Cattle Drown In Thursday Night Storms

FEEDYARD CLEANUP STARTS--Workmen at Bovina Feeders, a feedlot northwest of Muleshoe, began the thankless task of dragging the lake and pens for cattle lost in Thursday night's flood caused by heavy rain and hail in that area. Officials estimate property and livestock loss damages to run near the million dollar mark. An accurate head count could not be obtained, but a spokesman said that the loss would include around a thousand head of cattle.

One Thousand Head Estimated Lost

Thursday night storms ravaged the general Muleshoe-Bailey County area with high winds, hail and rain, uprooting trees, tearing off limbs and destroying other property.

One of the hardest hit areas was at Bovina Feeders approximately 15 miles northwest of Muleshoe where it is estimated by officials that about 1,000 head of cattle were drowned due to high waters. "We know for sure that three pens (of cattle) are totally wiped out, but we cannot correctly have a head count, until all the cattle have been pulled out and counted," said Linda Farrar, bookkeeper for Bovina Feeders. She also stated that both pens of sick cattle in the feedlot were drowned. Those will have to be autopsied before insurance claims can be effected. According to Ms. Farrar, the Company veterinarian from Kansas was to fly in on Saturday to begin the clean-up and counting operation.

Dollar estimates may reach to $1 million when all counts are in. Besides the loss of the cattle, the heavy downpour dumped three inches of water in the mill of the feeding operation, blowing power lines and burning out motors. A spokesman stated that the feed mill was completely down and a Friona plant had been providing feed all day.

The night watchman for the feedlot was caught in a violent hailstorm around 7:30 p.m. Thursday evening, preventing his return to the office until after 11 p.m. Upon not being able to contact the yard, feedlot manager Gail Morris, went to the feedlot, finding the total devastation. Another employee who lives near the lot said that the hail fell for two hours and was so heavy that "you couldn't see where you were going."

By the time workmen began arriving on the scene Friday morning, cattle could be seen floating in the lots. Four or five pens are totally underwater at this time. "Hail was so heavy that maintainers and dozers were used to clear the alleyways in the feed yard before feeding could begin," employees said. Drivers reported hitting "high center" on hail while trying to traverse the alleyways.

Officials at the feedyard hoped to have power back to the mill by Saturday, however, the water inside the mill will have to be pumped out before operations can resume.

Bovina Feeders has a capacity of about 30,000 head of cattle and according to Mrs. Farrar, the facility was completely "full up."

"A lot of the cattle we lost were fat cattle, some were new and some had been here awhile." Area cattlemen say that this was one of the few yards that had a full capacity count.

Crops in the general area around Bovina Feeders were for the most part destroyed. Hail could be seen stacked up beside the roads and houses and evidence of extensive damage to roofs could be found beside the houses in that area.

In other areas, reports of power lines down near Bula and Progress impeded traffic for sometime, as workmen repaired the downed lines and restored power.

A semi-truck was overturned north of Muleshoe on Highway 214. The driver of the truck which belonged to Amtruck of Amarillo had left the truck upon the approach of the high winds and when he returned after seeking shelter in the library, found the truck laying on it's side.

In another incident, at least two persons were treated at West Plains Medical Center after the pickup they were traveling in overturned near Mills Machine Shop. However, the overturn was not attributed to the wind.

Appraisal Review Board Named, Taxpayer Protest Date Extended

Although June 11 is the statutory deadline for Texas property owners to file written notice of their intentions to protest the 1982 appraised value of their property, Bailey County Appraisal District has approved a local tentative deadline the week of July 19, giving local taxpayers an extra month to file.

Local deputy appraiser of the District, Rose Lee Powell stated that due to a switch in computer service for the District and the addition of vehicles to the tax list, the local office has opted for the later date.

A new appraisal review board has been selected and were officially named on Thursday evening, June

10. Serving as chairman is Don Bryant, Secretary Doyle Turner, and members, J. E. Layton, Conrad Williams and Ruby Spurlock. This board will have the duties of certifying the correctness and determining the equalization of value of the Districts. Notices of protests will be filed with the Board. This board, however is not to be confused with the Board of Directors.

Kenneth Graeber Executive director of the State Property Tax Board explained that the Property Tax Code requires the chief appraiser to submit completed appraisal records to the review board and to mail notices of appraised value to property owners by May 15, or "as soon thereafter as practicable."

"When it has not been practicable to complete the records and send notices by that statutory date," he said, "the code allows filing notices of protest within 20 days after the date the records were given to the board -- or before June 11 -- whichever date is later."

The code also permits a property owner to file a notice of protest after the local deadline, if he can show good cause for late filing.

The 1982 appraised value of his property and the local notice of protest deadline will be provided to a taxpayer on the notice of appraised value, which must also include an explanation of procedures for protesting the value, the lo-calation of review board hearings, the kind and amount of any exemptions approved for the property and the names of the local governments which have jurisdiction to tax the property.

A taxpayer must receive this notification from the appraisal district in three instances, Graeber noted: When the appraised value of a property is greater than it was in the preceding year, when the appraised value is greater than the value rendered by the property owner, or when the property was not on the appraisal roll the preceding year. Notices of appraised value must be mailed to property owners at least 20 days before the ARB will begin hearings, he added.

In any of the three instances, if a property owner disagrees with the value assigned by the appraisal district, he may appear before the ARB to protest the value. But, Graeber emphasized, he must provide written notice of his intent to protest.

As set out in the Prop-viously will be required to have their physician's referral," she stated.

Miss Nora Rojas, Ogas Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Nora Rojas of Muleshoe became the bride of Henry Ogas of Grand Forks, North Dakota in an afternoon ceremony Saturday, May 22, at 3 p.m. in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. Father Patrick Maher read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Celestine Rojas, Sr. of Muleshoe, Henry Ogas, Sr., and Lupe Ogas, both of Dimmitt.

Rose Irma Alarcon, accompanied by Laura Leal at the organ, provided the wedding selections.

Two large baskets of pink gladiolias, white daisies and pink and blue carnations accented with ribbon and greenery decorated the church. The pews were marked with white bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace gown featuring a beaded Queen Anne neckline, Victorian sleeves and a layered bouffant chapel length skirt. Her three tiered ankle length veil was edged in Chantilly lace and attached to a pearl cap and pearl headpiece.

She carried a pearly bouquet accented with white bouquet accented with white silk gardenias, pink rose buds, love knots and white ribbon.

Miss Mary Mata of Muleshoe served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Irma Mireles of Tulia, Rosa Jiminez and Cuca Ortega of Dimmitt, Suzette Rojas, Anna Martinez and Lola Martinez. Jennifer Rojas of Muleshoe was flower girl.

Some Vitamins Poisonous In Large Doses

Some vitamins can be poisonous if consumed in large amounts, says Dr. Cass Ryan-Crowe, a food and vitamin specialist.

Ryan-Crowe is on the home economics staff of Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Fat-soluble vitamins are of particular concern because these nutrients are stored in the body when excess amounts are ingested, the specialist explains.

Therefore, if a megadose or an amount several times the recommended daily allowance, is taken over a long period of time, toxic side effects may show up, she warns.

For example, vitamin A can cause hair loss, increased cranial pressure and pain in the extremities if overtaken, Ryan-Crowe has pointed out.

In addition, vitamin D can cause anorexia, weakness, constipation and elevated serum calcium levels if doses exceed RDA, the specialist says.

Vitamin E in megadoses can cause weakness and fatigue as well as skin rashes and giddiness, she reports.

served as best man. The groomsmen were David Ogas, Danny Jiminez and Vicente Salinas of Dimmitt, Hector Reyes, Richard Orozco and Jose Ibarra, all of Muleshoe. Leroy and Arthur Rojas of Muleshoe were ringbearers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Catholic Center. Members of the house party were Mrs. Tony Rojas, cousin of the bride, Theresa and Leaticia Davila and Mona Quesada, cousin of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to points of interest in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and South Dakota, the couple is making their

Stretch In Today's Fabrics

College Station --- "Stretch" wovens are in this season since homesewers need more "Active-wear" fabrics that perform well under stress, says Alma Fonseca, a clothing specialist.

Stretch is no longer restricted to knits these days. In addition to the basic categories -- denim, poplin and gabardines-- polyester/rayon linen has been made into stretch, she points out.

Stretch denim, for example, has been most successful in navy, but this spring lighter colors of blue team up with softer, more feminine looks with gathers and founces, Fonseca announces.

The coming trend, Fonseca foresees, is the increase in the blending of natural fibers with stretch. Fiber-producing companies predict that in five years stretch will move into a wide variety of outerwear fabrics and will become the "volume fabric," the specialist notes.

These predictions will come true only if consumers are made aware of which fabrics are stretch and the benefits they provide, Fonseca continues.

In terms of cost of stretch fabrics, some price resistance has occurred, the specialist says.

However, fiber-producing companies are working to reduce cost and feel homesewers will be convinced of the value they're getting in stretch fabrics once they try them, she adds.

The "dog days"—the hottest days in the northern hemisphere—are named for Sirius, the "Dog Star", and usually fall between July 3 and August 15.

Dr. Milam Named To Who's Who

Cotley College President Dr. Evelyn Milam, daughter of Mrs. John K. Milam of Sudan, was recently named to the 42nd edition of "Who's Who in America." Dr. Milam, who is the president of the only institution in the country owned and supported by a women's organization, became the chief administrator at Cotley in 1974. She holds her Ph.D. in counseling and guidance from the University of Wyoming. She also holds degrees from West Texas State University and Texas Tech University.

Before going to Cotley, Dr. Milam was a professor of education and psychology at Austin College at Sherman.

Standards of admission in the "Who's Who" are based on one of two factors: the position of responsibility held or the level of significant achievement attained in a career of noteworthy activity. The majority of biographies in the book qualify for admission on the basis of position of responsibility held.

Dr. Milam has previously been named in "Who's Who of American Women," "Who's Who in the South and Midwest" and "World of Who's Who Women."

Cotley College is a private, two year liberal arts college for women in Nevada, Missouri. It is owned by the P.E.O. Sisterhood, an international philanthropic educational organization of some 220,000 women.

vided by Wayland Ethridge on the piano. He accompanied Miss Laurie Freeman of Lubbock as she sang. Mike Northcutt accompanied himself on the guitar and sang "With This Ring." Mrs. Frances Hamilton provided "The Wedding March" on the organ.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white chiffouella and silk Venice lace fashioned with a Victorian neckline of scalloped Brussels lace. The full length bishop sleeves were held with a deep petal point cuff, of Brussels lace. Venice lace motifs were scattered on the sleeves.

The empire bodice had a sheer see-thru V-yoke edged with Venice lace. The full length crystal pleated skirt cascaded into a chapel length train.

A deep ruffle of pleats with lace inserts formed the hemline of the skirt and train. The head piece was a halo of silk flowers holding a rolled edge veil of illusion.

The bride's bouquet was a curved cascade of yellow rose buds, white spring blossoms, stephanotis, alstroemeria, daisies and miniature carnations. White lace and white and yellow satin streamers were tied in love knots.

To follow tradition, something old was her grandmother's wedding rings, something borrowed were pearl earrings belonging to the maid of honor's mother, something new was her dress and something blue was the traditional garter.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Lauri Burgess of Muleshoe. Bridesmaids were Lavon Hunt, sister of the bride of Muleshoe and Eileen Cooper of Lubbock.

Curtis Eider of Muleshoe served as best man. The groomsmen were Dean Northcutt of Lubbock and Mike Northcutt of Muleshoe, brothers of the groom.

Ushers were Dusty Rhodes, brother of the bride, Dennis Watson, Joel Bratcher, all of Muleshoe and Jeff Manning of Kermit. Amber Hart of DeKalb, second cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Joe Ben Roberts of Merkel served as ringbearer.

Mrs. Jo Harmon and Mrs. Doris Vandiver assisted in making all corsages, boutonieres, pew markers, and rice bags for the wedding.

Following the ceremony a reception coordinated by Mrs. Mary Alice Ramm was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Sue Cooper and Mary Ann Ellis, both of Lubbock, registered the guests. Missy Baldin, cousin of the bride of Whiteface, Shelly Dunham of Muleshoe and Helen Belwin of Brownwood served at the bride's table. Cherylee Northcutt, sister in law of the groom served at the groom's table.

Accenting the bride's table was an open family Bible belonging to the bride's great uncle, but was once her great grandfather Rhode's Bible.

Shantel Baldwin and Julie Baldwin, cousins of the bride of Whiteface, gave out yellow rice bags to the guests.

Members of the houseparty included Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Butch Vandiver, Betty Jo Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sisemore, all of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wesley of Morton.

Following a wedding trip to Amarillo the couple is at home in Pampa where the groom is employed with Mobil Oil for the summer and then in Lubbock in the fall where they both will continue their education at Texas Tech.

For traveling the bride chose a two piece off white linsuit with a yellow dotted swiss blouse and bone accessories. Her corsage was yellow silk rosebuds.

The bride graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1980 and is attending the Texas Tech School of Nursing. Northcutt graduated from Muleshoe in 1980 and is a chemical engineer major at Texas Tech.

Out of town wedding guests were registered from Whiteface, DeKalb, Kermit, Plainview, Odessa, Hereford, Friona, Amarillo, Lamesa, Roscoe, Denver City, Lubbock, Merkel, Sudan, Cone, Littlefield, Brownwood, Clovis, N.M., Frederick, Okla. and Los Alamos, N.M.

Rhodes Family Two Day Reunion Held

On Saturday, June 5th, descendants of John Wiley and Mary Helen Rhodes began assembling at the home of Joe and Daria Rhodes, west of Muleshoe, for a two day family reunion.

John Wiley Rhodes and Mary Helen Hancock were married June 26, 1893 in Lexington. From this union came six sons and six daughters, 21 grandchildren, 61 great grandchildren, and 21 great great grandchildren.

Eight of the nine surviving children were present with the total count reaching 89. They came in cars, pickups, motor homes, air planes and motorcycles, from California, New Mexico, Oregon and across Texas.

Mrs. Rhodes said "Joe and his brothers, Don of Hereford and Quenten of Giddings, cooked ninety pounds of lamb, 65 pounds of goat, 20 pounds of sausage and 20 pounds of brisket. A good time was had while the Bar-B-Que sizzled and popped over the fire until just the right moment to be declared 'ready to eat.' Little sleeping was done Saturday night.

"Sunday was a glorious day with a campfire breakfast that included seven pounds of bacon and six dozen eggs. Ummm! That bacon smelled good and those eggs were just the thing to get the folks ready for a 'tent meeting' service conducted by a grandson, Bill Lee.

"The afternoon was highlighted by more eating, picture taking, basketball games and a lot of talking. As the family began to leave for home, the smiles and hugs were passed around and all took many a good memories down the road."

was accented with Chantilly Lace and pearls all over it.

In keeping with tradition the bride wore her grandmother's diamond necklace as something old, something new was her wedding gown, something borrowed was diamond earrings from Mrs. James Atwood, sister in law of the bride, and something blue was her garter.

Miss Brenda Parker of Muleshoe served as maid of honor. She wore a long, baby blue dress with spaghetti straps and a lace jacket. She carried a bouquet of silk flowers with a votive candle in the center.

Flower girl was Heather Harrison, daughter of the groom. Her dress was white with pleats from the waist down. A blue ribbon was tied at the waist. She carried a small white basket and dropped blue and white love knots as she walked down the aisle.

Matt Davidson of Sudan served as best man. Kevin Atwood, brother of the bride, lit the candles. Greg Atwood, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. The ushers were James Atwood and Kevin Atwood, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Atwood chose a mauve colored long dress with spaghetti straps and a sheer over the shoulder cape. Mrs. Harrison, mother of the groom, chose a maroon colored skirt and jacket with a pink blouse.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's bouquet served as the center piece on the bride's table. A three tiered wedding cake and almond punch were served. A chocolate sheet cake was served with coffee at the groom's table.

Sandra Parker and Jane Floyd served at the bride's table and Tammy Knight served at the groom's table. Mrs. James Atwood, sister in law of the bride, registered the guests.

Following a wedding trip to Clovis, N.M., the couple is at home in Sudan. For traveling, the bride chose a blue terry cloth dress which was belted at the waist.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is currently working at Pay-N-Save in Muleshoe. Harrison is currently working at the Sudan Co-op.

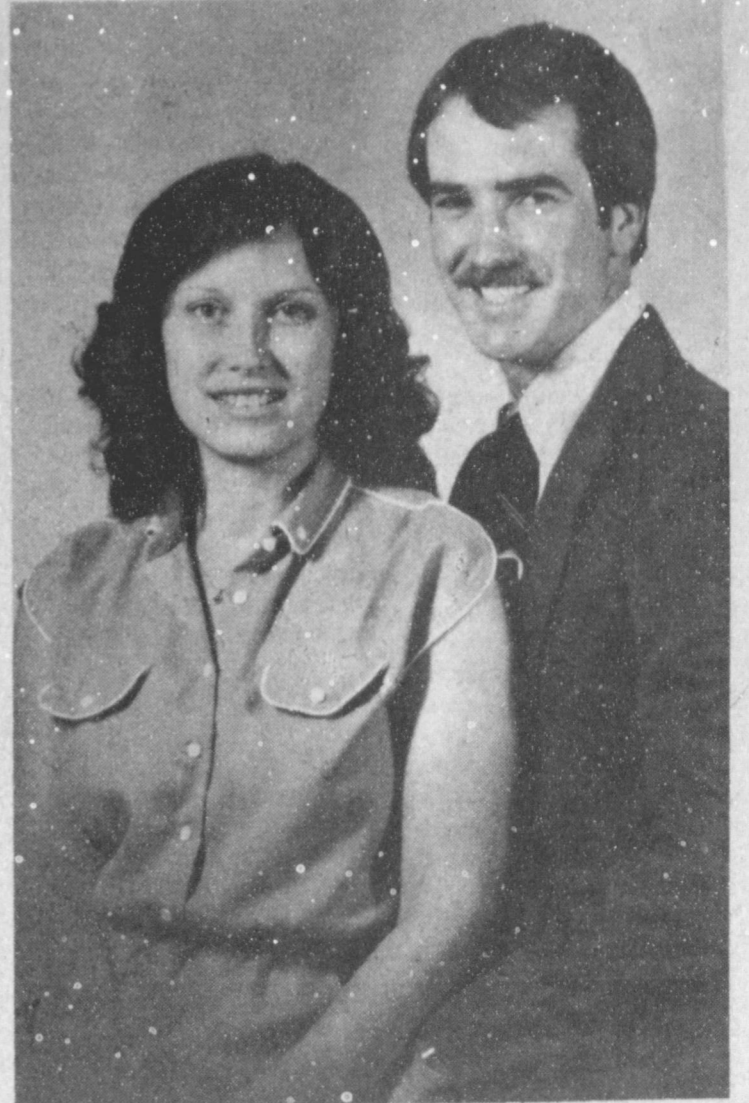

Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lataa, Jr., Mistie and Kayla Walker, Tonya and Kim Dudley, Sherri Shiplett and Renee Hefflen, Wanda, Robin and Rusty Peace.

Bailey County Sheriff Bob Henderson and Sgt. Wayne Holmes of the Muleshoe Police Department tracked two tornadoes from near Progress to the west edge of Muleshoe and a general alarm was given, sending many citizens to designated shelter areas until the storms passed.

In some cases, the past two nights of storms have produced some good results in that dryland farmers in the south part of the county will be able to get their dry-planted crops up now. Near the state line west of Stegall and in that general area approximately 6/10 inches of rain was received on Thursday evening. The Bula area only received about 1/2 inch with some scattered hail. erty Tax Code, Graeber said, the written notice of protest need not be on an official form, as long as it identifies the protesting property owner and the property that is the subject of the protest and indicates apparent dissatisfaction with some determination of the appraisal office. Notice of protest forms, however, must be made available to the public by the appraisal office, the ARB and the State Property Tax Board.

In addition to the appraised value of his property, a taxpayer may also protest the denial of an exemption or special valuation, inclusion of the property on the tax rolls of particular taxing jurisdictions, unequal appraisal of the property in comparison with the weighted average level of appraisals of other properties in the district, and other actions of the district that apply to the property owner and adversely affected him.

Local budgets and tax rates, however, may not be the subject of an ARB hearing, Graeber noted. He stated that if the appraised value assigned to a property is fair, then "the factor that determines the amount of taxes paid on the property is the local tax rate. But the ARB has no authority over budgets or tax rates, and the taxpayer may only confuse the issue by attempting to discuss them with the board."

"Property owners have the opportunity later in the year to discuss budgets and tax rates with their selected officials," he said. "Those opportunities are provided by the 'truth-in-taxation' statutes contained in the Property Tax Code."

The code details a series of notifications, including the notice of appraised value, which give specific information about values, tax rates and unencumbered fund balances of local units of government.

"Truth in taxation," Graeber said, "also involves public hearings on proposed tax rates. The system of notifications, ARB protests and tax-rate hearings give property owners an opportunity throughout the year to influence the amount they pay in property taxes."

reported lots of wind and some damage to high line poles in that area, but no specific crop damages.

Needmore received from 1 to 1 3/10 inches of rain on Thursday night, along with winds. Claunch said that most of the damage to the crops was coming from the dry weather rather than anything else.

West Camp and Lariat areas received generally an inch of moisture. In some areas, however, reports of more or less were given. Near the Oklahoma Lane area, residents reported extensive hail damages, wind and from 2 to 5 inches of Graduates heard financial consultant Dr. P. E. Coldwell during the ceremonies on the Academic Mall at ASU.

Three Muleshoe area students attending Angelo State University in San Angelo, are listed on the dean's honor roll for the spring semester at the university.

Those listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll include Sheryl Renae Dunham, a business major, and Andrew Keith Hicks, a marketing major.

Those listed on the 3.50 to 4.00 honor roll include Rebecca Jan Turner, a computer science major.

rain. Early morning reports on Saturday indicated the same area being hit again on Friday night, with crop losses in that general area disastrous.

In the Lazbuddie area, Jerry Don Glover reported that over the past two nights approximately 3 1/2 to 4 inches of rain had been received. "We missed the bad part of the clouds, and just got the rain mostly," Glover stated. Again, some individual farms were damaged by hail, but not to the extent of the Oklahoma Lane and Bovina Feeders area. Glover said that the area did have some hail, however.

Mrs. Ronnie Holt in the Pleasant Valley area reported about 1 1/2 inches of rain in that area on Friday night with some golf ball size hail. Time had not allowed a proper assessment of the hail damage at presstime. She said that some of the corn was pretty 'shredded' but might survive, and some vegetables were extensively damaged.

In Muleshoe proper, less than one inch total moisture was recorded over the past two nights (Thursday and Friday); however, in the edge of town more rain was evident.

Myasthenia Gravis is a neuro-muscular disease characterized by spells of extreme weakness. It is one of the most insidious afflictions known to man, and may masquerade as vitamin deficiency, anemia, neurosis or psych-neurosis. It can strike anyone at any age.

While MG is called a neuro-muscular disorder, it is not a disease of either the nerves or the muscles. It literally hides between the two, medical specialists say. "In this baffling affliction, it is communication between nerve and muscle that is lacking," said Dr. Hugh Wilson. "Some of the symptoms of MG are: drooping eyelids, double vision, loss of balance, difficulty in walking high nasal tone, and sometimes, difficulty in chewing or swallowing."

July Date Set For Runners Classic

Wellington Square Shopping Center in Amarillo will sponsor the second annual Wellington Square Runners Classic on Saturday, July 10. Starting time for the 10-kilometer race is

AG WEATHER ADVISORY

Scattered precipitation fell throughout Bailey County during the past week. At Muleshoe 0.78 inch fell while 0.24 inch was recorded at the Vinson Farm. While the beginning of the year started out quite dry, the last month has seen rainfall and, thus, our accumulative precipitation for the year is now nearer to normal.

Once skies clear and cotton begins to develop increased leaf area, this precipitation and the resulting recharged soil moisture levels will be most useful.

The heat unit accumulation at Muleshoe now stands at 89 which compares to a normal of 41. Although we are above normal in heat unit accumulations, the majority of the accumulations will occur 2 months hence and, thus, it is premature to determine whether or not this above normal heat unit accumulation will have any positive effects on cotton yields.

Reviewing May at Muleshoe shows that 2.92 inches of precipitation fell. This is 1.0 inch above normal. Maximum and minimum temperatures were 1.5 and 0.2 degrees F below normal. All precipitation fell between the 16th and 27th.

With cotton just beginning to grow, consumptive use will begin to increase. The past week averaged only about 0.1 inch per day.

8:00 a.m. in the northeast end of the parking lot of Wellington Square Shopping Center, 1-40 West and Georgia in Amarillo. There will also be a 2-mile Fun Run starting at the same place at 8:15 a.m. Finish line for both races will also be at this point.

Divisions for the 10-kilometer Runners Classic will include: Men, ages 19 and under, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, and 50 and over; and Women, 19 and under, 20-34, and 35 and over. The Fun Run is for all ages, with a special class for runners from the media.

David Sougstad, Wellington Square Shopping Center manager and race chairman, said that all entrants will receive commemorative T-shirts and all finishers will be presented certificates. Trophies will be awarded to the overall top five finishers in the 10-k race, as well as to the first five finishers in each age group. In the Fun Run, trophies will be presented to the overall top five finishers. There will also be a trophy for the top finisher from the media.

In 1981, the Runners Classic 10-k was won by Ben Padilla with a time of 33:50. Overall women's finisher was Brenda Moore, finishing in 41:23. Fun Run winners were Dan Moreland and Tammy Gilmore.

Late registration will be held from 7:00-8:00 a.m. on the day of the race in the parking lot on the north side of Wellington Square Shopping Center. Runners are asked to arrive at least 15 minutes prior to starting time to pick up their race packet.

Pasture Roping Scheduled

Fifty teams of two ropers each are set to participate in the fourth annual Outfit Pasture Roping Saturday, June 19 at the Coldwater Cattle Company's Alibates Ranch north of Amarillo.

The event begins at 12 noon and is sponsored by The Outfit Club of Amarillo, a group of businessmen interested in preserving Amarillo's western heritage. The roping is designed to allow the working ranch cowboy a chance to compete equally against aren't team ropers, noted Wiley Hicks, president of The Outfit.

The cattle will be allowed a 100 feet score and the ropers must start from behind a barrier. The 'arena' will actually be a two section (1280 acres) pasture on the Alibates Ranch, making the roping similar to actual ranch conditions.

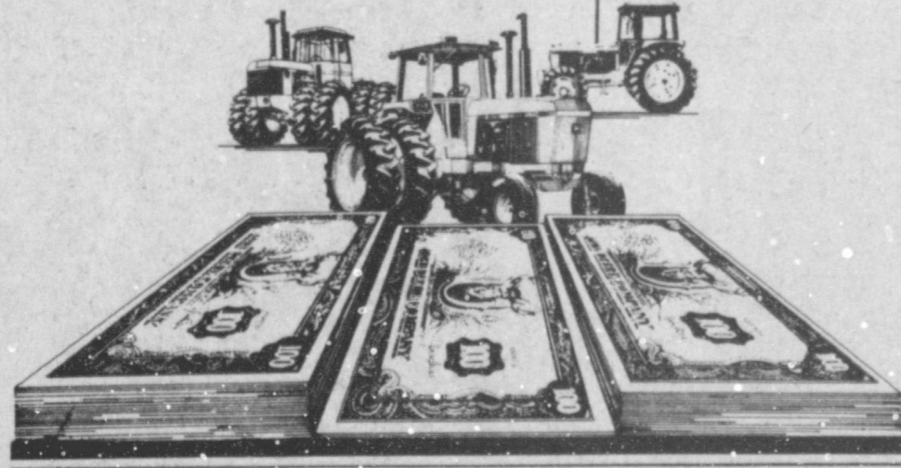

The public is invited to attend. Tickets are available for $6 at the site and include admission and a barbecue lunch.

From Amarillo Blvd., go 23.3 miles north on Highway 136 (Fritch Highway) turn west at the pasture roping sign. Proceed two miles to roping site.

There's only one way to be happy and that lies in mental satisfaction.

One can't get overly agitated about 21-year-old athletes making $200,000, who want $400,000.

True or False?

Are you an expert when it comes to the truth about energy? Here's some fuel for thought.

1. During 1981, the U.S. imported only a tiny fraction of the petroleum we used.  True  False

2. A breeder reactor plant for generating electricity offers environmental benefits.  True  False

3. A demonstration breeder reactor plant can't be built till the end of this century.  True  False

Answers:

1. False. During 1981 we imported nearly 40 percent of the petroleum we used at a whopping $80 plus billion. 2. True. The breeder is a clean power source that will not contribute to chemical air pollution. 3. False. With authorization from the government and continued support from Congress, the Clinch River Breeder Reactor can be producing power in the early 1990's.

It is possible, at times, to get ahead of your work, but it is hard to stay ahead.

Veterans Q & A

Q-I would like the government to furnish a marker for my husband's grave. How do I apply for the marker?

A-You may apply for a marker by obtaining VA Form 40-1330, Application for Headstone or Marker, from a VA Regional Office, a veterans service organization or from your local cemetery or funeral director.

LUBBOCK, Friday, June 4, 1982

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, inc. June 3 conveyed its "strong feeling of gratitude" to this area's congressmen and other co-sponsors of the Farm Crisis Act of 1982.

As part of the organization's statement filed for House Agriculture Committee hearings on the bill, PCG told the congressmen "Your efforts to secure changes in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1981 indicates a true understanding of the dire situation that exists in our industry and your sincere desire to do something about it, both of which are greatly appreciated."

The PCG statement went on to say "The Farm Crisis Act has the potential to provide at least a measure of relief to the farmers of this area and of the nation who find themselves in deep financial trouble, and we commend the House Agriculture Committee for giving it due consideration."

Hearings on the bill were originally scheduled on May 25, but were postponed at the last minute because Secretary of Agriculture John Block, a key witness, could not appear. However a few witnesses already en route to Washington when the postponement was announced were heard, with only four of the committee's members present. The hearings were reset for June 8, then moved to June 9, presumably because of conflicts with budget deliberations.

Recognizing that provisions of the bill as now written most likely will be changed before being reported for House consideration, PCG asked the committee to consider incorporating into the bill five major points in PCG's current legislative policy. Those five points are:

- A loan price at a minimum of 65 percent of parity; Reinstatement of the disaster section of the 1973 Farm Act;
- Elimination of payment limitations; Target prices figured on a cost-per-acre basis as opposed to the present cost-per-pound calculation, and Continued authority for the Secretary of Agriculture to restrict the planting of specific crops and to offer paid acreage diversion when cotton is in excess supply.

In its present form the bill would offer cotton producers a 20-cent per pound payment for an additional five percent acreage reduction in 1982, and advocates a nationwide, multi-crop producer referendum in July on a 15 percent set-aside for 1983, 1984, and 1985. If the referendum carried, producers of cotton who complied with its provisions would receive a 10 percent increase in the loan, while those not complying would lose eligibility for all farm programs for three years.

Should the referendum fail, the Secretary would be required to institute a 15 percent voluntary acreage reduction program in any year following a July 31 cotton carryover of 4.2 million bales or more. Compliance with the layout program would get the producer a 10 percent increase in the loan rate, and he could gain a 20 percent loan increase by diverting 25 percent of his acreage.

Architect predicts dramatic changes in housing designs

COLLEGE STATION — Like 25-cents-a-gallon gas and a balanced national budget, the sprawling three-bedroom, two-bath home in the suburbs may soon be added to the list of things Americans used to have in the good old days.

That is among the predictions in a special report entitled, "Landscape Architecture into the 21st Century," written

CARPORT OVERTURNED—This carport in West Muleshoe was lifted out of concrete and overturned in a neighboring yard by high winds which struck the area about 9 p.m. Thursday evening. Sheriff's officials believed the winds that hit the Muleshoe area proper were straight winds, not twisters.

for the American Society of Landscape Architects by Lane Marshall, head of the Texas A&M University Department of Landscape Architecture.

"We think there will be dramatic changes in the look of housing," Marshall said. "The conventional single-family home has already increased in cost well beyond the means of the average American family. New household formations caused by changing lifestyles, however, will generate the need for 20 million new units during this decade, Marshall said.

Most of the worries that afflict our minds never exist outside of our heads.

UNDERWATER--This ramp at Bovina Feeders was almost totally obscured Friday after high waters flooded that operation. The tally house in the background can be seen slightly in what would normally be a dry land operation. Workmen were on the scene attempting to restore order to the feedyard and drag the lake for drowned cattle lost in the storm.

Weather forecasting affected by proposal

COLLEGE STATION — The ability to predict tornado conditions and sudden thunderstorms could be hurt by the federal government's elimination of 18 weather stations and a move to close the Fort Worth regional office of the National Weather Service, says a Texas A&M University meteorology professor.

However, such actions probably won't affect two- or three-day forecasts like those that recently warned Americans in the Midwest and Northeast of approaching blizzards that proved to be the worst in history, said Dr. Kenneth Brundidge. Brundidge said the closing of any regional weather service office might be felt worst in the area of coordination with area disaster agencies and city governments. The proposal to close the Fort Worth office, which makes regional forecasts and acts as the central weather service operation for the southernmost tier of states, came at the peak of tornado season in Texas.

The Everlasting Arms

This tiny child looking with trust into his mother's loving face and cradled in the safety of her arms feels that her care will be eternal and everlasting. When one matures, one very quickly finds that the securities provided by the transient helps of this world do not offer everlasting security. No matter how much of this world's goods we accumulate, they cannot make life secure against the hazards of it. There is only one place where eternal security is available, and that is within the bounds of a trusting relationship with God who extends to man in love the everlasting arms. Go seek Word of His love in the Church.

Livestock Show Focuses On New Events, Officers

The annual Board of Directors meeting of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo today gave special emphasis to the election of three new officers and the re-election of ten others.

Re-elected to second terms were Chairman of the Board Allen H. Carruth and E. Norwin Gerhart, president. Also re-elected were vice presidents Joseph Ainsworth, M.D., John R. Braniff, W.D. Bill Cole, Barney Hedrick, R.L. Bud O'Shieles and William P. Traylor. Robert Metzler was re-elected secretary and Steve Watson was re-elected treasurer and asstant secretary.

The three new vice presidents are Roy L. Elledge, Jr., Dick Graves and O. L. Harris.

The officers of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo coordinate the efforts of the 58 volunteer committees that are the driving force behind the success of the Show.

The Show's Annual Membership meeting, held May 25 in the Astrohall, was marked by the announcement of Houston staff for the National Cutting Horse Association World Championship Finals, election of new board members and the anouncement of new scholarship presentations totaling $600,000.

The National Cutting Horse Association World Championship Finals, previously held in Amarillo, will move to Houston February 17-20, 1983. Reason for the move include "a larger arena, comfortable and convenient facilities and larger crowd potential."

Ten new Board of Director members were also elected during the annual Membership meeting. Under the bylaws of the Show, the Board of Directors consists of 140 members selected from the general membership, plus the Chairman of the Board, the President, the Vice Presidents, the Secretary and the Treasurer-Assistant Secretary.

New board members are: William W. Bill Austin, Houston; Clair Branch, Houston; John Glenn Doyle, Houston; W.T. Bill Dunn, Houston; Suzanne Epps, Houston; Barry Galloway, Houston; Donald M. Park, Houston; Milton R. Pitts, Houston; Tom F. Steele, Tomball and J. Allen, Wharton.

Within the next six weeks, the Show will present 100 new $6,000 scholarships. Divided evenly between FFA and 4-H recipients, this commitment is only part of the Show's current commitment of $2.7 million to the youth of Texas.

Livestock show competition is expected this upcoming year to include the junior Simmental breeding beef heifer and the junior Limousin breeding beef heifer shows, both on Saturday, March 5. Breed association shows and sales to be held will include the International Braham Show and Sale, the International Brangus Show and Sale and the National Charolais Show.

Rodeo performance times will change for the 1983 Show. Saturday matinees will be at 11:00 a.m., Sunday matinees at 1:00 p.m. and all evening performances are scheduled for 7:45 p.m. During the 1983 Show, horse show events will begin Thursday, February 17, the downtown parade and commencement of livestock show competition will be held on Saturday, February 19 and the opening performance of the rodeo is scheduled for Wednesday, February 23. All events conclude on Sunday, March 6.

AN OLIVE BRANCH?—No, just an elm tree limb. The Journal snapped this photo on the Friona Highway showing the front door of the home to be blocked by the falling branch. The scene was one of many similar ones in the city, as residents began a cleanup campaign Friday morning.

Vegetable Fat is Greater Health Hazard

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Present efforts to inform the public that beef contains high levels of saturated fatty acids is unwarranted, unnecessary, and is without a sound basis," says Dr. Randall Wood, Professor in Biochemistry at Texas A&M University.

Some of his recent research on fat in meats was initiated, Wood says, because processed meats, a major source of fat in the American diet, had not been examined for the type of fat it contained. Lean beef was also examined because public attention is being focused on beef as containing saturated fats, and more recently, as containing trans fatty acids.

Many of the latter, Wood explains, are not required by the body for nutrition and are thought by some to constitute a possible health hazard.

Wood cites research by Mary Enig at the University of Maryland which examined 220 processed food items and found most contained significant quantities of trans fatty acids (unnatural fats).

The general categories of foods examined were: breads and rolls; breadings and fried crusts; cakes; candies; crackers; french fries; frostings; non-dairy creamers and toppings; pastries; pies and doughnuts; and snacks and chips, in addition to margarines, shortenings, and salad dressings.

Of particular concern to Wood is the apparent accumulation in the body of some of the unnatural fatty acids. The accumulation suggests that the body's enzymes prefer not to use or replace these fatty acids as fast as naturally-occurring acids.

Accumulation of the unnatural fatty acid could finally reach levels in membranes (barriers between cells and structures within cells) so that the cells could no longer function normally.

HIGHWAY-CLEAN-UP--State Highway employees were kept busy most of Friday on Highway 214 North from Muleshoe, clearing broken limbs and scattered debris from the sides of the roadway. Water reached up to front porches in some cases, as reports of three to five inches of rain were noted by residents in that area.

A&M officials say wildlife management careers opening up

COLLEGE STATION — New careers in wildlife management are opening up for those who like the great outdoors and are interested in preserving what many believe is an important part of the American way of life.

Officials at Texas A&M University, which offers a degree in wildlife and fisheries sciences and boasts one of the leading programs in the country, say there is a growing demand for wildlife experts to manage recreational hunting and fishing resorts.

"As part of managing an increasing number of these resorts, our graduates are called on to keep detailed records of wild game in an area," said Dr. Tom Linton, director of a new scholarship program to attract more students to the field. "They are responsible for counting animal populations and assuring that the hunting areas are safe.

"Hunting as a recreational sport is gaining a lot of interest from weekend vacationers, which is opening doors for students who would like to work in the wildlife industry," he said.

State planner says Texas' future tied to Mexico's future

COLLEGE STATION — The director of the Texas 2000 project told transportation experts at a Texas A&M University conference recently that the state must develop more transportation networks across the border to Mexico.

"More transportation will be needed to capitalize on the potential between the United States and Mexico," Vic Arnold said in a speech at Texas A&M.

"Whether we like it or not, the future of Texas is inextricably tied to the future of Mexico," he added. "In the long haul, the issue with Mexico will be more critical than any other issue facing the state."

Arnold pointed out that half of the people in Mexico are under 16 and there are nearly three people for every available job.

"You and I know the surplus of labor isn't going to go to Nicaragua — and it ain't going to Guatemala," he said. "It's going up north and will look to the economic flagship of this nation and this state. If you think we have problems with guest workers today, you haven't seen anything yet."

FINANCIAL SCANDAL
SEOUL, S. KOREA — Two South Korean bank presidents resigned recently in a multimillion dollar underground loan scam involving a former Korean CIA official and a "curb money queen" with remote family ties to the president. The scandal sent two of the country's leading firms into bankruptcy and put others in financial difficulty, while the nation's money markets reeled in confusion.

An air conditioner can improve the performance of your furnace.

An air conditioner?

A very special air conditioner called the add-on heat pump. It cools in summer and heats in winter. And it works with whatever kind of furnace you have.

The add-on heat pump will improve the performance of your furnace by keeping it off completely during a good portion of the winter. The add-on heat pump can satisfy your home's heating requirements more economically when temperatures are above 30° or so. That's about 80% of our area's normal heating season.

Then, when summer comes, the heat pump becomes a cool pump, efficiently air conditioning the home. So, when you're in the market for air conditioning, look into the add-on heat pump.
