelet, nut muffins, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Salmon bisque, toasted French bread, compote of oranges, bananas and coconut, vanilla wafers, tea, milk.

DINNER: Green lettuce soup, breaded veal chops, tomato sauce, mashed potatoes, 8-minute cabbage, compote of stewed plums, sponge cake, coffee, milk.

few minutes, add cream, heat thoroughly and serve.

Quick Tomato Consomme (Serves 4 to 6) One carrot, 2 stalks celery, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons left-over peas or beans, 1 potato, 1 cup tomato juice, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon butter, seasoning.

Chop carrot, celery and onion. Combine with hot water and boil quickly 10 minutes. Add seasoning, tomato juice, and simmer 3 minutes. Add butter, and a bouillon cube can be added when the soup is removed from the stove.

This quick tomato bouillon has a freshness which everyone will enjoy.

Weather Forecasts On Time Schedules Started In Gulf

By United Press NEW ORLEANS, La.—Gulf of Mexico weather broadcasts on direct time schedules, a new service for all classes of marine vessels, has been inaugurated by the U. S. coast guard and lighthouse services in cooperation with the government weather bureau.

Forecasts for the Middle and West Gulf areas are sent twice daily, with storms, hurricane and advisory warnings for those areas at two-hour intervals from WWOL, lighthouse bureau station at New Orleans; NMG, Mobile, Ala., and NOY, Galveston, Texas. NMG and NOY are coast guard stations.

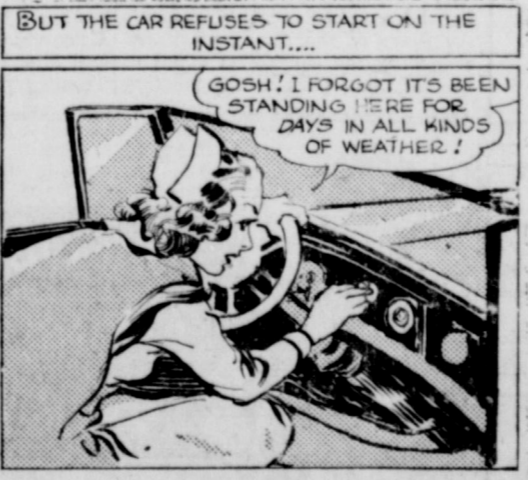

The lighthouse service announced that all broadcasts would be made in "plain language" and could be received by any set with a wave band covering 2662 kilocycles.

The forecasts are designed to provide all classes of vessels with information formerly obtainable only by ships equipped with radio telegraph apparatus and operators. It was believed the reports also would be of value to dispatchers' office, dock terminals and yacht clubs.

Station WWOL broadcasts wind and weather forecasts for the Middle and West Gulf of Mexico at 10:40 a. m. and 10:40 p. m. When issued, storm, hurricane and advisory warnings for those areas are sent at the same time and repeated at 40 minutes past the first even hour and at two-hour intervals thereafter for ten hours.

Forecasts and warnings for the Middle Gulf are sent from NMG at 10:20 a. m. and p. m. Storm warnings are repeated at 20 minutes past the first even hour and at two-hour intervals for the next ten hours. Station NOY broadcasts are at 10:30 a. m. and p. m., with additional advisories at 50 minutes past the even hours. All times are central standard.

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse - - By Thompson and Coll

Easter Cruise

BY MARION WHITE Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

over and made the suggestion to the orchestra leader before returning Joyce to her table. Gaily the orchestra leader blew a whistle and called the changes: "Single line, now, and MARCH! Hands on shoulders! . . . Ladies right, gentlemen left! . . . Find your partners!"

Faster and faster the music was stepped up; more and more hilarious became the dancing. Joyce went through the changes, her cheeks flushed, smiling in bright abandon because she did not realize that anything so gay as a Paul Jones might bring its difficulties. THEN Joyce, stepping along merrily, hand over hand, looked down the line of approaching men and caught her breath. "Lord!" she thought, "look what's coming!" For there, directly in front of her, just one man removed now, was puddy Mr. O'Hara, still swaying unsteadily but beaming assuredly under a Napoleonic hat of vivid red.

Now she was in Mr. O'Hara's arms, and he, unmindful of the routine of the dance, took quick advantage of the situation. He led her out of the circle, stepped her into a brisk, old-time two-step. Presently the whistle did sound, and the others resumed the dancing, so there was nothing to do but enjoy these few moments of Mr. O'Hara's brief abandonment.

"That's the little girl!" he approved heartily. "We'll show 'em. Boy, you're some lil' stepper, baby!" In between his casual remarks, his lusty voice would now and then be raised exuberantly, in tune and out of tune, to the orchestra's selection. After the first few steps, Joyce forgot to worry about him. Let him have his fun, she thought, with a bit of Aunt Martha's philosophy. After all, he doesn't have much chance, not with Old Pickle-Puss always behind him. . . . The whistle sounded once more, and the dancers fell into a line of march. But not Mr. O'Hara. "Think I'm going to change partners now?" he demanded. "No, sir—e-e-e!"

So they kept up a little dance of their own, a dance which was a bit of a two-step, and something of a fox-trot, and not at all unlike an Alabama cake-walk. And the others who danced turned to look at them, and those who sat at nearby tables laughed appreciatively, and Joyce laughed too because—well, what if it?

INTO a circle the dancers formed, and Mr. O'Hara continued his little specialty in the

Agony of Jesus

know how first, instead of reviling His enemies. He rather prayed for them: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Then how the thief on one side, instead of blaspheming Him, rather asked: "Lord, when thou shalt come into Thy Kingdom, remember me!" And how this simple prayer was rewarded by words that we all hope one day will be true, today thou shalt be with Me in Paradise. Then how He thought of His mother, and gave her to the care of St. John and to the whole world as its spiritual mother: "Woman, behold thy son," and to St. John: "Behold thy mother." Thus, during three hours Jesus battled without uttering a single complaint. The evangelists, who have described the agony in the garden, are silent concerning the events that took place within Jesus Himself. Yet in the end a great cry pierced the gloom, revealing the mystery of these hours of anguish. St. Mark has preserved these words just as they came from the lips of Jesus, in that familiar Aramean tongue,

KEY OOP - - - - - By Hamlin

10c WEEK delivered To Your Home

BY HARRY GRAY NEA Service Staff MEMPHIS—Carl I. Lesque this spring is the best heard.

"Things look about the same," says Hub. "The only difference that my arm is a year older." Hubbell has been Bill Terry's asset, but he is now April 14—much if he also can be proposed to by being a fine defense's special points out Memphis Bill, program of "That's the way we play it" in our league. "Look at the two leagues," in the National, you've got four, the five teams of nearly equal strength, and always a close and exciting race down the stretch. In the American, you've got the Yankees and seven teams that are nowhere.

Which is just where the Giants will finish in world series as long as Terry persists in playing for that one run in these days of the hopped-up ball. But the Giants may still be the best of a mediocre National League lot. After all, they still have Hubbell, and perhaps Blondy Ryan will come up with a new slogan.

WITH Slick Castelman a big question mark, the Giants need another first-rate pitcher unless Hubbell, Cliff Melton, Hal Schumacher, and Harry Gumbert are to carry practically the entire load. Bill Lohman of the new crop became something of a disappointment following a promising start. Burgess Whitehead scarcely will be in shape to start at second base.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Regardless of what anyone thinks of the holding company act or of brain trusters in general, the New Deal's "inexperienced young lawyers" have won a striking victory over the "leaders of the American bar" in the Supreme Court's holding company decision.

Here is further proof that the government, under fire, has developed a string of lawyers who can take on the best and most expensive of the private practitioners. The demonstration has been especially convincing on the electric power front, for the holding company decision—in perhaps the government's most difficult legal battle of a generation—was preceded by the Supreme Court's validation of PWA municipal power plant loan grants and the decisive three-judge opinion upholding TVA.

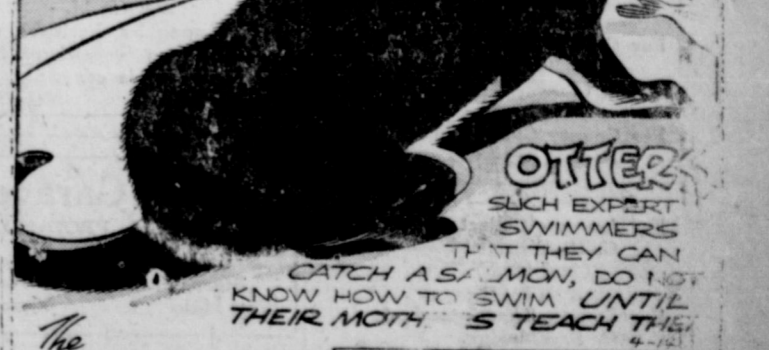

The legal generalship has been supplied from the beginning by those two widely publicized but limelight-dodging brain trusters, Tom Corcoran and Ben Cohen. Those two wrote the holding company bill, nursed it through Congress and then skipped vacations to pilot it through the courts. H. C. Hopson of Associated Gas and Electric once said he'd be willing to spend billions to beat the act and was active in supporting one of the biggest lobbies ever to oppose a bill in Washington. That battle lost, nearly all the big New York law firms banded together under leadership of John W. Davis to bust the government power program. Their fees ran into millions. Only the modestly paid government lawyers would admit the act was constitutional. Davis leaped into the Baltimore federal court to challenge the act a week after it was signed. On behalf of a Baltimore dentist who owned a few bonds in a bankrupt holding company, he asked Judge Coleman to instruct trustees that the act was invalid. "Now you will have to practice law," he whispered challengingly to Corcoran, Cohen and SEC General Counsel Johnny Burns. The New Dealers replied with yells of "fake case!" and "collusion!" after Davis had met his first client in the courtroom for the first time. Judge Coleman decided against the New Dealers and so did the Court of Appeals.

But the Supreme Court accepted the Corcoran-Cohen argument, that the Baltimore case, in which the government wasn't a party, was no fair test of the act. Then an armada of utility lawyers launched 52 suits against the act. Once again Corcoran and Cohen fought up to the Supreme Court with Attorney General Cummings in what utility lawyers called an "unheard-of" maneuver designed a stay other suits while the government's own suit under the act against the huge Electric Bond & Share Company was being tried.

Meanwhile Corcoran and Cohen had recruited Robert H. Jackson, New Deal ace trial lawyer who is now solicitor general, to take special charge of the Bond and Share case.

And to date the courts have handed the big-time lawyers and the utilities which employ them nothing but a bunch of goose eggs. (Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

OTTER SUCH EXPERT SWIMMERS THAT THEY CAN CATCH A SALMON, DO NOT KNOW HOW TO SWIM UNTIL THEIR MOTHERS TEACH THEM.

YOUNG otters are very reluctant to enter the water, and the mother finds it necessary to give them lessons, both in swimming and diving. The training begins with the youngsters riding on the mother's back as she swims about, getting them accustomed to the water. Later on she slips from under them and forces them to swim for themselves.

LOCAL—EASTLAND—SOCIAL

PHONE 601

BESSIE TAYLOR, Editor

Miss Harris Hostess: The members of the American Academy of Accountancy met with Miss Frances Harris as hostess in the home of Mrs. Gayland Poe Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Discuss Current Events: The members of the Readers Luncheon club met in the home of Mrs. M. L. Keasler Tuesday at 1 p. m. for the regular session.

Reading Contest Closed: The young people's reading contest sponsored by the Club women of Eastland has come to a close with the reports in the judges' hands waiting the final decision.

CLASSIFIED

"We have stored near Eastland Spinet Vertical piano and studio size upright, will sell for the balance against them."

LIMITED supply Watson cotton seed, first year from originator, Ginned 2 bales at time rolls run, large bolls, high lint percentage, good staple, mature rapidly.

WE CUSTOM HATCH all kinds of eggs. Start Saturdays and Wednesdays. Started and baby chicks. Bloodtested. Sexed. Guaranteed.

Political Announcements

The Eastland Telegram is authorized to publish the following announcements of candidates for public offices, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries:

For Representative, 106th Dist: (Eastland County) P. L. (Lewis) Crossley, Cecil A. Lotief.

For Floridal Representative: 107th District Eastland, Callahan Counties. T. S. (Tipp) Ross. (Re-election). Wayne Sellers, Omar Burkett.

For District Clerk: Euell D. Bond, John White, Claude (Curley) Maynard.

For Criminal District Attorney: Earl Conner, Jr. (Re-election).

For County Judge: W. S. Adamson. (Re-election)

For County Clerk: R. V. (Rip) Galloway. (Re-election, 2nd term.)

For Assessor-Collector: C. H. O'Brien. (2nd term.)

For County Superintendents: C. S. Eldridge, T. C. Williams. (One term is 4 years)

For County Treasurer: Garland Branton, W. O. (Dick) Weekes, Mrs. Frances (Holbrook) Cooper.

For Sheriff: Loss Woods (2nd term), Virge Foster.

For Commissioner, Precinct 1: Henry V. Davenport, A. L. (Aaron) Stiles.

For Justice of Peace, Precinct 1: E. E. Wood (Re-election).

The Library Reading committee will be the judges.

Mrs. Siebert Hostess: The members of the Walton Moore circle met with Mrs. Jesse Siebert Monday with Mrs. Carl Springer presiding.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Springer taken from John 17:13-26. In the absence of the teacher for the mission study the lesson was omitted.

Personnel: Mrs. W. S. Adamson, Mrs. Carl Springer, Mrs. White, Mrs. E. Altom, Mrs. Ernest Halkais and Mrs. Siebert.

Convention Planned: "Incline Thine Ear Unto Wisdom and Apply Thine Heart To Understanding" theme of the twenty-third annual convention of the 4th district, Federation of Women's Clubs, scheduled to open Wednesday, April 23, for a three day session.

Miss Ethel Foster of Sterling City, president, will preside at the conference that will open at 3 p. m. on the Connellee roof. Registration will begin at 1 p. m. on April 20.

An executive board meeting at the Community club house at 6 o'clock Wednesday with Miss Foster presiding. Dinner will be complimentary of the Community Natural Gas Company, served at the Community club house.

The President Evening is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. at the First Methodist church. Past presidents and present officers will be honored that evening.

Rev. P. W. Walker will give the invocation followed by Miss Josephine Grisham Hall, head of the department of violin at McMurry college at Abilene, who will present two numbers accompanied by Hjalmer Bergh of Cisco.

Mrs. James Horton, general convention chairman, will give the welcome address from the Eastland clubs, response will be made by Mrs. J. R. Whiteman of Brady.

The present club officers and visitors will be presented by Mrs. Frank Friend of San Angelo. The Cecilian Singers of Cisco will be presented directed by Hjalmer Bergh. Miss Foster will give the president's address.

Mrs. E. J. Turrentine of Denton, State president, will bring greetings from State Federation, followed by the Drago violin octette directed by Wilda Drago.

Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, the Texas director to the General Federation, will make a talk followed by the Methodist Church choir directed by Wilda Drago.

Registration Thursday morning will be in the Baptist church. A program on San Jacinto Day will be conducted by Miss Mary Carter, president of Junior Thursday club.

This is election year for the Federated clubs and this important event will be the highlight throughout the session with the ballot box open from 8 until 11 a. m. Thursday. On Friday Mrs. John Perry of Sweetwater, will give the report from the nominating committee.

Reports of city and county Federation will next be heard with Mrs. J. F. Beren of Abilene presiding.

Mrs. Grady Pipkin will present

READINGS PAST & FUTURE

A complete history of your life. All questions answered. Satisfaction guaranteed.

MR. TRACY

212 No. Lamar Truly Rooms

For COMPLETE Markets and Financial News THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

Relied upon by business men and investors everywhere. Send for free sample copy. 44 Broad St. New York

Hotel Garage MAGNOLIA PRODUCTS

G. H. KINARD, Mgr. Storage and Tire Service West Main Phone 42

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

Texas Electric Service Co.

For Complete Markets and Financial News THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

Relied upon by business men and investors everywhere. Send for free sample copy. 44 Broad St. New York

Churchman Says Useful Training Is Provided by NYA For Texas Youths

Confessing that he beat his wife to death with a hammer on their 15th wedding anniversary, Marion Lerner, top, church official and Dill City, Okla., councilman, claimed the reason was that they could not stop quarreling—and not because he was involved with a well-to-do widow. The latter difficulty was solved, Lerner said, when he, his wife, and the widow got down on their knees together and "prayed the whole thing out."

A vocal number followed by report from department of legislation by Mrs. W. B. Collie. Mrs. W. Q. Tilton of San Angelo will make the report on the department of international relations closing the session for Thursday.

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins will preside at the 6 o'clock tea honoring the delegates and visitors to be held on the roof of Connellee hotel and given by the Texas Electric Service Company. The Drago Harmony Girls will supply the music.

The fine Arts program is slated Thursday evening following the tea hour with Mrs. Sam L. Majors of Colorado presiding. Music by Drago violin octette will be featured. Norma Heffley Mahon, poet laureate of the district, will be presented. Mrs. J. M. Gill of Abilene will read her book on "Mind and Melody." Mrs. Lola Gibson Deaton, head of the department of voice at Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene, will present original compositions. Mrs. Morgan Jones will give the principal address of evening.

The Friday morning program will open at 8:30 a. m. at the First Baptist church with reports from junior department with Mrs. Mark L. Leverett of Menard, presiding.

Reports on several departments will be made during the morning with the garden luncheon held at 12:30 o'clock at the City park with Eastland clubs as hosts. Mrs. LeRoy Arnold is to preside.

Musical Program Presented: Final arrangements were made by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Fire Department regarding the concession stand at the soft ball park at the meeting

DALLAS, Texas—The National Youth Administration Work Program has developed so that training boys and girls for useful and practical adult occupations at which they may earn a living is a fundamental objective, J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, said in a talk here this week.

"We require that every project provide proper work discipline and some occupational training for the boys and girls employed," he said. "Young people are asking for practical training. They want to learn to do some one thing well. They want to learn to handle a plow, use a typewriter, sell bonds, fly an airplane, or build something."

Mr. Kellam said that off-job training classes are also operated for youths assigned to projects, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and various public schools, the Adult Education program, and other public agencies.

Resident Training Projects have been developed so that intensive training may be given, he said. Five Resident Training projects are now in operation, one at Southwest Texas State Teachers College for 50 boys interested in general shopwork; another at Luling Foundation Farm for 12 boys interested in farming; a third at Texas Technological College for 50 West Texas farm boys; and two at Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College for Negro boys and girls interested in domestic service training.

Two other Resident Training Projects are scheduled to start in April, one at Buchanan Dam for 100 boys who will receive training in subsistence agriculture and farm mechanical work, and the other at Center Point, in East Texas, for youths interested in farming.

"We recognize that many steps in this training program are new," Mr. Kellam said. "Here is a great field for training and education. The NYA has already helped thousands find their way bridging the gap between the end of school and a regular job."

of the Auxiliary at the city hall club room Tuesday.

Committee composed of Mrs. Noble Harkrider and Mrs. Ed T. Cox Jr., was appointed to make contact with a soft drink company. The gift committee, composed of Mrs. C. L. Fields and Miss Edith Fields, was appointed.

An instrumental musical program was presented by a group of colored people from the colored Baptist church to the members of the Auxiliary and Department that was well received.

Members present: Mmes. C. L. Fields, Ed T. Cox, Noble Harkrider, R. H. Ferris, Richard Jones, Fred Michael, Wade Overby, Curt Williams, Ray Hardwick, Bester Key and Aubrey Yeager and Miss Edith Fields.

Prayer Service Planned: The First Christian Church of Eastland announce an Easter sunrise prayer meeting for Sunday, April 17, at 6 a. m. An invitation is extended to the public.

Eastland Personal

Birth of a son, April 2, named Truman, has been announced by Doyle Maynard, formerly of Eastland, and Mrs. Maynard of Dallas. Maynard was here to attend funeral services Wednesday of Mrs. T. K. Maynard.

T. J. and Walter Tucker were Baird business visitors Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Hadderton of Roby visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Tucker and family Tuesday and Wednesday.

ABROAD AGAIN

Helen Hull Jacobs, famous internationalist and former United States women's singles tennis champion, arrives at Southampton to prepare for the Wimbledon tournament. Note the spring millinery.

Church Easter Egg Hunt Set Saturday

An Easter egg hunt for members of the Junior department of the First Baptist church has been announced for Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

All children between 9 and 12 who have attended the Sunday school in the past are invited. Children were urged to bring their sandwiches. Eggs furnished by the teachers.

Junior Thursday to Have Called Meeting

The Junior Thursday announce a call meeting to be held in the Community club house Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. All members were urged to attend.

Softball Teams to Be In Two Groups Announces Chief

Chief A. W. Hennessee of the Fire Department, sponsor of the Eastland lighted softball field, stated officials this year have decided to divide teams into two divisions, one called "A" and the other "B."

Chief Hennessee stated that Methodist, Texas Electric, Modern Dry Cleaners and Hi Y (sponsored by Texas Coca-Cola Bottling company) teams will compose membership in the "A" league.

Knights of Pythias is the only definite team in the "B" division which will be slower than the "A" division. Three other teams also will be in the "B" division.

Chief Hennessee stated that teams in competition last year were given preference for designation in the "A" league. In preparation for the season the Fire Department Thursday was to begin repainting and repairing the field.

Breckenridge Scouts Spot Law Breakers

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex.—Local "cub" members of the Boy Scouts have adopted as a "good deeds" project the spotting of cars that violate traffic rules.

The scouts took the license numbers of cars driven past a school traffic light without stopping. The violators were not punished but The Breckenridge American published the numbers.

VISIT SAN ANGELO

Mrs. E. T. Tucker and two sons, T. J. and Walter, of Eastland and Weldon Coffey of Strawn visited friends and relatives this week in San Angelo and Sanmarino. A sister-in-law of Mrs. Tucker was ill at San Angelo.

Germany provides "marriage loans" so that young couples may wed early. Probably in its economic stress, hoping that two can live as cheaply as one.

Marble Statue to Be Erected Soon For Crippled Kiddies

DALLAS, Tex.—A lovely study in pure marble, portraying the ideals of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on the lawn of that institution in Dallas Easter Sunday afternoon. The public is invited to attend these ceremonies April 17, by President Walter C. Temple of the Hospital Board of Trustees, and see the uncovering of what is considered a masterpiece of the talented sculptor, Raoul Jossot.

The monument was erected last week on the grounds of the children's hospital. It depicts a nurse aiding a crippled child. Its theme is that of care, friendship and help on the part of the hospital to children who cannot aid themselves. The statue is dedicated to the people who have already endowed the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children and to those who in the future leave legacies to combat crippling diseases and restore Texas childhood to normalcy.

DEAR FRIEND

Please get your Clothes early so we can get them to you in time for Easter

MODERN DRY CLEANING DYERS PHONE 132

Does home need a "face lifting"?

Sometimes homes, like people, are taken for granted and signs of weariness go unnoticed. Homes, too, need beauty treatments. They come out of them renewed, refreshed, stimulating once more to all who meet them.

Early Spring is the time to plan the "face lifting" of the rooms in which you live. Carefully planned, a little money now can go far. Fortunately, authentic news of the latest, the best designed, the most economical in home furnishings and accessories is printed for you day after day on these pages. National manufacturer and local merchant advertise to help you.

Perhaps slip covers on davenport and wing chair will make faithful but a little weary pieces look like new. Perhaps summer draperies will make your living-room so fresh and gay that you yourself will hardly know it. A new rug may be the prescription that your home needs. A new lamp can light more than a corner—it can shine into the hearts of all who see it. Glassware, a new table, porch furniture, all can enter into your home's face lifting.

Look about your home as if you had never seen it—and follow the advertising on these pages!

"YOU WON'T MIND PAYING HANES COVER-CHARGE!" Mister, you'll say HANES Undershirt is a honey for the money! It takes only 35c, and you get a pair of shorts that give your hips plenty of elbow-room. And for another 35c, you can top those shorts with a HANES Undershirt.

No man ever had any trouble finding a comfortable seat in HANES Shorts. And there's all the crotch-clearance any one needs... legs are long enough and wide enough so they can't worm up your legs... "Lastex" yarn in the waist... colors fast! And notice how your HANES Shirt snugly across the chest and back... fits trimly under your arms... tucks so far into your shorts that it can't sneak up and wad at the waist! See a HANES Dealer today. P. H. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

35c to 85c EACH (at right) HANES Sports & Shirts, 35c to 50c each. Sports in colors or white. HANES FOR MEN AND BOYS FOR EVERY SEASON

OD A NEWS TO

Any S... "AUT... BLO... COMPLET

Glenda Barton

program is now on Easter Sunrise Se... at 6:00 a. m. Scenic Point on No. 80, eight miles present writing books as it will be... Building at R... missing this s... real treat as the... program pla... will be some o... es that West... participating in the

B. Johnson, pres... Prof. Lynn Tu... Holy, Holy"—Mr. musical director. Story in Script... Walker. Prayer—Rev. J. I.

All Hail the Pow... Address—Rev. M... "Christ Arose," and Benediction—

County Agent J... stated Friday th... Youth Administr... the construction o... house for 4-H... Kokomo has str... employ 26 boys for aratory work in in... project NYA engi... of Dallas was at K... k.

Higginbotham of... be supervisor for... tive stone and lu... d in the project... ct was started thr... uly Agent Elmo... arnhart.

Program fo... Year Assur

TON, April 15.—J... well's recommend... tional $100,000,000... as an "adequate" ... year, Chairman... rick of Oklahoma... oads committee, uders have agreed... agriculture bil... Tuesday for fina... ill not oppose... adding $101,000... rk, he said.

Y BEFORE... EASTER... y and Use... ER... ILS